NEW DEAL IN MICH. POLITICS

NEW COMBINE SAID TO BE IN THE FIELD

May Get Together for Purpose of Harmony.

The latest political news from Detroit and Washington on Michigan politics is that the Senators Alger, Burrows, Bliss McMillan factions have all gotten together in a "harmony" combination and will iron out all the rough spots on the political checkerboard.

In this harmony plan it is said W. C. McMillan is not to seek the U. S. senatorship until Senator Alger is through with it and that the Alger forces will play good in Senator Burrows' interests when the latter comes up for re-election in 1905. The combine also propose to get behind the strongest man for governor or the one whom they believe is the strongest with the people and that man they say now seems to be Warner, the Galland county cheese-maker. The combine thinks the people will not this year stand for a millionaire for governor and in that case it would not be going to crowd either Stevens or Ferry in the race again this time. They intimate that Warner stands today very close to the common people and that with all the appointments of census enumerators he will have to make during the year will bring him well to the front.

The report also gives the information that Railroad Commissioner Atwood is to do the managing for this harmony combination, and this much as Atwood is today considered one of the very shrewdest politicians in the state it is significant that the harmony program would be a powerful one.

The combine will urge the passage of a primary reform law which it is said will be along the lines advocated by Warner which is also along the same lines mentioned by the Detroit Journal recently except that the Journal advocated the nomination of governor and lieutenant governor by a direct vote, instead of a direct vote for delegates and the preservation of the state convention.

THE LANGUAGE OF SHELLFISH

Warn One Another of "Danger by Weird Clicking Sounds."

Most seamen will tell of curious clicking sounds heard on calm nights at sea and the origin of the noise seems an altogether unaccountable thing that has often created some alarm among superstitious fishermen.

A distinguished naturalist made a careful study of the sounds on many occasions, and found that it was not a sustained note, but made up of a multitude of tiny ones, each clear and distinct in itself, and ranging from a high treble down to a bass. When the ear was applied to the gunwale of the boat, the sound grew more intense, and in some places as the boat moved on, it could not be heard at all.

On other occasions the sounds resembled the tolling of bells, the boom of guns and the notes of an Aeolian harp.

For a long time he was unable to trace the cause but at length discovered that the sounds were made by shellfish, hundreds of them opening their shells and closing them with sharp snaps. The noise, partly muffled by the water, sounded indescribably weird. He was finally led to the conclusion that as the shellfish made the sounds, it probably had some meaning, and that the clicks might possibly be a warning of danger when the shallow water was disturbed by the boat.

Mistake of French Diplomats.

It is the custom in Asia for all foreign missions to bring presents to King Menchik. The French some years ago brought a lot of Parisian mechanical toys—squeezing toys, pigs that ran about on their hind legs and dolls that talked. They thought such things would be certain to tickle the fancy of a dusky king. Menchik looked at them for a moment with disgust and rage, then he thrust them aside. "Do you think," he asked, "that I am a child or a savage that I should delight in toys?" The Russian and English emissaries showed a truer insight into his character. They brought him Mauser pistols, revolvers and the latest and best rifles they could buy. He was delighted. "These are gifts worthy to be received by a warrior and a king," he declared. The influence of the Russians and English over Menchik dates from that lucky incident.

Charity.

He told me that he covered up a multitude of sins. That of the human race was the greatest. As such, our admiration it invariably grows. The more so, the more often is the latest without it we should find the world was a better place. And gratitude would be a singularity. Because of which, I begged him to give for sweet charity.

I will not complicate, I gave him quite a lot of gratitude he made a demonstration. I made it a condition that he'd be ever dumb. Concerning my magnificent donation, I told him I considered a donation was a sign of wisdom, as well as great vulgarity. And any baser feeling were unworthy to combine with sweet charity.

He shook my hand quite warmly and he said: "I really thought the fellow then was dumb." That to my obligation some attention he would pay. In fact, my changed opinion is quite correct. Of course, it doesn't matter, but I'll be more light of heart. Next time, a gift from me will be a rarity. They'd blushed all the names but mine. I wasn't on the list of sweet charity.

A BOLD THREAT.

Strikers Threatened to Throw Mine Engineer Down Shaft.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 20.—Two hundred striking trammers of the Quincy mine marched Tuesday to the Mesnard shaft, the only part of the mine in operation, and demanded that the miners be called up at once and the engines shut down. The captain in charge refused, but was notified that if miners were not up by a specified time the strikers would throw him down the shaft. The engineers also were threatened, and as a result all the miners were brought up.

The trouble was caused by the company lowering wages $5 a month for trammers because of the introduction of an electric tramming system, the change in wages being made without notification to the employees.

The entire mine is now closed down, surface work also being suspended. As a result the Quincy mill also will close for lack of rock. The sheriff and deputies are guarding the company's property.

WANT A CHANGE.

