WORTHY RESIDENT CALLED HOME

MRS MARIA E. GARDNER DIED
WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Was formerly Valued Teacher in Northville Schools.

Once more has the shadow of death passed over our village, removing from our midst one who had occupied a prominent place in the community for many years. Mrs.
Maria E. Gardner, whose long illness had been noted in the Record from time to time, was called to the higher life on Wednesday morning, March 1, at the age of 67 years and six months.

Maria E. Farley was born in Dutchess county, New York, coming to Michigan with her parents when very young. They settled in Albion where her father, Rev. Wm. Farley, was a prominent Methodist clergymen, during a long period of service. He was also for ten years agent of Albion College. Mrs. Gardner was a graduate of the college and commenced her work as a teacher in that

Death of Mrs. Lester Lyke.

Mrs. Lester Lyke died at her home west of this place Saturday. Before her marriage she was Miss Nellie Dodge of Novi township. She leaves a large family of sons and daughters.
The funeral was held from the home
Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Sidney C.
Dimmock of the Baptist church conducted the services.

A Good Candidate.

George Beck of Detroit is making an excellent and business like run for the republican nomination for sheriff and like chance seems more than fair for success. If nominated and elected, the many responsibilities of the office would certainly be in competent hands. Mr. Beck has been tried and proven as a business man and a public officer of economical and efficient methods and his competency for the position he seeks is unquestioned.

Oakman for Auditor.

Milton Oakman of Detroit is after the republican nomination for county auditor. He is a bright young man and has been city assessor for some years. He is well qualified for the office and is likely to make a good showing in the primaries.

MRS. MARIA E. GARDNER

Vicinity. Later she became preceptor of the Williamson schools, afterward coming to Northville, a little less than thirty years ago, to engage in the same work, which she continued until her marriage to John Gardner, a prominent and wealthy resident of Northville on April 18, 1882. Mr. Gardner died some years ago leaving as a useful and acceptable legacy to the village the fine town clock which tells the hours
from the tower of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Gardner was a woman of strong and devout Christian character and of more than ordinary intellectual force. She was one of the pillars of her chosen church, the Methodist, which she served faithfully and well as a class leader, steward, and in all other capacities whereas found work for hand and heart. For many years she was a valued member of the Northville Woman's Club, on whose honorary list she was placed last year when failing health prevented her from continuing active literary studies.

Mrs. Gardner is survived by a brother, Wm. Farley of Denver, who is detained at his home by illness, and a sister, Mrs. John Wilson of Newark, Oklahoma, who has been at the home here for some weeks.
The funeral services will be held at the residence this Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. W. G. Stephens officiates.

Notable Victory.

A very notable victory and one calculated to give great gratification to his friends everywhere, and especially to his constituents of the Second district, has been won by Congressman Chas. E. Townsend in the fight for recognition of his bill creating a federal authority for fixing railroad rates. This is the one piece of proposed legislation that gives distinctive character to the present session of Congress, and since the passage of the Dingley tariff bill no measure has been advanced at Washington which has been the center of so great a public interest. Mr. Townsend is one of the few congressmen sent by Michigan in recent years to Washington who have had the equipment calculated to make them a success in public life and to gain for them real influence in the national legislature. His opportunity came in the great movement to give equal rights to all the iron highways of the nation, and it is to be noted that when the opportunity was presented he was ready to grasp and improve it. —Editorial Detroit Journal

The Real Governor

In every interview and in every official letter he has thus far made, Fred M. Warner has shown the people that he alone is Governor. Not only that, but he has also demonstrated very convincingly that he is the governor of the whole people.

Makes Him Mad

"A man in a suit of low life with wants of a low life," is the motto of the late Fred M. Warner. He is not a man to tell me how he got his name, but he does not have any right to say what he views. It can be easily proved his companion there when I went to a house to call a man's wife, he called his wife in the room, to tell me how to do it.

Light Fires for Jews.

Lighting fires for the Jews is the way in which some people in Manchester earn a living. Strict Jews must not light fires or candles on the Sabbath which begins on Friday at sunset. So they hire Christians to do it for them.

Ants Make Gardens.

Brazen ants make little gardens in the tree tops and sow them with pineapples and other seeds. The gardens are found of all sizes from a single sprouting seed surrounded by a little earth to a densely overgrown ball as large as a man's head.

