MRS. HANNAH MACOMBER

Died Tuesday Afternoon, Aged 83
Years.

Mrs. Hannah Macomber, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed residents of Northville, died Tuesday afternoon in the home on Main street where she had lived for the long period of sixty-two years. The immediate cause of death was a paralytic stroke Sunday, from which she never regained consciousness.

Mrs. Macomber had been a familiar figure in this place for so long that her absence will be hard to realize. She had kept a boarding house for the last thirty years and besides possessing the affectionate regard of all who knew her in this community, had won many friends among her transient guests from far and near by her kindly care and interest for all who came into her hospitable home for entertainment.

Hannah Macomber was born in England 81 years ago, coming to this country with her parents when but two years old, the voyage occupying over four months. She was married to J. C. Macomber in 1844, and had been a widow since 1893. Two sons, William and Frank, of this place and a daughter, Mrs. Jane Hughes, of Detroit survive her. The funeral was held at the home yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. G. Stephens.

A PLEASANT EVENT

Northville W. R. C. Entertained at Farmington.

One of the most delightful of the frequent pleasant gatherings of the W. R. C. of this place was enjoyed by twenty-two of the members last Friday afternoon at the neat and cosy home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs at Farmington, by invitation of Mrs. Gibbs. A large number of Farmington ladies were also present making in all a company of nearly fifty. The afternoon was spent in social enjoyment, varied by the serving of delicious fruits and melons and an elegant supper. The house was decorated with a variety of beautiful flowers, and on the spacious lawn were arranged seats for all who desired to use them. Fitting acknowledgement was made to the hostess for her generous hospitality by the president of the Corps at the close of the afternoon. The W. R. C. certainly has a warm spot in its collective and individual heart for Mrs. Gibbs, and with good reason.

GOOD ROADS FOR MICHIGAN

GOVERNOR WARNER IS AN AR-
DENT ADVOCATE

Commissioner Earle Explains the States Awards.

The legislature has created a state highway department equipped with a highway commissioner and a deputy highway commissioner, and $10,000 a year for running expenses.

For the present year the department has $20,000 and for the year 1905 it has $50,000 for distribution as state rewards for the building of improved roads by township or county authorities. Gov. Warner, an ardent advocate of the cause, has appointed Hon. Horatio S. Earle of Detroit highway commissioner and commissioner Earle has appointed Frank F. Rogers of Port Huron, deputy commissioner. The operation of the new department is described in the following summary. The new state highway department of Michigan is "charged with the giving of instruction in the art of building, improving and repairing public wagon roads and bridges," collecting reports from local highway officers and with the distribution of any state reward or national financial aid for the construction of highways. His deputy must be a civil engineer, at $1,800 a year, with the approbation of the governor. The running expenses of the entire department must not exceed $10,000 a year. The following described roads when built shall merit the reward attached to each description—the cash to go to the county or township:

For every mile of well graded road on which the steepest incline shall not exceed six per cent and the width of which shall not be less than eighteen feet between side ditches, and which shall be properly drained, and have a wagon way or travel track not less than nine feet wide made in two courses, the bottom course to be of an approved mixture of clay and sand not less than five inches thick after rolling, and covered with a layer of gravel which shall not be less than five inches thick after rolling, shall merit, if approved by the state highway commissioner, a reward of $250 a mile and pro rata for extra miles and fractions thereof in excess of the first mile.

For every mile of well graded road on which the steepest incline shall not exceed six per cent, and the width of which shall not be less than eighteen feet between side ditches, and which shall be properly drained, and have a wagon way or travel track not less than nine feet wide, and which shall consist of not less than eighteen inches of compacted gravel, which must be applied in not less than two layers, each layer to be rolled separately, a reward of $500 a mile.

For every mile of well graded road on which the steepest incline shall not exceed six per cent, and the width of which shall not be less than eighteen feet between side ditches, and which shall be properly drained, and have a wagon way or travel track not less than nine feet wide made in two courses, the bottom course to be of crushed stone, which shall not be less than four inches thick after thorough rolling, and a top course consisting of a layer of gravel which shall not be less than three inches thick after being thoroughly rolled, a reward of $750 a mile.

For every mile of well graded road on which the incline shall not exceed six per cent, and the width of which shall not be less than eighteen feet between side ditches, and which shall be properly drained, and have a wagon way or travel track not less than nine feet wide of well compacted macadam not less than six inches thick, laid in not less than two courses, each to be properly bonded with sufficient stone screenings, a reward of $750 a mile and pro rata for extra miles and fractions thereof in excess of first mile.

MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS

DYING IN AGONY, WIFE LEAVES ONLY A CURSE FOR HUSBAND.

NAOMI ALDRIDGE BOUND OVER ON CHARGE OF MURDER.

THE GOVERNOR'S POSITION ON THE CALLING OF A COURT-MARTIAL.

A Suicide's Curse.

With the last message, "I hope my curse may go with him and his people forever," meaning her husband, Mrs. James McCarthy, wife of a wealthy farmer living near Kalamazoo, committed suicide Saturday morning by taking poison. Death was accompanied by terrible agony, as the woman was found in her front yard face downward, and each hand having a tight grasp on a bunch of grass. Her face showed signs of the agony and the ground about her was torn up. Mrs. McCarthy was at home alone when she took the poison. Her husband had gone to a neighbor's house to get a horse to bring her to the city. Mr. McCarthy, the husband, admitted that they have been having considerable trouble, but refused to state the nature of it. He said that she has applied three times for a divorce, but each time they got together and settled the differences. They evidently had another quarrel Saturday morning, as she demanded that he bring her to the city so that they might have a settlement and part forever. The note found at the woman's side read as follows:

"The money in my purse was left me by my mother. I want that to go to my people. That much I demand of my husband. I hope my curse may go with him and his people forever."

The letter also contained a request that she be buried by her mother.

