THE "GLORIOUS" IN NORTHVILLE

WILL BE CELEBRATED BY A BIG PICNIC

Wayne Co. Log Rollers' Annual Here July 4th.

Northville will have a chance this year to display its pride in the way of public relations demonstration on the "glorious fourth" in the Woodmen of the World's county fair to be held here on that day for their big annual picnic. Instead of going, as has been their custom on an excursion up or down Detroit river, about seventy of the good citizens of our village and vicinity are members of the fraternal, the number including quite a good many of our well known business men, and as the local camp was instrumental in securing the event for Northville, out of consideration for them as well as for the honor of our town and the benefit to be derived, everything should be done to make the affair a "howling success."

That it will be a success is practically a foregone conclusion, as both Northville and the M. W. A. of this place usually make things go when they undertake anything of this sort. Several of our business men have already, without solicitation, signified their willingness to show their interest in a substantial manner and no doubt all the rest will be equally ready to help along, as it means, if successfully carried out, the gathering of a big crowd of people, with the consequent benefit to the interests of the town. The accessibility of our village by steam and electric routes is one of the strongest points in our favor, and one that will tell emphatically for the success of the picnic and celebration.

It is yet too early to enumerate the special features to be provided, but there is no doubt that the attractions will be many and varied and that our home folks will all take hold with the M. W. A., the hosts of the occasion, to convince the visitors who shall come to us on the fourth that Northville is it and that we have a "pull" on the American eagle that will certainly make him scream in more than regulation style.

BOLD BURGLARY

SUNDAY MORNING

PERE MARQUETTE DEPOT INVADED BY THIEVES.

Gum and Weighing Machines Main Points of Attack.

In the small hours of Sunday morning the Pere Marquette depot was feloniously entered by parties so far unknown, but the robbers got but a small reward for the risk incurred, securing only the contents of the gum machine, the total assets of which, in gum and pennies, only represented $2.42. The burglary must have occurred between one and three o'clock, as the night man was on duty until the former hour, and parties coming to take the early morning train, which passes through a little after three, found the building open.

The thieves entered through the window in the back office, and traces of a general rummaging of things were visible, although Mr. Dolph has not discovered that anything was taken from the office. The gum machine, however, was torn down and taken away, and, as was discovered Monday, was demolished and its "remains" buried in the gravel pit near by. It was evidently intended that the operations in the pit should conceal the machine permanently, but during Monday's work it was unearthed by the corner of the scraper chancing to catch upon it.

The weighing machine was broken open, but the operators did not succeed, for lack of time or perhaps from being too much occupied in getting at the cash received at the machine.

Get in your Mink before the village board of review next week Thursday and Friday.

In concert with seven other papers we remark that the hum of the lawnmower is now heard in the land.

For this, two months for some reason Northville has not been represented on the court jury list drawn.

A well known Northville lady whose new spring hat is decorated with a generous supply of very realistic green foliage, was gravely advised by a solutions relative to be sure and keep the hat in nights for fear of the plants getting frosted.

Mrs. W. S. Jerome has consented to take charge of "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at Pontiac June 19 for the benefit of the Pontiac high school. This will be the third time she has managed this delightful musical entertainment in that city.

The fire department was called out about ten o'clock Saturday night, and incidentally a number of citizens who had just retired or were about to do so. It proved to be a false alarm, occasioned by a coil of rope from the stove at Porter's building on Center street.

At the regular meeting of the last week the delegates elected to the congressional convention were M. N. Johnson, C. R. Burton and T. B. Henry. The delegates to the county-state-national delegate convention are S. J. Lawrence and Robert Lanning and F. N. Perry. There was no contest involved and the delegates being chosen by acclamation.

A reliable Northville man who has been working on the old Hathorn farm in Novi township reports a "crawly" snake story. Warner Again Comes Out Flat.

Frank Statement of His Position on Direct Voting Question.

"The statement is being persistently in some papers classed as a waverer. I made that the other candidates represent do not believe that men ought to be the direct voting sentiment, while I represent the opposition. This is not true as I am not a waverer."

"It is evident that myself and those who can show by my statement in The Free Press months ago. The truth is they would compel the adoption of the direct voting system for all nominations or all parts of the state, whether the voters want it or not. I should favor the system at such times and in such places as the voters are ready for it. Which of these plans is the most fair and Republican."

"I favor a primary voting system, and have for months been making a careful compilation of the primary laws of other states to the end that the legislature may pass a law before the legislature, the best laws obtainable may be drafted and passed."

"I know that the scope and limits of such a law are now under discussion throughout the state and that honest men differ as to the extent to which the law should apply. They want a fair law. Because I have said that such men are honest and have a right to be heard, I am not a waverer."

Pure Primaries and Honest Election.

