COUNTY POLITICS ALREADY STIRRING

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE EARLY IN THE FIELD.

Sheriff Will Probably Get the Most Attention.

That things are doing in county politics at this early date speaks well for the strenuous time that is to follow under the new primary system to be tried for the first time a year from this fall. The republican candidates are especially early in their announcements and from one to three or more names are chalked up for each event.

Ald. Billy Magee has his eye on Sheriff Dickson's job and his friends say he has quite a lead by being "a jolly good fellow" and a vote-getter. George Beck still says "there are others" and has his racing clothes in the wash and will warm up for the race in time to pace the other fellows out. Johnnie Baggetty, the genial Springwells brickmaker, has been talked for the same place and may be induced to get in the game just to make it interesting. Another candidate that is being mentioned as a dark horse is Sheridan Colby, author of Wayne county's primary law. Colby has no money to put in the campaign but his friends say his fight in the legislature for a primary law will make him solid enough to get in and come under the wire ahead of all the other fellows. Any how the sheriff race promises to be the most interesting one on the program even if the last legislature did have the audacity to cut the salary down to $5,000 per.

For the office of county clerk there are just two entries reported up to date. One is Deputy Sheriff Louie Heinra and the other is Will McGregor, the present incumbent. Mr. McGregor is holding down his chair now for the third time but McGregor does it in such a way that the public never get tired of him and they fall over each other to pass around the pole and ask the smiling "Billy" to cut off another chunk. Heinra says he is going after the clerkship in dead earnest and says he really expects to land it. However Mr. McGregor's friends are not worrying and they point to his record, both as an official and a smooth politician, and say that if he goes after it there won't be anything to it.

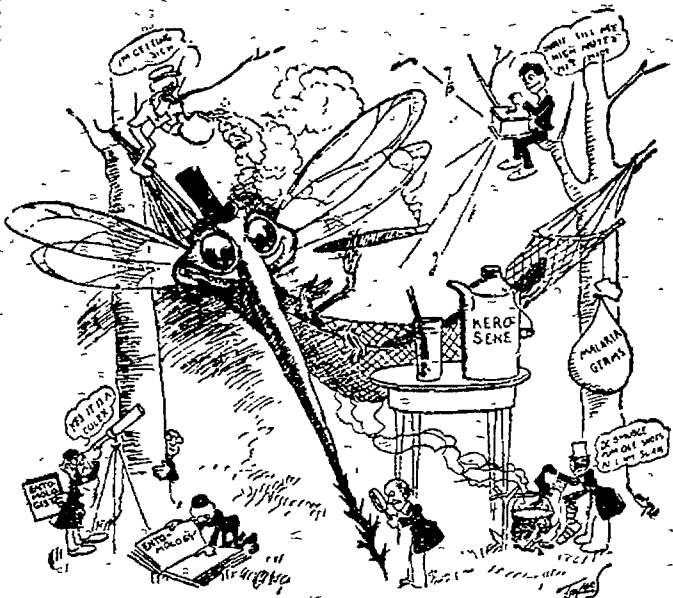

For the county treasurership ex-Ald. Jake Haurer, George Lawrence and Charles Buhner are now mentioned as prospective candidates. Those who claim to be able to pick winners say that Haurer is the only man so far mentioned who could hope to beat the big, jovial, smiling Fred Snow, the democrat who is now handling the county's cash and who so badly defeated the republican candidate, Fred Marachner, last fall. Snow is certainly a fine fellow to meet and the man who does beat him next year will know he has been in a race any how.

Register of Deeds Gully is serving his first term and he is not likely to have any opposition for another whack at his same job. The little dissatisfaction in some directions last fall at some of Mr. Gully's appointments will in all probability be worn away by the time another battle takes place.

A new county auditor will be nominated next fall. The present incumbent Hawley Christian-vill, it is said, is a candidate to succeed himself. The office by law goes to the country and there may be several candidates before the bookings are all done. The names of Supervisor George Jones of Trenton, Wm. Campbell of Wyandotte and Supervisor Benton of Northville have been mentioned but no real announcement has come from any of them yet, it probably being thought too early to make a jump so far ahead.

As was said at the beginning with all this array of talent already to guess on, the race promises to be lively when the season opens in earnest. All conventions are done away with so far as Wayne county affairs are concerned and anyone can be a candidate and have his name on the ticket who pays the entrance fee.

IRA LYON HURT

Fell from House Where He Was at Work at Flint.

Ira Lyon of this place fell from an old cement house that was being torn down on the Pere Marquette four miles south of Flint Saturday, striking on his head and shoulders. He was taken to the Flint hospital, suffering from concussion of the spine. He was one of the railroad bridge gang.

He was able to be brought to his home here last night on a cot and is slowly recovering.

