MAYOR JOHNSON'S SPRING 'NOUNCEMENT

STREET COMR. AND CHIEF POLICE UNDER ONE ROOF.

A. K. Carpenter Is the New Water Works Superintendent.

At the council meeting Monday night Mayor Johnson made his annual spring announcements and passed the municipal plums. The appointments were quickly confirmed by the council and there was evidence of general satisfaction. They were as follows:

Street Comr. and Marshal—Aaron Taft
Night Watch—A. S. Huff
Health Officer—Dr. T. B. Henry
Supt. D. Lights—S. W. Wilkinson
Supt. Water Works—A. K. Carpenter

Fire Chief—A. M. Whitehead
Attorney—C. C. Yerkes

The general sentiment seems to be that the best interests of the village will in every way be carefully looked after. The idea of making the marshal and the street commissioner one and the same person is new in Northville, but the mayor and council seemed to think that in doing it the interests of the village could be more carefully and economically looked after and that the services of the commissioner or marshal would at all times be obtainable—day or night. If Mr. Taft makes as good a public works man as he has a marshal, and the presumption is that he will, the innovation will prove a very commendable one.

Old English Lawyer Dead.

Sir James Parker Deane, Vicar-General of the Province of Canterbury and Chancellor of the Diocese of Salisbury, is dead at the age of 90 years. He was probably the oldest King's Counsel in England, and the oldest person that ever exercised judicial functions, the last occasion being at the installation of the present Bishop of London a year ago. He was one of the last members of the old Doctors' Commons.

The E. M. Press Club's Meet.

The Eastern Michigan Press club held an interesting meet in Detroit Monday and elected Editor Marvin of the Utica Sentinel as secretary and treasurer. Marvin is a hustler and the club may be expected to take on a decided boom. Interesting papers were read by Editors Fox of Rochester, Marvin of Utica, Trumble of Sebewaing, and each was liberally discussed. The Temple Theatre entertained the visitors after the meeting. The next meeting will be held at Orion on the date of the Woman's Press meet and will be in the nature of an outing trip rather than one of business.

Methodist Church Notes.

(By the Pastor)

There will be an all-day missionary conference in our church at Wayne next Tuesday. Cannot a number of Northville Methodists plan to be present and gain inspiration from this conference?

The pastor will preach as usual Sunday morning. The evening service will be in charge of the WFMIS and the ladies have secured a speaker for the evening Rev. Jas. Potts, D. D., editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate. We trust that none will miss this opportunity of hearing this scholarly and eloquent preacher.

We regard the following item a remarkable showing of the question of the longevity of people hereabouts. During the last twelve months the pastor of this church has officiated at the funerals of thirteen people, the youngest of whom was over 63 years of age. There were two between 60 and 70, four between 70 and 80, five between 80 and 90 and two over 90. The aggregate number of full years lived by these thirteen was 1023 and the average almost 78 years.

Veteran Soldier Dead.

Gen. Emilio Pallavicini, who commanded the expedition that wounded and captured Garibaldi at Aspromonte is dead at the age of 77 years. He served as a Lieutenant of Bersaglieri in the Crimea, fought at the battle of San Martino in 1859 and in the latter wars for the liberation of Italy.

BIZ IS BOOMING AT DOWEL WORKS

FACTORY NOW RUNNING PART OF THE NIGHT.

Orders Ahead for More Than Three Car Loads.

The Ely Dowel works is just a booming these days and Northville's smallest industry may in time prove to be one of the leaders. Already the growth of the business compels the company to equip the plant with electric lights so as to enable the factory to run nights in order to keep anywhere near their orders. The company has on hand orders for three car loads of dowels besides a number of small orders from regular customers and every mail brings additions. Two of the car loads mentioned must be delivered by May 25th. A number of additional hands have been put at work and the factory will soon be running to its full capacity. Proprietor A. W. Ely states that if he had twice the amount of room and machinery he could use it to a good advantage, as there is an almost unlimited demand for the line of dowels and mouldings which his factory makes.

BAND REJUVENATED

Lot of Old Members in the New Organization.

The Northville band has been rejuvenated and a lot of old members have been induced to take part in the new organization. Ike Crocker's services as leader have been secured and it is pretty safe to say Northville this year will have as good a band as any town of its size in the state. E. C. Hinckley has been chosen president and business manager; Fred Evans, treasurer, and Ed. Perrin, secretary. The boys intend to give the usual weekly concerts during the summer season.

Baptist Church Notes.

(By the Pastor)

Miss Blanche Dunham lead the young people's meeting very acceptably last Sunday evening.

Bea in mind the Home Mission offering for Sunday morning next, and come prepared to take part in this important service.

Theme for next Sunday morning, "Jesus and burning hearts," in the evening the subject considered will be "Christ our Judge."

We expect No. 3 of the "Northville Baptist Union" will make its appearance this week. Be sure to read it for it is published in the interest of the church.

New hymn books, a new organ, and other new and needed articles, for our church are being discussed of late. We hope and trust this will not end in discussion.

About forty-five dollars are the total receipts from the bazaar and supper. The ladies did well for the time they have spent on the affair. Their supper was immense and some went away "too full for utterance." They have a small stock of bazaar goods on hand.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

(By the Pastor)

The C. E. society met at the parsonage Tuesday evening.

The chorus choir gave us some very fine music last Sunday morning.

The attendance at last Sunday evening service was very gratifying.