"In state affairs the Republican party stands for a just and equitable system of taxation, which shall fairly distribute the burdens of government; it stands for an economical and business like administration of the affairs of this great state; it stands for pure primaries and honest elections. It is its mission, before another legislature shall adjourn, to give to the people of this state an effective primary election law—a law which, without complications or delays, will make it not only possible, but practicable and certain, that the people shall have placed in their hands the power to abolish corrupt influences in the making of nominations and the selecting of electors. This law, I believe, should be most carefully drawn and should represent the mature deliberation, and the best thought and experience, of the law-making body. The central fact should always be kept in mind that the evil to be done away with is the improper use of money, patronage or other corrupt practices in making nominations to public office."

"I firmly believe that the next legislature of this state will pass such a law; and I count it my privilege to stand shoulder to shoulder with the conservative friends of honest government in support of the enactment of such a measure; and not only its enactment, but its effective and fearless enforcement."—F. M. Warner, Detroit Free Press.

I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.

Because this great medicine relieves stomach pains, frees the constipated bowels and invigorates the torpid liver and weakened kidneys.

George Gould, a Great Figure in the World of Finance.

The fight of the allied Gould and Rockefeller railroad interests to obtain a footing on the Atlantic seaboard has been directed by the energetic head of the Gould house, Mr. George Gould, who on the death of his father, the late Jay Gould, took charge of the immense financial interests the latter controlled. The financial world has watched with interest the struggle which has been going on between the Pennsylvania railroad and the railroad interests controlled by the Gould-Rockefeller al-

Every one knows that Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure. Hence the housewife uses it with implicit confidence and without question, and she is justified in so doing.

But how few realize that Royal Baking Powder in its chief ingredient is a direct product of the healthful and delicious grape! This constituent of the grape, crystallized and ground to an impalpable powder, is the cream of tartar which forms the active principle of every pound of Royal Baking Powder.

Fruit properties are indispensable to the healthfulness of the body, and those of the grape as used in the "Royal" are the most valuable and healthful of all.

Hence it is that Royal Baking Powder produces food superlative both in flavor and wholesomeness.

UNCLE SAM'S WONDERS

All Executive Departments Send Treasures to the World's Fair.

Display Installed in the Largest Governmental Exposition Building Ever Constructed—Precious Documents—Relics of Famous Statesmen and Soldiers. Working Postal Exhibit.

The United States Government building at the World's Fair occupies an elevated site just south of the main picture of the Exposition. The great central dome of the Government building is visible from the very center of the fair, looking across the picturesque surken garden that lies between the Palaces of Mines and Metallurgy and Liberal Arts.

The hill slope in front of the Government building is terraced with broad stairways almost completely covering the slope. The building is 800 feet long by 250 feet wide and is the largest structure ever provided at an exposition by the federal government. It is distinguished from all the other large buildings at the Exposition by the steel truss construction, the entire roof being supported by steel arches, forming a splendid domed ceiling.

In this building are installed the exhibits of all the executive departments of the government. The building is a vast storehouse of an endless variety of treasures dear to the heart of every true American. Precious documents are to be seen here, and the autographs of our great men of the past are on display. Relics of famous statesmen and soldiers, carefully preserved through generations, are exhibited. Each governmental department has installed an exhibit showing its official character and mode of operation.

Entering the Government building from the eastern end, the visitor sees at his left a railroad postoffice car. This is not a mere exhibit, standing idle, but is one of the most improved mail cars, in which men attached to the United States railway mail service are actively engaged in "throwing" the mails. Here you will see the postal clerks at work, just as they work while speeding along a railroad track.

A curious collection of old time relics from the postoffice museum at Washington illustrates as no verbal description can do the crude beginnings of the postal system. One of these relics is an old fashioned stagecoach that once carried United States mails through a portion of the Louisiana purchase territory. President Roosevelt, who once inspected it, examined with a rough rider's interest the buller holes which stage robbers and mountain brigands shot through its stiff leather curtains. General Sherman and Sheridan and President Garfield rode in this old coach during the strenuous days of frontier life. Among the collection of documents showing the primitive postal methods in vogue in the early days is to be seen the old book of accounts kept by the first postmaster general, Benjamin Franklin, all written by hand. There is a rare collection of stamps, including ancient Phila. no. Porto Rican and Cuban stamps. The postoffice department's exhibit occupies 12,409 square feet.

Across the aisle, at the right, is the exhibit of the new Department of Commerce and Labor, occupying 1066 square feet. This exhibit shows what the new executive department stands for and what it is accomplishing. Mr. Carroll D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, had charge of the preparation of the exhibit. Charts arranged by him, showing the rapid growth of the nation in agriculture, arts, manufacture, population, etc., are of special interest to sociologists and all students of the labor problem. The Census Bureau exhibit is made in this section. It shows the tabulating machines used in compiling the census reports. The Lighthouse Board, also operating under this department, shows the great revolving lenses in light-houses, with other interesting appliances.