DID GREAT SHOOTIN'

Hance of Sand Hill DID IT Here
Friday

Fifty trapshooters from Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Livingston counties participated in a tournament here Friday. Hamilton and Hance of Sand Hill won the Peters Cartridge Co's trophy. Hance broke 19 out of 20 and Hamilton 15 out of 20. M. F. Stanley of this place made the highest average, breaking 99 out of 107, and George Stanley was second with 97 out of 100. Hance's score of 19 out of 20 was certainly remarkable and he will be a lively factor in the state shoot here next month.

Death of James Savage.

The funeral of James Savage, father of James Savage and Miss S. W. Knapp of this place, was held from the Knapp residence Tuesday. The officiating clergyman, Rev. J. M. Shank, emphasized strongly in his remarks the value of a long and upright life like that of the deceased and its influence upon family and associates. Mr. Savage, who was a resident of Northville for 35 years or more, died Sunday at his home in Detroit. He was a prominent musician here and in Detroit for many years and was widely known as a band leader and player.

He was about 85 years of age and leaves one son and two daughters besides the ones living here. The burial was in Rural Hill cemetery.

Obituary.

Maude Matson, whose death was briefly noted last week, was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Matson. She was born Sept. 30, 1856 and died August 4, 1903. Of a sunny, loving disposition, she endeared herself to all who knew her, and her weary weeks of suffering were borne without a murmur. When told she could not recover, she made all arrangements for her burial and could trustingly say, "Thy will, not mine." Her parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their hour of bereavement.

Card of Thanks.

Words cannot express our appreciation of the many acts of kindness and sympathy shown by our friends during the sickness and burial of our dear daughter. To all who sent flowers or assisted in any way and to Mr. and Mrs. Stanbro for their beautiful music we extend our heartfelt thanks.

MR. AND MRS. ALVIN MATSON.

JUDGE WEBSTER'S COURT

Another Busy Day There Yesterday
—Five Arrests.

Wednesday evening Wm Wallace and his two sons, Lester and Frank, and Wm. Nolan and wife, while under the influence of "evil spirits" engaged in a noisy row and were all arrested by Marshall Taft except Frank who made a dash for liberty, and at the same time an unapproachable sprinting record, and got away. The rest of the party—which included two dogs and a bird in a cage—spent the night in the village castle. Yesterday Wallace and his son Lester pleaded guilty in Judge Webster's court to a charge of being drunk and disorderly, paid fines and costs amounting to $13.00 and $5.00 respectively, in lieu of 30 days "up," and departed. The Nolans demanded a jury trial and the six good men and true found them guilty of being drunk but recommended them to the mercy of the court. The court gave them the option of going into retirement for 30 days or paying costs, $9.13. They chose the latter alternative and were released on their own recognizance, with ten days' time to raise the money.

The marshal is still looking for Frank Wallace and upon his return to this city he will be also taken before the judge.

Grip

Brought On Sciatic Rheumatism.

Nervous Prostration Followed.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Gave Back Health.

"I was laid up during the winter of '95 with sciatic rheumatism and nervous prostration brought on by a severe attack of the Grippe. The rheumatic pains were so severe at times that it was impossible for me to turn in bed. I was unable to sleep. I had two of the best physicians in attendance, took all the advertised remedies for troubles of this kind but got no help whatever until I took Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. Six bottles restored me to health; I am better than for years; in fact am entirely relieved. I can say with a clear conscience that it was Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve that restored me to health. When the pains of sciatic and rheumatism were most severe I secured almost immediate relief by the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. I have recommended Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve to many people."—Fred Myers, Redfield, S. D.

"I was taken with pain in my heart and under the left shoulder, with such heavy oppressed feeling in my chest that I could hardly breathe. I had palpitation so bad and my heart would throb so that it would shake my whole body. I also had an attack, all gone feeling in the region of my heart. My doctor treated me for liver and stomach trouble but I failed to receive any benefit until a friend recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Restorative Nerve. I used both and one box of the Anti-Pain Pills. I believe I am completely and permanently cured."—Mrs. J. W. Golding, Noblesville, Ind.

Various Alcoholic Beverages. Popular alcoholic beverages are distilled from bananas, the milk of coconuts, rice, and peas. The Japanese distill spirit from plums, peaches and the flower of the motherwort. The Chinese make an alcoholic drink from plums.

"Think how easy, Mr. Rockefeller could buy up all the radium in the world and raise the price of it—if he were not a good man."

That bluff of the Illinois glass bottle manufacturers did not kill the child labor law. Now they will have to govern themselves accordingly.

Mrs. Mollie Allen, of South Fork, Ky., says she has prevented attacks of cholera morbus by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when she felt an attack coming on. Such attacks are usually caused by indigestion and these Tablets are just what is needed to cleanse the stomach and wipe off the irritating attack. Attacks of bilious colic may be prevented in the same way. For sale by G. O. Houston.

