CHAS. HARRINGTON DIED SUNDAY NIGHT

ANOTHER NORTHVILLE PIONEER IS GONE.

Lived Here for More than Seventy Years.

Charles G. Harrington, one of the best known pioneers of this place died at his home Sunday night, Sept. 27, after a residence here of more than seventy years.

He was born in Monroe county, N. Y. Dec. 14, 1825, coming to Michigan in 1833 with his father, Caleb Harrington. They settled first on what is now the E. M. Stark weather farm west of town, but came to Northville the same year.

Mr. Harrington was long identified with the business interests of Northville, and was the founder in 1864 of the Michigan School Furniture company, which was later merged into the Globe Furniture Co., and during his long citizenship and former active business life here he was universally respected.

In 1849 he was married to Lucy

Past Eminent Commander, Chas. G. Harrington, one of Northville's pioneers, who died at his home here Sunday night.

Merse, who died many years ago leaving one son. In 1885 he married Miss Clara E. Van Valkenburg of this place, who with one daughter, Mabel, and the son, Wilbur, survives him.

The deceased was a Past Eminent Commander of the Northville Commandery K. T. and the funeral was held Wednesday under the auspices of that organization.

Poet Riley Comin' to Detroit.

James Whitcomb Riley, the gentle Hoosier poet, is to give an evening of his readings at the Armory, Detroit, on October 9th, for which the combined literary clubs of Detroit are sponsors. Mr. Riley's many admirers will thus have a chance to hear from the author's lips just how some of the poems ought to be read.

The Journal's New Press.

The Detroit Journal is now in possession of a new quadruple press. It is a new machine, and will print, fold, trim, and count 500 papers a minute.

Millinery Opening.

Loid & Williams will have a Millinery opening October 8, 9 and 10.

OUR WAY

We are now entering on our NEW WAY along the lines laid down in our last week's ad.

It is not our intention to make a great bluster and try to turn the world upside down, but in our quiet way we propose to do practically a cash business, giving our patrons the very best goods at the lowest price possible. Very many of our goods have already been marked down, and as new goods come in they will be marked at prices consistent with cash business.

Your attention is called to our 23c Coffee, Swift's Pride Soap 8 bars for 25c and Virginia Sweet Potatoes, All of which are of excellent value.

The value of Swift's Pride Soap is in the Soap and not in the wrapper. And our 25c Blend Coffee is worth a trial.

L. L. BROOKS' POCKET PICKED

Got His $32 Back Again Through Conductor's Efforts.

In getting on the train to come home from the Milford fair Wednesday night L. L. Brooks' had his pocket book containing $32 taken from him by a crook. Conductor Packard at once suspected a trio of crooks from Toledo who had been on his train all day and he picked out one of them as a likely subject and put him in the "sweat box" for five minutes with the result that he coughed up the money and told where the pocket book would be found near the Milford depot. Brooks is congratulating himself on his good luck as well as the shrewdness of the conductor.

EASTERN MICH. PRESS CLUB

Annual Meeting in Detroit Next Week Friday.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Michigan Press Club has been dated for Friday, October 9, at the Fellowship club, Detroit, and the president urges upon the members the importance of the meeting.

The club will rendezvous as usual at the Griswold house at noon, and in the afternoon a literary and business program and election of officers will be the order. The evening will be devoted to attending the recital by James Whitcomb Riley, "The Gentle Hoosier Poet," at the Armory, to which the club will go in a body as guests of the Free Press. Mr. Riley may address the club in the afternoon.

When It Would Have Been More Difficult.

A paragraph in the Northville Record commends Rev. T. D. Armstrong, about to leave Farmington, for missionary work in Montana, and expresses confidence in his ability for the undertaking, proof of which is discovered in his endurance "two years with the sinners of Farmington." It is not necessary to be specific, but in another town near to Farmington he would have met with more difficulty, and yet there are some good points about nearly all who composed the last state parliament.—Detroit Tribune.

Mrs. G. A. Tatham will have her Millinery Opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 8, 9 and 10.

IS CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

SAID THAT FRED MARTINDALE WILL TRY AGAIN.

Lots of Candidates Over in "Pop"
Goodell's District.

