WILL IT COME TO THIS?

GOODLY SIZED

VOTE CAST

NORTHVILLE VOTERS OUT IN FULL FORCE.

Good Roads Bond Question "Yes" by 2 to 1.

There was a good big vote cast Tuesday. Just 120 voters were polled and it rather kept the voting machine busy about every moment during the entire day. Just before five o'clock there were forty voters waiting in line, but they all got in which at the little silver bell.

Offices still for Register of Deeds carried off the lead at vote, getting a vote of 131 while Wadsworth lagged off 33; Another 62; Ulrich 32; and Wedemeyer 31. Wedemeyer's opponent had made a campaign here, one of which ended in a meeting last Saturday night, which probably accounted for Weddy's losing three votes.

John-born for governor received 261 to Lemans 152; Wedemeyer 320; Sieben 98, Snell 418; Anderson 98; Burnham 300, Downing 116. The balance of the ticket not otherwise mentioned.

A Few of Huff's Hints About Stove Buying

You want the worth of your money—surely. But, can you tell the real worth of a stove on sight?—it's difficult—and it's so easy to make mistakes.

Then Why Experiment

Select a Stove absolutely warranted by a past record—one that commands the confidence of the majority of stove buyers—that the majority have proven to be the best. That is infallible evidence of superiority; your best assurance of worth; an absolute guarantee of Quality.

"Huff" keeps only this kind of a line of Stoves in stock.

The First Thanksgiving.

The first fixed and official day of Thanksgiving was held in the year 1665. In the old public records of the court of Connecticut we find the following order which the court issued on October 12, 1665, appointing a day of general thanksgiving.

This court doth appoint a solemn day of Thanksgiving to be kept throughout this colony on the last Wednesday of November, to return praise to God for His great mercy to us in the continuation of our liberties and privileges both Civil and Ecclesiastick, and for our peace and preventing those troubles that we feared by foreign enemies and for the blessings in the fruits of the earth and the general health of the plantations."

It will be noted that the appointed day was Wednesday instead of Thursday, as we now celebrate. The spelling is odd in many cases.

The newspaper man is blamed for a whole lot of things he can't help, such as using partially in mentioning visitors, giving news about some folks and leaving others out, etc. He simply prints all the news he can find. Some people inform him about such things and others do not. An editor should not be expected to know the names and addresses of all your uncles, aunts and cousins, even if he should see them get on or off the train. Tell me about it. It's news that makes the newspaper, and every man, woman and child can be associate editor if they only will. Never apologize when you give this bit of information to an editor, for if there lives one so dead that he has lost his appreciation of such favors he is dead, indeed, to every virtue that impresses you to a paper.

School Notes.

(By a Pupil.)

The First graders are learning Thanksgiving gems.

Stanley Stimpson entered the Kindergarten Nov. 8.

Iva Hinch visited in the Seventh grade last Wednesday.

There are forty-two pupils belonging in the Kindergarten now.

There has been no tardiness in the First grade so far this month.

The First grade have learned a new song "Thanksgiving Day."

Andrew Berden of the Kindergarten is absent on account of sickness.

Louis Spinks of the Fourth grade was out of school a few days this week.

The Seventh grade had on Tuesday in their own room and many now hold offices.

Mrs. Woolley, Miss Weller and Miss Winkler were Eighth grade visitors one day last week.

Alexander Kidd of the Second grade was absent last week on account of sickness.

Last Friday Ralph Taylor of the Second grade broke his nose while playing on the school ground.

The A division of the First grade are reading in the new Aldine readers this week for supplementary work.

The Sixth grade pupils are reminded daily of Thanksgiving by a drawing of a turkey put on their board by Miss Cole.

The Fourth grade A's are still "enjoying" the multiplication tables by the use of several schemes for getting them.

The Seventh grade were very sorry to lose Harry Kator, who has moved to Detroit, from their number. We shall miss his smiling face.

The baskets have been removed to the hall and the practices from now on will be carried on there. Both teams are showing up well.

The new furnace is being installed in the grade building and by next week we hope to have it in working order. No more vacation days then.

The Eighth grade had a "state election" in their room last Tuesday each nominee having to give the duties of his or her office before being qualified for office.

The Trigonometry class is surveying the school ground by using the various walks as boundaries. These walks consist of curves, and angles galore. It looks as though the work would be interesting.