My Hair

"I had a very severe sickness it took off all my hair. I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor and it brought all my hair back again."

W. D. Quinn, Marseilles, Ill.

One thing is certain, Ayer's Hair Vigor makes hair grow. This is because it is a hair food. Feeds the hair and the roots, that's all there is to it. It stops falling out the hair, too, and restores color to hair.

ARE CLAIMING THE DEAD

DURAND BESIEGED WITH INQUIRIES AND PEOPLE.

MANY MAKE DECIDED MISTAKES IN THEIR CLAIMS.

MAN REPORTED MISSING FINALLY SHOWS UP.

Durand, Mich., Aug. 13.—Scores of inquiries regarding the unknown dead of last Friday's wreck have been received since the funerals Tuesday, and nearly as many people have been here looking for lost relatives. Many mistakes in proper identification were made.

Among Wednesday's visitors was Harry Hopkins of Grand Rapids, who came to claim the body of his brother. He said he had received a telegram from the circus that the brother was killed in the wreck. His description was not satisfactory.

Another was a man who gave his name as Hall, from a town in Indiana. He gave a description of a man whom he claimed to be his son. He was shown a photograph of a dead body and said it was the one he was looking for. The photograph was that of Charles McCoy, whose body was identified and forwarded to his wife.

B. E. Wallace, of the circus, has written that Thomas Hall, who was reported missing, has turned up and is working with the concern again.

Groom Returns With Wierd Tale.

Olivet, Mich., Aug. 13.—Alexander Franz, the Battle Creek young man who disappeared from this village last Wednesday, the day he was to have married Miss Winifred Patton, returned here Wednesday, with a weird tale of how he had been kidnapped by hoboes and robbed of $13. He also tells of his prowess in knocking three of his assailants out before he submitted to capture. Franz claimed he made a dash for liberty near Goshen, Ind., which city he reached, after wandering through fields to evade pursuit, Monday night. From there he went to South Bend, and thence came here. The friends of Franz apparently believe his story, and the ceremony took place quietly last evening.

Detroit Man Missing.

Long Beach, Cal., Aug. 13.—Captain Harry D. Smith of Detroit who has been a guest at the Riviera hotel here since last November, is missing, and much anxiety is felt for his safety. He left the house Aug. 3, presumably to go to Los Angeles and did not return. The missing man's trunk and clothes were left here. His wife, who is a daughter of Judge Brewster of Michigan, has been notified at Detroit of Captain Smith's disappearance. Captain Smith lost his health in Cuba and has been here recuperating.

Big Blaze in Calumet.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 13.—Early Wednesday morning fire destroyed the building and plant of the Suometar Printing company and the adjoining frame structure. Loss, $3,000; fully insured. The new $40,000 Walz block owned by Maggie Walz, a Finnish woman, editor and publisher was considerably damaged. Mrs. Walz narrowly escaped death from suffocation while endeavoring to save her personal effects.

Whopper Picnic of Grocers.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 13.—Grand Rapids was Wednesday in possession of over 10,000 grocers who came on special trains from Lansing, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek and Jackson joining with the local brethren for a whopper of a picnic. The visitors were received at the depot by brass bands and reception committees of business men and escorted about the parks and other resorts for a general holiday.

Carved His Way to Liberty.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13.—Private Charles W. Robinson, Co. E, Fourteenth United States Infantry, a prisoner awaiting trial at Fort Wayne, charged with desertion, carved his way out of the fort hospital to liberty during the night, traded his night shirt for a suit of clothes, and was seen before the escape was discovered in the morning at 5 o'clock. Robinson is said to be a bad man.

Hardware Dealers in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13.—The ninth annual convention of the Michigan Retail Hardware Dealers' association opened Wednesday morning at the Hotel Cadillac. Prominent hardware men from all over the state are in attendance and will remain in the city until Friday.

Sad End of a Spree.

Owosso, Mich., Aug. 13.—The man found dead near Cornucopia with a bottle of laudanum near him is believed to be Charles Johnson of Cadillac, who disappeared ten days ago from his boarding place. Johnson was a laborer and had been on a spree.

Battle Creek Contributes.

Battle Creek, Mich., Aug. 13.—Battle Creek has mailed a check for $500 to the treasurer of the McKinley memorial fund at Cleveland. Local factories furnished most of the money.

MACCABEE DAY.

Hillsdale and Washtenaw Counties Celebrate.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 13.—Maccabee day for Washtenaw county was held here Wednesday and attracted a crowd, among them a number from Lenawee county. A very creditable procession was held, there being many business floats. The balloon ascension at noon was not a success as a large hole was blown out of the top of the bag. After dinner, on the south side of the court house, the exercises were held, Attorney Frank Jones presiding. The welcoming address was given by Mayor Arthur Brown. Hon. Perry F. Powers of Cadillac, Tubbs of Cheasing and Grand Recorder Emma Bower of this city spoke.

