HE LIVED ONLY TWENTY MINUTES

ED. SIMONDS KILLED IN PITTSBURG EXPLOSION

Pasteurizer Boiler at Which He Worked, Blew Up.

The funeral of the late Edward Simonds, who was killed in an explosion at Pittsburgh, Pa., last week, was held Saturday afternoon from the home of his sister, Mrs. F. S. Harmon, Rev. Wm. S. Jerome officiating.

The deceased was employed as foreman in the bottling department of a large creamery and the pasteurizer, of which he always had charge, exploded, scalding him and mangling his body in a horrible manner. He lived about twenty minutes after the accident, retaining consciousness to the last.

Mr. Simonds was a member of the First Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh, an active worker and general favorite with young and old. He was also well known in Northville and his sad death was a terrible shock to the entire community. He leaves a widow, two sisters, and a host of friends to mourn his untimely death.

The remains arrived here Saturday morning accompanied by the widow, her brother, John Kinney, and F. S. Harmon, the latter having gone there in answer to the telegram announcing the accident.

Card of Thanks.

We are grateful for the genuine sympathy expressed in behalf of our son, Albert's, serious illness; also for the beautiful flowers sent him as a token of remembrance.

Jackson Likes the "Alpena Flyer" Buys Five Hundred 1911 Cars

The Alpena Motor Car Company has sold 500 "Alpena Flyers" to the Eastern Motor Sales Company, Philadelphia, for 1911 delivery. Mr. Charles L. Jackson, President of the Eastern Motor Sales Company, went to Alpena last week, made a thorough and rigid test of the Alpena Flyer Car. He personally drove the Flyer out into the country over the heavy roads and states that the rigid construction of the chassis, the power and efficiency of the motor, and the ease with which the car rides are surprising.

Ye Country Editor.

One of the hardest duties in the world is to fill the news column of a local paper with interesting items when there is really no news to write. It is far more vexing and perplexing than a person who has never had any experience in newspaper work can well imagine. The paper must come out on time, and the reading matter has to be supplied from some source. When the brain of the editor becomes weary, mind inactive and his faithful scissors dull, is it do you imagine, any child's play for him to probe the gas bags of his imagination and bring forth a column or more of original "wind" that will both edify, delight and instruct his readers? Verily the life of a country editor is full of trials, troubles and perplexities and like the wicked, he is doomed to not live out half his days.

Give Home the Preference.

In all our dealings whether large or small we should always give home the preference. There are people who either from habit or error in judgment, make a business of going away from home to do their trading. Likewise skilled labor that they may have to do; and in the latter case they frequently employ those whose knowledge of the trade or profession is very inferior to that obtainable at home, and in many instances pay total strangers for poor workmanship more than home talent would ask for guaranteed work. And while we would not curtail the liberty of any one in this connection, we would suggest that they consult their own interests at least those of a mercenary character, and especially where by so doing they can favor a neighbor or a friend. We can afford to pay a little more for things we have to sell when we know that the money involved in our home transactions (or, at least, a portion of it) will remain in our midst and doubtless contribute something to our neighbor's welfare, and possibly return to swell our own pocketbooks.

The proposition to bond the county for $2,000,000 for good roads is meeting with much more favor than was first anticipated. That sum looks big at first glance, but when it is taken into consideration that the city of Detroit will pay over eighty per cent of it and at the same time the county will practically get all the major part of the benefit it doesn't look like such a bad proposition.

This matter was gone over quite thoroughly last week in an article written by James A. Dubuar, of the Union Manufacturing Co. of this place. The idea seems to be that if enough money can be made available right away, a vast amount of good roads can be completed at once instead of a little patch work here and there every year, which really is not very beneficial to anyone, from the fact that it is impossible to get on or off the parts of good roads that are completed because of the bad parts before you get to it and after you leave it. By another year the Grand River road into Detroit will be very passable and if the road commissioners can have enough money out of these bonds to finish the work up and then bring other roads into these main thoroughfares, instead of having the poorest roads in the state, Wayne county will have the best.

WAS YOUR GRANDMOTHER A GOOD COOK?

Fifty years ago your Grandmother was successful in her baking in spite of many handicaps. In her day Baking Powder was a novelty. She was glad to pay 50 cents a pound for it. Since her time modern improvements have reduced the cost of manufacture until a much better Baking Powder is produced for only one-third the money. Still one having powder must ask you to pay the old high prices today for the same old-style Baking Powder. K. C. BAKING POWDER combines the best of everything in materials, quality and scientific skill to make the most perfect of all Baking Powders. Remember—K. C. Baking Powder—guaranteed under all Pure Food Laws. And the price—25 cents for a 25 ounce can!

With a lot of neighbors sending in flower, fruit, etc., etc., (the etiquette means cake, pie and a few other side dishes) and a nice freckle faced, rosy cheeked, blond haired nurse to take care of you, an attack of grip wouldn't be such a bad thing after all, if it wasn't such a spiteful, cranky, ache sort of disease.

M. A. Porter has been in the employ of the attorney general's office for a month past in the collecting of evidence in behalf of the state's case of defence with the telephone companies. The telephone companies have brought suit against the state to show that they were being discriminated against and for that reason were trying to show a defect in the law. Mr. Porter helped the state tax commission in its assessment of the telephone companies a year ago and his evidence in behalf of the state is considered very valuable by the attorney general's office. Mr. Porter expects to finish his work this week.

Some newspaper men are terrible liars. In writing of a cyclone out west one of them said it turned a well inside out, a cellar upside down, moved a township line, blew the staves out of a whiskey barrel and left nothing but a bung hole, changed the day of the week, blew a mortgage off a farm, blew all the cracks out of a fence and knocked the wind out of a politician.

Mary had a little lamb, its fleece was white as snow, it strayed away one day, where lambs should never go. And Mary sat her quickly down and tears streamed from her eyes; she never found the lamb because she did not advertise. And Mary had a brother John who kept a village store; he sat him down and smoked a pipe, and watched the open door. And as the people passed along and did not stop to buy, John still sat and smoked his pipe and blinked his sleepy eyes. And so the sheriff closed him out but still he lingered near, and Mary came to drop with him, a sympathetic tear. How is it, sister, can you tell, why other merchants here, sell all their goods so readily and thrive from year to year. Remembering her own bad luck the little maid replies. "These other fellows get there John, because they advertise."

Health officer Dr. T. S. Murdock says that inasmuch as no typhoid cases have developed in Northville for two years that he believes there is no danger from Northville's present water supply. "For drinking purposes," Doctor Murdock adds, "it is always advisable to boil all water."

Superintendent Wilkinson of the Water Works system says the supply springs are in first-class condition, they having recently been all cleaned up. The reservoir does need its annual cleaning though it is now in as good condition as usual at this time of the year. Arrangements have already been made to give it a thorough cleaning this month.

Advices Boiling City Water.

Editor Record—I take this opportunity of stating that on examination I find the city water polluted with Colon germs and would seriously advise citizens who are using the city water to boil the water for drinking purposes.

To those who are not familiar with germs I will say that Colon germs and typhoid germs are identical and cannot be told apart under the microscope except by a staining process.

We do not consider Colon germs very dangerous to health but where you find Colon germs in drinking water you are very liable to find typhoid germs, in fact, they seem to co-exist.

I was unable to isolate any typhoid germs in the samples examined but had no difficulty in making cultures both in gelatin and beef bullion.

The germs may go on and develop with amazing rapidity or they may suddenly disappear but to be on the safe side it would be advisable to use boiled water for the present.