There will be an extraordinary jubilant program at the Abteilum Theatre this (Friday) evening for the benefit of the Sophomore class. They are looking for a well filled house so you had better come early.

The class who expect to graduate from the Eighth grade next June have chosen for their class officers:

President, Lila Alexander; vice-president, Anna Sowles; secretary, Marlow Power; treasurer, Harry Morris.

The names of the Kindergarten pupils who have been neither absent nor tardy during the year are: Mildred Lily Wyland Pepper, Hazel Sowles, Arthur Stowe, Doris Stark, Irene Thompson and Gwendolyn Taylor.

Do not forget the first basketball game of the season next Friday night when Holly will play here. The game will be interesting and Coach Miller assures us that interesting things may be expected although the team will consist to quite an extent of new men. There will also be a girls game in connection.

The scholars from the grades taking German in the High school have formed themselves into a Junior Deutscher Verein with Wendal Miller as president. They meet at the High school twice a week and by themselves at other times when their whole conversation is in German.

They have many plans for their future work which will be interesting and at the same time instructive.

The School Savings bank deposit for last week was $19.99 being a great deal smaller than the previous week.

Owing to two days absence, Thursday and Friday, on account of the new furnace being installed, the deposit will be very low this week.

The deposit by grades was as follows: Kindergarten $1.17; First $2.26; Second $1.87; Third $2.67;

Fourth $6.68, Fifth $2.26, Sixth $1.50; Seventh $1.95; Eighth $1.00, High school $7.35.

A Civic club has been formed among the boys whose purpose is to make a study of the civic conditions in our country, state and county as well as in other countries. The course as outlined at present will consist of:

2nd—A study of graft.

3rd—A study of the great statesmen of the six periods of American History.

4th—A study of the Progressive Movement in the various parties of this country.

5th—Study of the Progressive Movements in other countries as England, Germany, Spain, Portugal, Russia, China and Turkey.

6th—Study of Roosevelt as an exponent of this theory and as a modern statesman.

7th—Study of national politics and policies.

8th—State policies.

9th—County policies.

10th—Township and village policies. Some work will also be done by means of the questionnaires which will be sent out with the boys.

The church furnace and chimney have been put in good condition for next Sunday.

The sermon next Sunday evening will be on "Wanted Members for the Ansuls Club."

How a Northville Citizen Found complete Freedom from Kidney Troubles.

Henry Priest, Mill St., Northville, Mich., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills with gratifying results and have great confidence in their curative powers. Several years ago I was annoyed by a severe backache which made it hard for me to work. Doan's Kidney Pills had previously been used in my family with great benefit and deciding to try them, I procured a supply at Murdock Bros.' Drug Store. Soon after finishing their use, my backache disappeared and now I am free from the trouble." (Statement given November 26, 1906.)

On March 1, 1909, Mr. Priest was interviewed, and he said: "I am pleased to confirm the statement I gave for publication three years ago recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. Since this remedy cured me I have had no need of a kidney medicine."

PORT HURON VOTES FOR NEW SYSTEM

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT CARRIES AT SPECIAL ELECTION BY A MAJORITY.

MAYOR AND FOUR COMMISSIONERS WILL RUN THE CITY AFTER JANUARY 1 NEXT.

Many Offices Will Be Abolished Under the New Form of Government.

Port Huron has taken its place in the ranks of the cities which have adopted the commission form of government. The vote polled Saturday was lighter than was anticipated, but a majority was returned in every one of the 11 wards, excepting two favoring the adoption of the new plan. The majority was 764.

With the adoption of the new form of city government the next move will be to hold a primary election at which candidates for mayor and commissioners will be voted for. The eight men having the highest number of votes will go before the people again in an election to be held later in December, and from this number the four having the highest number of votes will become commissioners. The two candidates having the highest number of votes at the primary for mayor will also go before the people at this election, and the one polling the highest number of votes becomes mayor and head of the commission.

For the primary election it will be necessary for the candidates to file petitions and the regular routine will be followed as in the regular primary elections.

Under the new form of government the city administration is to be in charge of the mayor and four commissioners. There will be abolished the office of city controller, the water works department, public works department as at present conducted, city council, board of estimates and a score of minor boards. One commissioner will look after the parks and public works another will have supervision over the police and fire departments and another over the financial affairs of the city.