Jonesville, Mich., Aug. 13.—The seventh annual picnic of the Hillsdale county K. & L. O. T. M. Association was held here Wednesday, and large delegations from all lodges of the county were in attendance. The day was taken up with band concerts, sports and ball games.

At the annual meeting of the association the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, George Schmidt; Hillsdale, vice-president, Clara Kinney, Reading, secretary-treasurer, Frank M. Hall, Hillsdale. It was voted to hold the picnic next year at Hillsdale.

A FRIEND'S MISTAKE

Caused the Death of Walter Bates of Spring Lake.

Spring Lake, Mich., Aug. 13.—Second Engineer Walter Bates of the Goodrich steamer Georgia, and one of the most popular younger marine men living here, has met accidental death at the hands of his best friend, Chief Engineer Charles Bon, of the same boat, who also lives in Spring Lake.

The Georgia was at Milwaukee and Bates was standing with his head out of one of the engine room portholes watching the crowd on the dock. Bon stood at his post with his back turned to the second engineer, and he never saw that Bates was standing where he would be crushed if the engines were reversed.

An order came from the pilot house to back the engine, and Bon obeyed it. Bates heard the sound and drew back, just in time to be struck full on the head by the heavy weight. Death was instantaneous.

Bates was to have been married at the close of the season to a young lady here. The dead man and his accidental slayer grew up together as boys here and had also been close associates through many years of manhood.

AN INFRINGEMENT?

Electric Lines of the State Threatened With Litigation.

Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 13.—Fifty thousand dollars, damages threatened by W. G. Embrick of this city against the Saginaw Valley Traction company, in United States circuit court at Bay City.

It is claimed that the traction company is using an infringing plug for electric line support purchased from a brass company of Mansfield, O., which is an infringement of a patent secured by L. A. Williams of 510 Adams street, this city, in 1899. It is claimed that the patent has already been sustained by the United States court in Detroit, in a suit brought against Mr. Novon in January last who was selling a similar plug in the eastern market. Embrick is assignee of the patent and W. F. Paine his solicitor.

Suits will probably be started all over the state in connection with the same matter.

MINERS SUFFOCATED.

Were Caught in Drift When Powder Exploded.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Aug. 13.—Joseph Lang and John McFarmer, miners, were suffocated in the Hamilton shaft of the Chapin mine Wednesday morning. They were working in the end of a drift. An Italian looking in a tool box with a lighted candle, set a box of powder a fire and an explosion followed. All escaped but the men in the drift.

All On Account of An Auto.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Aug. 13.—An automobile owned by Mr. Shihler of South Bend, while running rapidly on the streets here last night caused two runaways and several people were seriously injured. Stanley Tompkins' horse, becoming frightened ran down the street colliding with a rig owned by Mr. Carmichael, whose horse also ran away. George Richaby, city editor of the Daily Post, was knocked from his bicycle by one of the horses and cut about the head. Ed. Berkiser, a laborer, attempting to board a street car to escape, was thrown against the side of the car and seriously cut about the head. Others received slight injuries.

Laborers Fought Robbers.

Glendive, Mont., Aug. 13.—Three masked men attempted to hold up, in a Northern Pacific car, Wednesday six laborers enroute to the wheat fields of the Dakotas. The laborers resisted the demands of the robbers and a general fight ensued, resulting in the killing of Thomas McGowan of Philadelphia, who was shot through the right lung, and an unknown man whose body was found in the car later in the day. The robbers escaped uninjured, but two of them were arrested.

A MAN OF THE PEOPLE

PERSONAL TRAITS OF PIUS X, SUCCESSOR OF LEO XIII.

Born of Peasant Stock.—He Won Honors by Hard Work.—A Devoted Churchman. Noted For Common Sense and Liberal Views.

An evidence of seclusion from the public glare, on the part of one of the princes of the Church of Rome is found in the fact that the question, "Who is Sarto?" was upon everybody's tongue as soon as his election to the papacy was announced. One of his fellow cardinals in the conclave said to an American reporter that he had scarcely heard of Sarto or known of his existence except as he exchanged the usual formal greetings with him by post at Christmas time.

Sarto's life has by no means been that of a monastic. He was a worker among the people as priest, pastor and bishop. As he was taking leave of the scene of his recent labors in Venice to attend the conclave at Rome there was a spontaneous outpouring of citizens to bid him goodspeed. When the purpose of the gathering was explained to him he thought the demonstration uncalled for. "Why," said he, "I have a return to let I am coming back again."

