Vol. XXXVII, No. 51

NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1906

$1.00 Per Year in Advance

THE NEW FACTORY IS NOW ASSURED.

Stimpson Scale & Manufacturing Company Organized for Northville.

EXPECTS TO BE IN OPERATION HERE IN ABOUT THREE WEEKS.

Will Probably Give Employment to More than Sixty Men to Start With.

The new factory for Northville is now assured and Mr. Stimpson says he expects to have things humming here before September 1st.

The newly organized company is the Stimpson Scale & Manufacturing Co., and is capitalized for $100,000. The first officers are F. S. Harmon, president; L. L. Brooks, vice president; C. E. Yerkes, secretary; E. L. Gay, treasurer and Wm. Stimpson, general manager. The machinery and tools of the plant at Milan will probably be purchased and moved here or in lieu of that the Northville plant will be newly equipped.

The scale company has been at Milan for several years past but the new organization and the move here means a greatly increased business and from the start will employ more than sixty men. Mr. Stimpson, the inventor, will be general manager and by personal supervision will make this an ideal plant for the manufacturing of scales and other of his inventions. Edward Gay, who has been superintending for some time at Milan will move here to act in the same capacity for the Northville concern. The Stimpson company has purchased the Hall-Tarr buildings and they will make an ideal factory plant for the purpose. The new factory means a great deal to Northville and the credit of getting it here is due largely to F. S. Harmon of the Bell Foundry Co., and City Attorney C. E. Yerkes and the valuable aid given them by the loyal and progressive citizens of the village who in twenty-four hours subscribed $8,000 for stock in the new concern.

QUESTION OF A NEW SCHOOL BUILDING FOR NORTHVILLE.

Chance of Our Lives Now Before Us to Get One.

The question of increasing the school accommodations of our village and district will undoubtedly come before the people for decision in the near future and it would seem as if there could be but one opinion about the present being the time of all others for the carrying out of what is an absolute necessity and which cannot possibly be deferred much longer in any event.

Our school grew up in building several years ago, is well known and some individuals of dollars have already had to be spent in the building of additional room, and while the plan has answered for lack of a better, there are many drawbacks to its continuance even if continued should now become impossible.

The fact that the money coming from the railroads makes it unnecessary to raise this year by tax the thousands of dollars required for teachers' salaries gives an opportunity that will never come again for building a new high school without levying more than the ordinary annual amount devoted to school taxes, and it would certainly be extremely short-sighted on the part of the taxpayers not to take advantage of the chance and raise the money without doubling the usual school tax as will be the case after this year.

There is plenty of room on the school lot for a new two-story building which could be devoted entirely to the high school, thus leaving plenty of room in the old building for all the grades, and either the northwest corner or the south side of the grounds would be an ideal place for it. The idea that has been suggested of adding to the present school house is entirely impracticable, as its construction would render heating and ventilating facilities an impossibility.

A new building as suggested would not only be a creditable improvement to the looks of the town but would result in an immediate increase of the already large attendance of foreign pupils, whose tuition fees form an important item in the finances of the district.

Many places throughout the state have been quick to seize the opportunity thus presented and have already decided on new buildings where such were needed. Lansing and Port Huron among the number.

One of the most vital factors in the growth and prosperity of any town is its educational facilities, and one of the surest means of attracting a desirable class of citizens is to have everything pertaining to the schools modern, up to date and with all possible advantages for doing first class work, a condition not to be attained without the fundamental requirement of roomy, convenient buildings.

And so does the purchaser when he eyes the bill.

The long talk of new hotel at Farmington is at last under way. The tender way the cellulars being dug and people will soon be able to see whether the project is a solid one.

Trenton people are so unwell with a cold in the near future. There are plenty of doctors in Trenton. The latter remark might seem irrelevant to the former but it is relevant with regard to what is the upshot of the matter.

Warren people are so unwell with a cold in the near future. There are plenty of doctors in Warren. The latter remark might seem irrelevant to the former but it is relevant with regard to what is the upshot of the matter.

Plymouth is to have a gala day August first that is expected to knock the spots of any other old day that ever showed up in these parts. Ball games, athletic sports, Goy Warner, Congressman Townsend, two male quartets from Detroit, a brass band, fireworks and other attractions too numerous to mention are on the schedule.

Detroit is respectfully referred to Oxford as an example of peace and harmony in the administration of local educational affairs. One of the school trustees in the Oakland county village was elected at the recent school meeting for the 24th consecutive year and another succeeded himself for the 17th time, so his present term of office will make him a dozen and a half years in that capacity. Not only the pupils but the patrons and officers have evidently been getting educated out there.

