Mr. and Mrs. Cardona will reside here.

METHODIST CHURCH MAY LOSE PASTOR

REV. J. W. TURNER MAY NOT RETURN TO NORTHVILLE.

Ill Health of Wife Will Keep Him in Chicago.

Word is received from Rev. J. W. Turner that the continued ill health of Mrs. Turner will in all probability preclude his returning again to the pastorate of the Methodist church at Northville.

Northville people will very much regret to lose Mr. and Mrs. Turner from their midst and the church society will also miss them. Mrs. Turner has been in Evanston for a number of weeks caring for her wife and she is slowly improving in health.

District Superintendent, Allen will send a supply to the church for a week or two until the official board can make a permanent selection, or Mr. Turner decides to come back.

LATER.—A letter from Mr. Turner, received by the Record since the above was put to type, states that he will visit Northville over Sunday and will have charge of the services. He will engage in Y. M. C. A. work in Chicago during his three months' leave of absence, pending Mrs. Turner's recovery.

It's Practical Result.

With a parcels post system the country merchant will find life one grand, sweet song, according to Postal Progress Cowles. He won't have to carry any stock to speak of, for in most cases samples will do the business. Then he won't have any dead stock, for he will never have to anticipate the wants of his customers, but merely fill them day by day through orders to the big cities and direct mail deliveries to his customers. In other words, the present small town store with its ample stocks is to be wiped out and in the place of country merchants we are to have mail-order agents. Of course, anybody can be mail order agent, since it requires neither character, ability nor capital. But when the parcels post age arrives (we are assured that it's on the way) won't the consumer find it just as satisfactory to do his own ordering direct instead of paying the mail order agent (the store-keeper out of a job) a profit for handling the business? "Why pay the middle man" etc.

The parcels post boomers can talk and quote and mis-quote figures from now until the crack of doom, but they absolutely cannot disprove the statement that a parcels post system would concentrate commerce and population in the few big cities at the expense of the smaller centers. The scheme has had this effect in every country where tried and it would unquestionably produce a similar result in America.

Home Trade Advantages.

At this time in the year the great mail order houses of the cities make unusual efforts to attract trade from the smaller cities and rural communities. For these who are inclined to be tempted by the costly and highly suggestive catalogues of these houses which are to be had for the asking, it would be well to remember that the home merchant—not only in business to secure their trade this fall but next spring and next year, that he has a reputation to maintain and a business standing to live up to that is a guarantee of fair treatment all the year round. Remember that your home merchant doesn't sell you a one looking range for $40 that will warp out of shape inside of a year, that he doesn't charge you $20 for a $10 suit of clothes; that his stability in trade is based upon his truthfulness and the satisfaction with which his goods wear and perform the service required of them. His trade is limited to his immediate neighborhood and he does not have the entire United States to attract customers, changing from one section of the country to another with his attractive advertising as soon as his welcome is worn threadbare.

D. A. D. A. SHOW WILL BE HUMMER*Coming Auto Exhibition at Detroit Attracting Attention.*MANY NEW CARS TO BE SHOWN

Wayne Pavilion, the largest exhibition hall in the state, will be open Saturday, January 21st, 1911, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. The dealers are limited to 400 square feet of floor space.

The state of Michigan holds foremost rank in this country in the manufacture of automobiles. This country is making more machines than any in the world, so Michigan is known universally as the chief producer of automobiles.

In view of that fact it is not strange that the coming show of the Detroit Automobile Dealers' Association, to be held at Wayne Gardens, Detroit, Jan. 16 to 21, is attracting even greater attention than the displays in New York, Chicago and elsewhere. Being in the very center of this mammoth industry, the Detroit show will have access to the latest things in the automobile. The men who make the cars reside in Detroit and they are taking unusual pride in giving their home city the best they can produce.

The Detroit show will be held in Wayne Pavilion, the biggest exhibition hall in the state and one of the greatest in the middle west. The pavilion will afford 30,000 square feet of display space exclusively of aisles, corridors and ante-rooms. The exhibits will be displayed on the main floor and in the balcony, there being no side rooms nor annexes to detract from the general scheme of arrangement.

The D. A. D. A. in years past has largely gone the limit in auto shows, but this year has planned an exhibition that so far surpasses anything heretofore that previous efforts seem tame. Nothing has been omitted and the dealers took so kindly to the show that if three times as much space had been available it would all have been taken weeks in advance. It was the management returned to a dealer amounting to $25,000 to deal with who were unfortunate in not securing locations when space was allotted. There was such a demand along this line that dealers were invited to 100 square feet and locations were awarded by lot. Those who drew the high numbers found it impossible to get their cars on view.