The offering next Sunday morning will be for the annual Presbyterian assessment.

Mrs. B. A. Wheeler was re-elected recording secretary of the Woman's Presbyterian Missionary society at its late meeting in Milford.

The Presbytery of Detroit will meet in Calvary church, Detroit, next Monday evening. This church will be represented by the pastor and an elder.

The Michigan Presbyterian of this week contains an interesting report of the Presbyterian Home Missionary society at Milford by Mrs. J. O. Knapp.

The Woman's Missionary society met at the home of Mesdames C. H. and H. D. Johnson last Wednesday at three o'clock. Supper was served at six o'clock, to which the gentlemen were invited.

Fred W. Chamberlain, president of the Detroit Christian Endeavor Union, will visit our C. E. society Sunday evening at 6:30 and will occupy the pulpit at 7:30. All, especially young people, are invited to hear Mr. Chamberlain.

Foreign Schools for Women.

It is announced that two universities for women will be opened next year, one at Tokio, Japan, and the other at Moscow. The Russian university for women has been endowed by a wealthy merchant, M. Astrakoff, with 5,000,000 roubles. It will contain for the present only three academic faculties—medical, mathematical and physical science. The Russian minister of education, whose sympathy has been gained, cannot see his way as yet to the concession of a legal faculty.

NORTHVILLE, MICH. APR. 18, '02

The Governorship Race.

The spring announcement made this week that Hon. J. S. Stearns the Washington millionaire and ex-Secretary of State would try to wrestle the republican nomination from Governor Bliss this summer has thus far fallen very flat and even Detroit papers which were a month or so ago almost demanding his entrance into the arena, are now holding up their hands in holy horror against what they think may be a battle of dollars. So far as the Record is able to learn there is but very little real honest sentiment in favor of Mr. Stearns as against Gov. Bliss. Two years hence Mr. Stearns could have had the nomination without any effort on his part but his jump at this time—heretofore an unheard of act in the history of the republican party in this state—may bring about complications least looked for in 1904. The Record feels very friendly to wards Mr. Stearns personally and believes he would make a good governor, but at the same time we also believe he has been ill advised in the present instance. Governor Bliss has not been the grand stand fire works executive that his predecessor was nor do the people desire that he should be. He has been conservative in his acts and administered the affairs of state in a honest and economical manner and the established party price and the party as a whole will denounce his nomination.

But it is hardly fair for Detroit to want to name the governor and lieutenant governor too.

Too Much for the Cobra.

Recently (says an Indian paper) a large crowd, composed chiefly of Kamatis, assembled at Veyarspaudy to offer gifts of fruit and purifications of milk into the hole of a sacred cobra. This is an unusual ceremony, and is called "Nagala Chowry," or the snake-feeding ceremony. Such a quantity of milk was poured down that the cobra, to escape drowning, darted from its hiding place, scattering its devotees, and took refuge in a bush close at hand.

Islands in the Indian Ocean.

If you should want an island—that is, an uninhabited island—for the purpose of occupying it alone, Robinson Crusoe like, or to use it for romantic fiction or any other purpose, to the exclusion of all others in the world, you need have no trouble in finding one if you see fit to make a journey to the Indian Ocean. In the waters between Madagascar and India you can find more than 15,000 of them, where there is not a human being and where you can, if you will, be monarch of all you survey. An English traveler has recently been among the small islands that dot the western end of the Indian Ocean to make an inventory of them and reports that he counted 16,360 and found only about 600 of them inhabited. Now, there is a good chance for any one who may want an island. These particular islands are not large, as islands go, but very many of them are sufficient for the purpose of a Robinson Crusoe or any other novel hero, or for even a small colony of shipwrecked mariners or other persons who might be cast on one of them to look for the purpose of making a pretty much out of the busy world!

A SAD HOMECOMING.

Man Finds Four of His Family Burned to Death.

Frankfort, Mich., April 17.—One of the worst calamities in the history of this section occurred at Wallin, a small hamlet in the southeastern part of Benzie county, Tuesday at midnight, resulting in the death of four persons.

The victims—Mrs. Wallace E. King, Verna King, aged 8 years; Vida King, aged 6 years; Anna King, niece of Mrs. King, aged 18 years.

The residents of the place were aroused at 12 o'clock by the cry of fire, and rushing out, found it to be in the general store of Wallace E. King. A bucket brigade was quickly formed, but nothing could be done to check the flames, which had obtained a big start. The family of Mr. King lived over the store. King himself, who is township treasurer, had gone to Frankfort to make a settlement with the county treasurer, and did not arrive home until Wednesday morning.

That Mrs. King sacrificed her own life in an attempt to save the lives of her children, there is no doubt. She was seen to be moving about in the burning structure, as if trying to arouse the sleeping victims. Suddenly the youngest child, Beulah, aged 2 years fell to the ground from an upstairs window, badly burned and seriously injured from the fall. It is thought that the mother threw the child out in the hope of saving its life. While the little sufferer is in a critical condition the physicians have hopes of saving her.

When King reached home and learned the extent of the calamity he was almost beside himself with grief, and insisted on assisting in recovering the charred remains of his loved ones from the smoking embers.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp which was kept burning in the store and was first discovered by the engineer of a northbound Peat Marquette passenger train. The pecuniary loss is $2,000, insurance $1,500.

TWO HAVE DISAPPEARED.

Man and Boy in U. P. Towns Being Searched For.