The indications are that Wayne will not lack for Senatorial timber in the Republican woods next year. In the First District there are not as thick as in the Fourth but it is announced that ex-Representative Fred Martindale of Greenfield will again be a candidate and the prospects are that he will have the field to himself. Fred was nominated last year but lost to Senator Scullen by a small majority though he made a rattling good run. The district is nominally democratic but Mr. Martindale's friends believe he can win out this year.

Hon. Fred Martindale of Greenfield who it is reported will be a candidate again for State Senator from the First District of Wayne.

Mr. Martindale was a member of the House in 1901 and made a good record. He is a brother of Supt. Martindale of the Detroit schools and he is well and favorably known in this part of the county as well as in Detroit. With his large acquaintance in the district and under the new primary law there is but little question of Martindale's re-nomination.

Over in the Fourth district senatorial candidates are as thick as hasty pudding. It is said that besides Senator "Pop" Goodell, who will be a candidate to succeed himself for a third term, there will be three or four others, in the persons of George Coomer, a Wyandotte attorney; President Jerry Monroe of Trenton, S. J. Colby, author of the Colby primary bill of Detroit; and Jas. R. Hosie, the large carriage manufacturer at Wyandotte.

In Detroit's Second district Senator Simonds will again be a candidate for another nomination and in the Third district, now so ably represented by Senator James Scripps, it is said Rep. Noble Ashley will be a candidate for senatorial honors if Mr. Scripps does not seek a re-nomination.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks to all those who so thoughtfully assisted us during our recent sad bereavement; also to the choir and those who remembered us with beautiful flowers. MISS LOUISA ROBINSON.

TROOPS NOW ON GUARD

DETACHMENT OF CANADIAN MILITIA REACH THE SOO.

COMPANY HEADED OFF WOODS-
MEN MARCHING TO TOWN.

MORE TROUBLE LIKELY WHEN FORCED CHARITY CEASES.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 30.—A detachment of the Canadian militia, which had been summoned to guard the works of the Consolidated Lake Superior company against further attacks of the mobs of unpaid employees arrived at the Canadian Soo shortly after midnight this morning and were given sleeping quarters on board of one of the company's boats in all daylight when they were detained to guard duty about the premises of the company. The detachment consists of eight men.

The first of nine men charged with being implicated in the attack on the Canadian Soo Monday, as a result of a number of the men for being in possession of the company's tools at the station at the Soo Tuesday.

Numerous requests have been made for the service of the militia for the large number of employees out of work by the closing of the company and its various affiliated companies to which they are being sent in the absence of a strike, but at the men hope and with the order of the incident mentioned, they are again not.

Mayor Plummer up to yesterday has, with the sanction of the municipality, readily added the needy who are declared to be few, but announced in a statement last night that with the arrival of a detachment of militia all unemployed men of the company who have refused to accept the offer of work elsewhere will be forced to leave.

Another Disturbance.

Since the attack by the mob on the company's office the local militia reinforced by the police, has guarded the plants and industries of the company. Communication between the two Soos which was ordered stopped has been resumed. There are 300 workmen in the camps of the company but as a measure of protection the company according to Mr. Coomer, president of the Soo, would not be allowed to come in until all of the men of the Canadian militia had arrived. Although they have not yet arrived, they are expected to arrive by the Soo Tuesday.

That more trouble is coming, probably in the way of riots is very evident. It would seem that the company's officers and Mayor Plummer have not dared to do just as they would like with respect to feeding and housing the hoards of men fearing they would again use violence. In order to appease their wrath the officers have dealt out meal tickets and funds for procuring them quite liberally. But now that reinforcements have arrived a shutdown on the forced charity may occur and help only given to those who are really in need, others being directed to avail themselves of the offices for employment extended on all sides.

Here is where the hatch will come. The men without doubt will resent such a shutting off of supplies, believing in their minds that since the company is indebted to them for saving them a living. Developments are breathlessly awaited though the presence of additional troops has brought about a more assured feeling as to public safety.

Second City in United States.

By the census of 1900 Chicago was shown to rank second as a manufacturing center among United States cities (New York being first) in number of establishments, 19,203; amount of capital, $534,000,000; average number of wage earners, 61,621; wages in the census year, $12,065,337; and gross value of products, $388,945,311.

The monthly business meeting of the B. Y. P. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. M. F. Stanley next Tuesday evening, and it is hoped there will be a good attendance. Light refreshments will be served after the transaction of business.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

[By the Pastor.]

