

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD.

Vol. XL. No. 16.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1909.

$1.00 Per Year in Advance

School Notes.

(By a Pupil.)

A Thanksgiving play will be given by the Kindergarten and three small grades on Wednesday, Nov. 24, in High school rooms at 7:30. Admission 15 cents.

The Eighth grade pupils will hold a bake sale of pies and cakes in C. E. Ryder's store Saturday, Nov. 27. The purpose of this sale is to pay their speaker for Commencement week.

The Seventh grade pupils who spelled down the Eighth grade last Friday are wondering if the latter's beats (beats) are spelling or if they are keeping them for the next spell down.

"Altho' the night was cold and dreary, And the wind was never weary."

The Northville local teachers' association met Tuesday evening. Next meeting Dec. 21 and it is hoped for an increase in attendance.

Several interesting stories as well as good work in sketches have been submitted to the editor-in-chief of the Senior magazine which is now an assured thing. The Seniors hope to put out a magazine that will be worthy of their class.

Through the kindness of the school board a medicine case has been placed in both rest rooms. T. E. Murdock, our druggist, filled the grade case with a fine supply of medicines suited to childish needs, gratuitously. The pupils wish to thank him for his kindness.

Basket ball practice will begin indoors next week. A boys' game has been scheduled with the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Co. of Detroit for next Wednesday evening. More definite particulars given later. Shake ups in both girls' and boys' teams have resulted in a better class of playing.

The "Kleiman" system of school banking will be installed the coming week. A word or two in explanation might not come amiss. The idea is that there are some things outside of "book learning" that are very essential to boys and girls of which the habit of thrift is not the least. This system has been started with this end in view. Deposits will be accepted Friday of each week for any amount from one cent up. When the student has saved one dollar in the school savings bank a bank savings book credited to that amount will be given on either bank and the saving of another dollar will begin in the school bank.

The teachers are making a practice of sending to the parents extra poor papers handed in by the different grade and High school pupils, knowing that the parents will undoubtedly have heard of the good ones, and not about the other kind. These are not sent as a criticism whatever, but that you may know where your boy or girl is falling short and see if there cannot be some way found to increase his efficiency by co-operation of parent and teacher. The teachers have started with the determination to move every one ahead at the end of the semester, but in a few cases it will need the sympathetic working of parent, teacher and pupil to accomplish this result. Find time to come up and talk it over before the end of the semester.

E. H. Lapham gave a very interesting talk to the High school pupils on the "Advantages and Disadvantages of Banking as a Profession." He said that he had always considered as an advantage the fact that one was not often called upon to talk very much, but that he had changed his mind since asked to give us a talk. Among the strong and forcible points made was that the secret of banking was the closest attention possible to the most minute details of the business. The talk which was greatly applauded by the pupils will be followed next Wednesday morning by a talk by Mrs. W. H. Ambler. It is hoped that these Wednesday morning talks will do a great amount of good to the High school students.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

(By the Pastor.)

Remember the Aid society entertainment in the link this evening.

The ladies met at Mrs. Harger's and Mrs. Kator's this week to the comforters.

The sermon next Sunday evening will be on the life and work of D. L. Moody, who died Dec. 22, 1899.

Will the subscribers to the Assembly Herald please hand the price for the next year to the pastor as soon as convenient.

The Sunday school attendance last Sunday reached well above the one hundred mark. The fact was very gratifying and encouraging to the officers and teachers.

Some of our young ladies have kindly provided new curtain fixtures for the church and have the thanks of all who profit by their thoughtfulness and generosity.

A pleasant social of the young people was held at Mrs. T. H. Turner's last Friday evening and Mrs. Turner entertained them very kindly. The following officers were elected: President, J. D. LaRue; vice president, Wallace Ross; secretary, Arbutus Wolf; treasurer, Bessie Seely.

Baptist Church Notes.

(By the Pastor.)

The cottage prayer meeting for Tuesday evening will be announced from the pulpit.

B. Y. P. U. will have a Thanksgiving social at Capt. Kurth's Monday Evening.

The B. Y. P. U. topic for Sunday evening at 6 p. m. is "The Blessing of a Thankful Heart." Eva Musser, leader.

Pastor Musser will have charge of the services Sunday. The morning theme is "Lifting up a standard for the people." The evening topic is "The three acts in the prodigal son's career. You are invited.

The auditorium of the church was well filled Sunday evening to hear the more than splendid address by Mr. Sherrick. His effort was superior to many a high priced lecturer. A request comes for Mr. Sherrick to give a talk to men alone which he has promised to do so keep watch for the announcement.

Methodist Church Notes.

(By the Pastor.)

The children's service last Sunday was well attended.

Junior League meetings will be resumed next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The usual services Sunday will be in charge of the pastor. A cordial welcome to all who worship with us.

At the Epworth League business meeting Thursday evening the following officers were elected: President, Howard Arnot; 1st vice, Grace E. Tremper, 2nd vice, Mae Woodmanse; 3rd vice, Fern Lincoln; 4th vice, Mrs. Lillian Ambler, sec'y Cecil Johnston; treas., Bessie Wells.

Combination Stock Sale.

Rattenbury and Starkweather will have a combination sale of horses, cows, buggies, harnesses and household furniture at the Exchange Hotel barn tomorrow (Saturday) commencing at 1:00 o'clock sharp.

Dr. A. B. Spinney in Detroit.

Dr. Andrew B. Spinney will be in Detroit at the Hotel Tuller Friday, Dec. 17. 16w1

Piano Lessons.

Thorough method. For terms apply at my home, 52 Main street. 13tf ARBUTUS M. WOLF.

All who have empty cement sacks please return them at once—want to make a shipment. W. H. CATTERMOLLE.

Madame Nazimova.

There is hardly another actress in the profession who occupies such a unique position as Mme. Nazimova who appears at the Garrick all this week in "The Passion Flower," a play by Brandon Tydan. Certainly there is not a woman whose ability and success are more widely discussed by the press and public and whose rise to prominence has been more merited. Her wonderful career is now on every man's tongue, while the magazines and papers of today are not up to date without her latest photograph. In her latest play she presents a delightful, finished and well balanced work.

Madame Nazimova is always an interesting actress and our theatre goers are to be congratulated upon having an early opportunity of witnessing her forceful and perfect impersonation of the leading role in "The Passion Flower."

W. C. E. U. Notes.

(By Press Correspondent.)

General officers elected at the convention of this district at Plymouth recently: President, Jennie Harrington; vice pres. at large, Annie L. Andrus; cor. sec. Jesse Spangler; rec. sec. Phoebe Patterson; treas., Mrs. E. L. Beale.

The meeting of Nov. 22 will be held in Ambler's hall commencing at 7 o'clock p. m. Members and their husbands, honorary members and wives please turn out to this meeting. Subject for discussion "School Savings Bank" and for the many who do not understand this department of our work here is a synopsis of the system. This department is in the interest of life's great economic and protective forces. Its mission is to establish the savings system in schools throughout the land; to give every child initial instruction in practical thrift; and to encourage in all walks of life of happy economy and providence that both time and money may be applied to the higher uses, and knowledge thereof; better the condition of mankind and make temperance, good habits and industry natural and easy.

Union Thanksgiving Service.

The usual union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Presbyterian church next Thursday evening, Nov. 25, at 7 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Turner will preach the sermon. All are cordially invited to attend.

Notice to Subscribers.

Under the U. S. Postal laws no newspaper can be mailed to a subscriber after he or she is more than one year in arrears. About a dozen of our friends are now in that condition. Please look at the label on your paper this week and see if it reads '08.

Auction Sale.

Arthur Rushlow, on the Philip Duffy farm one-half mile west of Leland's church, Northfield township, Washtenaw county, will have an auction sale of cows, horses, chickens, farm implements, grain and fodder on Nov. 29 commencing at one o'clock p. m. Frank Boyle, auctioneer.

Capt. E. K. Simonds.

Mr. Simonds celebrated his eighty-first birthday last week. The captain appears to be as hale and hearty as he was twenty years ago.

If you would like to know how Record Want Ads can make money for you, phone Record Office.

Peculiar Condition in Bequest.

From Germany comes an interesting story concerning three little girls. Herr Kressler, a mercantile clerk and the father of the children, was, it seems, some years ago staying at Borkum and while there chanced to save an elderly Japanese gentleman from drowning, and the latter proved to be Baron Wiyoshi of the Japanese embassy in Berlin. He has just died and left to each of Herr Kressler's little daughters the sum of 20,000 marks or $5,000, provided that they dress like Japanese until they reach the age of 14.

Rats Give Alarm.

Coming over on an ocean liner an old lady complained to the captain that she had seen a rat in her stateroom. "Keep it there, madam," said the captain. "Why do you like rats?" asked the old lady. "Well, madam, I've got a nest in my cabin," was the answer, "and, though I'm not superstitious, when the rats leave the ship, I do."

Electric Glue Heater.

An electric glue heater has been put upon the market which is claimed to melt glue in 30 minutes and to keep it at a temperature of 150 degrees for several hours after the current has been switched off.

Wanted, to Rent, For Sale, Etc.

For Rent, For Sale, Lost, Found Wanted notices inserted under this head for 1 cent per word for first insertion, and 1/2 cent per word for each subsequent insertion.

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—The A. L. Taft farm (61 acres) 1/2 mile southeast of village. Inquire of N. L. Clark, Northville. 14tf.

FOR SALE—A genuine buffalo robe. Inquire of O. Sutphen at Mrs. Tremper's on High street. 15w2

FOR SALE—The house and lot on Main street, owned by the late Chas. D. Waterman, 92 ft. frontage on Main street, 211 ft. deep. The property has been ordered sold by Probate Court to close the estate Wm. H. Ambler, Executor. 30tf LOST—A flat door key. Finder please leave at post office.

DRY WOOD FOR SALE—U. A. Tibbitts. Home phone 301 7R. Northville. 15w2p

FOR SALE—300 cords good stove wood. Price reasonable and wood delivered. A. N. Wixom, Novi. Tel. phone 110 L5. 14tf

TO TRADE—Work horses for cow. J. A. Cole, two miles north and one and one-half miles west of Northville. 13w1pt

FOR SALE—Two acres of land, good house and barn, hen house, new brooder house 18x40, plenty of fruit. Located three miles west of Novi and known as the Daniel Dunham place. Inquire of Jas. F. Dunham, R. F. D. No. 21, Northville. Home phone 190 2L. 13w6p

FOR SALE—My place on Main street known as the Star Laundry building, also my house and lot on Plymouth avenue, Northville. E. J. Bradner. 11tf

FOR RENT—House south of Ladies' Library. Electric lights, furnace, every room heated, hot and cold water in bath room and kitchen. Large basement. Two large rooms in "Annex" building. Inquire at house or of A. M. Randall. 16tf

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

List of Northville property for sale: Two houses on Main street; several on Dunlap street; also in Bealton and several in Northside. Prices $550 up to $8,500. Also farms and residences in Farmington Farms in Wayne and Oakland. (Also western land.) Farm to exchange for good house and lot in Northville. O. S. HARGER. 15tf Northville

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. T. B. HENRY, PHYSICIAN AND Surgeon. Office and residence 31 Main street. Office hours 8:00 to 9:00 a. m. and 12:00 to 2:30 and 6:00 to 7:30 p. m. Both Phones.

DR. T. H. TURNER, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon. Office next door west of Park House on Main street. Office hours 1:00 to 3:00 and 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. Both Telephones.

DR. F. RUTH JEPSON, OSTEOPATHIC Physician of Detroit will visit Northville every Tuesday and Friday. Appointments can be made by mail, or Home phone 145-X at W. P. Johnson's residence. 29mos.3p

DR. RODERICK B. WILSON, OSTEOPATHIC Physician of 212 Stevens Bldg., Detroit, Mich., will visit Northville Monday and Thursday of each week. Appointments can be made by phone or call. Phone, Home 145-X. Office at W. P. Johnson's residence. Office hours—9:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. 49m3

OSCAR S. HARGER.

REAL ESTATE BOUGHT, SOLD AND EXCHANGED

Estates Settled and Managed Insurance and Loans. Notary Public. Bell Phone, 60. 124 N. Center St. NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

WATCH OUR WINDOWS FOR BARGAINS.

And at the prices we ask they will not last long

Red Tag Sale Starts Friday

The Largest Assortment of Graniteware ever shown in Northville at the price

23c and Take Your Choice.

Also Carvers, Roasters, Butcher Knives, 1847 Rogers' Silver Ware

AT REDUCED PRICES.

CARPENTER & HUFF

NORTHVILLE,

MICHIGAN.