The city clerk and city treasurer will be appointed by the board. The city controller's office will be merged with that of the city clerk and the water board's duties will come into the city treasurer's hands.

There is still a mass of detail to settle but it will not take long to form with the commissioners and the mayor are elected. This will be done in December and the new regime will become a live issue.

Fraternals-Societies at War

With a view to offsetting attacks upon their reputation, the ladies of the Modern Maids in holding their great executive monthly reunion at the Hotel Teller in Detroit gave their final stamp of approval to a resolution making explicit charges against the ladies of the Macbeths of the World and other affiliated organizations of inflation and other unchristian conduct, more particularly since the order was created last June.

The booklet will be issued to the 70,000 odd ladies of the Modern Maids throughout Michigan. As both members of the ladies of the Modern Maids are also members of the Sister order, the battle rages on.

Flint Gets After the D. U. R.

The Flint police department ordered a D. U. R. construction gang to stop erecting wooden trolley poles on Detroit street. A recently granted franchise stipulated that steel trolley poles were to be used in paved streets and the authorities said it was the evident intention of the D. U. R. to get up the wooden poles at night. Two poles were ordered taken down by the police.

Horticulturists to Hold Session.

Horticulturists from all over Michigan will meet in Benton Harbor December 6, 7 and 8, for the annual convention of the Michigan State Horticultural Society. The meeting last year was held at Kalamazoo the new executive committee being appointed to select the next place of meeting.

While the program has not yet been announced it is known that it will contain the names of several experts on fruit culture known in the state.

Commissioner Barry Resigns.

James J. Barry, insurance commissioner of Michigan since 1901, resigned his resignation to Gov. Warner to take effect on Nov. 15, when he will become the head of the bureau of public safety for the Casualty Insurance Companies of America with offices in Detroit.

This does not mean however, that Mr. Barry will leave Lansing. He expects to continue to reside there.

Mrs. Loretta Ann Little, 88, of Saginaw who fell downstairs a few weeks ago, died Thursday from the injuries received.

The Van Camp Packing Company of Indianapolis, Ind., will erect a $500,000 building at Adrian to house a condensed milk factory. One hundred and forty thousand gallons of milk a day will be used.

There are not as many men employed in Saginaw county corporations as there were in 1909, 1,124. This fact was brought out at the annual report of Nine Inspector Dave, just made to the head of supervisors. There are now at work in Saginaw, Central, Penn P. Bray, as Syd Australia, arranging the completion of arrangements for a new steamship service to San Francisco. A boat will leave Auckland, N. Z. every four weeks or 13 times a year.

A genial looking gentleman wanted an empty bottle in which to mix a solution, and went to a chemist's to purchase one. Selecting one that answered his purpose he asked the shopman how much it would cost. "Well," was the reply, "if you want the empty bottle it will be a penny, but if you want anything in it you can have it for nothing." "Well, that's fair," said the customer; "put in a cent."

STOPPED SHORT

Taking Tonics, and Built Up on Right Food.

The mistake is frequently made of trying to build up a worn-out nervous system on so-called tonics—drugs. New material from which to rebuild wasted nerve cells is what should be supplied, and this can be obtained only from proper food.

"Two years ago I found myself on the verge of a complete nervous collapse, due to overwork and study, and to illness in the family," writes a Wisconsin young mother.

"My friends became alarmed because I grew pale and thin and could not sleep nights. I took various tonics prescribed by physicians, but their effects wore off shortly after I stopped taking them. My food did not seem to nourish me and I gained no flesh nor blood."

"Reading of Grape-Nuts, I determined to stop the tonics and see what a change of diet would do. I ate Grape-Nuts four times a day, with cream and drank milk also, went to bed early after eating a dish of Grape-Nuts."

"In about two weeks I was sleeping soundly. In a short time gained 20 pounds in weight and, felt like a different woman. My little daughter whom I was obliged to keep out of school last spring on account of chronic catarrh has changed from a thin, pale, nervous child to a rosy, healthy girl and has gone back to school this fall."

Grape-Nuts and fresh air were the only agents used to accomplish the happy results.

Judges Back Dr. Shumway.

