Vol. XXXVII. No. 29.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1906

$1.00 Per Year in Advance

DEATH'S HARVEST

MANY HEARTS SADDENED HERE BY DESTROYER'S STROKE.

Two Residents and One Former Resident Called Beyond.

Once more is the Record obliged to chronicle repeated visits of the Great Destroyer, who has summoned from earth two citizens, and one former citizen of Northville during the past week, bringing grief to many hearts.

MRS. PHOEBE DEVAN

Mrs. Phoebe Devan, whose death on Friday, February 16, was briefly noted in this paper, had been a resident of Northville for the past twenty-five years. She was about 54 years of age and was the widow of Francis Devan, a veteran of the civil war who died about eighteen years ago.

Mrs. Devan was a woman of a quiet, unostentatious nature, who lost an opportunity of doing a kindly act and who was best appreciated by those who knew her best. She leaves an only daughter, Mrs. Henry Garfield, the two having always shared the same home. Mrs. Devan had been a member of Allen M. Harmon Corps for a number of years. The funeral was held from the home Sunday afternoon and was largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. S. F. Dimmock, with interment in Rural Hill cemetery.

JOSEPH CHAPPELL

Joseph Chappell, whose illness from blood poisoning was mentioned last week, died at his home here on Tuesday morning, following the amputation of the affected limb which was resorted to the previous day in the vain hope of saving his life, by his physician, Dr. Henry, assisted by Drs. Henry of South Lyon and Fisher of this place.

Mr. Chappell was a wood worker by trade and had passed the greater part of his life in Milford, coming to Northville about five years ago. He was a man of sterling character and highly respected by all who knew him. He was 48 years of age and was married about thirty-five years ago to Miss Julia Marvin, a high sister of Mrs. L. R. McKahn of this village. The widow and one son, Roy, of Detroit survive him, besides two children of a son who died some years ago.

The funeral was held from the home yesterday afternoon conducted by Rev. W. S. Jerome and the body was taken by train to Milford for burial, where Rev. A. C. Wilson of that place took charge of the final services.

MRS. W. H. YARNALL

This community was shocked and saddened to hear of the death at Hastings, Nebraska, on Sunday, February 18, of Mrs. W. H. Yarnall, who had left here less than three weeks previously for a trip to California, stopping at the place named to visit friends. She had not been at all well for a year or two past but all had hoped that she might return east fully restored to health after a few months' change of climate. Dr. Yarnall was summoned by a telegram Friday announcing his wife's dangerous illness and started immediately but before he reached his destination death had forestalled him.

Mrs. Yarnall was possessed of more than ordinary intellectual capacity, which had been developed by education, extensive reading and travel, resulting in a degree of culture rarely attained by the unprofessional woman. She made no parade of her ability or attainments, however, placing a much more modest estimate upon herself than did the many who valued her society and friendship, being by nature entirely averse to ostentation or display in any direction. She will be greatly missed in Northville, as she had been since coming to be a resident here about two years ago. She was for some time a member of the Library board, where her work was highly valued. The funeral and interment took place on Monday at Hastings where her father and sister live and where her parents are buried.

K. of P. Anniversary Banquet.

Northville Knights of Pythias very pleasantly observed the forty-second anniversary of their order Monday evening in Chadwick's hall with a program and banquet to which the families of the members were invited.

The program included violin music by Miss Norma Mathews, piano solo by Miss Lora Bristol and songs by Charlie Gardner. Dr. Henry filled the position of toastmaster in his usual capable manner and the speakers responding were Messrs. M. A. Porter, W. H. Ambler, F. S. Neal, G. A. Clark and C. B. Bristol of this place and Ed. Lauffer of Plymouth.

The festivities were concluded with an informal dance for those who wished to enjoy that amusement. The entire affair was very successfully carried out.

The showing made by Governor Warner before the tax commission at Lansing last week was of sufficient import to warrant the state tax commissioners in lowering the valuations of the general property of the state to a figure which made the same rate for all properties and under which the railroads will pay $200,000 more taxes than last year. Governor Warner has given out the following statement: "The railroads will pay under this assessment $200,000 more taxes than they would have paid under the figures first given out by the tax commission, and $200,000 more than they paid last year."