Thanksgiving

Is near and we are here with just what you want.

Sealskip Oysters
Cranberries
Sweet Potatoes
Nutmeats
Jellos
Fancy Prunes
Grapes
Oranges
Nuts, Candies, etc.

C. E.

RYDER

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

AN EXPANSIVE VIEW

of the horizon can be had if you go high enough up.

Financial Horoscopes are Cast Through Banks.

Please remember that the horizon of your future is often reflected through your bankbook.

A Bank Account Here Leads on to Success in Business.

Northville State Savings Bank.

GRANDMA

May not care so much for her old-fashioned spectacles as you think. Bring her in and have us examine her eyes for

A PAIR OF MODERN EYE-GLASSES.

She'll like them all right, especially when company comes. They'll suit her sight better too than the old glasses she has worn so long.

G. W. & E. DOLPH

Dr. Swift Bldg. OPTOMETRISTS. Main St., NORTHVILLE.

Yarnall Institute

For Alcoholism or Drunkenness.

Send for Pamphlet and Literature. Literature sent in Plain Envelope.

DR. W. H. YARNALL.

NORTHVILLE, MICH

THANKSGIVING

Give us your order for your Thanksgiving Dinner.

Celery, Nice and Crisp
Cranberries, The Howe's, all sound
Oranges, California and Florida
Oysters, Solid Meats
Grapes, all kinds
California English Walnuts, all new & good Figs, California and Imported
Sweet Potatoes, Jerseys
Raisins, Candies,
Salted Peanuts, Coffee,
Pickles, Sour and Sweet,
Cheese, Warner's, Apples, Etc.

COME EARLY AND OFTEN.

B. A. WHEELER

Both Phones. NORTHVILLE, MICH.

Does Not Stimulate

Ayer's Sarsaparilla does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. It is not a strong drink. No reaction after you stop using it. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. You have the steady, even gain that comes from a strong tonic and alternative. We wish you would ask your doctor about this. He knows. Trust him. Do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

What are Ayer's Pills? Liver Pills. How long have they been sold? Nearly fifty years. Do doctors recommend them? Ask your own doctor and find out.

GUTENBERG

Invented Printing, and Since His Day

TYPE has done more for the world's advancement than any other thing. Our type will ADVANCE YOUR BUSINESS.

Let Us Do Your Printing

VAUDEVILLE

When visiting Detroit don't fail to see the finest Vaudeville Theatre in the world

TEMPLE THEATRE.

Two Performances
Daily
2:15 and 8:15 p. m.

Splendid Seats at 10-20-25c

C. C. Yerkes, Attorney, Northville.
STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Wayne.
At a session of the Probate Court for said County of Wayne, held at the Probate Court Room in the City of Detroit, on the twenty-fifth day of October in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine. Present, Henry S. Hulbert, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of LOUISA BARRETT deceased. An instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased having been delivered into this court for probate.

It is ordered, that the twenty-fourth day of November next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Court Room, be appointed for proving said instrument.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published three successive weeks previous to said time of hearing, in the Northville Record, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Wayne.

HENRY S. HULBERT, Judge of Probate.
ALBERT W. FLINT, Register.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE—In the matter of the estate of HENRY E. KATOR, deceased. We, the undersigned, having been appointed by the Probate Court, for the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet at the store of Murdock Bros. in Northville in said County on Saturday, the eleventh day of December A. D. 1909, and on Saturday, the twelfth day of February A. D. 1910, at ten o'clock a. m., of each said days, for the purpose of examining and allowing said claims, and that four months from the twelfth day of October A. D. 1909 were allowed by said court for creditors to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated October 12th 1909
BEACH A. NORTHROP,
THOS. E. MURDOCK, Commissioners

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
Ladies! Ask Your Druggist for Chichester's Pills. They are the most reliable, most effective, and most pleasant of all pills. They are sold by all druggists everywhere.

FIVE SHIPS SINK
LOSS $412,000

CANADIAN STEAMER OTTAWA
WENT DOWN OFF PASSAGE
ISLAND—CREW SAFE.

ONLY ONE LIFE LOST.

Beach at Grand Marais Littered With Wreckage—Shore Patrolled in Search of Bodies—Worst Gale of the Year.

Steamer Ottawa (total) $130,000
Steamer Parlow (total) 25,000
Steam barge Hinton (total) 15,000
Tow barge Commerce (total) 2,000
Steamer James H. Hoyt (total) 230,000
Steamer Odanah (damaged) 5,000
Steamer Paisley (damaged) 2,000
Minor damages and time loss 10,000

Total $412,000

Loss of life
The steamers Ottawa and Parlow, the steam barge Hinton, and the tow barge Commerce are total losses as a result of the great storm that has raged over the lake region, especially Superior, since Sunday night. The steamers Odanah and Paisley and a dozen other boats suffered minor damages in the same storm. The gale sent most of the boats flying to shelter, causing a serious monetary loss to owners by loss of time. As a result of the continuance of the storm there is little hope of saving the steamer Hoyt, wrecked on a reef near Outer Island, Lake Superior. Altogether the storm was a startling climax to a fortnight of unexpected calm weather—the calm before the storm.

With wind, water and rocks playing havoc with shipping, only one life was lost. Two score sailors, however, were in peril of their lives. The one life lost was that of Stephen Deuzer, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., who lashed himself to a spar and refused to take to the small boats with the crew of the steamer Louis Pahlow as that steamer was breaking up.

For 16 hours the crew of the Ottawa, 17 men packed in one small boat, battled with a terrific sea that momentarily threatened to engulf them. A fierce gale was blowing, snow was falling so thickly it was impossible to see 50 feet ahead and the temperature was freezing. And two of the men were dressed only in their underclothes.

Capt Birnie is in a serious condition as a result of exposure and internal injuries. Others of the crew are suffering from exposure and frostbite.

"The Ottawa left Port Arthur Sunday night with a light gale blowing from the northwest, accompanied by snow," said Capt Birnie. "The lake was comparatively calm. Suddenly the storm increased in fury. The lake was torn up and as our boat tossed in the great waves our cargo of wheat began to shift, our boat to list."

"We could do nothing. To get at the cargo it would have been necessary to open the hatches, and this would have been fatal, as tons of water were washing over the deck. About 6 o'clock we could see it was all off with the ship and prepared to take to the small boats. All but one were smashed to bits and all of us were forced to crowd into the yawl. This we launched and the men climbed into her."

Keepers of the Gull Island light went to the men's assistance and cared for them at the lighthouse. The yawl was badly damaged and it is doubtful if it could have held together much longer.

The owners have wired Capt Birnie regrets at the loss of the steamer, but congratulating him on saving himself and his crew.

Loss of the Pahlow.

The steamer Louis Pahlow, Capt John Hegg, was lost in Lake Michigan off Sturgeon Bay, early Tuesday. Two of the men were saved. Stephen Deuzer, the thirteenth, died lashed to a spar.

Lower Lake Michigan was swept by an easterly gale Monday night. The Pahlow and barge Delta, loaded with lumber, were bound for Chicago. They found the gale too fierce and were started for shelter when the steamer sprung a leak and went down before daylight. Nine of the men in the yawl-boat were picked up by the government boat Sumac.

When Capt Hegg gave up hope of weathering the storm and called the men to the small boats Deuzer, fearful of the angry sea, refused to trust himself to them. Instead he lashed himself to a spar. When the steamer sank he went down with it.

The Delta was badly buffeted about, but managed to ride out the storm, although she lost much of her deck load.

The steam barge Francis Hinton, bound from Manistowic to Chicago with lumber, went ashore two miles north of Manitowic, W. S., and broke in two. She is a total loss. The crew of 11 escaped in a yawl.

A special dispatch settles definitely that the wreckage ashore at Grand Marais was from the steamer Paisley. The steamer's deck load of lumber, 300,000 feet, was washed overboard, carrying with it the cabin and spars. The Paisley, however, reached Point Aux Pins safely. A blizzard and high winds are reported at Grand Marais.

A fleet of 150 vessels is tied up at the Soo awaiting a chance to get through the Canadian locks.

Dispatches from Fairbanks, Alaska, state that a party of five experienced mountain climbers have started on an ascent of Mt. McKinley, with the object of putting an end to the controversy as to whether Dr. Cook reached the summit.

The hursting of a tire on an auto mobile in which several of the visiting Japanese commercial commissioners were riding in Kansas City came near resulting seriously for some of the visitors. When the tire burst the machine ran into a pile of rocks.

GOING UP!

City ways were not altogether new to him, but, as he waited at the elevator shaft, in one of Omaha's large office buildings, he said to his companions.

"Well, I'll be hanged if that isn't a beater."

"Why, what?"

"Just look at that confounded railroad advertising on an Omaha elevator—UP! What won't they do next?"

His companion replied, "Sh—, Sh—, those letters mean 'up.'"

When I see that word, this jingle always comes to my mind:

"Whenever the little word 'up' you see,

Think of Safety, Speed, Service via U. P."

You will see that word at almost every passenger elevator in the country, but before you leave for the West, be sure to buy your ticket via "The Safe Road to Travel."

STRANGE COMPANY.

The Goose—How times change, to be sure. I have never seen the fox such good friends with a duck before.

Taking Care of Yourself.

There never was a time when people paid as much attention to their health and strength as they do now. Time was when fine stock and fine horses were fed more carefully than human beings.

The result of properly balanced rations has worked wonders with stock and recent experiments are proving that the same thing is true of mankind.

It has been found that Quaker Oats eaten often and regularly taking the place of heavy, greasy foods will work wonders in the health and strength of a family.

School children fed frequently on Quaker Oats thrive physically and are always capable of the best work at school. For athletes, laborers, it is the best food. One of the attractive features of Quaker Oats is the perfect way it is packed. Besides the regular size package there is the large size family package.

Had a Sure Thing.

An individual, well known on the Berlin Bourge for his wit, one morning wagged that he would ask the same question of 50 different persons and receive the same answer from each. The wit went to first one and then another, until he had reached the number of 50. And this is how he won the bet: "I say, have you heard that Meyer has failed?" "What Meyer?" queried the whole 50, one after another, and it was decided that the bet had been fairly won.

Mind Over Matter.

"Much may be done," said the Acute Observer, "by an authoritative voice. Now, if a man says to a dog: 'Come here!' with a note of absolute authority in his voice, the dog comes immediately."

"Yes," said the Traveler, "I've noticed it. And it is especially marked in oriental peoples. Why, when I was in Khalsandharo, I heard a man say with that authoritative note in his tone: 'Oh, king, live forever,' and immediately the king lived forever."—Carolyn Wells, in Success Magazine.

A Monument in the Snows.

The highest placed monument in the world is situated on La Combra, the summit of a pass in the Andes, and marks the frontier of the Chilean and Argentine republics. It stands at an altitude of 12,796 feet above the sea level, and for awe-inspiring grandeur its surroundings would be hard to match.—Wide World Magazine.

For a Poor Memory.

"Say, Mayme, what's that ring on your finger for?"

"That's so I won't forget that I promised to marry Tommy. Beats a string for looks, too."

CAREFUL DOCTOR

Prescribed Change of Food instead of Drugs.

It takes considerable courage for a doctor to deliberately prescribe only food for a despairing patient, instead of resorting to the usual list of medicines.

There are some truly scientific physicians among the present generation who recognize and treat conditions as they are and should be treated regardless of the value to their pockets. Here's an instance:

"Four years ago I was taken with severe gastritis and nothing would stay on my stomach, so that I was on the verge of starvation."

"I heard of a doctor who has a summer cottage near me—a specialist from N. Y., and as a last hope, sent for him."

"After he examined me carefully he advised me to try a small quantity of Grape-Nuts at first, then as my stomach became stronged to eat more."

"I kept at it, and gradually got so I could eat and digest three teaspoonfuls. Then I began to have color in my face, memory became clear, where before everything seemed a blank. My limbs got stronger and I could walk. So I steadily recovered."

"Now, after a year on Grape-Nuts I weigh 153 lbs. My people were surprised at the way I grew fleshy and strong on this food."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

380 DIE IN MINE HORROR.

Or 565 Men Only 185 Escape in Explosion at Spring Valley, Ill.

It is believed that nearly 400 lives were lost in an explosion in a mine of the St. Paul Coal Co. at Cherry, near Spring Valley, Ill.

There were 565 men at work in the mine when the explosion occurred. About 185 escaped.

The entrance of the mine has been boarded over in an attempt to check the flames raging in the interior. This has checked all hope of escape to the surface by the imprisoned miners. In the three veins of the mine, one 300 feet below the surface, the miners are imprisoned and their only chance for life is to break back to the ends of the veins, where enough air may exist to preserve their lives until help comes. The fans of the mine are stopped, the wires all burned out and the mouth unpenetrably sealed to smother the flames.