An elaborate decorative scheme has been selected which will turn the Wayne Pavilion into a summer garden. To accomplish the work on schedule time will require the services of 200 persons exclusive of those employed by the individuals whose cars will be on display. But, everything will be in readiness when the turnstiles commence to click Jan. 16, at 7 p.m. The D. A. D. A. never has failed to open promptly and completely, a feature overlooked by many expositions.

It is a noticeable fact that this year especial attention is being given by all manufacturers to commercial cars and to cars used for utility purposes. Makers of the lighter machines selling from $750 to $1,500 have been devoting much time and attention to cars that can be used jointly for pleasure and business. In the smaller towns and in the country this branch of the business has enjoyed a growth unparalleled in the history of the industry. Dealers generally recognize the fact that the small town, proportionately, has more autos than the big cities with the possible exception of Detroit and Cleveland, which stand alone as record owners. Detroit alone has over 7,800 autos in constant use upon its streets, while Cleveland boasts more than 8,000. This condition has been brought about largely through the fact that so many cars are made in these two cities. In other cities where the business is not local the auto does not have the same grip that it does in the villages and even on the farms.

The economy of auto trucks in comparison with horse power is the chief thing that has recommended the gasoline carts to those who live removed from street cars. Few roads are too muddy to block the progress of a good truck, whether it is a small one at $1,200 or a mammoth six-ton affair at several thousands. When the lighter vehicle is not used for business purposes the box at the rear is replaced with a set for passengers, and the family and friends go out for a spin. The D. A. D. A. show will display an unusual number of cars of this class, and the visitor whose inclinations run to cars will have ample opportunity for getting new ideas along the lines of economic operation.

New Office, Office for Collector Co.

The Cole Motor Sales Co. has opened for its Michigan business a new branch salesroom at 1880 Woodward Avenue, one block north of the Grand Boulevard, in Detroit. The new salesroom is in charge of Otto A. Seestedt, and Charles Seestedt, both practical and competent men with wide experience in the automobile trade. Their aim will be to push not only the sales of the Cole "30" cars, but to take care of all Cole "30" owners in a manner that will justify the trust placed in them as representatives by the Cole Motor Car Co. The stability and performance of the Cole cars are familiar to everyone who follows motor history, and in the annals of the speedway from Los Angeles to Brighton Beach, the Cole name is indelibly written beside those of cars rated at twice the horsepower, and selling at three times the price of the Cole "30". The history of the Cole "30" achievement is one continuous tale of success against fields of much larger cars, designed essentially for speed. In endurance tests Cole "30s" stayed until even the incredulous were forced to recognize their powers of endurance.

There is more diarrhea in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and scarcely seemed to notice it, but recently it has become a constitutional disease and thereby requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Hayes & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. Doan's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are always lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Northville people testify to permanent cures.

A. M. Piper, Center St., Northville, Mich., says: "I cannot say too much in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had occasion to see this remedy about a year ago when I was suffering from a severe attack of kidney trouble. My back was so lame that I could hardly get around and if I sat down for awhile, it was almost impossible for me to get up. When I stooped or lifted, sharp shooting pains darted through me. The kidney secretions were highly colored, extremely unpleasant and were painful in passage. The contents of three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills pronounced at Murdock Bros' Drug Store, completely cured me and I have been in good health since. I can certainly give this excellent preparation a strong endorsement."

CONSTIPATION

Man's Paw Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not occur; they do not grip; they do not weaken, but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation.

Munyon's Paw Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverish it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no calomel, no opium, they are soothing, healing and stimulating. They school the bowels to act without physic. Price 25 cents.

REPUBLICANS TO PUSH MANY BILLS

Determined to Accomplish Much Before They Give Up Control of Congress.

DEMOCRATS RATHER WORRIED

They Fear Four States Will Elect Reactionary Senators and Hurt Party's Prospects—Weeks May Lead Taft's Renomination Campaign.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington.—When congress came together immediately following the holiday recess, it found itself confronted with a stupendous amount of work which it was necessary to accomplish within a time limit of eight weeks. It is true that the appropriation bills are in pretty good shape for early passage, but there are other matters of legislation which the Republican majority is determined to attend to before losing control of the house; and then there are the Lorimer and the Ballinger-Pinchot matters to be disposed of, both of which are likely to be provocative of acrimonious and long drawn out debate.

