The primaries for the nomination of county officers and members of the legislature, will be held in all the Townships and in the city of Detroit next Tuesday all day.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. Joshua Dodge Found Dead Last Friday.

The many friends of Joshua Dodge and family, who have lived for the past seven years on the Old Samuel Blackwood farm, in Noyl township, were startled and shocked to learn that Mrs. Dodge had been found dead in her chair last Friday evening only a few moments after being around her home as usual. Although not in robust health for some years past, she had been able to attend to her ordinary duties, and her sudden death was like a bolt from a clear sky.

Mrs. Dodge was about 58 years of age and a most estimable wife, mother and neighbor. She leaves a husband, two sons and a daughter to mourn the loss of one whose place can never be filled.

The funeral services, conducted by Rev. S. F. Blinmick of Northville, were held from the residence Monday afternoon, and the body was taken to Owosso Tuesday for burial in the family lot there.

Union Gospel Meetings.

The union meetings conducted by Rev. C. Davidson will begin next Sunday. He will preach in the Methodist church in the morning and in the rink at three and seven p.m.

At 6 o'clock there will be a union young people's meeting in the rink, addressed by P. H. Kelley, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Services will be held every day next week except Saturday at 3 p.m. in the Presbyterian church and at 7 p.m. in the rink.

A fine chorus choir has been organized under direction of Prof. J. H. Smith and will lead the singing at all the meetings in the rink.

The pastors respectfully suggest to the merchants of our village that they may help the meetings very materially by closing their places of business at 7 o'clock during their continuance. They usually make the change Oct. 1 and if they would anticipate the time a couple of weeks they will help much to make the meetings a success.

The singing book to be used during the meetings will be "Best Hymns". It is desired that all who can will procure copies of the book before the meetings begin. The price is only ten cents. The books can be procured at Ryder's store or from the ushers in the different churches on Sunday morning.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

(By the Pastor.)

The Presbytery of Detroit will meet in the Fort St. church, Detroit, next Monday evening.

All were glad to see Mr. J. O. Knapp, our beloved Sunday school superintendent again among us. He has the deepest sympathy of us all in the great loss which he and we have sustained.

The usual morning services and Sunday school will be held next Sunday. All the other services of the week will be merged in the union meetings.

The rear part of the personage has been newly shingled this week.

Baptist Church Notes.

(By a Member.)

Usual services Sunday morning. The subject of the sermon will be "The Necessary Preparation for a Revival."

Evangelistic services in the Rink Sunday evening. Young People's union meeting at six o'clock, to be addressed by Patrick H. Kelley of Lansing.

NORTHVILLE-MILFORD COUPLE WERE MARRIED WEDNESDAY.

MR. AND MRS. SYDNEY M. LIDDELL.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Simmons at 18 High street was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 12 at four o'clock, when their daughter, Harriett Skinner was married to Mr. Sydney Manzer Liddell of Milford. In the presence of about fifty guests, by Rev. Wm. S. Jerome of the Northville Presbyterian church.

The decorations were in green and white and an altar of ferns, palms and white asters was arranged in one corner of the parlor. The color scheme was prettily carried out in the dining room and in the dainty refreshments also.

The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Marjorie Liddell, sister of the groom. Misses Frances Yerkes and Gerolin Brooks acting as ribbon bearers and little Mildred Harger of Detroit, a cousin of the bride, as ring bearer. The ring was carried in a white lily.

The bride's gown was of white net and the bouquet a shower of white roses.

The presents were many and handsome, among them a $500 check from Mrs. Sarah Manzer. Mr. Liddell's grandfather, who also presents the young couple with a fine house and lot in Milford.

Mr. and Mrs. Liddell left in the evening for a brief lake trip. They will be at home to their friends at their residence at the corner of First and Commerce streets, Milford, after November 10.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Liddell and daughter, Marjorie, Mrs. Manzer, Dr. and Mrs. Bartholomew, Mr. and Mrs. Linham, Misses Hubbell, Lovejoy, Whittemore and Hale and Messrs. Lorge, Lovejoy and Hubbell all of Milford, Mrs. Smalley of Jackson, Mrs. O'Connor and Miss Hinman of Lansing and Mrs. Susan Liddell of Saginaw.

"PAT" KELLEY HERE SUNDAY

SUPT. OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION SPEAKS TO YOUNG PEOPLE

Will be Union Services in Rink at 6 o'clock.