Mrs. Aldridge Bound Over.

Mrs. Naomi Aldridge was bound over to the Ogemaw county circuit court, Saturday, on a charge of murder. A. A. Coomer, of Freeland, testified to Mrs. Aldridge having notified her National Relief society that her child had died of appendicitis. Mrs. Davis said Mrs. Aldridge had given her to let money to buy for her child, and had shown no emotion when the boy died. Mrs. Aldridge testified to Mrs. Aldridge having had sole charge of the children during their illness. The case will come up in the circuit court on September 15.

That Courtmartial.

Gov. Warner states that he has decided to be guided solely by the military board as to the course to be pursued in connection with the trouble between the Detroit militia officers. "I don't know anything at all about the military board," he said, "and these gentlemen do so I will do whatever they say. I have no voice in the matter." McGarrity is asked when he could meet and talk over the matter. "I expect the military board will meet in Lansing early in the week to discuss the matter."

It is said to be the desire of some of the military board to visit a court martial, if at all possible, on account of the heavy expense it will entail. It would require 12 officers and it they were to be paid for their services it is probable would be a week or two. In addition to this there would be a heavy charge for a stenographer and other expenses.

Enjish Has His Mad Up

Enjish Dowe and the hosts of Zion have broken camp at Ben Mac Dair, near Muskegon, and returned by boat to Zion City. It is said that the trouble arose through some of the flock demanding about the same assurance of self-government as is allowed to Russian peasants. Dowe was censured at the attack upon his autocratic authority and led the host back to the Chicago boat. He may desire the same use of his ground at Ben Mac Dair for a summer camp in future, for he is mad clear through.

Powder Mills Blown Up.

The Antwerp Powder works near Ishpeming blew up Friday night fortunately without loss of life. It is believed the explosion was caused by a fire in the engine house. The works were located 12 miles from Marquette, but the explosion was distinctly felt in the city. There were four explosions, and practically every building at the plant was destroyed. Much damage was done in both Neegaunee and Ishpeming. Windows were broken in hundreds of residences, and plate glass fronts of 20 business blocks were shattered.

Arriving from Kansas on a visit to relatives, the family were attending a picnic at the lake, and were forced to witness the death of husband and father.

PEACE AT LAST

JAPAN YIELDS AND NOW PEACE AND JOY WILL REIGN.

THE TREATY AND ARMISTICE WILL BE DRAWN UP AND RATIFIED.

WITTE RECEIVES AN OVATION AND TAKES THE CREDIT OF THE RESULT.

Peace between Russia and Japan was practically concluded at this morning's session of the peace conference. In the final struggle the Russians achieved the victory. For the sake of peace, the Japanese, with a magnanimity worthy of their heroic achievements in this war, met the ultimatum of the czar and abandoned their demands not only for reimbursement for the cost of the war, but for the repurchase of the northern half of Sakhalin, Russia at the same time agreeing to a division of the island. The Japanese also withdrew articles 10 and 11 of the peace conditions originally proposed (demand for the surrender of the interned warships and limitation of the Russian naval power in the far east). The delegates began during the afternoon session the actual work of formulating the treaty of peace.

A scene of greatest excitement followed the receipt of the news in the lobby of the Hotel Wentworth. The official bulletin was telephoned from the conference room at the navy yards by Mr. Sato and like an electric thrill flooded through the room. There were screams of joy. Men threw their hats aloft, women actually wept. Then there was a rush for the telegraph office and in an instant the news was speeding to the remotest corners of the earth. Mr. Witte, accompanied by Baron Rosen, came to the hotel for luncheon. There was a wonderful demonstration upon their arrival. A great crowd had collected under the porte cochere of the annex where the Russians are quartered and when their automobiles drew up the air was torn with frantic cheers. They were thrown aloft.

Mr. Witte as he stepped out of the motor car, seemed quite overcome. Too full for utterance, he could only grasp and shake the hands that were extended to him. Baron Rosen also was equally moved and received the congratulations of the crowd in silence. For about five minutes the two plenipotentiaries were kept upon the porch listening to the incoherent praises of the hotel guests.

"Do you not indignantly?" was the official interrogation.

"Yes, yes, and a cent, was Mr. Witte's response.

The two plenipotentiaries have respectively proposed to their respective governments the conclusion of an immediate armistice. The details of the armistice will be discussed, and immediately after the question of the release of the Russian prisoners.

When Mr. Witte reached his room he was practically overcome by the momentous result of the conference. He threw himself into his arm chair and, after a few minutes to pull himself together, he began to speak slowly and deliberately—almost as if he were talking to himself.

"It seems incredible," he said, "but I do not believe any other man in my place would have dared to hope for the possibility of peace on the conditions to which we have just agreed."

From all sides from President Roosevelt down to his own friends in Russia, I received, up to the last moment, even this morning, urgent representations that something should be paid to Japan.

At this point Mr. Witte, who was still laboring under excitement almost lost control of himself. He paused a moment. Then he went on:

"The Japanese wanted to take our interned ships, and I have not consented. The Japanese wanted to limit our naval power in the far east, and I have not consented. The Japanese wanted no indemnity or reimbursement of the cost of the war, and I have not consented. I have not consented."

The Japanese wanted the Chinese Eastern railway south of Harbin, but I gave them only the railroad in the possession of their troops south of Chantau.

"The Japanese wanted the island of Sakhalin and I refused it, agreeing, however, at the last moment to cede the southern half, and then only because I was commanded by my sovereign to yield, and obeyed."

"Not only do we not pay so much as a kopeck, but we obtain half of Sakhalin now in their possession."

"At this morning's meeting I presented my written proposition, which was the Russian ultimatum. It was accepted by the Japanese. I was amazed. Until I was in the conference room, I did not think it would happen. I could not anticipate such a great and happy issue."