Iron Mountain, Mich., April 17.—Although the police have been searching for William Geary ever since his mysterious disappearance from the Central hotel on the evening of March 24, not a clue to his whereabouts has been discovered. Geary came from St. Paul. He registered and preceded supper, went out for a short walk, and has never been seen since. He had a large sum of money with him, and foul play is suspected. Geary's baggage, consisting of two large grips, an overcoat and a mechanical engineer's certificate in a frame, is still at the hotel.

Manistique, Mich., April 17.—Charles Hamby, a 12-year-old boy of Gulliver, Doyle township, ran away from home 10 days ago and has not been seen since, although it is known he was in this city on the day of his disappearance. The boy is very small for his age, and his parents are almost crazed with grief.

Missionary Women Meet.

Cadillac, Mich., April 17.—The thirtieth annual meeting of the Women's Presbyterian Home and Foreign Missionary society finished its session Wednesday afternoon. Representatives were present from a dozen cities in northern Michigan. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. E. H. Dunlop, East Jordan, treasurer, Miss W. L. Curtis, Petoskey, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Carroll E. Miller, Cadillac, secretary young people's work, Maud Bishop, Harbor Springs, recording secretary, Mrs. A. Montague, Petoskey, secretary of literature, Mrs. Henry Ballou, Cadillac. The next annual meeting will be at East Jordan next April.

Thief Found His Bank Satchel.

Newberry, Mich., April 17.—Because Robert Cameron of Dollarville, chose to put away his savings in an old satchel rather than deposit them in a bank, he is out $950, with practically no chance of ever getting it back. The other evening his wife left the house for a few minutes, and during her absence the thief, who evidently was familiar with the conditions, went through the satchel. The loss was not discovered until morning, when Mrs. Cameron went for money to make a few purchases.

Probably Won't Be Pardoned.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 17.—Secretary Reardon with F. W. Shumway and C. W. Giddings of the state board of pardons, were here Wednesday to investigate the case of Leslie Moffat, who wants to be released from Marquette state prison. He was committed in 1891 for assault on his 12-year-old stepdaughter. Moffat will probably serve out his sentence, however. The board goes to Marquette today.

Kissing Lost Him His Job.

Flint, Mich., April 17.—John Wright, the aged janitor of the Kearsley school, has lost his position through his frequent indulgence in kissing games with the little girls in attendance at the school. He says the girls played tag with him and the kissing was a forfeit.

A Handicap on Finn Emigrants.

St. Petersburg, April 17.—General Count Bobrikoff, the governor of Finland, proposes issuing an order forbidding the issuance of foreign passports to Finlanders who have not completed their military service. The measure is designed to place a check on emigration.

Pious Pilgrims.

At this time one catches a passing glimpse of the Indians from the mountains or the interior of the republic, who enter the capital but once a year. They come many miles on foot, carrying their children and family belongings on their backs, and after a brief visit to the shrine at Guadalupe fill their bottles at the holy spring, and are off swiftly and silently as they came.—Mexican Herald.

THEY ALL SAY SO.

Not Only in Northville But in Every City and Town in the Union.

If the reader took the time and trouble to ask his fellow residents of Northville the simple question given below, he would obtain but one answer. If he would read the statements now being published in Northville, which refer to this answer, it would surprise him to note that they number so many. And many more could be, and may be, published, but in the meantime ask the first person you meet what cures backache? The answer will be, Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a citizen who endorses our claim.

Mr. Chas. Elliott, drayman, living on Riverstreet says: "I am only too pleased to add my testimony to the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Murdoch Bros. drug store. They have been used in my family with the best results, more especially by my wife, who was annoyed with a dull aching pain in her back. I never hear her complain now. We both endorse Doan's Kidney Pills as the finest remedy on the market. We heartily recommend them to all sufferers from backache or other kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

SHOT HIM ON THE RUN

DESPERADO GAVE BATTLE CREEK POLICE A CHASE.

WANTED FOR BURGLARY IN KALAMAZOO AND LANSING.

PHOTOGRAPH OF ST. CLAIR WOMAN GETS HER IN TROUBLE.

Battle Creek, Mich., April 16.—Chief of Police Farrington, of this city, with a posse, had an exciting running fight with a housebreaker in the woods two miles north of this city Tuesday afternoon. They were in pursuit of Vern Peak, an 18-year-old desperado, who is wanted here and at Lansing and Kalamazoo for burglary.

Peak knew the officers were on his trail and had succeeded in eluding them for several miles. They were too close for him to escape, however, and the two parties came within shooting distance in a small wood.

As soon as the posse came in sight of Peak Deputy Sheriff Elliott began to fire. His first shots went in the air, the intention being to stop the fugitive without harming him. As these shots had no effect, however, the sheriff next directed his aim at the criminal's back and soon brought Peak down a bullet lodging near the spleen and penetrating to a point just under the heart. He fell and was speedily secured, being placed in a wagon and brought to this city. He is now in the Nichols hospital, where the physicians say he has a good chance for recovery.

Peak had sworn that he would not be caught alive, and the officers expected even a livelier time than actually resulted.

Port Huron, Mich., April 16.—Mrs. John P. Whiting of St. Clair is busy trying to explain to her friends how one of her photographs came into the possession of Ed Kelly, the noted Chicago burglar who recently fell into the toils of the police in that city. She insists that she doesn't know Mr. Kelly, never met him, in fact, and that there is no doubt but that the photograph found in Kelly's room and published in a Sunday morning paper is that of Mrs. Whiting.