Ayers'

Give nature three helps, and nearly every case of consumption will recover. Fresh air, most important of all.

Cherry Pectoral

Nourishing food comes next. Then, a medicine to control the cough and heal the lungs. Ask any good doctor.

I first used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a few years ago. I have seen terrible cases of lung diseases cured by it. I am never without it.

CHAPTER XX.

A Goddess of Battle.

The retreat of the Spanish troops from the scene of the dynamite wreck, back over the fire or six miles separating them from the slope where the stranded ammunition car is setded, has been accomplished in an almost incrediby short space of time, for the vigor of Gomez' attacks has kept them constantly on the jump.

Jack and Smothers have, hastily formed a plan of action. They are resolved to take no part in the inevitable conflict that must be fought round the carriage, unless actually forced to do so by their determination to protect the ladies; and if circumstances render it necessary for them to enter the lists against all comers, they are just as ready to meet Spanish warriors or Cuban patriots as they have stood against guerrilleros.

"Look!" cries Jack, hoarsely. "See a girl among them!"

danger that must threaten while the warfare is on that gives him cause for mortal anxiety.

He has not long to wait for the shock.

A few shots are fired as the patriots dash down the hill, but it is possible that their ammunition has also run short, or else they determine to clear a passage through the ranks of the foe with their gneaning and terrible machetes.

Now they engage with the soldiers.

The line wavers before the furious attack and partially gives way. What follows seems to be a melee. The soldiers are divided into small groups and fight desperately. Sometimes they chase the insurgents, and again it is the rebels who have the best of it.

Numbers of the rebels are mounted, and while these are effective weapons in a hand-to-hand encounter, they are of no use whatever at a distance.

So the revolutionists melt away, some passing up the rise, and others plunging into the shelter of the woods, as yet untouched by the fingers of the fire king.

Jack leaves a sigh of relief. He has seen that the white horse and its lovely rider have been almost miraculously spared through the fierce rattle of musketry that ended the affair, and the last glimpse which he obtains of them is when, outlived against the heavens, Lola Montez, on the hillock, waves her hat from the end of the machete she carries.

And yet Jack Travers turns from contemplating her heroic deeds to the gentle girl of Edinburgh with a positive satisfaction.

"One may admire a modern Joan of Arc, and be entranced by her presence as she leads soldiers in battle; but when it comes to the choice of a wife, the average male biped is very apt to turn aside and take to his heart some loving girl who will make his home a dream of peace and cheerfulness rather than a warlike camp."

"But Jessie Cameron does not know

HOW TO TELL A BOILED EGG.

Betting Man Made Money on It, but of Course No One Else Will.

The betting man said to the waiter:

"Boil one egg. Cool it and put it among half a dozen raw ones. Then bring all the eggs together in to me on a plate."

The eggs, in ten or fifteen minutes, came in. They were examined carefully by everyone in the room.

"I will bet ten dollars," said the betting man, "that no one here can pick out the one cooked from the six raw eggs."

This bet was taken.

Thereupon the man spun the eggs top-like, on the table, one by one. All spun poorly, with a wobbling motion, save a dark egg, which spun as steadily and truly as a top.

"This dark egg is the cooked one," said the betting man. He opened it and so it proved. "A boiled egg," he explained, "spins beautifully. An uncooked, liquid one spins in a poor, unsteady way. The difference is plain, and anyone can tell it."

Once in a While.

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought Strength and Health to the Sufferer. Many Men Feel Twenty-five Years Younger.

J. B. Corton, farmer and lumberman of Degra, N. C., says: "I suffered for years with my back. It was so bad that I could not walk any distance nor even ride in an easy buggy. I do not believe I could have raised ten pounds of

My back is strong and I can walk or ride a long distance and feel just as strong as I did twenty-five years ago. I think so much of Doan's Kidney Pills that I have given a supply of the remedy to some of my neighbors and they have also found good results. IT IS IN THE BLOOD

Neither Liniments nor Ointments Will Reach Rheumatism—How Mr. Stephenson Was Cured.

People with inflamed and aching joints, or painful muscles; people who shuffle about with the aid of a cane or a crutch, are constantly asking, "What is the best thing for rheumatism?" To attempt to cure rheumatism by external applications is a foolish waste of time. The seat of the disease is in the blood, and while the sufferer is rubbing lotions and grease on the skin the poison in the circulation is increasing.