The current pictures of the new pope were taken eight years ago when he was sixty years of age. He looks much older now. Of medium height, with a good physique, he gives the impression of a man of power. His bearing, however, is very modest and dignified. Sarto is of humble origin. His father was a soldier in the Italian guard of Venice and fought for freedom in 1848. Giuseppe, the new pope, was one of eight children. His brothers and sisters are all in the class struggling for a livelihood. After Giuseppe became cardinal his mother lived on in her peasant cottage, preferring that to the strange luxury of a palace.

Sarto labored as priest and pastor for eighteen years before coming to honors in the church. These reached him at last as the reward of hard and well directed work marked by great thoroughness. He was the friend and helper of the poor, the confident and adviser of the rich. He has often been seriously been involved in the misunderstandings and contentions of the Italian state authorities and the dignitaries of the church. Without sharing his zeal for the church he has stood almost alone in the effort to ally the friction between the institution he represents and the civil powers.

While bishop at Mantua, in the days of King Humbert, Sarto won the favor of the queen mother, Margherita and through her the confidence of the king. Only a few months ago he went in state to pay his respects to the reigning king and queen on the occasion of their visit to Venice. From these incidents it may be inferred that the attitude of Pius X. toward the Italian state will be less combative than that of his predecessor, during whose reign the Vatican was shorn of much of its former dignity and power.

The American novelist F. Marion Crawford, who long made his home in Italy, writes as follows of Sarto's sway in Venice: "The cardinal ruled his diocese undisturbed the last ten years, beloved by Catholics, esteemed by the government and respected by his enemies. Under his sway the Catholic institutions of Venice have thrived exceedingly, and the cardinal's piety, combined with his very noteworthy common sense, has given him the reputation of being an ideal bishop."

Sarto was devoted to Venice and said that he could never be happy elsewhere. On the other hand, he declared that he felt like "a fish out of water" at the papal court in Rome. Sarto has long been noted for his hard common sense in worldly matters. He has shown himself more liberal than the professed liberals of Venice in meeting disputes between labor and capital. Through his good offices grave differences have been adjusted without prolonged strikes. In a word, Sarto is spiritual minded, as becomes a prince of the holy church, yet shrewd in practical affairs and hard to deceive. Withal he has a saving sense of humor and is free from the faults of asceticism.

ACCORDING TO HIS FOLLY.

Fresh Young Man Who Bantered a Jap Answered in Kind.

A young Japanese compositor employed on a Japanese paper hardly a stone's throw from the Mall and Express building, was riding down town in a city hall train the other morning. He was engrossed in his morning paper and paid little attention to the other passengers. But a fresh-looking young man who sat next to him, and who had been eyeing him all along, suddenly said:

"What sort of a 'nese' are you, anyway? A Chinese or a Japanese?" The little Jap was not caught napping. Quick as a wink he replied:

"What sort of a 'key' are you anyway? a monkey, a donkey, or a Yankee?"

The fresh young man had no more to say, and left the train quickly when City Hall station was reached.—New York Mail and Express.

Something About Cairo.

Cairo is one of the world's interesting cities. It has about 500,000 population. While there are no great industries the people are busy at all kinds of handicraft, and many of them are clever artisans. Cairo has no municipal autonomy, but is managed by the central government. It has electric lights, trolley cars and other improvements of the day and some exceedingly good hotels.

Suicide Prevented.

The startling announcement that a percentage of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system, or despondency invariably precedes suicide and something has been found that will prevent that condition which makes suicide likely. At first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It brings a good tonic and positive will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It also acts on stomach, liver and kidneys, promoting only the satisfaction guaranteed by Geo. C. Houston, Druggist.

Toads Found in Rocks.

Scientist Explains the Reason of Their Presence There.

"Amazing," said a scientist, "is the opportunity of the toad. Toads live for long periods of time in rocks. Only last week a carman sent to me a toad that he had found imbedded, as said, in a solid block of stone. Of course there is no truth in the idea that these reptiles can exist shut up for years without food and air, but there is truth in the stories of their being found in rocks. The rocks, though, are not solid, as the finders incline to think and the toads have only been in them, it is probable, for a few hours instead of for years. And years? Toads, you see, are naturally sequestered places—toads in rocks or trees. A quarryman or a lumberman breaks into a rock or a tree, finds a live toad imbedded and thinks the reptile has been there since time began. As a matter of fact the toad has but recently crawled there through a little passage of some sort but the passage is so well concealed that the eyes of the man have failed to discern it."

THOUGHT SON DEAD.

Lansing. Mother Identified Wrong Body at Durand.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas of this city went to Durand in search of her son George, who is employed as a brakeman by the Grand Trunk, and from whom she had not heard for some time. She identified the body of one of the victims of Friday's wreck as that of her son. Then she went to a restaurant to get something to eat.