The Lord's supper will be administered next Sunday morning and new members received into the church.

The sermon next Sunday evening will answer the question: "Am I my Brother's Keeper?"

The pastor goes to Detroit tomorrow to attend a meeting of the Presbyterian committee on the Church of the Covenant.

The offering for Michigan Home Missions last Sunday morning amounted to $50. It is hoped to increase this amount considerably, and those who have not yet contributed will have another opportunity next Sunday.

Methodist Church Notes.

[By the Pastor.]

The monthly business meeting of the Epworth League occurs next Tuesday evening.

The Epworth League gives a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Postal Tuesday evening, Oct. 13. It will be unique.

Subject of sermon Sunday morning is "Money's Failure and Love's Success," evening, "The Worth of a Hitching Post to Young People."

The Junior League met at the parlance Tuesday at 4 p. m., and elected the following officers for the coming year: Pres. Mildred Wilkins; 1st Vice Pres. Zada Willis; 2nd Vice Pres. Gladys Cobb; 3rd Vice Pres. Ethel Van Valkenburg; Sec'y. Evelyn Moore; Treas. Leah Van Sickle; Organist, Della Dunham.

The Harvest Home Festival given Tuesday evening was enjoyed by a most happy people. The musical program and the historical paper read by Miss Sanford were very entertaining and instructive. The demonstration of Best is the one that brings the closing event, with all loved hands making a circle beginning at the altar and passing a round to the outside of the altar room to the walls and so on, the happy people, the happy people, the happy people.

Secretary Foot's New House. Our Secretary of War Root called for the new house plan for his new house. It is to cost some $50,000 and will be to the north of the Presbyterian church on Twenty-first street.

THE WIT OF MRS. SHAW.

Mrs. Shaw, Cabinet Officer's Wife Regards Washington Society.

Mrs. Leslie M. Shaw, wife of the secretary of the treasury, who is soon to sail, with her husband and their children, for a four months' tour of Europe, evidently regards the social customs that prevail in Washington official life as having some highly amusing features.

While at her former home in Des Moines recently she entertained some of her old friends with accounts of the doings of society at the national capital. With breezy frankness, for which she is distinguished, she told of the petty jealousies that worry the wives and daughters of officialdom and even discussed the Roosevelt children, saying in her quaint way that they "are quite orderly young ones."

"We had to entertain a great deal in Washington," said Mrs. Shaw. "As many friends warned us before we went it was enormously expensive, but I find that Senator Allison knew what he was talking about when he said that it all depended on a woman's common sense. However, it is impossible to keep within one's salary. Why, Abraham Lincoln with all his talent would be hanged from the gallows under existing circumstances because of his lack of wealth."

Discussing social functions in Washington Mrs. Shaw said they were all governed by precedence in rank and rank of wealth.

While at her former home in Des Moines recently she entertained some of her old friends with accounts of the doings of society at the national capital. With breezy frankness, for which she is distinguished, she told of the petty jealousies that worry the wives and daughters of officialdom and even discussed the Roosevelt children, saying in her quaint way that they "are quite orderly young ones."

"We had to entertain a great deal in Washington," said Mrs. Shaw. "As many friends warned us before we went it was enormously expensive, but I find that Senator Allison knew what he was talking about when he said that it all depended on a woman's common sense. However, it is impossible to keep within one's salary. Why, Abraham Lincoln with all his talent would be hanged from the gallows under existing circumstances because of his lack of wealth."

The Bogie Man

A Steel Jack O'Lantern

Given with Every Boys' Suit or Overcoat

The newest and best article we could find for the boys was The Bogie Man—in fact so well do they please the boys that every lad who sees them wants one.

And what fun a boy can have with one—being built entirely of steel makes them absolutely safe for the boys to play with.

Now a word about the Boys' Clothes—as you know we coax comparison—that and that alone shows plainer than words can tell how much better quality we give for a little less than you'd pay elsewhere for not as good.

Suits at $4 and $5 for Boys 7 to 17 years, double breasted and Norfolk styles—plain and fancy mixtures—that you'd pay a dollar more for at other stores, and consider them good values.

You save money when you buy at Traver's.

The regular monthly meeting of the Library board occurs tomorrow, Saturday, afternoon at the library at 2:30 o'clock.