When the publication in which the photograph appeared reached this city the resemblance between Mr. Kelly's alleged friend and Mrs. Whiting, who is one of the most prominent society women of St. Clair, was immediately noted by her friends. In response to queries, Mrs. Whiting was unable to enlighten any of the anxious ones as to the source of the photograph, although she was compelled to admit that it was hers, having several others printed from the same plate in her possession. She thinks that Kelly probably took the picture from the house of some friend on one of his marauding expeditions.

Kelly is known to have made Samula one of his haunts several years ago, and a Chicago officer is expected here today who will investigate his record in this vicinity.

The picture which was found in Kelly's room was taken in 1900. Mrs. Whiting has been married for five years. The burglar refuses to tell where he got it.

First Crop Bulletin.

Lansing, Mich., April 16.—The first weekly crop bulletin of the season issued by the Michigan weather bureau Tuesday, says that correspondents generally report that wheat and rye have wintered well. Wheat is smaller than usual at this time, but looks healthy, showing no signs of the Hessian fly. All fruit wintered well with the exception of some peaches in the extreme southwestern counties. Buds are advancing slowly, and look promising. Spring work has been entered upon in all sections, plowing for oats, peas, and barley being general. Considerable plowing for corn is in progress in the southern counties. Oat seeding has begun in nearly all counties, and some barley and peas are being sown. A warm rain is needed to start meadows and pastures, and improve wheat and rye.

Rev. J. R. Andrews of Lansing, who is accused of blackmail, is seriously ill, being threatened with brain fever. Flint is about to bring suit for $1,000 against the Detroit, Lake Orion & Flint electric railway, due for paving between the railway tracks.

The Arbuckle-Ryan Co. of Toledo has secured the contract to construct an electric railroad from Flint to Grand Rapids, Mich. The distance is 48 miles.

Albert Cook, the imbecile who tried to wreck a train at Niles, has escaped from the St. Joseph jail. Officers are vigorously searching for him, fearing he will commit some other depredation.

The state game wardens have seized and confiscated a quantity of undersized whitefish at Bay City, which were shipped from Ann Arbor to parties in New York city. They will get after the shippers.

SHOT IN A SALOON ROW.

Detroit Man Is Dead—Saloonkeeper Now Under Arrest.

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—Without having regained consciousness, John Kolanski, Jr., of 347 Lovett street, died shortly before 10 o'clock Monday morning at Harper hospital. He never recovered from the stupor of an operation. Kolanski was shot by Martin Nowakowski, who runs a saloon at 76 Herbert street, during a row in the saloon Sunday evening. Nowakowski was immediately arrested. He stated that Kolanski came into the saloon about 6 o'clock with some friends and began to shake dice. After one or two lucky throws he demanded that Nowakowski "set up" the drinks. Nowakowski refused, whereupon he claims Kolanski took a heavy beer glass from the bar and threatened to fling it at the saloonkeeper if the drinks were not forthcoming. Nowakowski began backing toward the bedroom in the rear, Kolanski still brandishing the glass. Nowakowski says that finally, after warning, he pulled a 38-caliber revolver and fired at the intruder's feet. The bullet, however, pierced the abdomen, taking a slanting course to the right and lodging in the back, making a surely fatal wound.

If the stories of the witnesses agree with that of the saloonkeeper there is considerable doubt whether any prosecution will follow further than the police court examination, which will be held today.

CONSUMPTION CLAIMED MANY.

Monthly Death Report of the Department of State.

Lansing, Mich., April 15.—There were 2,959 deaths reported to the department of state for the month of March, corresponding to a death rate of 14.1 per 1,000 population, a slight increase over the rate for February, which was 14.0 per 1,000 population.

There were 495 deaths of infants under 1 year of age, 205 deaths of children aged 1 to 4 years, inclusive, and 912 deaths of elderly persons aged 65 years and over.

Important causes of deaths were as follows: Pulmonary tuberculosis, 200; other forms of tuberculosis, 21; typhoid fever, 41; diphtheria and croup, 33; scarlet fever, 37; measles, 24; whooping cough, 23; pneumonia, 388; influenza, 70; cancer, 119; accidents and violence, 147. There were also 3 deaths from smallpox, 1 in Escanaba city, 1 in Clio village, Genesee county, and 1 in Chesterfield township, Macomb county; 1 death from chickenpox in Houghton county and 2 deaths from mumps.

The most marked features of the month were the increased numbers of deaths from pulmonary tuberculosis and the common diseases of children, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough.

Robbed Him of $40.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 15.—Samuel Stewart of Kalamazoo reported to Sheriff Collins that he was robbed of $40 during Sunday night. Horace Condon and Jesse Spooner have been arrested, charged with the job. Stewart claims he accompanied Condon and Spooner in a buggy, believing he was being driven to Benton Harbor. When near Napier's bridge, four miles south of this city, Stewart claims he was relieved of his cash and thrown from the buggy, in which his companions escaped.

Teacher Jumped His Job.

Benton Harbor, Mich., April 15.—Because he could not control a number of unruly boys in his charge, Gaylord Marsh tendered his resignation as principal of the high school last Friday, but the school board thought it a bluff and paid no attention. Marsh immediately left town for parts unknown and school opened Monday morning without a teacher.

Farmers Indignant at Hinds.