While in the restaurant she mentioned her sad experience to the proprietor, who told her he had seen her son alive and well but a few hours before. This proved to be the truth and before night the mother and son were reunited.

Durand, Mich., Aug. 12.—The business houses of Durand were closed Tuesday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock while the funeral services of the unknown dead of the Wallace circus wreck were conducted by the ministers of the town. The services were held in front of the morgue on the sidewalk, and a large crowd gathered. It was a sad affair and strong men shed tears. The ten unknown dead received a christian burial. The bodies were photographed before being interred and an accurate description taken of each.

Just before the services a lady from Bay City entered the morgue and identified the body that has borne only the name "Ringling" as Frank Kerns. Her name was Mrs. Minnie Gaines, and the body was that of her brother.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 12.—Frank Tilley, one of the employees of Wallace Bros' circus, who was brought to Harper hospital after the accident at Durand and suffering from internal injuries, died Tuesday afternoon. Tilley's home was in Rising Sun, Ind. All the other wreck victims at the hospital are reported as improving.

A Proof That He Was Honest in Handling Political Money.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 12.—A petition filed in probate court Tuesday asking the appointment of an administrator for the estate of William Judson, the deceased oil inspector and political leader estimates his estate as worth $5,500, of which $5,000 is in personal property and $500 in real estate. He is known to have held $5,000 in life insurance.

With the opportunities the deceased leader had for enriching himself, this is considered proof here that he never dishonestly appropriated funds entrusted to him for the conduct of his campaign. His expenditures for office were never questioned by them, and detailed reports were never given or expected. That many thousands of dollars passed through his hands without recent record is a fact. In the Pingree, Stearns, and Alger campaigns he has been known to have received money, but he has never been reported as having received any money for conducting other business.

A BIG BLAZE

Fire Destroys $100,000 Worth of Property in Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 12.—Fire was discovered this morning at 1:30 o'clock in the basement of Radcliffe & Co.'s four-story brick storehouse in Oakley street near South Division street. The fire gained a terrific head when the city firemen had arrived but after a desperate fight it was gotten under control.

The building was filled with valuable furniture owned by local dealers, and household goods.

The loss on the building is estimated by the fire authorities at $40,000.

Radcliffe & Co. were unable to fix the exact loss on the contents, but said it would reach $60,000.

No Money For Game Wardens.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 12.—All of the deputy state game wardens except Chief Deputy Brewster are enjoying enforced vacations just at present, and their duties will continue until Nov. 1 at least. This situation is due to the fact that the fund available for paying the salaries and expenses of these deputies is exhausted. The statute provides an annual appropriation of $2,000 for this purpose. In addition to this the revenue from license fees paid by non-residents and one of the fees paid by resident hunters goes into this fund.

Three Injuns and a Knife.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 12.—Three Injuns Jack Robinson, Jack Green and Mike Cone filled up on firewater and then got into a three-cornered fight when they were disarmed. Robinson had a bad knife stab between the ribs, and may die. The other two injuns are in jail.

Gives Up the Chase.

Sacramento Cal Aug 12.—Sheriff Reese has practically abandoned the hunt for the escaped convicts known to have been in the city last Friday, including Ray Babey, a notorious highwayman. Sheriff Reese feels it is useless to further pursue an organized chase for the escaped men. The five convicts fleeing through the coral flat country are believed to have escaped to the Devil's Basin region, a rocky and heavily timbered section, affording good shelter and protection.

Bowen Sails for Europe.

New York, Aug. 12.—Herbert W. Bowen, U. S. minister to Venezuela, and Mrs. Bowen sailed Tuesday for Europe on the S. S. Kronprinz Wilhelm. K. H. Millard and Miss Millard were among the other passengers.

"A Montana Outlaw" will be seen at the Whitney theater all next week beginning with matinee Aug. 16. This play is filled with sensational features. Its story is interestingly told, and its characters are real pictures of the types of the ranches and plains of Montana. "Jack the Hunter," a cowboy who is the hero of the piece, makes his entrance upon a risky branch, rescues his employer from lynching, arriving at the opportune moment and severing the rope with a shot from his rifle. In another scene he drives a stage coach down a mountain pass and escapes from his pursuers. The company, a strong popular price organization, headed by Wm. A. Clarke.

Sometimes people have to go to Wixom to find out the way to Plymouth. A couple of Morenci ladies bound for Romulus, one day last week, boarded the northbound afternoon train here and when they were about to "change cars at Plymouth" they found themselves at Wixom. They patiently waited there for the 9 p. m. train to bring them back to Northville, where they stayed over night and tried it again the next day.