Mark Robinson has just moved here from Fenton and occupies the Lewis house east of the greenhouse, which he recently purchased.

H. O. Waid found an even ten pounds of tin can tops from the Clover condensery scattered on his lawn one morning this week.

The Wayne county Teachers' Association meets at Plymouth Oct. 10. Some of our Northville teachers are to take part in the program.

County Clerk McGregor has called the attention of all notaries in Wayne county to the new law requiring that each affidavit shall state when the notary's commission expires.

Miss Margaret Thompson has been filling Miss Belle Covert's place as eighth grade teacher for the past two weeks, Miss Covert being obliged to be at home caring for her mother.

A committee from the Ladies Library desires to obtain read magazines for use on Saturdays at the library. They are wanted as a loan only and would be returned after one month.

Two weeks ago we sent out about 200 statements to the readers of the Record, and we are pleased to note that all our Northville subscribers, with, we believe, one exception have promptly responded.

A young lady from the city was asked by her country hostess if she had never been on the farm in the season of husking bees. "No," she replied. "The idea! How do you husk a bee, anyway?"

J. C. Northrop, one of Northville's oldest and most esteemed citizens, was 55 years old on September 24. He received no less than eighteen congratulatory letters from friends in this and other states.

The first of the series of entertainments given Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Loyal Temperance Legion proved a delightful success. Prof. Fry was the leader in the musical entertainment.

Mrs. A. C. Harmon has a dark crimson dahlia which has a 17 inch circumference. It will be red about for some time, and it fairly makes her blush to exhibit it to her friends at Northville, where she resides.

The music was excellent Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church and the choir and listeners are to be congratulated on having secured in Mrs. Henry no capable a successor to Prof. Smith as organist and musical director.

Mrs. G. A. Tatham is to have her millinery opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 8, 9 and 10, and in connection therewith all who desire are to be given a free demonstration of "Mirabilis." The ladies have a chance to be made beautiful both by the free facial massage and by buying pretty hats.

The case of the village vs. Starkweather & Brooks for taxes assessed against the wool they had stored here during the summer has been adjourned until Oct. 14. Defendants claim the wool was not in the store house at the time the assessment was made and they also claim the assessment invalid on two counts. John Nichols of Ionia appears for Starkweather & Brooks and C. C. Yerkes for the village.

Prof. H. Henry Smith now has charge of the music at the Methodist church of this city, having been engaged as director of the choir and organist. Prof. Smith lives at Northville and formerly had charge of the music at the Presbyterian church in this city. Prof. Smith is a very thorough teacher, assisting on good work on the part of those he directs. The choir is in the best of shape and is doing very well.

One of Rev. J. M. Smith's prophecies at the Home of the Living was the prediction that babies would be added to the ranks of his congregation during the ensuing year. He said that ideas were used as excuses for people to go to the circus and to stay away from church, but now that the babies are coming and being baptized it is a question whether Mr. Smith's prophecy will tend to stimulate or depreciate the attendance of his church.

The school board is not yet ready to report on the new school building proposition and at the adjourned meeting to be held Monday night they will ask an adjournment for one more month.

The authorities at Northville have lately added a dozen new books to the new library, among which is "Men of Iron." Should think they would be afraid some one would steal it.—Adrian Press.

Rev. O. M. Thrasher, lately of Northville, has accepted a call from the First Baptist church of Corunna, and is now locating at that place. Mr. Thrasher was formerly pastor of the Holly Baptist church.—Holly Advertiser.

A neighboring paper tells of two little boys who asked their mother if they might play store in the dining room. "Yes," she replied, "if you don't make much noise." "We'll be quiet about it," said one. "We'll be storekeepers that don't advertise."

There was a large attendance at the O. E. S. installation last Friday evening, and the pretty and impressive service was carried out in a manner highly creditable to all concerned. Ice cream and cake were served at the close of the installation ceremonies.

A recent fad among a coterie of our younger young ladies has been the borrowing of babies and the buggies appertaining thereto and wheeling them around as long as the infants continued to be agreeable to the methods of the amateur nurses. It makes a lot of difference with younger as well as older people whether they are obliged to do a thing or not.

Probably a good many more people than would be willing to acknowledge it have been fooled within the past week by one of the disks of tin from the Clover condensery, scattered so plentifully around town by the children. When only one of the round pieces of metal is in a place and is partly covered with dirt it does look very much like a half dollar.