The fire causing the explosion, which may prove one of the greatest tragedies in the list of mine horrors, had an origin almost trivial. A pile of hay allowed to smoulder too long finally ignited the timbers of the mine, and before the workers realized their danger, the mine was filled with smoke, gases and flames and all exit was impossible.

Heroism such as is rarely exhibited was shown by officials of the mine and residents of the town of Cherry. These men, who were outside the mine when the fire originated, contributed six of the list of 12 known dead.

Sugar Factories Break Record.

Farmers who raise beets in the country tributary to Bay City and Saginaw sugar factories are taking away the largest amount of money for their product that has ever been paid in Michigan at the end of a fortnightly period of delivery. The three factories have paid $869,000. The largest single payment last season was $750,000 by the same three.

WIRELETS.

Plans for a $2,400,000 memorial to George Washington in Washington are being made.

Miss Margaret Illington, divorced wife of Daniel Frohman, was married to Edward J. Bowes, millionaire real estate dealer of Tacoma, Wash.

King Manuel of Portugal sailed for England aboard King Edward's yacht Victoria and Albert. The yacht was escorted by four English cruisers and a French battleship.

Another of the many projects for the utilization of Newfoundland's vast unoccupied interior is that of the Salvation Army, which plans to establish farm colonies in connection with its emigration department in England.

By resolution every union worker in Philadelphia will go on a two weeks' strike whenever Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison are put in jail for contempt of court. Every union in the country will be asked to follow this plan of protest.

I. J. Dunn, assistant city attorney of Omaha, who nominated W. J. Bryan for president at the Democratic national convention of 1908, has been adjudged guilty of contempt by the Nebraska supreme court and indefinitely disbarred from practicing in that court because of language used by him in a brief in a city case recently in which he criticized a decision by Justice Rose.

THE MARKETS.

Detroit.—Cattle market active and 10 to 15 higher than last week on all but common milch cows, which are very dull. We quote: dry-fries, $5.00 to $5.50; steers and heifers, 1,000 to 1,200, $4.75 to $5.25; steers and heifers, 800 to 1,000, $4.25 to $4.75; grass steers and heifers, 400 to 600, $3.50 to $4.00; common cows, $2.75 to $3.25; canners, $2.00 to $2.25; choice heavy bulls, $3.50 to $4.00; fat to good, bologna, $3.50 to $4.00; stock bulls, $2.50 to $3.00; choice feeding steers, 800 to 1,000, $4.25 to $4.75; fair feeding steers, 800 to 1,000, $3.75 to $4.25; choice stockers, 500 to 700, $3.50 to $3.75; fair stockers, 500 to 700, $3.00 to $3.50; heifers, $2.50 to $3.25; milkers, large, young, medium age, $4.00 to $5.00; common milkers, $2.50 to $3.50.

Veal.—Market steady. Last Thursday's prices best, $7.50 to $8.00; others, $4.00 to $5.00; milk cows and springers, good steady, common very dull.

Sheep and lambs.—Market 50c to 60c higher than last Thursday. Best lambs, $7.00 to $7.50; fair to good lambs, $6.50 to $7.00; light to common lambs, $5.50 to $6.25; fair to good sheep, $3.50 to $4.00; culs and common, $2.50 to $3.00.

Hogs.—Market active at last Thursday's prices; a few extra fancy hogs higher. Range of prices: Light to good butchers, $7.50 to $8.00; pigs, $7.00 to $7.25; light Yorkers, $7.00 to $7.50; stags, 1-3 off.

East Buffalo.—Cattle steady. Hogs steady heavy $8.25 Yorkers, $8.00 to $8.25; pigs $7.50 to $8.00. Sheep, Receipts, 15 cars; active; best lambs, $7.75; stock hogs, $6.50 to $7.50; weathers $5.25 to $5.50; ewes $4.50 to $4.70; calves, $4.50 to $5.00.

Grain, Etc.—Wheat—No. 2 red, $1.22; December opened with an advance of 1/4c at $1.20 1/2 and moved up to $1.22 1/2. May opened at $1.23 1/2 and advanced to $1.24, July, $1.02, No. 1 white, $1.23 1/2.

Corn—Cash No. 3 59c; No. 3 yellow, 60 1/2c; No. 2 yellow, 62 1/2c. Oats—Standard, 42 1/2c bid; No. 3 white, 41 1/2c.

Rye—Cash No. 1 77c bid. Beans—Cash and November, $2; December, $1.99.

Cloverseed—Prime spot 50 bags at $8.50. December $8.65. March, 200 bags at $8.85. Sample, 35 bags at $8.25; 9 at $8.10; 10 at $7.50; 11 at $7.00; 12 at $6.50; 13 at $6.00; 14 at $5.50; 15 at $5.00; 16 at $4.50; 17 at $4.00; 18 at $3.50; 19 at $3.00; 20 at $2.50; 21 at $2.00; 22 at $1.50; 23 at $1.00; 24 at $0.50; 25 at $0.00.

Feed.—In 10-lb sacks: Jobbing lots: wheat $24.50; coarse middlings $25.50; fine middlings $29.50; cracked corn and coarse cornmeal, $27; corn and oat chop, $25.50 per ton.

Four—Best Michigan patent, $5.25; ordinary patent, $4.95; straight, $5.85; clear $5.80; pure rye $4.85; spring patent $6.15 per barrel in wood, jobbing lots.

A model of the new battleship North Carolina, one of the all-big-gun vessels of the navy, was placed on exhibition in the corridor of the navy department. The model is distinctive because it has two of the new style military masts.

Dr. William C. Green, of New York, has completed an aeroplane in which he has made six successful flights at the Morris Park race track. He expects to make long flights in a few days. He is the first real amateur to build a machine which experts declare to be a success. It is modeled after the Curtiss pattern.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.
and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 37 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Griswold House

DETROIT, MICHIGAN

European Plan

200 Rooms	100 Rooms	50 Rooms
with running water	with private bath	Large, well lighted, for samples, with bath
Per Day $1.00	Per Day $1.50	Per Day $2.00

Dining Room and Cafe

Club Breakfast from 25 cents up Table d'Hote dinner at noon and night, 50 cents
Large, well lighted dining room on parlor floor, and cafe grill room on ground floor. Lady waiters in main dining room

POSTAL & MOREY, Proprietors

Keeps Heat "Just Right"

Both Day and Night

This "boss" of the heating plant looks after your comfort, stands guard over your coal bin and safeguards the family from colds due to uneven temperature in the home.

The Jewell Controller

with Time Clock attachment is the only device that automatically provides for a higher temperature in the morning without losing thermostat control through the night.

For example: Suppose you want to reduce the temperature of the house to 60 degrees during the night, but would like to have it at 70 degrees by the time the family arises.

Before retiring, you set back the controller to 60 degrees. Then you set the time clock attachment to bring the temperature up to 70 at seven o'clock.

In spite of any sudden changes out-doors during the night, the Controller will maintain the temperature you wish, and the faithful clock will open the drafts in time to give you the desired warmth in the morning.

And then all day the Controller goes right on keeping your house warmed "just right."

It is adapted for use with steam, hot water or hot air. Why not unload your heating worries on the "Jewell" and save money too?

Investigate this wonderful device. Shown and sold by

GEO. W. HOTALING, Bank Bldg., or RECORD OFFICE, Northville, Mich.

WINCHESTER

MODEL 1906 .22 CALIBER

Extra Light Weight Repeating Rifle

Shoots a light cartridge for "fun" or target work and two heavier ones for hunting.

This rifle handles .22 Short, .22 Long or .22 Long Rifle cartridges without change of adjustment. It's a take-down and a very handy, all-around small caliber repeater. Examine one and you'll agree that it's the biggest rifle value ever offered.

ASK YOUR DEALER TO SHOW YOU ONE.

ROSALIND AT RED GATE

BY
MEREDITH NICHOLSON
ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAY WALTERS
COPYRIGHT 1907 BY BOBBY-MERRILL CO.

SYNOPSIS.

Miss Patricia Holbrook and Miss Helen Holbrook, her niece, were entrusted to the care of Laurence Donovan, a writer, summering near Port Annandale. Miss Patricia confided to Donovan that she feared her brother Henry, who, ruined by a bank failure, had constantly threatened her for money from his father's will, of which Miss Patricia was guardian. They came to Port Annandale to escape Henry.

CHAPTER I.—Continued.

"If a strange knight in quest of a lady comes riding through the wood, how shall I know him? What valorous words are written on his shield, and does he carry a lance or a suit-case?"

"He is the Knight of the Sorrowful Countenance," said Miss Holbrook in my own key, as she rose. "You would know him anywhere by his clothes and the remarkable language he uses. He is not to be taken very seriously—that's the trouble with him! But I have been afraid that he and my brother might join hands in the pursuit of us."

"But the Sorrowful Knight would not advance his interests by that—he could only injure his cause!" I exclaimed.

"Oh, he has no subtlety; he's a very foolish person; he blunders at windmills with quixotic ardor."

"Won't you please say good-night to Miss Holbrook for me?" I said, my hand on the door.

And then an odd thing happened. I was about to take my departure through the front hall when I remembered a short cut to the Glenarm gate from the rear of the school. I walked the length of the parlor to a door that would, I knew, give ready exit to the open. I bowed to Miss Pat, who stood erect, serene, adorable, in the room that was now touched with the first shadows of waning day, and her slight figure was so eloquent of pathos, her smile so brave, that I bowed again, with a reverence I already felt for her.

Then as I flung the door open and stepped into the hall I heard the soft swish of skirts, a light furtive step, and caught a glimpse—or could have sworn I did—of white. There was only one sister in the house, and a few servants; it seemed incredible that they could be eavesdropping upon this guest of the house. I crossed a narrow hall, found the rear door, and passed out into the park. Something prompted me to turn when I had taken a dozen steps toward the Glenarm gate. The vines on the gray stone buildings were cool to the eye with their green that hung like a tapestry from eaves to earth. And suddenly, as though she came out of the ivied wall itself, Helen Holbrook appeared on the little balcony opening from one of the first-floor rooms, rested the tips of her fingers on the green vine-clasped rail, and, seeing me, bowed and smiled.

She was gowned in white, with a scarlet ribbon at her throat, and the green wall vividly accented and heightened her outline. I stood, staring like a fool for what seemed a century of heart-beats as she flashed forth there, out of what seemed a sheer depth of masonry; then she turned her head slightly, as though in disdain of me, and looked off toward the lake. I had uncovered at sight of her, and found, when I gained the broad hall at Glenarm House, that I still carried my hat.

An hour later, as I dined in solitary state, that white figure was still present before me; and I could not help wondering, though the thought angered me, whether that graceful head had not been bent against the closed door of the parlor at St. Agatha's, and (if such were the fact) why Helen Holbrook, who clearly enjoyed the full confidence of her aunt, should have stooped to such a trick to learn what Miss Patricia said to me.

CHAPTER II.

Confidences.

Miss Patricia received me the following afternoon on the lawn at St. Agatha's where, in a cool angle of the buildings, a maid was laying the cloth on a small table.

"It is good of you to come. Helen will be here presently. She went for a walk on the shore."

"You must both of you make free of the Glenarm preserve. Don't consider the wall over there a barricade; it's merely to add to the picturesque of the landscape."

Miss Patricia was quite rested from her journey, and expressed her pleasure in frank and cordial terms.

"I could ask nothing better than this. Sister Margaret is most kind in every way. Helen and I have had a peaceful 24 hours—the first in two years—and I feel that at last we have found safe harborage."

"Rest assured of it, Miss Holbrook! The summer colony is away off there and you need see nothing of it; it is quite out of sight and sound. You have seen Annandale—the sleepyest of American villages, with a curio shop and a candy and soda fountain—place and a picture postcard booth which the young ladies of St. Agatha's patronize extensively when they are here. The summer residents are just beginning to arrive on their shore, but they will not molest you. If they try to land over here we'll train our guns on them and blow them out of the water." As our neighbor beyond the iron gate of Glenarm I beg that you look upon me as your man-at-arms. My sword, madam, I lay at your feet."

I Saw a Dark Figure Sprawled on the Veranda.

"Sheathe it, Sir Laurence; nor draw it save in honorable cause," she returned on the instant, and then she was grave again.

"Sister Margaret is most kind in every way; she seems wholly discreet, and has assured me of her interest and sympathy," said Miss Patricia, as though she wished me to confirm her own impression.