The railroads will now be assessed at over one eighth of the valuation of all the other property of the state as fixed by local assessors. This I believe to a fair ratio, and it certainly will be accepted as such by the people of the state.

This action of the tax commission places the railroads on practically the same basis as the general properties of the state for assessing purposes. I do not believe that anyone will attempt to maintain that all the property of the state not owned by railroads is assessed at its actual cash value, nor do I believe this to be true of the railroad property under the present assessment, but as I stated before, I consider the ratio now established between the two to be practically a fair one.

From the very outset I have maintained that the railroads should pay taxes in just proportion to the taxes on other property. I believe that the result of the review for which provision was made by law brings this about.

Auction Sales.

E. E. Dole will have a sale of horses, cattle, farm machinery, wagons, buggies, sleighs and harness, platform scales and numerous other articles on his farm 1 1/2 miles south of Northville, Friday, March 2, at one o'clock p.m. L. W. Lovewell will be auctioneer.

On Friday March 2, commencing at 9 o'clock on the premises near the depot at Novi, Arthur Johns will have a large sale of cows, poultry, all kinds of farm implements, vehicles and harnesses, a horse, blankets, robes, hay, grain, straw and all kinds of household goods and many other things. With Phelps & Wedow as auctioneers. Lunch will be served at noon.

Townsend Honored.

Congressman Townsend has been further honored by being placed on the special congressional committee to investigate the coal rates.

Passage--Tinham.

Miss Shirley Tinham of this place was married Wednesday in Detroit to Mr. Frank C. Passage of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Passage will make their home in Northville.

Village Caucuses.

The Citizens' caucus has been dated for Monday evening, Feb. 26, at 7:30 o'clock in the council room, and the Workmen's caucus will be held on the following evening at the same time and place.

Mr. Pink was heard the other day in Detroit for disturbing the peace. He is evidently not the Pink of perfection.

A Wayne girl broke her leg in two places the other day by falling a distance of only four feet. It was a feat she would not care to repeat.

Plymouth's all-star baseball pitcher, Monte Wood, is going away in the spring to become a full fledged professional. The baseball population of the village don't know what they are going to do without him and wish Monte Wood well.

There's really hope for Ann Arbor yet if enough individual consciences wake up. A few months ago $20 was sent to the city treasurer by some one who had defrauded the tax roll to that amount and the other day the P. O. & N. Railway's agent at Pontiac received a letter from the U. of M. city complaining $1 which the sender had helped to bent the afore-said railroad to out of May the good work go on.

The "thirteen" superstition has been knocked into southernness. A man belonging to a Flint citizen was given a "settin'" of thirteen eggs and on the thirteenth of February hatched out thirteen chicks. And the queerest part of it is that she hatched 'em in a week less than the ordinary time of incubation—at least the Flint Globe states in announcing the fact that the hen was "set" a couple of weeks ago.

The Orion State bank has so much business that it has just added an adding machine to its equipment. We might add that they don't know how to add out there very well, but we won't. —Northville Record. Again we may add to the adds of the humorous pen of the Record that this bank is a very good adder, adding in the last year to its surplus $2,000 besides paying a good dividend. —Additionally yours. Adeline Add.—Orion Review.

The oft-quoted saying that "corporations have no souls" has once more been illustrated in a way that leaves no chance for dispute. A young man at Orion, conductor on one of the D. U. R. suburbs, who was married to a Rochester girl on Monday of this week, was informed on applying for leave of absence that he couldn't have it, even to get married. An elaborate wedding had been planned but "the soulless corporation" was relentless and the ceremony had to be hastily performed between rails, and the bridegroom had to leave without even fasting the wedding supper.

Two Cent R. R. Rates.