Corn harvesting is nearly done in this section.

Richard Tapp has a new James corn husker instead of a McCormick, as stated last week.

King's Daughters' Play.

The King's Daughters are busily engaged in the preparation of their play, "Dot, The Minnie's Daughter," which is to be put on in the Opera House Oct. 9. Well known local talent is to compose the cast, and there is no doubt the play will be well rendered and very enjoyable. Northville people are proverbially unanimous in their patronage of home entertainments, and this one will probably be even more than usually popular, as the object is a worthy one, and the order one of the best in the world.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

Michigan Lake Superior Power Company in Trouble.

Grand Rapids Mich., Sept. 30.—Upon application of the Central Trust Company of New York, holding a mortgage on the property of the Michigan Lake Superior Power company of Saint Ignace, Marie for $240,000, Judge Wain in the United States district court Tuesday appointed a receiver for the corporation in the person of Benjamin Franklin Jr. of Easton Pa.

The application for a receiver made through the trust company's attorneys Messrs J. Van Buren of New York and Jacob Kleinbart of Grand Rapids was based on the cause in the mortgage to the effect that the company was unable to pay its debts as they came due.

Successful Nove's.

It is stated that one of the most successful of modern novelists agreed to a sale of 100,000 copies of his paper on which these books were published. The sale was made on a cash basis and the publisher's Gazette writes of it that it required all the trees to furnish the paper.

Lucky Steelejack.

Fred Worrell was painting the belfry of St. Luke's church at Chester, Vt. recently and slipped and fell twenty feet. No bones were broken, and his skin was not even scratched. He was taken home and a slight lameness for a few days was the only bad result of the fall.

INDIGESTION

"I was troubled with stomach trouble, Theford's Black Draught did me more good in one week than all the doctor's medicine I took in a year."—MRS. SARAH E. SHIRFIELD, Ellettsville, Ind.

Theford's Black Draught quickly invigorates the action of the stomach and cures even chronic cases of indigestion. If you will take a small dose of Theford's Black Draught occasionally you will keep your stomach and liver in perfect condition.

THEFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

More sickness is caused by constipation than by any other disease. Theford's Black Draught not only relieves constipation, but cures diarrhoea and dysentery and keeps the bowels regular.

All druggists sell 25-cent packages.

"Theford's Black Draught is the best medicine I have ever used."—MRS. A. M. GRANT, Sneads Ferry, N. C.

CONSTIPATION

Puts Comfort Before Looks.

Secretary of War Root is a firm believer in the idea that a soldier should look the soldier when he is in military work but he also realizes that in very hot weather some measure of smart appearance must be a way to comfort, so he has practically said "Both your uniform and dress as you please." Indeed he has set the example for his bureau chiefs at the war department by stripping off coat and waistcoat and making himself as nearly comfortable as possible in a becoming colored shirt waist.

The West was summoned by telegram to Wyoming, N. Y., on business and his wife accompanied him to Detroit where she will stay until his return.

Mrs. J. E. Reynolds was here with her husband this week. She enjoyed seeing her old pupils once more and her many friends were glad to shake her hand.

The Methodist church observed holy day last Sunday. The church was decorated with flowers, plants and autumn leaves and a good program was given.

Miss Rose Hicks resumed her work at the telephone exchange at Sand Hill, but was obliged to return home after a week's work, as she was not yet well enough to stand the nervous strain.

The bean crop is now ready for harvesting, but to secure it in good order needs dry weather, which every bean raiser is now fervently wishing may continue for a sufficiently long time.

Supervisor J. S. Mitchell of Holly township refused to deliver up his assessment roll was summoned to appear before the state tax commission at Lansing with that document this week.

Corn cutting is now the order of the day, although some fields which were planted late are not yet ready, and their owners are hoping for good weather to continue long enough to save the crop from frost which has done no damage to speak of yet.

The Nov. Farmers' club met at the home of O. M. Whipple and wife Wednesday, about twenty-five being present. The program consisted of an excellent talk by Hon. Geo. Yerkes on American Citizenship, who said some very plain things to the voters in regard to the violation of the criminal laws, especially those relating to the liquor traffic, and the responsibility of the township officers as well as county. A lively discussion followed in which some of the ladies and one gentleman said they were ready with hatchets if nothing else were available, to change things in Nov. for the better. Mrs. S. Hazen read a good article on "The Housekeeper." Mrs. F. Becker was Spent More Than $1,000.