Dr. F. W. Shumway, secretary of the state board of health, who was charged last week with receiving two salaries from the state contrary to law, has secured the opinions of Judge R. H. Person and Judge Edward Cahill, of Lansing, on the question. Both the jurists have answered that the law does not prohibit Dr. Shumway from drawing salaries both as secretary of the state board of health and of the board of registration of nurses. The law states that he may not receive extra compensation for work in connection with either of the offices, it is explained, but may draw pay for work separate and distinct from them.

Burns to Death in Fire.

George J. Stevens, an employee of the Peerless Portland Cement company, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the factory of the company at Union City, entailing a loss of $15,000. The fire originated from a small stove and the flames went beyond the control of the village fire department. The warehouse, which was 200 by 100 feet, was consumed with $30,000 worth of cement packed in barrels ready for shipment and much valuable machinery.

Both the commissioners of the state and the city of Union City are to be blamed for the adoption of the new plan. The majority was 764.

With the adoption of the new form of city government the next move will be to hold a primary election at which candidates for mayor and commissioners will be voted for. The eight men having the highest number of votes will go before the people again in an election to be held later in December, and from this number the four having the highest number of votes will become commissioners. The two candidates having the highest number of votes at the primary for mayor will also go before the people at this election, and the one polling the highest number of votes becomes mayor and head of the commission.

TOWNSEND WILL GO TO SENATE

Republicans Have Majority in Michigan Legislature.

OSBORN ELECTED GOVERNOR

Contest Ends in Favor of Republican State Candidate—Changes in the Congressional Delegation.

Secretary of State..... Fred C. Martindale
Treasurer..... Albert E. Sleeter
Auditor General..... O. B. Miller
Attorney General..... Franz C. Kuhn
Land Commissioner..... Huntley Russell

Chase S. Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie, former railroad commissioner, was elected governor of Michigan by a plurality of 50,000. The entire Republican state ticket and all but a score of Republican candidates for the legislature also were victorious. This insures the election of Townsend as senator.

In the last legislature, there were only two Democrats, both in the lower house. In the next legislature, there will be two Democratic senators, and dozen Democratic representatives.

On the Republican candidates for congress, all but two seem to have been successful. The result in the first district, Detroit, where Congressman Edwin Denby made a campaign for re-election defending the Payne tariff, the high cost of living, the stand-pat forces in congress in general, and Speaker Cannon in particular whenever he was called upon to mention the speaker's name, will not be definitely known until late. If he has been returned his majority has been cut to a comparatively small figure. Two years ago it was 9,000.

In three congressional districts besides the first the Democrats made a fight. In the fifth Representative Dickey took a bold stand on the Payne law. Edwin F. Sweet defeated his Congressman Sam W. Smith in the sixth district, pulled through by a majority much smaller than he has been accustomed to.

Want Reports From Companies.

Lensing—How the great mining corporations of the upper peninsula have prevented the state from obtaining any knowledge as to the value of their properties, is developed by a statement by Secretary George Lord of the state tax commission in telling of a bill he proposes to introduce at the coming session of the legislature if he is elected to membership of that body from Detroit, his home city.

While the railroads, telegraph and telephone companies, and other great corporations of the state are required by law to file annual reports which must show in detail the value and condition of their properties, the mining companies, or some of them, file reports which Secretary Lord says are absolutely valueless to the state.

In determining how to assess these mines, so extensive are the reports of the railways and telephone and telegraph and express companies, that the sheets are bound together in book form, while the miners file only a two page report which Secretary Lord says is little noteworthy, because of the utter lack of information it furnishes regarding the corporations. He proposes that the mines shall send in similar statements to the bulky railway reports. Those filed by the others are used to determine what their assessments shall be. Abstracts are made from the reports and this data is furnished local assessing officers for their assistance in determining what valuation should be placed on the property of those corporations not assessed under the ad valorem tax law. Were similar reports filed by the miners, it is pointed out, the state would then have a basis for actually determining whether their owners are paying their share of the expenses of government.

The conditions which Secretary Lord's statements set out clearly also bring well out into the open the effectiveness of the fortifications which the miners have had in the state. Session after session of the legislature there have been various and sundry assaults upon every other class of corporation property in the state.

Central Wheat Best in State.