By the agreement which results in peace between Japan and Russia Japan gets only the fruits of victory, which she now has in her hands.

Japan expected more, but in the interests of humanity and following exactly the appeal made by President

Charles Chapin, eight years old, of Yonkers, N. Y., has been in an unbroken trance-like sleep for more than four months, and it is probable a consultation of specialists in nervous diseases will be called to investigate the case. April 6 last, while whirling around a lamp, he became dizzy, fell to the ground and struck on the back of his head. Two days later he lapsed into unconsciousness.

The bookmakers got the $40,000 he stole from the D. P. Morgan estate, said James P. Hennessey, cashier of the estate in New York, in confessing to being that amount short in his accounts.

Roosevelt has given up everything not involved in the original quarrel with Russia except one-half of the island of Sakhalin.

Russia has given up nothing but the half of Sakhalin island that was seized by her from Japan 30 years ago. The rest that Russia agreed to amount only to an acknowledgment that through defeat she had lost control of Manchuria.

Japan, being in a position to seize Vladivostok, Harbin, the Amur valley and Siberian coast, with little trouble, expected Russia to pay her for not doing so and for ceasing hostilities.

Russia refused to pay for what she had not already lost, and further refused to pay anything for the northern part of Sakhalin, already in Japanese possession.

By the war Japan has ended Russia's dream of Chinese conquest and an open seaport on the Pacific. Russia has been compelled to agree to Japanese protectorate over Korea.

Mutual evacuation of Manchuria. Return to China of Manchuria, and the open door in that province.

Cession of the Chinese Eastern railroad to China; Japan to get the price of it from China.

Cession of Russian leases of Port Arthur, Dairen, the Elliott islands, etc., to Japan.

Grant to Japan of fishing rights off Siberian coast.

Allowing railroad from Harbin to Vladivostok, which remains in Russian hands, to be patrolled only by Chinese guards.

Cession of southern half of Sakhalin to Japan.

Japan has agreed to forego reimbursement for the cost of the war, claims to interned Russian warships, demand for limitation of Russian naval power and redemption price of north Sakhalin.

Russia also agrees to pay liberally for the care of the 100,000 prisoners of war Japan is now holding. It is estimated she will pay $1,000 per man of about $100,000,000.

THE PURPOSE.
JAPAN'S CHIVALROUS SACRIFICE; LONDON VIEW.

The following summary, purporting to give the "exact nature of the work accomplished and the broad characteristics of the latest tendencies which underlay the endeavors of either side at Portsmouth," is printed in London The Dispatch Saturday. "Speaking generally, a fourfold purpose may be discerned in the twelve historic proposals carefully drafted by the Japanese plenipotentiaries."

First—To restore the entire set of political conditions which the treaty of Shimoda was formulated to establish.

Second—To remove completely and absolutely the disturbing factors, political, commercial and military, which have come into existence since the treaty.

Third—To hinder the growth of the new disturbing factors created by the aggressive policy of United Russia and Admiral Aleksey.

Fourth—To play the valuable role of a chivalrous prince in restoring the Chinese and Korean provinces from the power of the sorcerer's spell, and in helping Europe and the civilized world to fight too long with their swords.

NATIONAL MATTERS

ON THE BOTTOM OF LONG ISLAND SOUND IN THE PLUNGER.

THE PRESIDENT TRIES LIFE ON A SUBMARINE FOR A TIME.

CABINET CHANGES MAY INCLUDE MR. NEWBERRY, OF MICHIGAN.

President Roosevelt late Friday made a descent in Long Island sound on board the submarine torpedo boat Plunger, the crack submarine of the navy. He was aboard the vessel about three hours. At one time the little boat was submerged for 30 minutes and in that time was put through all of the submarine feats of which she is capable.

Soon after the vessel reached the necessary depth of water she was directed downward until she rested on the bottom of the sound. Then the mechanism of the craft was explained minutely to the president by Lieut. Nelson, so that he afterward experienced no difficulty in understanding the maneuvers.

While the president thus was resting on the bottom of the sound in a submarine boat, a storm 40 feet above him was raging unnoticed. The rain descended in torrents and the north-easter whipped the surface of the water into big rollers, but it was as quiet and peaceful where the president sat as an easy chair would be.

Lieut. Nelson made his boat perform the remarkable feat of diving to a depth of 20 feet, and while going a full speed at that depth reversing her course. The complete turn occupied only one minute.

Subsequently the engines were stopped and the vessel was submerged to a depth of 40 feet. There she was kept motionless—a demonstration of her ability to remain in that position for hours while waiting an opportunity to launch one of her torpedoes at a vessel or a passing or repassing ship.

Mr. Newberry's Place.
Thomas H. Newberry, of Detroit, for no characteristical reason, is given a President Roosevelt's new arrangement for his cabinet. It will be remembered that when Mr. Newberry was given the appointment of assistant secretary of the navy, with it came the understanding that when Secretary Paul Morton stepped on Newberry was to be promoted to a head of the department.

Morton went out, but Charles A. Bonaparte took his place. This situation is said to have been brought about by Morton himself. He was a close personal friend of Bonaparte, whom he told that when he went out of office he would put in a good word to the president for his friend. He did that, and the president was so taken up with the friend, as well as anything Morton had to say about anything, that Bonaparte got the appointment, the president meantime promising to take better care of Newberry for whom he is known to have a great personal liking.

In February, 1904, General Cartwright is said to be slated for secretary of the treasury, and that is where Newberry's elevation to a cabinet position is coming in. He will take Cartwright's place.

That will make the second time a Detroit man will have filled that cabinet position. Don M. Dickinson having been postmaster general in President Cleveland's cabinet.

Starving Spain.
Heartrending reports continue to reach the provincial authorities from the outlying famine-stricken districts in Spain. The latest reports received are from Osona and Almogia, the respective mayors of which notify the authorities that their resources are exhausted and that they are unable to further assist the famished laborers and the women and children, as the distress is too acute.

