DEATH RESULTED FROM HICCUGHS

NOVI FARMER'S SUDDEN DEATH
ON FRIDAY.

Farmer David Bernhardt's Singular
and Sudden End.

David Bernhardt, a German farmer 63 years of age, who lived on George Rattenbury's farm, died Friday under peculiar circumstances. He was in his usual health and came here to the factory in the morning with the milk from the farm. During the trip he was taken with hiccoughs. Dr. Burgess was summoned and every possible means used to relieve the afflicted man, but all efforts proved unavailing and hemorrhage of the stomach ensued, causing death in a few hours from the time of the attack. The funeral was held at the home Sunday. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Phillips of the German Lutheran church here and the burial took place at Novi.

NORTHVILLE LADY AT FLINT

Mrs. Jerome Plays in "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Last night at the Presbyterian church, a unique entertainment was given in the reading of excerpts from Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream," by Mrs. Edwin Armstrong, illustrated by Mendelsson's musical setting of the play, which was performed by Mrs. Jerome and Mrs. Bonbright, pianists, Mr. Herbert Milliken, violinist, Misses Gillies, Fenton, Jackson, Taylor, LaTourette and Andrews, vocalists.

The idea of combining the reading with the music is a charming one, the music especially being enjoyed by the audience. The overture Scherzo, Nocturne, Wedding and Funeral Marches, were played as a piano duet taken from the orchestral score, and in some of the numbers were reinforced by the violin. The piano work was beautifully done, Mrs. Bonbright's work being well known here and Mrs. Jerome from Northville, being also an accomplished pianist. The church was well filled—Flint Globe.

Third Representative Convention.

The Third district representative convention has been called to meet in the Northville Opera House next Monday afternoon, June 16th. The candidates so far mentioned are F. S. Neal, the present incumbent of the office, and P. B. Whitbeck of Plymouth. A number of delegates and visitors from the different parts of the district will be in attendance besides the large number of Northville people who will probably be present.

IS FULL TO OVERFLOWING

MARQUETTE UNABLE TO HANDLE
MACCABEE DELEGATES.

FACTIONS PREPARING FOR WAR
ON EXPANSION QUESTION.

MEMBERSHIP INCREASED OVER
16,000 THE PAST YEAR.

Marquette, Mich., June 11.—Excursion trains and steamers from all parts of the state are hourly dropping their loads of visitors into Marquette, and the city is already filled to overflowing with the hosts of the Knights of the Maccabees. The accommodations offered are entirely inadequate.

All the politicians of the order are now on the ground. In the expansion headquarters, where Great Commander Boynton is rallying his hosts, the scene resembles the lobby of a state gubernatorial convention.

In the anti-expansion headquarters, where Great Recorder Watson holds sway, matters are full as lively. Both the leaders are already producing their arguments, which will be made later on the floor of the convention.

Major Boynton's report will deplore the fact that, inside the councils of the order are found men who, on the grounds of personal prejudice and personal dislike, are fighting against the best interests of the organization in its efforts to expand its territory. He terms the anti-expansion policy illegal and absurd.

Mr. Watson will produce the figures for the year, which he regards as the best argument for the perpetuation of the present style of government. His report gives the number of death claims paid at 1,163, and the amount $1,554,231.72. The amount of policies carried at the end of the year he places at $125,260,658, an increase of $18,459,558 over last year.

New Membership Record.
The increase in membership during the last year was 16,381, a greater stride than the phenomenal one of last year, and the greatest in the history of the order.

Watson and his step-rate plan of graded assessments will make a strong fight before the convention of the great tent today, but the "anti" practically concede defeat and are now steering to save their official heads.

There is a great scramble for office impending, the loyal Boyntonites being after the anti's heads, in the interests of harmony. Present Lieutenant Commander Cutler has strenuous opposition from Auditor-General Powers, Judge Kendrick of Saginaw and Prosecuting Attorney Thomas of Hastings. Recorder Watson has strong opposition from City Treasurer Slay of Battle Creek. Medical Examiner Fraser is being opposed by Dr. Slonou of Jackson and Mr. Kirkland of Lakeview, and it looks like a Slonou land slide.

The executive committee is expected to receive a thorough overhauling. Boynton expects to get a board that will work with him.

The anti-expansionists are active among the L. O. T. M. the ladies' branch of the order, but their opponents claim to have them safe. A parade of several thousand Maccabees was held yesterday. All prizes went to upper peninsula tents.

Will Visit Grand Rapids.

Washington, June 11.—Representative William Alden Smith of Michigan has secured from the president a definite promise to visit Grand Rapids, Mr. Smith's home town, in September next after the meeting of the Spanish war veterans in Detroit. The president promised Representative Littlefield of Maine that he would visit Rockland, Me., Mr. Littlefield's home, some time in August.

Strange Disease Killing Fish.

Greenville, Mich., June 11.—Baldwin lake, near Greenville, is losing its fish. About one week ago dead fish were found around the shores of the lake. Every day since the number has increased, and on Saturday 1,200 fish were scattered along the shores, mostly perch and bass. It is believed some disease is killing them.

Adrian Railway Man Killed.

Adrian, Mich., June 11.—W. B. Rogers of this city while working with the Lake Shore railway bridge gang at Monroeville, O., was instantly killed Tuesday morning.

MICHIGAN BRIEFS.

To Have Military Company.—A military company is being organized at Cadillac among the local veterans of the Spanish war. The company will endeavor to become members of the Michigan national guard.

Battle Creek's Big Boost.—The Battle Creek city board of assessors has closed its labors, after one of the most trying ordeals that the local assessors ever passed through. The valuation of the city has been raised over $1,000,000.

Shot Proved Fatal.—James Smith of Burlington died Monday night from the effects of the shot fired by his wife Sunday night. Possibly no arrest will be made, as Smith said before he died that she was not to blame, as he effected forcible entrance to her house and she might have taken him for a burglar.