Patrick H. Kelley, state Superintendent of Public Instruction, has been persuaded to come over here from Farmington where he spends the day with the Governor and speak Sunday evening at a Union Young People's meeting in the Rink, at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Kelley is one of Michigan's most brilliant orators and foremost educators and the young people of the village-older ones also will enjoy a rare treat.

Governor and Mrs. Warner and Mrs. Kelley will attend the meeting.

School Notes.

(By a Pupil.)

Twenty-five foreign pupils are enrolled.

Miss Wallin has been ill a few days this week. Her sister, Alice, has been teaching in her place.

Roy Ambler and John Rogers of the 8th grade have been absent a few days this week on account of illness.

The sad news reached us Monday of the death of Dollie Bergen, a former seventh grade teacher here. Several new pictures have been purchased with the proceeds of the Fairy Queen Operatta, and are now being put up.

There are twenty new pupils, nine in the kindergarten, four in the first grade, two in the second grade, two in the fourth grade, one in the seventh and two in the eighth.

We were very sorry to learn that Miss Nina McCain, who has been teaching the sixth grade for the past three years, is about to leave here to teach in Ann Arbor at the Tappan school where she will have charge of the fourth grade.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all who have in any way assisted us during our bereavement and for the beautiful floral offerings.

COUNTY-STATE POLITICAL TALK.

Things hereabouts seem to be coming the way of Dr. Pennington for the support.

The "Norris Hoops" for Sheriff's house taken a sudden drop since last week. Up to that time Hollister was certainly putting up a great campaign.

Senator Martindale was out from Detroit Monday looking after his constituents and asking for the republican support for re-nomination. Martindale made a good record in the last senate. He stated while here that he was not tied up on the question of U. S. senator.

Arthur Streeter, republican candidate for state senator, was over from Detroit this week getting acquainted with Northville people. Streeter is spoken of as a fine fellow, and for some years was in the probate office. He announces himself for Townsend for U. S. senator.

Cass Benton is making a great canvass for the Republican nomination in this district and the prospects are he will win out by a big majority. Cass is popular and his announcement that he is for Townsend for U. S. Senator has added to his strength.

Otto Stoll, republican candidate for register of deeds is making a systematic canvass throughout the county for votes. Stoll is a fine man and would make an ideal register. He says: "I will be satisfied with two terms, the same as all previous registers have had."

But very few candidates for county office have asked the people of this part of the county for their votes through the local newspaper. The majority of the people of this vicinity do not go around in public buildings or "rubber" on telephone poles to seek candidates for public office. A man desiring public favors ought to have enterprise enough to say so through the public press.

Mr. Kimmeler, the democratic candidate for governor, is wading out into such deep water that with about one more step he will be drowned. His attack on the state treasurer came back with a "thud" that hasn't got over smarting yet and his last "bad spell" of knocking on the U. of M. is proving to be a regular scorcher—for Mr. Kimmeler.

Henry G. Nicol of Detroit, republican candidate for Circuit Court Commissioner, was in town yesterday and made an excellent impression. Mr. Nicol is a fine fellow and ought to get a good lot of votes from Northville.

Suburban News.

Ann Arbor is to have a new city hall.

Ye editor has been nursing one of Job's comforters, of the carbuncle variety, and ye office devil smilch.—Oxford Leader.

But probably Mrs. Editor doesn't. Bertha Stanley has engaged herself to teach a school near Milford, the coming year—Cor. Orion Review.

School officers are evidently an unnecessary adjunct to business in that district.

A pupil in the intermediate room got physiology confounded with history, and informed us that Greece was found in meat.—S. Lyon Herald School Notes.

Of course it was one of the small fry, but that wouldn't save him from being roasted.

A Holly young man while taking a vacation from his work as a railroad brakeman whiled away some of the time by taking part in a base ball game. He did not actually become a broke man or a broken man, but he was fixed so he couldn't be a brakeman for a few weeks.

Wayne vicinity had a wedding last week a feature of which was a street procession to the church headed by a brass band. Though somewhat startling to unaccustomed eyes and ears that premeditated style of "horning" would be infinitely preferable to the charivari act.

Plymouth's fire bell not being sufficiently loud valued to wake anybody up in the night the village will hereafter have an electric fire whistle to sound the alarm for night conflagrations, according to a recent vote of the council. It'll be all right if some excited citizen doesn't attempt to ring the whistle or blow the bell.

An Ypsilanti man came home from New Mexico for a visit and arrived when the family were all out. He attempted to get in through a window, by removing the screen, was captured by the police and had great difficulty in convincing them he was all right. The vigilant cops thought he was trying to screen himself from justice.

