BALLOT BATTLE AGAIN OVER

NORTHVILLE IS REPUBLICAN EXCEPT SUPERVISOR.

C. A. Sessions Elected to That Office by 123 Majority.

Monday's battle of the ballots was marked by no exciting features, everything going on quietly and smoothly, although considerable active work was carried on in favor of various candidates.

The local interest centered principally on the supervisorship, William J. Lanning, sr., who was nominated at the primaries, having withdrawn almost to the eye of the election, and the running of W. Pitt Johnson having been substituted on the republican ticket. The democratic nomination Charles A. Sessions was elected by a majority of 123. Beach A. Northrop for fire chief, the next best run on the ticket being that of 17 votes behind his competitor Samuel W. Snapp. The hundred and nine republican votes were cast for their home in Grand Ledge. The earnest good wishes of many northville friends will follow Mrs. Myers to her new place of abode.

Death of E. M. Goodell.

The people of Novi were shocked to learn yesterday morning of the sudden death at eleven o'clock Wednesday night, April 5, of Edwin M. Goodell, the well known veterinarian surgeon, at his home a mile west of the village. He had complained of pain in the region of his heart that day, and was accompanied home from Novi by his physician, who left him feeling better. A short time afterward, Mr. Goodell, going to the bed found that he had quietly passed away.

Mr. Goodell had spent his entire life in Novi and was of more than ordinary skill in the profession which he had followed since his manhood. He was known and loved throughout the state and was of a gentle nature which made all who knew him his friends. He was about 70 years old and leaves his widow, an aged mother, two brothers and a sister.

The funeral will be held from the home of his mother, Mrs. Caroline Goodell at two o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Meyers-Simmons.

E. M. P. A. Meeting.

On Wednesday afternoon a pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Simmons on Church street when their only daughter, Edith M. became the wife of Charles E. Meyers of Grand Ledge in the presence of thirty guests, some of whom were from Lansing, Detroit and Southfield.

The color scheme was pink and white, and was carried out in the floral decorations of carnations, sweet peas and marguerites, which were supplemented with palms and ferns, and also in the dainty refreshments.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of silk, mousseine and her flowers were orange blossoms, a gift sent from California.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Jerome. An interesting feature of the marriage is the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Meyers are both deaf mutes necessitating the services of an interpreter for the spoken words of the marriage rite, which was filled by William Simmons, brother of the bride. The嫁 presents of cut glass, silver, hand painted china, furniture, etc. were very handsome.

The young couple are immediately leaving for their home in Grand Ledge. The earnest good wishes of many northville friends will follow Mrs. Myers to her new place of abode.

Orion's council has repealed its ordinance prohibiting the "saloon" business in that village. There is no connection between this action, however, and the following item from the Review: "W. McCormick saw snakes last Friday and plenty of them, having killed five, one of them a blue racer that measured three and a half feet and another a rattlesnake with four rattles."

Dan Murray, a young man employed in Plymouth, went to Detroit to get his marriage license but got instead a smashed leg by being thrown from a buggy. His marriage to Miss Ada Smith having been postponed three times before by sickness, the young couple instead of being superstitious and deciding that their matrimonial intentions were a mistake, were married Saturday in Harper hospital. It is as yet uncertain whether Mrs. Murray will have a one-legged husband or not, but they are the real grit, anyway.

The Fenton Independent told a story last week, vouching for its truth, about a far dealer of that place who, while going home through the city streets one dark rainy night recently, was grabbed by the leg by a big husky muskrat, which hung on until killed by the owner of said leg, who thus added another "pelt" to his stock. The tale is respectfully referred to Kiphng or Seton-Thompson or Jack London, who can perhaps get the scents of it. We can't imagine whether that rat was after revenge or meat or fame or spleen, but the fact remains that Fenton is a raty old town.

Larl Wolfe spent a few days last week with his sister, Mrs. Fred Bond, at Pontiac.

Elgess Warner, Lucile Davis, and Ola Webster of Farmington visited our school Friday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Bollens and two children of Farmington spent Sunday afternoon at Chas. Manzel's.

A spelling bee will be held at the Driggs school house this Friday evening. All are invited to come.

Maybelle Bradley attended the Junior League supper given by Mrs. Webster at Farmington Wednesday evening.