The October crop report issued by the department of state shows the average condition of wheat in the state to be 98. In the southern counties it is 97, in the central counties 100 and in the northern counties 99. The average in the upper peninsula is 92. Farmers marketed in October a total of 274,753 bushels.

Fertilizer for Wheat Fields the Vogue.

According to the crop report issued from the secretary of state's office, 20 per cent of the farmers in the state have used fertilizer on their wheat this fall. This is by far a greater percentage than ever before in the history of the state. The estimated yield of wheat in the state is given as 99 bushels per acre and corn 32. The yield to clover seed this year is below the average for past years. Wheat is reported in fine condition throughout the state and is given as 98 of a full crop.

Total of 25 Dead From Smallpox.

In his daily report to the state health department, President Turner of the Saginaw board of health says that one new case of smallpox developed, and there was one death.

There have been 25 deaths, he adds and there are 35 cases in the city—51 in homes and the rest in the detention hospital.

Plague conditions, he concludes are more favorable on the whole than they have been.

Religious Side Not Overlooked.

Never before in the history of the University of Michigan has there been a greater effort upon the part of the University, Y. M. C. A. and the different churches of the city to get into close touch with the students, and to attempt to bring into their lives a deep religious undercurrent than there is this year.

There are always calamity howlers; there are always ministers who will get into their pulpits and preach that it's only the strongest student who can graduate from our big universities and colleges and come out with as firm a religious conviction as they had when they entered as freshmen four years before, and, of course, there are fathers and mothers who will always hesitate to allow their children to go to a college or university, or to any school away from home, except to some denominational institution.

It would seem that these fathers and mothers and ministers of the Gospel were made from much the same kind of material as the old maid who wrote: "I take my pen in hand to drop you a line, to tell you that I am in miserable health and hope you are enjoying the same great blessing."

There are people in this world who do not care for misery in health, who enjoy funerals, who glory in the fact that the world is going to the dogs, and who just simply know that the father and mother who send a son or daughter to the university of any state for an education are paving the path for that child to go straight to perdition, through losing all reverence and all faith in things holy and good.

It was only last year that a Detroit clergyman, out of his own pulpit and preaching in the state, told fathers and mothers that they were laying the stepping stones to hell for the feet of their children to speed down the chute on, when they sent them to the University of Michigan, alone without their protecting care.

Now the fact of the matter is that there is more attention paid to the moral and religious welfare of two thirds of the students who are attending the U. of M. than is paid these same students in their own homes.

In the very first place, there are 1,600 students of the U. of M. who are members of the University Y. M. C. A., and it's an actual fact that a goodly percentage of these young men were never members of the Y. M. C. A. in their home town. Score one for the religious work and saving grace in a university town.

Insurance Head Barry Resigns Job.

James V. Barry, insurance commissioner of Michigan since 1901, tendered his resignation to Governor Warner to take effect on November 15, when he will become the head of the bureau of publicity for the Casualty Insurance companies of America with offices in Detroit.

This does not mean, however, that Mr. Barry will leave Lansing. He states that he expects to continue to reside in Lansing. The news of this action by Mr. Barry comes as something of a surprise to his many friends, but it was not entirely unexpected. They have expected ever since he turned down an offer made by the New York Life companies for his services several years ago that ultimately he would be tendered a position which he could not refuse.

The bureau of publicity, just organized, is an organization composed of about two score of the casualty insurance companies of America. The list includes companies transacting various lines of casualty insurance.

In speaking of Mr. Barry's resignation, Governor Warner said: I can not claim the credit for Mr. Barry's first appointment as commissioner of insurance, but I do not hesitate to state that I have rendered the people of Michigan a distinct service in keeping him in that position through the three terms of the present administration."

For Perjury Is Given One Year.

Robert Gachter was sentenced by Judge West to serve from one to fifteen years in the Michigan reformatory at Ionia for perjury in connection with the justice court examination of Allie Andrews, who was charged with having stolen an automobile belonging to Gachter. Mrs. Andrews was arrested on the same charge after the justice court examination of her husband. He pleaded guilty and was released on suspended sentence.

"Ghost Money" as Gift.

Each delegate at the Y. W. C. A. convention was presented with a piece of Chinese "ghost money" at the annual banquet, as a gift sent especially for the convention from representatives in China. Miss Su Wang, a Chinese student present, explained that "ghost money" is purchased by the natives when a death occurs in the family in order to purchase for the deceased liberty from Hades.

