A LIGHT VOTE

CAST MONDAY

REPUBLICANS ELECTED ENTIRE TICKET EXCEPT ONE.

Abbott Voting Machine Used With Much Satisfaction.

The Abbott voting machines used at Monday's township election gave excellent satisfaction and within less than five minutes after the polls were closed the result was announced. The republicans elected the entire ticket, excepting one justice, by majorities ranging from 28 to 131. J. O. Knapp received the largest number of votes (50) though he had no opposition. The different figures show that even with a voting machine some people do not vote intelligently. For instance on supervisor there were but 425 votes cast, while for nearly all the other offices there were on an average 454 votes cast. F. N. Perrin received the highest number of votes (342), excepting Mr. Knapp, but C. E. Benton had the largest majority (131). Geo. Gillis (dem.) was elected justice to fill vacancy, over P. J. White. Following is the vote, the first named being the republican candidate:

Supervisor—
Benjamin	323
Hadington	97
Clerk—
Fry	321
Vaite	132
Treasurer—
Sloan	241
Staley	213
Highway Com'r—
Nohrop	320
Tap	133
Justice (long term)—
Brham	321
Nohrop	133
Justice (short term)—
Whe	170
Gib	281
School Inspector—
McIn	315
Huston	141
Board Review—
J. Knapp	350
Constables—
Perin	342
Robins	112
Baker	327
Emery	137
Vandenburgh	338
Talor	117
Gru	335
Beuing	120

The total number of votes cast was 462 or about 200 less than the usual number. There was no excitement whatever and it was pronounced one of the dullest election days in Northville's history.

School Notes.

[By the Superintendent.]

Motto: "Ambition is to be just what steam is to the locomotive."—J. C. Jaynes

Prin. Lyde McGee of the Farmington schools visited us Monday forenoon.

The picture of Captain Hobson has recently been added to the art gallery of the eighth grade.

The eighth grade has been studying the subject of diphtheria in connection with their physiology work.

All teachers have this week put up neatly arranged programs on the outer side of their school room doors.

The Francis Russell Concert company will give an entertainment in the rink Monday evening, April 14th. Proceeds for the benefit of the senior class. Adults, 25 cents; children, 15 cents.

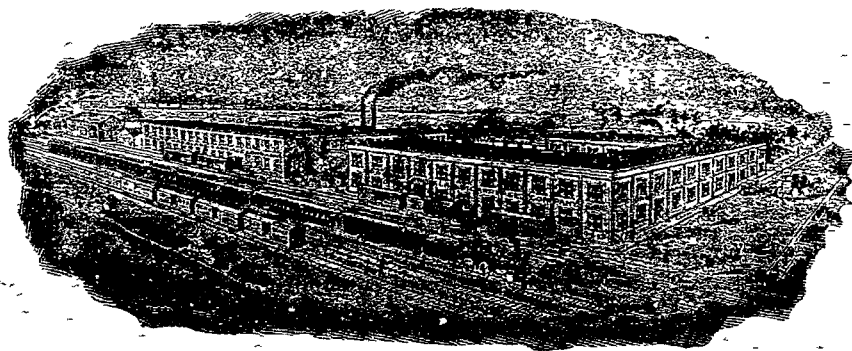

All rooms and halls in the school except the basement are supplied with neat white draw curtains supported by brass rods. The curtains were made by the teachers and were purchased with the proceeds of the entertainment held some time ago in the rink. It is needless to say that the effect is pleasing, neat and refining.

CARRIAGE FACTORY'S SPRING OPENING

A VERY SUCCESSFUL ONE AT WAYNE SATURDAY.

Thousands of Visitors Witnessed the Making of Vehicles.

Thousands of visitors from all over southern Michigan accepted the invitation of the Prouty & Glass Carriage Co. to attend their spring opening at Wayne Saturday. Throngs of people streamed through the big plant all the afternoon under escort of the company's genial officers and witnessed the process of carriage making from the time the rough boards were sawed up until they were in the finished product of a beautiful carriage, phaeton, driving wagon or business turnout. After being shown through the factory the visitors were treated to some very nice refreshments served by some very charming, smiling-faced young ladies.

The Prouty & Glass factory is one of the oldest and best known industries in Michigan and perhaps no other similar factory in the state enjoys the reputation of turning out such excellent work.

The buildings are all three stories in height and cover several acres of ground, and employment is given the year around to about 150 people. There are manufactured there each year about 10,000 vehicles and the sales go into nearly every part of the globe. About one-half of the sales are cutters and the output in that line is undoubtedly the largest of any factory in the world.

The officers of the company are J. J. Stellwagen, president; G. H. Stellwagen, vice president; W. C. Prouty, secretary; J. R. Hosie, treasurer, and that the company is ably officered is proven by the fact of the increased and profitable business each year. Mr. Prouty has charge of the manufacturing part, while Mr. Hosie looks after the financial end of the business.

The labor is practically all done on the piece-work plan and the employees all look happy and contented and are making good wages. Messrs. Scherer & Cattermole represent the Prouty & Glass company in this section.

Republican at Plymouth.

The entire republican ticket was elected at Plymouth: R. L. Root, supervisor; H. A. Roe, clerk; Charles Bradner, treasurer.

Two Democrats at Nankin.

The democrats elected Anthony Snyder clerk at Wayne and Charles Butler constable. All the others were republicans.

Foxy U. of M. Students.

Five or six Ann Arbor students arrived in town via a late D. P. & N. car Sunday evening, and insisted on escorting two or three women who came on the same car to the hotel. The students' "playful" manner of deciding which should have the company of the girls—who had to wait for a Detroit car—was somewhat disarranging to the latter who were rather roughly handled in the melee. When Marshal Taft appeared on the scene later on, the gentlemen (?) from the University were at first inclined to dispute his authority, but evidently his manner of presenting his ideas on the subject proved very impressive, especially as the supplementary assertions of some of them that the marshal "couldn't run them in" were promptly disputed by one or two muscular Northville boys who happened along about that time.

WILL REQUIRE ABOUT $9,000 DOLLARS

COUNCIL VOTED TO RAISE THAT AMOUNT.

Taxes Will Necessarily Be Some Higher This Year.

As will be seen by the proceedings published elsewhere the council has decided to raise by taxation this year $9,000, the largest amount in the history of the village. The indebtedness of two or three years ago has kept piling up and the council thought it best to clean it all up at one sweep. Some of the members thought $5,000 might do it with close economy, but the $9,000 figure finally carried. It was cited there were notes and bills already out for $4,000 and not over $150 in the treasury. Supt. Wilkinson estimated that it would require $1,000 to carry the electric light plant through besides the $1,375 interest money, and the waterworks estimate was for $300 to pay running expenses besides the $1,980 interest.

The receipts from the electric light plant will be about $2,500 and from the waterworks about $900.

It was estimated that $800 would be required in the street fund in addition to the $550 license money and about $150 poll tax. The balance it was estimated would be required in the general fund to pay up old indebtedness and meet current expenses.