W. W. Baker, of Plainview, Neb., writes: "My wife suffered from lung trouble for fifteen years. She tried a number of doctors and spent over $1,000 without relief. She became very low and lost all hope. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and thanks to this great remedy it saved her life. She enjoys better health than she has known in ten years." Refuse substitutes. At druggists.

Free demonstrations to show the merits of Mirabilis will be given at Mrs. G. A. Tinnah's at her Millinery Opening, Northville, commencing Thursday, Oct. 8.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. E. Haviland of Amoske, N. Y., "but when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. Fifty cents and $1 bottles guaranteed by Geo. Q. Huston. Gavril Roche of Detroit spent Sunday at the home of Hyde Smith.

S. M. Gage and wife visited their brother, James N. Wilson, at South Lyon Sunday.

J. D. Taylor has a large new s'llo. Fred Childs of Milford is superintending the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baker of White Lake spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Charles Pratt.

Miss Belle and Clyde Smith spent Sunday with their aunt, Mrs. Fred Quigley, at Spallant.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Haynes are entertaining his cousin, John Haynes, and wife of Mt. Clemens.

Many of our young people attended the Loyal Temperance Legion meeting at Wixom Sunday evening.

Wm. K. Young died Sunday, aged 76 years. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Tuesday at the Loyal school house.

Mrs. Jann McKenney went to Ypsilanti Monday where she expects to spend the winter with her daughter Mrs. Gertrude Erwin.

Tuesday while Hugh McCallum of Commerce was crossing an old bridge it gave way and man, horse and wagon went into the water. Fred Cronk ran to the rescue and hauled Mr. McCallum out and the horses got free from the wagon and scrambled up the bank. No serious damage.

Great excitement was caused here Saturday evening by a lady telling how she was chased by a crazy woman while coming home from a neighboring town. All the women who heard the tale were planning to lock their doors and keep inside when some one explained that the crazy woman was a boy dressed in woman's clothes.

The funeral services of John Holbert Rye were held at the home of his son, Isaac Rye, Monday. In the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. W. Clack, Rev. T. E. Mudge of Commerce preached. Mr. Rye was born in Penn Yan, N. Y., in 1820, came to Michigan with his parents in 1834 and located at Farmington. He was married to Elizabeth Rorabacher of South Lyon in 1844. In 1865 he moved to Farmington, where he resided until the death of his wife, which occurred in 1897. For the past five years he had made his home with his son Isaac. He was the father of seven children, five of whom are still living. His brother, Hugh Rye, of Farmington is the last of a family of thirteen children. Mr. Rye had an ideal old age, as he was active in mind and body until his death. Although 83 years old he attended to the garden and other light work. For forty years he was a member of the Methodist church and lived a faithful christian life.

STRAIN TOO GREAT

Hundreds of Northville Readers Find It So.

The hustle and worry of business men, the hard work and stooping of workmen, the woman's household cares, are too great a strain on the kidneys. Backache, headache, dizziness, kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow. A Northville citizen tells you how to cure them all.

Mr. Charles Elliott, living on River street, says: "I am only too pleased to add my testimony to the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Murdoch Bros. drug store. They have been used in my family with the best results, more especially by my wife, who was annoyed with a dull, aching pain in her back. I never hear her complain now. We both endorse Doan's Kidney Pills as the finest remedy on the market. We heartily recommend them to all sufferers from backache or other kidney trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c per box. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The best calculation that can be made shows that the average number of children to the white native family a century ago in the United States was more than six, in 1830 it had fallen to less than five, in 1860 to less than four, in 1875 to less than three, in 1890, among the "upper classes" in Boston to less than two.

PLAYING WAR GAME.

MAGNITUDE OF THE COMING ARMY MANEUVERS AT FORT RILEY.

More Than Eleven Thousand Men, Regulars and Militia, to Participate—Organization of the Troops. Major General John C. Bates.

Major General John C. Bates, U. S. A., who will be the ranking officer in the coming series of army maneuvers at Fort Riley, Kansas, Oct. 15 to 27, in which more than 11,000 men will participate, is a veteran of many campaigns, having fought in the civil war, in Cuba and the Philippines.

