FOR FIFTY YEARS A RESIDENT HERE

CAPT. E. K. SIMONDS CAME TO
NORTHVILLE IN 1855

Member of Famous "Fighting Fifth"
Mich. Cavalry.

The subject chosen for the Record's biographical sketch this week is one of the most familiar figures among our older residents, Capt. E. K. Simonds, who has lived in this community for half a century as one of its foremost and esteemed citizens.

Ed K. Simonds was born in Walpole, New Hampshire, May 16, 1828, and comes of a family whose founders settled in Massachusetts in 1848 and which has helped materially to shape the history of New England since Revolutionary days, giving men of note to many professions and public positions, while both his paternal and maternal ancestry furnished soldiers for the struggle for freedom which began in 1776. When a boy of fifteen he went to Penn Yan,

N. Y., and at twenty one started from there for California during the gold fever of 1849, stopping for a while in Detroit and then going on to Cincinnati. In the latter city he was stricken with cholera, and on his recovery returned to Penn Yan and learned the trade of carriage maker in which vocation he engaged when he settled in Northville in 1857.

His successful career in business was interrupted by the civil war for which he raised a company and received a commission as its captain. They were mustered in as Co. D of what afterwards became the famous "Fighting Fifth" cavalry. Capt. Simonds' war record is a distinguished one and forms a part of the history of that trying time, his personal bravery and exploits winning commendation from high sources. His military ability showed itself conspicuously on July 24, 1863, when the 5th and 6th Michigan were surrounded by Stuart's cavalry and the command was given over to him in an emergency, his coolness and foresight saving his battalion from capture. His promotion was only a question of a short time had not a physical break down compelled him to leave the service at the end of a year.

Mr. Simonds has acceptably served

Northville and its industries in various capacities, having been president of the village two years, trustee at different times, and vice president of the old Globe Furniture company in its palmy days. He has been successfully engaged in the insurance business nearly ever since his return from the war. He is a "Mason" of more than local prominence, and has been a member of that order for fifty three years. He has also been a valuable member of the G. A. R. for many years.

Capt. Simonds is a man of more than ordinary intellectual force, and possesses an encyclopaedic fund of general information and culture which comes from many years of intelligent reading and observation. He has been twice married, having been united to his present wife in 1881. He has no children. Both he and his estimable wife are counted among our best people and have the friendship and respect of all who know them.

HIGH RECOMMENDATION For Next Lecture Course Entertainment.

The president of the Library association has a copy of a letter, bearing date Jan. 9, received by the Executive bureau from the superintendent of St. Charles public schools, concerning the Carolina Jubilee singers, who give the next entertainment on the lecture course here. Part of the letter is as follows:

"The Jubilee singers gave us such pleasing entertainment that I am writing you to know whether you would not give them to us again in the near future. It is generally acknowledged to be the best attraction ever given in our town, and we feel that it has given them such renown that we are justified in getting them back if possible.

Yours very truly,

MRS. M. J. HINMAN DIED JANUARY 20

HAD LIVED IN NORTHVILLE AND VICINITY SINCE 1852.

Member of Baptist Church Here Half a Century.

On Friday, January 20, Mrs. Mary J. Hinman died at her home in this place at the advanced age of 57 years. She was born in Scipio, N. Y., Sept. 9, 1848, and came with her parents to Michigan in 1828, the journey at that early day requiring two weeks travel by canal and steamboat. In 1841 she was married to Sidney Hinman in Troy, Mich., and 53 years ago they came to their farm one and one-half miles west of Northville on the West side of the base line. For the past eleven years she had resided in this village.

She leaves a daughter and two sons, Alice and Joseph of this place and John of Roseman, Mont. A sister, Mrs. Amanda Burgess of this place, the last of a family of twelve, also survives her. Mr. Hinman died about twenty years ago.

Mrs. Hinman was converted in early life and had been a consistent member of the Baptist Church for more than seventy years and of the Northville Baptist Church for over half a century, loved and respected by all who knew her.

The funeral was held at her late home Sunday, conducted by her pastor, Rev. Sidney F. Diamond, and the interment was in Rural Hill cemetery.

The Oxford Leader's Orion correspondent gravely speaks of a lady of the latter place "who says her father would have been 104 years old if he had lived until now."

The Orion Review announced a ten cent church supper last week, but like most functions of that sort it was no doubt a twenty five cent supper for ten cents. Newspapers are not always reliable in such cases, any more than churches are.