At Eljia the population has looted the bakers' stores.

The mortality among infants and aged persons is attaining terrifying proportions and in many localities the working people are living on roots.

The government has organized public works on a small scale employing about 600 men, but this is a mere drop in the ocean of misery, as a moderate calculation shows that 200,000 are out of employment.

Robbed a Priest.
Upon the statement made to the police by Rev. Benedict Rosinski, a Catholic priest of St. Stanislas church, Cleveland, that he had been held prisoner for twenty-four hours, without food, and forced to sign two notes for $500 each, and two checks for like amounts, which had been since cashed, besides being robbed of $30 and some jewelry, two men and a woman were arrested Saturday. The woman is said to have lured the priest to her room in Cedar avenue, by pretending to be ill and in need of spiritual consolation—and the men are said to have rushed in upon them and held Rev. Rosinski prisoner until he had satisfied their demands.

John C. Christy, once county commissioner and poor director of Beaver county, Pennsylvania, a friend of Senator Quay, has just been sent with his aged wife to the poorhouse of which he once had charge. His fortune was swept away by indorsing

LOST $20,000.

MANIPULATION OF PERE MARQUETTE VOUCHERS CLAIMED.

Edwin Murdock, a clerk in the auditor's department of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton-Pere Marquette railroad, has been arrested, charged with a plot to rob that railroad through the skilled and systematic manipulation of vouchers of the company.

F. J. McLane, confidential secretary of Vice President Russell Harding, says: "Murdock, who has been in our employ a few months, was assisted in the crooked manipulation of vouchers by his brother, Theodore Murdock, of Chicago, who is now missing. There were other persons in the plot and only $2,000 was secured by the crooked work. Other fraudulent vouchers, both amounting to about $10,000, were detected in time to prevent payment being made on them. The $2,000 voucher was cashed in Denver, Col., by Theodore through having himself identified in some way."

Other reports say the company has been swindled out of at least $26,000.

An Unhappy Ending.
Fritz Mosman, farmer, living in Blumfield township, committed suicide Saturday afternoon. About two years ago he married for a third time a widow who owned the farm where they lived. Their married life was unhappy. Before Mosman took the poison he put on the regalia of the Order of the Sons of Herman, and then lay down under a tree. He died upbraiding his wife for driving him to suicide.

A man thought to be W. Rowen, of Gablette, Ill., got up in a pew in the First Baptist church in Minneapolis Sunday, just as the preacher had concluded his sermon, and fired a bullet through his heart, dying instantly. Many women became greatly frightened.

Michigan is Getting There.

Some of the real or alleged reformers of neighborhood states who have been lecturing the people of Michigan touching the control and management of corporations through state legislation, can learn from conditions in this state far more in behalf of the general taxpayers of their several states than their own well exploited theories have produced. Michigan's high valuation of railroad property—for purposes of taxation as compared with the other states of the union, the laws on our freight-rate combinations, our state's income from corporation fees and related sources can better than favorably compare with the laws of any other states. It is not probable that the progress of this state in the direction suggested has been completed nor is it entirely satisfactory but there is some value at least in the reflection that in such matters as in most others, Michigan stands well in line with the most progressive states of the union.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

German Scientist Declares Care of Heart Essential.

The art of keeping young, according to Prof. G. H. H. of Berlin, consists in keeping the blood vessels, but we can only as old as the heart and the arteries. Long life is not inured by early attention to the heart though care taken in old age will often accomplish much. A great danger lies in chronic diseases of the organs and the arteries accumulate late, so that serious harm must come from the abuse of alcohol and tobacco of eating too much of too great muscular effort or even of mental overwork. Moderation in all things is required. Exercise should not be violent nor too little in amount. Elasticity of the blood vessels should be promoted by frequent exposure of the skin to air and water and work, food and sleep should be thoughtfully adjusted. Old people need constant movement with not too much sleep.

PLEA FOR THE DAYLIGHT.

Impossible to Have Too Much of Either That or Sunshine. It is quite impossible for a thoroughly healthy person to have too much daylight. One must as well say it is impossible to have too much fresh air. Daylight does not mean the direct glare of the sun. And a healthy person is not one whose eyes demand darkness. Whether the room furnishing is rich or mean does not matter in the least. There are mansions in which one feels gloomy despite the evidences of wealth and there are cottage homes that make one sing from lightness of heart. Let the light into the rooms. See that stairways and passages are bright as the garden outside. Shut the "dam religious light" as you would the plague. It has much dimness and precious little religion about it.—Exchange

How Enemies Are Made.

I once heard of a man who, discussing a name on the visiting list, said to his wife: "You know perfectly well that I don't like that man." "Don't you think you are a little unreasonable?" asked the wife. "Your dislike arose because he did not answer a letter you wrote him, and you found afterwards that the letter was hung up all summer in the pocket of your overcoat, and was never sent to him at all." "Yes, I know that," was the rejoinder, "but it was so long before I found it out that I couldn't overlook his rudeness and I never forgave him, and I don't believe I ever shall." There is a good deal of feeling in this world that is without any firing for its justification.—George P. Rowell in Printers Ink.

Why?

Why, when buying a book, are we influenced by the author's name? Why, by an artist's, if we purchase a picture?

Why do wise buyers insist upon having a reliable name on nearly everything they purchase?

It is because the name attached is the safeguard of the buyer—a protection against the palming off of inferior articles.

This "name guarantee" we all look for in the most important things we buy, and what can be more important than our food?

Everybody knows that all intelligent housekeepers are very particular about the buying of things to eat and drink, and nobody realizes it more than the up-to-date grocer, who caters to the wants of his customers.

Realizing this, he cannot but hand it out cheerfully when asked for it. He knows that the people accept the package as a guarantee of the contents.