Referring to the fact that a law has recently been enacted in Ohio which provides that railroad passenger rates in that state shall hereafter be two cents a mile, a prominent Michigan newspaper asks why nothing has been done in Michigan looking towards two-cent fares. It is evidently not known to that newspaper that two-cent fares on the more important railroads of this state have been in operation for a number of years and that a law now exists here which is intended to make two cents a mile the rate on all railroads when the passenger business shall attain to certain proportions. The main lines of the Michigan-Central, the Grand Trunk, the Lake Shore and the Wabash railroads, are all traveled in Michigan for two cents a mile. When these same roads reach the Indiana and Illinois state lines the fare is three cents per mile. On some other railroads in the state the present fare is two and a half cents per mile, their earnings having reached the point, providing for that rate. It is expected that the two-cent rate will prevail on all railroads in Michigan before their passenger earnings shall equal those of the Ohio railroads.

Michigan's the Best

During the campaign of two years ago repeated complimentary reference was made by some Michigan newspapers to the proposed Illinois primary election law. "The Illinois law will meet the wishes of the people," it was declared, and this statement was persistently made the basis of attacks on the supporters of the Michigan law because of the fact that the law proposed in Michigan was not the same. A recent detailed comparison of the Illinois primary election law with Michigan's how ever reveals the fact that even from the Times-Herald point of view the Michigan law is superior in every respect. The Illinois law gives to party committees all the important determinations which by the Michigan law are given directly to the people. The Illinois law requires a public declaration of the nomination of the candidates of voters party affiliation and provides that he cannot take part in the other parties. It is more technical than the Michigan law and in no way does it equal the latter. In fact there is no direct voting law now in operation in any northern state which gives practical promise of better meeting the purposes it had in view than Michigan's new law on the subject.

Belgium's Good Work.

Though Belgium has an area of but 11,273 square miles, less than one-fourth the size of the state of New York, and a population of only 6,500,000, it has accomplished within twenty years a most remarkable opening up to the world a vast territory covering an area of some 500,000 square miles with a native and well settled population of about 30,000,000.

I should like to mention except on Wednesday.

Rear-Admiral Hichborn Praises Pe-ru-na.

ADMIRAL'S WORDS CARRY WEIGHT.

REAR-ADMIRAL HICHBORN is one of the best known admirals of our navy.

His statement concerning Peru-na will have much weight as it goes out into the world.

What he says is echoed by many other naval officers of high standing.

WHAT THE ADMIRAL SAYS.

Philip Hichborn, Rear-Admiral United States Navy, writes from Washington, D. C., as follows:

"After the use of Peru-na for a short period, I can now cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy to any one who is in need of an invigorating tonic."—Philip Hichborn.

AN EVERPRESENT FOE.

The soldier and the sailor are especially subject to catarrh in some form or phase.

Exposed as they are to constant changes, subject as they are to various vicissitudes, and all kinds of climate, wet and dry, night and day, they find catarrh to be their most insidious and everpresent foe.

In the barracks and on the field, Peru-na is equally efficacious. Taken at once after exposure, it should prevent catching cold.

PE-RU-NA A RELIABLE REMEDY.

After a cold has become established, Peru-na will break it up as quickly as any other remedy known.

Even after a cold has become settled in some organ of the body, Peru-na can be relied upon to promptly dissipate it.

Peru-na will relieve catarrh, whether acute or chronic, but a few doses taken in the first stages of the disease will be more effective than when the disease has become chronic.

If you suffer from catarrh in any form, do not neglect it. Take Peru-na at once. Delays in such matters are dangerous.

To Remove Nicotine.

Poisonous nicotine in tobacco is removed by steeping the leaves in a solution of tannic acid. This is the method adopted by a German chemist.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by treating the entire system. Deafness is caused by the inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or impaired hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and as the inflammation continues it has a tendency to spread and the hearing is lost. # PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER A HAPPY BRIDE

Ceremony that United in Marriage Miss Roosevelt and Congressman Nicholas Takes Place in the Famous East Room in the Executive Mansion at Washington

Before perhaps the most conspicuously august assembly that ever gathered in the famous East Room in the Executive Mansion, Miss Alice Roosevelt, eldest daughter of the President, was united in marriage to Nicholas Longworth, Congressman from Ohio, Sunday afternoon Feb. 17. It was the first White House wedding in nearly twenty years, and according to the usual reckoning, the twelfth in number.

Since the day that Frances Folsom became the bride of Grover Cleveland at the White House many things have happened. A new era has dawned upon the country. Nations pay the United States homage now, there were but the formal amenities then. And, moreover, that was the quietest of weddings, where this or, was all that was to be seen and heard. Special power could make it.

