NORTHVILLE'S VILLAGE FATHERS PRESIDENT HARMON AND HIS CABINET.

PRESIDENT F. S. HARMON

T. G. RICHARDSON

O. S. HARGER

E. A. NORTHROP

A Village Council of Business Men Do'n' Things.

The Record takes pride in presenting its readers this week with the portraits of the president and members of Northville's village council. It is probably safe to say that no other village in Michigan can show a municipality board the personnel of which is so peculiarly satisfactory from a business standpoint. Every member of the present council is a reputable, well-to-do business man, several of them are wealthy and all have demonstrated that they are capable of successfully managing their own private or company interests, which certainly gives them the necessary qualifications for progressively, safely and successfully conducting the affairs of the village.

THEIR GOLDEN WEDDIN'

Mr. and Mrs. Craft Celebrated Their Last Week.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Craft celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Friday, assisted by about fifty of their friends. The occasion was a very pleasant one, and the bride and groom of half a century ago were remembered with many gifts. W. H. Hutton acted as toastmaster and Rev. W. G. Stephens officiated at the "re-marriage." Besides friends from Northville, guests were present from Detroit and St. Clair. Mr. Craft is an old soldier and tells many interesting accounts of the war. After spending an enjoyable afternoon the guests disbanded by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and wishing the bride and groom "many happy returns of the day."

DeLaure-Sackett.

A quiet home wedding took place Saturday afternoon, May 12, at the home of Mrs. Florence Sackett, her daughter, Miss Sackett, becoming the wife of Mr. Charles DeLaure of Detroit. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. S. Jerome, only the family being present. Mr. and Mrs. DeLaure left immediately for Detroit where their home was in readiness for them to begin housekeeping.

J. R. HOSIE, PRESIDENT

Wayne County Jury Commission Elects Offices.

The Wayne County Jury commission held its annual meeting Monday and elected J. R. Hosie of Wayne president, and Jule Myer of Detroit secretary. Both are representative citizens and business men and will do honor to their respective offices.

Miss King, a deaconess from Detroit, spouse of her work in the Tilman Mission under the auspices of the W. H. M. S. on Tuesday afternoon. Those who heard her have a better knowledge of what our deaconesses are doing to better the race.

Last Sunday evening was wet but it did not dampen the ardor and enthusiasm of the Epworth Leaguers. The decorations were well arranged and very neat and the program was good and quite instructive. The congregation gave close attention.

MULES AND THEIR MANY ADVANTAGES

What H. Horton of Bay County Says About It.

(From Mich. Farmer, Dec. 16, 1905.)

Those most accustomed to handling mules and know of their remarkable faculty of adapting themselves to surrounding conditions, realize their value and do not hesitate to pay good prices. There are many good reasons why the farmers of Michigan should raise more mules. Nearly all the objections raised against the mule come from prejudice caused by ignorance or false representation. Many have asked me, "Will they work in the mud?" Others ask, "Can they back a load of any size?" and many other such questions. We have never had a pair that did not work in mud or back a load as handily as horses. If one in the northern states sees an ugly or balky mule they take it for granted that all mules are the same, but if they see a horse displaying the same habit think nothing of it because it is a more familiar sight. Two mules can be raised as cheaply or nearly so as one first-class good steer. A good steer at three years old is worth $75 to $100, a pair of mule colts three years old is worth from $200 to $400 as per quality. As compared with horse colts it costs much less to raise them, much less risk from blemishes; will go to work one year younger, can be marketed or drunk enough water no matter how warm to founder them. They last twice as long, will do more and harder work. For working in orchards or nurseries mules are invaluable, few horses can equal them for running straight rows and they will injure less trees. Some think they are slow. The team in the illustration has hauled four and one-half tons to sugar factory and after unloading walked home nine miles in two hours. And if people care to drive faster than a walk mules will take a good road and when they get tired rest them by letting them run 20 or 30 rods. We are told "that foreign nations don't dare go to war without first consulting the American mule." It will pay any community of farmers to club together and buy a jack and raise their own mules. It, however, they think of so doing they should employ or consult some reliable party who is posted on the qualities necessary to be reasonably sure of getting a good ste, and then again if you would raise good mules use good mares. To be sure many a mare past breeding when used with a stallion will breed with a jack all right and if she is a good, rugged and healthy mare produce a good animal. The best class of mules is raised from good stylish wide-awake mares crossed with a well bred jack. He should not be selected all on account of his beauty for many of them are fine lookers, but he should have plenty of bone, be rather coarse in the head, with large feet and good size, at least fifteen hands high, and should weigh not less than 800 lbs in breeding condition. Now, brother farmers, think this matter over, organize a company and buy a good jack and