Dr. Givaudan adopting this method are dangerous because rheumatism may at any moment reach the heart and prove fatal. The only safe course for rheumatic sufferers is to get the best possible blood regularly at once.

Mr. Stephenson's experience with this obstinate and distressing affliction is that of hundreds. He says:

"About a year ago I was attacked by severe rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. The pains were worse in wet weather, and at these periods caused me the greatest suffering. I tried a number of treatments and ointments, but they failed to alleviate the pains."

Then he realized that the cause must be deeper and the pain only a surface indication. He adds:

"I had heard Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People recommended as a cure for rheumatism, and when I first used them I was getting no relief from applications. I made up my mind that I would try them. Before the first box was gone I noticed that the pains were becoming less frequent, and that they were not so severe as before. After the second box had been used I was entirely free from discomfort, and I have had no traces of rheumatism since."

The change in treatment proved by almost immediate results, that Mr. Thomas Stephenson, who lives at No. 115 Greenwood street, Springfield, Mass., had found the true means for the purification and enrichment of his blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are without doubt the best of all blood remedies. They effect genuine and lasting cures in rheumatism. They do not merely deaden the ache, but they expel the poison from the blood. These pills are sold by all druggists.

So the revolutionists melt away, some passing up the rise, and others plunging into the shelter of the woods, as yet untouched by the fingers of the fire king.

Jack leaves a sigh of relief. He has seen that the white horse and its lovely rider have been almost miraculously spared through the fierce rattle of musketry that ended the affair, and the last glimpse which he obtains of them is when, outlived against the heavens, Lola Montez, on the hillock, waves her hat from the end of the machete she carries.

And yet Jack Travers turns from contemplating her heroic deeds to the gentle girl of Edinburgh with a positive satisfaction.

"One may admire a modern Joan of Arc, and be entranced by her presence as she leads soldiers in battle; but when it comes to the choice of a wife, the average male biped is very apt to turn aside and take to his heart some loving girl who will make his home a dream of peace and cheerfulness rather than a warlike camp."

No Ships of Civilized Nations Make Trips to Greenland.

"No private vessel plies between Greenland and the rest of the world, either with passengers or cargo," writes Roger Pocock. "Of the Dundee whalers very few remain and if they happen to take fresh water on the Greenland coast, their stay is limited—a matter of hours. Ten years ago some fishing scisslers of Gloucester, Mass., frequented the Greenland banks, but after a couple of seasons found that the halibut catch was not to be relied on. In 1894 the Miranda, an American steamer, attempted a cruise with tourists, but was wrecked at the gate of the first harbor she tried to leave. She foundered at sea, but one of the fishing schooners brought her people home.

Travers confesses to a tremendous interest in the outcome, he believes they will be safe once the battle is over no matter who wins, as Smothers is surely on one side, while Senator Robt. Smith covers the other. It is only the other who is to be beaten.

There is a brief but terrific struggle, in connection with the possession of the gun, and only Jack's superior martial power enables him to come out of the struggle.

The rebels have not been gone more than half an hour when Smothers, who has broken his hold, plucked his sword from through the powder keg body and ran, it is intent on the desperate fight that had emerged in the struggle when interrupted. He makes a rush for the young girl, who is partially stunned by her fall, is slowly picking herself up from the ground, while her steed stands up and dashes off in the direction of the rebels.

Jack makes his way back to the shelter of the carriage door just back of Smothers—sees it with a feeling she cannot comprehend—a peculiar sensation of distress in the region of her heart, as though in some unaccountable way the proximity of that Cuban beauty to her protector gives her pain.

That is now fate takes a hand in the affairs of Squire John once more, and gives promise of great results.

Another moment and the fearless young girl has sprung upon her milk-white steed, and is in the thick of the fray.

Jack makes his way back to the shelter of the carriage, as he has no desire to become a target for the bullets that bear him around so merrily.

Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Mrs. Mary Koehne

Nervous exhaustion invites disease.

This statement is the positive truth. When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once. To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne, 371 Garfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I harvested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back, and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for treatment with it, I should not have been alive today. It is splendid for women old or young and will surely cure all female disorders."

Mrs. Ethan, of Lynn, Mass., writes: "All such and other women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service free of cost."