"There's no manner of doubt of it. She is Sister Theresa's assistant. It is inconceivable that she could possibly interfere in your affairs. I believe you are perfectly safe here in every way, Miss Holbrook. If at the end of a week your brother has made no sign, we shall be reasonably certain that he has lost the trail."

"I believe that is true; and I thank you very much."

I had come prepared to be disillusioned, to find her charm gone, but her small figure had even an added distinction; her ways, her manner, an added grace. I found myself resisting the temptation to call her quaint, as implying too much; yet I felt that in some olden time, on some noble estate in England, or, better, in some storied colonial mansion in Virginia, she must have had her home in years long gone, living on with no increase of age to this present. She suggested peace and gentleness; and a beautiful patience; and I strove to say amusing things, that I might enjoy her rare luminous smile and catch her eyes when she gave me her direct gaze in the quick, challenging way that marked her as a woman of position and experience, who had been more given to command than to obey.

"Did you think I was never coming, Aunt Pat? That shore-path calls for more strenuous effort than I imagined, and I had to change my gown again."

Helen Holbrook advanced quickly and stood by her aunt's chair, nodding to me smilingly, and while we exchanged the commonplaces of the day, she caught up Miss Pat's hand and held it a moment caressingly. The maid now brought the tea, Miss Pat poured it and the talk went forward cheerily.

"Oh, Mr. Donovan," said Helen Holbrook, as I put down her cup, "there are some letters I should like to write and I wish you would tell me whether it is safe to have letters come for us to Annandale; or would it be better to send nothing from here at all? It does seem odd to have to ask such a question—" and she concluded in a tone of distress and looked at me appealingly.

"We must take no risks whatever, Helen," remarked Miss Pat, decisively. "Does no one know where you are?" I inquired of Miss Patricia.

"My lawyer, in New York, has the name of this place, sealed; and he put it away in a safety box and promised not to open it unless something of very great importance happened."

"It is best to take no chances," I said; "so I should answer your question in the negative, Miss Holbrook. In the course of a few weeks everything may seem much clearer; and in the meantime it will be wiser not to communicate with the outer world."

"They deliver mail through the country here, don't they?" asked Helen. "It must be a great luxury for the farmers to have the post-office at their very doors."

"Yes, but the school and Mr. Glenarm always send for their own mail to Annandale."

"Our mail is all going to my lawyer," said Miss Pat, "and it must wait until we can have it sent to us with out danger."

"Certainly, Aunt Pat," replied Helen, readily. "I didn't mean to give Mr. Donovan the impression that my correspondence was enormous; but it is odd to be shut up in this way and not to be able to do as one likes in such little matters."

It was time for me to leave and I picked up my hat and stick. As I started away I was aware that Helen Holbrook detained me without in the least appearing to do so, following a few steps to gain, as she said, a certain view of the lake that was particularly charming.

"There is nothing rugged in this landscape, but it is delightful in its very tranquillity," she said as we loitered on the shimmering lake before us, the wood behind ablaze with the splendor of the sun. She spoke of the beauty of the beeches, which are of noble girth in this region, and paused to indicate a group of them whose smooth trunks were like massive pillars. As we looked back I saw that Miss Pat had gone into the house, driven, no doubt, by the persistency of the west wind that crisped the lake. Helen's manner changed abruptly, and he said—

"If any difficulty should arise here, if my poor father should find out where we are, I trust that you may be able to save my aunt anxiety and air. That is what I wished to say to you, Mr. Donovan."

"Certainly," I replied, meeting her eyes, and noting a quiver of the lips at a word of deep feeling and yet she continued silent as we walked on and I felt that there was a least defiance in her air; then she drew a handkerchief from her sleeve and wiped it lightly to her eyes, and smiled.

"I had not thought of quite following you home! Here is Glenarm gate—and there lie your battlements and walls."

"Rather they belong to my old friend, John Glenarm. In his goodness of heart he gave me the use of the lake for the summer; and as generosity with another's property is very easy, I hereby tender you our fleet—ancient boats, steam launch—and the cable, which contains a variety of cars and a good riding-horse or two. They are all at your service. I hope that you and your aunt will not fail to avail yourselves of each and all. Do you ride?" I was specially charged to give the horses exercise."

"Thank you very much," she said. "When we are well settled, and feel more secure, we shall be glad to call on you. Father-Stoddard certainly served us well in sending us to you, Mr. Donovan."

In a moment she spoke again, quite lowly, and with, I thought, a very pretty embarrassment.

"Aunt Pat may have spoken of another difficulty—a mere annoyance, really," and she smiled at me gravely. "Oh, yes; of the youngster who has been troubling you. Your father and I have, of course, no connection?"

"No; decidedly not. But he is a very offensive person, Mr. Donovan. It would be a matter of great distress if he should pursue us to this place."

"It is inconceivable that a gentleman—if he is a gentleman—should follow you merely for the purpose of annoying you. I have heard that young ladies usually know how to get rid of importunate suitors."

"I have heard that they have that reputation," she laughed back. "But Mr. Gillespie—"

"That's the name, is it? Your aunt did not mention it."

"Yes; he lives quite near us at Stamford. Aunt-Pat disliked his father before him, and now that he is dead she visits her displeasure on the son; but she is quite right about it. He is a singularly unattractive and uninteresting person, and I trust that he will not find us."

"That is quite unlikely. You will do well to forget all about him—forget all your troubles and enjoy the beauty of these June days."

We had reached Glenarm gate, and St. Agatha's was now hidden by the foliage along the winding path. Helen threw away the bits of twig when we came to the wall, and, as I swung the gate open, paused mockingly with clasped hands and peeped inside.

"I must go back," she said. Then, her manner changing, she dropped her hands at her side and faced me.

"You will warn me, Mr. Donovan, of the first approach of trouble. I wish to save my aunt in every way possible—she means so much to me; she has made life easy for me where it would have been hard."

"There will be no trouble, Miss Holbrook. You are as safe as though you were hidden in a cave in the Apennines; but I shall give you warning at the first sign of danger."

"My father is—quite relentless," she murmured, averting her eyes.

I turned to retrace the path with her; but she forbade me and was gone swiftly—a flash of white through the trees—before I could parley with her. I stared after her as long as I could hear her light tread in the path. And when she had vanished a feeling of loneliness possessed me and the country quiet mocked me with its peace.

I clanged the Glenarm gates together sharply and went in to dinner; but I pondered long as I smoked on the star hung terrace. There was no disguising the truth that the coming of the Holbrooks had got on my nerves—at least that was my phrase for it. Now that I thought of it, they were, impudent intruders and Paul Stoddard had gone too far in turning them over to me. There was nothing in their story, anyhow; it was preposterous, and I resolved to let them severely alone. But even as these thoughts ran through my mind I turned toward St. Agatha's, whose lights were visible through the trees, and I knew that there was nothing honest in my impatience. Helen Holbrook's eyes were upon me and her voice called from the dark, and when the clock chimed nine in the tower beyond the wall memory brought back the graceful turn of her dark head, the firm curve of her throat as she had listened to the mellow fling of the bells.

Sobered by these reflections, I left the terrace shortly after 11 and walked through the strip of wood that lay between the house and the lake to the Glenarm pier; and at once matters took a turn that put the love of woman quite out of the reckoning.

CHAPTER III.

I Meet Mr. Reginald Gillespie.

As I neared the boathouse I saw a dark figure sprawled on the veranda and my Japanese boy spoke to me softly. The moon was at full and I drew up in the shadow of the house and waited. Ijima had been with me for several years and was a boy of unusual intelligence. He spoke both English and French admirably, was deft of hand and wise of mind, and I was greatly attached to him. His courage, fidelity and discretion I had tested more than once. He lay quite still on the pier, gazing out upon the lake, and I knew that something unusual had attracted his attention. He spoke to me in a moment, but without turning his head.

"A man has been rowing up and down the shore for an hour. When he came in close here I asked him what he wanted and he rowed away without answering. He is now off there by the school."

"Probably a summer boarder from across the lake."

"Hardly, sir. He came from the direction of the village and acts queerly."

I flung myself down on the pier and crawled out to where Ijima lay. We lay by the post that bore the three lanterns, and watched the slow movement of a rowboat along the margin of the school grounds. St. Agatha's maintains a boathouse for the use of students, and the pier lights—red, white and red—lay beyond the boatman, and he seemed to be drawing slowly toward them.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

There is no place in the world where the clove tree thrives as well as in the islands of Zanzibar and Pemba. It is the principal product of the islands, and, together with copra and the ivory brought from the mainland, cloves form the principal item of export.

Uncle Sam Develops New Easter Lily

WASHINGTON.—The plant experts of the department of agriculture are turning their attention to things of beauty as well as usefulness, and several new flowers have been evolved by them. Next season in all probability some novel varieties of lilies which were originated in the department's greenhouses in Washington will be placed upon the market by growers, as well as a new summer-blooming dahlia.

"The growing of lilies in the United States," said Prof. B. T. Galloway, in charge of the bureau of plant industry, "is rapidly becoming an important industry. Large quantities of bulbs have in years past been imported from Bermuda, Japan and other countries, and the demand for the flowering plants seems to be on the increase."

"Various lines of work have been undertaken and carried out by our expert, Mr. Oliver, chiefly for the purpose of securing new types of lilies by hybridizing and crossing and to demonstrate the practicability of growing lilies in this country directly from seed."

One of the most promising of the hybrids has resulted from crossing the Philippine lily and the Bermuda lily. The Philippine lily takes two months to come into bloom from the period of planting the bulb, while the Bermuda and its various relatives require in the neighborhood of five months. It was thought that there would be a great saving if the time taken to force a good Easter lily could be reduced by a month or two.

With a view of bringing this about the hybridization of the Philippine and the Bermuda lily has been effected. The result of the cross is a flower larger than the familiar Easter lily, but not quite so broad as and a little shorter than the Philippine lily.

Up to this time Americans have had to rely for a very sparse supply of Philippine lilies upon the Philippine islands, and they arrive early in the spring, when they cannot be used for forcing; but by growing them in California they can be obtained in the fall in good time for forcing into flower during the winter. The plants so far grown in California, says Mr. Oliver, do not show signs of the lily disease.

A second line of work in connection with the production of lilies has been under way in the department for the last four years. This embraces the selection of plants which show freedom from disease as manifested by spotted leaves and distorted flowers. Three varieties have been selected, all of which are well known in this country.

In connection with the work on the improvement of florists' flowers a new summer-blooming dahlia has been developed by Mr. Oliver, and, it is believed, will fill a long-felt want in supplying flowers of brilliant colors several weeks before the ordinary types of dahlias are available. The seed-bearing parent of the new race is a species discovered three years ago in Mexico at an elevation of 7,000 feet by Federico Chisholm. The plants were forwarded to the bureau of plant industry and have been crossed with the ordinary species, and as a result of these crosses more than 20 new forms have been developed.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.00 $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES

Wear W. L. Douglas comfortable, easy walking, common sense shoes. A trial will convince any one that W. L. Douglas shoes hold their shape, fit better and wear longer than other makes. They are made upon honor, of the best leathers, by the most skilled workmen, in all the latest fashions, shoes in every style and shape to suit men in all walks of life.

BOYS SHOES $2.00 & $2.50

Wherever you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach. If your dealer cannot fit you, write for Mail Order Catalog, W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

Chloroform Zoo Animals. The practice of cutting the claws of the more ferocious animals of the London zoological garden has recently been greatly facilitated by chloroforming the animals. Heretofore it was done by sheer force by a squad of men, the animal being first secured by ropes.

Social Progress. The Pilters are getting on rapidly, aren't they?

"Indeed, yes. They used to employ a washerwoman, but now they have a laundress"—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Size of North Pole. "Dr. Cook tells us that the north pole is not larger than a quarter of a dollar," says the Montgomery Advertiser. However, a quarter of a dollar sometimes looks as large as the whole side of a barn.

The next time you feel that swallowing sensation, the sure sign of sore throat, gargle Hamlin's Wizard Oil immediately with three parts water. It will save you days and perhaps weeks of misery.

After our subtlest analysis of the mental processes we must still say that our highest thoughts and our best deeds are all given to us.—George Eliot.

FOR DEEP-SEATED COLDS and coughs, Allen's Lung Balm cures when all other remedies fail. This old reliable medicine has been sold for over 40 years. 25c 50c $1.00 bottles. All dealers.

Crude. "This is crude," said John D. as he tasted oil in the milk.—Cornell Widow.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain cures wind colic. 25c bottle.

The average man is satisfied with his past if it is past finding out.