One Rochester woman is safe from a conubial walloping for at least the next six months. She had her too strenuous partner arrested for administering corporal punishment to her and the court put him under bonds not to molest her during the time stated. She had better be away visiting when his period of enforced kindness is up.

A Farmington buggy and implement dealer offered a prize of a new buggy to the person who should guess correctly before hand the number of sales he would make on a specified day. A lady of the vicinity, shrewdly taking into account state fair week and other things guessed "one". That was correct and the dealer promptly and pluckily whacked up just the same. He wasn't even sulky about it, either, although it was a buggy transaction for his financial department.

Card of Thanks.

To all who so kindly helped us during the sickness and death of our loved one we extend our sincerest gratitude.

SICK FOR TEN YEARS.

Constant Backache, Dropsy and Severe Bladder Trouble.

Fred W. Harris, of Chestnut St., Jefferson, Ohio, says: "For over ten years I suffered from kidney disease. The third year my feet and hands would swell and remain puffed up for days at a time. I seemed to have a constant backache. Finally I got so bad that I was laid up in bed with several doctors in attendance. I thought surely I would die. I changed medicine and began using Doan's Kidney Pills when I was still in bed. The relief I found was so great that I kept on until I had taken about ten boxes. The kidney secretions became natural and after years of misery I was cured. I have increased in weight and show no symptoms of my former trouble."

The Nurse Had the Carriage, But the "Baby" Was Missing.

Mrs. Maud Miller, Ripple, whose advocacy of a course in "motherhood" for young matrons has already begun to bear good fruit, was talking of the duties of young mothers.

"And no young mother," she said, "no matter how many her millions are, how high her station, should trust her little one entirely to a nurse's care. A nurse may be the most intelligent, most conscientious; but to rear a baby properly is a difficult task, and only one person is sufficiently interested in this task to perform it well. That person is the baby's mother."

"Mrs. Miller smiled. "A young mother," she said, "was walking with her husband on the Atlantic City board walk. Suddenly she gave a little cry of pleasure."

"Oh, she said, 'there is nurse—nurse wheeling baby'."

"And she ran lightly to the luxurious coach of leather, with its swan-shaped carriage and its rubber-tired wheels, and she pushed back the parasol that shaded the occupant from the sun."

"Then she gave a great start."

"Why, nurse," she cried, "where's baby?"

"The nurse gasped. 'Goodness gracious, ma'am! I forgot to put him in!'"

Differences.

"You haven't the old buildings nor the development of the drama that we have," said the European.

"No," answered the American. "I suppose it's due to the fact that our building inspectors and police look at things differently."

And no more man knows what it is to be a woman.

REDUCED THE MAJORITY'S

PROHIBITION ALLEGED TO HAVE SHRUNK MAINE'S GREAT MAJORITY.

THIRST CHANGES VOTES.

The Law Beginning to Turn the Majority—Littlefield's Fierce Fight for Re-election.

The Maine Way.

The result of the election in Maine Monday, when the Republican plurality for governor, which usually approximates 25,000, was reduced to about 8,000, while at the same time the total vote was greatly increased over the figures of four years ago, is attributed by leaders of both Republican and Democratic parties to popular feeling over the operation of the prohibitory liquor law.

Although the Republicans re-elected Gov. William T. Cobb and all the four congressmen of the state and will have a working control of the state legislature, the pluralities were so generally reduced as to occasion surprise in many quarters.

Both Gov. Cobb and Congressman Littlefield, in whose district the most vigorous battle of the campaign was waged, are of the opinion that the Sturgis law, providing for the enforcement of the existing prohibitory law by state liquor deputies, was the leading factor in the result.

The Democrats made resubmission of the liquor prohibitory amendment to the people a part of their platform while the Republicans stood squarely for indorsement of the prohibitory plan and its strict enforcement. The result was especially evident in the cities, the Democrats carrying all of the 21 municipalities of the state with the exception of four of the smaller ones. The vote of the country districts, however, where the resubmission idea has never gained any noticeable following, more than offset the Democratic gains in the cities.

In the second district, congressman, where Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, conducted a vigorous campaign to defeat Congressman Littlefield, Mr. Littlefield's majority was reduced from that of four years ago by several thousand votes. The congressman attributes the result not to the campaign against him, but to the general sentiment regarding the Sturgis law.