The Republicans are determined apparently to secure quickly the enactment of the Longworth tariff commission bill. The present majority party hopes by means of a tariff commission law to cause trouble for the Democrats when they are laying plans for tariff revision next winter. The Republicans hold that the country will object to tariff revision of any kind except in accordance with the recommendations of the tariff experts and that the Democrats if they attempt such revision will meet with rebuke.

Democrats Will Be Cautious.

It is perhaps needless to say that the Democrats do not show any great fear that there is likely to be a fulfillment of the Republican prophecy, but nevertheless they are going to approach tariff revision with a great deal of caution and it is known that the country obtains in many parts of the country of keeping little children at work in the factories for eight, ten and even twelve hours a day.

The method of dealing with the matter which has been proposed is to do the right of goods made in factories where little children labor to enter into interstate commerce. Some lawyers hold that this is not within the power of the national lawmakers, while others hold to the contrary, saying such an act would not be unconstitutional.

Weeks May Manage Taft Campaign.

The debate on the Longworth bill promises to be one of the most interesting which has held the attention of congress for many years. Of course in a measure it will be a tariff debate, but it will have an interest apart from the customs because of the known direct bearing which the enactment of the measure will have upon the future. The Republicans are banking on the creation of a genuine tariff commission to help them win the presidency in 1912, while the Democrats are banking on their ability to show that the contemplated legislation is only a late day effort of the Republicans to "save their bacon."

Army Wants to Learn to Fly.

Congress will be urged in the army appropriation bill to provide money to give the signal service corps of the United States an opportunity to experiment with the aeroplane as an engine of warfare. Every other great nation of the earth has a large fund at the service of the army for use in flying experiments. The United States officers complain that they are deprived of the means to keep abreast of the officers of other countries and that if the time of need should come and find them unprepared blame would be put upon their shoulders which properly should belong to congress.

The army has an aeroplane, but it has only one, and it has no funds by which properly to use the single flying machine which it holds in possession. One or two army officers have resigned from the service because they were denied opportunity to continue a line of aerial experimentation and investigation in which their interest was deep. These officers who have left the service were considered those best equipped by experience to develop the aeroplane as an instrument of surpassing ability.

There are men who say that there is no other Republican in the country who knows political conditions in all the sections so well as does the junior senator from Massachusetts.

The president always has consulted Senator Crane and if John W. Weeks is made chairman of the Republican national committee it will be on the advice of his fellow Massachusetts man, the junior senator. Mr. Crane holds the key to the situation, but there is a good deal of doubt as to whether or not he will finally give his adherence to Mr. Weeks.

Democrats Are Perturbed.

The non-partisan observer, who comes to Washington at the present time ought to have some little enjoyment, because of the perturbation manifested by some of the Democrats over the senatorial situation in some of the states where the party has succeeded in electing legislatures. Radical Republicans admit that the Democracy in the lower house of congress thus far has made valiant and seemingly successful attempts to secure harmony in the ranks, with a fair prospect of having the compact of peace continued in force when full control of the house passes into the Democratic keeping. There are so-called radical Democrats and conservative Democrats in congress, just as there are radical and conservative Republicans, and the line of separation between them is very much like the line which separates their opponents, the Republicans.

The radicals and conservatives of the present minority party have been amitiating recently with every evidence of good fellowship and of well-grounded intention to go head on the road of accomplishment arm in arm. What the Democrats here fear is that the Democracy of the states of New York, New Jersey, Ohio and West Virginia will select men as United States senators who are known for their reactionary tendencies.

FEAR EFFECT ON NEXT CAMPAIGN.

For the sake of adding strength to the next national campaign, the Democrats now in official life here would prefer that men known neither as rampant radicals nor yet as reactionary conservatives should be sent to the senate from the four states named. The Democrats have declared themselves in congress as being members of the real party of progress. On occasion many of them have joined with the insurgent Republicans to secure what they consider to be salutary changes in the rules, and, in one or two cases, salutary changes in legislative measures.

These leaders say that the country looks upon the Democratic party as really progressive, but that if four reactionary Democrats are sent from four great states of the Union to represent the party in the upper house of congress the effect will be exceedingly bad and that even with the impetus given by the recent victory the party may have trouble in winning in 1912.

