UNCLE SAM—NOW WATCH ME DO THE DAVID ACT WITH THIS GOLIATH.

PRIMARY ELECTION NEXT WEEK FRIDAY

REPUBLICANS WILL VOTE DIRECT FOR NOMINATIONS

For All Wayne County Officers at that Time.

On next week Friday, October 17, from 2 to 8 p. m. the republican voters of Wayne county will be given an opportunity to vote direct for the nominations for the various Wayne county offices from sheriff to coroner. This will be tried under what is known as the McLeod plan and it is hoped that there will be a large vote polled in order that a fair test of the proposed new manner of nominations may be obtained.

The Democrat party will hold caucuses and a nominating convention as usual, but this primary election plan adopted by the Republicans of Wayne county will do entirely away with the old system caucuses or conventions of that (Republican) party.

The Republican township committee or the county committee, which ever is customary in the various township or city wards, will issue a call for a primary election, or in other words a party caucus, to be held in the town hall from 2 to 8 p. m. on October 17th. At the opening of the caucus an organization will be perfected just the same as heretofore in the case of the usual caucuses. Each voter will be given a ballot upon which is printed the names of all the candidates for the various county offices. The voter will go into a booth with his ballot and in the square in front of the names he wishes to vote for for the nomination to the various offices he will place a cross. Except in the case of coroner and circuit court commissioner he can of course vote for but one man for each office. For those two offices he votes for two men. At the bottom of the ticket he votes for a county committee-man and the county committee men thus elected will on the following day meet in Detroit and canvass the entire vote of the county and certify in convention thus assembled the Republican nominees to be voted for at the November election.

This primary election is in other words just as near like the regular election as one can possibly conceive except that it is contested by the Republican party alone this fall and of course only Republicans or those who wish to ally themselves to that party's ticket may vote. The vote is canvassed and certified to, by the caucus organization the same as for an election.

In this town it is customary for the chairman or a member of the township committee to call the caucus to order and then a chairman, secretary and two tellers are elected. However, it would be just as proper no doubt for the township committee and the county committee man to organize their own primary election board upon convening at the hour of 2 o'clock.

Sample ballots will be circulated freely so that everyone as far as possible may be posted on the manner of conducting these periodicals and there will be no chance for any one to yell "ma bime" or "slates" for the voters will vote direct for the man whom they desire to nominate and the result will register the will of the voters of the county.

THE TOWLE CHILDREN.

Application Made to Be Sent to Coldwater.

Judge Rohnert, sitting in probate, Friday morning, ordered Martha Towle, aged 12 years and her brother Louis, aged 9 taken from their parents, David and Eliza Towle of this place, and placed in the House of Providence until today, when a hearing will be had as to the advisability of taking the children permanently from their parents. Supervisor Cass Benton made complaint that the children were not being properly brought up and thought for their best interests they should be sent to the Coldwater school. When Mrs. Towle heard the judge's decision she cried aloud in the court room, and the little ones clung to her until separated almost by force.

Plymouth for Holmes.

Arthur L. Holmes, who is well and favorably known in this locality, seems to find popular favor here for his candidacy for the Republican nomination of treasurer of Wayne county. His ability, honesty and integrity commend him to the voters and taxpayers, and, while he is possessed of these essential qualities in a high degree, is a genial, good fellow as well. He has represented this district in the state senate with ability and credit and helped to pass many good measures in the interest of the people as a whole. We believe his support by Plymouth would not be out of place at this time, as she has supported him heretofore—Plymouth Mail.

Siegler-Brown Nuptials.

Miss Myrtle Brown of this place was united in marriage at Pinckney last week to Mr. Raymond Siegler of that place. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of this place and has many warm friends here. Mr. Siegler is highly spoken of in Pinckney and is engaged in the mercantile business there with his father. The young couple have been visiting her parents here, but will return to Pinckney to make their future home.

Blue Rock Shoot Here.

Next week Wednesday, October 15th, the Northville Gun club will give another of its popular blue rock shoots, commencing at ten o'clock a. m. There are to be ten events on the program and lovers of the sport will be sure to see and participate in some excellent work. A prominent and "taking" feature is to be a free chicken dinner for all visiting competitors in the contest of skill.

ANOTHER CHURCH FOR NORTHVILLE

THE CATHOLIC SOCIETY WILL BUILD ONE HERE.

Entertainment and Banquet Plan- ning for Dec. 1st.

The Catholic society of Northville is planning to build a new church here in the near future to cost in the neighborhood of $2,000. The site has not yet been decided upon, but it is said it will be centrally located. Members of the society are planning how to give a big entertainment and banquet in the rink on December 1st as a starter, at which time in addition to other attractions Congressman Townsend of Jackson and Fred Hayes of Detroit will be present to deliver fitting addresses.

The entertainment will be a fine affair and something that will be a surprise to the people of this vicinity.

JOSEPH WELCH DEAD

A Well Known Oakland County Farmer.

Joseph Welch, who lives at Powers just east of the village, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of this vicinity died at St. Mary's hospital, Detroit, Tuesday afternoon as a result of the shock of a second abdominal operation which he was obliged to undergo. Mr. Welch was operated on for appendicitis and other complications some two months ago. The incision had refused to properly heal and in his run-down condition he was not able to withstand the shock of the second operation.

The funeral will be held from the home at two o'clock this afternoon and Rev. O. M. Thrasher will officiate. The burial will be in Oakwood cemetery in this village.

Deceased leaves a wife and one daughter, Mabel, and to them a sorrowing community that mourns with them in their great loss, expresses its profound sympathy.

METHODISTS' NEW PASTOR.

Kind Words for Rev. J. M. Shank from L'Anse.

The people of L'Anse and vicinity are greatly disappointed over the action of the M. E. conference in assigning Rev. J. M. Shank to a charge at Northville instead of allowing him to remain here another year. The M. E. society, including L'Anse, Pequaming and the Mission, had earnestly requested that Mr. Shank be retained another year, and so informed Presiding Elder Rev. C. M. Thompson, who seemed willing that their wishes should prevail, and when Mr. Shank left for conference it was taken for granted that he would again be assigned the charge here. But it seems the conference determined differently, and his new field of labor will be at Northville—L'Anse Sentinel

On Trip Around the World.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 8.—Gustavus Ohlinger, orator, debater and banner editor of the University of Michigan Inlander, has started on a tour around the world. Ohlinger is a graduate of the Michigan law school, and also of the new higher commercial course, and his trip is in a way to test the value of the course as given by the university. Here is one problem which he will study. "Is trade with China really worth while to the United States?" China is not progressive. Unless she will break away from eating rice and wearing blue cotton clothes there is nothing America can sell her. South America nearer at hand, and more like North America, may be more worth while than China. On such matters, and on more specialized matters, Ohlinger will spend his year of travel. He is the son of Chinese missionaries, and goes eminently recommended by President Angell, for whom he was private secretary.

Supreme Court Opinions.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 8.—The supreme court Tuesday disposed of the following cases: Reversed—Kaser vs. Detroit & Northwestern railway; Cutter vs. Wait; people vs. Elco. Sticks vs. township of Sedus; Estey vs. Capital Investment, Building & Loan association, was modified and affirmed. In Moore vs. Mutua Reserve Fund Life association, a reargument was ordered, the case to be placed at the foot of the present docket. Order to show cause was granted in Orr vs. Bay circuit judge. Mandamus was denied in Union Banking company vs. Berrien circuit judge. Motions to dismiss appeal were denied in Dayton vs. Stahl and Austin vs. Austin. State cases will be heard Thursday, Nov. 13. On motion of Hoyt Post, Peter White of Marquette was admitted to practice.