The "esteemed contemporary" situation at Rochester has become so badly strained that a suit for criminal libel is said to be the next incidental to be reckoned with. Editors Fox and Seed of the Era and Clarion have been saying such awfully disrespectful things of each other in their respective respectable papers that the typos had to wear gloves to set the "hot stuff", while the galleys, nearly melted. Bro. Fox now intends, as per report, to bring action against Bro. S. in the courts. Who shall decide when editors disagree?

DOUBLE CAPACITY

BELL FOUNDRY COMPANY WILL BUILD.

Will Greatly Increase Present Facilities.

The directors of the American Bell Foundry Co., held a special meeting last week and voted to build a new foundry addition about 10,000 feet to take care of the increased business. The new addition will be built on and connected with the west end of the present foundry across the mill race and taking in the ground covered by President Harmon's office, which will be moved to a location near the front entrance of the present foundry.

The addition will make room for the employment of a number of more men and will cost in the neighborhood of $7,000.

Mrs. Robert Yerkes.

One of Northville's most estimable ladies who has been seriously ill for some time. Attorney George Yerkes of Detroit, Wm. H. of Seville, Ohio, Don P. and R. C. of this place are her sons.

A Pleasant Reunion.

A somewhat notable and very pleasant meeting of old friends occurred last week Thursday at the home of Mrs. James Cork when her mother, Mrs. Phyllis Hamilton received a visit from three old classmates, one of whom she had not seen for fifty years and of whom the oldest was sixty-eight and the youngest sixty-two years of age. The ladies were Mrs. H. W. Cronkite of Genesee, Kansas, Mrs. A. A. Hunt of Wauconda and Mrs. M. C. Miller of DeWitt, Mich. Mrs. Mary Nichols and Mrs. Sarah Palmer of this place were included in the party.

Taft—Ford.

Mr. Bert Taft and Miss Fay Ford of this place were married Wednesday evening, July 25, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyon by Rev. Sidney F. Blumcock.

Benefit Ball Game.

An interesting ball game is to take place here this Friday afternoon at three o'clock between the Milford and Northville business men and at the same time a benefit ball game for the Ladies Library. This is very thoughtful on the part of the gentlemen and the game should certainly be largely patronized. Besides, as is well known, the Milford men are a difficult proposition to go up against and the game is sure to be a warm one and worth seeing aside from considerations of interest for the library. The admission is ten cents.

Farm and Orchard Review.

The Farm and Orchard Review, the publication of which has been carried on so successfully since last September at St. Joseph, Mich., has been purchased by a new corporation and will continue to be published at St. Joseph under the same name, as a National Farm Monthly.

The new organization is entitled "Farm and Orchard Review Co." with principal office at St. Joseph, Mich. The officers are: H. D. Armstrong, president; A. B. Morse, vice-president; R. S. Greenwood, 2nd vice-president; M. J. Beckett, secretary and treasurer.

C. D. Jennings has been appointed Editor and W. V. Manager.

The Homemakers department will continue on charge of Francis D. Armstrong, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

All of the above are well known in Railway, Printing and Newspaper circles and we foresee a brilliant future for the Farm and Orchard Review.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

(By the Pastor.)

The church will be closed during the pastor's vacation unless notice is given to the contrary.

The Woman's Missionary society has adjourned until September 11th, which is the date for the quarterly supper. Mrs. L. N. Clark will serve as chairman and announce the place later.

The Ladies Aid society has adopted the dime-card plan of raising money during the summer months. Each lady is given a card with places punched for ten dimes, which she is expected to fill with the assistance of friends. The cards will be collected about October 1st.

Billy Was a Changed Boy

HOW HE LOST HIS CONTENTMENT.

BY KENNETT HARRIS.

Billy Holzapple was about the nearest approach to "The Contented Lad" of the old, fourth readers that we ever see nowadays. He appeared to have no ambitions, except to do his work well; he was a perfect glutton for work.

Billy lived in a pretty queer neighborhood, but to him it was about the only desirable locality in town. It was a poor enough little room, that of Billy's, furnished scantily and cheaply—or so it seemed until he began to point out the advantage and convenience of every article in it.

When a friend visited him one evening, Billy pulled out some photographs. "You were talking about girls," he said. "You didn't know I had the queen of 'em, eh? Well, what do you think of that?"

"Your girl, Billy?"
"Mr. sister," answered Billy, swelling visibly with pride. "There's the sweetest and prettiest girl ever happened. You can't get more than just an idea from the picture. You ought to see her."