Party workers realized today, after making an analysis of the vote cast yesterday, that the election was one of the most puzzling in the history of Maine voting. Political upheavals occurred in places which were counted upon to remain tranquil and towns which were expected to swing from one party to the other held fast to precedents and turned in results which varied but little from those of previous years.

This was particularly true in Congressman Littlefield's district.

The city of Lewiston was one of the most important factors in reducing Littlefield's plurality for it gave to McGillicuddy a vote of 1,120 in excess of that given to Littlefield four years ago. Littlefield divided votes evenly with his Democratic opponent.

Of a more startling nature was the vote for governor. Mr. Cobb failed to carry his home city, Rockland, where Davis received a plurality of 17. At the same time the capital of the state went Democratic by a small margin.

Hasty Nervous Chewing of Food the Cause of Dyspepsia

If your teeth are fir, chew, chew, until the food is liquid and insists on being swallowed.

If teeth are faulty, soften Grape-Nuts with hot milk or cream, or allow to stand a minute soaking in cold cream.

"There's a reason," as follows:

Grape-Nuts food is in the form of hard and brittle granules, intended to be ground up by the teeth; that work not only preserves the teeth but brings down the saliva from the gums so necessary in the primary work of digestion.

Many people say (and it is true) that when they eat Grape-Nuts they seem able to digest not only that food but other kinds which formerly made trouble when eaten without Grape-Nuts.

A So Mystery.

The skeleton of an unknown man was found far back in the woods from Sault Ste. Marie under the partly burned and abandoned hut of James Jones, a homesteader who committed suicide a year ago. Settlers believe the man was murdered and buried there, and are inclined to connect Jones' suicide with the suspected crime. The remains of a hatch found beside the skeleton indicated the body was placed there many years ago.

Jones was an odd character, who lived alone in the woods. He is supposed to have been better days, as he was of more than average intelligence and seemed to be well read. It was said at the time of his death that he killed himself because he could not leave drink alone.

One Child Perished.

Fire early Friday morning totally destroyed one house and partially ruined another belonging to the McArthur Co. in Caeboygan. The first house was occupied by Joseph Cadeau, his wife and five children. They awoke to find themselves surrounded by flames. The parents got out safely, and the father, by heroic efforts saved four children. The fifth, Clinton, aged 5, was buried to death. Two of the other children were badly burned, and fears for the recovery of one are entertained.

The money loss is about $1,500. The cause of the fire is unknown. The body of the burned child was recovered.

A man can make a dozen opportunities for success while he is waiting for one to make itself for him.

Two earthquake shocks are reported from the island of Hilo, in the Hawaiian group. Hundreds of houses are reported to be in a state of ruin. A large number of persons were injured and many were killed. No damage was done.

Crown Prince Baptized.

Potsdam—The son of Crown Prince Frederick William was baptized Wednesday in the so-called Jasper gallery of the new palace, which had been arranged as a chapel. The child was named William Frederick Francis Joseph Christian Olaf.

Christians Off to Meet Root.

Santiago—American Minister Hicks, the foreign minister and the members of the reception committee started for Lota, by the land route, to receive Secretary Root.

A Creeping Conifer.

When planning on rock work an evergreen of a creeping habit is often very valuable. The best creeping conifer is the savin. There are a number of forms of the creeping juniper, mainly varieties of the common juniper and this species. Its color is a beautiful shade of deep green, and it has a free and graceful habit of growing.—Garden Magazine

Fully Insured.

A worthy town guide got married recently and with admirable foresight at once took out a life insurance policy. The couple had only lived a few weeks in wedded bliss when the breadwinner fell ill and died suddenly. Notifying her friends of his death the widow wrote: "Andrews passed away yesterday. Loss fully covered by insurance."—La Caricaturista.

Luck in Life.

Some people are always present in a railway smash, others in fires, others again in boats that upset; while a special providence watches over children, old people, sleep-walkers and drunkards. Life is not the same for all—far be it; and Napoleon was right when he said he preferred the lucky general to a clever one.—London Graphic.

Poor Nourishment in Grass.
Horses, under natural conditions, sleep much less than men and spend more time every day in eating. There is little nourishment in grass, in proportion to its bulk, and the horse is forced to give so much time to eating that it would be ruinous to human industry if like conditions existed among men.

Her Busy Day.
Dusty and hot from the club train he entered his pretty mountain cottage slowly. "Where is your mother?" he languidly asked the little girl at play in the hall. "Somebody told her an important secret after breakfast this morning," said the child, "and she has been out visiting ever since."