Besides the large force of regulars, regiments from the national guard of Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Colorado will take part in the maneuvers, making the largest body of troops assembled for a similar purpose in recent years.

Fort Riley, which is to be the scene of the maneuvers, is located on the Kansas and Republican rivers, about three and a half miles from Junction City, Geary county, Kan., on the line of the Union Pacific railroad, and contains about 20,000 acres. As a result of last year's maneuvers it was found that for the handling of large bodies of troops in the working out of tactical problems the present reservation, large as it is, was entirely inadequate.

In order to secure additional lands the military authorities have for the past year been negotiating with the landowners in the vicinity of Fort Riley with a view of increasing the maneuver territory by the temporary use of desirable tracts adjoining the reservation.

The war department has succeeded in obtaining the written consent of 140 owners whose aggregate holdings amount to about seventy square miles, or 44,000 acres by which they have agreed to permit the military authorities to enclose and occupy their lands as a maneuver ground. It was necessary to do so in order to secure a sufficient area for the maneuvers.

The war department has also secured the consent of the owners of a large tract of land in the vicinity of Fort Riley, which is to be used for the maneuvers. tion of the regular army organizations will reach the scene by marching a part of the way and by rail the other part both going and returning.

The militia will be transported by the United States by rail or water from the home stations of their companies to the place of maneuver and return and will be paid and supplied rations from the date of their departure to date of return to their home stations.

The troops participating in the maneuvers are to be organized into five brigades, an artillery division and a provisional division, under command of Major General Bates. The four brigades of infantry will be commanded respectively by Brigadier Generals Frederick D. Grant, J. Franklin Bell and Thomas H. Barry of the United States army and Brigadier General J. W. Hughes of the Kansas national guard. Brigadier General C. C. Carr, U. S. A., will be in charge of the cavalry brigade, and Major W. H. Coffin, United States artillery corps, will lead the artillery division.

Major General John C. Bates, the ranking officer of the maneuvers, is a native of Missouri and a son of the late Edward Bates, who served in Lincoln's first cabinet as attorney general. In May, 1861, when but nineteen years old, he was commissioned first lieutenant in the Eleventh United States infantry and served with the Army of the Potomac until 1863. He was with his company at Gaines Mill, Malvern, the second Bull Run, Antietam and Fredericksburg and was twice brevetted for meritorious services in the field.

At the outbreak of the Spanish war he was made a brigadier general of volunteers and was promoted to major general for distinguished services during the Santiago campaign. In 1899 he was sent to the Philippines and came into prominence through his treaty with the sultan of Sulu. General Bates reached the grade of brigadier general in the regular service in 1901 and that of major general last year. He is regarded as an officer of great ability.

Socialism In Germany

ONE of the most conspicuous political figures in the German empire, standing out as the fearless opponent of Kaiser Wilhelm himself on matters of public policy, is Herr Ferdinand August Bebel, who as the leader of the Socialist party has just won a notable victory at the polls.

Under the leadership of Herr Bebel and his able lieutenants the Socialist party has grown to be the best organized political force in the fatherland. The party has gained greatly in strength in recent years and Socialists and Socialism have been much in evidence during the sessions of the Reichstag. The party has gained greatly in strength in recent years and Socialists and Socialism have been much in evidence during the sessions of the Reichstag.

Herr Bebel has been an uninterrupted career of nearly forty years in German parliamentary life and is without doubt the most brilliant as he is the most fervid debater in the Reichstag. He is the brains of the Socialists and, according to a recent statement made by the venerable Professor Mommsen, has a head on him "worth the craniums of a dozen conservative 'Junkers'."

He fought a hundred political battles with Bismarck and was one of the few who could hold his own with the Iron Chancellor. Although now sixty-three years old his courage, vigor and enthusiasm for everything dear to the cause of socialism are as strong as when he first entered public life.

Only a few months ago he delivered one of the most telling speeches ever heard in the Reichstag. His attack on Emperor William inspired by the latter's denunciation of the Socialists. He launched defiance at his imperial majesty, using language that uttered anywhere but in the sacred precincts of the Reichstag chamber would have landed him in jail for lese-majesty a dozen times over.