And so, to see nothing of the great

House wedding the occasion of having eighteen bridesmaids. If Miss Alice Roosevelt had bidden eighteen of her girl friends to be maids she would have been obliged to ask fifty if she would not give offense. The result was that it was decided not to have any bridesmaids or even maid-of-honor. Her sole attendant was her little half-sister, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, flower girl.

With Mr. Longworth it was a simpler proposition. He had the conventional wedding party of eight ushers and a best man. His best man was his brother-in-law, the Viscount de Chambrun, who married Miss Longworth. The Viscount is also one of Miss Roosevelt's closest men friends. Thousands of other brides the land over have given their hearts and hands to exactly the same words as Miss Roosevelt gave hers Saturday. The simple ceremony occupied barely Grant. This was in front of the large center windows on the east side of the room, which open out on the esplanade.

Never was a bride in a more imposing room than the great East Room, the show place of the beautifully simple White House. It is large and airy, and not unnumbered with heavy hangings. It is finished in delicate white and gold, quite the appropriate setting for a beautiful wedding.

Of course the White House conservatories were drawn upon largely for the flowers and plants. Orchids, white roses, carnations and white hyacinths were all used in profusion, with masses of potted azaleas and banks of palms and ferns. There was a floral bower over the prie-dieu, made of white roses and white ribbons and twined with Southern sallow and laurel.

At one end of the room stands a dent of France will receive the President of the United States' daughter at some state function yet to be decided upon. Should Germany be included in this second wedding trip the Kaiser can be reckoned upon to show distinction and hospitality upon the daughter of the President.

The bride's trousseau has been the subject of much consideration. Every bit of it is American made, save those things which have come to her as wedding gifts. The single exception is just a few bits of lingerie from Paris.

Mrs. Longworth's going away gown was of Alice blue, with a hat to match. She wore her beautiful silver fox fur to set off the costume. The skins are a portion of the much-discussed twenty-three boxes of things which followed Miss Roosevelt from the Orient. These skins are of rare value and have been fashioned into a wondrous set.

WENT THROUGH THE SCENERY.

Distinguished Actors Swung Their Swords to Good Effect.

David Higgins recalls an amusing story of Lawrence Barrett and John McCullough when they were strolling together in the west. The manager of some out of the way place in Colorado got them to play an engagement with him for "one night only." The stage of the theater was so small that there was hardly standing room for the company, the flies being about two feet above the actors' heads. The bill was "Richard III," and by the time they came to the last scene the patience of both McCullough and Barrett was exhausted. But they had their revenge. Just before they rushed on for the "wind-up" between Richard and Richmond, McCullough, who was playing Richard, turned to Barrett.

"How in thunder are we going to swing our swords in that space?" he asked.

"Never mind," replied Barrett, "cut the scenery down." And they did. They went at each other with a vengeance, and with every blow made a gash in the flies or cut a piece out of one of the wings. When the fight was finished and the victorious Richmond stood over his prostrate foe, the flies above him hung in ribbons and the wings were total wrecks.

TERrible SCALY ECZEMA.

Eruptions Appeared on Chest, and Face and Neck Were All Broken Out—Cured by Cuticura.

"I had an eruption appear on my chest and body and extend upwards and downwards, so that my neck and face were all broken out; also, my arms and the lower limbs as far as the knees. I at first thought it was prickly heat. But soon scales or crusts formed where the breaking out was. Instead of going to a physician I purchased a complete treatment of the Cuticura Remedies, in which I had great faith, and all was satisfactory. A year or two later the eruption appeared again, only a little lower; but before it had time to spread I procured another supply of the Cuticura Remedies and continued their use until the cure was complete. It is now five years since the last attack, and have not seen any signs of a return. I have more faith in Cuticura Remedies for skin diseases than anything I know of. Emma E. Wilson, Liscomb, Iowa, Oct. 1, 1905."

Woman Expert Chauffeur.

A clever housemaid employed by a family in London who took to motoring was told by her master that if she proved as good a chauffeur as she was a housemaid he would employ her to drive his car. She took him at his word and learned motor mechanics and now at a salary of £10 a year, she combines the two posts. She is a capital driver, car do most repairs, and after overhauling her car at the end of a day's run was at the family dinner table. London Mail.