WOULD BE OF MORE VALUE

Father O'Leary's Facetious Rejoinder to John Philip Curran an Example of Real Wit.

One day the famous John Philip Curran, who was also very partial to the said corned mutton, did me the honor to meet him. To enjoy the society of such men was an intellectual treat. They were great friends and seemed to have a mutual respect for each other's talents, and as it may easily be imagined, O'Leary versus Curran was no bad match.

One day after dinner Curran said to him: "Reverend father, I wish you were St. Peter."

"And what counselor would you wish that I were St. Peter?" asked O'Leary.

"Because, reverend father, in that case," said Curran, "you would have the keys of heaven, and you could let me in."

"By my honor and conscience, counselor," replied the divine, "it would be better for you that I had the keys of the other place, then I could let you out."

Curran enjoyed the joke, which he admitted had a good deal of justice in it.—From Kelly's Reminiscences.

AN INTOLERABLE ITCHING

"Just about two years ago, some form of humor appeared on my scalp. The beginning was a slight itching but it grew steadily worse until, when I combed my hair, the scalp became raw and the ends of the comb teeth would be wet with blood. Most of the time there was an intolerable itching, in a painful, burning way, very much as a bad, raw burn, if deep, will itch and smart when first beginning to heal. Combing my hair was positive torture. My hair was long and tangled terribly because of the blood and scabs. This continued growing worse and over half my hair fell out. I was in despair, really afraid of becoming totally bald.

"Sometimes the pain was so great that, when partially awake, I would scratch the worst places so that my finger-tips would be bloody. I could not sleep well and, after being asleep a short time, that awful stinging pain would commence and then I would wake up nearly wild with the torture. A neighbor said it must be salt rheum. Having used Cuticura Soap merely as a toilet soap before, I now decided to order a set of the Cuticura Remedies—Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills. I used them according to directions for perhaps six weeks, then left off, as the disease seemed to be eradicated, but toward spring, eighteen months ago, there was a slight return of the scalp humor. I commenced the Cuticura treatment at once, so had very little trouble. On my scalp I used about one half a box of Cuticura Soap and half a box of Cuticura Ointment in all. The first time I took six or seven bottles of Cuticura Pills and the last time three bottles—neither an expensive or tedious treatment. Since then I have had no scalp trouble of any kind. Standing up with my hair unbound, it comes to my knees and had it not been for Cuticura I should doubtless be wholly bald."

"This is a voluntary, unsolicited testimonial and I take pleasure in writing it, hoping my experience may help someone else. Miss I. H. Brown, R. F. D. 1, Liberty, Me., Oct. 29, 1909."

Aunt Pardon's Scheme

By LAWRENCE ALFRED CLAY

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press

When Aunt Pardon arrived at the home of her sister in a New England village on a certain date she was met at the depot by her niece, Miss Jean Travers, who had tears in her eyes. When she reached the house she was kissed by her sister, who had tears in her eyes. A little later she was welcomed by Mr. Travers, who looked grim and determined.

It did not take the little old woman more than half an hour to discover that something in that family was out of joint, and to demand an explanation. She was told to get ready to hear something awful.

Miss Jean had been away to school in Boston. She knew that, because being rich, and because Miss Jean was her favorite, she was paying the bills. What had the girl done, just as she had arrived at that point where she could almost ask for gumdrops at the store in French, but fail in love?

She had not only fallen in love with a young man, but she had failed to notify her parents by special delivery letter. Further, she had broken a rule of the school. On her arrival there, she had been told in the plainest of plain English that under no circumstances must she fall in love with a man, either old or young, while to write or receive a note was an offense so heinous that it could possibly be overlooked. All this was as nothing to what was to come. Aunt Pardon must square herself in her chair and keep from fainting in love, if she could.

Miss Jean had written notes—little pink notes. She had received notes—little robin's-egg notes. And some, of these notes had got into the hands of Miss Boneset, the president of the school, and by her had been sent to Miss Jean's parents. And now the earth was about to tremble. Aunt Pardon would tremble with the earth.