Supervisors After New State Tax Legislation.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 21.—Supervisors representing thirty different counties assembled in this city in convention Tuesday, with George C. Wirslow of Kalamazoo in the chair. An informal discussion of the question of paying for the car of the victims of contagious diseases and the compensation of county officers was held during the afternoon. Both were referred to special committees. On the latter question the delegates were unanimous in the opinion that the supervisory system could be superseded by the salary system.

By invitation the tax commission will meet the supervisors today for the purpose of discussing amendments to the existing tax laws and methods. The supervisors favor the changing of the legislation so as to give the commission an appellate jurisdiction in stead of the power it now enjoys.

Big Blaze in Port Huron.

Port Huron, Mich., Jan. 20.—Fire which broke out in the basement of J. W. Goulding & Co's jewelry, notions and wholesale millinery store shortly after 8 o'clock Tuesday morning caused losses which will aggregate $100,000. The fire was discovered by an employee, who gave the alarm. The firemen were soon on the scene, but the zero weather, backed by a high southwest wind, hampered them in their efforts and made the situation dangerous for a time. The flames spread rapidly, and it was but a short time before Goulding's place was doomed. The fire then spread to the stores of Kresge & Wilson, Ballentine Dry Goods Co., D. A. Frazer and L. Higer & Son, doing great damage.

Wounded Soldier Died.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 20.—A former L. Warren Company G. I. soldier, regent of military, stationed at Fort Wayne who was shot in the back while making a dash for liberty, died in the hospital at the fort at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Warren was about 35 years old, a large man, 6 feet 10 inches tall. Mystery surrounds his identity and family history. He was a recent man and had no relatives at the fort. When he deserted on the previous occasion mentioned he took with him all his belongings including every scrap of paper that might lead to a knowledge of his origin.

Child Baked to Death.

Onondaga, Mich., Jan. 20.—The only child of Charles Hogel, a boy of three years, living three miles southeast of here, was literally baked to death. The little fellow in some way caught fire from the stove while the mother was out of the room, and before it was discovered had rushed about the house, setting fire to it in several places. The mother became hysterical, and seizing the child she ran to neighbors where the flames were put out. There was scarcely a spot on the babe where the fire had not burnt him. He died in a few hours.

Robbery Plot Unearthed.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Jan. 20.—The police have unearthed a plot here to rob one of the principal business houses of the city. The plan was disclosed by a number of the gang who became frightened and told the police all that he knew. As a result John Nevins and William Hamilton have been arrested and more arrests will follow within a few hours. It is believed that twenty-five robberies have been committed by the gang in the past few weeks and that the amount of their stealings runs into big figures.

Galax Leaves.

The use of galax in commercial quantities for Christmas decorations dates back only to 1890, yet to-day the plant is known and used the world over, and last year no less than seventy million galax leaves were shipped from the mountains of North and South Carolina.

Who Pays the Printer?
When you go around from printer to printer getting your business cards printed, you are giving to the lowest bidder, you get an inferiorly good job—
one that sells no goods for you, then who pays the printer?

YOU DO.

When you pick out a good printer, giving him all your work, educating him to an idea of your needs, and paying a fair price for the work you get, your printed matter (when secured at the Record Printery) necessarily creates a favorable impression for you and for what you offer, and because a factor in selling your goods. Then who pays the printer? Your customer.

HE DOES.

Lyceum Theater—Detroit.

Those clever comedians and producers Weber & Fields are wonderful misanthropes in their way. Each year they go about doing good with a vengeance. Their wonderfully clever musical comedy, "Forty Forty," comes to the Lyceum for a week's engagement Jan. 24.

Whitney's Opera House—Detroit.

An uncommon story uncommonly well told is explanatory of "For Her Children's Sake" to be seen at the Whitney for one week beginning Jan.
24. It exhibits effectively the subtle characteristic of Theodore Kremer's other success "The Fatal Wedding" and fully maintains its high standard of excellence set by that powerful melodrama.

Kaiser Smokes a Pipe.

Emperor William has taken to smok-specially prepared in Havana. He inherits the smoking habit from his father, who was a great smoker of the well known student type, such as Bismarck substituted for cigars toward the end of his life. The old emperor neither smoked nor snuffed, although the latter habit was adopted by Frederick the Great.

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Tells How He Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters by Using Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Brock's
Age is 114
Years.

MR. ISAAC BROCK, BORN IN BUNCOMBE CO., N. C., MARCH 1, 1788.
His age is 114 years, vouched for by authentic record. He says: "I attribute my extreme old age to the use of Pe-ru-na."

Born before the United States was formed.
Saw 22 Presidents elected.
Pe-ru-na has protected him
from all sudden changes.
Veteran of four wars.
Shed a horse when 99 years old.
Always conquered the grip with Pe-ru-na.
Witness in a land suit at the age of 110 years.
Believes Pe-ru-na the great remedy of the age for catarrhal diseases.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of Mendenhall county, Texas, has lived for 114 years. For many years he resided at Bosque, Tex., eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son in law at Valley Mills, Texas.

Rural Free Delivery.
Rural free delivery has advanced with marvelous rapidity from a service costing $20,000 a year at its inception in 1891 to one that will cost this fiscal year nearly $7,000,000.