Yet there may be a few grocers left who do not recognize that the buyer—not the seller—has the right of choice, and they may want to sell their loose coffee (who knows what it is, or where it came from?) instead of Lion Coffee, which the customer asks for, and the merits of which both know.

In such cases the wisest advice is "Change your dealer."

Suburban News.

A $12,000 Presbyterian church is to be erected at Sand-Hill. The promoters are evidently not afraid of what happens to houses built upon the sand.

Birmingham's latest "leader" is a lady of 55 who not only keeps boarders and does most of the work but is a skillful player of that nerve trying modern game, flinch.

A fight was one of the features of the big Sunday school excursion to Detroit last week from Salem, Plymouth and other points. It was not a specimen of the Christian warfare, however.

The South Lyon Herald remarked last week that a resident of that place "had the misfortune to lose a valuable cow." The question naturally arises, if he felt that way about it why didn't he keep her tied?

Five acres of land and all the air on it has been given by a generous Orion man to the Helping Hand fresh air society of Detroit, and a movement is to be started to raise funds to build a summer home for poor children thereon. "That air" is unquestionably a very worthy enterprise.

One of the Record's exchanges shows an instance of Enterprise not often duplicated. The paper which had been "served" with pages cut is now sent out uncut for the convenience of subscribers who want to use it for pantry shelves. There is nothing like keeping "next" to the situation.

The men who work on the telephone lines out in Genesee county have incurred the animosity of the people by ruthlessly slashing their fine shade trees beyond all reason. The Ponton Independent advises its readers to use the shotgun argument on the linemen. Some of the people would just as lief tear em' limb from limb as not, they feel so cut up.

Somebody presented the "Ortonville Hustler" man with a set of gold shirt studs and cuff buttons, whereupon he delicately inquires through his department in the Oxford Leader that he would like to have some one provide him with a shirt to wear with the aforesaid jewelry. That old gentleman hasn't any "bats in his belly," evidently.

Girls, the first train west this morning leaves at 9:00. Iowa has sixty thousand more men than women—1 out in independent.

What on earth have the Ponton girls been doing to the independent folks to call out such a high handed denunciation as that? And as a rule the members of the editorial fraternity are noted for their gallantry, too! If the "young ladies" of that town have the proper spirit they will stay at home and box off the independent.

The South Bend, Ind., grandmother 33 years old is not "it" after all. A Mrs. Morgan of Howell comes forward with the claim of having been the youngest ever, attaining to grandmotherly honors when only a little over 31 years old. Mrs. Morgan's 50th birthday occurred last March and last week her 19 year old grandson was married. The lady will certainly have an opportunity to become "great" many times over if the family precedent for early marriages continues to hold good.

A peculiar acting man was being watched by the sheriff on our streets Thursday. It is thought he was from the asylum at Pontiac.—Birmingham Eclectic.

Now don't lay everything to the D. M. A. Maybe he had a flea on him or had been "bitten" by a bumblebee or had boils or something. Lots of things will cause folks to "act peculiar." He might have been a bashful man trying to get up courage to propose.

Like Finding Money.

Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promptly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy Level, Va. Wednesday is to be Governor's day, and fraternity day also. Three platoons of artillery will meet the chief executive at the train and escort him to the fair grounds. At 10:00 o'clock the grand stand will be given over to the brotherhood, who will listen to a band concert and to various speakers who will talk on subjects of interest to fraternal orders. The feature of the day will be the military and fraternity drills. Work has commenced upon the fort which will be erected inside the tracks where the soldiers will be encamped.

Whitney's Opera House—Detroit.

Chas. E. Stanley's play, "Across the Pacific" will be next week's attraction at the Whitney. The play opens in a Montana mining camp. The next scene shows an opium den and Chinese restaurant in San Francisco. As a fitting finale there is terrific bombardment of a blockhouse by the insurgents, and a response with a genuine Gatling gun by Uncle Sam's boys. This forms one of the most thrilling climaxes ever introduced to play-goers. A thrilling sword duel also takes place in this act. Matinees daily except on Wednesday.

Lyceum Theater—Detroit.

Arthur C. Alston will offer his new drama, "Shadows on the Hearth," at the Lyceum next week. The play is one of the rural district of New Jersey. The time is in 1861 and the military life adds a spiciness seldom given to drama of this type. The plot concerns two girls, Kate and Nell Berwick. Nell has loved and married, but not so well. In the end all comes out happily for all concerned. The comedy also is prevalent; in fact much more so than the pathetic. Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday, with a special performance on Monday afternoon, Labor Day.

How Can You Refuse?

If we are willing to sell you Cal-cura Solvent, Dr. David Kennedy's latest medicine, on an absolute guarantee to refund your money, if it fails to dissolve and expel stones and gravel from kidneys and bladder, and cure all forms of kidney disease, if we take all the risk in this way—how can you refuse to try this wonderful medicine? Cal-cura Solvent cures kidney troubles and backaches by dissolving the irritating gravel, stones and uric acid that cause these diseases, thus making a permanent cure. Cal-cura Solvent is the only medicine for kidneys and bladder troubles sold under a guarantee to cure or refund the money. We are warranted in making this offer because its record of cures is nine out of every ten cases. It is not a patent medicine; it is a prescription from the laps of a well known physician and surgeon—a medicine used by Dr. Kennedy in his large private practice with untiring success. Our faith is shown by our unusual offer—money back should Cal-cura fail. All druggists, $1.00.

HOW VINSON WALSH WAS KILLED AND OTHERS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

VINSON WALSH

Vinson Walsh, son of Thomas F. Walsh, of Washington, was killed, and four other prominent young members of the Newport summer colony, were injured in an automobile accident at Newport R. I., Aug. 14. The injured include Mr. James L. Kernochan of Hempstead, L. I., Harry Oelrichs of Great Neck, L. I., Herbert Pell, Jr., of New York, Robert Pell, Jr., and Mr. Evelyn Walsh, sister of the man who was killed. It is believed that all the injured will recover.