The village indebtedness is as follows: Interest due on bonds and note, $2,500; note at bank, $1,500; current bills about $600. Cash on hand about $150. The receipts for the coming year will be about as follows: Taxes, $9,000; poll tax, $150; licenses, $550; electric lights, $2,500; waterworks, $900. The expenses will be, besides the $1,000 borrowed money, as follows: Interest on waterworks bonds, $1,980; on electric light bonds, $1,375; operating electric light plant and new supplies, new meters, arc lights, etc., $3,500; operating waterworks, $225. That will leave about $1,400 for the street, cemetery and general fund. From the latter will come the payment of the annual election expenses, the salary of the clerk, assessor, marshal, attorney, health office expenses and a dozen and one other things that cannot be itemized in advance.

Taxes this year will then be just 50 per cent higher than last year.

Stops the Cough and Works Off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, No Pay. Price 25 cents.

The plan of bonding the village for the establishment of a municipal light and water plant at Zeeland has been abandoned for the time being and the contract with the firm which has been supplying light and water for some time past has been renewed.

The Michigan earnings of railroads for February were $2,935,973, an increase of $139,707 over February, 1901. Aggregate earnings for January and February this year, $5,841,243, an increase of $572,744, or 9.92 per cent over the same period of 1901.

The Kern saw mill at Bay City began operations on a choice lot of logs belonging to the C. H. Ward estate. About 18,000,000 feet of lumber were in their yard a year ago, but this has all been sold and shipped, and a full season's run of the mill is anticipated.

An attempt was made on the life of Frank Gardner at the Arlington house bar, Kalamazoo, by William Wilcox, colored porter of the hotel, Wilcox stabbing Gardner several times on the shoulder and face. Wilcox fled, but was captured near Galesburg by Sheriff Shipman. Gardner will recover.

The Nichols & Shepard Co., the big Battle Creek threshing machine manufacturers, will raise all their employees' wages 10 per cent. Five hundred men will be benefited, from day laborers up to the most skilled mechanics. This increase is unsolicited. The employees have always been treated in a most liberal manner.

The Blissford opera house was gutted by fire Wednesday morning. The chief losers will be Mr. Lamey, the owner of the building, which was valued at $20,000, the White Clothing Co. and the Metz Dry Goods Co., both of which firms occupied the store buildings on the first floor of the building. The stocks were completely destroyed. James Chansley and J. Kline were taken off a Detroit train in Jackson and conveyed to the hospital, their mouths being badly burned from drinking whisky supposed to have been drugged. The men claim to have purchased the whisky near the Michigan Central depot at Detroit. The burns appear to be the effects of carbolic acid.

A westbound freight train on the Air Line division of the Michigan Central was wrecked near Vandana Wednesday morning. A car in the middle of the train loaded with engine iron collapsed and seven cars loaded with merchandise and grain were hurled into a ditch. The road is tied up and the loss will amount to thousands of dollars. No one was hurt.

Lar Wiles, an alleged member of the notorious Kibby Hollow gang and an associate of James Hazard, recently convicted for burglary, was arrested in Sumner Wednesday. The warrant upon which this arrest was made was issued in 1900 at which time Wiles left the county secretly. Thinking that the affair had blown over he recently returned.

The Cleveland Chiffs Mining Co. has secured a lease of the Negunee mine property and will operate it after the expiration of the option held by the United States Steel Corporation, Oct. 1, 1903. Consideration was $1,500,000. Besides this, the Chiffs Co. will pay the fee owners, Mans, of Marquette, and Lonstorf, of Milwaukee, 30 cents a ton royalty.

A Kent county man was subpoenaed as a witness on a trial for assault. When asked by a lawyer what distance he was from the parties when the assault happened, he replied: "Just thirteen feet eleven inches and a half." "How came you to be so exact?" inquired the lawyer. "Because I expected some fool to ask me and I measured it."

Articles of incorporation of the National Rawhide & Belting Co., of Niles, capital $50,000, have been filed with the secretary of state. The Edwards & Chamberlain Hardware Co., of Kalamazoo has increased its capital from $40,000 to $70,000, and the Lake Superior Journal Printing & Publishing Co., of the Soo, has increased from $6,000 to $20,000.

Otsego folks do not seem to take much interest in the public schools, and what little they do take is pointed in the wrong direction. Two meetings have been held to vote money to rebuild the school which was destroyed by fire some months ago, and both times the proposition has been turned down by the small number of voters who turned out to vote.

Woman Lacked Cosmopolitan Culture. The rather strenuous wife of a western congressman met Wu Ting-fang at a dinner and eagerly sought to engage him in conversation. She was compelled to lean out over the table and greet him at a distance of several covers from where she sat. "Mr. Wu, we all think you are so clever," she declared. "Isn't it such a pity you are only Chinese?"

Village Taxes.

The fact that the present council finds it necessary to raise $7,000 by taxation this year is no reflection on their conservatism or ideas of economy. They are confronted at once with an indebtedness of in round numbers $4,000, every dollar of which is past due and upon a part of it the village will even now be called upon to pay compound interest. This indebtedness might just as well be wiped out one time as another. It has been accumulating since the electric light bond deal and the present council is dealing with the facts as they find them and the tax payers must bear it for this once any how. The council will in reality only use $5,000 for current expenses and interest on bonds, the other $400 as stated going at once to pay debts already past due. There was apparently no other course to be pursued. There is not much economy sure in borrowing money all the time at 6 per cent interest.

In speaking of some Detroit republican political aspirants the North side Gazette says:

"These men are as much opposed to taking home the law as from Detroit is any Democrat in the city."

And pray tell when Detroit has ever been deluged by home rule. The trouble is that this home rule is so expansive that the endeavor is to not only home rule Detroit but Wayne county and part of the state of Michigan as well from the city mill.

Too Effective.

E. T. Abbott, the civil engineer and contractor, tells a good story about a German sawmill proprietor of his acquaintance. The sawmill man used refuse from the mill for fuel. The machinery was pretty much back number and one day the agent for a firm came to the plant, and, after looking it over, told the German that he would put in new and improved machinery for about $4,000, which would reduce the amount of fuel used one-half. While the fuel cost nothing, it required four men to provide it, and the German was assured that two men could do the work after the new machinery was installed. It looked like a good proposition, and the sawmill man gave the agent the order. A few months after the machinery was installed the agent called again. The German gave him a gloomy stare. "What's the matter? Don't the machinery do all I claimed for it?" asked the agent. "Yes, aber I overlook somedings." "What was that?" "Vile it takes only two men to handle de fuel, it takes de under two men to haul away vat ve didn't use before, and a team pesides."—Duluth News Tribune.

Lost the Lord's Nickel.

A little boy who goes to Sunday school every Sunday always receives a nickel from his father to place in the collection plate. Last Sunday his father gave him two nickels, saying, "One is for the Lord and the other is for yourself." As it was too early to start for Sunday school the little boy sat on the porch steps in the warm sunshine playing with the two nickels. After a while he dropped one of them and it disappeared down a crack. Without a moment's hesitation and still clutching the remaining coin in his clenched fist, he looked up at his father, exclaiming, "Oh, pop! There's the Lord's nickel!"

Gray, Benton Harbor, $12; Angeline Hann, Charlotte, $12.

Patrick Found Guilty.

New York, March 26.—Albert T. Patrick, lawyer, was convicted of the murder of Senator John T. Patterson, of the aged Texan's estate, estimated at $1,000,000, and that Jones killed his employer by the administration of chloroform at the direct instigation of Patrick.