Mrs. I. Bond and baby Mildred of North Farmington and Mrs. Fred Bond and baby Theima of Pontiac were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Wolfe, Thursday.

Worcester Corsets will fit you. Try one at Miss Boeve's.

Baptist Church Notes.

[By a Member]

Russell Rapson of Farrington gave a fine talk in our church Sunday evening.

Next Sunday being the last of Mr. Dimmock's first year's pastorate with us, we will preach an anniversary sermon appropriate to the occasion.

Methodist Church Notes.

[By the Pastor]

Next Tuesday evening a Cottage prayer meeting will be held at the home of Peter Barley at 7:30.

The regular monthly meeting of the Official Board will be held in the church parlor Monday evening at 7:30.

We are pleased to notice a marked increase in the devotional meetings of the church. Spiritual results are sure to follow.

A religious service for women only will be held in the church next Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. A large attendance is desired.

The president of the Ladies' Aid society wishes the completion and return of the quilt blocks as soon as possible. Don't disappoint her.

Those wishing to unite with us in church fellowship will be received next Sunday morning. Reception will follow the preaching service.

Preaching services next Sunday by the pastor. The subject in the morning will be "The Laymen's Place in the Work of the Church" afternoon, "The Ideal Woman, Her Perils and Opportunities," evening subject, "Our Science."

The Ladies' Aid society will meet next Tuesday afternoon in the church and the members are requested to bring an empty half pound baking powder can. The use to be made of the cans will be explained at the meeting.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

[By the Pastor]

The Wymans' Missionary society meet on Tuesday of next week.

The prayer meeting next week will be on Wednesday evening.

Remember the Easter morn at the club on Thursday and Friday next week.

Mr. Dyer kindly furnished flowers for the pulpit and communion table last Sunday.

Five persons were received into the church last Sunday morning, three receiving baptism.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Missionary society will be held at Mrs. F. A. Daniels' at two o'clock next Tuesday.

The sermon next Sunday morning will discuss the question of Lenten Money, a subject now prominently before the public mind.

The ladies who are to contribute aprons and fancy work to the Easter Fair are requested to leave the articles at Stark Bros. and Gardner's store as soon as possible.

The sermon next Sunday evening will be appropriate to the tenth anniversary of Lee's surrender. The members of the G. A. R. and W. L. C. especially invited to be present.

We are greatly indebted to the four brethren who so ably and acceptably filled the pulpit last week. Their earnest work and the influence of the meetings will we trust, long remain with us.

Last Sunday marked the completion of five years of the present pastorate. During that time 50 have been added to the church, the church building and parsonage have been repaired and improved and the offerings to mission and benevolence largely increased. The pastor has attended 60 funerals and officiated at 11 weddings in the parish.

I have a son that had brain fever when two years old, followed by fits of the worst type, and he was pronounced incurable. I spent hundreds of dollars about fifteen years in trying to cure him. Sent him to Longcliff hospital near the Susquehanna, at Logansport, Ind. He was there nearly three years, but he continued to grow worse, so we brought him home. He is now 32 years of age in poor condition. He had lost his mind almost entirely. He hardly knew me of course, could not even find his bed, was a total wreck. He had from 5 to 10 fits a day, and would always try to run away. We pronounce him cured, as he can work and go anywhere. If any one wishes to ask any questions concerning this, they are at liberty to do so.

Supt. Richmond says there will be no new ears on the Dr. P. & N., but the best the public may hope for is that those in present use will be repaired, reseated and newly painted. Even that much would be appreciated. The expense of putting new ears on the present show line is too burdensome. There is said to be a movement on foot to extend the line either north or south, work to be commenced this year. With a longer line, new and larger ears would be come a necessity—Plymouth Mail.

When you subscribe for the Record for your absent friends don't forget the important fact that we cannot know all about things which would most interest those friends unless you tell us. If you want them to know what you and their other acquaintances are doing, drop a line in the Record box in the postoffice or telephone 32.

"April fool" was not heard from very generally in town this year, but the day was not entirely forgotten as can be witnessed by A. C. Baldwin. He started on Saturday for a little hunting trip to St. Clair flats, but when he arrived there and opened his gun case he found that a part of the weapon had disappeared and its place was occupied by some bottles of pop and things. As he couldn't pop over any ducks with that kind of ammunition, he borrowed a gun and charged up the account to "the fool."