Owosso, Mich., April 15.—Farmers of this county are aroused at State Live Stock Commissioner Hinds for his alleged failure to look after them. Cattle have been dying for weeks of a mysterious disease, which is fatal in 48 hours, and which usually attacks the finest cows in the herds. Deputies have come here from Lansing, but have done nothing to check the epidemic.

Died from Asphyxiation.

Detroit, Mich., April 15.—The body of T. W. Finlay was found in his room at 92 Columbia street east Monday noon. A roomful of gas and a worn-out gas fixture told the story of accidental asphyxiation. Finlay was a traveling agent for his brother, John Finlay, a wine dealer at Pelee Island, Ont. Ross Dyer, the landlord, discovered the body. Coroner Forth decided that no inquest was necessary.

Miller Won't Play the Organ.

Jackson, Mich., April 15.—The story that Miller will become prison organist, officials say, is pure buncombe. The prison employs an organist and will continue to do so. Were Miller put in charge of the organ they claim trouble would follow through curiosity of people who would crowd to the services. Miller will be treated just as any other prisoner. He is the murderer of Carrie Jennett of Detroit.

U. of M. Team Defeated.

Chicago, April 15.—The college baseball season opened here Monday with a game between the University of Chicago and the University of Michigan. Chicago won by a score of 7 to 1.

FALL BROKE HIS NECK

TRAVELING MAN MET PECULIAR DEATH IN GRAND RAPIDS.

PRINCIPALS IN BAY CITY MANSLAUGHTER CASE ARRAIGNED.

WM. M. JONES OF DETROIT MUST FACE CHARGE OF MURDER.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 17.—W. A. Purdy, representing J. E. Purdy & Co., a jewelry supply firm of Chicago, was instantly killed in the Morton house elevator last evening.

He was going to his room on the fourth floor and was seated in the elevator with two other passengers. Between the second and third floors he fell forward from the seat, his head struck the steel lattice work, and he was dead when the doctor arrived from a broken neck.

Bay City, Mich., April 17.—Dr. R. W. Griswold and E. T. Bennett, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Agnes Ebersteln, were arraigned in police court Wednesday and held for trial in the circuit court. Bail was fixed at $5,000 each, with two sureties.

Griswold promptly secured bondsmen, but Bennett was unable to do so. Last night he was turned over to the sheriff by the police, and was locked up in the county jail. He appeared greatly affected when told he must go in with the other prisoners, but the sheriff could not give him better quarters.

Detroit, Mich., April 17.—Wm. M. Jones will be arraigned in police court today, charged with the murder of George H. Heywood.

The police admitted yesterday that they had failed to secure a witness who saw Jones the morning of the murder. This means that the case against him rests entirely on motive, threats and circumstantial evidence.

The warrant was issued yesterday by Justice Sellers on the information which has already been made public. The developments in the case which have thus far come to light do not constitute a strong case against Jones, but the police assert they have valuable evidence which has not been given out and express the greatest confidence that Jones will be convicted.

Mrs. Heywood was put through a searching examination yesterday and questioned in regard to the murder from every possible point of view. She succeeded in convincing the officers that she was not an accomplice in the crime and had no knowledge it was to be committed. She gave for the first time a complete and connected story of her relations with Jones and what transpired so far as she knows, on the night of the murder.

The testimony of Katie, Mrs. Heywood's daughter, is also important. She claims to have heard the shot, later a step on the stairs and finally Jones moving about in the bathroom. Charles Rymer, the young fellow from Nebraska, who was once Jones's partner, will testify, it is expected, to having heard the latter make statements which practically amounted to threats against Heywood's life.

Lived 112 Years.

Coldwater, Mich., April 17.—Mrs. Kate Zielinski, undoubtedly the oldest person in Michigan, died Wednesday morning at the great age of 112 years. Mrs. Zielinski, or Green, as she has been called for years, was born in Poland March 22, 1799, came to Michigan in 1858, settling in Bronson. She was the mother of 12 children. She will be buried at Bronson. She was active up to three years ago and, notwithstanding her great age, could read ordinary print without glasses.

Drowned in the Creek.

Niles, Mich., April 17.—Lillian Stimley, a 14-year-old girl, fell into Dowdian creek, a mile north of Niles, Wednesday afternoon and was drowned. The body was recovered.

The trial at Fort Wayne of Capt. Charles Witherell, retired, charged with duplicating his pay accounts, concluded Wednesday afternoon. "Coughed All Night"

We hear that complaint frequently now. It is one easy to believe as a rule, for the speaker generally shows that his rest has been badly broken. Of course, it is always natural for us to tell of the value of White Pine, and we can recommend this preparation with confidence. We have made and sold it for five years, and have scores of people in the neighborhood who are willing to say a good word for it as the opportunity arises. White Pine soothes the inflamed bronchial passages and quickly quiets the annoying hack. It's good for a fresh cold or a chronic one, good for the little fellow who coughs and chokes and gasps, good for his father if he has a cough. Two sizes, 25c and 50c.

The U. S. salaries of the Northville piscatorial station amounts to $5,580. That's no more than Supt. Clark earns. It's worth that much to keep the suckers and bull heads of Northville from nesting in the plant, and to prevent a cross between gold fish and snapping turtles to breed young republicans. Clark does that.—Adrian Press.