Charges Against the Chief.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Oct. 8.—The common council in open session brought charges against Chief of Police Burr Greenfield. The charges include neglect of duty, incompetency, failure to prosecute violations of liquor law, accepting cigars and drinks from saloonkeepers, and perjury. The council continued the special committee and it is likely a thorough overhauling of the police department will be the result. The chief's trial begins in full council Oct. 14.

D. of C. Sends Representatives.

Washington, Oct. 8.—The commissioners of the District of Columbia Tuesday designated five representatives each from the Washington board of trade and the Business Men's association as delegates to the conference called by Mayor Maybury of Detroit, to be held in that city on the 9th inst., to try and devise means for bringing to a termination the anthracite coal strike.

Whitcaps in Berrien.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Oct. 8.—Whitcaps made a successful assault on the family of James Tio here early Tuesday morning, compelling the occupants at daybreak to seek quarters elsewhere. The Tio home was assailed with heavy tubers and the fire of guns, with the notice to "get o of the neighborhood or the call would be repeated."

Drowned in the Rapids.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 8.—John Nye, unmarried, and an employee of the government was taking the velocity of the current in St. Mary's river, when he fell off the International bridge Tuesday morning and was drowned in the rapids. He was twenty-four years old. The body was not recovered.

The Adrian Knockers.

The Record has no commending words for the attitude taken by Editor Stearns of the Adrian Press or of Senator Helme of that same city on the governorship. Both have received many honors at the hands of the Democratic party and for them to "knock" at the head of their ticket because just the man they favored was not placed in nomination is to fight against the will of the majority and challenge the wisdom of the state central committee which they themselves helped to elect. They, as Silver Democrats, are also now doing the very thing they are criticizing the Gold Democrats for doing in 96 and 1900—viz Voting against Bryanism. The Democratic nominee, L. T. Durand, is an able man and if elected he would make a good executive and he would do honor to not only his party but the state as well. The Democratic party, Messrs Stearns and Helme to the contrary notwithstanding, need make no apologies for their candidate and those gentlemen, if they do their duty will climb back into the Democratic wagon where they belong. Every Democrat, be he a Cleveland or be he a Bryan Democrat should support L. T. Durand.

Gen. Alger's Defense for Gov. Bliss.

Gen. Alger's warm defense of Gov. Bliss against the old and oft repeated assertions on the part of his political enemies that the chief executive is lacking in strength of character, sets forth some facts that are rather difficult to explain and at the same time hang on to the stereotyped charge of weakness. Mr. Alger calls attention to Mr. Bliss' advancement by his own honest efforts from poverty to generous open handed wealth, his war services of nearly three and a half years with promotions from the ranks to a captaincy for personal bravery in the battlefield, his official services in his own city and county, in the state senate and in congress, besides his election to the highest position in the state all of which makes a record rather incompatible with the character of a weak man.

Charlie Is All Right.

Nothing but good words are heard here for Congressional Nominee Charles D. Townsend since his address in the Opera House last week. Besides being an eloquent and convincing speaker, Mr. Townsend's genial personality—which bears the unmistakable stamp of naturalness—is safe to win him friends wherever he may go. He possesses the enviable gift of personal magnetism to a rare degree and this combined with the innate courtesy of the true gentleman, which is his by nature, and his legal and oratorical skill in presenting his arguments are an outfit that must make him an invincible candidate. The general verdict here is that "Charlie" is emphatically "all right."

The Wyandotte Republican issued a big manufacturers' and merchants' industrial edition last week, which illustrated the enterprise of the paper as well as of the town.

COUNTESS OF SORROW.

Princess Stephanie, Who Was Excluded From Mother's Funeral. Princess Stephanie, daughter of King Leopold of Belgium, who was excluded from the death chamber of Queen Marie Antoinette, her mother, by the king's command, is the second daughter of the royal pair and was formerly the wife of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria. Her life has been one of tragedy and sorrow.

The cause of King Leopold's ill will toward his daughter dates from her second marriage two years ago to Count Elemer Lonyay, a Hungarian nobleman. The king of the Belgians as well as the emperor of Austria tried to prevent what they considered a mesalliance, but to no avail. In marrying the comparatively humble count the crown princess was compelled to give up the brilliancy of the Austrian court, and her allowance as widow of the crown prince was cut from $80,000 crowns to 200,000. Notwithstanding she gave up all for the love of the count.

Count Elemer Lonyay is thirty-nine years old just a year older than his royal wife. He is of medium height, not quite so tall as Princess Stephanie. Stephanie was married to Rudolph, crown prince of Austria, in 1881 and became a widow in January, 1889, under peculiar circumstances that have never been fully explained.

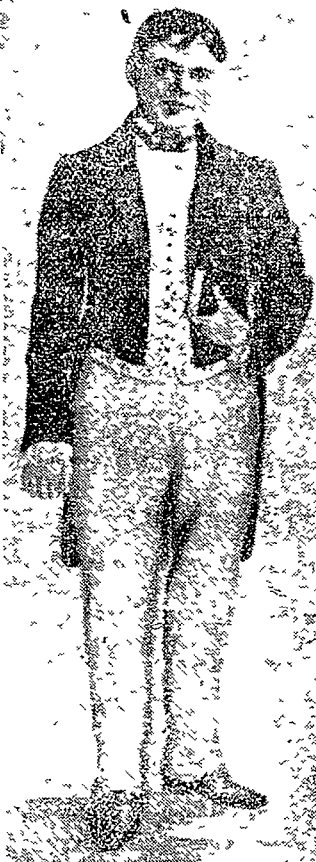

One child was the fruit of this marriage, the Archduchess Elizabeth, who is now in her nineteenth year. The law which excludes women from succession to the Austrian crown does not exist in Hungary. On the death of the Emperor Francis Joseph, Elizabeth, daughter of Stephanie, will inherit the crown of St. Stephen and the sovereignty over the Magyar race.

Since the death of Prince Rudolph the relations between Stephanie and the Austrian court have been strained.

HONEST ABE, U. S. M.

THE RURAL MAIL CARRIER ON HIS DAILY TRIP.

Makes a Short Stop at Widow Patterson's and Hears of an Elopement. Ben Johnson Seeks Advice Concerning a Tombstone.

(Copyright, 1902, by C. B. Lewis.)

EVERYBODY along the Three Mile road knows Farmer Patterson to be an obstinate man and one bound to have his own way about things. He is a widower with three daughters, all old enough to be married and all having sweethearts. As they were high spirited girls, I figured that Uncle Mose

"HE COMES TO ME OUT IN THE ORCHARD," might have trouble on his hands, and when I drove up to his gate the other day I realized that he wasn't happy. He began jumping up and down and swearing as soon as he saw me, and it was ten minutes before I could get at what ailed him. He finally quieted down a little and said:

"Abe, it's them gals of mine, an' I can't stand still."

"What's happened to the girls?"

"One day—last week Sus comes to me out in the orchard lookin' as humble as a cat an' says—

"Daddy, Joe Fowler has asked me to be his wife."

"But you won't be," says I.

"For why?" says she.

"Because I don't like the shape of his nose. It's got a hump in the middle, an' I won't have it in our straight nosed family."

"She hums a tune to herself an' walks off without another word, an' then comes Kate."

"What do you want?" says I.

"I want to marry Jim Green," she says.

"But I forbid you to."

"For why?"

"Because he's got a cock eye, an' I won't have no such teeth eatin' fried pork over my table."

"Kate whistles to herself an' goes off, an' up comes Maggie an' says:

"Dad, I'm goin' away soon."

"Where to?"

"To Stimpson's Corners. Will Stimpson has asked me to marry him, an' I've said yes."

"Then you'll be disappointed."

"For why?"

"Because he's got a cock eye, an' this is no cock eyed family. If you three girls don't simmer down an' stop your nonsense, I'll cut a peach tree sprout an' give you all a hakin'."