"Big Suck" Hits Wrong Head.

A good many people now days are commenting on the present governmental campaign against the "Standard Oil Octopus" as a case of needless fuss and useless energy. When a monopoly so obviously harmful to the general public as is the beef trust is given such an undesirable white-washing "exonerated" as was apparently perpetrated when Mr. Garfield went to Chicago to "investigate" that flourishing specimen of the octopus tribe, and while a combination that can work such widespread harm to public and private interests as does the coal combination is allowed to continue its career, both engaged in bringing riches to the rich and privation to the poor, it makes a mild-mannered octopus like the much-battered "Standard Oil" look like a big, fat, harmless porker in contrast to a couple of enormous, hungry, boar-constrictors that never know the satisfaction that comes from an appetite fully appeased. The two former monopolies work untold hardship to the working classes everywhere and all the time in the high prices demanded for fuel and meat, but if everybody in the world instead of only a small part of the population had to use kerosene at twelve cents a gallon it would not be considered any great hardship, especially since lots of people can remember when not so very many years ago it used to cost double that sum. It looks as if a whole lot of useless executive energy were being let loose. If the president and his cabinet would turn their administrative batteries against the coal and beef trusts, enemies that are really destructive to the interests of the common people, the public would contrive to get along very cheerfully and comfortably under the extremely gentle pinching of the Standard Oil "monster."

State Conventions Free from Senatorial Influence.

Governor Warner's desire and that of the other state officers, that the next republican state convention shall be absolutely free from the influences which have sometimes in the past made state conventions subjects of severe and deserved criticism, is one that every republican in the state will share and commend. Their protest against making the nomination of state officers a mere incident in connection with a four or five-cent senatorial fight is not at all unreasonable. The prospective candidates for county offices in every county in the state are directly interested with the state officers in seeing to prevent further cause for criticism of their state convention. The constitution of the United States provides that the legislature shall elect U. S. Senators. We do not recall that any Michigan Legislature in the past has made any mistake along this line and there is generally about as representative and intelligent a lot of people elected to the legislature as there is as delegates to a state convention. Of course if any of the candidates for the U. S. senate think the next legislature will be composed of rascals, bandits, highway robbers and things who will not be competent to select a U. S. senator, that is quite another thing. The people have no cause to complain about the legislature's action along this line in the past and until complaint is made the senatorial candidates need have no worry about the "dear people" being hurried by the legislature hall, as much as by a state convention.

MRS. ANNA N. KAISER,
Had Suffered Severely From Pelvic Catarrh—Cannot Praise Peruna Too Highly—Read Her Letter.

MRS. ANNA N. KAISER, Two Rivers, Wis., was a sufferer from pelvic catarrh to such an extent that she could scarcely do her own work. In describing her symptoms, she wrote:

"I have such terrible backaches and pains below my shoulder blades, way down my back and across my hips, and at times pains in the pelvic organs, so that I am not able to lie down or sleep. I also have pains through my left side and am afraid I may be getting heart trouble."

After taking Peruna and following Dr. Hartman's instructions for several weeks, Mrs. Kaiser reported as follows:

"I feel much stronger and do not get nervous as I used to. The pain is entirely gone, except when I work a little too hard. The medicine has done me wonderful good. I am taking Peruna and Manna. My bowels are also in good condition."