Horsewhipped by a Woman. James Flannery, a farmer residing near Buchanan, was publicly horsewhipped on Main street, Niles, by Zetta Tumms, the divorced wife of Edward Oaler, a professional wrestler of South Bend, Ind. The woman used a rawhide with telling effect repeatedly striking her victim across the face. Flannery took refuge in a clothing store, whether he was followed by the crazed woman who again chastised him before he managed to escape. The woman alleges that Flannery grossly insulted her. Flannery claims he never saw her before she attacked him.

Judge Morris Plan. Judge Morris, of Monroeville, who is a member of the best sugar steering committee, says that when the Cuba reciprocity bill is taken up in the house next week he will offer an amendment to remove the differential between raw and refined sugar. The amendment will probably also include the removal of the Dutch standard, in which is said to be the strength of the sugar trust. This will raise the price of sugar and place the balance of power in the hands of the Democrats, if the beet sugarites do not lose their nerve.

A Miraculous Feat.

"It seemed that nothing short of a miracle could save my little daughter from an untimely death," says City Marshall A. H. Jalcorn, of Cherokee, Kan. "When two years old she was taken with stomach and bowel trouble and despite the efforts of the best physicians we could procure, she grew gradually worse and was pronounced incurable. A friend advised

Dr. Mes. Nervine and after giving it a few days she began to improve and finally recovered. She is now five years of age and the picture of health."

Monument for Levi Coffin.
A movement is on foot in Indianapolis to erect a monument to Levi Coffin, who in the stirring times immediately preceding the civil war was at the head of the Indiana organization connected with the "underground railroad," through the medium of which hundreds of negroes escaped from slavery to the north. Mr. Coffin died near Cincinnati in 1877. While living in Newport he aided in the escape of Eliza Harris of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" fame.

Weak?
"I suffered terribly and was extremely weak for 12 years. The doctors said my blood was all turning to water. At last I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was soon feeling all right again."
Mrs. J. W. Fiala, Hadlyme, Ct.
No matter how long you have been ill, nor how poorly you may be today, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine you can take for purifying and enriching the blood.

THE MICHIGAN NEWS FIELD

Bad Wreck on the Grand Trunk at Millett.

ONE DEAD AND FIVE INJURED.

New Embalming Fluid Turns Man's Body Into Rubber—Four Burned to Death—Two Soldiers of the 14th Regiment Drowned—Other News.

Bad Wreck on the Grand Trunk.
—One dead and five injured in the casualty record of a Grand Trunk wreck which occurred at Millett. No. 6, east-bound passenger train had the right of way and the engine and seven cars passed through a switch safely, but the last coach and Pullman sleeper were thrown off the track and against engine No. 1147, which was attached to a west-bound extra freight. The freight engine and both cars went into a heap. A wrecker was called from Battle Creek.

Through official sources it is learned that Abraham Burnstone, of Detroit, who occupied a seat in the coach, was the only one killed. It is the opinion of those in authority that the switch had been tampered with. Conductor Charles E. Spencer and Engineer Clark, of Battle Creek, were in charge of the passenger. Conductor James R. Bunde and Engineer O. I. Campbell, of Battle Creek, had the extra freight. The coach and sleeper were badly damaged.

One of the trucks on the rear coach caught the points of the switch so as to run the last two cars onto the side-track, where they struck the freight engine. The engineer and fireman were examining the freight engine when the passenger car was going through. They saw the two cars jump the track and escaped injury by jumping out of reach. The passenger train was going at a high rate of speed when the accident happened.

Man's Body Becomes Rubber.

The body of old John Leek, the colored man connected with the Arnold murder case, who died six months ago at Battle Creek, was dug up last week and it was found that it had proved superior to the forces which ordinarily effect complete or partial dissolution within such a period. The secret of the preservation of the body is that a newly invented embalming fluid was used for the purpose of a test and the test appears to have been successful. What was accomplished now shows for itself. Leek might as well be an image of black marble as of flesh. No decomposition has set in and it is claimed that John will be as perfect a state of preservation hundreds of years from now as he is to-day. The body has the consistency of hard rubber.

A Dislocated Heart.

A consultation of physicians was held Thursday by Elkhart physicians on the case of Isaac Dishong, of Cass county, Mich., who is the victim of a "dislocated heart." He is liable to lose his life, but the case is an enigma for physicians. About three weeks ago he was attempting to steer a wagon down an incline by holding the tongue, when the vehicle got the best of him and threw him some distance. The fall was with such force that his heart was jarred four inches out of place. Inflammation has set in and physicians say he will die.

Four Burned to Death.

The frame dwelling of Dr. Boyce, of Boyne City, occupied by two families, was totally destroyed and four persons were burned to death. The dead: Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Frank Littlefield, six-year-old girl, eight-year-old boy. Mrs. Littlefield and her two children were visiting from Spokane, Wash. At the time the fire broke out all the persons in the house were upstairs asleep. The cracking of the fire awakened the sleepers and only Mr. Thompson escaped. How the fire caught is not known.

A Cadetship Offered.

Senator McMillan has decided that his appointment to a cadetship at West Point shall be determined by a competitive examination, which will be held at University school, Detroit, April 23 and 24. Any young man living in Michigan who thinks that he can pass the subsequent physical examination will be eligible by presenting himself. The successful candidate will not be obliged to undergo another examination for admittance to West Point.

Two Officers Drowned.

First Lieut. Howard S. Avery, battalion adjutant, and Second Lieut. William Ashbridge, of the 14th U. S. Infantry, were lost shortly before 7 o'clock Thursday evening while returning from a fishing trip in the vicinity of Zug Island Detroit river. They were accompanied by Trumpeter Richard P. Tunney, who escaped by clinging to the overturned boat until he could be rescued.

Judge Thomas Dead.

Judge N. E. Thomas died at Fort Huron of Bright's disease. The judge took sick about three months ago, and the bar granted him leave of absence to recuperate. He went as far as London, Ohio, when he took sick and was brought home on a stretcher. He never rallied sufficiently to leave his bed, and for the past few weeks has been in a semi-conscious state.

A Great Jail.

Marshal William Tills, of Fife Lake, went to Traverse City Saturday to secure warrants for two woodsmen who broke into the Fife Lake jail to obtain a sleeping place. A Fife Lake man confined there over night went home in the morning, but his family sent him back to await the coming of the officials, who found him sitting in a wide-open jail.

The $8,000 plant of the Morrice Canning company will soon be a reality, the construction work being nearly completed.

THE SPRING ELECTIONS.

Mayor Perry Defeated at Grand Rapids—List of Mayors Elected.

In contradistinction to the spring election of two years ago, the elections throughout Michigan Monday were mainly fought out on local issues. After a warm fight at Grand Rapids, Mayor Perry was defeated by W. Millard Palmer by a majority approaching 1,000. The entire Democratic ticket went down with him. The election was a landslide of even greater proportions than that which resulted in Perry's election two years ago by a majority of 1,500. The following is a list of the mayors elected:

AROUND THE STATE.

Ground has been broken for the erection of Manistee's new $30,000 theater.

Twenty-three robberies have been committed in Muskegon in three months.

Frankfort is to have a canning factory, a company with $20,000 capital having been organized to establish it.

Wilmet is to have a pickle factory, the farmers of the vicinity having contracted to raise more than the required acreage of cucumbers.

Dr. Charles N. Hayden, Lansing's oldest practicing physician, is dead, aged 69. William T. Algate, well known baker, is dead, aged 49.