"That's what I said Abe," continued Uncle Mose as he grabbed at his hat and slapped it against the fence, "an' everybody knows I'm a man of my word. Them gals was as quiet as mice till yesterday afternoon when I went down cellar to clean up a little. I hadn't got to work before the door was locked on me an' when I yelled to know what was up they calls out also together—

"Goodby dad! We can't stay here no longer!"

"What did they mean by that?" I asked.

"Why, darn my hide, they meant they was goin' off to git married! Yes, Abe, them three fellers drove up in three buggies, an' them gals left me locked up an' rode away with 'em, an' I never got out of the cellar till this mornin'." They went off bag an' baggage, an' they are married by this time, an'—an'—

And Uncle Mose was so mad that he lay down and rolled over on the grass and got up and trampled down a bed of pink hollyhocks. I knew I could say nothing to him, and so I quietly drove away.

There was one more incident before I finished the day's drive. Farmer Ben Johnson, who lost his wife a year ago by being gored to death by a bull, was out in the front yard talking with a tombstone man as I drove up. They were having a spirited argument, and Farmer Ben turns to me and says:

"Abe, you are the United States, the American eagle, the star spangled banner an' the Goddess of Liberty all rolled together, an' you ought to know everything. You know I'm a widower, don't you?"

"Yes."

"Been a widower for eleven months, but expect to be married in two weeks. I'm feelin' it my duty to buy a tombstone for my wife's grave."

"That's correct."

"She was a good woman an' a hard worker."

"I've heard so."

"Always up early in the mornin' an' never goin' to bed till her work was done."

"Yes."

"Made more carpet rags an' soft soap than any other woman in the country."

"I guess that's so."

"But it was her fault, Abe—her own fault—that she got in the way of that bull an' met her death. The funeral cost me $50, an' I've had to hire a woman to run the house, an', taken all together, I'm thinkin' if I pay $10 for a zinc gravestone for her—it's plenty enough."

"I think he ought to take marble at $30," says the tombstone man.

"Zinc at $10," says Farmer Johnson.

"What'd you say, Abe?"

"You remember her with affection, don't you?"

"I do."

"And you left the bars down for the ball to get out?"

"I did."

"Then make it artificial stone for $15."

"Hanged if I don't!" says he, and he was closing the bargain when I drove away.

M. QUAD.

The Bench Was Barred.

A king's counsel was appearing in a case of slander which was being heard before a certain judge with whom outside of court he was on the best of terms.

The chief witness was a woman, who appeared to testify to the alleged slander.

"Now, madam," began the K. C., "please repeat the slanderous statements made by the defendant on this occasion just as you heard them."

"Oh, they are unfit for any respectable person to hear!" was the emphatic response as she looked indignantly at the barrister.

"Then," said the K. C. coaxingly, "suppose you just whisper them to the judge."—London Answers.

Poets of Today.

"And so you are a poet?" smiled the young lady as they sat beneath the dappled shade of the oak tree by the lane and watched the horse flies and other insects that were not charged extra on the bill.

"I try to be," was the rather modest rejoinder of the young man.

"Ah," she suggested, "what we need now is more poets like good old Omar, the tentmaker."

"Very true," assented the young man, "but the circuses have been consolidated to such an extent that no more than one poet could make a living by providing them with tents."

Truly the path of literature is a rocky road today.—Judge.

Careless Editor.

"Why did they discharge the Sunday editor?" asked the exchange man of the Daily Yellowhammer.

"Oh, he was too careless," explained the editor whose duties consisted of making in the cross in the picture to show where the bloodhounds lost the trail.

"He paid $50 for an article on 'Ancient Greek Sandals Becoming Popular in High Society.'"

"I don't see why he would be discharged for that."

"You don't? He thought it was 'sandals' instead of 'sandals'!"—Baltimore American.

"People always like a man who never kicks," said the person who is endeavoring to make the world brighter and better.

"Of course they do," answered Mr. Bliggins. "They have every reason to like him. He simply stands aside without protest and lets them help themselves to what belongs to him."—Washington Star.

Reason Enough.

"Porpus is awfully good to that new baby of his, but his wife can't get him to push it around in its carriage."

"Why not?"

"Why was it that they couldn't get along together?"

"Oh he stuttered so badly that she never had time to wait around and get in the last word."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Good Hearted Man.

or in other words, men with good sound hearts, are not very numerous. The increasing number of sudden deaths from heart disease daily chronicled by the press, is proof of the alarming prevalence of this dangerous complaint, and as no one can foretell just when a fatal collapse will occur, the danger of neglecting treatment is certainly a very risky matter. If you are short of breath, have pain in left side, smothering spells, palpitation, unable to lie on side, especially the left, you should begin taking

The $30,000 in bills which figured in the bribery cases attending the election of Senator Clark by the Montana legislature still remains a part of the archives of that state. GOV. BLISS INJURED

HORSE BOLTED WITH HIM IN WASHINGTON.

HIS FACE BADLY CUT AND ANKLE SPRAINED.

WAS PICKED UP FOR DEAD—RESTING COMFORTABLY.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—Governor Bliss' horse ran away with him yesterday with results that might have been more serious than they were. As it is, he is confined to his bed at the Arlington hotel, with his right ankle badly sprained, his left knee bruised, his left cheek and nose badly scratched and covered with court plaster, and a cut on his forehead which required two stitches to close.

How It Happened.

The accident happened within a few blocks of the end of the line of march. When the head column of Michigan veterans reached the reviewing stand in front of the White House Governor Bliss and Department Commander Anthony reined in their horses and drew up at the curb in front of the stand to review the column as it passed. As the last Michigan man went by they started to resume their positions at the head of the column, when the governor's horse bolted westward along Pennsylvania avenue. There was a crowd at the intersection of Seventeenth street and the avenue, which parted hurriedly when the runaway horse, with his rider sawing at the bit, was seen coming that way. Having passed the crowd, the beast kept on running up Pennsylvania avenue, and skirted Washington Circle at the intersection of Twenty-second street and went four or five blocks further, where there is a reverse curve in the street line. In attempting to make this double curve, the horse slipped on the asphalt pavement and fell on his right side, throwing the governor fifteen or twenty feet on the brick pavement.

Picked Up For Dead.

He was picked up unconscious and taken to the G. A. R. hospital in the White lot, south of the state, war, and navy building.

At first it was thought that the governor was dead, but he revived on the administration of stimulants, and further examination by the surgeons in charge of the hospital disclosed the injuries as stated above. As soon as the wound in his forehead was stitched up and his other injuries treated the governor was removed to his room at the Arlington hotel and several Michigan physicians, who are here attending the encampment, quickly offered their services. Dr. Bailey of Mackinaw was placed in charge of the patient and he was assisted by Dr. Griswold of Grand Rapids and Dr. Mary Strong of Jackson.

The Governor's Story.

"His statement of the accident was substantially as stated above and in addition the governor said: 'The horse was new to me, one that was selected by a member of the local committee, and I could not therefore know enough about him to be able to tell just how to manage him. At first I tried to pull him in, but found that his head was so drawn down that he was likely to slip on the hard, smooth pavement. I then eased up on him, and when we approached Washington Circle I tried to guide him onto the grass, but I did not succeed in that and then tried to guide him around the circle. Then he did just what I feared he would do—slipped on the asphalt and fell with my leg under him. The horse slid along the pavement on his side for a considerable distance, relieving the pressure on my leg and ankle, with the result that instead of a break it is only sprained a trifle.'

"I will be around all right in a few days and able to go home almost at once. I do not know what frightened the horse." He acted beautifully up to the time he bolted."