Another Lost Boy.—Philip Randolph, aged fourteen, has mysteriously disappeared from his home at 30 Beacon street, Detroit, having been away for a week. He came to Detroit a month ago with his parents from Cleveland, and it was thought he might have returned there. A trip to Cleveland failed to find him, however. His mother is almost frantic over his absence.

VETERANS AT PONTIAC.

Met Camp Fire Wednesday Night—
3,000 Persons Attended.

Pontiac, Mich., June 12.—Over 3,000 people were crowded into the opera house here last night for the state camp fire, which closed the first day's session of the twenty-fourth annual encampment of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. Colonel S. S. Matthews of this city of ficiated as chairman.

The first session of the G. A. R. began in the morning at 10 o'clock in the opera house. Mayor Guillot of this city made the address of welcome, which was responded to by Department Commander Van Kleeck. The morning was then spent in listening to the reports from the various state officers. The routine business was again taken up at the afternoon session, after which the G. A. R. in company with the W. R. C., went to Orchard Lake, where they were entertained at the Michigan Military academy by Mrs. Colonel Rogers.

The W. R. C. assembled Wednesday morning at the M. E. church for their first session. Mrs. D. S. Howard delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by Department President Jennie L. Pond. The different state officers were introduced to the convention and their reports given. There are now 241 corps in the state, with a total membership in good standing of 8,432. The banner corps of the state was pronounced to be Charles T. Foster corps at Lansing.

The treasurer reported a disbursement of $20,200 during the past year, with an amount on hand of $1,165.44. The "Jain's" report stated that 21,853 men in the state took part in the recent Memorial day exercises, for which $617.35 was expended.

The election of all the officers of G. A. R. and W. R. C. will take place today, and there is great strife for all the offices.

SUTTON STILL MISSING.

State Board of Auditors May Offer a Reward.

Lansing, Mich., June 12.—The board of state auditors is not in session, so it is impossible to ascertain what action it may take about offering a reward for Sutton's capture.

The matter of offering a reward for the capture of Sutton cannot be determined until the return of Governor Bliss from Washington today or tomorrow. The governor alone can offer a reward in behalf of the state.

Detroit, Mich., June 12.—Ell R. Sutton is still unlocated. Whether he has started for South Africa or New York or is still hiding in Detroit, is a mystery. Sutton's office in the Majestic building is closed.

"We shall arrest Sutton whenever we find him," declared Superintendent of Police Downey. "The Lansing authorities have asked our assistance and we shall give it, if we can locate him."

Knight Templar Officers.

Detroit, Mich., June 12.—The following officers were elected yesterday at the forty seventh annual convocation of the grand commandery Knights Templars of Michigan. Grand commander James Findlater, Detroit, deputy grand commander, Thomas E. Borden, Saginaw, grand generalissimo, Richard D. Swartout, Grand Rapids; grand captain general, Frank C. Holmes, Alameda; grand senior warden, Joseph H. Crawford, Flint, grand junior warden Charles A. Warren, Detroit, grand prelate, Rev. F. A. Blades, Detroit, grand treasurer, Charles H. Pomeroy, Saginaw; grand recorder, Henry L. Anthony, Sturgis; grand standard bearer, Fred N. Bonine, Niles, grand swordbearer, Hutson B. Coleman, Kalamazoo; grand warden, Howard T. Taylor, Adrian; grand captain of the guard, Andrew J. Brown, Detroit.

Norcross, Big Rapids; vice-president, Iva Bliss, Grand Ledge; corresponding secretary, Floyd Star Marshall; recording secretary, Jenny Barton, Big Prairie; treasurer, Harold Blair, Big Rapids; chairman, Christian Citizens' committee, Clifford Rowley Wyandotte; flower mission, Miss Eiseeman, Grand Ledge, press department, Roy Taylor, South Haven; state reporter, Roy Kent, Cho.

Honey of Kalamazoo, first vice-president, Charles C. Noble of Grand Rapids, secretary, F. H. Esig of Dowagiac, treasurer, J. Ward House of Grand Rapids. Papers were read by Dean Taft of the University of Michigan dental department on "The cause of hard and soft teeth," and by Dr. Preston W. Hickey of Detroit, "The use of the X-ray in dentistry."

Com. Osborn's Child Burned.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 12.—The two-year-old daughter of State Railroad Commissioner Osborn ignited a match and her clothing and was so terribly burned that she will likely die. The child had been left but a few minutes alone and was wrapped in flames when found.

Fell Into Boiling Water.

Camden, Mich., June 12.—The one-year-old son of Alfred Niswender fell into a tub of boiling water and death occurred fifteen hours after the accident.

Convicts Are Cornered.

Salem, Ore., June 12.—At 7 o'clock last evening Tracy and Merrill, the convicts who escaped from the Oregon penitentiary Monday after killing three guards, are surrounded in a tract of timber, probably 200 acres in extent, one mile east of Gervais, Marion county. Two companies of national guards and about 200 citizens, all heavily armed, surround the timber, and escape of the convicts now seems impossible.

THE L. O. T. M. ALSO DECIDE FOR EXPANSION.

Marquette, Mich., June 12.—The great camp of Knights of the Maccabees, with all but nineteen of its 944 tents represented, last night voted to extend its jurisdiction to other states. Mr. McWain carried out the Boynton program by advocating his resolutions with a strong address, and Great Recorder Watson received an ovation when he rose to reply. Mr. Watson in his address reiterated the anti-expansion statements in his annual report and gave a complete outline of his step-rate plan of assessment. That had a large number of supporters on the floor of the convention.

The vote was 1,494 yeas to 867 nays. The announcement resulted in great enthusiasm and cheering for Boynton, and for a time pandemonium reigned. By the balloting, Boynton has won out on two important points, for expansion and against any change in the present plan of rates. He has as well demonstrated that he is master of the situation, and with his machine will sweep all before him in today's election.