The automobile which was driven by young Walsh, struck the railing of a bridge spanning a small river or pond and plunged into the water. Walsh, who had control of the car, was thrown from it and killed by the fall.

Never before in the history of American automobile has a wrecked car carried so many persons known to society as the machine that plunged over the railing of the bridge at Newport. Aboard of it were the most noted home-coming of society, the son and daughter of one of America's wealthiest mining kings and two youthful sons of foremost families in fashion and life.

The young Walshes, Vinson, who was killed, and his sister Evelyn have become within the past year or so somewhat important personalities in the younger Newport set. The children of a multi-millionaire, who has been interesting figures in the newly developing social world. They have resided with their father in Washington.

ton, and both were still very young. Thomas Walsh's home is 1420 New York avenue, Washington. He came from Tipperary, Ireland, in 1870, as a poor boy of 15 and settled at once in Colorado. All he touched turned to riches. There are few wealthier mine owners than Walsh in the entire country. Educated only in the public schools he made a close study in his young manhood of metallurgy, mineralogy and geology, and to good purpose. He invented new methods of mining and his great property, is the Camp Bird mines in Ouray, Col. Five years ago he was made one of the national commissioners to the Paris Exposition. He has taken a great interest in the agricultural development of the west and is president of the National Irrigation Association.

That Mrs. "Jimmie" Kernochan should be injured in an automobile accident is one of the travesties of fate. For over a long period of years there were no people more opposed to the motor car than the Kernochans of Hempstead. Both superb cross country riders, probably the very best in America, they not only were against the automobile, but they opposed it tooth and nail.

The other members of the party were immature youths. Herbert Pell, Jr., is a son of Herbert Pell, who married Katharine Kernochan, a sister of James L. Kernochan. The Pell's home is at Tuxedo, and they are active in Newport and New York society. Young Harry Oelrichs, Charles M. Oelrichs, son, is a nephew of the famous Herman Oelrichs, who married Tessie Fair, one of the Fair heiresses. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., wedded the sister, Virginia. The Charles Oelrichs are very rich and live on Madison avenue, Manhattan. Mrs. Oelrichs was Blanche de Loosay.

BATTLE WITH TEN-FOOT SHARK.

Man-Eating Dog of Ocean Fights Fishers on Bay.

A ten-foot man-eating shark engaged in a fierce battle with two Italian fishermen yesterday afternoon in the bay, says a San Francisco dispatch. The contest lasted two hours, and the Italians were exhausted when the fish was vanquished. They towed it to Meigs' wharf, where it is now on exhibition.

Jose and Pietro Carniglia had their net set off Angel Island yesterday morning, when they felt the boat start. The speed increased in a rapid rate and they realized that a shark had become entangled in the net. They started to haul it in, but little progress could be made. Forward and back the boat was hauled, and after more than an hour the struggles of the shark ceased. The net was hauled in, but when the man-eater came to the surface there ensued a terrific struggle.

With oars the fishermen hammered the head of the shark. At times the tiger of the sea leaped from the water and threw itself against the boat. The side of the boat was partly crushed and the water started to flow in. Finally the shark ceased to struggle.

FOUND SECRET OF GREEKS.

Hungarian Professor Knows How to Make Mortar Imperishable.

A Hungarian professor and chemist of the Bruny university claims to have rediscovered the secret of the ancient Greeks by which they were able to render mortar imperishable. The reason for the remarkable preservation and hard texture of the Acropolis at Athens, which is as good to-day as it was when first laid centuries ago, has always puzzled scientists and archaeologists. This Hungarian some twenty years ago procured a piece of this brittle mortar and ever since has been engaged upon ascertaining the secret of its manufacture. He has invented a chemical compound, and in character and yellowish color. The claims of this inventor are that by the application of this compound the durability of nearly every description of stone including granite is doubled and is rendered absolutely impervious to water. It imparts to all metals the power to resist rust and is a powerful germicide. These properties are not transient, but everlasting.

Modern Sedan Chair.

The good old sedan chair is still in use in certain corners of the world. It is about the same kind of furniture that royalty used in Queen Elizabeth's days. Recently, during the Passion Week King Alfonso of Spain was carried around in a sedan chair just as the fine ladies were when at the world saw high society at Tambridge Wells and Bath.

How Owls Caught Chickens.

When I was a chunk of a boy I shot a horned owl, the spread of whose wings was 4 1/2 feet, and to the surprise of the boy who had carried it for several miles the weight was only four pounds.

They were rather numerous at that time in that section of the country, and were troublesome about carrying off chickens, which mostly roosted in apple trees about the farm buildings. The belief that they could carry away full grown hens was a common one. It was also commonly believed that an owl never picked a chicken off the roost, but, alighting on the limb, crowded the chickens off, and as it flew toward the ground caught it on the wing—forest and stream.

Churches Turned Into Inns.

At Great Easton, three miles from Rockingham Station, there is a Wesleyan chapel which is now an inn. When built a stone was placed over the entrance with the words inscribed, "To the Glory of God," and the inscription still remains over the portal of the licensed premises.

At Newcastle-under-Lyme a chapel was built in 1849, in the time of the Wesleyan reform movement, which, after a time became too small, and a larger building some distance away was bought from the Wesleyans, the smaller one being sold. After passing through various hands the former building is now a licensed house and a music hall.—London Daily News.

Said 'Growl' at Table.

The experiment of serving a dinner-party with salad grown under the guests' own eyes was recently tried in Berlin. Here is the recipe. Take good germinating lettuce seed and soak it in alcohol for about six hours, so it is an equal mixture of rich soil and unskilled lime, and place it on the table. After the soup water it with lukewarm water, whereupon it commences to sprout immediately. The thing worked like a charm, and the lettuce when plucked and prepared for eating were the size of Barcelona outs.