PILES A sample will relieve and demonstrate to you that Cteney's Medicated Cream will cure all forms of Piles. Send your name and address and we will mail you a FREE SAMPLE. F. J. CHENEY & Co., 1225 Adams St., Toledo, O. Manufacturers of Hall's Catarrh Cure

DO YOU READ THESE ADS?

The newspaper man says you do, but we want to hear it from you.

If you do, send us a post-card and tell us so, and to show our appreciation of your kindness, we'll send you free of charge, a handsome pair of white metal Chameleon cuff-links, oxidized silver finish.

Get out your pen and write now to

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS CO.

MAKERS OF PAINTS AND VARNISHES 710

600 CANAL ROAD, CLEVELAND, O.

Oh! That Awful Gas

Did you hear it? How embarrassing. These stomach noises make you wish you could sink through the floor. You imagine everyone hears them. Keep a box of CASCARETS in your purse or pocket and take a part of one after eating. It will relieve the stomach of gas.

CASCARETS 10c a box for a week's treatment. All druggists. Biggest seller in the world—million boxes a month.

DYOLA DYES

ONE DYE FOR ALL GOODS. If fast, brilliant colors, 10c per package at dealers. If not in stock send the staining color desired and name will be sent with direction book and color card. DYO-LA, Burlington, Vt.

DEFIANCE Cold Water Starch

makes laundry work a pleasure 15c. pkg. 10c.

The Northville Record

F. S. NEAL, Publisher.
Established.....1869.

An Independent Newspaper Published every Friday morning by The Record Printing, at Northville, Michigan, and entered at the Northville Post-office as Second-Class matter.

Terms of Subscription—One year, $1.50; six months, 50c, three months, 25c; (to new subscribers, 25c in advance). Single copies, 5c.

Advertising Rates made known on application. All advertising bills must be settled monthly; transient advertising in advance.

Notices for religious and benevolent societies, of reasonable length, one insertion free.

For Rent, For Sale, Wanted, Found, Lost, 1 cent per word for first and 10c for subsequent insertions. Marriage and death notices free.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., NOV. 19, '09.

$3 Per Column for Fake Article.

The Lansing correspondent of the Detroit Free Press gets $3 a column for sending news to that paper. That's what he got for a dirty attack last week on the state oil department. The article in question first appeared in a Lansing paper, that always has a hammer out.

The law providing for the appointment of a State Oil Inspector as well as the one providing for extra compensation for enforcing the gasoline law was passed by the legislature of 1899—ten years ago—and is identical with that on the statute books today, except that the legislature of last year placed a limit of $3 per day as the compensation for gasoline work—otherwise it might have been construed as $5 per day.

The State Oil Inspector has never rendered any bill for gasoline work and on that score no one need have any worry if he doesn't. So that the Free Press reporter's insinuations that the State Oil Inspector had any new legislation passed by the last legislature, or that he had rendered any bill for extra service for gasoline work, is a falsehood pure and simple, and the F. P. paid too much for the article even at $3 per column.

The expense of the oil department including salaries of all deputies as well as the state inspector is paid by the oil companies in fees for oil inspection at one-fifth of a cent per gallon and the department is able to turn into the state treasury each year above all this expense upwards of twelve thousand dollars.

Not only is the oil inspection remunerative for the state but through the enforcement of the kerosene laws and the gasoline act many lives are saved each year to say nothing of thousands upon thousands of dollars worth of property saved from destruction by fire.

The Record only gives this explanation space to show the quality and reliability of the news columns of some of the daily papers and to show how one of them at least was hoodwinked into paying $3 per column for a lot of fake stuff sent in to that paper because it was a knock and at $3 per

It seems the Record was in error last week in taking it for granted that the interview from Judge Carpenter published last week in the Detroit News on the candidacy of Judge Montgomery was a paid article. The Record is quite aware that the News' news columns are not for sale at any price, but the article being practically all in quotations the Record fell into the error of thinking it a sort of an advertisement. The article was printed as a matter of news and was not a paid article.

Oklahoma has 600 state banks, and all are under the law guaranteeing deposits. As there have been but two failures since the law went into operation, twenty-two months ago, and as neither failure produced any anxiety among depositors, and in no wise disturbed credits, Gov. Haskell insists that the guaranty law has done as well as its authors anticipated, and that the people would not under any consideration return to the old system of unguaranteed deposits.—Detroit News.

In other words the extravagant Lansing Republican demands that the state oil inspector be reappointed forthwith so he can draw that extra $1,000 a year.

Flint is concerned about securing a pure water supply. Pontiac had this necessity before it boasted of being a city.—Pontiac Gazette.

NORTHVILLE.

Purely Personal.

(Contributions to this column are earnestly solicited. If you have visitors, or are visiting elsewhere, drop a line to that effect in the Record Item Box in the postoffice.)

Mrs. Nettie James is visiting friends near Salem.

Mr. Bush of Detroit called on T. G. Richardson Sunday.

Miss Theo Mosher spent last week with Highland friends.

Miss Mable Stiff entertained friends from Plymouth Sunday.

Mrs. Jas. Bloom is spending the week with Detroit friends.

Mrs. Wm. Groves of Farmington spent Tuesday with Mrs. Ida Lee.

Miss Anne Jefome returned from her visit to Flint on Monday evening.

Mrs. Al. Blair of Detroit spent Saturday with Northville relatives.

Joe Taylor of Omaha, Neb., called on W. L. Bishop and family one day last week.

Miss Engler of Toledo, Ohio, spent Saturday and Sunday with Northville friends.

G. H. Cook of Detroit has been spending the week with his sister, Mrs. Cavell.

If you have visitors or are visiting some place phone the Record, 200 both phones.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Lapham left Wednesday to spend the winter in the sunny south.

Mrs. Angie Hueston returned last week from an extended stay with friends in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyon and Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong visited in Detroit over Sunday.

Mrs. Cavell and daughter have returned from a week's visit with her parents in Detroit.

Forest Ball of Flint was the guest of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Ball, one day last week.

Mrs. Geo. Newkirk of Detroit was the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Catmerole, over Sunday.

Raymond Desautel returned Saturday from a two month's visit with relatives in Paragould, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Liddell of Milford were over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Wood of Birmingham were guests of Mrs. Mary Wilkinson and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Brooks of Flint were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Brooks Sunday and Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Wigle and daughter of Detroit spent Sunday with their uncle, T. G. Richardson, and family.

Mrs. M. E. Johnson returned Saturday night from Redford where she has been nursing typhoid fever patients.

Miss Lona Allen of Detroit was the guest of her cousin, Miss Ina Smithman, from Saturday until Monday.

Mrs. John Ambler is entertaining her brother, Mr. Terry, of Rochester, N. Y., whom she has not seen in several years.

Mrs. M. J. Montgomery has returned home after a three weeks' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Crawford, in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harger and daughter, Mildred, of Detroit spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Harger.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Barley and children of Pontiac spent Sunday at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Barley.

Ben Filkins returned last week from Grassy Island, where he has been the past month in the interest of the U. S. Fish Hatchery.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Fuller of Fairport, N. Y., visited his sister, Mrs. John Burch over Sunday. Mrs. Fuller will remain for the winter.

Mrs. Esther Dymond of Kansas City, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. J. Lyons, returned to her home in the west Wednesday.

Mrs. John Chamberlain and little daughter of Detroit were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, the latter part of last week.

Clarence Clark was home from Indianapolis over Sunday. He and his family expect to move to Detroit soon which will be his headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Springer of Delray, Mrs. Mary Sprague and Miss Electa Chilson of Farmington, Mr. and Mrs. Henry German of Power's station and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simmons and Mrs. Huldah Simmons were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Simmons yesterday.

Allen, the Stove Man.

Am located in Northville and am prepared to do all kinds of repairing: Stoves, lawn mowers, clothes wringers and sewing machines. Castings for all stoves 12c per lb. in stove. Second hand gasoline stoves for sale. Phone residence, 128 x.

G. P. ALLEN.

A specific for pain—Dr. Thomas Electric Oil, strongest, cheapest liniment ever devised. A household remedy in America for 25 years.

FAMILY OF FIVE BROTHERS

ARE ALL BALL PLAYERS

Top row, Carl and Earl; middle, Grant; at the bottom Jay and Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stimpson of this place have five sons and they are all ball players. They are good players, too. Carl is a dandy shortstop and when it comes to catching, why even Schmidt hasn't so awful much on Earl. Grant is a good left fielder and Reed holds down second in fine shape. Jay is the youngest and does the twirling for the graded school nine. Some day he hopes to be a regular Mullin. It is not often that a whole family of boys get into the popular national game, but here's a good bunch of 'em anyhow.

Additional Locals.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McKahan attended a wedding in Ligonier Ind., this week.

The Peerless "500" club met with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Kohler Tuesday evening.

Arthur Murray, a former Northville boy, is state agent for the Wayne Supply Co. of Toledo has a raise in salary of from $40 to $50 a week. Mr. Murray is twenty-one years old.

The North Pole dancing party, to be given during the holidays by Prof. Scott, will be the most unique and enjoyable social affair of the season; no end of fun Peary and Cook will both be there.

Special Conclave of Northville Commandery, No. 39, next Wednesday evening. Work, Knight Templar Degree. Damascene Commandery No. 42, K. T. of Detroit will be present to confer the degree. If the weather is favorable an exhibition drill will be given on the street at 7:30. A banquet will be given after the work.

An insane woman attacked C. C. Chadwick, of this place, in the Detroit probate office one day last week and struck him on the head several times with an umbrella.

Chad hasn't any too much hair protection right where the "bumbershoot" hit and a painful bruise resulted. The woman was finally taken in hand by the guards and has since been confined at Elmore. The woman had a fancy that the probate court had her bank book and had made numerous previous visits on a like errand. Mr. Chadwick was trying to pacify her when she made the attack.

Teach Care of Babies.

Philadelphia's department of health has organized an alliance for the care of babies. Voluntary service will be rendered by 150 physicians and co-operating committees have been organized in every ward. Lectures are being given in the school buildings on Wednesday afternoons under the auspices of the Philadelphia Alliance for the Care of Babies. The campaign is under the direction of the department of public health, the board of education, the congress of mothers and the home and school league.

Art Treasures at Ostia.

A great many art treasures are being dug up at Ostia, the seaport of ancient Rome. There are some who even go so far as to say that it may rival Pompeii in the beauty of the objects which are yet to be discovered.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligation made by him by West & Traux, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio. Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

HELPLESS

Rheumatic Cripples who have tried every known remedy for their pain without success have been quickly and permanently cured by Crocker's Rheumatic Cure.

Send for the testimony of those it has cured.

Phillips Drug Co., Warren, Pa.
For sale at 50c a bottle by

"For Sale by All Druggists"

Made a Good Profit.
Lord Greenfield, being asked to buy something by a smart young matron who kept a table at a ladies' fair, said that he wanted what was not for sale, a lock of her hair. Whereupon she promptly cut off the coveted curl and handed it to him, naming the price—$100. Later the purchaser was showing his trophy to a little circle of friends. "She rather had you there," laughed one benedict. "To say certain knowledge, she only paid three dollars for the entire bunch."

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

W. L. B. CLARK'S
MILK ROUTE.
PURE AERATED MILK
Sweet and Sour Cream
Furnished on Application.

SATURDAY ONLY--1-4 OFF

On All Ladies' and Misses' Sweaters

If you need a Sweater don't let this opportunity pass.

Ladies' Fancy Aprons, dainty styles, 25c-50c
Handkerchiefs.....5c to 50c

Now is the time to get the assortment.

Thanksgiving Table Linens... 50c to $1.25
Napkins.....$1.25 to $3.00

Wall Paper Room Moulding
Pictures Framed to Order.

Fine Line Picture Mouldings from 5c to 75c per Foot.

EDWIN WHITE

Main Street. NORTHVILLE.

Your SWEETHEART

Mother, Father, Brother, Sister, Aunt, Uncle and All your Friends would like a good

Life Like

PHOTOGRAPH

of you for Christmas, and we know they make the best Xmas Present you can think of. Our styles this fall are the neatest and most attractive we have ever had. We make Photographs that are up-to-date, guaranteed and Reasonable in Price.

"Get Sepia-Platinums" if You Want Style.

If you have any Picture that needs Framing bring them up and we will frame them up-to-date.

COME NOW—DON'T BE LATE.

The Northville Art Studio

NORTHVILLE, L. L. BALL, Artist. MICHIGAN.

THE "COFFEE HOUSE" which supplies us declares we are the most particular customer it has. So we are. We have a reputation for serving a fine cup of coffee and we propose to live up to it. We have to in order to keep up to the standard of good things to eat prevailing.