An Ovid woman wrote $8,000 notes on a postal card for a prize of $10. Few persons would risk the ruin of their eyesight for such an amount.

Wife's affections are not valued very highly in Cass county. A Newberg man sued a neighbor for alienation of his spouse's love, and the jury gave him only $250.

The whole town of Martin is under quarantine, an old gentleman, who was exposed in California, came to the village and was stricken with smallpox soon after his arrival.

Eliza Bradshaw, of Oregon township, was burned to death in attempting to fight a fire with kerosene oil. The accident occurred Tuesday night, and Mrs. Bradshaw died next morning.

An Inlay City man being unable to find a building in the village in which to conduct his business, went over to Capac, bought a vacant building, loaded it on wheels and moved it over to Inlay City.

She-man Hill, of Burton, was seized with an attack at the Grand Trunk depot in Flint just before the arrival of a train on which he was to have departed for California for the benefit of his health.

Hastings school children will get a longer vacation than they figured on. The public schools will not be reopened as was intended, owing to the extremely large number of cases of measles in the city.

President Churchill, of the Bay City Sugar Co., denied the rumor that the trust had obtained a controlling interest in his company. He says only small blocks were on the market, and these will not affect control of the company.

Benzie fruit growers are of the opinion that the past winter has been favorable in the highest degree for fruit, and that the present prospect is for one of the heaviest crops of every kind of fruit ever grown in the county.

The Niles Board & Paper Co. has increased the wages of its 200 employees 15 per cent as the result of a threatened strike. The employees of the other local paper mills are also dissatisfied, and may formally object to the long hours.

Sheep killing dogs cost the farmers of Day township $10,000 last year. Owners of sheep killed in this manner will receive but twenty-one cents a head for the animals, that being all the money there is available for this purpose.

Although the strike of the Saginaw Valley coal miners is but a few days old, both miners and operators are awaking to the realization of the tremendous losses which will result to both sides in the prolongation of the difficulty and a compromise is expected.

Work has been commenced on the Hackley school grounds to prepare the foundation for the pedestal for the William McKimley statue. The foundation will be of concrete, 3x18 feet. Things will be rushing from now on, and everything will be completed by Memorial Day.

The Muskegon Traction & Lighting Co. have their new large power house completed, with the exception of the cement floors and an engine bed. There are four immense water-tube boilers that are hoisted into position. These boilers have a total of 1,000 horsepower that can be used and of a 250 unit.

More sales of farm property in Oakland county have occurred this spring than for many years past, and the prices paid are high. A large portion of the sales are to persons who are not farmers, but who have made the purchase as an investment, believing this a more profitable way of using their money than loaning it at the present low rates of interest.

The Battle Creek school board has donated a good site for the public school library for the erection of which the late Charles Willard bequeathed $40,000, and as a result the entire amount can be used in the construction of the building, which will begin at once. Mr. Willard also bequeathed $40,000 for a Y. M. C. A. building, which is nearing completion.

The National Salt Co. operated at a great loss in Michigan last year, while making a good profit in other sections of the country. This was caused by the independent concerns of this state, who refused to sell their output to the trust at 75 cents per barrel, while the trust was selling for 90 cents. They found a good demand for all they could produce, and at the same time they were disposed of their entire output. When the trust cut prices below cost of production, the independents ceased production. The trust price is now 43 cents per barrel.

Shelby officers of the law must be a little lot. An unknown woman who has evidently been reading of the exploits of a certain female down in Kansas, went into a local drug store and began smashing all the bottles in sight without regard to their contents. Officers stood around and watched the proceedings, but were afraid to interfere to stop the destruction.

The development company at Manistee evidently organized for business. It has already brought three big industries to the city, and is negotiating with several others, with good prospects of landing them as well.

YES OR NO?

Northville. People Are Respectfully Asked to Answer These Questions.

Is there anything in the evidences of one's senses? Is there anything in the testimony of one's friends? Can reliance be placed upon the statements from people we know? Are the opinions of local citizens of any greater moment than those of strangers? Would you sooner believe people living in some faraway place than citizens of our city? We think not, for home proof can be easily investigated.

Mrs. Philip Porter, retired, living on Cady street, says: "I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and know them to be a valuable remedy. I was troubled for over two years with a dull aching pain in my back. I could hardly stoop and get up again. If I took cold it always settled in my back, causing much pain and inconvenience. Since taking Doan's pills I am as well as ever. I could hardly get around and had to make quite an effort to dress myself. Learning about Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box at Murdock Bros' drug store. The benefit derived from their use causes me to value them very highly. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., Sole agent for the U. S. Remember the name Doan's and take no other."

Teaches His Children Trades.

Dr. C. H. Roberts, a retired millionaire of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., had as his maxim that "no man has a right to consume more than he produces," and, living up to that principle, he educated his children's hands as well as their heads, and when they left school he required each to learn a trade.

Wants to Help Others.

"I had stomach trouble all my life," says Edw. Meiler, proprietor of the Union Bottling Works, Erie Pa., "and used all kinds of remedies, went to several doctors and spent considerable money trying to get a moment's peace. Finally I read of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have been taking it to my great satisfaction. I never found its equal for stomach trouble and gladly recommend it in hope that I may help other sufferers." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles. You don't have to diet. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. Murdock Bros.

The New English Stamps.

The new English stamps just issued and which represent the king crowned with a wreath, will undergo a change immediately after the coronation, when the wreath will be replaced by a crown. It was considered inappropriate to represent the king with a crown on his head before the actual coronation had taken place.

Modeler of Children's Statuettes.

As a modeler of children's portrait statuettes, Mrs. Sarah Greene Wright has earned an enviable reputation. Mrs. Wright received her first inspiration while watching some children who were playing in the Luxembourg gardens. She has a studio in New York City, and has the distinction of being the only woman who makes children's portrait statuettes from life.

DISGUISED CATARRH.

A Stealthy, Insidious, Weakening Enemy to Women.

REV. HARRIET R. EDWARDS, CLINTON, IA.

Rev. Harriet R. Edwards in a recent letter from Mt. Pleasant Park, Clinton, Ia., writes:
 "I have found that Peruna is a wonderful medicine to use in diseases peculiar to women. It quickly and permanently restores health and vigor and acts as a natural tonic to a worn-out system. I have so far never observed a case which was not greatly aided by its use."—REV. DR. H. R. EDWARDS.

THERE are a multitude of women, especially housewives, and all other women obliged to be on their feet constantly, who are wretched beyond description, simply because their strength and vitality is sapped away by catarrhal discharges from the pelvic organs. These women get up in the morning tired, drag themselves through their daily duties tired, only to go to bed at night as tired as before.
 Peruna is such a perfect specific for each case that when patients have once used it they can never be induced to quit it until they are permanently cured. It begins to relieve the disagreeable symptoms at once. The backache ceases, the trembling knees are strengthened, the appetite restored, the digestion made perfect, the dull headache is stopped and the weakening drains are gradually cured. These results certainly follow a course of treatment with Peruna.

 Jos. B. Crowley, Congressman from Illinois, writes from Robinson, Ill.:
 "Mrs. Crowley has taken a number of bottles of Peruna on account of nervous troubles. It has proven a strong tonic and lasting cure. I can cheerfully recommend it."—Jos. B. Crowley.