Mr. and Mrs. George Huff of Oxford celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last week and used the same table cloth that they used at their first wedding dinner. It had not been used at every dinner since, however, although it probably represented a good many fine spreads.

Plymouth people never discovered how much addicted to the water habit they were until they were deprived of that element last week. It was found that aquapura is a very important and necessary fluid even in Plymouth though they do make light of it—or with it—when they have plenty.

A little bill of $2,000 had to be paid by Washtenaw county's board of supervisors for cattle for tramps and disorderlies during December. It made the "supes" feel very cold however and they passed an iron clad resolution that not one more bill of that kind and size should be given to any prisoners from outside the county hereafter. Two is rather ill bread, but we can't blame them.

Topsy, an office girl of 17 years in the Tompkins Gazette died last week. This editor was obliged to pay a sad news over the untimely death and the burden of a name that is doubly brittle oftentimes bears. He will insert a clause in his will to provide that Topsy's tomb be decorated yearly with pussy willows. A suitable and fitting obituary will be sent in the "Black Cat" for publication—purchase a Adm'n Pr 85.—

Size of Texas.
This will help you to figure out just how large Texas really is. If you have a star mathematician in your family, tell him the number of square miles there are in the big state, then tell him the population of the globe, then ask him if all the people in the world were placed in Texas and its soil divided out among them per capita, how large would the man's farm be who had a wife and two children? When he gets through figuring, then whisper in his ear: "More than half an acre."—Texarkana (Tex.) Courier

Speed of the Camel.
The speed of the camel is greatly exaggerated by writers, both of history and fiction. The most accurate information shows the speed of the camel to be about three miles an hour. The swiftest dromedaries do not exceed ten miles an hour but the race can be kept up for twenty hours without rest.

NEWS OF MICHIGAN.

News from all Over the State in Brief Form For Busy Readers.

NOT ACCEPTED.

President Angell starting the U. of M. Regents.

President Angell of the University of Michigan, placed before the Board of Regents on Friday his resignation. It was entirely a surprise to the board, which declined to accept it. The letter was brief and stated his reason: "Although I have been graciously favored with health and strength, I am impressed with the belief that it would be to the advantage of the University of Michigan if you were to elect a younger man to the position now occupied."

When informed of the action of the regents in refusing to accept his resignation, President Angell consented to remain at the head of the institution. It is quite probable, however, that he will be given such assistance as will relieve him of the duties.

Secretary W. Aldo said the time has not yet arrived when the state can afford to part with the valuable services of the honored president, and said it was the hope of the people of Michigan in general that he may be spared for many years to come.

President Angell was greatly moved at the confidence shown him by the action of the regents, but refused to say anything further than that he would abide by their wishes.

SHOT HIS WIFE.

In Presence of the Innocent Children

Mrs. Mary Hardy, a young woman of Maron, was shot Monday afternoon at the home of her father, by her husband, Elmer E. Hardy. The tragedy is the end of a romantic marriage, six years ago, when Mrs. Mary Hardy, daughter of William M. Hall, a leading business man, was married to Hardy, then a popular dancing master. The couple soon after went to the state of Washington, where Hardy secured a position on a railroad. The wife is reported to have been anything but a happy one, and last summer Mrs. Hardy returned with her two children to the home of her father.

Last week Hardy came back, but made no effort to see his wife, until Monday, when he went to the house and asked to see her. She came into the room where her husband was, with her two little children hanging to her skirts, and smilingly walked toward him with her hand out to greet him, when he deliberately aimed a .32-gauge revolver at her and shot five times. She remained standing until the last shot was fired, when she fell to the floor unconscious.

The children ran screaming from the room and Hardy coolly put his revolver back into his pocket and walked out of the house. A physician was summoned at once, who pronounced Mrs. Hardy's wounds fatal. As soon as Hardy was taken down town he was arrested and lodged in jail.

Tried For Murder.

Mrs. Mary Brown, charged with the murder of her husband, John Brown, in Hancock, last November, will be tried this week. The victim was a barber, employed at Houghton, and residing in Hancock, and from all accounts he and his wife did not get along well together. On the night of the killing, Brown went to Houghton and when he did not return at the time expected, his wife went after him finding the man, it is said, in an intoxicated condition. However, Brown accompanied the woman home shortly after midnight. Mrs. Brown alarmed other lodgers in the house by calling for assistance, saying that she had shot her husband. The woman employed was a small revolver of 22 caliber. The bullet entered the man's head and he died shortly after the shooting. Mrs. Brown's explanation is that she shot Brown in self-defense as he was attacking her, and that woman's appearance when the police arrived at the scene directly after the shooting would seem to substantiate her statement. Her eyes were thickened by clothing was torn and she had the appearance of a victim of a terrible crime.