Baseball as a Tonic.
There is no subject talked so much about in this country as baseball. There is nothing that is so much read about. Wai extras in the days of the rebellion were not more eagerly snatched up than baseball of to-day. It is the daily diet of millions of people who think or talk about little else.

Surprised the Bishop.
It is said that Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, being held up by a foot pad, said, indignantly, "Sir, I am the bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Minnesota." "The devil you are," replied the robber; "why, that's my church, too!"

Cordial Indorsement.
Dear Doctor: "Enclosed find cheque for professional services rendered by you to my late uncle. I thank you for your zeal in the matter and shall not fail to recommend you to all my other wealthy relatives.—Meggen dorfier Blatter."

A Daily Thought.
One must have been preoccupied for years by a work, by an idea, to appreciate the importance which a man attaches to his work, a painter to his picture, a poet to an idea, a man of science to a discovery.—Mme. Emilie de Girardin.

Three Great Conversationalists.
The three greatest conversationalists with whom it has been my good fortune to come into touch were Mark Twain, Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes and Bismarck.

Of these, Dr. Holmes was the most spirited in the bel esprit sense, Bismarck the most imposing and at the same time the most entertaining in point of wit, sarcasm, anecdote and narrative.—"The Historical Interest, brought out with rushing vivacity and with lightning-like illumination of conditions, facts and men."

In Mazzini words there breathed such a warmth and depth of conviction, such enthusiasm of faith in the sacredness of the principles professed and of the aims pursued by him, that it was difficult to resist such a power of fascination.—Carl Schurz, in McClure's Magazine.

His Scheme Worked.
It is related that a certain man was recently very sad because his wife had gone out of town on a visit, which she would not shorten in spite of his appeals to her to come home. He finally hit upon a plan to induce her to return. He sent her a copy of each of the local papers with one item clipped out, and when she wrote to find out what it was he had clipped out he refused to tell her.

The scheme worked admirably. In less than a week she was home to find out what it was that had been going on that her husband didn't want her to know about.—Pittsburg Press.

STOMACH PAINS

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Brought Relief and Cure for Splitting Headaches as Well.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a remedy which has been before the American people for generations, is still accomplishing wonderful results as is evidenced by the following interview with Mrs. Rachael Gardner, of Wilkes, Kans.

"It was very strange," she says, "I never could tell what caused it and neither could anybody else. For a long time I had had spells with my stomach. The pain would commence about my heart and was so deadly agonizing that I would have to scream aloud. Sometimes it would last several hours and I would have to take laudanum to stop it. Besides this I had a headache almost constantly, day and night, that nearly crazed me. So you see I suffered a great deal. And when I think of the agony I endured it still makes me shudder."

"Doctors," she says, "did you say? Their medicine made me sicker. I couldn't take it and I kept growing worse until a friend advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I did. I began to feel better and was soon wholly converted to this wonderful medicine. It did me more good than I had ever hoped for. I kept on with the pills and now I recommend them to all who suffer."

PENINSULAR HAPPENINGS

KALAMAZOO PEOPLE POISONED BY EATING EMBALMED BEEF.

DECKERVILLE ABLAZE
Bad Beef Caused Cramps—Fire Nearly Destroyed Deckerville—Phony Coin Molds Found.

Canned Beef Did.
Ten persons of Kalamazoo were lying at the point of death for over 12 hours, suffering from the effects of eating dried beef delivered to their homes Saturday by a man who cannot be found.

A partial investigation has revealed that the meat came originally from one of the large packing houses, supposedly from Chicago.

The physicians are of the opinion that some sort of embalming fluid, used as a preservative, was used in the beef, and was the cause of the poisoning.

The Ritsma family of five persons were the first found to be poisoned. Peter Bolt and William Ritsma were taken deathly sick in church, and it was thought they would die before they could be taken home.

In the family of the Haam two daughters were taken with agonizing cramps, and the father went for a doctor. While returning he, too, was seized with cramps and crawled home on his hands and knees.

James White and his wife, who had taken supper with the Haam family, were taken ill after returning home, but were unable to summon a doctor and were found by neighbors.

Dr. Van Urk has secured a piece of the beef and says that the poison was caused by some fluid in the beef. There is a yellowish green tinge on the meat.

Deckerville's Serious Fire.
Fire which is thought to have been of incendiary origin, starting in the Hotel Deckerville barn early Sunday morning, destroyed several business buildings, threatened the village with destruction, and caused a total loss of about $50,000.

A brick wall in the Deckerville Recorder building checked the spread of the flames and saved the town.

