GOVERNOR'S MACHINE

ACKNOWLEDGES HE REALLY HAS ONE AT THIS TIME.

It is One of the "Milking" Kind

Governor Warner has a ' machine' we have it upon no less anthority than the governor bimself that the machine is a fine one-right up to the requirements and that it delivers the goods every time.

That the governor has or ever had a "machine" has been more or less denied by both newspapers and individuals throughout the state. In fact the governor has been heard to deny it himself, with emphasis He does it no longer. He admits in his frank, open and characteristic way that he has under his complete control and subject to his every inclination and desire, a splendly sample of one of those mechanical devices, so often named by Prof. Ferris, as the very incarnation of evil Furthermore, the governor's machine is well oiled, has never slipped a cog and is working evertime without impairing its efficiency or taxing its capacity.

It is to be explained, however, that, while all the above is literally true, it is the very- essence of innocence from a political point of view governor of Michigan these bright, blocks to Be Knocked Off June printe ceremonies. Including the bably couldn't perform the act renothing to do with conventions or delegates or primary reform It has some of the attributes of the political stripe, but its one great feature and function, its whole occupation is with occasionally-milking.

The governor has eighty cows on at present three machines are used machines work so successfully that three more have been ordered and the sax will handle the dozens of cows with great lispatch, chamliness and economy. The motive power used becompressed ale and the milk future for the purpose of deciding is arawn through collapsible tubes. The govern or save that this particu far machine is a good invention and not be out of order to mention that labor problem on the big dafev farms to be done is to bitch two cows on a machine and the artineial sucker does the rest, in short order

Up under the shell of the wheat herry nature has provided a curious deposit which is turned into diastase when it is subjected to the saliva and to the pancreatic juices in the human intestines.

This diastase is absolutely necessary to digest starch and turn it into grape-sugar, which is the next form, but that part of the wheat berry makes dar's flour, and the modern miller cannot readily sell dark flour, so nature's valuable digester is thrown out and the buman system must handle the starch as best it can, without the help that nature intended

A LAND OF OPPORTUNITIES.

Inducements Held Out by Western Canada Are Powerful -

A recent number of the Winnipeg (Manitoba) Free Press contains an excellent article on the prospects in Western Canada, a portion of which we are pleased to reproduce. .The agents of the Canadian Government, located at dinerent centres in the States, will be pleased to give any further information as to rates, and how to reach these lands. "Just now there is a keener interest than ever before on the part of the outside world, in regard to the claims of the Canadian West as a field of settlement. At no previous time has there been such a rush of immigration, and the amount of information distributed broadcast is amprecedentedly great.

"In the majority of the States of the Union and in-Great Britain the opportunities for home-making and achieving of even a modest competence are at the best limited. Moreover, according to the secial and industrial conditions prevalent in those communities, the future holds out no promise of better things. It is not strange, then, that energetic young men should turn their eyes to Canada's great wheat belt, where 'every can pursue fortune without the man hindrance of any discouraging handicap. The inducements held out by Western Canada are powerful and made manifest by the great movement now in progress. That the prospects are considerably more than reasonably certain is borne out by the history of the country and its residents. The promise of gain is powerful, but when added to it there is the prospect of a corresponding social and civil elevation, it should prove irresistible to young men of a particularly desirable class for any new country.

"The Canadian West is alive with opportunities for the young, man 'mag bill to provide for the inspection of all aims at becoming more than a mere meat products designed for home con- atom in the civil and national fabric sumption as well as meat and meat. Chocolate in Spain.

The Spaniard's usual breakfast is a cup (as small as an afterdinner cup) of chocolate, a small roll, and a roll shaped piece of sweet, white substance like the outside of a meringue. The nourishment is in the chocolate, which is so thick that it is eaten instead of sipped from a spoon To the one cup goes an ounce of sweetened and cinnamon-flavored chocolate melted over the fire, with just enough water to stir it smooth.