At the county teachers examination held in Detroit last week, Will Slesator, Edith Scott and Grace Sloan were granted third grade certificates. Sadie Hughes wrote for a standing and passed the examination in a very creditable manner. She is less than the minimum age of 18 years however and could not be granted a certificate. The board of examiners pay her a very high compliment.

"Are You a Buffalo?" an entirely new play to the theatre going people of Detroit will be presented at the Whitney Opera House for one week beginning with a matinee April 20 afternoon.

Sardon's greatest play, "Fedora" has been selected for production and is already in rehearsal. "Fedora" is said to be one of the plays in which the Pike company is seen at its best. It is without doubt the strongest comedy drama of recent times, and its interesting and well wrought plot makes it notable even above the great French author's other strong plays. "Fedora" was given its popularity by Fanny Davenport and Mme. Bernhardt, the latter still retaining it in her repertoire. The Pike Company will produce "Fedora" for the first time at popular prices. The stage settings and effects will be elaborate and the ladies of the company will appear in handsome and costly gowns.

Suburban News.

The pro-court horse people of Pontiac and incidentally the rest of Oakland county are "conquered but not subdued" and are already banking on the voters' knowing better next time.

An Ann Arbor man detected escaping gas by his olfactory sense and lighted a match to locate the leak. He immediately discovered where it was by the evidence of all the rest of the senses—except common sense. Obviously, they don't know everything, even at Ann Arbor.

Evidently, that Oakland County court house isn't so awfully disreputable after all in the estimation of some of the people. It would be interesting to know, however, whether the adverse majority was owing to the taxpayers or their fellow voters who wouldn't have had to help foot the bill any way.

Among its "Personal and Social" items last week the Adrian Press mentioned the fact that "Leland Bean is ill with scarlet fever, but probably that gentleman is too sick to be called a scarlet runner so we shall not mention it. The Press man is warned not to remark that we don't know beans."

We put in a disclaimer to the charge that our office cat wrote the "Feline" story in our last issue. Guess again—Trenton Times.

Somebody must muse yet longer on who snatched on the tale in question. Was there any particular clause that aroused suspicion against the innocent enemy of literary rodents?

The Brighton correspondent of the Oakland Excelsior advertises a "lind" of a set of teeth that "look a little like the worst for wear—lost about a year ago." Can't be that the length of time the grinders had been inactive was determined by ear marks. Must have told by the "look" of the eye teeth. Meanwhile the fate of the remainder of the person continues shrouded in mystery.

A Menominee man is said to have eloped with a girl weighing 295 pounds. He probably had a derrick in readiness at the window.—St. Johns News.

The lady had a great deal of attraction (of gravitation) and when he serenaded her he undoubtedly sang, "Weight for me darling all my own."

Birmingham is rushing recklessly into the vortex of spring improvement schemes. Electric lighting, street sprinkling free mail delivery no exception on the walks, a village flower, general cleaning up of the streets and yards, a stack of bills on anything sentimental and an anti-spring church movement are among the desired and desirable reforms mentioned and mentionable.

The weather this week puts one in mind of the adage about "winter lingering in the lap of spring."—Last Week's Carleton Times.

Yes, several and sundry other papers have mentioned that same thing but seems still the "lapses" of spring would have been more adequate to the situation several times of late with all due apology to the original commentator on such unseasonable antics on the part of the seasons.

Snake stories seem surprisingly scarce so far this spring, but a fowl yarn comes from the town of searperpent fame which supplies all present deficiencies. Three Orion hens and a rooster were imprisoned in a disused well hole for two months and came out alive and lively, albeit lean and with excellent appetites. And the hens had laid an egg apiece which they had been too well bred to devour. Should hen hibernation become a fad it might seriously affect the chicken feed trade.

George Wilcox of Farmington, while on his wedding trip recently, lost his pocketbook containing all his then available cash assets to the amount of $37. As he never expected to see the property again, he was naturally somewhat surprised to receive a letter from a Detroit lady saying that she had found it. If he had been one of the folks whose financial status admits possibilities of losing a few thousand occasionally, he might, like some recent examples of the ilk, have almost forgotten even to thank the honest finder, but as he wasn't of the class mentioned he offered her a "V," which she refused to take, and only by much persuasion was induced to accept $2. Such is life.

I live and let my brethren live. With all that's good with me. Unto the poor, some cash I give. The balance I give Rocky Mountain Tea. Murdock Bros.

Long and Honorable Career

John Cannon of Williamsport, Pa. is about to be placed on the pension list by the Reading railroad, after continuous service of fifty years, during which time he has been off duty but twelve days. Even that was through illness, from which he suffered last year.

A Fatal Runaway.

Started a terrible ulcer on the leg of J. B. Omer, Franklin Grove, Ill., which defied doctors and all remedies for four years. Then Buckler's Arnica Salve cured him. Just as good for Boils, Burns, Bruises, Cuts, Corns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles. 25c at Geo. C. Hueston's drug store.

Saved Many a Time.

Don't neglect coughs and colds even if it is spring. Such cases often result seriously at this season just because people are careless. A dose of One Minute Cough Cure will remove all danger. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, and other throat and lung troubles. "I have used One Minute Cough Cure several years," says Postmaster C. O. Dawson, Barn Hill, "it is the very best cough medicine on the market. It has saved me many a severe spell of sickness and I warmly recommend it." The child is a favorite. Murdock Bros.

Followers of a Prophet.