Mrs. Wm. Hetrick, Kennard, Washington county, Neb., writes:
 "I am fifty-six years old and have not felt well since the Change of Life began ten years ago. I was in misery somewhere most of the time. My back was very weak, and my flesh so tender it hurt me to lean against the back of a chair. I had pain under my shoulder-blades, in the small of my back and hips. I sometimes wished myself out of this world. Had hot and cold spells, dizziness, and trembling of the limbs, and was losing flesh all the time.
 "After following your directions and taking Peruna I now feel like a different person."—Mrs. Wm. Hetrick.
 Barbara Alberty, corner Seventh and Walnut streets, Appleton, Wis., writes as follows in regard to Peruna:
 "For years I have suffered with backache and severe pains in the side. I doctored so much that I became discouraged.
 "A school friend told me how very much Peruna had benefited her and I sent out for a bottle, which did more to relieve me than all the other medicine I had ever taken.
 "I used it faithfully for two weeks and it completely cured me. I have not had any pains since, anywhere, but feel like a new woman. I am truly thankful for what Peruna has done for me."—Barbara Alberty.
 Mrs. D. W. Mason, 502 Dauphine street, New Orleans, La., writes:
 "I have been taking your Peruna and Manalin and can cheerfully recommend it to all those suffering with the same trouble that I was. I have been suffering for the past two years with female weakness, palpitation of the heart, stomach, kidney and liver disorder, and above all a dreadful cough with smothering spells. I was completely run down.
 "After I had taken one bottle of Peruna and a few doses of your Manalin, I could sleep soundly, my heart was better, my cough left me, it acted immediately upon my nerves, and after taking four bottles according to your directions, I was entirely cured of all my troubles.
 "I can truthfully say that there is nothing to equal your Peruna and Manalin. I was a different woman after taking the second bottle. It is without a doubt the best medicine in the world. Language fails to express my gratitude for this cure. May God bless you."—Mrs. D. W. Mason.
 If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
 Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Taft charged Mr. Tubbs with burning up about $30 worth of his farm fence for fuel. Mr. Tubbs said he considered what he burned was a lot of worthless boards but offered to settle for $16. Atty. C. C. Yerkes appeared for Mr. Mr. Tubbs and Attorney Voorhies of Plymouth for Mr. Taft.

Supt. Whitehead of the water works system found the reservoir only about half full Sunday and upon further investigation he found that some one had been up to the receiving basin near the springs and had opened one of the gates so that the water from one of the springs was flowing to waste across the land. He fixed things right and the reservoir is again filling up, though if undiscovered for some time the reservoir would have been emptied and in case of fire serious damage might have resulted.

Baptist Church Notes.

[By the Pastor.]

Remember the young people's gathering at the parsonage this evening and be sure to come.

There are only four more lessons in the Monday evening Bible study course. You can't afford to miss them.

We expect to issue the Northville Baptist Union next week. Be on the look out for it and be sure to secure a copy.

Sunday the 20th of April is the time for our annual offering for Home Missions. Don't forget the time or object.

Our ladies are planning for a bazaar and supper at the rink Tuesday, April 15. Things new and old, useful and ornamental, will be on sale. A well-stocked candy booth will be one of the many attractions. One of our sumptuous suppers for which we are noted—will be served from 5 to 8 p. m. There will be enough for all this time—try us.

Last Sunday morning the pastor concluded his series of sermons on "Christian Character." Next Sunday he will begin a series of Sunday morning sermons on the general theme, "Never man spoke like this man," and his specific theme for that day will be, "Jesus the Lord, not the Gardener." In the evening he will speak on the subject, "Two Ambitions."

Methodist Church Notes.

[By the Pastor.]

The April meeting of the official board will occur next Monday evening.

The WEBS will meet in regular session next Tuesday afternoon at the church. The address by Mrs. Price on "Utah," that was postponed last month, will be given at this meeting, after which light refreshments will be served to the ladies present by the members of the society.

The pastor will preach a special sermon Sunday evening to those connected with the shoe business. The topic will be "Gospel Shoes," and will be introduced with an outline of the history of shoemaking. We shall be pleased to see as many of the employees of the local factory present as may find it convenient.

After having escaped the smallpox and recovered from the mumps, it seems that a part of our congregation is suffering at present from an attack of a strange malady that makes itself especially evident in the Sunday evening service. It appears to be contagious, so much so that even church members of several years standing are not exempt from its aggressions. In fact at the present instance they seem to be peculiarly susceptible to its evil effects. It has not as yet proved very serious, but it is momentarily expected to break out in a malignant form, if not speedily checked. The disease is apparently of the character of a nervous or emotional disorder and is known in the vernacular as—the giggles. The earliest symptoms are sidelong glances, bewitching smiles, craning necks, and severe cases are sometimes aggravated by such complications as note-writing, picture-drawing, together with a series of facial contortions fearfully and wonderfully made. If permitted to persist in its course, evidence is not lacking to indicate that it must ultimately result in impairing the digestive organs of the mind to such an extent that the assimilation of an idea will prove an utter impossibility, and there will remain to the intellectual faculties but one form of manifestation—an insane, pitiful giggle. For those who are sadly afflicted with this troublesome complaint (troublesome to others, if not to the parties themselves) we suggest the following sovereign remedy. One grain of old-fashioned reverence, one grain of regard for others and one grain of common sense, to be dissolved in a thimbleful of thoughtfulness and taken just before or immediately after entering the house of God. If this does not insure a normal spiritual temperature, it will be advisable to spend some time in the open air in the exercise of godliness. A little of the tincture of repentance together with a few drops of the essence of earnest prayer will wonderfully tone up the spirit when one has reached a state of mental convalescence following one of these spasmodic attacks.

"Coughed All Night"

We hear that complaint frequently now. It is one easy to believe as a rule, for the speaker generally shows that his rest has been badly broken. Of course, it is always natural for us to tell of the value of White Pine; and we can recommend this preparation with confidence. We have made and sold it for five years, and have scores of people in the neighborhood who are willing to say a good word for it as the opportunity arises.

White Pine soothes the inflamed bronchial passages and quickly quiets the annoying hack. It's good for a fresh cold or a chronic one. Good for the little fellow who coughs and chokes, and gasps, good for his father if he has a cough. Two sizes, 25c and 50c.

Oil for the Children.

Give them oil—cod-liver oil. It's curious to see the result. Give it to the peevish, fretful child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anemic child, and his face becomes rosy and full of health. Take a flat-chested child, or a child that has stopped growing. Give him the oil, and he will grow big and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme. It has been done for years. Of course you must use the right oil. Scott's Emulsion is the one.

Dreadful Attack of Whooping Cough.

Mrs. Ellen Harrison, of 300 Park Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes as follows: "Our two children had a severe attack of whooping cough. One of them in the paroxysm of coughing would often faint and bleed at the nose. We tried everything we heard of without getting relief. We then called in our family doctor who prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar. With the very first dose they began to improve and we feel that it has saved their lives." Refuse substitutes. Murdock Bros.

The Footpad Apologized.

Judge Daniel Armstrong demonstrated to his fellow residents of Tarrytown, N. Y., the other evening that he possesses great presence of mind becoming a justice. He was returning from prayer meeting when a footpad stepped up to him and demanded his money. The judge promptly knocked the highwayman down. The thief said: "I didn't know it was you, judge, or I wouldn't have bothered you," and then fled.