Boynton will undoubtedly be given the next biennial convention, and Saginaw boomers are confident of taking the great camp headquarters from Port Huron. This, however, is very problematical. The convention at 10 last night, following the vote on expansion, adjourned until 9 today.

Ladies Followed Suit.

Shortly after 10 last night the great L. O. T. M., voted in favor of expansion by a little more than a two-thirds vote. This is a victory for Lady Commander Burns and makes it certain that her faction will dominate the policy and official state of the order.

It was a day of oratory Boynton, Watson, Perry Powers, August Jeffries, Judge Kendrick, Fred Cutler, and numerous others being heard on both sides of the issue.

During the day but one decisive action was taken. This was on a resolution from the committee on laws, recommending that the proposed step-rate plan of graded assessments be laid on the table and that the order continue the present system of levying assessments only when the payment of death claims requires it. The report of the committee was adopted almost unanimously.

At the convention of the great L. O. T. M. the time was taken up with the reading of reports and addresses, the real work of the review being taken up today. Among other matters, an effort is to be made to shut out the supreme hite representatives who, owing to past connection with the great hite, have been allowed the privileges of the floor.

It is the supreme hite officials who have been lobbying against the expansion issue in the great hite.

Michigan Pensioners.

Washington, June 12.—Michigan pensioners were granted Wednesday as follows: Napoleon D. Burgoine, Alameda, $6 increase, restoration, reissue, etc.—David Root, Mason, $12; Henry L. Sutherland, Otsego, $30; Henry Miller, Kent City, $12; Edmund Ely, Darisburg, $10; Jasper N. Clark, Pontiac, $12; Charles B. Lovrien, Ionia, $6 Special, May 28—Jacob H. #### State Firemen at Holland.

Holland, Mich. June 12.—The State Firemen's association is in session here and nearly a hundred delegates are in attendance. During the afternoon yesterday the steamer Post Boy took the party into the lake and last night a banquet was tendered the visitors at the opera house G. J. Dickema officiated as toastmaster.

MICHIGAN BRIEFS.

Michigan Postmaster.—O. W. Westmore has been appointed postmaster at Holloway, Lenawee county, vice L. C. Winship removed.

Victim of Gasoline.—Mrs. Emil Elzenheimer of Union City attempted to fill a gasoline stove while it was burning. An explosion followed, and the woman was so seriously burned that she will die.

Charged With Attempted Assault.—William Conlan, an employee in the construction gang at the sugar factory at Sebawang, is under arrest charged with assault with intent to commit criminal assault. Louise Pommerenke, sixteen years old, is the complaining witness.

Result of a Quarrel.—Albert Dennis, colored, of Detroit, aged seventy, was shot by Mrs. Martha Scott, forty-nine years old, at the latter's home, 62½ Livingstone avenue. The couple have been living together. It is claimed the shooting was the result of a quarrel. The woman was arrested.

Carpenters' Strike Settled.—Through the efforts of Donald Glass, national organizer for the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners the carpenters' strike at Day City, which has been in force since May 1, has been settled. The men secured an increase to 60 cents an hour, with an eight-hour day.

The Towers of Silence.

The Towers of Silence are two tall towers used by the Parsees as cemeteries. They never bury their dead, but leave the body exposed on the top of one of these towers until the sun and the rain and the fowls of the air have cleaned the bones of all flesh. Then the bones are collected and placed in the other tower.

You've got to hustle all the time to keep in the swim. If you are slipping down the ladder of prosperity, take Rocky Mountain Tea. Makes people strenuous. Murdock Bros.

Construction of Pencils.

Pencils are very skillfully constructed. When the column of graphite has been prepared for use in the pencil it is laid in a slit cut for it, covered with another piece of wood, which is glued on; then, by means of ingenious machinery, the wooden covers are reduced to the proper size for pencils, and painted or varnished and set aside to dry.

During the summer kidney irregularities are often caused by excessive drinking or being overheated. Attend to the kidneys at once by using Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by Murdock Bros.

Like as a Bear Tamer.

The Duke of Gallaria, Prince of Melfetta, recently entered a cage containing four Polar bears belonging to the Bernard menagerie, which is at present staying at Milan. He provoked the animals, which roared furiously, but they were soon mastered, and he then put them through several exercises. On coming out of the cage the Prince was heartily cheered.

Happy Time in Old Town.

"We felt very happy," writes R. N. Bevil Old Town, Va., "when Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured our daughter of a bad case of scald head." It delights all who use it for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Bruises, Boils, Ulcers, Eruptions. Infallible for piles. Only 25c at Hueston's drug store.

Forest of California.

In the northern part of San Jose county, California, and lapping over into San Mateo county, lies the so-called Big Basin, a bit of the primitive forest. The exact area of the tract is about 2,500 acres. It contains one of the finest stretches of woodland which remains in the state. The characteristic tree is the giant redwood. It has been proposed to convert the basin into a forest preserve.

Chronic Diarrhoea.

This disease is generally regarded as incurable. Many for the reason that the remedies usually employed are ineffectual. That it can be cured, however, has been fully proven in many cases. The following tells of one of them. Mr. T. W. Gaulthouse of Pittsburg, Pa., says: "I had been suffering from chronic diarrhoea for several years. Last year I bought Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and it has entirely cured me. I had spent lots of money for doctors' medicine in the run of six years. If it had not been for this remedy I would have been dead now, and I feel that I can never say too much in its favor or recommend it too highly." Sold by Geo. C. Hueston.

Royalties Use Typewriter.

The typewriter seems to have made more progress with European royalties than with European statesmen. Neither Lord Salisbury nor Mr. Balfour approves of it, and even Mr. Chamberlain seldom uses it. On the other hand, the Czar and Czarina are experts in its use, the Kaiser is its advocate and the King of the Belgians and the Sultan use it extensively for their personal correspondence.

Can't be perfect health without pure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters makes pure blood. Tones and invigorates the whole system.

THE NEW WOMAN.