LAPSES OF GREAT WRITERS.

Best Authors Do Not Use Most Perfect Language.

There is not a single great author in our literature in whose works numerous errors have not been pointed out or thought to be pointed out. They are charged with violating rules involving the purity if not the permanence of the language. A somewhat depressing inference follows from the situation thus revealed. The ability to write English correctly does not belong to the great masters of our speech. It is limited to the obscure men who have devoted themselves to the task of showing how far these vaunted writers have fallen short of the ideas of linguistic propriety entertained by their unrecognized betters. As a result of these critical crusades there is no escape from the dismal conclusion that the correct use of the language is not to be found in the authors whom every one reads with pleasure, but is an accomplishment reserved exclusively for those whom nobody can succeed in reading at all.—Harper's Magazine.

Where We Get Our Salt.

Salt is so common an article that one is astonished when he realizes the amount of it produced in the United States during the year 1904. The number of barrels was 22,020,000, valued at $6,921,222. In spite of this enormous output coming mostly from New York and Michigan, the United States imported salt to the value of over half a million dollars and exported 25,683,577 pounds, valued at $30,666. The deposits of salt in the United States are not numerous, those in New York, Michigan, Ohio, Kansas and Louisiana being the only ones which are worked commercially.

DIAZ IS NOT RICH.

President of Mexico Only Comparatively Well Off.

Contrary to the general opinion in Mexico and abroad, President Diaz is not a very wealthy man. Intimate friends of the Mexican executive, who have knowledge of his affairs, declare that his fortune does not exceed $1,000,000. He owns a plantation in the state of Oaxaca, some property in the City of Mexico and a house in Paris. This latter was purchased during his first term as president of Mexico, when he feared that he might be compelled to leave the country hurriedly, and seek refuge in a foreign land. The salary of President Diaz is now $50,000 a year. For many years it was only $30,000, and in the early days of his administration, when Mexico was weak financially, he drew out only enough for his necessary expenses, leaving the remainder in the treasury. He is now serving his twenty-fifth year as president of Mexico.

Age and Brain Work.

The belief of Sir James Crockett-Brown that brainworkers achieve their best work in later middle age is easily confirmed by glancing at the career of a few of the grand old men who are still with us, many of whom are as busy as in their younger days. Lord Roberts at 73 is still worth $500,000 a year to the nation as one of our imperial defenders. Lord Kelvin at 81 may stand up with further generalizations on the mysteries of science. Sir William Huggins at the same age still explores interstellar spaces, while the activity of the octogenarian duke of Rutland and Lord Weymouth is as effective as ever in preserving the privileges of our old nobility.—London Chronicle.

BRAINS TO WIN VICTORIES.

International Industrial Competition Now Keen.

If the sense of modern civilization forbids internecine war between occidental nations, international competition still remains. In this industrial warfare brain power and intelligence will be—nay, must be—the dominating feature. It is recorded that that stalwart and genial soldier, Blucher, that his first impression of the London of his day was an overpowering sense of its tremendous wealth. "What a city to sack!" the descendant of the wild Teutonic tribes, who had extorted tribute from imperial Rome, is said to have exclaimed. To-day the extent of British commerce gives rise to a similar feeling in the mind of manufacturers descended from Blucher's soldiers. The great contests will range around the neutral markets. To secure or increase a hold on these demands smooth working among many conflicting factors in each competing country. Some of these may be suggested, such as abundance of local supplies of raw material, or capital to exploit distant sources, together with a fiscal system admitting semi-raw or semi-manufactured material free of taxation. Of importance also is it that the artisan class should be sober, industrious and intelligent. The manufacturer, who is the general of a division in the army of industry, needs to be equipped not only with scientific knowledge but with shrewd business instincts of organization. In all countries certain of these properties are possessed to a high degree, indeed, in America and Germany intelligent departments are at work to aid the manufacturer, but in several their reports are ignored.—The Pollard Digest in the Engineering Magazine.

FOR THE PLAIN GIRL.

Possible to Cultivate Beauty of the Finest Sort.

A good many girls are considered pretty, and plain girls cast a somewhat envious glance at them, and each murmurs inwardly, "Oh, dear, how I wish I were pretty!"

Cheer up, poor little plain girls, for you can be victorious over your prettier sisters. Remember that the face should be the true index of the heart and soul.

By cultivating amiable emotions and noble desires the countenance which does not possess outward loveliness will in time have a beauty of a finer and more appealing nature than was ever attained by perfect features and a rose-leaf complexion.

When one meets a plain girl who is a heartfelt Christian, striving to walk in the straight road, unselfish, loving and pure-minded, her plain face becomes a sort of revelation of the heavenly soul hidden through the surface of plainness, just as the most priceless jewels are discovered in the most unlovely localities.

Remember, plain girls, what the great poet Spencer wrote, "For of the soul the body form doth take."—Boston Globe.

Lesson for Women.

Jersey Shore, Pa., Aug. 28th (Special).—"Dodd's Kidney Pills have done worlds of good for me." That's what Mrs. C. B. Earnest of this place has to say of the Great American Kidney Remedy.

"I was laid up sick," Mrs. Earnest continues, "and had not been out of bed for five weeks. Then I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and now I am so I can work and go to town without suffering any. I would not be without Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have good reason to praise them everywhere."

Women who suffer should learn a lesson from this, and that lesson is "cure the kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and your suffering will cease." Woman's health depends almost entirely on her kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills have never yet failed to make healthy kidneys.

How Wine is Colored.