The Great Dismal Swamp

Of Virginia is a breeding ground of malaria germs. So is low, wet or marshy ground everywhere. These germs cause weakness, chills and fever, aches in the bones and muscles, and may induce dangerous maladies. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malarial trouble. They will surely prevent typhoid. "We tried many remedies for malaria and stomach and liver trouble," writes John Charleston, of Bryesville, O., "but never found anything as good as Electric Bitters." Try them. Only 50c. Geo. C. Hueston guarantees satisfaction.

Russell Sage's "Bouncer."

Russell Sage employs a "bouncer" nowadays—a giant who stands within reach of everyone admitted to the aged millionaire's private office. The other day a man while talking to Mr. Sage reached for his hip pocket. The bouncer had him in an iron grip in about a second. The man was only reaching for a handkerchief.

Wields A Sharp A.

Who Pays the Printer?

When you go around from printer to printer getting bids on a job and then giving it to the lowest bidder, you get an idly curious good job—one with no particularly good points—ones that tell no goods for you, then who pays the printer?

YOU DO.

When you pick out a good printer, giving him all your work, educating him to an idea of your needs, and paying a fair price for the work you get, your printer matter (when secured at the Record Printing) necessarily creates a favorable impression for you, and for what you offer, and becomes a factor in selling your goods. Then who pays the printer? Your customer.

The Lost Continent

By CUTCLIFFE HYNÉ.

He saluted me with his sword and drew back, and once more the missiles began to fly, and the doomed wretches who had been halting beside the steep rock walls of the pass began once more to press hopelessly forward. They had scaling-ladders certainly, but they had no chance of getting these planted. They could do naught but fill the narrow way with their bodies, and to that end they had been sent, and to that end they humbly died. Our priests with crow and lever wrenched from their lodging-places the great rocks which had been made ready, and sent them crashing down, so that once more screams filled the pass, and the horrid butchery was renewed.

But ever and again some arrow, or some slingstone, or some fire-tube's dart would find its way up from below and through the defenses, and there we would be with a man the less to carry on the fight. It was well enough for Phorence to be lavish with her troops; indeed, if she wished for success, there were no two ways for it; and when those she had levied were killed, she could readily press others into the service, seeing that she had the whole broad face of the country under her rule. But with us it was different. A man down on our side was a man whose arm would bitterly be missed, and one which could in no possible way be replaced.

I made calculation of the chances, and saw clearly that if we continued the fight on the present plan, they would storm the gates one after another as they came to them, and that by the time the uppermost gate was reached there would be no priest alive to defend it. And so, not desiring to fashion myself on Phorence's newer plan, which held that a general should at times in preference plot coldly from a place of some safety, and not lead the thick of the fighting, I left those who stood to the gate with some rough soldier's words of cheer, and withdrew again up the narrow stair of the pass.

This one approach to the Sacred Mountain was, as I have said before, vastly more difficult and dangerous in the olden days when it stood as a mere bare cleft as the high gods made it. But a chasm had been bridged here, and a shelf cut through the solid rock there, and in many places the roadway was built up on piers from distant crags below so as to make all uniform and easy. It came to my mind now that if I could destroy this path, we might gain a breathing space for further effort.

The idea seemed good, or at least no other occurred to me which would in any way relieve our desperate situation, and I looked around me for means to put it into execution. Up and down from the mountain to the plains below, I had traversed thousands of times, and so in a manner of speaking knew every stone and every turn and every cut of it by heart. But I had never looked upon it with an eye to shoving off all roadway to the Sacred Mountain, and so now, even in this moment of dreadful stress, I had to traverse it no less than three times afresh before I could decide upon the best site for demolition.

But once the point was fixed, there was little delay in getting the scheme in movement. Already I had sent men to the storehouses among the priests' dwellings to fetch me rams and crows and acids and hammers, and such other material as was needed, and these stood handy behind one of the upper gates. I put on every pair of hands that could be spared to the work, no matter what was their age and feebleness; yes, if Nais could have walked so far I would have pressed her for the labor; and presently carved balustrade and wayside statue, together with the lettered wall stones and the foot-wooden cobbles roared down into the gulf below, and added their din to the shrieks and yells and crashes of the fighting. Gods! but it was a hateful task, smashing down that splendid handiwork of the men of the past. But it was better that it should crash down to ruin in the abyss below than that Phorence should profane it with her impious sandals.

At first I had feared that it would be needful to sacrifice the knot of brave men who were so valiantly defending the gate then being attacked. It is disgusting to be forced into a measure of this kind, but in hard warfare it is often needful to the carrying out of his schemes for a general to leave a part of his troops to fight to a finish, and without hope of rescue, as valiantly as they may; and all he can do for their reward is to commend them earnestly to the care of the gods. But when the work of destroying the pathway was nearly completed, I saw a chance of retrieving them.

So I gave the word for one more furious avalanche of rock to be pelted down, and while the few living were crawling out from those killed by the discharge, and while the next band of reinforcements came scrambling up over the bodies, I sent my nine remaining men away at a run up the steep stairway of the path, and then following them myself. Each of the gates in turn we passed, shutting them after us, and breaking the bars and levers with which they were moved, and not till we were through the last did the roar of shouts from below tell that the besiegers had found the gate they bit against was deserted.

One by one we balanced our way across the narrow ledge which was left where the path had been destroyed, and one poor priest that carried a wound grew giddy and lost his balance here, and toppled down to his death in the abyss below before a hand could be stretched out to steady him. And then, when we were all over, heat was put to the rams, and they expanded with their resistless force, and tore the remaining ledges from their hold in the rock. I think a pang went through us all then when we saw for ourselves the last connecting-link cut away from between the poor remaining handful of our Sacred clan on the mountain and the rest of our great nation, who had grown so bitterly estranged to us, below.

But here at any rate was a break in the fighting. There were no further preparations we could make for our defense, and high though I knew Phorence's genius to be, I did not see how she could very well do other than accept the check and retire. So I set a guard on the ramparts of the uppermost gate to watch all possible movements, and gave the word to the others to go and find the rest which so much they needed.

For myself, dutifully I tried to find Zaemon first, going on the grand my proper self, for there was little enough of kingly state observed on the Sacred Mountain, although the name and title had been given me. But Zaemon was not to be come at. He was engaged inside the Ark of Mysteries, with another of the three, and, being myself only one of the seven, I had not rank enough in the priesthood to break in upon their workings. And so I was free to turn where my kingly words have led me first, and that was to the house which sheltered Nais.

She walked as I came in over the threshold, and her eyes filled with a welcome for me. I went across and knelt where she lay, putting my face on the pillow beside her. She was full of tender talk and sweet endearments. Gods! What an infinity of delight I had missed by not knowing my Nais earlier! But she had a will of her own through it all, and some quaint conceits which made her all the more adorable. She rallied me on the new cleanness of my chin, and on the robe which I had taken as a covering. She professed a pretty awe for my kingship, and vowed that had she known of my coming dignities, she would never have dared to discover a love for me.

Phorence, it seemed, had more rage against the priests' clan on the mountain and more bright genius to help her to a vengeance than I had credited. Her troops stormed easily, and the gates we had left to them, and swarmed up till they stood where the pathway was broken down. In the fierceness of their rush the foremost were thrust over the brink by those pressing up behind before the advance could be halted, and these went screaming to a horrid death in the great gulf below. But it was no position here that a lavish spending of men could take, and presently all were drawn off, save for some half-score who stood as outpost sentries and dodged out of arrow-shot behind angles of the rock.