Train Ran Their Auto Down.
Youngstown, O., Oct. 9.—An automobile containing Harry Tod, John Tod, Frank Silver and Charles Stitt, was run down by an Erie train yesterday. Harry Tod was instantly killed and Charles Stitt received slight injuries. The others escaped injury. Harry Tod was a son of John Tod, a prominent capitalist, and a grandson of the late Governor Tod of Ohio.

MICHIGAN BRIEFS.

After F. R. D. Route.—A petition will be filed this week with the postmaster-general for a free rural delivery route in Menominee county. It is signed by several hundred farmers and postmaster Kern of Menominee will make every possible effort to have it instituted.

No More Reviews This Year.—The state tax commission can hold no further reviews after this week. Next week the county boards of supervisors will meet to equalize valuations. The result of the reviews held this year has been a marked increase in the aggregate assessments.

Scandal in Byron.—The village of Byron is all torn up over a scandal which has developed there. Mrs. Sarah Lind has brought suit for divorce against her husband, John B. Lind, alleging cruelty and jealousy. Lind claims he caught his wife and Abraham Westlake in a compromising position recently and files a red-hot cross bill.

Pontiac Will Get Its Gun.—Mayor Gilliot of Pontiac passed a contribution paper and the necessary amount was secured to pay the freight on the Spanish cannon which has been donated by the government to that city. The cannon, which will be located in the yard of the county jail, is now at Fort Mifflin, Philadelphia.

THE "GET-COAL" CONFERENCE

Convenes Today at Detroit—Many Prominent Men to Be There.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 9.—This is the day when representatives of close to a score of states will gather in Detroit to discuss the question of the hour—how to get coal. The conference will meet in the banquet hall of the Masonic temple.

Mayor Maybury will call the meeting to order, and then turn over the whole subject to the conference to deal with as it sees fit.

"We have our own ideas," the mayor said yesterday, "but we don't propose to give the visitors the impression that this is a cut and dried affair. We go into the conference merely as individuals."

Any person who has a certificate from a mayor or governor or any recognized commercial body will be entitled to a seat as a delegate.

Among the most prominent delegates are: Ex-Senator William B. Chandler of New Hampshire, Senator William Mason of Illinois, ex-Congressman W. C. P. Breckinridge of Kentucky, Mayor Samuel M. Jones of Toledo, Mayor Robert A. Smith of St. Paul, Mayor T. W. Hugo of Duluth, Alex. McDougall of Duluth, inventor of the famous whaleback steamers and barges; John Patton of Grand Rapids and ex-Governor Luce of Coldwater.

VILLAGE IS BURNING.

Forest Fires Destroying Koss, Near Menominee.

Menominee, Mich., Oct. 9.—The town of Koss, formerly called Fisher, twenty miles north of this city, is threatened with destruction by forest fires. Telegrams were received here and at Marinette asking assistance.

A fire engine at Marinette was loaded on a flat car and taken to the scene. The Menominee engine is in readiness. Word by wire from Koss says the whole town is burning and all will be razed to the ground. The entire woods surrounding the town are ablaze, and from present indications little, if anything, will be saved.

The Wisconsin & Michigan railroad stopped all trains on that branch when the alarm was given and hurried them to Menominee and Marinette for help. The last report says several houses and stores have been burned. The railroad company has placed its cars at the disposal of the citizens, in which they can store household goods. A high wind prevails. It is just thirty-one years ago that the great Peshtigo fire, in which many lost their lives, started.

Koss is a hamlet of 100 population on the W. & M. railroad, in Stephen son county, near the Wisconsin line.

Woman Charged With Murder.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 9.—For the first time in Detroit in recent years, a woman will be tried at this term of the recorder's court for the crime of murder. Martha Scott, a colored woman, is charged with the death of Henry Harrison, an old colored man, with whom she was living on Napoleon street, last summer and the trial will probably begin Friday or Saturday. The two quarreled on June 11 last and the woman claims that the old man was coming at her with a hammer when she picked up a revolver and shot him in the stomach, death occurring the next day.

Love of Wife Caused Suicide.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 9.—Byron E. Allen formerly of this city, committed suicide at San Bernardino, Cal., Tuesday by shooting himself through his brain. He had been desecrated by his wife three weeks ago. He had sent his fifteen-year-old son on an errand, and when the boy returned he found his father dead in the parlor, one hand clasping a revolver and the other a photograph of his wife. On a table was a hastily scrawled note saying: "I take my life with my own hand. May God forgive me." The Allen went to California two years ago and are possessed of considerable means.

Manchurian Territory Restored.

Pekin, Oct. 9.—The Manchurian territory lying south of the Liau river was restored to the Chinese today in accordance with the Manchurian agreement. Although reports show an increase in the trade of Manchuria, reforms are not expected there until the exactitude is completed, as Russia maintains her objection to the extension of the imperial post to the railroad and the interior and discourages trade.

CRIME IN THE STATE

ALLEGED MURDERER NEAR MENOMINEE KILLED.

SUPPOSED CASE OF FOUL PLAY AT ITHACA.

HARGRAVES MURDER CASE GOES TO THE JURY.

Menominee, Mich., Oct. 8.—Philip Arnold is the name of the alleged murderer of Joseph Bokcha, fireman on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, who was killed in his cab last week. Arnold shot down Otto Wendell at May's logging camp near Wausaukee Saturday morning. His body was identified at Wausaukee Monday by his father, a citizen of Keokauke, Wis., who took the remains home.

The dead man had been roaming about the woods terrorizing farmers with his rifle.

It was developed at the inquest that Arnold was shot five times, once by Wendell, the cook in the camp, and four times by Charles Olson, another cook. It seems that Olson rushed out of the camp on hearing the first shot, and finding Wendell fired at assumed that some violence had been done him and fired four shots at the fleeing man, all of which took effect in his back.

The examination of Wendell, who was arrested, was held yesterday at Wausaukee. He was held in $500 bonds for trial in circuit court on a charge of murder. The officers have not yet apprehended Olson.

Ithaca, Mich., Oct. 8.—The body of an unknown man was found on the tracks of the D. M. & N. railway, just this side of Carson City, one arm, a leg and his head being cut off. Everything points to a murder, the ground around showing signs that a scuffle had taken place. The officers suspect that the assassin, after murdering the man, placed him on the track to allay suspicion. The body was taken to Carson City, where an inquest was held, the jury finding that the unknown came to his death by being run over by the cars.

Sheriff Parrish and Prosecutor Kirby are confident that murder was done and say arrests will follow soon.

Traverse City, Mich., Oct. 8.—In his charge to the jury in the Hargraves murder trial Tuesday, Judge Mayne instructed them that the theory of murder in the first degree must not be considered. If their verdict is guilty, it could only be of murder in the second degree, manslaughter or a lesser crime. The closing argument for the prosecution and the judge's charge were finished by 10:50, when the jury retired.

At 6 o'clock last evening the jury asked Judge Mayne for an explanation of his instructions on certain points. The court submitted replies in writing.

The elimination of the first degree element in the case brightened Hargraves greatly.

The father of Cora Moe, living a short distance from Caro, makes the complaint, and states that his wayward daughter is only thirteen years old.

They were discussing suicides and the proneness of different peoples to depart in that way, when one of those engaged in the conversation turned to a colored man and asked: "Why is it that so few of your people take their own lives?" The editor of the Plymouth Mail has our thanks for supplying our reading table with a complimentary copy of his excellent paper.

Pupils in room 5 are wearing pretty bows made of blue or red ribbon on account of winning distinction among their classmates.

The first spelling contest of the year in the high school took place last Friday afternoon. Miss Pearl Little of the tenth grade spelled correctly the greatest number of words.

"Burke's Conciliation with the Colonies" is being studied by our ninth grade pupils as a part of their English work, while the tenth grade is reading the "Merchant of Venice" and the eleventh and twelfth grades the "Vicar of Wakefield."