The Hotel Deckerville, owned by M. P. Popham, was consumed, the loss being $15,000, with an insurance of $1,000. The Deckerville Recorder building was destroyed, the loss being $7,000; insurance, $2,800.

Other losses were: Bullock Bros. market, in same building, loss $4,500; insurance $2,000; postoffice building, owned by R. J. West, $3,000; insurance $1,500; Farmers' bank, Carr building, $3,000; partly insured, John Dilly, scoured building and loss of stock $500; John Blower building, broken glass front, Auditorium, $100; fully insured; Fred Throckmught, roads in town $500.

Counterfeit Coin Molds.
United States Secret Service Detectives recently found a counterfeit coin mold in the possession of an old prospector in the town of Deckerville, Mich. The mold was found in a box of tools which was being repaired. It is believed that the mold was used to make counterfeit coins.

The ownership of the dies is popularly charged to a man who never worked at all, but who was a money and the merchants recall the spurious silver coin of denominations corresponding to the dies were common about that time in the village. The suspect moved from that city to Bry City, Mo. present whereabouts is unknown.

James Adams, of the Arenga Telephone Co. reports having been shown the dies ten years ago by another man who is now a railway mail clerk. Both were too young at that time to know what they were.

Phelan's Sentence.
"Rev." John Roderick Phelan, former Baptist minister at Cement City and Clark's Lake, was sentenced to serve from two to five years at the Iowa reformatory for obtaining money under false pretenses. After repeatedly affirming his innocence, he pleaded guilty.

Phelan's ministerial air did not desert him as he faced the court. He acted as if he and not the judge were going to do the "preaching." The court took for his "text" the Biblical passage of the wolf in sheep's clothing and declared that the fact that no prisoner has been a minister of the gospel did not mitigate but accentuated his offense. Phelan received the scathing arraignment of the court with bowed head and made no response.

Missing Woman.
Mrs. Westwood, aged 50, mother of Alfred Westwood, of Saginaw, has been mysteriously missing since early last week. She took a car for the west side in the morning to visit her daughter, Mrs. John M. Banks. That was the last seen of her. Telegraphic inquiries at Dayton, Ohio, where she has relatives, and Sebewaing, her former home, have been without result. She is partially paralyzed. Her disappearance is inexplicable. The police are investigating.

Forty voting machines have been ordered by Saginaw council for use at the coming election.

Because President Underwood, of the Erie railroad system, recently made a tour of inspection of the Pere Marquette, the rumor is current that there is a deal on for the absorption of the Michigan road by the Erie.

By January 1 next, it is expected the people of Sault Ste. Marie will have the pleasure of seeing the new illuminating and cooking. A contract has just been let for the construction of a plant capable of producing 150,000 feet of gas daily.

MICHIGAN NEWS.

A Night of Anxiety.

The first ship to navigate Lake Michigan as far as the cross from the Wisconsin to the Michigan side, hung a tattered, torn and twisted wreck in a large tree in a dense swamp six miles southeast of Wolverine. Its steering gear demolished; it had sailed at the mercy of the winds.

The ship is the Columbia and its intrepid navigator is Capt. Wm. Matray. The captain "dropped anchor" in this "port" in the dead of night and had almost as terrible an experience getting out of the swamp as he had in crossing the lake.

A good ship Columbia was performing, or rather promising to perform for the visitors at the county fair at Oconto, Wis. When it failed to go up the great crowd of ruffians that had gathered to witness the strange sight declared it a fake. Thursday evening, however, they changed their minds. The balloon apparatus was inflated and its "wings" began to flap, and the airship arose and flew like a bird to the "unspeakable wonderment of the fair visitors. Out over the town it went, seemingly at a height of 2,000 feet, and then with a sudden twist it darted with the speed of a homing pigeon toward Green Bay.

Capt. Matray, in describing his experience said: "The big ship shivered and cracked and moaned in its flight, and to every counter wind current that hit it it gave a vocal response. Several times I think I must have risen above 5,000 feet altitude and at other times I was almost skimming the water like a seagull."

"I got wet early in the voyage from dipping into Green Bay and when the night air struck me I was chilled to the bone. My teeth chattered and I became numb all over. I fell asleep once from exhaustion and when I awoke with a start I almost tumbled out of my seat. Then I lashed myself to the ship and slept, I guess, about four hours."

I awoke when the ship struck in the trees, about 1 o'clock in the morning. I managed to clamber to the ground and finding a half dry spot, I slept all night and then finally worked my way out of the swamp.