A reception will be given by the W. C. T. U. Wednesday evening, Aug. 19th, at the Baptist church from 8 to 10 for Floyd Starr, state president and organizer of the Loyal Temperance Legion. Ice cream and cake will be served in the church parlors—price, ten cents. Young people especially invited. Everybody welcome.

Prodigals Returned.

The "elopers" who have caused so much comment in the community and so much trouble and expense for their parents have all returned from their wild goose chase with the exception of young Sessions who remained at the place where he was at work in Huron county. Charlie Hamilton and the two girls came home Saturday with the former's father, Frank Hamilton, and Mr. Lawrence of this place, who went to Kinde for the runaways. The latter do not seem to think there was anything to make such a fuss about.

It is currently reported that, at least one of the party received a spanking on the way home for being too saucy concerning the affair.

LONG CHASE FINALLY ENDED.

Truant Officer at Last Succeeds in Capturing Sterling Price.

"I have a war story that beats all records," said Truant Officer S. B. Clements yesterday afternoon. "For this morning I got a man named Sterling Price, and I have been hunting Sterling Price for forty-two years. I landed him in police court, ending a chase that started in Missouri in 1861."

"When the war broke out I was a young shaver living in Missouri, and I enlisted in the union army. There were war times in Missouri then and a whole lot of guerrilla fighting. The regiment I was with went after a guerrilla named Sterling Price. We hunted him up and down the state, but we didn't get him, and I was always a bit of a say-so man at the failure."

"Well, now comes the odd part of the story. This year I decided to go after the father of a young man named Price because the young man was being sent to school. I decided to go after the father this morning and took him to police court—see you can believe it or not, but the man I found was Sterling Price. That's the end of that forty-two years of hunting."

"Is it a true story?" Mr. Clements was asked by some dubious one.

"Why certainly," said Mr. Clements. "And the man you got was the same rebel General you chased in 1861?"

"Oh, no; indeed, I didn't say that. I told you a true story, and if I had said that it wouldn't have been true."

And then Mr. Clements felt very much hurt because one of his listeners told him it was too bad that he didn't get shot during the war.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Chicago's Centennial Celebration

Interesting Programme for the City's One Hundredth Birthday in September

CHICAGO is busy preparing for the centennial celebration of the permanent settlement of the city. While history gives August as the month of anniversary, the men who are arranging the fetes have fixed on Sept. 26 to Oct. 1 for the jubilee, August being a month when Chicagoans are pretty generally scattered on vacation tours.

In 1795 the United States government bought from the Indians a piece of ground six miles square near the mouth of the Chicago river. This was fixed on as the site of Fort Dearborn, built by Major Whistler in 1803. This was the first permanent structure in the building of the city, and it is this step the centennial is to commemorate. No event to inspire greater civic pride toward a celebration has come to Chicago, and therefore the plans that are being made have in their scope and character the object of surpassing all previous efforts of the city. This is a high mark, for there have been several great fetes in the past.

C. R. Macdon, the present secretary of the citizens' committee, suggested the celebration, and in January, the mayor and city council took the first step toward its development. An executive committee, with Charles A. Plamondon, a prominent manufacturer, at its head, was appointed. W. W. Tracy, a banker, was made chairman of the finance committee, which began the work of raising $100,000 for expenses. George H. Jenney was placed at the head of the entertainment committee, which began to outline the character of the six day jubilee.

It was decided to give as many open air spectacles as possible so that everybody could enjoy the festivities. Fort Dearborn being the historical pivot of the events, it has been planned to reproduce this fort in facsimile inside and out and place it at one of the parks and surround it with Indians who are descendants of the tribes that centered around Chicago in the early days. For this purpose 400 Indians have been secured. These will come from Michigan in their canoes and will hold onto the fort in the celebration. The fort will be a model of the fort as it was in 1812. The Indians will give entertainments, and there will be no doubt on charges to any of the events.

A military parade will be another feature. There is some hope that the president may be induced to visit Chicago for one day, and if he does the military parade will be a big event. In the afternoon should he fail to come there will be numerous dignitaries in the city including members of the cabinet and diplomatic corps, governors of various states, senators, congressmen, mayors of leading cities and others well known in public life. For the immense and brilliant procession will move. In it will be seen the government troops stationed in Fort Dearborn, four Chicago, Uncle Sam's men from military posts the several regiments of the Illinois national guard and the crack battalions of militia from states and local units throughout the west.

To give Chicagoans and their visiting friends a record of the great time of 1812

that almost wiped out the thriving city will be reproduced in a novel way. Taking in the immense territory that was swept by flame on that memorable occasion the roofs of all the larger buildings within the area will be covered with Roman fire. The combustible powder will be placed also on all the skyscrapers coming, which was in 1812 one of the burning pots of the fire. Simultaneously on a certain evening during the celebration this red fire will be started, and for two hours the city will be burned in a glare that will be seen for miles through the country. Excursions on boats will cruise the lake front to give those who wish a chance to see the conflagration from a particular, good vantage point. A special bomb display will be given from the roof of the O'Leary home on De Koven street, where the famous cow locked over the lamp that set the city afire.