The space in the projecting northwest corner of the building is devoted to the Library of Congress. The edifice which houses this library at Washington is held by many architects to be the most beautiful building in the world. Its interior decorations, by Elmer Ellsworth Garney, furnish one of the chief delights of a visit to the national capital. A large model of this splendid building is a feature of the exhibit. The decorative features of the interior are reproduced in their original colors.

The next exhibit on the right hand side of the central aisle is that of the Interior Department, occupying 11,792 square feet. In this large space the visitor finds so many things of compelling interest that he is loath to leave. The Patent Office exhibit belongs to this section. There are models of many machines that have borne an important part in the development of the nation's industries. The earliest form of every device of human invention, so far as possible, is shown here. For instance, you may see the actual sewing machine that was the first contrivance of its kind ever constructed; it was patented in 1846 by Elias Howe. The first typewriter, patented by C. Thurber in 1842; the model of the first cast iron plow, patented by Charles Newbold in 1797; the first screw propeller, invented by Robert Hook in 1680; and many other "first" things are to be seen. The model of Abraham Lincoln's celebrated device for lifting steamboats off shoals is shown here. The first harvesting machine, made in the year 1800 B. C., is one of the most ancient exhibits at the Exposition. There is also a model of the first steam engine, made in Egypt in the same year.

Every foot of the 200,000 feet of floor space in Uncle Sam's World's Fair building is occupied by exhibits of surpassing interest, and every phase of the people's welfare is shown.

CURIOUS THINGS FROM CHINA

The Most Magnificent Beds Ever Seen Are Part of the Celestial Empire's World's Fair Exhibit.

The Chinese exhibit at the World's Fair is filled with pleasing surprises. Some of the most magnificent articles of furniture are a part of this wonderful display. The carving and inlaying of ivory, bone and wood illustrate the marvelous skill of the Chinese. Models included in this interesting exhibit show the homes and home life of the Chinese, their weddings and funerals, Chinese tea house, restaurant and shop, Chinese weaving and some of the beautiful silks and wearing apparel of the Chinese and their methods of manufacturing them.

One feature of the exhibit is two magnificent Chinese beds, each of which has the appearance of being a work of art. One is a summer bed, the other a winter bed. The summer bed is hard, cold and built with ivory and bone, and is covered with a soft, expensive material, and is a perfect work of art. The winter bed is soft and comfortable, and is covered with a soft, expensive material, and is a perfect work of art.

The winter bed is still more elaborate. It consists of three compartments. The first contains four chairs, a tea tray and a chest of drawers. This is the sitting apartment. The second is the dressing room, and the third is the sleeping apartment, or the couch. The furniture is of rosewood inlaid with ivory carving of birds, flowers and trees. The couch is covered with silks of the finest texture and in gaudy colors. The sleeping compartments are lighted with Chinese lanterns of silk, hung at the outer entrance, while the light enters through gauze panels, hand painted and in forms of rosewood inlaid with ivory figures.

A table and dish made of highly polished ash, with exquisitely carved bamboo figures inlaid, are shown. The work is so artistically done that each article seems to have been made of one piece of wood. There is also a large display of Chinese lanterns made of silk, gauze and other light material and some made of beads artistically arranged with glass centers. The silk and gauze are beautifully hand painted.

There are models of some of the great Chinese temples, theaters and arches, showing elaborate carving in wood and ivory and two large elephant tusks exquisitely carved.

WHARFAGE FREE AT ST. LOUIS

Twenty Miles of River Front For Water Craft at World's Fair City.

Free wharfage will be given to all boats landing at St. Louis during the World's Fair. Traffic Manager Hilary of the Exposition and Joseph P. Whyte, harbor and wharf commissioner of St. Louis, have decided on the locations assigned to the various kinds of boats.

Yachts, steam launches and all boats propelled by their own power have been assigned wharf space between Chouteau avenue and Biddle street. These streets, running east and west, form the boundary lines for the central business district of the city.

House boats have been assigned wharf space north of Biddle street and south of Chouteau avenue.

St. Louis has a river front of twenty miles. The Broadway line of the Transit company parallels the river from the city limits on the north to Jefferson Barracks on the south. At no point are the cars more than five blocks from the Mississippi river. The World's Fair may be reached for one fare by transferring to any of the eight lines that cross Broadway and reach the Exposition grounds.

No charge will be made for wharfage. Application for space should be made to the harbor and wharf commissioner at the City Hall, on Twelfth street, between Market street and Clark avenue.