Miss Jean had been caught when on the verge of eloping with the young man aforesaid. She had her window up, and was about to descend a rope ladder when she was seized and hauled back. She was talked to for the rest of the night and sent home next morning. It was the most flagrant case Miss Boneset had encountered in her fifty years of maidenhood, and she must make a shining example of the guilty party.

There it was, and what bad! Aunt Pardon to say about it? Had she ever, in her whole life, heard of such a thing? She replied that she had—just one case, and she knew exactly the remedy for it. Then, in turn, she asked what was the matter with the young man. Neither father nor mother could exactly tell, and Miss Jean had locked herself in her room.

The fact of the matter was that Mr. Travers had been speculating and made a lot of money, and was going to keep on speculating and making more, and for the honor of the family he wanted the daughter to make a good match. There was no reason why she shouldn't marry a lord instead of an adventurer. Other girls had done it, and why shouldn't Jean?

The girl's story told amid tears and in the privacy of her room, differed somewhat. Yes, she had written and received notes, but he was such a lovely young man! There was a rope ladder, but one of the girls had dared her to descend it. Perhaps she might have met the young man and told him to go away, but she certainly had no thought of eloping.

"Do you know what I'm going to do?" asked Aunt Pardon of the heads of the family after a day or two. "I'm going to take Jean and go down to Atlantic City for a month. I need the sea air, and she needs to forget this young man. I've read that there are always from ten to fifteen lords hanging around there, and I'll bet my old shoes she captures one of them. There'll be your money and my money left her, and she'll go off like hot cakes. The biggest relative we've got is only a member of the legislature, and I believe they are investigating him for grafting. I'd kind of like to be aunt or something to a lord to see how it seems."

Miss Jean was ordered to make ready for the trip. She demurred a little and shed a few tears. She wasn't told in so many words that it was an excuse to further separate her from her young man, but she figured out things pretty well for herself. She might have jumped off the barn or down the well and made her parents lots of trouble, but when the time came she went along as hunting as Mary's little lamb.

Aunt Pardon was a huntress. If her sex had had the right to vote she would have been governor of the state years before. Four hours after reaching Atlantic City she was promenading the boardwalk looking for a lord. Miss Jean wasn't. She was still chaste; and it was not for her to go galloping around like a young colt.

For three days Aunt Pardon looked for her lord. She got all the papers and scanned the hotel arrivals. She didn't find one, but she was not disengaged.

On the fourth day, after considerable argument, she persuaded Miss Jean into a promenade. It was for the girl's health. It was also to show her off to the sight of any stray lord. At one point of the walk the railing had been carried away by the waves kicked up by a heavy storm. The drop down was twelve feet, and pedestrians hugged the far side in passing. Aunt Pardon can't remember to this day just how the thing came about. Of a sudden, Miss Jean was seized with vertigo and went staggering toward the gap. Several persons screamed. The aunt was petrified. An old man waved his cane. She must have taken the drop but for the young man who rushed forward and caught her and swung her to safety. He didn't wait for thanks. He thrust his card into Aunt Pardon's hand and modestly disappeared. The vertigo disappeared at the same time, and Miss Jean did not require the ambulance to get back to the hotel.

"If he isn't a lord then I'm an old turnip," said Aunt Pardon to herself as she looked at the name on the card. "It says Guy Livingstone, but that of course is his incog. Nobody but a lord could have jumped in the way he did. Why, he seemed to be waiting right there for the chance to do something heroic. That's where lords differ from other folks. I didn't see him write the name of his hotel on the card, but here it is, and he must receive a note of gratitude and an invitation to call."

Such a note was written. It was written by Miss Jean, and she concealed her blushes as she wielded her pen. And that she hummed to herself. It was her first hum for many days.

The incog called. He was a gentleman, he was good-looking, he was entertaining. He didn't say right out that he was a lord, but he couldn't fool sharp old Aunt Pardon. He was asked to call again, and he said he would be charmed. He did call, and one day, a month later, Aunt Pardon sat down to write a letter to her brother-in-law in New England, and among other things she said:

"So you speculated and lost all you made, eh? Well, I've made a fool of myself, too. That incog lord I wrote about has turned out to be the very chap Jean was going to elope with. She must have got him down here. He says he's bound to marry her, and she says she'll drown herself if she can't marry him, and as he has more money than both of us put together, and has no relative under investigation for graft in the legislature, I guess we'd better make the best of it.
