The grain crops estimates from the Canadian West make a range of from 87,000,000 to 115,000,000 bushels, and an accurate statement will be some where between these figures probably not far from 90,000,000 bushels. This year a larger acrease was sown, estimated at an increase of from 13 to 20 per cent., and had the average rield of last year been maintained, the aggregate would assuredly have gone considerably beyond the 100,000, have stated, are estimated a 000 bushel mark. from day to day. That eccentric philosopher, Eibert Hubbard, says in one of his essays, "where a machine will do better work than the human hand, we prefer to let the machine do the It has been but a few Years since the cotton gin, the spinning Jenny" and the power loom displaced the hand picker, the spinning wheel and the hand-loom; since the reaper and binder, the rake and redder, the moning machine took the place of the old cradle, seythe, pitchfork and rake, since the friction match superseded the flint and under, since the modern paint factory replaced the slab and muller, the paint pot and paddle. In every case where machinery has been introduced to replace hand labor, the laborers have resisted the change; and as the weavers, the sempstresses and the farm - laborers protested against new-fangled looms, sewing machines and agricultural implements. so in recent times compositors have protested against type-setting machines, glass blowers against buttle blowing machines, and painters against ready mixed paints. And as and painters in the case of these short-sighted classes of an earlier day, so with their îmirators of today, the protest will ber'r vain. It is a protest against civilizatión, against the common weal, against their own welfare

The history of all-mechanical improvements shows that workmen are the first to be benefited by them. The invention of the sewing machine, instead of throwing thousands of women out of employment, increased the demand to such an extent that thousands of women have been employed, at better wages, for shorter hours and easier work where hundreds before worked in laborious misery to eke out a pitiable existence. It was so with spinning and weaving machinery, with agricultural implementsfact, it is so with every notable improvement. The multiplication of books in the last decade is a direct result of the invention of linotype machinery and fast presses.

The mixed paint industry, in which carefully designed paints for house parating are prepared on a large scale by special machinery, is another improvement of the same type. The cheapness and general excellence of these products has so stimulated the consumption of palat that the de mand for the services of painters has correspondingly multiplied. - Before he advent of these goods a well paint ed house was noticeable, from its parity, whereas to day an ill parated house is conspicuous

Nevertheles, the painters, as rule, following the example set by the weavers the sempstresses and the farm labovers of old, simost to a man, oppose the improvement of is a real improvement however, and simply be cuse of that fact the side of such products has increased until during the present year it will fall not fir Short of 90,000,000 or 100 006,000 gri-

FRÍENDSHIP BROKEN BY MARRIAGE.

It has been known ever since Mrs. Carter's romantic marriage to the young actor, William Louis Payne, that the alliance was bitterly resented by the exacting Miss Munro That the two women, once like Juno's swabs, "together always and inseparable," had separated has been known, too for weeks to their mutual friends, but no one was prepared for the shock which followed the court action against the actress, brought in the name of Miss Munro's mother, who is executrix of the Munro estate

Thus, came the a bolt of lightning from a comparatively clear sky? Mrs Leshe Carter Payne, in arrears for rent of her apartments on West Fifty nuith, street, owned by Miss Munro's mother, has been sued for back rent and served with papers in dispossess proceedings. Furthermore, the only thing that saved Mrs Pivne from tenormous ejectment was the have with which ignominious ejeciment was the haste with which

Mrs. Henriette E Munro's claim against the actress was for $1.59352, the sum of Mrs. Pavne's alreged indebtedness for-five months as a tenant of the West Fifty minth street apartments.

When papers in the suit brought to secure this claim were served upon the actress there was an impromptu scene of emotionalism worths the high est creative art of a Belasco. Mrs Leslie Carter Payue fell into the arms of her youthful shusband and shrieked her demunciations of Miss. Munio When sufficient strength returned Mrs. Payne hurned downtown in her automobile to the offices of her counsel, Edward Lauterbach. The lawyer was equal to the emergency, and within two hours the Munro proceedings had been dropped. Mrs. Carter Payne had settled, but she did not pay the full demand only $8.7—insisting that she owed only three months rent and defying the Munros to prove another penny against her. Lawyer Henry Bogert Clark, representing Mrs. Munro, thought hard for half an hour, then accepted the proffered compromise and dropped the legal proceedings.

As the case now stands Mrs. Carter Payue is free to remain in norses.