Trotting Record.
Just 100 years were occupied in lowering the mile trotting record from three to two minutes.

Darkey Pet of British Sailors.
Lord Wolseley in his recently published book of reminiscences tells this incident of his campaign in Ashanti some years ago. Sailors are proverbially fond of pets and a naval brigade adopted one, a negro boy, very black and very small. They had dressed him in the uniform of a blue jacket, which made him very proud of himself and of the woolen sword they had made for him. When you asked him his name, he had taught him to stand up to after you, to salute and to answer (quite seriously) "Moved Pet." "Is he a?" They took the utmost delight in teaching him English and the appearance and frolicsome pomposity of this child were a source of perpetual amusement to all ranks.

NO NEED FOR LANTERNS.
Conductors New Seicom Carry Their Costly Lights in Talking Tickets.
Modern railroading has criven the passenger conductors' lanterns almost out of use. Two decades ago or less the pride of a passenger conductor was his lantern. Then the cars were not so brightly illuminated as they are now and the ticket taker was obliged to carry his light on his left arm in order to see the pasteboards as he passed through the dimly lighted car.

Ten or twelve years ago the conductors indulged in considerable extravagance in the matter of lanterns.
Some of them were gold and silver plated. The upper part of the glass globe was colored blue, and the name of the owner was cut in old English letters. At the meetings of the conductors' association manufacturers would arrange a great display of costly lights at one of the hotels in the city in which the meeting would be held. Some of the conceits in the lights were unique and the prices ranged from $25 to ten times that figure. The glass and the plating were kept in a highly polished state and none dared to meddle with this part of the ticket puncher's equipment.

Conductors still carry their own lanterns—that is they are on the train ready for use—but there is nowhere near the need of them that formerly existed.

A short time ago, by request, Uncle Isaac came to Waco and sat for his picture. In his hand he held a stick cut from the grave of General Andrew Jackson, which has been carried by him ever since. Mr. Brock is a dignified old gentleman, showing few signs of decrepitude. His family Bible is still preserved, and it shows that the date of his birth was written 114 years ago.

Few words from this remarkable old gentleman, who has had 114 years of experience to draw from, would be interesting as well as profitable. A lengthy biographical sketch is given of this remarkable old man in the Waco Herald, December 1, 1903. A full and complete biography of this, the oldest living man, illustrated with 40 authentic portraits, was given the first of the Dallas Morning News, dated December 1, 1903, and also in the Dallas Herald of same date.

In the long run, a man who has lived 114 years is a man who has lived a long time. The great secret of longevity is to keep the body in good condition. Give the body a good exercise, do not count the days, but live for the purpose of doing good. In the long run, the body will be in good condition.

Just About the Same Thing.
Johnnie was much interested in all his Aunt Clara's wedding preparations, but most especially in his wedding gift to her, which he had been told was to be a chafing dish. After having had it pointed out to him, where it rested among the other gifts, he marched straight to his mother, and in a thoroughly disgusted tone said:
"Mamma, that wedding present I gave Aunt Clara is nothing but a kitchen skillet!"

Billy Jones wrote on the blackboard:

Billy Jones can hug the girls better than any boy in school."
The teacher, seeing it, called him up. "William, did you write that?"
"Yes, ma'am," said Billy.
"Well you can stay after school," said she.
The children waited for Billy to come out when they began to gey him. "Got hicken, didn't ye?"
"Nope," said Bill.
"Get awed?"
"Nope."
"What did she do?" they asked.
"Shan't tell," said Bill, "but it pays to advertise."

This centenarian is an ardent friend of Peruna, having used it many years.
In speaking of his good health and extreme old age, Mr. Brock says:

"After a man has lived in the world as long as I have, he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so."

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that are due directly to the effects of the climate. For 114 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States."

"I have always been a very healthy man, but of course subject to the little affections which are due to sudden changes in the climate and temperature.
During my long life I have known a great many remedies for coughs, colds and asthma."

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy Peruna, I have found it to be the best, not only the reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy."

"If exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it keeps me in good appetite; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation.
I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine."

"When epidemics of la grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease."

"I had several long sieges with the grip. At first I did not know that Peruna was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that la grippe was epidemic catarrh, I tried Peruna for la grippe and found it to be just the thing."

Yours truly,
Isaac Brock.

We have to make them now—and as time crowds us we crowd prices because we must sell this stock.

There are no ifs and ands about it—its complete disposal is necessary, the reorganization plans demand it and low prices must push it out of this store into the hands of those far-seeing buyers who realize that the greatest buying opportunity of their lives is before them and who are and will take advantage of it and thus assure themselves of a saving of from 25 to 50 and 60 per cent.

Don't spend a dollar for clothing, furnishings or hats without first coming to this store and seeing inducements the like of which never were offered buyers before.

HEALTH

"I don't think we could keep a doctor without Theodor's Black-Draught. We have used it in the family for over two years with the best of results. I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.
