ENTERTAINED SUPERVISORS

LANDLORD ELY OF PARK HOUSE AND CASS BENTON

Latter Dished Up Delicious Bread and Maple Syrup.

The boom of Cass Benton for register of deeds was not injured any by the little junket that the supervisors took to Northville Friday afternoon. After the wind-up of the session of the board there were about twenty-five in the party including Chairman Rheinhardt and his little boom for sheriff and they went by special car, chaperoned by Robert Oakum. One unique feature of the affair was that there were no eatables or drinkables aboard and the crowd was as decorous as a prohibition convention when it landed back at the city hall.

Cass Benton's home is about a mile beyond Northville and the car was run down to his farm where Mrs. Benton served on the town lunch, a lunch of butter and cheese and big dishes of delicious maple syrup that they had made themselves last spring. The supervisors also visited the U. S. fish hatchery and in the evening were treated to a banquet by Supervisor W. A. Ely of Park hotel. Landlord Ely fairly outdid himself in the way of entertainment and was repeatedly voted, "A jolly good fellow" when he is alright alright.

Rheinhardt presided as toastmaster at the after-dinner speeches, and nearly everybody separated himself from a chunk of oratory, including Benton, who got the lion's share of the applause—Detroit News.

It certainly looked as if Benton had a line on the registers office and nothing but good words and loyal support was reported from all quarters of the county.

Want a Fair Deal.

Some Northville merchants are making complaint they are not getting a fair deal from the Bureau of Fisheries at Washington in the way of letting bids for material, etc., or use at the U. S. hatcheries.

AN EASY LESSON IN "DON'TS" FOR CITIZENS.

OBITUARY

MRS. ELLIOTT MAGILL.

The funeral of Mrs. F. L. Magill was held Friday afternoon from the L. L. Brooks residence, Rev. S. F. Dimmock conducting the services, which were attended by many of her friends from Novi, Northville and other points. The body was taken to Waterford Saturday for interment, where a number of former neighbors were gathered at the cemetery to do honor to the memory of the deceased.

Edith L. Taft was born Jan. 19, 1847, in Waterford, Oakland county, her girlhood and early married life being spent there. Later she came with her first husband, Hudson Bradley, to this place, where for some time he conducted a grocery and meat store. Mr. Bradley died very suddenly twenty-eight years ago and from that time on the deceased had lived in Novi or Northville except for short intervals. She went to Douglass, Arizona, September 19, and died there after a four weeks' illness, June 10, 1906.

She had expected to return to Michigan some time during the present month.

Mrs. Magill had been a consistent member of the Novi Baptist church for many years, and had a large circle of warm friends there as well as in Northville. She leaves one brother, Devillo Taft of Waterford.

ALFRED H. ELY.

News comes from Claremont, Va., that Alfred H. Ely, former proprietor of the Ely Dowel works here, who moved his plant to Virginia about three years ago, died there on July 1 after a long illness with fever. Mr. Ely was born in Farmington, Nov. 5, 1868. His wife was Miss Cora Brigham of this place, who, with two children survives him.

Annual School Meeting.

There was a large attendance at the annual school meeting Monday night, but it only took a very short time to conclude the business of the session, which consisted only of the annual reports, the appropriation for incidental expenses and the election of two trustees to succeed C. C. Chadwick and Dr. Blanchard, who were both re-elected on first ballots by an overwhelming majority, the alleged opposition to one of the candidates failing to materialize. The board announced the following as the teachers and salaries for the coming school year:

J. J. Bornberger, Superintendent	$1,100
A. L. Ferguson, Principal	600
Grace Yerkes, 1st Principal	500

The colored people started out to hold a picnic on the fair grounds—the Fourth but the rain spoiled it—Ypsilanti.

Afraid they would fade if they were colored as the Ypsilanti asserts. Lots of colored things can't stand water. If they had gotten wet it would have made them feel "streaked" at least.

The garbage question is agitating Plymouth as well as Detroit. Some of the citizens of the former city persist in dumping refuse in the streets and it has been intimated to the marshal that a few arrests might arrest the practice so that next people might have a rest from seeing the highways and so unbecomingly unsightly.

The W. D. and D. R. Times' River Rouge correspondent comments on the fact that the late Fourth was the quietest ever seen there and in the same column mentions that a deaf muter, plain was held in the village that day. Under the circumstances it doesn't seem in any way remarkable that it should not have been hideously noisy. In some parts of the town, at least.

This is a little bit of country and yet a good deal of Pontiac is sooming for Detroit days in, all just or sleeping on a porch when so many people are doing so for their health. It was somebody else's porch, to be sure, but the sleeper was really trying to recover from a bad attack of consumption. The fact that it was consumption or unfiltered fire-water that he was afflicted with may possibly have had something to do with his present sequestration however.

An extremely pretty home wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Chapman at Walled Lake when their daughter, Prudence, became the wife of Dr. Raymond L. Clark of Detroit, in the presence of over one hundred guests.

The decorations were in pink and white, the bridal gown was white organdie and the bouquet cream roses. The bride and groom were attended by their brother and sister, Miss Ethel Chapman, another sister, playing the wedding march.

The beautiful ring service was used with charming little tots as ribbon and ring bearers and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Musser of the Baptist church, with prayer by Mr. Stevens, of the Methodist church. The gifts were numerous and valuable.

So long as the packers make a reasonable progress toward bringing their plants up to the government standards, as regards sanitation, there will be no quarrels, and the world will be given time to make the change, but if any inspectors find after a while that they are being outwitted by the packers, they will have to be dealt with. — See also Wilson.

Indications that the government this year will attempt the largest grain crops in the history of the country are given in the government report on conditions as of July 1. Not only is the prospect for a bumper harvest most bright, but market quotations show that the farmer will get a fair price for his grain. The wheat crop in 1930 is estimated at 1,000,000,000 bushels, short of that of 1929, but indicating that the crop will be large and that the American will have a surplus of wheat.

THE RATE BILL.

La Follette Says It Has Not a Leg to Stand On.

United States Senator R. A. La Follette of Wisconsin, made an address before the Indiana Chamber of Commerce to an audience of about 500 people. He created a sensation by making an indirect attack upon United States Senator James A. McPherson of Wisconsin, who introduced the Wisconsin rate bill, and who occupied a seat on the platform during the speaking.

Senator La Follette spoke of several amendments he had introduced in the senate to the railroad rate bill, and called the roll of the senators who voted for and against the amendments.

Senator La Follette said there was a right and a wrong side to every question and he never believed in compromise when the question of rate was at stake. He said the rate bill did not have a single leg on which to stand, and it would be better better had the bill not been passed.

There was no way under the constitution to fix the standard of rates, and the government did not have the right to fix rates.