C. A. GARDNER
NORTHVILLE, MICH.

L. W. LOVEWELL
AUCTIONEER
SOUTH LYON, MICH.

Special attention given to Farm, Merchandise and Thoroughbred Stock Sales.

Dates for Sales made at either Telephone Office, South Lyon, at my expense.

Terms Reasonable.
Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Oct. '09—Mar. 10.

SEMI-PORCELAIN WARE

Dinner Plates Tea Plates
Cups and Saucers Berry Sets
Pitchers Cake Plates Etc.,

A Staple Line of Every Day Wear that you can all use

TO BE SOLD REGARDLESS OF COST

We are going to close out the entire lot at 8 Cents a Single Piece

You would pay from three to four times this price for most of these pieces. Do not miss this sale; they will go quick.

Bring in Your Repair Work

Merritt & Company

Jewelers and Booksellers.

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

HUMAN MAGAZINE

Princess Rink, Northville
FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 19

An evening of Fun and Laughter can be had at the Rink Friday Night, Nov 19, when the Human Magazine will be enacted, consisting of

Advertisements
Editorials
Scientific Articles
Jokes
Fashions
Music and Real Living Pictures

Don't Miss Seeing the Dear Little Children
In their Cunning Tea Party; Tableaux and the Sun Bonnet Music Box; The Topsy Turvy Kids, and the Old Maid's Reasons.

Admission: 25 Cents and 15 Cents.
Tickets Now on Sale at Murdock's Drug Store.
Under Auspices of 3rd Division Ladies' of Presbyterian Church.

PERFUMES! NORTHVILLE.

We have a fine line and this is just the season when you want them. From 10-ct size bottle to whatever your pocket book warrants.

Murdock Bros.
DRUGGISTS. NORTHVILLE.

They ALSEIUM

MOVING PICTURES

Opera House Bldg., Northville

Four Performances Weekly
THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY EVENINGS

Matinee
Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m.
Admission, 5 Cents.

SPECIAL ATTENTION TO LADIES AND CHILDREN.

EXTRA PERFORMANCE
SATURDAY EVENING, 10 Cents
CHILDREN, 5 CENTS.

Flowers

Of Every Description
for All Occasions
Every Day in the Year

JOHN BREITMEYER'S SONS
DETROIT, MICH.

MILLER'S MEAT MARKET.

FRESH, SALT & SMOKED
MEATS.

P. A. MILLER, Propr.
109 Main St. NORTHVILLE.
TELEPHONE 11.

The City in Brief.

Next week for the ever glorious turkey.

Regular Indian Summer weather—this is not.

The Record office will only be open in the forenoon next Thursday.

Phone the Record, 200, both phones, if you know of any news.

The Fleur-de-lis whist club met with Mrs. Frank Macomber Monday evening.

The rains of Monday night and Tuesday raised havoc with the nice dry roads.

A number of young ladies have begun their work at the U. S. Fish Hatchery.

Miss Arbutus Wolf plays at the Detroit Conservatory of Music next week Wednesday.

The Regular meeting of Orient Chapter, No 77, O. E. S., will be held this (Friday) evening.

Mrs. Wm S. Jerome addresses the ladies of the Forest avenue church, Detroit, this afternoon.

Will Tinkham left Sunday for the northern woods where he joined the Seasons hunting party.

Our honored fellow citizen Eli K. Simonds celebrated his eighty-first birthday last week Tuesday.

The "First 500" club was pleasant ly entertained at the home of Mrs. C. A. McCullough Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Arnot entertained a few friends at a six o'clock dinner Friday evening.

Mrs. Geo. Brooks of Flint is having an iron fence placed around her lot in Oakwood cemetery of this place.

L. Strauss & Son, who moved to Oxford about a year ago, have decided to go out of business at that place.

Great days these at Farmer's elder mill. Barrels and barrels of the apple fluid is being extracted every day.

Next week Thursday being a holiday correspondents and others are requested to get their items in earlier in the week.

There will be a good game of football played at Athletic Park Thanksgiving Day between the Juniors and the town team.

The South Lyon Herald has been enlarged from a six to a seven column folio to accommodate the large amount of advertisers.

The moving picture show in the Opera house building is open Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday for a matinee.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. George Potts of Detroit died Saturday. The parents have the sympathy of their Northville friends.

All who have empty cement sacks please return them at once—want to make a shipment.

W. H. CATERMOLLI.

Dyspepsia is our national ailment. Burdock Blood Bitters is the national cure for it. It strengthens stomach membranes, promotes flow of digestive juices, purifies the blood, builds you up.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Human Magazine in the Rink this Friday evening. This will be a great show. Benefit of the Third Division of the Presbyterian church ladies.

The Northville "Bulldog" football team under the captainship of Fred Taft, defeated the Ralph Shafer team in a score of 6 to 0 in a hard battle Saturday.

Joe Appleton, who is working for Chas. Whipple, is said to be an expert corn husker. He can husk and crate eighty bushels of corn in nine hours, a day's work.

Regular meeting of Northville F. & A. M. lodge Monday evening, Nov. 22. The W. M. and other officers of the lodge would be pleased to have a good attendance at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Simmons, mother of Mrs. Frank Fry, fell in her room one day last week, and, although no bones were broken, she was badly bruised and has since been confined to her bed.

So far as heard from each of the party of hunters have one deer each. The Ed. Wood party captured one the middle of last week and the Charles Simmons party the latter part.

Last Friday evening about twenty young ladies gathered at the home of Miss Ina VanAllen and gave Miss Nellie Tubbs a "miscellaneous" shower. A very pleasant evening was spent.

The Methodist chicken pie social and dinner in Ambler's hall Wednesday night was a great success and the society is richer by $73.80. The spread was a real swell affair and everybody enjoyed it.

Any skin itching is a temper-tester. The more you scratch the worse it itches. Doan's Ointment cures piles, eczema—any skin itching. At all drug stores.

Thelma Ambler has been on the sick list this week.

Mrs. R. M. Johnson is gaining very slowly.

Thomas McCutcheon and family of Detroit, formerly of this place, have moved to Pontiac.

George Barley and family, who have been residents of Saginaw the past few years, moved to Pontiac this week. He is draughtsman of the Monroe Manufacturing Co.

Invitations are out for the Thanksgiving K. P. ball to be given in the rink next week Tuesday night. Music by Stone's Orchestra of seven pieces. The affair promises to be a very enjoyable one.

The Winter Night club has changed its time of meeting to Monday night. It will meet in the Ladies' Library next Monday evening and debate the question, "Resolved that football should be abolished as a sport in colleges and schools."

Miss Nellie D. Simonds, daughter of Prof. J. H. Simonds of Ventura, Cal., and niece of Mrs. N. E. Bogart, died at Los Angeles, Nov. 7. She was well known in titles of southern California as a vocalist and artist and was very active in church work.

Claud Van fell from an evergreen tree Saturday in such a manner that two of his teeth were pushed through his tongue cutting it quite badly. Dr. Turner was called and took three stitches in the injured member. The little fellow is getting along nicely.

"I have been somewhat constive, but Doan's Regulents gave just the results desired. They act mildly and regulate the bowels perfectly."—George B. Krause, 306 Walnut Ave., Altoona, Pa.

Conservative and Progressive.

Careful attention to the details of all business intrusted to this bank is one of the factors in our growth. We solicit your Savings or Commercial account and assure as liberal terms as are consistent with good banking.

MONEY TO LOAN AT 6 PER CENT.

Lapham State Savings Bank

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

AUCTIONEERING

When you are in need of an Auctioneer call on

FRANK J. BOY

Everybody's Auctioneer.

Dates made over Independent Phone, Plymouth exchange.

Terms Reasonable Satisfaction Guaranteed.

SALEM, - MICHIGAN.

Doc Says==

MEN'S CLOTHING THAT ARE 100 Per Cent GOOD.

Good Enough Doesn't Go in Our Men's Clothing Department. The Clothes we Show and Sell MUST be perfect. The best for the money every time at least 20-per cent Better than the average for the money.

Judge Our Garments by the Woolens
The Styles and the Tailoring.

When you buy here you choose from a stock such as can be found in but few cities of this size in America. Cleverest Tailoring Talent, Past Masters in the Art of Clothes Building.

DRESS IN $25.00 STYLE FOR $18.00

Here's where you save $7.00 and save it without compromising with your desire to look your best.

Merchant Tailors admit that the Good Ready-to-Wear Houses have put them off the map in styles, workmanship, material and fit—the four great attributes of Good Clothing.

BEAR IN MIND OUR $15.00 SUITS AND OVERCOATS FOR $10.00

The Dudley

A Boys' Knee Pant Suit, Strictly All Wool, Knickerbocker Style; Extra Pants of Same Material, should not be Forgotten when you want a Suit for your Boy.

REMEMBER—Our 15 years experience at the head of one of the Largest Clothing Departments in the Country put us in direct touch with the best there is in Clothing.

The Home of Kirchbaum's Good Clothes,
Carhart's Working Clothes,
The Arrow Brand Collar,
The Monarch Shirt,

The Newland Hat,
The D. & C. Looscarf Collar
The Just Right Gloves.

Wm. GORTON

77 Main Street, Whipple Store, North Side. NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

WHISPERING SMITH

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN.

ILLUSTRATIONS BY ANDRE BOWLES

COPYRIGHT BY CHRIS SCRIBNER'S SONS

SYNOPSIS.

Murray Sinclair and his gang of wreckers were called out to clear a road track at Smoky Creek. McCloud, a young road superintendent, caught Sinclair and his men in the act of jolting the wrecked train. Sinclair pleaded innocence, declaring it only amounted to a small sum—a treat for the men. McCloud discharged the whole outfit and ordered the wreckage burned. Sinclair became acquainted with Dickie Dunning, a girl of the west, who came to look at the wreck. She gave him a message for Sinclair. "Whispering Gordon Smith told President Bucks of the railroad, of McCloud's brave fight against a gang of crazed men and that was the reason for the superintendent's appointment to his high office," McCloud arranged to board at the boarding-house of Mrs. Sinclair, the ex-foreman's deserted wife. Dickie Dunning was the daughter of the late Richard Dunning, who had died of a broken heart shortly after his wife's demise, the ex-foreman's deserted wife. Dickie Dunning was the daughter of the late Richard Dunning, who had died of a broken heart shortly after his wife's demise, the ex-foreman's deserted wife. Dickie Dunning was the daughter of the late Richard Dunning, who had died of a broken heart shortly after his wife's demise, the ex-foreman's deserted wife.

CHAPTER XVI.—Continued.

The Crawling Stone river is said to embody, historically all of the deities known to mountain streams. Below the Box Canyon it flows through a great bed of yielding silt, its own deposit between the two imposing lines of bluffs that resist its wanderings from side to side of the wide valley. This fertile soil makes up the rich lands that are the envy of less fortunate regions in the Great Basin; but the Crawling Stone is not a river to give quiet title to one acre of its own making. The toil of its centuries spreads beautifully green under the June skies, and the unsuspecting settler, lulled into security by many years of the river's repose, settles on its level bench land and lays out his long lines of possession, but the Sioux will tell you in their own talk that this man is but a tenant at will, that in another time and at another place the stranger will inherit his fields, and that the Crawling Stone always comes back for its own.

The winter had been an unusual even in a land of winters. The season's fall of snow had not been above an average, but it had fallen in the spring and had been followed by excessively low temperatures throughout the mountains. June came again, but a strange June. The first rise of the Crawling Stone had not moved out the winter frost, and the stream lay bound from bank to bank, and for hundreds of miles, under three feet of ice. When June opened, backward and cold, there had been no spring. Heavy frosts lasting until the middle of the month gave sudden way to summer heat, and the Indians on the upper valley reservation began moving back into the hills. Then came the rise, Creek after creek in the higher mountains, ice-bound for six months, burst without warning into flood. Soft winds struck with the sun and stripped the mountain walls of their snow. Rains set in on the desert, and far in the high northwest the Crawling Stone lifted its four-foot cap of ice like a bed of feathers began rolling it end over end down the valley. In the Box, 40 feet of water struck the canyon walls and ice-floes were hurled like torpedoes against the granite spurs, the Crawling Stone was starting after its own.

When the river rose, the earlier talk of Dunning's men had been that the Crawling Stone would put an end to the railroad pretensions by washing the 250 miles of track back to the Peace river, where it had started. This much in the beginning was easy to predict; but the railroad men had turned out in force to fight for their holdings, and while the ranchers were laughing, the river was flowing over the bench lands in the upper valley.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Crawling Stone Rises.