Frank Dornell, of Houghton, is expected to be charged with the murder of a woman who was killed in a rooming house in Houghton, Mich., last week. #### Does Not Care.

May Wagner Smith, the 16-year-old bride of two months, whose kisses were given to Morton Hayes, aged 16, led to the murder of Hayes by her 21-year-old husband Charles Smith, in a jealous rage, seems to enjoy being one of the central figures of a tragedy. She was on the streets of Eaton Rapids after the murder, apparently not realizing the shadow that had been cast on her by the early chattering with anyone she knew or with those who questioned her regarding the affair. Referring to her husband who had been taken to the Eaton county jail at Charlotte she said: "I don't care if he is in jail. I was going to leave him anyway."

Fought a Mastiff.

While they were alone in their home, James Hand aged 70 of Bay City, who has been slightly deranged, attacked his son James, Jr. and for two hours the son fought him to save his life and secure his freedom. He then summoned the sheriff, who locked the old man in a padded cell in the county jail. Both men were severely bruised and Hand Sr. may die. He had just returned from the hospital when he became so wildly insane.

Shot Three Hunters.

Tony Diebold, a saloonkeeper of West Branch, accidentally fired a load of shot that hit William Close, Wm. Schultz and Greer McHale, while the quartet were hunting rabbits. Close received a few shot in the arm. McHale was hit three in the nose, and Schultz was badly wounded in the back. Schultz was not recovered. Diebold did not know how he shot, but evidently was trying to lead his repeater when he pulled it off, as the empty shell was found in his gun.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Work of the Session Now On.

Farmers in certain sections of the state want the law protecting robins which eat up their cherries declared. There will be some amendments to the game laws and the influence of the committees will cover these matters—to exterminate dangerous or destructive animals, to preserve deer, quail and other animals in real danger of extinction, and to prevent such things as catching dried carp, fish, red Alaska salmon with dried or Dawson City on the label. This last trick is carried on in Michigan, Rep. Merritt thinks, to a serious extent.

The bill of Senator Peck, of Adrian, providing for the chemical analysis and certification of commercial feeding stuffs, providing for the composition and preparation of all concentrated commercial feeding stuffs sold in the state, passed Tuesday. It is really a pure food law for domestic animals' feed.

Senator Runer of Genesee, has a bill providing that no pardon be granted to a convict unless the applicant get the signature of the trial judge, the prosecutor, a certain per cent of the jury, the warden of the prison and a certain per cent of the residents of the vicinity of the crime.

The abolition of the 50 day limit, according to "Speaker" Master, has abolished a peculiar part of legislation in Michigan the introduction of skeleton bills. Formerly, when all bills had to be introduced during the first 50 days, everybody who had a bill in mind but not prepared would introduce a bill by title, as, "A bill to amend the act providing a charter for the city of Detroit." Then, if he wanted to put in the real bill later in the session he would take that title and add the real bill, a very large number of the bills introduced at the last session were only titles, and lots of the titles were never used.

But this year the 100 bills introduced in the house are all real bills. Last year they had 151 bills after three weeks a large number of them "skelton bills." So in the senate, they have 50 real bills and last year they had 51 skelton bills. But just as soon as we settle the budget, and pass a few necessary general laws, we shut down, and the man who delays his pet measure will get left.

Speaker Master is keeping up his campaign for a short session as vigorously as he can. He is fighting for the abolition of the junket. The senate elders say they would like to do it as soon as the house does it.

The house was in session just half an hour on Saturday and adjourned until Monday night. The senate had a meeting of 100 members on Saturday. When the legislature takes a week's recess next Monday to allow the committee to report, the session will have been completed.

Rep. Mack of Houghton will introduce a bill providing for a public pension.

Rep. Walker of Newaygo introduced a bill providing for an appropriation of $200,000 to improve the state to the condition of the best of any other state.

Rep. C. P. Brown of White Cloud, has two bills for experimental purposes.