During the debate on the German expedition to China he characterized the German army's exploits in the Celestial Kingdom as "shameful" and said they were marked by "bestiality lower than among beasts." He blamed the emperor for all because of his order that no mercy should be shown. He has repeatedly criticised and censured William II for his public utterances, and once he intimated that he thought the emperor was insane. This was on the occasion of the latter's speech to the young recruits telling them they must be ready if needs be to kill their own fathers and mothers.

Herr Bebel is a native of Cologne and was educated in a village school near that city and in a grammar school at Weizlar. In 1870 he removed to Leipzig, where for four years he established his own business that of wood turner and carver.

In the meantime he had joined in the workmen's movement in Germany and soon became one of the most aggressive leaders in that cause. From 1865 to 1880, when he removed to Berlin, Bebel was president of the Workmen's Educational club in Leipzig and a member of the permanent executive committee of the German Workmen's association.

Herr Bebel made his entry into political life in 1867 and in 1871 was elected to the first Reichstag of the German empire. Following the lead of Herr Liebknecht, his friend and sponsor, he became identified with the Socialists. Once in the Socialist ranks he found a ready field for his remarkable ability as an organizer.

Since then the Socialists have greatly increased in numbers and influence. In 1873 they polled less than one-sixth of their present strength, and since the last general election in 1898 they have gained nearly 800,000 votes, polling nearly 3,000,000 in the elections just held.

Always a poor man, Herr Bebel, even in the midst of his triumphs as a party leader, has had many personal trials to face. For years after he had secured a seat in the Reichstag he used to hurry away to his shop as soon as the debates were over, and during recess he worked early and late to have money in hand for the expenses of the next session. In recent years, the income from his pen has enabled him to live in comfort.

From the outset the police raised difficulties for him at every turn. In 1863 he was sent to prison for three weeks on a charge of propagating doctrines dangerous to the state, and in 1872 he was condemned to two years' imprisonment for high treason. Since then he has frequently suffered imprisonment for lese-majesty. During his life in prison—Herr Bebel has spent nearly five years behind the bars—he devoted his time to study. It was while in prison that he learned the English language, and his first and most successful book, "Die Frau," was planned in the same enforced retreat. This remarkable work which has passed through twenty-five editions in Germany and has been translated into fifteen other languages, deals with the industrial condition of woman. A fascinating writer on social and economic subjects, many of the burning articles in Vorwarts, the leading daily organ of the Socialists, published in Berlin, are products of his pen. The leader of the Socialists is slender and delicate looking with snow white hair and beard and is more like a college professor than a fighting politician.

Of a different mold is Paul Singer, the first of the Socialist canon, as Bebel is the brains. Huge of stature, with stentorian voice and a personal courage in keeping with the rough and tumble leader of the party, always ready for a fray and usually victorious in one.

Singer was formerly a wealthy cloth manufacturer, but gave up business to do his time and fortune to the cause of socialism. He lives in humble lodgings in a modest quarter of Berlin and in every way shares the mode of living as he does the hopes of his fellow Socialists. He, too, is a strong parliamentarian, and when he begins to thunder forth from the tribune of the Reichstag he commands an attentive chamber. Last September, just before the government majority succeeded in forcing the passage of the bill in the Reichstag, Singer was ejected for alleged obstructionist tactics. Since then he has been more popular than ever with his followers.

Emperor William, it is said, has no great fear of the Socialists. They have grown enormously in numbers, especially in the cities, but they have also grown in wisdom. Twenty years ago there was wild talk about their sweeping everything before them, and people were much excited about it. There is not nearly so much excitement today, even though the Socialists are much stronger. The leaders of the party, as a rule, are thoughtful well educated men who are sincere in their attempts to solve problems that are not unlike those found in every country in one guise or another. There is little bitterness in their campaigns, and they work seriously and earnestly. They are not seeking to overthrow everything in order to bring about a distribution of wealth. Their platform is extremely moderate.

What the future of the Socialists will be, or rather, what the result of their influence will be, is difficult to foretell. Emperor William's speeches would indicate that he has no great love for them, on the other hand, he is not so inimical to them as the popular impression indicates.

It is not considered likely that the emperor contemplates any measures to repress the growth of socialism. Even were he so disposed he is too wise to adopt the policy of his grandfather or of Bismarck, for his efforts to stamp out socialism did more than any other one agency to make the Socialists powerful.