So sudden was the onset of the river that the trained riders of the big ranch were taken completely aback, and hundreds of head of Dunning cattle were swept away before they could be removed to points of safety. Fresh alarms came with every hour of the day and night, and the telephones up and down the valley rang incessantly with appeals from neighbor to neighbor. Lance Dunning, calling out the reserves of his vocabulary, swore tremendously and directed the operations against the river. These seemed, in deed, to consist mainly of hard riding and hard language, on the part of everybody. Murray Sinclair, although he had sold his ranch on the Crawling Stone and was concentrating his holdings on the Frenchman, was everywhere in evidence. He was the first at a point of danger and the last to ride away from the shipping acres where the muddy flood undercut, but no defiance seemed to disturb the Crawling Stone, which kept alarmingly at work.

Above the alfalfa lands, on the long bench north of the house the river, in changing its course many years earlier, had left a depression known as Mud lake. It had become separated from the main channel of the Crawling Stone by a high, narrow barrier in the form of a bench deposited by the receding waters of some earlier flood, and added to by sandstorms sweeping among the willows that overspread it. Without an effective head or definite system of work the efforts of the men at the Stone ranch were of no more consequence than if they had spent their time in waving blankets at the river. Twenty men riding in together to tell Lance Dunning that the river was washing out the tree claims above Mud lake made no perceptible difference in the event. Dickie, though an inexperienced girl, saw with helpless clearness the futility of it all.

Terror seized Dickie. She telephoned in her distress for Marion, begging her to come up before they should all be swept away; and Marion, turning the shop over to Katie Dunning, got into the ranch wagon that Dickie had sent and started for the Crawling Stone.

At noon Marion arrived. The ranch-house was deserted, and the men were all at the river. Puss stuck her head out of the kitchen window, and Dickie ran out and threw herself into Marion's arms. Late news from the front had been the worst, the cutting above Mud lake had weakened the last barrier that held off the river, and every available man was fighting the current at that point.

Marion heard it all while eating a luncheon. Dickie, beset with anxiety, could not stay in the house. The man that had driven Marion over, saddled horses in the afternoon and the two women rode up above Mud lake, now become through rainfall and seepage from the river a long, shallow lagoon. For an hour they watched the shoveling and carrying of sand-bags, and rode toward the river to the very edge of the disappearing willows, where the bank was melting away before the undercut of the resistless current. They rode away with a common feeling—a conviction that the fight was a losing one, and that another day would see the run complete.

"Dickie," exclaimed Marion—they were riding to the house as she spoke—"I'll tell you what we can do!" She hesitated a moment. "I will tell you what we can do. Are you plucky?"

Dickie looked at Marion pathetically. "If you are plucky enough to do it, we can keep the river off yet. I have an idea. I will go, but you must come along."

"Marion, what do you mean? Don't you think I would go anywhere to save the ranch? I should like to know where you dare go in this country that I dare not!"

"Then ride with me over to the railroad camp by the new bridge. We will ask Mr. McCloud to bring some of his men over. He can stop the river; he knows now."

Dickie caught her breath. "Oh, Marion! that would do no good, even I could do it. Why, the railroad has been all swept away in the lower valley."

"How do you know?"

"So every one says."

"Who is every one?"

"Consul Lance, Mr. Sinclair—all the men. I heard that a week ago."

"Dickie, don't believe it. You don't know these railroad men. They understand this kind of thing, cattlemen, you know, don't. If you will go with me we can get help. I feel just as sure that those men can control the river as I do that I am looking at you—that is, if anybody can. The question is do you want to make the effort?"

They talked until they left the horses and entered the house. When they sat down, Dickie put her hands to her face. "Oh, I wish you had said nothing about it! How can I go to him and ask for help now—after Cousin Lance has gone into court about the line and everything? And of course my name is in it all."

"Dickie, don't raise specters that have nothing to do with the case. If we go to him and ask him for help he will give it to us if he can; if he can't, what harm is done? He has been up and down the river for three weeks, and he has an army of men camped over by the bridge. I know that, because Mr. Smith rode in from there a few days ago."

"What, Whispering Smith? Oh, if he is there I would not go for worlds!"

"Pray, why not?"

"Why, he is such an awful man!"

"That is absurd, Dickie."

Dickie looked grave. "Marion, no man in this part of the country has a good word to say for Whispering Smith."

"Perhaps you have forgotten, Dickie, that you live in a very rough part of the country," returned Marion, coolly. "No man that has ever hunted down would have anything pleasant to say about him; nor would the friends of such a man be likely to say a good word of him. There are many on the range, Dickie, that have no respect for life or law or anything else, and they naturally hate a man like Whispering Smith."

"But Marion, he killed—"

"I know. He killed a man named Williams a few years ago, while you were at school—one of the worst men that ever infested this country. Williams Cache is named after that man; he made the most beautiful spot in all these mountains a nest of thieves and murderers. But did you know that Williams shot down Gordon Smith's only brother, a trainmaster, in cold blood in front of the Wickup at Medicine Bend? No, you never heard that. In this part of the country, did you? They had a cow-thief for sheriff then, and no officer in Medicine Bend would go after the murderer. He rode in and out of town as if he owned it, and no one dared say a word, and, mind you, Gordon Smith's brother had never seen the man in his life until he walked up and shot him dead. Oh, this was a peaceful country a few years ago! Gordon Smith was right-of-way man in the mountains then. He buried his brother, and asked the officers what they were going to do about getting the murderer. They laughed at him. He made no protest, except to ask for a deputy United States marshal's commission. When he got it he started for Williams Cache after Williams in a buckboard—think of it, Dickie—and didn't they laugh at him! He did not even know the trails, and imagine riding 200 miles in a buckboard to arrest a man in the mountains! He was gone six weeks, and came back with Williams' body strapped to the buckboard behind him. He never told the story; all he said when he handed in his commission and went back to his work was that the man was killed in a fair fight. Hate him! No wonder they hate him—the Williams Cache gang and all their friends on the range! Your cousin thinks it policy to placate that element, hoping that they won't steal your cattle if you are friendly with them. I know nothing about that, but I do know something about Whispering Smith. It will be a bad day for Williams Cache when they start him up again. But what has that to do with your trouble? He will not eat you up if you go to the camp, Dickie. You are just raising bogies."

They had moved to the front porch and Marion was sitting in the rocking chair. Dickie stood with her back against one of the pillars and looked at her. As Marion finished Dickie turned and, with her hand on her forehead, looked in wretchedness of mind out on the valley. As far, in many directions as the eye could reach the waters spread yellow in the flood of sunshine across the lowlands. There was a moment of silence. Dickie turned her back on the alarming sight. "Marion, I can't do it!"

"Oh, yes, you can if you want to, Dickie!" Dickie looked at her with tearful eyes. "It is only a question of being plucky enough," insisted Marion.

"Pluck has nothing to do with it!" exclaimed Dickie, in fiery tones. "I should like to know why you are always talking about my not having courage! This isn't a question of courage. How can I go to a man that I talked to as I talked to him in your house and ask for help? How can I go to him after my cousin has threatened to kill him, and gone into court to prevent his coming on our land? Shouldn't I look beautiful asking help from him?"

Marion rocked with perfect composure. "No, dear, you would not look beautiful asking help, but you would look sensible. It is so easy to be beautiful and so hard to be sensible."

"You are just as horrid as you can be, Marion Sinclair!"

"I know that, too, dear. All I wanted to say is that you would look very sensible just now in asking help from Mr. McCloud."

"I don't care—I won't do it. I will never do it, not if every foot of the ranch tumbles into the river. I hope it will! Nobody cares anything about me. I have no friends but thieves and outlaws."

"Dickie!" Marion rose.

"That is what you said."

"I did not. I am your friend. How dare you call me names?" demanded Marion, taking the petulant girl in her arms. "Don't you think I care anything about you? There are people in this country that you have never seen who know you and love you almost as much as I do. Don't let any silly pride prevent your being sensible, dear."

Dickie burst into tears. Marion drew her over to the settee, and she had her cry out. When it was over they changed the subject. Dickie went to her room. It was a long time before she came down again, but Marion on rocked in patience; she was resolved to let Dickie fight it out herself.

When Dickie came down, Marion stood at the foot of the stairs. The young mistress of Crawling Stone ranch descended step by step very slowly. "Marion," she said, simply, "I will go with you."

CHAPTER XVIII.

At the Dike.

Marion caught her closely to her heart. "I knew you would go if I got you angry, dear. But you are so slow to anger. Mr. McCloud is just the same way. Mr. Smith says when he does get angry he can do anything. He is very like you in so many ways."

Dickie was wiping her eyes. "Is he, Marion? Well, what shall I wear?" "Just your riding-clothes, dear, and a smile. He won't know what you have on. It is you he will want to see. But I've been thinking of something else. What will your Cousin Lance say? Suppose he should object?"

"Object! I should like to see him object after losing the fight himself."

"But How Did You Ever Get Here?"

Marion laughed. "Well, do you think you can find the way down there for us?"

"I can find any way anywhere within 100 miles of here."

On the 20th of June McCloud did have something of an army of men in the Crawling Stone valley. Of these, 250 were in the vicinity of the bridge, the abutments and piers of which were being put in just below the Dunning ranch. Near at hand Bill Dunning, with a big gang, had been for some time watching the ice and dynamiting the jams. McCloud brought in more men as the river continued to rise. The danger line on the gauges was at length submerged, and for three days the main-line construction camps had been robbed of men to guard the soft grades above and below the bridge. The new track up and down the valley had become a highway of escape from the flood, and the track patrols were met at every curve by cattle, horses, deer, wolves and coyotes fleeing from the waste of waters.

Through the Dunning ranch the Crawling Stone river makes a far bend across the valley to the north and east. The extraordinary volume of water now pouring through the Box canyon exposed 19,000 acres of the ranch to the caprice of the river, and if at the point of its tremendous sweep to the north it should cut back into its old channel the change would wipe the entire body of ranch alfalfa lands off the face of the valley. With the heat of the lengthening June days a vast steam rose from the chill waters of the river, marking in ominous windings the channel of the main stream through a yellow sea which, ignoring the usual landmarks of trees and dunes, flanked the current broadly on either side. Late in the afternoon of the day that Dickie with Marion sought McCloud, a storm drifted down the Topah Topah hills, and heavy showers broke across the valley.

At nightfall the rain had passed and the mist lifted from the river. Above the bluffs rolling patches of cloud obscured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so

scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so

scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so

scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so

scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so

scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so

scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so

scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so

scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

"Yes, and Miss Dunning is with me," returned Marion. Bill staggered. "This is an awful place to get to; we have been nearly drowned, and we want to see Mr. McCloud."

McCloud, roused by Marion's voice, came forward. "You were asleep," said she as he greeted her. "I am so

scoured the face of the moon, but the distant thunder had ceased, and at midnight the valley near the bridge lay in a stillness broken only by the hoarse calls of the patrols and far-off megaphones. From the bridge camp, which lay on high ground near the grade, the distant lamps of the track-walkers could be seen moving dimly.

Before the camp-fire in front of McCloud's tent a group of men, smoking and talking, sat or lay sprawled on tarpaulins, drying themselves after the long day. Among them were the weather-beaten remnants of the old guard of the mountain workers, men who had fought the Spider Water with Glover. Bill Dunning, huge, lumbering, awkward as a bear and as shifty, was talking, because with no apparent effort he could talk all night, and was a valuable man at keeping the camp awake. Bill Dunning talked and, after Sinclair's name had been dropped from the roll, ate and drank more than any two men on the division. A little apart, McCloud lay on a leather caboose cushion trying to get a nap.

The man sent to the bridge had turned back, and behind his lantern Dunning heard the tread of horses. He stood at one side of the camp-fire while the visitors rode up; they were women. Dunning stood dumb as they advanced into the firelight. The one ahead spoke: "Mr. Dunning, don't you know me?" As she stopped her horse the light of the fire struck her face. "Why, Miss Sinclair!"

DETROIT UNITED LINES

NORTHVILLE TIME TABLE

Northville to Farmington and Detroit—
Also to Orchard Lake and Pontiac.

Cars leave Northville for Farmington and Detroit at 6:30 a. m. and every hour thereafter until 10:30 p. m.; for Orchard Lake and Pontiac at 6:30 a. m. and hourly until 1:30 p. m., and also 12:30 a. m. for Farmington.

Cars leave Detroit for Farmington and Northville at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter until 11 p. m. First car on Sundays one hour later.

Northville to Plymouth, Wayne and Detroit.