Miss Alice Cohn, writes from 474 Eleventh Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., as follows:

"Having had poor health for a great many months and now having it restored makes me feel very grateful to Peruna. I suffered a great deal during my monthly periods, had severe pains, and was generally depressed, but can truthfully say that a few bottles of Peruna has removed all pain and made a new woman of me.—MISS ALICE COHN.

The coming of what is known as the "new woman" in our country is not greeted by everyone as if she were a great blessing. But there is another new woman whom everybody is glad to see. Every day some invalid woman is exclaiming, "I have been made a new woman by Dr. Hartman's home treatment." It is only necessary to send name, address, symptoms, duration of sickness and treatment already received to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O., and directions for one month's treatment will be promptly forwarded. The medicine can be obtained at the nearest drug store.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

We want to make it as strong as we know how—that we will give you better Lumber at the same price, or equal grades at a lower price, than you can get elsewhere.

An explanation is in order from the Washtenaw Daily Times which prints the Record's whilom account of the capture of that bill fish under the heading "Northville's Tunnel Liar." The Prouty & Glass carriage factory at Wayne is doing a rushing business this spring as evidenced by the fact that they are anxious for more help in both their woodwork and machinery departments, as advertised in another column.

An editor relates the following: "When first he came to see her he showed a timid heart, and even when the light was low they sat this far apart, but as their love grew warmer, they learned its joy and bliss and sat unclosely together."

The Northville Telephone company has put new phones into the following residences: W. E. Ambler, 682; Dr. F. Ambler, 222; G. C. Benton, 493; C. R. Benton, 494; Frank Coates, 462; Mrs. Cable, 633; Henry Fry, 83; Wm. Xerkes, 696; C. E. Rogers, 432; C. M. Thornton, 652.

The Modern Woodmen of Wayne were entertained at Northville on Monday with a trip and inspection tour of the U. S. fish hatchery at that place, and after the visit there the camp was entertained with something for the inner man which they enjoyed immensely. The members of the local camp are loud in their praise of the Northville neighbors. Please return the call.—Wayne Review.

The people who have always been opposed to the slaughter of innocents as represented by the officially sanctioned efforts to exterminate the English sparrow, and who always insisted that the lively little birds do more good than harm, can now say, "I told you so." It is one of the lately announced discoveries that these same sparrows are the deadliest known enemies of the dreaded seventeen year locusts.

A. E. Aseltine of Alaledon township, Ingham Co., after reading the item in the Record of a Salem hog's mammoth porker, thought one of his own hogs looked larger, and upon measuring it found it did by four inches from tip of nose to roots of tail and five and a half inches girth.—Free Press.

The Salem hog has grown since the item appeared in the Record and the measurement now is about double that of the Ingham county hog. It's only just a question of which hog is measured last, that's all.

Among the features of the L. O. T. M. entertainment last week which the Record did not especially mention for lack of space were the character songs by R. W. Young of Plymouth which were viciously encoored and were "great" both as to get up and rendition. Harry Robinson was imitable as a "coon" and his "raglan" and "chrysanthemum" were particularly striking. The Crescent orchestra also gave some extremely fine numbers, as well as did the singers from abroad and at home.

Again our postoffice takes a step forward and on July 1st becomes an international money order office, when Postmaster Hutton can issue orders on any money order office in the United States or in foreign countries. He is also using his best efforts, aided by Congressman H. C. Smith to secure the establishment of rural free delivery service by that date. These improvements will place the Northville office in line with the larger offices of the country, and, while making the work in the office more complicated, will also give the patrons greater privileges. The additional service will necessitate more room and some changes will be made in the arrangement of the office.

Had an Outing at Dr. Walline's Last Week.

An enjoyable time was measured out to the lady teachers of our school last Saturday afternoon and evening at the home of one of the members of that corps—Miss Marquita Wallin. They were taken to the pleasant residence of Dr. and Mrs. Wallin in carriages provided by the host, and were cordially received and given a real musical and social treat. In addition to entertainment furnished by members of that household, Misses Bird and Lowden of the Ypsilanti conservatory of Music, were there and contributed to the enjoyment of all. Judging from the amount and variety of very palatable viands that were spread before the company later in the afternoon one might suppose the larder of that home to be of copious dimensions. The teachers all affirmed that it was an occasion to be remembered.

Methodist Church Notes.

(By the Pastor.)

The sermon Sunday morning will be on "Vital Union with Christ."

For the second time the pastor of this church was honored this week with the privilege of presenting the paper at the Detroit Methodist Preachers' meeting.

The Children's day exercises last Sunday morning were very fine. We congratulate the committees on their excellent work. The collection, which is devoted to educational interests, amounted to $4.32.

A number of the ladies of the church and congregation have recently given evidence of their thoughtfulness by materially lightening the burden of the busy mother of our four children in the matter of summer clothing. Many thanks for many kindnesses.

We have secured one of the finest violinists in the country to give us an entertainment on Friday evening June 27th. Ashton Lewis of Boston is visiting a friend of this vicinity and has agreed to give us a recital at a low figure so that all may enjoy the privilege of hearing this master of "The King of Instruments."

The Farmington Enterprise remarks that Northville's "marshal" band furnished music down there on Decoration day. That sounds as if it might have reference to our chief of police, but Marshal Taft was on duty here that day and besides he never goes on a tour under any circumstances.

"Coughed All Night"

We hear that complaint frequently now. It is one easy to believe as a rule, for the speaker generally shows that his rest has been badly broken.

Of course, it is always natural for us to tell of the value of White Pine and we can recommend this preparation with confidence. We have made and sold it for five years, and have scores of people in the neighborhood who are willing to say a good word for it as the opportunity arises.

White Pine soothes the inflamed bronchial passages and quickly quiets the annoying hack. It's good for a fresh cold or a chronic one, good for the little fellow who coughs and chokes and gasps good for his father if he has a cough. Two sizes, 25c and 50c.