America's "Good" Women.

There are many varieties of "good" women in the world, some passive and others active, some subjective and others objective. The good American woman is the most active and aggressive of her sex. She exercises her initiative, initiative over her own body. She has the most decided convictions on social questions. In many cases out of the she is an artful dresser, and a good anti-gambler. ## Imitation Precious Stones.

It is now possible to produce in paste an imitation of almost every precious stone which is capable of reflecting the rays of light but the most expert. Not only is there a superficial resemblance, but a skillfully prepared paste stone exhibits the same luster and high index of refraction and dispersion as would a diamond of the first water.

Not What He Meant.

A bashful young couple, who were evidently very much in love, entered a crowded street car in Boston the other day. "Do you suppose we can squeeze in here?" he asked, looking doubtfully at her blushing face. "Don't you think, dear, we had better wait until we get home?" was the em barrassed reply.

UNDER WHICH KING

"The More Postum the More Food—The More Coffee the More Poison."

The Pres. of the W. C. T. U. in a young giant state in the Northwest says:

"I did not realize that I was a slave to coffee till I left off drinking it. For three or four years I was obliged to take a nerve tonic every day. Now I am free, thanks to Postum Food Coffee."

"After finding out what coffee will do to its victims, I could hardly stand to have my husband drink it; but he was not willing to quit. I studied for months to find a way to induce him to leave it off. Finally I told him I would make no more coffee."

"I got Postum Food Coffee, and made it strong—billed it the required time, and had him read the little book, 'The Road to Wellville,' that comes in every pkg."

"To day Postum has no stronger advocate than my husband! He tells our friends how to make it, and that he got through the winter without a spell of the grip and has not had a headache for months—he used to be subject to frequent nervous headaches."

"The stronger you drink Postum the more food you get; the stronger you drink coffee the more poison you get." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

Italian Women Pack Heavy Loads.

In Italy the people take it for granted that women should carry heavy loads. Horses and wagons are scarce and it is common for women to carry heavy loads of wood from the dock to the market place. Often they are so heavy the women look as if they would stagger underneath. They cart this wood all day for less than fifty cents, though the lumber is disposed of in the market at a good price.

TWITCHING NERVES

A Serious Hereditary Trouble Cured By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Sufferers from ailments that have afflicted in regular succession one generation after another of their family are, as a rule, inclined to submit to them as inevitable. The case which follows proves that such hereditary difficulties are not beyond the reach of curative forces and should inspire hopefulness and a readiness to try remedies that have effected signal cures, such as that which is here given.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rannells, of No. 428 East Seventh street, Newton, Kansas, gives the following account of her ailment and her cure:

"For two years I suffered from a trying nervousness in my lower limbs from my knees down, as my mother and my grandmother had suffered before me. The situation was for many years accepted as unavoidable because hereditary. But about two years ago when my son was realizing benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I thought there might possibly be some good in them for me. My trouble had then become so serious as to make it difficult for me to sleep. I often had to walk the floor in restlessness the whole night. After taking some six boxes the twitching disappeared and I ceased to use the remedy. I evidently stopped a little too soon for nervousness came back after a month or so and I used the pills again for a short time. Next came the cure and since I stopped using them the second time I have been free from any return of the twitchings or from any interference with my sleep."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured the worst cases of bloodlessness, indigestion, influenza, headaches, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, nervousness, spinal weakness and the special ailments of girls and women. For further information, address Dr. J. C. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Atlas Engines

Many prospective purchasers of engines and boilers are deterred by the fact that the Atlas Throating Engine is so high grade, and because it is fitted with a balance valve and a main bearing, such as only Corliss engines of other make have. It is a very reliable engine, and it is quite out of the reach of cheap imitations. As Atlas engines are no higher in price than any other engine, except, perhaps, one that is made entirely in a foundry.

For your information, therefore, we give the present approximate price upon a 12-hp. Throating Atlas Engine, range 45 to 125 Horse Power.