Through cars leave Northville for Detroit at 5:30 a. m. and hourly to 9:30 p. m., and to Wayne only at 11:20 p. m. Cars leave Detroit for Northville at 5:45 a. m. (from Michigan ave. barn only); also at 6:30 a. m. and hourly to 7:30 p. m., also 9 p. m. and 11 p. m.

Leave Wayne for Northville at 6:30 a. m. and hourly to 8:30 p. m., also 10:10 p. m. and midnight.

Cars leave Plymouth for Northville at 6:03 a. m. (except Sunday), 7:10 a. m. and hourly to 9:10, 10:43 p. m. and 12:23 a. m.

West bound cars to Jackson connect at Wayne. Cars for Saline connect at Ypsilanti.

FAST ELECTRIC EXPRESS

Operated over the Detroit, United Railway, Detroit, Monroe & Toledo Short Line, Detroit, Jackson & Chicago Ry. and Rapid Railway System, giving prompt express service to all points above Electric Lines.
Local express office corner Main and Briswell streets.

J. G. ALEXANDER'S FOR Nice Driving Horses and Carriages.

Just the Right, 'Nifty, Stylish, Turnouts for the right people.

Prices Reasonable

J. G. ALEXANDER
NORTHVILLE, M in Street, East.

Don't Experiment

You will Make no Mistake if you Follow this Northville Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.
If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Northville. Follow the advice of a Northville citizen and be cured yourself.
F. A. Gutherat, retired, Church street, Northville, Mich., says:
"Several years ago a severe attack of kidney trouble caused me much misery. I suffered from backache and pains in my kidneys and I was caused no end of annoyance by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply from Murdoch Bros drug store and the contents of three boxes completely cured me. I am very grateful to this remedy and recommend it to anyone afflicted with kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.
Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WIXOM NEWS.

Mrs. H. E. Richardson spent a part of this week in Detroit.

Mrs. Ray Abrams was a Walled
Lake visitor one day last week.

Frank Madison of Grand Rapids made his parents a short call Monday.

Bert Leavenworth and wife of Novi visited Mrs. Beulah Thompson
Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Fisher of New Hudson visited at H. E. Richardson's
Sunday.

Special sale on all Trimmed Hats
at McHugh & McHugh's, Northville.

GILT EDGE NEWS.

Pauline Peck spent Saturday in Detroit.

H. Myer has had a Bell 'phone installed.

Dora King spent Saturday night with her grandpa Foster.

B. Girst and family moved to their new farm near Pontiac this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Collen of Detroit spent Sunday with Rudolph Kahri.

Miss Floyd Kahri spent Saturday and Sunday with friends at Wayne.

Miss Jennie Ely of Farmington spent Saturday and Sunday at Carl Ely's.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rosbush of Detroit have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kahri and family.

John Stamman's little girl died last Wednesday after being ill but a few days with spinal meningitis.
Interment was at Livonia.

WALLED LAKE NEWS.

Miss Belle Smith was home from Pontiac a few days this week.

Mrs. Frank Angell and Agnes Hutchins were Detroit visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Kinney left for Chicago Tuesday to spend several weeks with her daughter there.

Mrs. Roy Donaldson went to Novi
Sunday to see her uncle, Edwin Hazen, who is quite ill.

Mrs. L. M. Gould has gone to Owendale to spend a few weeks with her niece, Mrs. Bernard Banfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Parmelee and
Mr. and Mrs. William Hoyt spent Sunday with friends in West Bloomfield.

Friends of Fred Woodman received cards Saturday announcing his marriage to Elizabeth Bailey of Port Huron. They will reside in Port Huron.

Special sale on all Trimmed Hats
at McHugh & McHugh's, Northville.

For Aged People

Old Folks Should be Careful in their Selection of Regulative Medicine

With advanced age comes inactive bowel movement and sluggish liver.
Nature is unable to perform her proper functions and requires assistance. Otherwise, there is constant suffering from constipation and its attendant evils. Old folks should never use physic that is harsh and irritating.

We have a safe, dependable and altogether ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitution who suffer from constipation or bowel disorder. We are certain that it will completely relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer them with our personal guarantee that they shall cost the user nothing if they fail to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy. They have a soothing, healing, strengthening, tonic and regulative action upon the dry mucous lining and the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel. They produce a natural, successive contraction and relaxation of the muscular fibres of the bowel walls, generating a wave-like motion which forces their contents onward and outward;
thus stimulating nature in perfect bowel movement. They tone up and strengthen the nerves and muscles and restore the bowels and associate organs to more vigorous and healthy activity. They may be taken at any time without inconvenience; do not cause any griping, nausea, diarrhoea, excessive loose-ness, flatulence or other disagreeable effect. Try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee: 36 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Northville only at our store.—The Rexall Store. A E Stanley & Co.

NOVI NEWS.

Mrs. P. J. Taylor is on the sick list.
Mrs. Walter Coates is visiting in Detroit this week.

P. J. Taylor spent a part of last week in Midland.

Mrs. Edwin Burt entertained company from Pinckney last week.

Mrs. Holcomb is entertaining her sister, Mrs. McCoy, and son of Flint.

The chicken pie supper served by the Methodist ladies was a decided success. They cleared over fifteen dollars.

Jay Hammond and family have moved to Wixom.

Mrs. Esther Groner has returned from her Detroit visit.

Mrs. Paulger of Midland is the guest of Miss Effie Risner.

Mrs. L. O. Banks is visiting her daughter near Milford this week.

Mrs. Huldah Simmons of Northville is visiting at the home of Wm. Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garlick of Pontiac are visiting at Mr. Atkinson's.

Silver medal contest in the Novi
Baptist church Friday evening;
Dec. 3.

Mrs. W. West is entertaining her cousin, Miss Wedhoff, of Union Springs, N. Y.

Mrs. Mary Putnam, who has been quite poorly the past few weeks, is now much better.

S. A. Palmer and daughter of Detroit visited Mr. and Mrs. L.
Wooster over Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Hamilton has a cousin visiting her from Canada. She is here on her wedding trip.

Special Thanksgiving services in the Baptist church Sunday morning, beginning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dandison spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs.
Wm. Malra, at Walled Lake.

Eugene Engies and friend, Clarence
Smith, of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs.
Edward Seelye of Farmington visited at Mr. VerDuyn's Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. Pennell of Davidsburg visited her mother, Mrs. J. Sanford, one day last week. Mr. Pennell is in very poor health.

Fred Pearsall of the Wixom-Baptist church will lead the B. Y. P. U. service Sunday evening beginning at 6:30. A good attendance is desired.

There will be a seven cent social in the Baptist church next Tuesday evening. Seven cents admittance at the door and every seventh person admitted free.

While on his way to visit a patient in the west part of town Friday night Dr. Holcomb's horse became frightened at an engine. His cart was badly broken and his horse hurt but Doc, as usual, came out at the top of the heap unharmed.

Special sale on all Trimmed Hats
at McHugh & McHugh's, Northville.

LIVONIA NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leece visited from Saturday until Tuesday with the latter's grandmother, Mrs. Eliza Peck.

The German social given at the home of Fred Lutz Saturday evening was well attended and all report a good time.

David Wolfrom, an old and respected citizen, died Saturday evening of heart trouble and was buried Wednesday.

Emma Helm and friend, Nellie Richards, of Northville visited Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Wm. Helm.

Mrs. Pankow, for many years a resident and much respected by all who knew her, was laid to rest in the Center cemetery Sunday after an illness of two weeks.

FARMINGTON NEWS.

Frazier Holtz and Ozro Murray are on the sick list.

Mr. Otis is suffering with a carbuncle on his neck.

Dr. E. F. Holcomb has purchased a model H. Carter car.

Says Harger of Chicago was a guest of his brother, L. F. Harger, and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Day Dickerson entertained the former's sister, Mrs. A.
Brown, of Plymouth Sunday.

Mrs. Amanda Burgess of Northville is spending a couple of weeks with her niece, Mrs. A. H. Phelps, while Mr. Phelps is up North hunting.

Mrs. M. A. Truscott was appointed by the Methodist Sunday school as delegate to attend the Sunday school convention at Saginaw this week.

There was a good attendance at the regular meeting of the North Farmington association on Tuesday evening, which was held at the home of Wm. Irish.

The dinner, Sapper and entertainment given by the Cemetery Improvement association was a decided success. A little over $50 was added to the treasury.

Special sale on all Trimmed Hats
at McHugh & McHugh's, Northville.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Change Of Management Sale in Our Cloak and Suit Department

Our store has been thronged with eager shoppers since we made the announcement; a few days ago, that our Cloak and Suit Dept. had been turned over to a new manager whose first step was to close out, at a sacrifice, the entire stock on hand preparatory to putting in lines of his own selection.

All Our Tailored Suits---All the Cloth and Fur Coats---All the Dresses and Evening Costumes
---All the Waists and Skirts---All the Furs---All the Petticoats---All the Children's Coats are Embraced in This Great Clearing Sale.

It is a most extraordinary opportunity, coming just at this season when women are ready to buy new apparel, and prices, in most cases, are less than manufacturing cost. Lose money on the sale? Certainly;
we won't get actual cost out of the stock, BUT WE KNOW THAT EVERY WOMAN WHO MAKES A PURCHASE WILL BE SO PLEASED WITH THE BARGAINS THAT WE ARE MORE THAN LIKELY TO HAVE HER FOR AN ALL-TIME CUSTOMER.
Come and make a personal investigation. See for yourself that the sale is bonafide, a genuine sacrifice of values. Easy to prove it; we have left the original price tickets on all the goods, so you can see what they sold for—the BLUE PENCIL mark is the SALE PRICE.

NO CONNECTION WITH ANY OTHER STORE
THE Henry Blackwell Co.
WILLARD E. PARTRIDGE, PRESIDENT.
155-157 WOODWARD AVE.

"Push the Button" and Rest

We are showing a good range of selections in these handsome, roomy "Royal" Chairs, the modern Morris chair.
In the "Royal" Chair all the comfort of the best old-fashioned rod-and-rack Morris chair is combined with convenience.

"Push the Button and Rest"

That is all it takes to adjust the chair back exactly as you want it. Simply a little pressure on the button under the right arm places the back in any comfortable or restful position you want.
With or without footrest.

FRED L. COOK & COMPANY
FARMINGTON, MICHIGAN.

Phone 323-3R DIAMOND DAIRY

Northville's Model Dairy. Everything in a strictly sanitary condition.
All milk we sell is the product of our own dairy. Our having fresh cows at all times of the year gives you a high standard of milk at all times. It is worth a few cents a week to know what you are getting.

WE ALWAYS AIM TO PLEASE.

G. C. BENTON
NORTHVILLE Proprietor.

YOUR SURPLUS FUNDS

ARE YOU DEBATING how and where you will place them to be assured of their safety and the largest interest yield possible with prudent business methods?

Let the Union Trust Company decide the question for you.

Investigate with us.

Union Trust Company
Detroit, Michigan.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Charles H. Fletcher

F. F. LIN'S
Livery, Feed and Sale Stable.
150 Bond St. 1 from All Trains.
Telephone Connection.
S. B. FERRIN, Prop.

FREYDL, The Tailor
NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

WILL YOUR TURKEY TASTE GOOD IF YOU SIT DOWN TO THE TABLE SHABBLIY CLAD? SOME PEOPLE THINK IT IS UNNECESSARY TO EAT
TO LIVE. EATING WILL MAKE YOU "EXIST"
BUT YOU MUST WEAR GOOD CLOTHES ALSO IF YOU WISH TO "LIVE." THESE THINGS WILL HELP YOU TO ENJOY YOUR TURKEY.

Here's Some Specials

THE WEATHER ISN'T RIGHT SOME WAY TO MOVE OUR SUITS AND OVERCOATS AS IT SHOULD AND SO I AM GOING TO MAKE A PRICE THAT WILL MOVE 'EM WEATHER OR NO
WEATHER:

$12.50 MEN'S SUITS FOR - - $ 8.50

$15.00 MEN'S SUITS FOR - - 10.50

NOW THESE ARE BARGAINS WORTH LOOKING

AFTER. CHEAP AT THE REGULAR PRICE; BUT THEY ARE A SNAP AT THE SALE PRICE.

$18.50 MEN'S SUITS FOR - - $15.00

THIS IS ALSO A GOOD BARGAIN.

DON'T FORGET OUR $10 OVERCOATS GOOD ENOUGH FOR ANYONE AND BETTER THAN YOU PAY $15 FOR IN DETROIT.

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD, BUT JUST SEE FOR YOURSELF. NO NEED TO GO COLD, OR TO LOOK FRAYED WHEN YOU CAN GET A REAL GOOD OVERCOAT FOR $10.