Mule and Rule.

At one of the Western army posts in the days of the Indian fights there was a young lieutenant who was careful to see that the regulations relating to saluting were faithfully observed. One day a soldier who was leading an obstreperous mule to water and had both hands fully employed in the task was met by the lieutenant. The soldier, who had an occupation which demanded his undivided attention, failed to salute the major, who immediately called him to account for his remissness.

"Why do you not salute an officer when you see him?" he demanded.

"You hold this mule and I will," calmly returned the man.

But the lieutenant did not insist and the regulations were broken.

WATER NOT NEEDEDTEXAN THINKS MANKIND IS BETTER WITHOUT IT.

After Many Years' Abstention Major Schiermier Points to Himself as Proof of the Truth of His Theory—The Late Gen. Lawton a Convert.

Major Theodore Schiermier thinks he disproved the theory that drinking water is necessary to the existence of a human being. He has taken a drink of water for many years—just how many he does not know, but it is ten or fifteen.

He found that water did not agree with him and he quit drinking it. He also quit eating all kinds of bread at the same time.

He began to take on flesh soon after he stopped using water and bread and is now fat and the picture of health. Although he is of middle age his complexion has the pink color and delicate appearance of that of a baby. His muscles are well developed and hard, and to all appearance he is in perfect condition.

Even in the hottest days of summer he is not troubled with thirst. Occasionally he drinks a glass of beer, but it is not often that he partakes of that beverage.

He subsists principally on raw meat, served in the form of tartar steak, and raw eggs. He eats few vegetables. The thirst which Major Schiermier had when he first began to abstain from the use of water for drinking gradually disappeared.

An old frontiersman, Capt. J. G. Merrill, in discussing the matter of water drinking said that in the earlier days, when frontier officers had to take long chases after Indians and border desperadoes, the water supply question never troubled the men, and they would have given it little thought but for the fact that their horses had to have water.

"Drinking water is a habit, just like drinking whisky is," concluded Capt. Merrill. "I belonged for several years to Major Jones' company of rangers and there were several men in that company who had trained themselves to go for days at a stretch without a drop of water passing their lips. If their thirst made them uncomfortable they would go to mount their mouth and 'froth' with the juice of a cactus. I got so used to going without water on my long rides over the plains of west Texas that I still care very little for the fluid. Frequently day after day I go without my drinking a drop of water or anything except a small cup of coffee which I take at my breakfast."

"I can now recall of all Texan frontiersmen who do not drink a gallon of water a month and are in the best of health and condition all the time. I also believe that the less water a person drinks the longer he will live."

"You look at these long, shadowy, wrinkled and haggard faces here on the ranches in west Texas, and in the little towns, drink a little water, that they hardly know what it is like, but these same men can outlast and outwork three of the ordinary fat water topers."

The late Gen. Lawton had resolved himself to go for day without touching water to his lips. He could stand any amount of sweating and heat work.

He got his first knowledge of the uselessness of and injury of drinking large quantities of water from the Texas frontiersmen while serving with his cavalry troop in this state. He began to practice abstaining from water drinking and it was not long until he could go for days in a long period of it."

It is Capt. McRill's opinion that many ills of the body are caused by the water drinking habit—New York Sun.

Floriculture Offers Rich Returns. As a business investment floriculture stands on equally as good a basis as do other well established occupations. It is a business requiring strict and constant attention because the subject dealt with is life, and that brooks no slight without injury. It is a business of detail and requires twenty-four hours' attention each and every day.

The man or boy who selects the florist's business for an occupation should be sure that he will not only like it but love it. With that and due industry I think there is no profession which affords as much pleasure as does the florist's in its many and ever changing phases.

BOY HAD AN EXPLANATION.Example of the Original View of Things a Child May Take.

In their efforts to teach children, writes Edwin J. Prindle, in St. Nicholas, parents are often surprised by the original views which the youngsters take, and, by their presentation of views which, while they may be partial, are at least correct and discriminating so far as they go.

It occurred to a father, who noticed a carpenter hammering upon the roof of a distant house, that he would give his little son (3 years old) a lesson in physics by calling attention to the fact that the blows of the hammer could be seen before the sound made by them could be heard, and explaining that the difference in time between the seeing of the blows and the hearing of the noise was due to the fact that light travels much faster than sound. He sought to introduce the subject by asking the boy if he understood why it was that he could see the hammer fall before he could hear the noise of the stroke. He was astonished to receive the reply. "Yes; it's because my eyes are nearer to the hammer than my ears."

Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Peruna,

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Peruna. I am still cured of catarrh." —John O. Atkinson, Independence, Mo., Box 272.

Mrs. Alla Schwandt, Sanborn, Minn., writes:

"I have been troubled with rheumatism and catarrh for twenty-five years. Could not sleep day or night. After having used Peruna I can sleep and nothing bothers me now. If ever any one gets sick with any kind of sickness, Peruna will be the medicine I shall use. My son was cured of catarrh of the larynx by Peruna." —Mrs. Alla Schwandt.

When old age comes, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people.

Address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio, who will be pleased to give you the benefit of his medical advice gratis.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife has been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for the past twenty-five years. Her case has baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years standing. She was also passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life.

"In June, 1895, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Peruna and Malanal, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her.

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of twenty-five years' standing. At times I was almost past going.

"I commenced to use Peruna according to your instructions and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me." —John O.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure strengthens weak hearts, and rarely ever fails to cure heart disease. Try it, and see how quickly you will find relief.

"About January 1st, 1902, I took down with weakness and droopy and gradually grew worse. It was told by my doctor that my case had reached a critical stage and that he could not save me up to date. My limbs and body were swollen to one-third their normal size, and water had collected around my heart. I went to Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and on the first day I was relieved. After a week I was able to walk again. My heart is now strong and healthy. My doctor told me after I had been to Dr. Miles' Heart Cure that I would live for years."

Australian Lawmakers' Salaries.
Australian members of Parliament
are agitating to have their salaries raised from $2,000 to $3,000 a year, together with the present traveling privileges. One of them, King O'Nial, petitioned the Speaker to allow him to erect a tent in the parliamentary gardens, as he cannot afford to hire a house.

Incredible Brutality.
It would not be incredible brutality if Chas. P. Loring, of St. Paul, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. My boy he says, eat a fearful gash over his eye
so I applied Buckle's Arnica Salve which quickly healed it and saved his eye. Good for burns and insect bites too. Get it at Husted & Co. and Murdock Bros' drug store.

Easy Road to Easiness.
A celebrated and charming actress,
whose age it would be rude to chronicle
but who still looks quite young although she is a grandmother, gives the following prescription for the preservation of youth and beauty:
You must work till you are tired,
sleep till you are rested, have plenty of fresh air live in comfortable, take a daily sponge bath and eat the simplest food.

Whitney's Opera House—Detroit.

"Shadows of a Great City," which is the attraction at the Whitney all next week, is one of the most elaborate productions of the present time.
The river of real water, of which 40,000 gallons of water will be used and with New York City lighted up on the background, together with the thunder-storm with real water for rain, and flashes of forked lightning with the moving clouds, combine to make one of the most realistic productions ever given at popular prices. It is enlivened with delightful comedy. Matinees daily except Wednesday and Saturday.

Lyceum Theater—Detroit.

The musical comedy entitled "Me and I" will be presented at the Lyceum all next week. It is Hurtig & Seaman's largest company and organized to exploit those very funny
comedians, Bickel, Watson & Wrothe.
The production is absolutely new
and reported to be rich and expensive, the costumes especially being very beautiful. Fifty people are used in the performance. Matinees
Wednesday and Saturday.

Trees in Iceland.
Iceland seems to be hardy as desti-nate of trees as some suppose, an old idea being that it possesses but a single tree. An investigation shows that the island really contains woods having trees of considerable size, and that the climate is not unfavorable to tree growth.

MR. BUHRER'S SERVICE.

BUHRER

With the retirement of Mr.
Chris A. Buhrer from the office of County Treasurer, Wayne County
loses the services of one of the most competent officials who ever occupied a like position of trust. The interests of the county were always guarded by Mr. Buhrer zealous as though they were his own private business, and its welfare was always uppermost in his mind. Under his direction the details of the office were refined to a system little short of perfection, which not only simplified the work of handling the county funds, but acted as an effectual safeguard against any leakage. While perhaps never a "good fellow" in the common acceptance of the term, he was as much as though they were his own private business, and its welfare was always uppermost in his mind. Under his direction the details of the