Rep. George Lusk, of Detroit, is very much interested in providing for the ex-commissioners to handle the square mile all over the state, we pass and the law will be in force. He has in mind some of the bills which will be introduced with reference to the subject.

RUSSIA'S CRISIS.

Sunday and Monday were Days of Slaughter in St. Petersburg.

The crisis in the reign of the czar has come and the winter snow is stained with the slaughter of those who asked that he hear their complaints of oppression, in peaceful assembly on Sunday in the square before the winter palace. As the thousands of working people began to gather they were met at every avenue of approach to the palace by the armed soldiers of the czar and driven back, till at last they seized them and cries of "Down with the monarchy!" arose and then shots were fired which carried death and wounds to the infuriated people. As the dead and wounded were being borne away the fury of the throng increased and thousands of the striking workmen gathered, only to be met by the trained soldiers and held in check.

The struggle developed into the primary stages of a revolution, and the end is beyond the view of those who observe the situation as it now appears. Sunday's slaughter of hundreds may lead to the slaughter of armies and the overthrow of the present government. Russia, defeated by the Japs, now faces the greatest crisis in its history, for the result will be the weakening of the czar's powers, if it does not change the form of government. Every hour increases the uncertainty, and it may be that a civil war of the greatest importance began at St. Petersburg Sunday.

Fr. Gopon, the priest whose agitation has brought Russia to the verge of a revolution, is only 28 years old. He is possessed of boundless courage and enthusiasm. He is the son of a moujik (peasant and one-time serf) at Potava, in Little Russia, who was noted for his independence and a race of slaves. Though an orthodox priest, he is a seer of sectarian prejudices among his followers, who include large bodies of Catholics and Lutherans. He accepts no money for his services, lives like a hermit, and works 20 hours a day, seeming no sacrifice of time or labor enough in force on his propaganda. He travels long distances in the utter discomfort of the worst class of Russian railroads and never stops producing work, to keep his organization together. Fr. Gopon warmly protested against the communication of Feb. 27, for which he was publicly cursed by a priest of his native village. He knows the criminal classes of St. Petersburg better than any detective and absolutely excludes from his club any man convicted of a crime until the crime is followed by a public repentance. He does not utter a word of abuse, but his words are a fiery speech, abusing drink, immorality and gambling, telling the workmen that their abused condition is largely their own fault.

The reports from St. Petersburg Monday were of the most startling character. The number killed by the czar's soldiers according to official figures was only 70 and 231 wounded but in a report printed the number killed it 2000 and wounded 5000. The same in the winter palace is spoken of as one of the most horrible scenes in St. Petersburg. Now an armed mob, the mob has been forbidden and every precaution taken to avoid further bloodshed. Emperor Nicholas is completely prostrated by grief. He is reported to be highest in a state of collapse over the situation. Everything is in a state of confusion. A window in Grand Duke Sergius St. Petersburg was broken by a mob during the night.

The official version of the Sunday slaughter says Sunday was a day of blood in St. Petersburg. Citizens of their announced plan over 100,000 strikers led by Fr. Gopon and accompanied by their women and children marched towards the czar's winter palace to present their petition asking redress from the "little father" for their industrial and political wrongs. The czar's answer came through his massed troops. It was cold steel and bullets. It was death to his "children," the working people of his land. How many fell in the awful carnage in the streets will probably never be known.

It is claimed that in addition to the petition which was to have been presented to the emperor, was Father Gopon's "unsolicited demand" in a letter to the minister of the interior, as follows: "Your Excellency: Workmen of all classes in St. Petersburg wish to see the emperor at 2 o'clock p. m., Jan. 22, in the square at the winter palace, in order to personally express to him the needs of all the Russian people. I am assured by all workmen, my co-laborers and comrades and even by alleged revolutionary circles that his majesty has nothing to fear. His personal safety is assured. He will come as the true emperor with courageous men to receive a petition at our hands."

"It is your excellency's high duty to the emperor and to the entire people of Russia to communicate the foregoing to his majesty, the emperor, today without delay, and also the contents of our petition attached hereto. To say to the emperor that I, together with many workmen and thousands of people of Russia, am irrevocably resolved, with my faith in him, to proceed to the winter palace in order that he may show his faith by deeds and not by manifestos."

A summary of the problems now before the czar follows.

"Strike of over 100,000 workmen who demand political as well as industrial betterment."

"Frenzied caused by massacre of people in city streets which has incited the strikers to revolution."

"Disaffection in the army."