It seems, too, that the empress herself reconnoitered the place, using due caution and quickness, and so got for herself a full plan of its requirements without being obliged to trust the measuring of another eye. With extraordinary nimbleness she must have planned an engine such as was necessary to suit her purposes, and given orders for its making; for even with the vast force and resources at her disposal, the speed with which it was built was prodigious.

There was very little noise made to tell of what was afoot. All the wood-work and metal-work was cut and tongued and forged and fitted first by skilled craftsmen below in the plain at the foot of the cleft; and when each ponderous balk and each crosspiece and each plank was dragged up the steep pass through the conquered gates, it was ready instantly for fitting into its appointed place in the completed machine.

The cleft was straight where they set about their building, and there was no curve or spur of the cliff to hide their handiwork from those of the priests who watched from the ramparts above our one remaining gate. But Phorence had a coyness lest her engine should be seen before it was completed, and so to screen it she had a vast fire built at the uppermost point where the causeway was broken off, and fed diligently with wet sedge and green wood, so that a great smoke poured out, rising like a curtain that shut out all view. And so, though the priests on the rampart above the gate picked off now and again some of those who tended the fire, they could do the besiegers no further injury, and remained up to the last quite in ignorance of their tactics.

The passage up the cleft was in shadow during the night hours, for, though all the crest of the Sacred Mountain was always lit brightly by the eternal fires which made its defense on the farther side, their glow threw no gleam down that flank where the cliff ran sheer to the plains beneath. And so it was under cover of the darkness that Phorence brought up her engine into position for attack.

Planking had been laid down for its wheels, and the wheels themselves well greased, and it may be that she hoped to march in upon us while all slept. But there was a certain creaking and groaning of timbers and labored panting of men which gave advertisement that something was being attempted, and the alarm was spread quietly in the hope that, if a surprise had been planned, the real surprise might be turned the other way.

A messenger came to me, running, where I sat in the house at the side of my love, and she, like the soldier's wife she was made to be, kissed me and bade me go quickly and care for my honor, and bring back my wounds for her to mend.

On the rampart above the gate all was silence, save for the faint rustle of armed men, and out of the black darkness ahead, from the other side of the broken causeway, came the sounds of which the messenger had warned me.

The captain of the gate came to me and whispered: "We have made no light till the king came, not knowing the king's will in the matter. Is it wished I send some of the throwing-fire down yonder, on the chance that it does some harm, and at the same time lights up the place? Or is it willed that we wait for their surprise?"

"Send the fire," I said, "or we may find that Phorence's brain has been one too many for us."

The captain of the gate took one of the balls in his hand, lit the fuse and hurled it. The horrid thing burst among a mass of men who were laboring with a huge engine, spluttering them with its deadly fire, and lighting their garments. The plan of the engine showed itself plainly. They had built them a vast great tower, resting on wheels, at its base, so that it might be pushed forward from behind, and slanting at its foot to allow for the steepness of the path and leave it always upright.

It was stored inside, with ladders joining each floor, and through slits in the side which faced us bowmen could cover an attack. From its top a great bridge reared high above it, being carried vertically till the tower was brought near enough for its use. The bridge was hinged at the third story of the tower and fastened with ropes to its extreme top, but, once the ropes were cut, the bridge would fall, and light upon whatever came within its sweep and be held there by the spikes with which it was studded beneath.

I saw, and inwardly felt myself conquered. The cleverness of Phorence had been too strong for my defense. No war-engine of which we had command could overstep the tower. The whole of its massive timbers were hung with the wet new-stripped skins of beasts, so that even the throwing-fire could not destroy it. What puny means we had to impede those who pushed it forward would have little effect. Presently it would come to the place appointed, and the ropes would be cut, and the bridge would thunder down on the rampart above our last gate, and the stormers would pour out to their final success.

Well, life had loomed very pleasant for me these few days, with a warm and loving Nais once more in touch of my arms, but the high gods in their infinite wisdom knew best all ways, and I was no rebel to stay stiff-necked against their decision. But it is ever a soldier's privilege, come what may, to warm over a fight, and the most exquisitely fierce joy of all is that final fight of a man who knows that he must die, and who lusts only to make his bed of slain high enough to carry a due memory of his powers with those who afterwards come to gaze upon it. I gripped my ax, and the muscles of my arms stood out in knots at the thought of it. Would Tatlo come to give me sport? I feared not. They would send only the common soldiers first to the storm, and I must be content to do my killing on those.

And Nais, what of her? I had a quiet mind there. When any spoilers came to the house where she lay, she would know that Deucalion had been taken up to the gods, and she would not be long in following him. She had her dagger. No, I had no fears of being parted long from Nais now.

CHAPTER XVII.

DESTRUCTION OF ATLANTIS.

A tutoring old priest came up and touched me on the shoulder.

"Well!" I said, sharply, having small taste for interruption just now. "News has been carried to the Three, my king, of what is threatening."

"Then they will know that I stand here now, brother, to enjoy the finest fight of all my life. When it is finished I shall go to the gods, and be there standing behind the stars to welcome them when presently they also arrive. They have my regrets—that they are too old and too feeble to die and look upon a fine killing themselves."

"I have commands from them, my king, to lay upon you, which I fear you will like but slenderly. You are forbidden to find your death here in the fighting. They have further use for you yet."

I turned on the old man angrily enough. "I shall take no such order, my brother. I am not going to believe it was ever given. You must have misunderstood. If I am a man, if I am a priest, if I am a soldier, if I am a king, then it stands to my honor that no enemy should pass this gate while yet I live. And you may go back and throw that message at their teeth."

The old man smiled enviously. He, too, had been a keen soldier in his day. "I told them you would not easily believe such a message, and asked them for a sign, and they bore with me, and gave me one. I was to give you this jewel, my king."

"How came they by that? It is a bracelet from the elbow of Nais."

"They must have stripped her of it. I did not know it came from Nais. The word I was to bring you said that the owner of the jewel was inside the Ark of the Mysteries, and waited you there. The use which the Three have for you further concerns her also."

Even when I heard that, I will freely confess that my obedience was sorely tried, and I have the less shame in setting it down on these sheets, because I know that all true soldiers will feel a sympathy for my plight. Indeed, the promise of the battle was very tempting. But in the end my love for Nais prevailed, and I gave the salutation that was useful in token that I heard the order and obeyed it.

To the knot of priests who were left for the defense I turned and made my farewells. "You will have what I shall miss, my brothers," I said. "I envy you that fight but, though I am king of Atlantis, still I am only one of the Seven, and so am servant of the Three, and must obey their order. They speak in words the will of the most high gods, and we must do as they command. You will stand behind the stars before I come, and I ask of you that you will commend me to those you meet there. It is not my own will that I shall not appear there by your side."

They heard my words with smiles, and very courteously saluted me with their weapons, and there we parted. I did not see the fight, but I know it was good, from the time which passed before Phorence's hordes broke out on the crest of the mountain. They died hard, that last remnant of the lesser priests of Atlantis.