The fifty-nine little people of the third grade are divided into two divisions and at one and in front of each division is suspended a golden star. When one division does not do as well as the other their star comes down. Perhaps that does not cause them to work?

Avenue Theatre, Detroit.

The matinees at the Avenue theatre Detroit, are becoming more popular every week and visitors to Detroit find it a delightful place for entertainment. The famous Russell Brothers in their new act "A Romance of New Jersey," which they have never presented in Detroit will headline next week's program.

Whitney's Opera House—Detroit.

"Her Marriage Vow," which will be presented at the Whitney theatre for one week, beginning Oct. 12 with matinee, is a sensational comedy drama that is radiant with color, and is said to be one of the best attractions of its kind produced in years. There is plenty of excitement in the production, as things of a startling nature happen in rapid succession. In the presentation of the piece a company of exceptional ability is promised.

Wonderland Temple Theatre—Detroit.

The following well known actors and actresses will appear on the excellent vaudeville program that Manager Moore of Wonderland and Temple theatre Detroit, has secured for next week. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pantzer, two of the cleverest eccentric comedians that have ever come to this country from Europe; Blockson and Burns, Loris and Altina, the greatest living sharp shooters, Cook and Sonora, in their lively skit, "Going into Vaudeville;" Mr. and Mrs. G. Lote Silver, Johnson and Wells, and the great French violinist, Emile Chevrier.

Wood Yarn.

Wood yarn, as now manufactured in Germany, is stated to cost about half as much as cotton yarn. It is supplied in the natural gray state, and does not bleach well, but can be dyed almost any color. It is claimed to be well adapted for a variety of uses, such as hangings for garments, bed ticks, blinds, crumb cloths, etc.

Lycium Theatre—Detroit.

Miss Eugenie Blair, who has always enjoyed an exceptional following in this city, will be seen in David Belasco's original production of "Zaza" at the Lycium theatre for one week, beginning Oct. 12th. When Mr. Gressitt secured the great emotional actress, Miss Eugenie Blair, to star in his magnificent production of the celebrated play of "Zaza," which for three seasons has had phenomenal success in America, Paris and London, he enlisted not only the services of the most brilliant actress of the present day, whose temperament is peculiarly fitted to the arduous strain of such a strong dramatic role, but was fortunate enough to combine in Miss Blair's personality, great beauty as well as artistic ability. Miss Blair also richly deserves the distinction of being the best dressed woman on the stage.

Air For Fuel.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 8.—Charles H. Bennett of 38 Congress street, this city, has invented and on exhibition a soft coal, or slack-burning, heating stove so constructed as to burn 75 per cent oxygen to 25 per cent coal. The draft is reversed and smoke and gas consumed. It is attracting much attention on account of economy in fuel.

Killed the Maniac.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Oct. 8.—The man who killed Fireman Glecha in his cab on the St. Paul road last week was a crazy man named Arnold. The maniac appeared near the scene of his crime Monday night and demanded supper from the camp cook. Instead of obeying the command the cook went for his rifle, and shot Arnold dead.

Acknowledged His Guilt.

Howell, Mich., Oct. 8.—John Jensen, a farm laborer, has been held for trial on a charge preferred by Lulu Brown, aged thirteen, who works at the same place. He admitted his guilt when arraigned.

NORTHVILLE.

The City in Brief.

Rev. J. W. Shank and family are moving into the Methodist parsonage.

The Epworth League will have a hash supper in the rink Wednesday night, Oct 15th. Price, 15c.

Miss Grace Yerkes of the U. of M. had the honor of being elected captain of the Junior basketball team last week.

The supply of potatoes on the local market seems to lack considerable of being equal to the demand just at present.

Many Northville people are anticipating hearing "Charlie" Townsend again when he speaks at Plymouth the 27th of this month.

Hon. W. W. Wedemeyer gave fine addresses in behalf of Mr. Townsend at Sheldon's Wednesday evening and Taylor Center Thursday evening.

Regular communication of Northville lodge, F. & A. M., Monday evening, Oct 13th. Will work third degree. Lunch will be served after the work.

It is safe to say that everybody has appreciated and enjoyed the several beautiful days the weather department has furnished this week. If they haven't they ought to be rained on some more.

There will be no Episcopal service here Sunday as Mr. Ramsay will be absent, having been elected delegate to the convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, which is meeting in Boston, Mass., this week.

It is reported that a Northville man grew $3.00 worth of ginger root on a plot of ground only eleven feet square. Must be some mistake—Minor Times.

No mistake anywhere, unless Mr. Shafer made one when he didn't move his house off and plant his whole lot to the valuable crop.

The ladies of the Methodist church will have a chicken pie supper in their church dining room on October 29th and the old price of 20 cents for an elegant supper will be charged, notwithstanding the high price of chickens and consequent close watch kept upon poultry houses.

Another of Northville's old soldiers, James Hamilton, has just received an increase of pension and is now drawing $14 a month as his friends will be glad to know. Mr. Hamilton's poor health made it especially necessary and desirable that this deserved recognition of his services to his country should come to him.

Shetland Floss, formerly $1.25 per pound, now 98c at Miss Boyce's.

Wm. Pinkerton and family are now occupying their new home on Center street.

A number from here will go to Plymouth tomorrow—Saturday night to hear Congressman Henry C. Smith speak in the opera house there.

Congressman Henry C. Smith is showing his generosity and his high opinion of his successful opponent for the nomination to congress from this district by the fact that he makes eighteen speeches for Mr. Townsend during the campaign.

Rev. Saanks is the pastor assigned to the M. E. church at Northville. When he makes pastoral calls, he will probably ride Shanks' horses but will not ask any one to foot the bill. It ought to be a kneeey thing for him to walk all over Northville. —Adrian Press.

The Baptist Aid society will serve its annual chicken pie supper in the rink next week Tuesday evening. Supper will be ready at five o'clock and will continue until all are served. You know our record for good suppers, therefore we ask your patronage. Supper tickets only 20 cents.

George H. Baker of Elsie who has been night superintendent for the Detroit United Railway at Farmington Junction for the past two months has been forced to resign his position temporarily because of sickness in his family. He will probably resume work for the company in the spring.

The Northville-High school boys went over to South Lyon last Friday and kicked the stuff out of the foot ball furnished by the High school boys there and wound up by a score of 17 to 0 in favor of Northville. In one of the jam piles Lawrence Johnson of this place was rendered unconscious but he has since fully recovered.

Jackson Citizen: Hon Charles E. Townsend is making a splendid canvass of his district. Every where he goes he is greeted with enthusiasm and his able and convincing talks are removing all trace of prejudice and all doubt of his independence and ability. This was especially true of his address at the Washtenaw county convention, where he made a host of friends.

We are assured by the most reliable weather prophets in the business that there isn't any necessity for all this worry about the coal problem as an open winter is a sure thing according to the muskrats and the coons. The former animals are not building any cold weather houses and the latter have not laid on their usual winter supply of fat, but are as poor as the proverbial crow.

Last summer an apparent epidemic of broken mainsprings in watches puzzled our local jeweler and incidentally the owners of the watches. The following from a Washington jeweler may perhaps explain, in view of the many severe thunder storms of the season. "An electrical storm seems to have a peculiar effect on some timepieces. Every time lightning and thunder get active in this vicinity one of the results is that our watch repairing department is overworked for several days thereafter. The damage wrought chiefly consists of broken mainsprings. I am unable to make clear the why and wherefore, but it is an established fact that after the lightning has frolicked awhile in comes the mainsprings wrecked."

Stops the Cough and Works Off the Cold.
Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No Cure, No Pay. Price 25 cents.

The Northville L. O. T. M. will give an autumn party Friday evening, Oct. 17th, the first of their series for the winter.