Capt. Matray will return to Chicago with his battered ship as soon as money reaches him.

Paroled in a pit of hot water, John Melke, aged 10 years, who was employed at the plant of the Railway Steel Spring Co., died at Harper hospital, Detroit, Friday. The pit is for the reception of the boiling water from the cylinders and is about 15 feet in size and 1 foot deep, but contained but three feet of water when the dreadful accident took place, the company's officials declare.

After walking about the engine room and in other parts of the big plant, Melke's shoes were greasy and, of course, slippery. When he started to walk across the edge of the pit he slipped and fell into the scalding water, and was almost instantly immersed.

Melke, as yard foreman, was expected to be the laying of some iron plates over the top of a pit.

The suffered intense pain and his cries asking that he be killed could be heard for blocks. He lived only a few minutes and his wife, hearing the cries ran out to see what was the matter. She was not far from the pit and was unable to get to him in time. He was carried to the hospital in a truck and died.

Dastardly Work.
John P. Bible's home Wagon Works was burned down by destruction Thursday night by the discovery of a woman that some vandal, evidently a woman, had placed a gas canister in the main engine room of the plant. A few moments later there would have been an explosion of sufficient force to wreck the whole works.

Further investigation developed that probably the same person had demolished several hundred dollars' worth of the plant's latest improved machinery with a sledge hammer. The sledge was secured by breaking into the blacksmith shop.

Mr. Bible who is a former mayor of Ionia and a well known Democratic politician, attributes the deeds to some one who has a spite against him.

Died of His Injuries.
After lying unconscious four days at Mercy hospital, Bay City with a fractured skull the result of a street fight, James Brown, 29 years old, died Thursday afternoon. Brown, it is alleged, attacked Andrew Remender, 23 years old, and was struck by the latter in self defense. Remender caught Brown on the point of the jaw and his head struck the curb of the pavement as he fell.

Prosecuting Attorney Orr says he will give Remender a square deal and that he is satisfied Remender did not intend to injure Brown as bad as the case turned out. A charge of manslaughter will be made so that a full investigation can be had. There is little question but what Remender will be discharged.

While Postmaster George Dennis, of Tustin, was passing by the Wednesday an artery of one of his legs burst and before the flow of blood could be stanching he was unconscious and near death. He is now out of danger.

After all a man that knows too much is little more in demand than the one that knows not enough.

Manager Spatchett, of the Pontiac Bending Works, is in receipt of an order for 25,000 sets of wagon rims from the Maine Wagon Co., of Stoughton, Wis., which will keep his plant busy for 18 months.

News from New York

Interesting Gossip by Our Correspondent in Gotham—Obesity as a New Cause for Divorce—Many Illegal Separations During the Past 20 Years.

NEW YORK.—Young maidens, beware! If single-blessedness does not appeal to you and you are contemplating matrimony, be careful and do not put on too much weight in your new home or you may be relegated to the ranks of the grass-widow.

Why? Because obesity is now an officially recognized cause for divorce. Hereafter slender maidens may recall with a pang as they take the marriage vow that "Till death us do part" means "Until I get fat." And the well established tendency of American women to press the limit of comfortable plumpness may well become a shadow over many homes.

Far as a cause for divorce was put into the records by Louis Link, a tailor, who was legally separated the other day from his wife by the supreme court.

According to the story of the Links—and husband and wife agree on that point—when Louis married Sarah 18 years ago she was far to look upon, with a figure that was more like a Diana than a Venus. But, alas! time changes all things, and Sarah is no exception. From a willowy maiden she passed through the varying stages, becoming by turns plump, large, stout, fat, and finally obese.

Louis couldn't stand the last, and so he applied to his local rabbi for a divorce according to the Talmudic law. When he told the good man that Sarah had increased from 130 to 225, the decree was granted immediately.

Louis in his childlike simplicity did not await the formality of a divorce under the statute law, but immediately married a young woman whose embonpoint was in keeping with his taste.

Sarah went to court and had this second marriage annulled, and Louis and Sarah determined to try to live down the past.

"I spent hundreds of dollars," said Louis, "buying her anti-fat, but it only made her larger. When she grew to 250 pounds I could stand it no longer."

"Yes," said Sarah, "he got so he seldom took me to parties and balls, although I am very fond of dancing, and when we did go he refused to spiel with me. I could stand it no longer and I applied for a limited divorce. I got it."

Both admitted that maybe if Sarah should lose some of her fat they would be remarried.