"Uprising in Moscow. Cossacks and other places which threaten to end with the czar's rule in revolt."

"From active activity of nihilists and anarchists."

"Wholesale of the people to die as martyrs for their country."

"Uprising in Leningrad and Poland."

"Personnel weakness in turning out to grand dukes whom the people especially hate."

"The war with Japan."

"Heavy taxes, dissatisfaction with church, rent and government ownership of factories which makes in effect slaves of workmen."

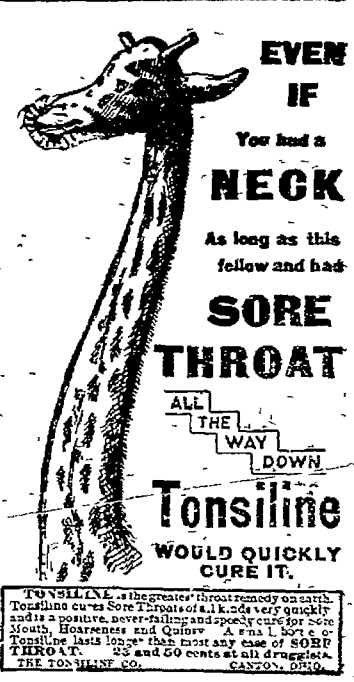

"Crisis in the army and navy."

"Demands for constitutional government of autonomy and justice."

"Surrender of conditions in judiciary."

"In St. Petersburg there is a turbulent mob rather than a mob that is calm. In Moscow common sense that strikes have been there and the bill in St. Petersburg may be only the precursor of another storm. Not a single mill or factory has started up. This is very significant in indicating that the workmen are being supplied with the supplies of war though none of them has applied for wages due and payable. The fear of the people has been somewhat allayed but the dread of the next few days continues. Many factories are being shut down. The foreign embassies are not manifesting alarm. They are expressing a confidence that the government will be able to handle the situation and that there is nothing now warranting apprehension for the lives and safety of the czar and his family."

The situation is so serious that the danger to the czar is exaggerated, continuing to scout the idea of a revolution and maintaining the ability of the government to meet all emergencies.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Representative Hepburn's railroad bill, amending the interstate commerce act and said to have the approval of the administration, was introduced in the house Saturday. The measure provides that upon complaint the interstate commerce commission on shall declare and order what shall be a just and reasonable rate, which order shall take effect in 60 days, the carrier having in appeal to a court of commerce to have the order of the commission reviewed. Pending the review, the court may suspend the order, requiring a bond from the carrier, for the payment of all damages incurred by shippers. The commission is also authorized to fix a joint rate in case two or more carriers fail to agree, orders affecting these rates being subject to review by the court of commerce. Carriers refusing to obey an order of the commission are subject to a penalty of $5,000 a day.

The first step towards placing Judge Charles Swayne on trial in the senate was taken Tuesday noon, when the house impeachment managers came on the floor of the senate. There was an impressive silence as Sergeant-at-Arms H. Stewart announced: "I have the honor to announce the managers of the house of representatives to conduct the impeachment proceedings against Charles Swayne, judge of the northern district of Florida."

The managers were escorted to seats in the front of the senate chamber by Sergeant-at-Arms Ransdell who then ascended to the president pro tempore stand and impressively and in stated form demanded silence, saying: "Hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye! All persons are commanded to keep silence, on pain of imprisonment, while the house of representatives is exhibiting to the senate of the United States articles of impeachment against Charles Swayne, district judge for the northern district of Florida."

Rep. Palmer was then recognized and read the articles of impeachment. Then the house managers withdrew and the senate dispatched a committee for Chief Justice Fuller, who, at 2 p. m., swore the senate as the jury in the case.

Rep. Townsend said Tuesday that it appeared to be impossible to get a railroad rate legislation through the senate at this session. Mr. Townsend, however, was inclined to be charitable and he thinks that the reason the senate would do anything is because it is too busy and not because it wants to go contrary to the president's desire. Talk of an extra session is revived because of the senate's delay course.

Dowie and Leases III.

Sickness has stricken leaders of Zion's, the prophet apostle himself, being the victim of a stomach trouble which has become practically chronic and which prevents the mirroring expected of energy which it was his wont to make in addressing his audience. The by-stands and their ailments are as follows:

John Alexander Dowie, "first apostle" and ruler of Zion, probably catarrh of stomach.