With a soul enough feeling I went up to the head of the pass, and then through the groves, and between the temples and colleges and houses which stood on the upper slopes of the Sacred Mountain, till I reached that boundary beyond which in milder days it was death for any but the privileged few to pass. But the time, it appeared to me, was past for conventions, and, moreover, my own temper was hot, and it is likely that I should have strode on with little scruple if I had not been interrupted. But in the temple which marked the boundary there was old Zaemon waiting, and he, with due solemnity of words, and with the whole of some ancient ritual ordained for that purpose, sought dispensation from the high gods for my trespass, and would not give me way till he was through with his ceremony.

Already Phorence's tower and bridge were in position, for the clash and yelling of a fight told that the small handful of priests on the rampart of the last gate were bartering their lives for the highest return in dead that they could earn. They were trained fighting men all, but old and feeble, and the odds against them were too enormous to be stemmed for over long. In a very short time the place would be put to the storm and the roof of the Sacred Mountain would be at the open mercy of the invader. If there was any further thing to be done, it was well that it should be set about quickly while peace remained. It seemed to me that the moment was for prompt action, and the time for lengthy pompous ceremonial was done for good.

(To be continued next week.)

Gutta Percha from East. Advances from Germany are to the effect that a very satisfactory artificial gutta percha has been derived from peat, and great things are expected to result from the discovery in cheapening the cost of insulating ocean cables. Gutta percha is the only substance thus far discovered for protecting a wire against the corrosive action of salt water, and the product is not only limited, but is controlled by an English firm of cable manufacturers, who own the forests in the East Indies from which the gutta percha is obtained.

WABASH

Follow The Flag.

The quickest way to get from Northville to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, New York and Boston, is via the Wabash, the Banner Route, the pathway of the Continental Limited, which has a record for speed and equipment which is unexcelled. When traveling east, see that your ticket reads Pere Marquette and Wabash.

The Wabash is the only direct line from Detroit to St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha, with direct and fast service to these points. Close connections at St. Louis for Hot Springs, and at Kansas City for all Colorado and California points.

Suburban News.

One little lone case of supposed smallpox in a mild form is reported at Wayne.

Rochester, also, would like to be included in the itinerary of that good-roads train.

Birmingham, Novi and Salem are also to be headquarters for free rural mail delivery service after May 1st.

The latest thing in organizations is the "booster society," but this is only a new and comprehensive name for Rural Improvement Societies.

Orion claims to have by actual count fifty-six widows, only three of whom are of the "grass" variety. No wonder the place is a popular resort.

Rev. James Jackson of Royal Oak who attempted to forestall Providence by the razor method, is said to be getting better, although he had succeeded in separating his windpipe into two sections.

Plymouth F & A M's have been trying to do their level best toward assisting the government in keeping up friendly international relations, by royally entertaining a lot of their Canadian brethren of the order.

During a fight between two Pontiac men, one bit off the other's nasal organ and is now in jail as a result of his peculiar appetite. The man with the abbreviated countenance doesn't nose he ever wants another scrap.

At a recent banquet in Farmington one of the toasts was "The frivolous girl" and it was announced that the person responding "had to go to Northville to find a subject." Was it too frivolous for those at home were too "frivolous" for analysis.

Genesee county takes the lead of the world, it is claimed, in commencing this week the naming of country highways and the numbering and marking of the houses. Each supervisor names five persons as a committee for the work.

Pontiac is now faced with ambition to locate a gun factory that wants to locate there. The inventor reports that there are barrels of profit in it, but Pontiac folks are required to invest in the stock to the tune of a hundred thousand dollars, which of course looks like a sight of money.

Quite a number of Plymouth people have been breaking out with various indignities comments because some aspiring reporter informed Detroit papers that several young ladies of the village had been over to Wayne dancing with a smallpox suspect. The eruption is nearly over, however, as Plymouth health officers have proved that the afflicted young man was in quarantine at the time he was alleged to have been "exposed" to the wiles of the Plymouth girls.

A town in north Michigan wants a shoemaker. The physician of men's soles must be an accomplished cornet player, a man with a soul for music, a whole-souled fellow who cannot be bought or sold. The musical shoemaker who fills the bill will be the soloist of the town band—Waynott Herald.

Such an artist's upper notes ought to be a wail that could be desired and the last just as good as the first. The taps of the drum will be right in time, but with such qualifications heel require a good many tips to keep him from counter attractions.

A lazy liver makes a lazy man. Burdock Blood Bitters is the natural never failing remedy for a lazy liver.

Bullet Cannot Penetrate Snow.
Some interesting experiments have been made at the musketry ranges outside Christiania to test the qualities of snow for hastily improvised protective works against rifle fire. In the result it is held to be established that a breastwork of snow six feet thick even when not pressed, is quite impenetrable to the Krag-Jorgensen rifle bullet at forty-five yards, although this weapon has a very high initial velocity.

Whitney's Opera House—Detroit.

Starting with a matinee April 13, Lincoln J. Carter will offer his latest and by many declared his best play, "Down in Mobile." Strange adventures, confusing situations that are amusing, and denouements, it is said, so fill the four acts of the play that the audience marvels at the cleverness of the author in carrying his characters through so many plots and intrigues to a happy ending.

Lyceum Theatre—Detroit.

When the Pike Theatre company presents at the Lyceum next week the charming little society drama, "Miss Hobbs," the play will be seen before Detroit audiences for the first time. The Pike company considers "Miss Hobbs" its most artistic success and has repeated it twice this season at its home theater. The story concerns a young woman who undertakes to prove to her friends that love is all bosh and who selects for a victim upon whom to experiment the husband of her dearest friend, but gets the wrong man and finally falls a victim herself.

King Edward's First Speech.

The first speech ever made by King Edward was delivered when he was 10 years of age, and was visiting Newcastle with his mother. A member of the city corporation, from which body Queen Victoria was receiving an address, presented Albert Edward with a handsome paper cutter, and at a hint from the queen the prince faced the municipal wise men and delivered a speech of thanks, which was not recorded. His first "official" speech as prince of Wales was made as he was setting out, a youth of 18, on his tour in this country.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Default having been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the 15th day of August, 1895, executed by Emma S. Hooper of Redford, Wayne County, Michigan, to William J. Emmons, of Iowa City State of Iowa, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds for the County of Wayne on the 9th day of December, 1895, in Liber 342 of mortgages on page 178, and the said William J. Emmons having died on the 31st day of July, 1900, intestate, and Almeron Whitehead having been appointed on the 20th day of January, 1901, administrator of the estate of William J. Emmons, deceased, in Michigan, and having filed the required bond and entered upon his duties as such administrator and now acting as such holding said mortgage as such administrator, and there being no other person claiming principal and interest the sum of two hundred and seventy nine and nineteen one-hundredths dollars and the further sum of thirty dollars as an attorney's fee provided in said mortgage together with the costs of foreclosure and no proceedings having been taken at law or in equity to recover the same or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale in said mortgage contained is now operative. Notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises there described will be sold according to law at public auction to the highest bidder at the Greenold Street entrance of the City Hall in the City of Detroit, Michigan (that being the building wherein the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held) on Tuesday, the 22nd day of April 1902 at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day. The mortgaged premises to be sold are described in said mortgage substantially as follows: Lot two hundred and sixty six (266) and the south half of lot two hundred and sixty seven (267) of Moses W. Field's Subdivision of P. C. sixty seven (67) north of Fort Street according to the plat thereof recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the County of Wayne in the town-ships of Springwells, Wayne County, Michigan.
Dated January 21, 1902.