Congressman John Dalsell of Pennsylvania will speak at the Republican mass meeting at Wyandotte on October 16th in Mr. Townsend's interest.

Joslin & McKahan have been offered as high as $10 per ton for their 100 tons of black diamonds, but they are not to be tempted and as far as possible they propose to supply their old customers at $7.50.

Mrs. R. C. Cameron was very pleasantly surprised Saturday evening at her parents' home by twenty-six of her lady friends. Progressive pedro and finch were indulged in. Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Stark, prize winners.

Methodist Church Notes.

(By the Pastor.)

The new pastor is glad to learn that space is open in these valuable columns to church notices. His acquaintance with the lines of church work here is yet too limited to make announcements in this issue further than to say that for next Sunday evening he will give a prelude upon the coal situation.

Baptist Church Notes.

Our pastor preached in the Union church at Livonia Center last Sunday and has promised to supply them for a few Sundays this fall.

Next Sunday morning the theme will be "Blooming Valleys," evening subject, "Caring for the Flock," service to begin at 7.00 o'clock.

A large number of Northville people were in attendance at the Wayne Baptist association held in Plymouth last week. Many words of commendation were spoken concerning the Junior drill given by the Northville Juniors. A most excellent spirit prevailed throughout the entire meeting.

ICE IN YOUR RIVERS

Ice Congests and Stops Commerce—So Uric Acid Flakes Rheumatic Pains.

Imagine how your bones would feel if they were bumped and buffeted by a river of floating ice. If you have Rheumatism you know the twinges and spasms of pain in your body. Uric acid is the cause of it—it floats in your blood like ice in a river, clogging and poisoning your entire system. You cannot be freed from Rheumatism until you dispel the Uric acid. Athlophoros will dissolve it, and you will note immediate lessening of pain.

Your entire system will feel better, and if you have had kidney trouble or any organic difficulty you will note a marked improvement at once—one bottle will prove it if it is helping you, you will find the dollar to be your best investment if Athlophoros works on you as it does on others. If your druggist doesn't keep it send $1 to The Athlophoros Co., New Haven, Conn. If your case is peculiar, write us about it.

"INCURABLE" HEART DISEASE SOON CURED!

By The Great Specialist in Treating Weak and Diseased Hearts, Franklin Miles, M. D., L. L. B.

Will Send $4.00 Worth of His Special Treatment Free as a Trial.

To Demonstrate the unusual curative powers of his new and complete special treatments by mail for heart disease, short breath, pain in the side, oppression in the chest, irregular pulse, palpitation, smothering spells, puffing of the cheeks, or dropsy, Dr. Miles will send four dollars worth free as a trial, to all who mention this paper.

His treatments are the result of twenty-five years of careful study, extensive research, and remarkable experience in treating the various ailments of the heart, stomach and nerves, which so often complicate each case. So astonishing are the results of his complete special treatments that he does not hesitate to offer all persons a trial free.

Nothing could be more generous. Few physicians have such confidence in their remedies. There is no reason why every afflicted person should not avail themselves of this exceedingly liberal offer, as they may never have another such opportunity. No death comes as suddenly as that from heart disease.

Mrs A. Krom of Huntington, Ind., was cured after thirty physicians failed. Mrs. Flora Granger of Bristolville, O., after twenty-two, Jas R. Waite, the noted actor, after a severe attack, pronounced him incurable. Cancer is Contagious.

Long and careful inquiries by German doctors indicate that cancer is not probably hereditary, but that it is perniciously contagious. In certain districts the number of sufferers in proportion to the population is much larger every year than in other areas. Dogs and cats in many instances become cancerous, but few horses and cattle are attacked. Men and women are stricken on the average earlier in life in this generation than in those which preceded it.

World's Largest Grapevine.

The largest grapevine in the world is growing in a secluded spot of the Carpinteria valley, Santa Barbara county, California. Its trunk measures eight feet three inches in circumference, and some of its branches three feet in circumference. Its branches cover nearly a half acre and require a frame having sixty stout posts to support it. It is kept cut back every year or it would cover a much larger area.

No danger of consumption if you take Foley's Kidney and Urinary Pills.

An Emperor's Checkboard.
The most valuable draughtboard in existence is in the possession of the German emperor, who is a great lover of the game. The squares of the board are made of silver and gold, to represent the usual light and dark colored leather. The draughts are of silver and gold, having a diamond or a ruby in the center of each.

Earthquakes in Austria.

Since 1895 earthquakes in Austria have been recorded by instruments installed under the direction of a government commission. In 1898, 209 shocks, mostly small, were noted; in 1899, 190, and in 1900, 169. Reports are regularly received from a large number of volunteer observers, and several complete seismological observatories are maintained.

Hard-Working German Doctor.

Dr. Doyen, who recently returned to Paris after a trip across the Rhine, speaks in the highest terms of his German colleagues and their conscientious and successful labors. He mentions as an example the famous surgeon, Dr. Bergmann, who, although he is 60 years old, begins his day's work at 6 o'clock and keeps it up all day, his clinic where he operates before students being visited by over 200 patients every day.

THEY ALL SAY SO.

Not Only in Northville, But in Every City and Town in the Union.

If the reader took the time and trouble to ask his fellow-residents of Northville the simple question given below he would obtain the one answer. If he would read the statements now being published in Northville, which refer to this answer, it would surprise him to note that they number so many. And many more could be, and may be, published, but to the meaning ask the first person you meet what cures backache? The answer will be Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a citizen who endorses our claim:

Mr. Charles Elliott, drayman, living on River street, says: "I am only too pleased to add my testimony to the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Murdock Bros' drug store. They have been used in my family with the best results more especially by my wife, who was annoyed with a dull aching pain in her back. I never hear her complain now. We both endorse Doan's Kidney Pills as the finest remedy on the market. We heartily recommend them to all sufferers from backache or other kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50c per box. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

Joke on Professor.

A pretty joke was recently played on a well-known professor at Berlin by some students, who walked in his door one evening with some bricks and mortar which they discovered near his house. In consequence of this, much to the delight of the students, the professor was unable to deliver his usual morning lecture, and remained a prisoner in his house until some workmen arrived and pulled down the wall.

Natural Anxiety.

Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily. No disease costs more "little lives" than croup. Its attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. It liquefies the mucus, allays inflammation, removes danger absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. F. S. McMahon, Hampton, Ga.: "A bad cold rendered me voiceless just before an oratorical contest. I intended to withdraw but took One Minute Cough Cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." Murdock Bros.

First Born Long Lived.

The first born of parents have a much longer life than their brothers and sisters who come after them. This fact is demonstrated by statistics collected by life insurance companies. Longevity is also said to be hereditary.

Master and Slave

BY T. H. THORPE

will be our next serial.

In weaving a touching tale growing out of the relations of master and slave the talented author has produced

A tender love romance running through the story adds to the absorbing interest.

Publication will begin in a few days.

Northwest Wheat Production.

The agricultural book of the Northwest territories shows that in four years the production of wheat has increased from 5,542,478 bushels to 12,508,247 bushels, and of oats from 3,040,307 bushels to 9,716,132 bushels.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach, and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good. All over Mrs. Crabbill, of Troy, I. T., writes: "For 20 years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take it dose after meals. It digests what you eat. Murdock Bros."

Miniature Court in Paris.

The Duc d'Orleans, not being able to enter France and carry on the royalist propaganda himself, is doing it by deputy. The Duchesse d'Orleans has been spending some time in Paris and holding a kind of miniature court at Hotel Continental. Deputations of various kinds were received, but the indifference with which the whole affair was regarded proves how harmless the move really was.

Brönchitis for Twenty Years.
Mrs. Minerva Smith, of Danville, Ill., writes: "I had brönchitis for twenty years and never got relief until I used Foley's Honey and Tar, which is a sure cure." Contains no opiates. Murdock Bros.