Our June Sale of Nice Muslin Underwear now going on. If you will allow us a few moments of your time we can easily demonstrate the superiority of our class of Underwear: Garments customarily offered at sales the country over are manufactured for that purpose; poor cloth, badly sewn, scant material, but overlaid with a superabundance of flashy trimmings, cheap lace or sleazy embroidery, they appear bargains if not critically examined. Our June Sale Garments are taken right from our stock of the best goods possible to buy—the sort that is building up for us a most substantial business. (larger quantities were ordered to take care of the rush at this sale). We call particular attention to the nice cloth, neat sewing, fine trimmings of lace and embroidery or hemstitching, and the amplitude of each garment (no stinting of material ever); the prices are as low as "garments of the sales sort" are offered. We believe it is really to your interest to look through our department. No irritating urging to buy, either.

Spent Eight Cents in Campaign.

Richard Evans, who was recently a candidate for the London common council and was defeated, in his report of expenses declared that he had spent only fourpence in his campaign.

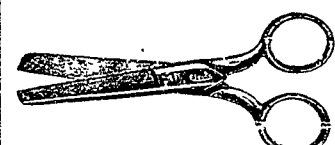

There is more catarrh in the section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, it goes from 10 drops to a few spoonfuls. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

There is in existence an unreported law in Switzerland, which forbids the wearing of hats more than eighteen inches in diameter, artificial flowers and foreign feathers, under a heavy penalty.

ANSWER IT HONESTLY.

Are the Statements of Northville Citizens Not More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers?

This is a vital question. It is fraught with interest to Northville. It permits of only one answer. It cannot be evaded or ignored. A Northville citizen speaks here. Speaks for the welfare of Northville. A citizen's statement is reliable. An utter stranger's doubtful. Home proof is the best proof. Dr. Crampton, Vet. Surgeon, says: "For several months Mrs. Crampton had a dull aching pain in her back and up her shoulders, which at times was quite severe. Hearing so many people praising Doan's Kidney Pills I decided to get her a box and procure them at Murdock Bros' drug store. I trusted that the remedy would do her some good, but I was not prepared for the great benefit which it soon brought. It was only a short time until the pain or aching went away. Whenever I hear anyone complaining of backache or kidney complaint, I invariably advise them to procure Doan's Kidney Pills take a course of treatment and they need not be dubious about the results. For sale by all dealers; price 50c per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute."

England Losing Art Treasures. Complaints are made in British journals that the art treasures of England are being looted by American millionaires and directors of German and French museums just as Italy's treasures used to be carried off by the English.

Fifth Temples in India. Sacred cows often defile Indian temples, but worse yet is a lady that pollutes by constipation. Don't permit it. Cleanse your system with Dr. King's New Life Pills and avoid untold misery. They give lively liver, active bowels, good digestion and appetite. Only 25c at Hueston's drug store.

That's late to be a day without Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the house. Never can tell what moment an accident is going to happen.

Only the Mind Lacking. A society bore once told Charles Lamb that he considered Shakespeare unworthy of the universal commendation bestowed upon him. "Had I the mind to do it," said the bore, "I could produce plays quite equal to those of Shakespeare." "Just so," responded Lamb, "of course it is only the mind that is lacking."

A Real Friend. "I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for fifteen years," says W. T. Sturdevant of Merry Oak, N. C. "After I had tried many doctors and medicines to no avail one of my friends persuaded me to try Kodol. It gave me immediate relief. I can eat almost anything I want now and my digestion is good. I cheerfully recommend Kodol." Don't try to cure stomach trouble by dieting. That only further weakens the system. You need wholesome, strengthening food—Kodol enables you to assimilate what you eat by digesting it without the stomach's aid. Murdock Bros.

Trees in Hawaiian Isles. About fifteen years ago the Hawaiian government undertook a forest work, and very soon the hills back of Honolulu were clothed with a dense and luxuriant growth of eucalyptus of several varieties, the Australian wattle and other trees of that character. These trees have already exercised a noticeable influence in conserving rainfall and rendering the climate in the vicinity more agreeable.

Virulent Cancer Cured. Starting proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. W. Roberts of Elizabeth, N. Y. An old man there had long suffered with what doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, with the result completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. Bitters 50c, Salve 25c, at Hueston's.

A Valuable Book. A very valuable book is a Hebrew Bible in the Vatican. In 1512 the Jews tried to buy it from Pope Julius II. for its weight in gold. It is so large and heavy that two men can hardly lift it.

Saved from an Awful Fate. "Everybody," said I, had consumption," writes Mrs. A. M. Shields, of Chambersburg, Pa. "I was so low after six months of severe sickness, caused by Hay Fever and Asthma, that few thought I could get well; but I learned of the marvelous merit of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, used it, and was completely cured." For desperate Throat and Lung Diseases it is the safest cure in the world, and is infallible for Coughs, Colds and Bronchial affections. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Hueston's Pharmacy.

Their Little Game. Sir Herbert Maxwell at a recent public dinner told a story illustrative of the instinctive propensity of British nature to have a little gamble on something. Three officers in the Transvaal were down with fever, and just before the doctor went his rounds in the morning each patient put a half-crown in a basin and the one whose temperature was highest took the pool.

Interference to Asthma Sufferers. Daniel Bane of Ottumwa, Iowa, writes: "I have had asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but not a very little benefit. I tried Foley's Honey and Tar which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. I sincerely recommend it to all." Sold by Murdock Bros.

Cigar Brands. There are between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 brands of cigars sold in this country, and your average smoker thinks that every brand means a different kind of tobacco. As a matter of fact, 150 is an outside estimate of the different kinds of tobacco that can be procured from all sources, and even experts can't tell some of these apart.

Warning. If you have kidney or bladder trouble and do not use Foley's Kidney Cure, you will have only yourself to blame for results, as it positively cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. Sold by Murdock Bros.

Who Pays the Printer?