At the present day there are 250,000,000 Mussulmans in the world. The Christian population is put at 447,000,000, but the increase of Islam is more rapid than that of its sister religion. Never before has there been such devotion to Mohammedanism as in India at this time under British rule.

Dreadful Attack of Whooping Cough.

Mr. Ellen Harrison, of 900 Park Ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes as follows: "Our two children had a severe attack of whooping cough one of them in the paroxysm of coughing would often faint and bleed at the nose. We tried everything we heard of without getting relief. We then called in our family doctor who prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar. With the very first dose they began to improve and we feel that it has saved their lives. Refuse substitutes." Murdock Bros.

Cecil Rhodes Buys an Estate.

Mr. Cecil Rhodes has bought a home for himself in England, Dalham Hall, near Newmarket, for more than half a million dollars. The estate contains 3,475 acres, 300 acres of fine timber, and had been in the possession of the Affleck family for over two hundred years.

The Great Dismal Swamp

Of Virginia is a breeding ground of malaria germs, so is low, wet or marshy ground everywhere. These germs cause weakness, chills and fever, aches in the bones and muscles, and may induce dangerous maladies. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria trouble. They will surely prevent typhoid. "We tried many remedies for Malaria and Stomach and Liver trouble," writes John Charleston, of Brysville, O., "but never found anything as good as Electric Bitters." Try them. Only 50c. Geo. C. Hueston guarantees satisfaction.

Falling off of German Recruits.

The military authorities in Germany are, according to the Berliner Tageblatt, becoming seriously alarmed by the ever-increasing difficulty of keeping the establishment of the noncommissioned officers of the army up to its required numerical strength.

Chronic Bronchitis Cured.

"For ten years I had chronic bronchitis so bad that at times I could not speak above a whisper," writes Mr. Joseph Coffman, of Montmorency, Ind. "I tried all remedies available, but with no success. Fortunately my employer suggested that I try Foley's Honey and Tar. Its effect was almost miraculous, and I am now cured of the disease. On my recommendation many people have used Foley's Honey and Tar, and always with satisfaction." Murdock Bros.

Garlic in Olive Oil.

By putting a clove of garlic in the bottle of olive oil when it comes from the grocer, a palatable flavor is imparted. It should only remain about twenty-four hours, which will be sufficient time to do its work.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates, and will not constipate like nearly all other cough medicines. Refuse substitutes. Murdock Bros.

Trade with Brazil.

During last year Brazil sold Germany $26,022,354 and bought from her $5,299,122. In the same time the United States bought from Brazil $58,073,437 and sold her $11,575,119.

The Lost Continent.

to them now, and the great crowd of them were mad with terror.

I would have given much to have known how Phorence fared in that final tumult, and how she faced it. I could see her, with her lovely face and her wondrous eyes, and set it back again curling about her neck, and by all the gods! I thought more of her at that last moment than of the poor land she had conquered and misgoverned and brought to this horrid destruction. There is no denying the fascination which Phorence carried with her.

But the end did not dally long with its coming. There was a little surge that lifted the ark a hand's breadth or so in its cradle, and set it back again with a jar and a quiver. The blows from axes and weapons ceased on its lower part, but redoubled into frenzied battering on its rounded roof. There were some screams and cries also which came to us but fully through the thickness of its ponderous sheathing, though likely enough they were sent forth at the full pitch of human lungs outside. And then another surge came, roaring and thundering, which picked up the great vessel as though it had been a feather, and spun it giddily; and after that we touched earth or rock no more.

We tossed about on the crest and troughs of delicious seas, a sport for the greedy gods of the ocean. The lamp had fallen, and we crouched there in darkness, fully weighed with the burden of knowledge that we alone were saved out of what was yesterday a mighty nation.

CHAPTER XVIII.

ON THE BOSOM OF THE DEEP.

The ark was rudderless, oarless and machineless, and could travel only where the high gods chose. The inside was dark, and full of an ancient smell, and crowded with groanings and wails. I could not find the fire-box to relight the fallen lamp, and so we had to endure blindly what was dealt out to us. The waves tossed us in merciless sport, and I clung on by the side of Nais, holding her to the bed. We did not speak much but there was full companionship in our bereavement and our silence.

When Atlantis sank to form new ocean-beds, she left great whirlpools and spouting from her drowned fires as a feeble legacy to the gods of the sea. And then, I think (though I could not see these things), a vast hurricane of wind must have come on next so as to leave no piece of the desolation incomplete. For seven nights and seven days did this dreadful turmoil continue, as counted for us afterwards by the reckoner of hours which hung within the ark, and then the howling of the wind departed, and only the roll of a long still swell remained. It was regular and it was oily, and I could tell by the difference of the motion, and then for the first time I dared to go up the stair and open and found the gate they bit against was deserted.

The sweet salt air came rushing down to freshen the foulness within, and as the ark rode dryly over the seas, I went below and brought up Nais to gain refreshment from the caring rays of our Lord the Sun. Only the pair of us adorned him, and gave thanks for his great mercy in coming to light another day, and when we laid ourselves down where we were to doze, and take that easy rest which we so urgently needed.

Yet, though I was tired beyond words, for long enough sleep would not visit me. Wearily I started over the only sunlit waters. No bit of land met the eye. The ring of ocean was unbroken on every side, and overhead the vault of heaven remained unchanged. The bosom of the deep was littered with the poor wreckage of Atlantis, to remind one, if there had been a need, that what had come about was fact, and not some horrid dream. Trees, squared timber a smashed and upturned boat of hides, and here and there the rounded corpse of a man or beast shouldered over the swells, and kept company with our ark as she drifted on in charge of the gods and the current.