Most people think white grapes make white wine and dark grapes make red wine. It is a popular error. Red wine is made by fermenting grape juice and grape skins together, and white wine is made by fermenting grape juice alone. The juice of a white and dark grapes does not differ in taste in each sort of grape the juice is almost as colorless as weak lemonade. Champagne is made of a grape so dark as to be nearly black, but the juice of that nearly black grape is quite as pale as that of the ordinary white grape.—London Tatler.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years. You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man. Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman, thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and advice has relieved thousands. Share, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

Compliment Gone Wrong.

Muggins had just been introduced to a bride of six weeks at a social gathering, and after a remark about the weather, he said, gallantly,

"And have I really the pleasure of meeting the beautiful Mrs. Smythe, whose praises are being sounded by everybody?"

"Oh, no, Mr. Muggins," the lady replied, "the beautiful Mrs. Smythe, to whom you refer is the wife of my husband's cousin."

"Ah, I see," rejoined Muggins, "I thought there must be a mistake somewhere."

Give Him the Right to Do It.

A wealthy eastern woman has married her chauffeur.

It may be supposed that she took this extreme course through a desire to save her employe from the necessity of unlawfully taking out her automobile at forbidden hours of the night and rolicking around in it with a party of gay friends until the early morn.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Handy.

Cholly—Why, what are you doing with the engagement ring I gave you sister?

Lillie—Oh, she lets me wear it when do other fellows is calling.

Sticking Up for Him.

Toadie—"Jenkins is getting to be quite prominent in smart society." Soiling—"I don't believe it. Toadie—Oh, but it's a fact. The society editors of all the papers say so."

Stirling—What of that? The society editor probably dislike him for one reason or other.

A Compromise.

"(U)" said young Rowley, "get me an automobile, will you?" See here! provided old Rowley it was you stopped asking me to buy you things. Why don't you put the blame on your own canoe? All right, pa. Never mind the auto get me the cane."

A Provoso.

"Don't you think that government ownership is a thoroughly practical proposition?"

"Certainly," answered Mr. Dustin Gray. "I haven't the slightest objection to the government's owning my property, provided it is willing to buy it at my price."—Washington Star.

Queer Idea.

"He's the most eccentric autoist I ever met. He's got such queer notions about his machine." "Thinks it's the very best make, I suppose." "No, he says he bought it because it was cheap."

A Church Item.

Hicks—Your church has a new bell, hasn't it?

Wicks—Well, I don't consider her a belle, and she isn't very new at that. She's the oldest and homeliest soprano we ever had.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Blessing in Disguise.

"Say, old man, I have a terrible thirst." "Pardon me, my boy; a thirst is never terrible."—Fliegende Blätter.

Comprehensive.

Boy—Gimme a five-cent cigar an' a penny headache powder.

A Scant Consolation.

"The good die young," said the melancholy philosopher. "Yes," answered the clumsy optimist, "but they have their reward. They stand a better chance of getting returns on their life insurance policies."

Pinched.

"You say I remind you of something playfully pinching her shoulder; is that it?" "A lobster."—Houston Post.

Ayer's

Why is it that Ayer's Hair Vigor does so many remarkable things? Because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair, puts new life into it. The hair cannot keep from growing. And gradually all the dark, rich color of early life comes back to gray hair.

Discovered. An Irishman and some friends were passing through a certain town in western America when the Irishman remarked: "Here I am, there is a 'Coke' on the floor plate, sign board in window. That family must be well off here." A little further on they came to a large mill in which they saw a sign board "The 'Coke' is a good thing." The Irishman said: "Ah, I see. 'Coke' is a good thing. They're making it here."—The "Coke."

The Better Way

The tissues of the throat are inflamed and irritated; you cough, and there is more irritation—more coughing. You take a cough mixture and it eases the irritation—for a while. You take and it cures the cold. That's what is necessary. It soothes the throat because it reduces the irritation; cures the cold because it drives out the inflammation, builds up the weakened tissues because it nourishes them back to their natural strength. That's how Scott's Emulsion deals with a sore throat, a cough, a cold, or bronchitis.

Tired Nervous

When you feel languid, tired, nervous and irritable, your vitality is low—your supply of nerve energy exhausted, and your system running down for lack of power.

The organs of the body are working poorly, or not at all, and you are not getting the nourishment needed. This soon impoverishes the blood and instead of throwing off the impurities, distributes it all through the body. This brings disease and misery.

Feed the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine, a nerve food, a nerve medicine, that nourishes and strengthens the nerves, and see how quickly you will get strong and vigorous.

"My wife suffered with nervousness previous to a recent attack of typhoid fever, but after her recovery from the fever, she was much worse, and could hardly control herself by any means. She was very restless at night, and never had a good night's rest. She also suffered much from her head-ache. Dr. Miles' Nervine was recommended by a friend. After the first three doses she had a good night's rest, and at the end of the first week a treatment, she was wonderfully improved. Continued use of Nervine has completed her entire cure."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

Against the No. 2 Methods.

A REPUTATION.

HOW IT WAS MADE AND MAINTAINED IN NORTHVILLE.

A good reputation is not easily earned, and it was only by hard, consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement of scores of Northville residents has rendered invaluable service to the community. Read what this citizen says:

T. W. Wood, painter and paperhanger, of 37 Center street, says: "My wife and I are thoroughly convinced of the curative powers of this popular remedy. Doan's Kidney Pills, for we used them some years ago for backache and other kidney troubles. They acted very effectively and promptly relieving the backache and the other annoyances. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best medicine we ever used, and we are pleased to testify to their merits."

Case of "As You Say."

An indignant and impressive landlady on the South Side was heard, a few days ago, giving this Partisan shot, reversed, to a derelict lodger, for it was he and not the landlady who was retreating.

"If you are a gentleman," she said, "as you say you are, and if you are givin' $40 a week, as you say you be, you will pay me the room rent as you said you would."

But the lodger took the trolley, as it seemed he would, and said no word back as no one expected he would.—Chicago Record-Herald.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.