When you go around from printer to printer getting bids on a job and then giving it to the lowest bidder, you get an indifferently good job—one with no particularly good points—one that sells no goods for you, then who pays the printer?

YOU DO.

When you pick out a good printer, bring him all your work, educating him to an idea of your needs, and paying a fair price for the work you get, your printer (when secured at the Record Printing) necessarily creates a favorable impression for you and for what you offer, and becomes a factor in selling your goods. Then who pays the printer? Your customer.

HE DOES.

THE STRANGER AND THE PRINCESS

BY SEWARD W. HOPKINS

Copyright, 1900, by Seward W. Hopkins.

The carriage stopped, and the two got out. They were met at the street door by the smiling and victorious agent of police.

"Ah, ha! It takes you Americans to work a game," he said. "I am delighted. I congratulate you. It was well done. Enter, and I will call for refreshments at once."

"Don't you know me?" asked Monroe, as he tore the beard from his face.

"It seems good to be at liberty once more," said Buckford. "Where is this place?"

"It is Rue de Creuse," replied Monroe. "I don't know the neighborhood."

Neither did Buckford. Had he known that the Rue de Creuse was the next street to the Rue de Mont Rouge he might have had a queer sensation.

They were led into a small room, where two or three tables stood against the walls.

"This cafe is not known as such to many," said the obliging police agent, who sat down with them. "It is kept by a friend of mine, an estimable lady, who had the misfortune to be left a widow with two children to support. Mme. du Barry will be here presently and make you feel at home and welcome."

Instead of Mme. du Barry, however, a waiter appeared with glasses, a bottle of wine and a card on which to write the orders of the gentlemen.

They each ordered a substantial supper, for they were hungry, and laughed as they spoke of the difference between the meal Buckford was going to eat and the one he would have had in the depot.

Suddenly, when they had grown used to the place and the sense of security had become strong, a panel opened in the door directly behind Buckford, and a heavy club, made of an ebony staff with sand, descended on his head. He fell unconscious to the floor.

Monroe, who had seen the panel slide, had leaped to his feet and drawn a pistol from his pocket. But the obliging police agent leaped like a panther upon him, plinked his arms, and while his cries for help rang impotent against the walls, two other scoundrels rushed in, and the deadly clubs that kill and leave no mark rained upon his head.

In the darkness of the night poor Bob Monroe, too chivalrous and condescending, was dragged by the heels to the refuse heap of a nearby brewery facing on the Rue de Mont-Rouge.

Which explains the cry of the policeman who rushed into the office of the investigating magistrate, M. Senecal, and struck everybody dumb with his startling information.

CHAPTER VII.

THE CONSPIRATORS OVERHEARD.

It was more chance than mercy that saved Buckford's life when Monroe, less fortunate than he, was battered to death by the clubs of his hidden assailants. He had not seen the attack, and the first blow sent him unconscious to the floor. Monroe had seen the blow struck, and, rising to fight, had brought the concentrated fury of the murderers upon himself.

Having killed one innocent, the thirst for blood of the scoundrels must have been assuaged, or they were acting under orders that left them but one course to pursue.

Or, perhaps they did not examine Buckford closely enough to discover that he had not been killed.

One corpse on the refuse heap was enough.

At any rate, Buckford, instead of being dragged from the building as Monroe had been, was taken to a small room and left lying on the floor in his awful stupor.

He did not know, and it is not our business to say, just how long he lay there. He awoke at first with a dull throbbing pain in his head. He was conscious of a terrible thirst. Half stupor, yet knowing he was where he ought not to be, he sat up and looked around him.

Gradually, as his blood circulated more freely, the pain in his head decreased, and his senses became more acute.

He found that he was in a very small room that had evidently been formed after the house was built, by running a partition of thin and narrow wooden strips across the end of a larger room.

The purpose of this little room—the original purpose—was not apparent. It may have been to provide an extra bed or dressing room. Its present purpose was clear—it was his prison.

The room was about six feet in width and about ten in length. The wooden partition ran along one of the long sides, and in this there was a small door.

At one of the narrow ends there was a window.

Wallace sat for some time on the floor before he gathered strength enough to rise. The blow on his head had deprived him not only of consciousness, but of strength as well.

There was absolutely no furniture in the room. It was, however, carpeted with a thick, firm fabric.

After a time he rose to his feet, shook off the momentary dizziness, and began a more extended examination of his prison.

He was really ill enough to be in bed, but excitement and the sense of impending danger kept him up.

He did not know that Monroe was dead. He had last seen Monroe sitting quietly at a table drinking wine and waiting for his supper.

He first tried the door in the wooden partition. It was locked. He then went to the window. It opened upon a small narrow court.

The building opposite was almost devoid of windows. There were two or three little openings on the court for ventilation, but nothing to be called a window as windows go.

But leaning from his window and looking down he saw that there was a similar one underneath it in the same house. It opened, no doubt, from a room similar to the one he was in, or similar to the one that existed before the wooden partition was put in.

The window was there, but it conveyed no thought of escape to his mind. He had not as yet begun to form any plan of escape. The ground was far below him—the paved court, from which no exit was seen, except through the lower stories of the abutting buildings.

He turned from the window and leaned against the wall in deep and troubled study.

Where was Monroe? That was the first question he asked himself. It was clear that the plan to rescue him from the police station was simply to bring him again into the hands of the enemies of the prince. The plot had succeeded, as far as he was concerned but where was Monroe?

No suspicion of the American entered the head of Wallace. He believed that Monroe had been duped by the pretended police agent. He hoped that Monroe had been more fortunate than he and had made his escape.

In that case the best thing that could happen was for Monroe to confess his share in the plot to the police and have them come to recapture him.

Terrible as was the uncertainty of his fate in the hands of the police, his situation as a captive of the plotters was worse.

But would Monroe confess? Would he betray himself to the police and destroy his position in Parisian society?