Skate day, April 8, at Mrs. Boeve's Don't miss it!

Don't forget that today and tomorrow are the days of Mrs. 4th Annual Spring Assembly opening April 7 and 8.

The best place to buy new wallpaper and carpets is of B. Cohen, who furnishes them all. See illustrations for the special sale that is now on.

All the ladies of the Presbyterian church and congregation are invited to contribute to the bazaar goods department of the Easter Fair opens Thursday morning.

A TALE OF THE CUBAN WAR

BY ST. GEORGE RUTHERFORD

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Senor Toro's Little Game.

What Smithers says is exactly to the point.

Around the square where the dead of the war lie, forces in Cuba are regathering who used to shake the earth; the scene is indeed a brilliant one.

"I could not get on the same banner as he," said the man who meets the banners wave in the electric glow, "and when I'm temporarily cast for a breathing spell, the mutiny of thousands of men can be heard."

Sudden, Travers utters an exclamation:

"You have seen her, too? I just discovered her presence. Something must have drawn out eyes here at the same time," says Smithers.

"Yes, I could tell it! Lola Montez ever at this distance! She is looking unusually beautiful to night," remarks his companion, keeping his eyes upon the further side of the ring below.

Smithers smiles grimly.

"Yes, but Lola is harsh, at best, and as he is the mother I point whether a being ever existed with a face and form more perfect than what he says in a half-mad rage we was."

"You knew her then, Smithers?"

"Well, yes. She was a bit of a wife."

"Ah, when she is talkin' she's

"It's safe I proclaim you the history. Senor Toro's concerns once the bluest spot in the history of Cuba's list was the independence. The girl is his mother also together and as you see, he is not on the road alone. A bright girl, I think, will come to him."

"She is much younger when came to Joe in a remarkable manner. See you her in the sun in South New Mexico. At that time he was living with Sophie, but when Joe found a pony in her lap in the shade of gold mimosas. He left the girl and herself wholly over to the cause of Cuban liberty and since that day he has spent her income for those who defend the flag of the Lone Star. And I could tell her for hours telling all the big doves of Cuba how much and the love of Joe would never be forgotten by those for whom she left."

"I have seen her perfect myself, and I realize that it is impossible. You can't think hardly of her because she had companion until her death. Remember how on several occasions you have spoken to her in the saloon when he twice you even had to leave it would be very strange indeed if he did not come again as a sort of old friend.

"I am sorry to say, perhaps I had never met Jessie Cameron before. Yet would have still done so. You could never help it. I feel you'd feel they are face to face."

Travers holds his breath.

He sees that what Smithers says is true. Over some among those to saunter about the arena listening to the band sound national airs, he sees and lost his balance to get up.

And Jack takes the stand watch them pass, other bandits—stares there and over experiences a miserable feeling of exaltation at not the manhood of the woman he adores, who is his own playmate. He has no escaped unnoticed with the little girl who sends his arrows about.

All at once, however, is suddenly forgotten.

Abre the clash of musical instruments sending forth their notes of harmony—yes, even above the thunderous sound of the big drums comes a fearful crash that reaches every year. It is as if an explosion has taken place, and many timid people imagine this to be the truth.

Jack and Smithers know better. They see the shattered boards that formed the door of the bull-pen fly in every direction and a great black oblong lumber into view. Taurus has done it.

Frenzied shouts burst out from the scores—yes, hundreds of throats. The animal pays no heed to the tumult.

Possess each other haughtily.

STOP! WOMEN, AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That is addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years. You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely a woman, richer or poorer, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance—Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Following we publish two letters from a woman who accepted this invitation. Note the result.

First letter:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"For eight years I have suffered something terrible every month with my periods. The pains are excruciating and cannot stand them. My doctor says I have got to be bedridden and I must give up through an operation if I want to get well. I do not want to submit to it if I can possibly help it. Please tell me what to do. I hope you can relieve me."—Mrs. Mary Dummick, 29th and E. Capitol Sts., Pennin. P. O., Washington, D. C.

Second letter:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham—

"After following carefully your advice, and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am very anxious to find you success, but that others may know their valuable what you have done for me.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food scars on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach a new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up a stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try The Lord's Black Draught today. You can buy a package from your druggist for 25c. If he doesn't want to send the more to The Lord's Voca Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., a postcard will be mailed you.