Is Erecting Fine Drinking Fountain.
James B. Duke, president of the tobacco trust, has begun the erection at Raritan, N. J., of what he expects to be the finest public drinking fountain in America. It is to be located on his extensive preserves, a few miles from Plainfield, and will cost about $30,000, with a bronze statue which Mr. Duke purchased in Italy for $25,000.

Goes Like Hot Cakes.

"The fastest selling article I have in my store," writes Druggist C. T. Smith, of Davis, Ky., "is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, because it always cures. In my six years of sales it has never failed. I have known it to save sufferers from Throat and Lung diseases, who could get no help from doctors or any other remedy." Mothers rely on it, best physicians prescribe it and Geo. C. Hueston guarantees satisfaction or refunds price. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes, 50c and $1.

Will Scale the Himalayas.

An attempt to climb the highest Himalayas will be made this year by a party consisting of three Englishmen, two Austrians and a Swiss. They will begin with the Godwin Austen, 28,250 feet high, and Dapsang, 28,665 feet high. If they are successful they will then try Mount Everest, the highest mountain in the world, 29,000 feet high. The Himalaya record is held by Sir Martin Conway, who climbed the Pioneer peak, 21,000 feet high, ten years ago.

Record Coil of Wire Rope.

The largest coil of wire rope ever made in Brooklyn was turned out by a rope company of that city last week. It measured 17,700 feet in length, or over three miles, without a break, and weighed 22,030 pounds. It is for use in a bituminous coal mine, was made of forty-two strands of crucible cast steel, took sixteen days to manufacture and was valued at $2,300.

A boon to travelers. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Cures dysentery, diarrhoea, sickness, nausea. Pleasant to take. Acts promptly.

Undiscovered Cuba.

After more than 400 years it appears that Cuba has not yet been entirely discovered. Much of it and many of its treasures are yet unknown, according to the recent report made by Governor-General Wood. He says that after the centuries of Spanish occupancy there are large portions of the island that have never been prospected, and practically remain undiscovered, so far as knowledge of what they contain goes.

Singular Coincidences.

Twice in his long military service of forty years has the number nineteen figured prominently in the life of Col. Edmund Rice of the United States army. Back in the sixties, when he won his medal of honor at Gettysburg, he was in command of the old Nineteenth Massachusetts, which he brought home. He has recently won his star as colonel of regulars and is now in command of the Nineteenth Infantry, which will be stationed at Royal Island, San Francisco.

Where Gold May Abound.
Mysterious forests surround the mapped headwaters of the Amazon river where hidden gold mines are thought to be, guarded by a large tribe of Indians known as the Napos. These Napo Indians have brought out significant evidence of the richness of the placer mines. In Quito gold dust is the standard currency, which they bring in hollow bamboo points heavy with grains and dust of the precious metal, which is washed out by the most primitive methods.

A Dozen Times a Night.

Mr. Owen Dunn, of Benton Ferry, W. Va., writes: "I have had kidney and bladder trouble for years, and it came so bad that I was obliged to get up at least a dozen times a night. I never received any permanent benefit from any medicine until I tried Foley's Kidney Cure. After using two bottles, I am cured."

Lighthouse Keeper's Hard Life.

Captain Milton Reamy, who has charge of the lighthouse on Minot's Ledge, off the coast of Massachusetts, has been seventeen years in the service and draws a larger salary ($1,000 a year) than any other keeper on the New England coast. Because of the especial desolation and loneliness of Minot's Ledge the keepers are allowed to spend half their time ashore on the lighthouse reservation in Cohasset.

Suburban News.

Mr. Pepperett of Sumpter was out walking the other day when he happened to see a squirrel. He had a loaded shot gun with him, and when he saw the animal of course his first thought was to pepper it. He did so, but the deputy game warden happened to see him. Pepperett $8 paid the bill.

Wrandotte P. O. receipts were $2.00 by last year on account of one firm in that city changing its advertising system but the concern probably made up the more than that amount of "stamps" if it advertised through the newspapers instead of the mails, to say nothing of the saving of tongue wear and tear by not having to do all the licking required for such a lot of mail matter.

The ice cream social at town hall was postponed until the 5th inst., on account of the Baptist association - Plymouth Mail.

Seems 'd that was a mistake. Wouldn't it have been better to have moved either the ice cream or the town hall to a convenient place for the patronage of the association? Baptists don't like water so well but that they have room in their affections for ice cream as good Americans ought to have.

Another instance of the undesirable effects of a rainy summer is illustrated at Wayne. The pipe organ in one of the churches there has been so affected by the dampness that it refuses to work—or play either. This is an organ stop that could be dispensed with. The musicians are so disappointed about it that they don't like even dew yet any more. However it is a case where it doesn't do a bit of good to blow.

A lot of Ypsilanti people were victimized by a man selling "asbestos" ware. He did not stay long in the town but the buyers of the articles did not find out until he was gone that their purchases would stand any heat at all. They would make it so hot for the seller if they could find him that he would be of a little practical use when they got through with him as his fake furnishings for loonish folks.

Somebody has given the Birmingham Electric a whooper of a sugar beet weighing 10½ pounds and the donor made the obviously erroneous (?) statement that he picked out the smallest specimen he could find in an 80 acre field. Well, even at that, other newspapers have had bigger beats than those in their offices. Some have been known to weigh more than 200 pounds, but the per cent of sugar was very small.

The Riley family consisting of six brothers and sisters from various places held a reunion at the home of a sister, Mrs. Seeley, in Pontiac recently. All were born in Oakland county except the oldest brother who is seventy-two years of age, and there has never been a death among them. The youngest is fifty-four. They are no relation to the famous "Mr. Riley" of the song, although his name they are spoken of so highly.

Mrs. Weatherwax of Terre Haute, Ind., was called home in a hurry from a visit in Wyandotte by a fake telegram stating that her husband, a very deaf man, had been hurt. Perhaps he might have been injured a long time ago and just heard of it, or perhaps he wanted to test his wife's affection, or maybe he just wanted to see her, but anyway it's safe to infer that he perceived the Weatherwax warm when she got there and discovered the hoax.

Scotch Lion kids have revived the practice of attaching "tuck tacks" to people's windows and the local paper reminds the parents that somebody's youngsters are liable to be filled full of shot by some pious person who don't know the meaning of the unearthy noises made by these "instruments of torture" or may be some one who does. It would almost be justifiable homicide, as any one will agree who has ever been scared by one of the little infernal machines in question.

Out of Death's Jaws.

"When death seemed very near from a severe stomach and liver trouble that I had suffered with for years," writes P. M. M. Durham, N. C., "Dr. King's New Life Pills saved my life and gave perfect health." Best pills on earth and only 25c at Geo. C. Hueston's drug store.

Relic of Chickamauga.

Major William H. Lambert of Germantown, Pa., has in his library a piece of a tin trunk five feet in height and 18 inches in diameter, taken from the battlefield of Chickamauga. There are eleven pieces of metal in it, all shot fired during the terrible struggle there. The shot vary in size from an ordinary rifle bullet to a big cannon ball.

Gained Forty Pounds in Thirty Days.

For several months our younger brother had been troubled with indigestion. He tried several remedies but got no benefit from them. Navy Consists of One Ship.

Morocco holds the record for possessing the smallest navy in the world. It consists of only one ship, the Hassan. Until recently a peculiar feature of this vessel was that it had no guns. A short time ago, however, the Sultan purchased some light pieces of ordnance and had them mounted.

Not Hopeful of Success.

The minister of a rural parish, in Scotland, having neglected to pray for rain in time of drought, a deputation was appointed to wait upon him and remonstrate with him on the subject. After hearing what he had to say he replied, "Well, well, I'll pray for rain to please ye, but the fount a drap ye'll get till the change o' the moon."