While Buckford thought out all these perplexing questions he became suddenly conscious that voices could be heard through the wooden partition.

He bent himself to bring his ear to the keyhole of the door.

"Undoubtedly both Americans are dead," said one voice. "The poor dupe who did our work so well has been discovered in the brewery court and taken to his home. Well, the police will proved that the man who had given him the purse, the man who had had most to do apparently with the plot against the prince, was the man who killed M. de Bellin.

"Well," said the other, "Vandal is a Parisian and knows a thing or two."

The footsteps of the two speakers were now heard close to the little door. Buckford, remembering the remark, "Let's take a look at this one," lay down on the floor and assumed a position nearly like that in which he had before been lying.

A key sounded in the lock, and the door opened.

"He has not moved."

No one came near him. One glance sufficed to prove to the two men that he had been lying in that position since he had been brought to the room.

The door was again shut and the lock clicked.

Buckford slowly opened his eyes to make sure no one had remained in his room. He saw no one and sprang to his feet and applied his ear at the keyhole again.

His heart was heavy, for he realized now that Monroe had been killed. This brought vividly to his mind the danger in which he stood, and his nerves became stronger as he drew himself together and resolved to combat this brotherhood of crime with all the skill and energy he possessed.

He heard the voices again.

"What time did his highness say he would be here?" asked one.

"Oh, you cannot limit his highness to a moment. Casparin is the most uncertain of men. But he will be here soon, no doubt."

So there was another highness in the game. Buckford was using his ears and brains now as he had never used them before.

"This Casparin, whom they called his highness, could not be the Prince of Denesia, against whom they had plotted."

Monroe had told him who the Prince of Denesia was. He had described the beauty of the Princess Marie Alexia. Buckford was more than ever resolved to defeat the plot against them.

"It is unfortunate that Vandal was shot," said one of the voices. "That American did some damage before we got him."

"Yes, but it was lucky he did not kill Vandal. The other did not matter so much."

"Good," said Buckford to himself. "I am glad I killed one. I wish I had killed Vandal. I may have another crack at him yet."

Another step was heard outside and then another.

Buckford now turned his head to get a peep through the accommodating keyhole.

He saw but a small portion of the outer room. It was well furnished with a table and chairs in the center, and in the chairs sat two men. One of these was the man he had shot, Vandal, and the other was one of the two who had been previously talking.

In another portion of the room, hidden from Buckford's sight, were two more, one who had been there before and one a newcomer.

"Well," said a voice, "our game has been spoiled in Paris. That dashed American by his meddling has aroused the police. We cannot do a thing now until the prince leaves Paris." The voice sounded familiar to Buckford. The person speaking was the pretend agent of police.

"Then your highness has not given up the idea?" said the voice of Vandal.

"Given it up?"

A harsh voice followed the words.

"Did you ever know Casparin Rock millive to give up an idea until he had made it a success?"

Buckford thrilled again. So this speaker was Casparin Rock millive. The agent of the Prince of Denesia was the Count of Rockmillive. They were, then, relatives of each other.

The plot against the Prince of Denesia was beginning to take shape, and substance. Buckford had heretofore been working against a vapor of suspicion. Now he was gaining a substantial knowledge of what the plot involved.

"My illustrious brother and sister have already determined to leave Paris and return to Denesia," said the voice of Casparin. "They will undoubtedly take up their residence in the palace at Trolle, the capital, until the birth of the heir."

"And it is this event that your highness must prevent?"

For a moment there was silence.

"I am not prepared to say," came the slow, steady voice of Casparin Rock millive, "that I wish particularly to destroy my sister-in-law, the Princess Margaret. Had I been the heir to the throne of Denesia instead of my brother I would have been the husband of Margaret Granville, but the mighty ambition of the American heiress rose even to the throne itself, and she took my more fortunate brother. Yet, even to accomplish my designs and win the throne of Denesia for myself, I will sacrifice her. But I prefer, as I had already made clear when the Count of Reber brought that American to me, to spoil our plan, I say I prefer to let that is, get rid of the prince while I am yet here presumptive. There is yet time to accomplish this. I had supposed to find it easier in Paris, where these things are done without difficulty as a rule, than in Trolle, where the energetic Durally has his myrmidons at all times on the alert."

"I know now, however, that the work cannot be done in Paris. We must wait till we reach Trolle. Then Durally himself must go. And with him out of the way, we can easily reach the prince."

Buckford became more and more absorbed. He now felt a national interest in the affair. He was fighting now not only for the life of a prince and princess, but for the inheritance of the child of an American girl.

He remembered now when Margaret Granville, one of the most beautiful and richest of American girls, married Prince Charles of Denesia. He was not then the ruling prince. The match was a love match, the wedding a quiet one, and Buckford had thought little of it at the time. And now he was listening to the brutal details of a dreadful plot against his fair countrywoman. His fists clenched, his teeth were set firmly together, and he roared even his last lingering regret that he had become involved in a case that so seriously threatened his life.

"I will get out of this alive," he said, "and I will meet this wonderful Durally, and between us we'll see what can be done."

"I suppose, then, your highness," said one of the men, "that we are now released from all connection with the case. If so, what about our reward for what we have endeavored to do?"

There was a low sarcastic laugh from Prince Casparin.

"It is not the rule usually," he said, "to reward failures in matters of this kind. Nor is it advisable to have several sets of confidants in various parts of the world. I have laid before you all my plans and have named the several rewards you may expect if I am enabled by your assistance to make myself the ruling prince of Denesia. I think, gentlemen, it will be much better for all concerned for you to go with me to Denesia and there carry out the plans that have been interrupted here."

"Trolle is not Paris," said one. "We would not have the assistance of the brotherhood, who do our bidding without even wishing to know the object."

"But I have willing servants in Denesia," said Casparin. "They are not, I think, as shrewd as my Parisian friends, but they will do in emergencies. I wish, however, to confine the secret to us four. It is enough. Four men who know the truth will be enough for me to carry when I come to the throne."