He switched off presently to the comparative merits of a cheap restaurant in the neighborhood and then other matters were discussed. He was more than satisfied, it appeared, with the salary he was getting, and laughed at the other man's complaint of inadequate compensation and limited prospect of advancement.

"Good Lord!" he called Billy in all sincerity. "How much better off would I want to be? I've got every thing on earth I need now."

After awhile he looked at a fat little watch, which he said he wouldn't trade for any miles watch and the reason he gave was:

He asked Wadsworth who was the best dressed man in the office where he bought his clothes and in course of time appeared in a suit made of material he had never seen in any thing but a handkerchief. The suit and slippers shoes that he had brought off and which were as he had said good for another year wear, were discarded for light, flimsy, abominations with buttons and patches.

He got more wages, but even then he was not content. The raise was not big enough, he considered, although the other men in the office thought his luck unexampled.

One evening the friend who had gone out with him to the rather pretentious boarding house to which he had removed. They went on the elevated, and Billy stopped at the bookstand and bought a magazine. There was an article in it, "How New York's Society Women Live," copiously illustrated with interiors and portraits.

"Doesn't that make you tired?"
"Why, no," said Billy. "If a man can give a woman that sort of thing, why shouldn't he? Is there anything so good for them?"

"Sure."
"Oh for some of them, perhaps, but here are women that nothing can be so good for, and a man would want to give a woman like that the best he can get."

"Here's a fine-looking one," said the friend, holding a portrait.
"Or so you say," admitted Billy, grudgingly, but I know a girl 'n'd make her look like that cents with her quarter plucked."

"Your sister?"
"Er—no," said Billy, hastily. "The next sister's ours"—Chicago Daily News.

Americanism vs Socialism. There is nothing in common between the most aggressive friends of American progress and such socialism as makes heroes of criminals and votes pelages to crime. The American people have more to lose than any other people on earth through contamination with theories or so-called "international" socialism. It is very true that ideal conditions have not been reached here or elsewhere, but through the institutions of this republic as they now exist more progress has been made in the past few years than in the previous forty. There is nothing in socialism that would strengthen the home-loving ideals of this country, but very much that would tend to disturb and disrupt them. As a literary theory socialism has attractions, but as it is practiced and proclaimed by its imported leaders and most aggressive adherents it is unworthy and demoralizing.

Reports of Partnership Associations. If the Michigan law requiring that corporations and incorporated partnership associations shall file annual reports with the secretary of state, proves to be the cause of somewhat drastic and expensive experience to the stockholders and managers of some of those organizations, it will not be the best of the law or of the state officers. Some corporation officers have in the past deliberately disregarded the law and Secretary of State Pres. and Attorney Gen. and Budar attempted that this disregard shall not continue. Further proceedings in this direction will be reported with interest.

Post Should Wake Up. The Grand Rapids Post says there is a doubt but what Fred M. Warner will be re-nominated at the political convention to be held in Detroit, this end of the present month. The Michigan people are not to be misled by the "trump" of the "fact" they would like to see in the executive chair. Very conservative of them, too. The Post should consult some school boy and ascertain that Gov. Fred M. Warner was re-nominated to succeed himself nearly two months ago and by a direct vote of the people of Michigan at that. Some papers, and some people, are so used to being "made" they get really silly over it.

WE ARE MOVING

"The Heart of Detroit"

THE MAJESTIC BUILDING STORE is a longer, bigger, and more complete than ever before. In fact, we out-grow our quarters several years ago. Expansion is impossible here, and so we must move. Our new building, which extends an entire block from Grant to Monroe avenue, will give us nearly three times the floor space we now occupy. It will be known as "The Heart of Detroit," a trade mark that for the years past has familiarly designated the Partridge & Blackwell location.

Our Removal Sale is now in its second month. Still greater selling records have been made during July—nowwithstanding the fact that last month we cleared out more merchandise than any other retail house in Detroit or Michigan has ever so done in the same space of time.

While every department will continue to offer its entire stock at a sacrifice, we have planned to give a series of highly sensational bargains every day throughout the store. NOT ALL of them will or can be advertised, because in many cases the lots will be too small. Remnants, odds and ends and incomplete lines are to be placed on the counters at prices that will sell them as fast as buyers can be served. All first class, new and perfect goods, and you are invited here to next-to-nothing figures just to get them out of the way. Come and see for yourself. It is a rare opportunity.

The following "store directory" will give you an idea of the variety of merchandise to be found here. Remember, everything is reduced in the Removal Sale, except a few lines restricted by the manufacturers. If you wish to economize or necessities for the person or the home, we furnish the opportunity. Lower prices have not and will not be made—except on goods that are worth less.