MANY SUPERSTITIOUS FOREIGNERS.
It will probably surprise many to learn that there are thousands of people in this city who believe in ghosts, witches, spooks and superstitions.

Director Smith, of Central park, called attention to one large body of the superstitious a few weeks ago when he protested in their behalf against the sale of the two donkeys in the zoo. He declared that if at least one of the donkeys was kept on hand mothers of babies with whooping cough or threatened with that complaint would be after him, tooth and nail. And why? Simply because if baby has whooping cough mother or nurse speaks off with him to Central park and passes his wee body three times under and over the donkey's body in a circle. And, of course, the whooping cough disappears. It may take some time for the cure to be effected—but that is not the donkey's fault.

On the east side, and particularly among the foreign quarters, there are whole colonies which believe firmly in witchcraft. They have been reared in that belief and have a surprising knowledge about evil eyes and other things akin to the supernatural.

One woman, for instance, has slept under the bed instead of on it for over ten years. In fact, ever since she was told that some night a witch would come and cast a spell over her in her sleep. So she sleeps under her bed on the floor every night so that the witch cannot do her.

Mme. Venturini, a Bohemian lady, has been working among this class of people for some time past in an effort to drive these foolish notions out of their heads. In her work she has encountered a great many strange cases. Men and women go to her imploring her to remove the spell cast on them by the "evil eye." In some instances many months' work is necessary before the people can be convinced that there is no such power in existence.

We cannot expect the pleasure of friendship without the duty, the privilege—without the responsibility.—Hugh Black M.A.

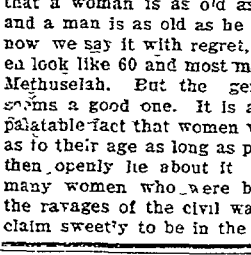

Subject for Another Lecture.
Oh, dear," exclaimed Mrs. Slip Lash, when they were finally seated in the lecture hall. "I've only got one of my earrings on. I left the other on my dressing table."

"Don't!" pleaded her husband, "just like my lecture on men's circuncisions—in one ear and out the other."

"Cut out hot cream of tartar biscuits," used to be a common, every-day remark among physicians when discussing items of diet for their patients. But clam baking powder biscuits are never mentioned in this respect. Why? Because it's the cream or tartar that is objectionable and in injurious, and yet there are some people who to-day continue to use the old cream of tartar baking powder, and wonder why they are always ailing.

When Woman Isn't Young.
The report is that a local religious institution which is for "young women" has drawn the deadline of youth at 35. Every woman over that age will be marked 23 and requested to Skiddoo. This is painful. It is unkind. What is worse, it is impracticable. We are glad the task is to be performed by women. No man nor set of men would ever have dared tackle such a problem—not they. This is simply another example of woman's humanity to woman.

We have been told for many years that a woman is as old as she looks and a man is as old as he feels. Just now we say it with regret, most women look like 60 and most men feel like Methuselah. But the general rule seems a good one. It is a plan, unpalatable fact that women will deceive as to their age as long as possible and then, openly lie about it. There are many women who were born during the ravages of the civil war who still claim sweetly to be in the thirties.

YOU CANNOT CURE

Irregularity of the teeth is a condition frequently seen and greatly to be deplored. Few people have any comprehension of the ability possessed by modern dentists in correcting these abnormal positions of the teeth. This may grow to multiple and variable, whose faces have become deformed or whose expression is unnatural or unpleasant, but as they have no knowledge of the improvement which could be made by a competent dentist.

The results of irregular teeth are that they mar the appearance of the individual, interfere with clearness of speech, impair the ability to masticate the food thoroughly, and by reason of their crowded or abnormal position afford favorable lodgment for food particles and thereby induce decay.

When a child presents itself I study the features and the irregularities and oral deformities. I look at the child's face and then at its profile, and endeavor to ascertain, if possible, what facial change will be brought about by any corrective art that may be applied to the case. In my judgment more is lost than gained by the removal of teeth for the correction of irregularity and should never be done, except, possibly in very rare cases. I consider it possible to take any person

FIFTY CENTS

IN some conditions the gain from the use of Scott's Emulsion is very rapid. For this reason we put up a fifty-cent size, which is enough for an ordinary cough or cold or useful as a trial for babies and children. In other conditions the gain is slower—health cannot be built up in a day. In such cases Scott's Emulsion must be taken as nourishment; a food rather than a medicine. It's a food for tired and weak digestions.