"Then if we attempt that which is far more dangerous and difficult than what we agreed to do," said Vandal, "it is right that our rewards should be increased accordingly. For myself, I have seen the Princess Marie Alexia. If you become ruling prince of Denesia, I should desire to become your brother-in-law. One does not assassinate his brother in law so quickly as an outsider."

"But in the case before us it is the brother," said Casparin, with a cruel laugh. "What you ask is impossible. I know that Marie is the fairest girl in all Europe. But her hand must go to Russia. In the plans I have mapped out for the future greatness of Denesia I have absolute need of Russian assistance and backing. Why can you not be content with the wealth and position I have offered? And, as for a lovely bride, there is one who is second only to Marie. That is Adria Volner, the fiancée of Rocco Durally. She is a beauty after the same style as Marie and will suit you as well."

"I suppose I must be content," said Vandal. "Then I am to receive a million francs, a high position among your advisers and this beautiful Adria Volner for a bride?"

"Yes, and these, our two able friends and aids, shall each receive a half million francs and their pick of Denesian beauties if they wish to marry and settle in my country."

"That is a fair offer," said one. "What do you say, Reber?"

"Buckford started. One voice had all along seemed strangely familiar, but the existing circumstances made it impossible to recall where he had heard it. It flashed upon him:

Reber was the man who had met him on the bridge and introduced him into this circle of fascinating outthrusts.

"I think it is fair," said Reber. "But that is of yours, friend Reber, would not be pleasing to the young Denesian beauty?"

"Let my face alone!" growled the man called Robello, and Buckford made a mental note.

"Now," he said, "I know the four plotters by name and three of them by sight. Vandal and Reber I have met. That is Robello sitting with Vandal, but his back is toward me. However, he must be ugly, or Reber's remark is pointless. And the fourth is Casparin, brother of the Prince of Denesia. And what a quartet of precious scoundrels! They at the bidding of this rascal Casparin will assassinate the prince before his heir is born in order to put Casparin on the throne of the little country. And not only the prince, but an American woman and a beautiful princess, are in danger. Come, Buckford, you have work to do. And the first thing to do is to escape from this place. How the devil is that to be done, I wonder?"

To be continued next week.

Suburban News.

Mrs. Buchler, a young woman near Wayne, dropped dead one day last week while running to catch an electric car.

Holly pays about half the cost of cement walks put down in the village and board walks are getting to be almost as much out of date there as case walks.

Farmington has some lively old boys. A seventy year old down there "clum" a bee tree and sawed off a limb fifty feet above the ground and secured a swarm of bees. He's evidently got plenty of buzz about him yet.

A twelve year old Owasco boy was in jail for stealing a bicycle was let out under bonds. He immediately stole another and sold it to the county agent specially appointed to look after juvenile offenders. The agent felt tired when he found out the facts, but was not at all inflated.

In an account of a recent wedding at Orion the Review mentions the bride "alter". Probably association of ideas. There might have been several suggestions along that line—change of name, transition from freedom to bondage, or may be he meant "alter" and inadvertently left off the "h".

It is being surreptitiously surmised that some or all those Bloomer Girls who are playing such good base ball around the country are boys. Of course this is a base slander or the B. G. are a base brand. Probably some fellow at Carleton or Holly or some one who failed to make a hit with them started the story.

The latest general sensation in Pontiac is a spasm of quest made gallantly on the part of some youngsters. They have been introduced to women to get to know them intimately and to court them home. The kindness is so entirely unappreciated that the women are keeping a sharp lookout for the fellows, but so far unsuccessfully.

A South Lyon man was created into buying an automobile that it was not thoroughly trained and the "written" ran away with him before he got home from Detroit and nearly tore an ear out of him trying to climb a picket fence. He has the somewhat doubtful satisfaction, however, of knowing that that car animal is well broken now anyway.

It is possibly somewhat unwise to mention it, but it is to be inferred from the Wayne News Letter that the ladies down there are in the habit of manipulating most of the lawn mowers. Those in use in Northville are commonly seen to have a man at the helm, but don't all move to Wayne gentlemen, as it may not be simply a matter of "atmosphere".

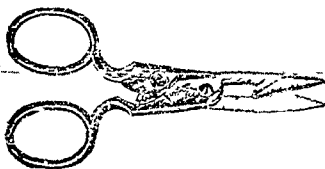

The Carleton Times last week gave a description of the soon to be issued national bank notes of the five, ten, twenty, fifty and one hundred dollar denominations. All the editors of the Times exchanges will be awfully glad when they get a chance to verify the information by ocular demonstration, especially in regard to the two last mentioned bills. Paste the items in your little children, so you'll know a false William when you see him.

Pontiac will celebrate the Fourth only by sample this year. A big poster displayed in the county clerk's office lately has caused all sorts of comment. It was the sole and only evidence of the fact it purported to announce that Pontiac would let loose the independence of patriotic fervor on the independence day. It turned out that the poster was a sample of biographic art and the assignment of locality a sample of the deputy clerk's art.

Spring Fever
Symptoms of a milder form for midwest. It is a more serious than most people think. A torrid liver and inactive bowels lead to a poisoned system. It is a real serious illness may follow the most serious. Dr. Witt's Little Liver Pills move all danger out of the liver, open up the bowels and cleanse the system of impurities. I have taken Dr. Witt's Little Liver Pills for the last six years and have never had a spring fever. I have a R. M. Lewis, Moundsville, W. Va. I do not know good any other. I have tried Moundsville.

Could Not Read Bangs
John Kennedy Bangs tells a rather good story. He was "stopping" one day for some rest reading for summer vacation at the New York's largest book stores he was offered by the unsuspecting clerk one of his own books. "Oh, I don't want that," said Mr. Bangs. "I can't read Bangs." "Well, do you know," responded the clerk, "neither can I." When Mr. Bangs gave his name and address there were words.