Mrs. John Alexander Dowie, wife of the apostle and overseer of the women followers, nervous prostration and other ills.

Carl Stern, chief of police of Zion City, pleurisy, may die.

Mrs. Speicher, wife of Overseer Speicher, ailment not known.

One-fifth of the residents of Zion City are said to be suffering from a strange malady which shows symptoms something similar to the grip. It is strange to the sufferers at least and there is no physician there to make diagnosis.

Asserting that the greatest of today's dangers is that from trusts and monopolies, which are crimes against God's bounty, the Rev. Thomas J. Ducey, preaching in St. Leo's Catholic church, New York, made a fiery attack on John D. Rockefeller and the Standard Oil Co.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., Jan. 27, '05.

A TYPICAL SOUTHERN HOUSE

Either a Rambler or Modern Frame. Externally the Southern House of the present day is a rambling burglarious one of the most attractive types near Asheville—an Italian structure with white columns and a porch in front of some old mansions, for the like of the south was famous—of a frame structure quite attractive and compact, with leaded windows, half timber borders, and an overhanging eave upon a foundation of gray stone with coping of the same, or modification of these three ideas.

In its interior arrangement says a writer in the House Beautiful the southern residence has always been called upon to meet not only the demands of convenience and comfort, but also those of hospitality and entertainment as well for the southerner is decidedly a social being, given to entertainment in all its forms. This characteristic was not only gratified, but actually fostered by the big rooms of the old white columned houses of the old south.

Some after the war the popularization of the bungalow made it possible for small rooms to perform the functions of the big ones, and for a while the bungalow builder cut his house up into a number of his northern brethren. It is not quite in the same line of propagation, but it is a step in the same direction. The bungalow is a small house, but it is a house that is becoming more and more popular. It is a house that is becoming more and more popular. It is a house that is becoming more and more popular.

AMERICAN JACOBSON ESTATE

How the Gable... Fees in Law Court...

The land records of 1747 show that it was during those years that Jackson had the portion of the large estate he afterwards owned. He was the only lawyer in that region in the early days—days when money was scarce and land was cheap and a lawyer's fee for conducting a case of no very great importance might easily be a 640 a square mile of land. In a few years he was the owner of over 50,000 acres which he acquired while cheap and held till it advanced in value, when he sold part of it to enable him to speculate and improve the remainder.

Pointe to the End. One of the most famous criminals the old Tombs has held in many years has just been placed in his cell. The delinquent in this case has always been friendly with the newspaper men, and when he was arrested several of the reporters who had known him hastened to the Tombs, confident of obtaining an interview. He refused to be seen, and his message to them, which is a tradition of the Tombs, was eminently characteristic: "Tell them," he said to the reporter, "that I am not in."

Importance of Prompt Action. "Now" is the constant syllable ticked from the clock of time. "Now," the watchword of the wise. "Now," on the banner of the prudent. Let us keep this watchword always in our mind, and whenever anything presents itself in the shape of work, whether mental or physical, we should do it with all our might, remembering that "now" is the only time for us.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD. Neglected Colds Lead to Consumption.

How Pretty Miss Powell Was Restored to Health by Peruna. Miss Lillian Powell, Aurora, Ind., writes: "Last spring I caught a severe cold from getting my feet wet and being out in the rain, and in a day I had a most miserable cough, but I neglected it, thinking it would soon leave me. And it hung to me for ten weeks, when I felt something must be done. My condition was serious. I had heard so much about Peruna and in its praise that I bought a bottle and began taking it regularly. I was gratified to find that in a week the cold and cough was broken up, and three weeks' treatment completely restored my usual good health."—Lillian Powell.

Ask Your Druggist for Free Peruna Almanac for 1905

How Consumption Develops.

Nine cases of consumption out of ten occur in this way: A person catches cold. The cold is not properly cured, and another cold is caught. This cold is fully dished with, either by no treatment whatever or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues. Then another cold is caught and a cough develops. Cough syrups are resorted to, but they give only temporary relief. By and by the patient gets tired of taking medicines and cough syrups and gives up in despair. The cold continues to develop and the cough grows worse. Then the doctor is called in, only to discover that the patient is in the first stages of consumption. It was just in this way that Miss Powell, of Aurora, Ind., became sick. She caught a cold, and not considering it serious, neglected it, thinking as many others do, that it would "wear off." However, it clung to her tenaciously, and in two weeks she found her health in a serious condition. Fortunately, Peruna had been brought to her notice, and she took a course of this remedy before it was too late. In a week the cough and cold were broken, and a three weeks' treatment completely restored her to health. This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour passes in which some one does not have a similar experience with Peruna. Cure the Slight Colds and Avoid Consumption.