Democrats in the Washington service say freely and publicly that the state leaders ought to be guided to some extent by the national events of the last few years and should not allow men of a type which thinks that the "clock ought to be set back."

PLAN NEW ATTACK ON CHILD LABOR.

There is a plan on the way to development to bring again before congress in an aggressive way legislation intended to correct the evils of child labor. Some years ago Senator Beveridge introduced a bill to which he gave the best of his efforts. The idea was to put a stop to the practice which obtains in many parts of the country of keeping little children at work in the factories for eight, ten and even twelve hours a day.

The method of dealing with the matter which has been proposed is to do the right of goods made in factories where little children labor to enter into interstate commerce. Some lawyers hold that this is not within the power of the national lawmakers, while others hold to the contrary, saying such an act would not be unconstitutional.

Weeks May Manage Taft Campaign.

It seems to have been accepted as a fact by some of the politicians of both parties that John W. Weeks, a representative in congress from Massachusetts, is to be the next chairman of the Republican national committee succeeding Frank H. Hitchcock, who now holds that of the Senate in connection with his unusual position of postmaster general.

With Mr. Weeks' accession to the chairmanship of the state Republican party he should be accepted in a fact it is hard to say, for as yet there is nothing yet but gossip and rumor and a trifling bit of activity back of the report. Mr. Weeks conducted an able campaign on behalf of himself in Massachusetts at the recent election and he succeeded in winning the contest the outcome of which was admitted in advance to be extremely doubtful. The Massachusetts man, however, has had no wide experience in national political affairs and this, combined with some other things which are sharply pertinent to the present situation, makes it seem doubtful to some of the more acute party leaders whether or not the congressman will be called to the helm of the party ship.

TAFT WILL RELY ON CRANE.

It can be taken for granted that from now on Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts will be one of the close, if not the closest, political advisers of President Taft, who as the country knows is in the field definitely as a candidate for re-election. Mr. Crane has peculiar political capabilities. He never was able to make a speech which would affect more than passing attention, but he is an organizer and a bringer together of factions of surpassing ability.

There are men who say that there is no other Republican in the country who knows political conditions in all the sections so well as does the junior senator from Massachusetts.

The president always has consulted Senator Crane and if John W. Weeks is made chairman of the Republican national committee it will be on the advice of his fellow Massachusetts man, the junior senator. Mr. Crane holds the key to the situation, but there is a good deal of doubt as to whether or not he will finally give his adherence to Mr. Weeks.

MURRAY CRANE.

Murray Crane, who will soon large in the next Republican campaign probably as a "manager" without campaign office, is known as the "Great Compromiser," a title which was given to the dead and gone Henry Clay. Mr. Crane, however, is no Clay, and perhaps it is modest for him not to pretend to be, but he is one of the shrewdest politicians in the Republican party and it is a man of his stamp rather than a great statesman whose services are required by a party that wants to win victories and especially by a party which must forge to the front handicapped by a recent and, as some people declare it, crushing defeat.

DEMOCRATS ARE PERTURBED.

The non-partisan observer, who comes to Washington at the present time ought to have some little enjoyment, because of the perturbation manifested by some of the Democrats over the senatorial situation in some of the states where the party has succeeded in electing legislatures. Radical Republicans admit that the Democracy in the lower house of congress thus far has made valiant and seemingly successful attempts to secure harmony in the ranks, with a fair prospect of having the compact of peace continued in force when full control of the house passes into the Democratic keeping. FLAX IS PROFITABLE

Wonderful Paying Proposition in Western Canadian Prairies.

So much is heard of the wheat, oats and barley grown in the prairie lands of western Canada, and so much has been told of the wealth to be made out of the raising of cattle on the succulent and rich grasses of those fertile plains, that a most important product has been almost lost sight of, flax. Recent press reports advise us, that, on one of the last boats to clear from Fort William, (at the head of Lake Superior) for Buffalo, there were 241,000 bushels of flax valued at $583,220, and on another boat leaving the same day there were 258,000 bushels valued at $720,000. There has been a big demand for Canadian flax this season, and the market movement has been very heavy. Flax is always a sure crop, and gives to the farmer who is anxious for quick return after getting on his land, the chance he is looking for. There is opportunity for thousands yet, on the free homesteads of 160 acres, and many of these are available within short distance of the lines of railway that are already built or under construction, either on the main line or branches. Besides these free grant lands there is an opportunity to purchase from railway and land companies at reasonable prices.

Not only this, but the splendid herds of cattle are a source of large revenue.