But sleep came to me at last, and I dropped off into unconsciousness, holding the hand of Nais in mine, and when next I woke I found her opened eyes also and watching me tenderly. We were finely rested, both of us, and rest and strength bring one complacency. We were more ready now to accept the station which the high gods had made for us without repining, and so we went below again into the belly of the ark to eat and drink and maintain strength for the new life which lay before us.

A wonderful vessel was this ark, now we were able to see it at leisure and intimately. Although for the first time now in all its centuries of life it swam upon the waters, it showed no leak or sun-crack. Inside, even its floor was bone-dry. That it was built from some wood, one could see by the grainings, but nowhere could one find suture or joint. The living timbers had been put in place and then grown together by an art which we have lost to-day, but which the ancients knew with much perfection; and afterwards some treatment, which is also a secret of those forgotten builders, had made the wood as hard as metal and impervious to all attacks of the weather.

In the gloomy cave of its belly were stored many matters. At one end, in great tanks on either side of a central alley, was a prodigious store of grain. Sweet water was in other tanks at the other end. In another place were drugs, and simples, and essences of the life of beasts; all these things being for use while the ark roamed under the guidance of the gods on the bosom of the deep. On all the walls of the ark, and on all the partitions of the tanks and the other wood-work, there were carved in the rude art of bygone times representations of all the beasts which lived in Atlantis; and on these I looked with a hunter's interest, as some of them were strange to me, and had died out with the men who had perpetuated them in these sculptures. There was a good store of weapons, and the tools for handicrafts.

Now for many weeks our life endured in this ark as the gods drove it about here and there across the face of the waters. We had no government over direction; we could not by so much as a hair's-breadth a day increase her speed. The high gods that had chosen the two of us to be the only ones saved out of all Atlantis, had sole control of our fate, and into their hands we cheerfully resigned our future direction.

Of that land which we reached in due time, and where we made our abiding place, and where our children were born, I shall tell of in its place; but since this chronicle has proceeded so far in an exact order of the events as they came to pass, it is necessary first to narrate how we came by the sheets on which it is written.

In a great coffer, in the center of the ark's floor, the whole of the mysteries learned during the study of ages were set down in accurate writing. I read through some of them during the days which passed, and the awfulness of the powers over which they gave control appalled me. I had seen some of these powers let loose in Atlantis, and was a witness of her destruction. But here were powers far higher than those, here was the great secret of life and death which Phorence also had found, and for which she had been destroyed; and there were other things also of which I cannot even bring my style to scribe.

The thought of being custodian of these writings was more than I could endure, and the more the matter rested in my mind, the more intolerable became the burden. And at last I took hot irons and with them seared the wax on the sheets till every letter of the old writings was obliterated. If I did wrong, the high gods in their infinite justice will give me punishment; if it is well that these great secrets should endure on earth, they in their infinite power will dictate them afresh to some fitting scribe; but I destroyed them there as the ark swayed with us over the waves; and later, when we came to land, I rewrote upon the sheets the matters which led to great Atlantis being dragged to her death-throes.

Nais, that I love so tenderly—
(Translator's Note.—The remaining sheets are too broken to be legible.)

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

A Specimen of Word Manipulation That Is Hard to Get Ahead Of.

The intelligence displayed by some desk sergeants frequently excites the awe and wonder of the operators at police headquarters in Brooklyn, whose duty it is to receive reports of police happenings over the telephone from the various station houses, says the New York Times.

The other night a sergeant in one of the South Brooklyn precincts was sending in a report about a slight accident in which a man was injured. The ambulance surgeon who attended the man had described the nature of his injury to the intelligent patrolman on the post, and the latter jotted it down in his book while returning to the station house. The intelligent sergeant, reporting to headquarters, described the man's injuries as follows:

"He received a precise wound of the alteration."

"A what?" asked the astonished operator.

The sergeant repeated the description of the wound.

"Say," said the operator "you don't expect me to enter any such fool report as that, do you? You'd better study the thing over."

The sergeant consulted with the patrolman and then returned to the telephone.

"I made a mistake about that, old man," he admitted to the operator. "The officer says it's a spliced wound of the abandonment. It's dead easy to get mixed on them medical terms, you know."

To the operator the thing was now shrouded in impenetrable darkness. Despairing of obtaining any light from the sergeant or patrolman, he called up the ambulance surgeon at the hospital.

"Say, doc," he asked, "what kind of an injury has that man got whom you just brought in?"

"An incised wound of the abdomen," explained the surgeon.

Pawing the air wildly and pirouetting like a whirling dervish, the operator made for the electric fan, turned it on and flung himself, limp and perspiring, back into his chair.

Advice About Writing Stories.

In a letter about story-writing, sent by Louisa M. Alcott to a young author in 1874, and now first published in the Ladies' Home Journal, she advises him to introduce his characters at once, as that instantly interests readers, and says of her own early work: "Instead of describing places or people I plunged into the heart of my story and opened it with a conversation, letting the actors unfold the plot and themselves dramatically. From that time my goods sold well, and this was the secret in a great measure. Learning to write short is another good thing; and the art of taking a very simple event or character and making it true to life with the mixture of the comic and pathetic that exists in what we call human nature. Put your own experience into your tales and they can't fail to be good."