The first step toward consumption is a cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat, then to the bronchial tubes, and finally into the lungs. It is then consumption in the first stage. At any time during the progress of catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease. If you have taken a cold, buy Peruna without delay. One bottle in the beginning will do more good than a half dozen bottles after the catarrh has reached the lungs. Thousands of Testimonials. We have on file thousands of testimonials from people who have been cured of catarrh of the lungs by Peruna. We can send our readers only a slight glimpse of the many who are receiving every benefit. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

A Grim Tragedy

It is daily enacted in thousands of homes, as Death claims in each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oakland, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and to-day she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Consumption of Bananas.

Japan is the leading fishing nation to day, although the value of her sea products is surpassed by that of two other countries. The United States, outside of Alaska, and Great Britain each produce about $45,000,000 worth annually, and Japan produces about $30,000,000 worth. Japan leads in the proportion of the total population engaged in the fishing industry in the actual number of people living by the industry in the relative importance of fish products in the country's domestic economy, and in the support given by the government to the industry.

We noticed Daniel Jolliffe, wife and son of Plymouth in our congregation Sunday evening. They spent a short time in the parsonage before returning home.

The Methodists of Pinckney will celebrate their fiftieth anniversary Jan. 27-28. This was one of our former charges and we have been asked to preach for them next Sunday and have consented.

We were pleased to see such a large and appreciative audience as greeted the Tennessee Singers Saturday evening. Our share of the net proceeds was $10.05. We feel grateful to the public for their hearty response.

We believe those who are attending our special revival meetings are deriving much good. We hope they will yet be made a blessing to many more. Presiding Elder Sweet gave us a clear and pointed sermon on Tuesday evening.

We were pleased to see Miss Anna Smith of our town, one of the teachers of the Plymouth school, in our congregation Sunday morning. Her illness was quite long. It is gratifying to know that her health has been restored and that she will be able to take up her work again in a few days.

We performed last week Thursday the important ceremony of pronouncing Mr. Frederick A. Seider of Plymouth and Miss Mable Butler of Livonia husband and wife. They were married at the home of the bride in the presence of immediate friends only. It was the third wedding we have had in that home.

We regret to state that several of our members are in ill health. We miss them from their accustomed place of worship. We find them quite patient and trusting. Underneath them are the everlasting arms. Things of this world will lose their value and attractiveness when we find them slipping from our nerveless grasp. One thing is needful.

The sleighride party gotten up by Mrs. Cobb's Sunday-school class to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Clark Monday evening was much enjoyed by those who participated in it and the financial result was excellent. They wish to express their thankfulness to Mr. Haddock who kindly donated the coffee. The boys did not fail to let us know when they got home. Although awakened out of slumber we smiled. May their young enthusiasm and youthful vigor be exerted on the side of righteousness.

If I might sing for you as waters sing in gushing melodies, or as the birds whose rapture soars on free, unfettered wing;

If from my life might spring one song untrammelled of the net of words;

Then might I praise you as my heart would praise;

Nor grieve though song should leave me dumb through afterdays.

If I might breathe your beauty into song, the singing-song would tarry into flight to heaven, dreaming that death's ancient wrong,

Entroned on earth—so long, was scattered by the everlasting light, and earth new winged with singing and with flame

As when exultant she from out of chaos came.

Sick Headache

When your head aches, there is a storm in the nervous system, centering in the brain.

This irritation produces pain in the head, and the turbulent nerve current sent to the stomach causes nausea, vomiting.

This is sick headache, and is dangerous, as frequent and prolonged attacks weaken the brain, resulting in loss of memory, inflammation, epilepsy, fits, dizziness, etc.

Alay this stormy, irritated, aching condition by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

They stop the pain by soothing, strengthening and relieving the tension upon the nerves—not by paralyzing them, as do most headache remedies.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do not contain opium, morphine, chloral, cocaine or similar drugs.

"Sick headache" is hereditary in my family. My father suffered a great deal, and for many years I have had spells that were so severe that I was unable to attend to my business affairs for a day or so at a time. During a very severe attack of headache, I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they relieved me almost immediately. Since then I take them when I feel the spell coming on and it stops it at once.