Another spectacle will be a night parade of automobiles under the supervision of a committee headed by C. W. Gray. The city contains about 2,500 private automobiles, and these, reformed by vehicles from Cleveland, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Milwaukee and other cities, will form an illuminated procession four miles long. Striking electrical effects will be sought, the object being to make the parade the most brilliant and dazzling ever given. Prizes will be offered for the best color and light arrangements. In connection with this parade there will be an automobile meet during two afternoons on one of the race tracks. This meet is likely to become historic, for crack racing machines from all over the country will compete, and the world's records may be lowered. An eastern machine that has all the excellence of the famous French machines will be one of the entries, while a western man is finishing a vehicle whose mammoth size dwarfs all the racers of today. This vehicle is to be at least of ninety horse power. With the noted machines will come the crack racers of the country. Not only will the contests prove absorbing, but the owners will give visitors free opportunity to examine them before the races begin. For the contests many valuable prizes will be offered, the chief one to be a centennial silver cup.

Another street spectacle will be an industrial parade which will by means of handsome floats tell the story of Chicago's progress. This, too, will be given at night in the glare of myriads of lights and colored by thousands of torches. The city's history will be told in Mardi Gras fashion. Its Indian origin, its early settlement, the massacres of its pioneers by the red men, its part in the rebellion, its great fire, its world's fair—all will be symbolized in elaborate floats, while the commercial progress will be told in a series of illuminated pictures of artistic beauty in form and color. Several series of tableaux covering other themes will be included.

Yachtmen of the city are arranging a series of regattas for the week. These also will have centennial cups for awards, and the season of the year chosen and the enthusiasm so far displayed indicate a large attendance of the best known yachts of the great lakes. Besides these races there will be athletic contests of international importance. Champions swimmers from Sweden, England and Germany are expected to take part in races, and the best athletic teams of eastern and western universities, as well as the leading athletic clubs, will be present to participate in contests of swimming, rowing and water polo. An ideal spot for these events has been chosen, the beautiful Lincoln park lagoon, with its wide stretch of lawn on either side. The athletics of centennial week will be under the care of the Chicago Athletic association and the Amateur Athletic union.

As the week includes Sunday, patriotic services are to be held in all the churches, and in the afternoon special union mass meetings will be arranged. The old settlers of the city, many of whom have scattered to various parts of the country, will hold a reunion in the reconstructed Fort Dearborn, an object lesson to the newer Chicagoans who may not recall the rapidity with which the city has leaped into the front rank.

With all these big spectacles the city has not forgotten its educational duty. The week preceding the fetes a stereoscopic lecture will be given in the schools, reciting the city's early history and growth. Professor Edwin Erle Sparks of the University of Chicago is at the head of this educational committee, and he has gathered photographs of early scenes in the city. Going over these same spots recently, he has secured photographs covering the same views and these contrasts will be shown through the stereoscopes to the school children. The lectures will be repeated to adults in the evenings and in sections of the city where the population is heavily foreign the rules will be translated. Besides this, Professor Sparks and his committee are designing tablets to be placed on the city's historic spots during centennial week. These will be of no less interest to residents than to visitors. Many of these tablets will be made permanent.

Chicago expects half a million visitors from surrounding points, and for these have been secured low railroad rates. They not only will be allowed to enjoy every one of the features of the week's festivities, but a special programme of fireworks rivaling the recent marvelous display at the dedication of the St. Louis exposition will be given for their benefit.

Manners of East New York.

A woman dropped her cigarette bag in a lower East Side street the other day. A nicely dressed young man started forward and stooped to pick it up. While he was in this defenseless position the woman brought down her umbrella on the back of his neck. A policeman rushed up, and the woman accused the gallant young man of attempting to seduce her. With great difficulty the young man succeeded in pacifying her and explaining to the policeman, who let him go with this remark: "Them manners don't go down here, young feller. Just keep yer hat on an' blow smoke in the ladies' faces an' you'll be all right."—New York Sun.

Bird Vengeance.

A naturalist recently witnessed an encounter between a large swan and a little brown duck. The duck had apparently insulted the swan by trying to cross its path, for it was suddenly seized by the swan and held under the water until he was sure it would be drowned. But at last the swan let it go and fled majestically away. The duck, after taking breath, looked around to see where its enemy was, and seeing it rose into the air and deliberately came down, flapping its wings, on the astonished swan's back. The swan fled in terror, and the duck, apparently satisfied, quietly swam away.—Pearson's Weekly.