Frau Berger's Story.

BY CELIE GAINES.

"YOU look very happy this afternoon, Frau Berger!"

"Why not?" she answered. "My man is coming, you know."

Frau Berger was a typical old German lady, very "thick" as to proportions and very "frosy" as to complexion. Her hair, which had evidently been blond, was now perfectly white, and the knitting in her fat little hands was the brightest of scarlet stockings.

We were sitting on the piazza awaiting the arrival of the stagecoach. Her blue eyes sparkled so pleasantly behind her eyeglasses that I involuntarily drew my rocking chair nearer.

"How pretty she must have been as a girl!" I thought.

Perhaps she read my thoughts or something in my expression suggested confidence, for she presently smoothed out her knitting meditatively.

"Ach, ja! I have been in America 40 years, and I have also been married 40 years, fraulein."

"How did you happen to come?" I inquired eagerly, and with the funniest little accent she began:

"I tell you tout that—something very strange: One day I met my husband, next day I love him, next day I marry him! You laugh? We also laugh about it now."

"It was the first day of June. The winter had been a time of much sickness in Germany, and my father and mother had both died in—less than three months. I had no brothers, no sisters, and I was but 18 years old."

"We were not rich people, and I knew not what to do at all."

"One of my cousins was married, and I went to her house, but her husband was an old man and very cross. She was so kind as a sister to me, but he was jealous that she loved me so much and seemed always to be angry to me. I helped take care of the children and worked what I could, but he did not like me, and I was so unhappy. Many times I thought I would go away, but did not know where to go."

"One day I walked out with the little girl. She was running ahead of me, but all at once she stumbled and fell. I hurried to pick her up, but before I reached her I saw a young man stoop down and lift her up. She was generally a very shy child, but her little head lay quite quietly on his shoulder as he comforted her. I was frightened, but something in the way his great strong arms held her little form gave me courage, and I tried to thank him."

"Your sister?" he asked, glaring from her to me.

"No!" I replied, "my cousin. Shall I not take her?" and I held up my arms—so. But she only buried her face on his shoulders and would not look at me. But he looked at me very hard. I knew my cousin's husband would scold because I had let the child fall, and I was so miserable the tears just came into my eyes and ran down my face. He saw it, I know, but he turned to the little girl again.

"What is your name, little one?" he asked.

"Little Muller," she answered.

"And where do you live?"

"I show you!" And when he put her down she took hold of his hand and pulled him after her, for it was not far.

"Now you know, fraulein, there are so many Mullers in Germany like there are Smiths in America, but when we came to the house he said 'Why, here lives my friend Muller!'"

"And, sure enough, we all went in. Then I heard his name, Carl Berger, for Herr Muller had known him since he was a little boy and was very glad to see him. They talked a long time and that young man laughed and seemed to be so happy. 'In two days,' he said, 'I am leaving the fatherland to go to America. I seek my fortune there. A young country is better for a young man!'"

"I had thought many times of America myself, and it seemed to me for a minute as if he was an angel sent to tell me about it."

"Oh sir, I cried, 'please tell us some more about America!'"

"You know, I was but 18 years old, and joys and sorrows were all very great to me—very real, indeed. Am I tiring you?" asked Frau Berger.

"Please go on," I begged. "I am afraid the coach will come before I hear the rest."

"It is really not much of a story. In truth it was far too short. Well, the next morning I was dusting, when suddenly the bell rang. Herr Muller was just going out, so he opened the door."

"I stopped and listened. I knew that voice. Had I not been dreaming of it all night? It was his. In a moment they would both come into the wohnstube. Ach! I remembered the rose of yesterday and was so ashamed. What if Herr Muller should know of that? Was it very wrong? Why did he come back after saying goodbye? A hundred thoughts like that went through my mind in a moment. What could I say? Where could I go. I was standing near the sofa. It was a high backed, old fashioned one."

"Come in! Come in!" I heard Herr Muller saying. "Very friendly, I am sure, to come to see us again before you go."

"Ah, how I had wished to see him again, and how I would rather have seen the whole German army come in to that room as that same pleasant young man, and just as the door opened I fell on my knees behind the sofa and was quite out of sight."

"Then they took seats and began to talk. Every word they said I remember like it was only yesterday."

"Herr Muller, I have something to ask you."

"So? What you want ask me, eh? And that young man answered, 'I want you to let me ask the fraulein, your wife's cousin, if she will marry me.' 'Thunder weather!' roared Herr Muller, which in the German language is an extremely bad swear. 'What man! You will go to a strange land to make your fortune, and now you want to take that 'blind' that child, with you for your bride! You can never be such a fool!'"

"Then I heard that young man laugh a little. 'I understand how you think about it,' he said. 'Most always a man in love is called a fool, but I cannot help it. I love her more than all the world. Since yesterday I have thought of nothing else. It is true I have not much money, but so long as I have two hands she shall want for nothing.'"

"By and by my cousin came in and talk a long while. His family, she said, were old friends of hers, and she knew he was a 'very fine young man also,' but America was such a very far country, and I was very young. Oh, how my heart beat there behind the sofa on my knees! It seemed to me that they must hear it almost."

"I nearly tried to stop my breathing. I was so still—so afraid they would find me, you know."

"After awhile I heard young Berger say, 'All I ask is that you allow me to speak to her. If she will not marry me now, I will go and work alone, and after a few years I will come back for her, for of one thing I am entirely sure—only with her can I be happy.'"

"Then my cousin went to call me, and she called and called, but I made no answer, and Herr Muller became angry."

"Where is she gone?" he asked. "She is never there when you want her. What a crazy harum scarum that girl is!"

"Then he called very loud, and at last he ran out into the garden, where I often used to go, to seek me. I was trembling all over, but I peeked out from behind the sofa, and there sat my poor Berger with his elbows on his knees and his face in his hands. I got up very softly and came out. The first thing I noticed was that he had a faded rose in his coat. I stood quite still for a moment looking at him, and presently he sighed and raised his face and saw me. Ach, I don't know how that was any more now, but when my cousin and her husband came back into the wohnstube Herr Berger's arm was around my waist, and somehow, I was afraid of nothing—not even of Herr Muller."

"Well, the next morning after that we got married. Yes, it is true, it was very quick, but you see he had bought his ticket already, and he must go. I had not indeed much—what you call trousseau. I had some linen of my mother's, like every German girl have, and my cousin gave me some more things."

"Berger laughed, and I thought he looked so nice when he laughed."

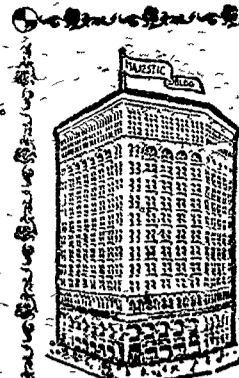

"The greatest travelers," he said to me, 'always have the least luggage to bother them. Everybody will think we are old travelers.'"

"But it all seemed like one dream to me until we stood on the deck of the big ship and I saw Deutschland and my cousins' faces growing farther and farther away every minute and at last could see them no more, and the ocean and the life before me seemed so strange, so wide."

"But my husband's arm was around me, and I tried to look up at him and smile, although the tears would come into my eyes, and I was so glad when he said 'I was a brave girl!'"

"Thank God, I can say now, when I am a white haired old woman, that a better man never lived, and we have also had very good luck. At first we both worked hard, but now we have all that we could wish, and the best thing that I could ever say to my child is that they should try to be like their father!"

"Ah, here is the coach!" And in another moment all my romantic imaginings were shattered by beholding my fat little heroine, panting with the exertion and delight, towing into the hotel a huge, corpulent, florid faced, bald headed and very jolly looking German, whom I afterward learned to know as the millipede brewer, Mr. Carl Berger."