After taking Peruna and following Dr. Hartman's instructions for several weeks, Mrs. Kaiser reported as follows:

"I feel much stronger and do not get nervous as I used to. The pain is entirely gone, except when I work a little too hard. The medicine has done me wonderful good. I am taking Peruna and Manna. My bowels are also in good condition."

Revised Formula.—For a number of years requests have come to me from a multitude of grateful friends, urging that Peruna be given a slight invative quality. I have been experimenting with a laxative addition for quite a length of time, and now feel justified to announce to the friends of Peruna that I have incorporated such a quality in the medicine which, in my opinion, can only enhance its well known beneficial character.

Oakland county evidently needs something like the Northville Protective association. Since the heavy team from Pontiac was captured here recently through the organization referred to, three more horses and rigs have been stolen in that vicinity.

About seventy members of Northville Camp M. W. A. attended the big meeting of their order in Detroit Monday and saw the 1,000 candidate initiation by the champion degree team of Grand Rapids. The Northville delegation went by special car, decorated with a large banner, and enlivened the trip with "music" by an impromptu band of their own.

An effort is being made to secure for Northville in the near future a very fine moving picture presentation of the San Francisco disaster and the city before and after the earthquake. The Francis Labadie entertainment bureau controls the attraction which is an all sufficient guaranty of its excellence if the necessary arrangements can be made to bring it here.

Some one from Chicago mailed I. H. Webster something that looked like lottery tickets a few weeks ago and Ide turned them over to Postmaster Johnson and they finally brought the fellow in Chicago that was supposed to have mailed them before the U. S. District court. Webster has a summons to appear as a witness for Uncle Sam in that city on May 21.

Lorenz—Shunkin.

Charles Lorenz of this place was married Saturday evening in Detroit to Evelyn Shunkin of that city.

Doing Hard Work.

Rep. Cass Benton is putting in some hard work for the Republican nomination for register of deeds. The arguments his friends are using to defeat the present incumbent, Orrin P. Gulley, are in effect, that Gulley is now a resident of Detroit while the office of register belongs to the county, that he has had two terms and the precedent in the townships is that this office should not be held for more than two terms. Benton was a member of the last legislature, and was prominent in recent years as one of the supervisors of Wayne who made unceasing war on the tax commission. He has always been a strong primary election man.—Detroit News

Suburban News.

South Lyon's baseball team starts out this season with $100 in its treasury. Andy C. or Johnny D. wouldn't think that a very big wad but it certainly puts a country village nine in the wealthy class. It makes plenty of diamonds possible to the members.

Pontiac is plumbing herself on the fact that toughism is decidedly on the decrease in that city and that the police courts are not doing any business beside what they were a few years ago. The reason deduced is that justice is too strenuously administered there to make the place a desirable one for law-breakers.

The sneak thief in bloom like the flowers in spring and Oxford has hers, as it was evidenced last Friday night. Mrs. Wm. Howland had a fine bed of tulips in her yard which she prized very highly. In the morning when she awoke she found they were gone. It's a shame they couldn't be treated to a dose of rock salt.—Oxford Leader.

It may be supposed from this that rock salt is as good a preservative for tulips as it is for pork.

Plymouth has passed an ordinance prohibiting any person from sitting down in any place within the corporation where intoxicating drinks are sold, and the proprietors of such places from furnishing anything for anybody to sit on. When the customers get so they can't stand up they must leave. But it's a good thing, anyway. Might be called standing on the lid.

A Pleasant Valley man and his dog were out after a woodchuck the other day and when they got it cornered the man squared off and delivered a telling blow. It told all right, but it was the dog and not the game that lay stretched flatmate at his feet when the biter got through with his hit, while the intended victim was rapidly getting out of the neighborhood. Angry at his dretful mistake the hunter gave chase and after making a sure thing of the woodchuck returned to bury his dog. He found the canine gazing wonderingly around to see what was the matter and looking as if he thought dog-days had come too early.