MISS ALICE ROOSEVELT

But to-day all is changed. Another President's daughter is married. Kings and potentates, senators and ruling assemblies of all lands hastened to do the bride honor and thereby to honor her father and the great world power over which he has been elected the Chief Magistrate.

A most notable company was present. Every ruling sovereign was represented in person. High officials were there; go's lace-trimmed frocks there. No American assembly gathered together ever had the aid of this.

But for all that, here was the purest, romantic side. It is a love match pure and simple. Young Mr. Longworth had to plead his suit very eloquently. There were plenty of others who might have aspired, many of them far richer than this young Congressman from Cincinnati. But it was not a match for money. The Longworths are well-to-do but there are thousands of richer persons in the land. The Roosevelts are comfortably fixed, but by no amount of figuring could any of the President's family be made out as any way approaching a fortune of a million. Miss Alice has an income herself of $5,000 a year from her mother's estate.

Young Mr. Longworth first met Miss Roosevelt when he came to Washington to serve his first term as Congressman, a little over two years ago. They were thrown together almost from the first, and though gossip mentioned a possible engagement months ago, nothing was made public until last December when the President made formal announcement of the betrothal.

Miss Nellie Grant made her White ten minutes. The music lengthened this to about twenty minutes.

Custom requires no altar in a private dwelling. Instead there was a prie-dieu, at which the couple knelt during the prayers, and nothing more. Miss Roosevelt joined her father up stairs and came down the grand staircase on his arm. Preceded by the ushers and little Miss Ethel with her basket of flowers, she entered the room with her father.

At the right of the doorway Mr. Longworth was standing with his best man, Mr. Roosevelt, handed his daughter to the bridegroom and stepped aside to the left. When Bishop Satterlee asked, "Who giveth this woman?" Mr. Roosevelt stepped forward and placed Miss Alice's hand in that of Mr. Longworth. Stepping back again, that ended his part in the ceremony.

The wedding marches from "Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Lohengrin" were played as processional and recessional. Then there were two hymns, "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death," from "Elijah," and "Tis Our Wedding Morn," by Pontiatowski. The vested choir from St. John's sang and afterward the Marine Band played.

Miss Roosevelt was married in exactly the same spot as Miss Nellie

Grant. This was in front of the large center windows on the east side of the room, which open out on the esplanade. On the sides of the instrument are the coats-of-arms of the thirteen original States and inscribed the H is a beautiful allegorical painting. This piano was used as an accompaniment to the choral music.

There followed a reception lasting till 3 o'clock, but the happy couple hurried away before that for their honeymoon, to be spent down South at the estate of a wealthy friend of the Roosevelts. When Congress adjourns Mr. and Mrs. Longworth will take an extended jaunt in Europe. There Mrs. Longworth will be presented at the court of each country she visits by the American Ambassador or Minister.

And first of all, it will be "at the Court of the King of England, at the hands of Ambassador Reid. Doubtless His Majesty will entertain Mrs. Longworth himself at some notable function. The Reids will also give a series of brilliant affairs at which the President's daughter will meet the cream of Britain's nobility and gentry, as well as royalty.

And then there will be delightful visits to Paris, where the Longworths will be the guests of the Viscount and Viscountess de Chambrun, the latter Mr. Longworth's sister. The Presi-

There is a wide collar with stole effect, which reaches down the back and almost to the hem of her skirt in front. There is a muff to match of the prevailing large, flat shape. This lining of the fur is of pale gray brocade satin.

Miss Roosevelt as Mrs. Longworth will have two homes. One will be in Cincinnati—beautiful home of the bridegroom's mother. It derives its name from the number of nooks that make their home in the ancient trees about the place. It is the home, too, of the beautiful china originated by Mrs. Bellamy Storer, wife of Ambassador Storer, who is a member of the Longworth family.

The other is the Washington home. This is the Jones house, in Eighteenth street. It was built by the late John Davies Jones of Cincinnati. It is extremely bright and attractive, standing on the corner of Eighteenth and I streets, N. W.

And it is whispered that some day Miss Roosevelt hopes to have another Washington home—the White House.

She has told her fiancé that he must be re-elected Congressman, and then she looks forward to another such career for her husband as her father has had, with the Presidency as its ultimate goal.
