A NEW PASTOR FOR BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. T. J. MURDOCK FROM BLOOMINGDALE

Has Already Moved His Family
Here.

Rev. T. J. Murdock has moved here from Bloomingdale, Michigan, to take charge of the Baptist church and as soon as his household goods arrive they will all be settled in the parsonage to welcome and be welcomed.

The Bloomingdale Leader has this to say of Pastor Murdock:

"The Baptist church was well filled Sunday evening when Rev. T. J. Murdock preached his farewell sermon attending one of the colleges.

"It is not often that a pastor remains as long in one place as Mr. Murdock has here and, bold the good will of all the people, but by his friendly ways and the excellent manner in which he prepared and delivered his sermons he has held the esteem of the citizens of the village, and the church has never been in a more united and prosperous condition at present. The best wishes of the entire community go with them."—Bloomingdale Leader

A New One.

The "card of thanks" published after a bereavement is not supposed to be of a humorous nature, but that it sometimes suggests laughter instead of tears is illustrated in this case of the woman who published the following card in her local paper: "To all the friends and neighbors who assisted in the illness of my husband who escaped from me by the hand of death last Friday I offer my thanks, and will be glad to do as much for them at any time. Will also say that as I am about to remove to another town I will sell a young roan mare and a fresh cow very reasonable together with other household furniture. God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform."

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our sincere thanks to the many friends and different societies for their kindness and many expressions of sympathy to the loss of our mother.

Recommends Law to Provide
Gravity Test for Gasoline.

The annual report of the state oil inspector, Frank S. Neal, shows that during last year 24,003,745 gallons of kerosene was inspected, the biggest year's work in the history of the department. The total fees collected were $48,286, of which $17,668 was turned into the state treasury after paying all the expenses of the department.

The state inspector recommends a law requiring a gravity test for gasoline which will insure to users of lights, stoves and automobiles the knowledge of what they are buying. He suggests that such a law could be passed, which would not require any inspection or any additional expense, but simply require oil companies to furnish their customers a certificate at the time of delivery of gasoline showing the exact gravity test and making it unlawful for them to sell anything lower than the legal test, which should be not less than 61 gravity when the liquid is at a temperature of 60 degrees F.

Bust of Early English Bishop
A sculptured bust of an early bishop has been discovered in the Clarendon Hills. It is beautifully cut in Sicilian marble, which has been rendered almost chalk by age; and the figure suggests that it may represent Paulinus, the great apostle of Christianity to Northumbria in 625 A.D., who stayed in the Cheviot district at Yeavering, where King Edwin had a palace.—London Telegraph.

ABOUT THE EDITOR.

How the Small Boy Regarded Him.

Following is an essay written by a school boy, who evidently was on the "I don't know how newspapers came to be in the world, and I don't think God knows, for he ain't got nothing to say about them in the Bible. I think the editor is the mite-est thing we read of and stayed in the bushes until the good and then came out and wrote the things up and has been there ever since. I don't think he ever died. I never saw a dead one and never heard of one getting licked. Our paper is a mighty good one but the editor goes without underclothes all winter and don't wear socks and pants 'till paid his subscription since the paper started. I asked pa if that was why the editor had to suck the juice out of snowballs in the winter and go to bed when he had his shirt washed in summer.

"Then pa got mad and took me out in the woodshed and licked me awful hard. If the editor makes mistakes folks say he ought to be hanged, but if the doctor makes a mistake he burys them and people doesn't say nothing because doctors can read and write Latin. When the editor makes mistakes there is law suits and swearing and a big fuss, but if the doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers, and a perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anybody knowin' what it means, but if the editor uses it, he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife, he charges the man for the visit but if the editor should go he gets a charge of buckshot. Any college can make a doctor to order, but an editor has to be born."

How to Make Better Cough Syrup Than You Can Buy

A Family Supply, Saving $2 and Fully Guaranteed

A full pint of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $2.00—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of an obstinate cough more quickly, usually ending it inside of 24 hours. Excellent, too, for whooping cough, sore throat, asthma, hoarseness, and other throat troubles.

Mix 1 pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2/3 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

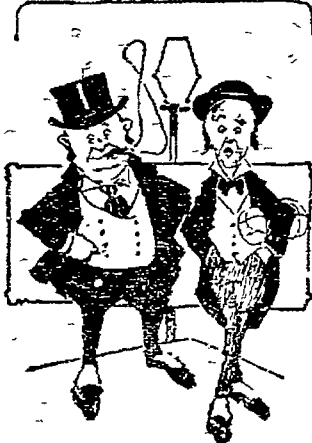

This is just laxative enough to help cure a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which is usually upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membrane of the throat is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gualic acid and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe is now used by thousands of households throughout the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. Write to the Pinex Co., 264 Main St., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

NURSE TELLS OF SKIN CURES

"I have seen the Cuticura Remedies used with best results during the past twenty years. In my work as a nurse, many skin diseases came under my observation, and in every instance, I always recommended the Cuticura Remedies as they always gave entire satisfaction. One case in particular was that of a lady friend of mine who, when a child, was afflicted with eczema which covered her face and head. After trying everything and failing, she was cured by the Cuticura Remedies which cured her. I have also seen them cure children of ringworm. The children's faces would be all crusted and ringed around the cheeks, and the neck and after treatment with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment they were completely cured. My husband had rheumatism on his arm and I used the Cuticura Ointment. It gave his arm as limber and nice, whereas it was quite stiff before I began to apply the Ointment."

"Last May I had an ingrowing toe nail which was very painful, as the side of the nail was edging right down in the side of my toe. I cut the nail out of the cavity it made, and of course applied the Cuticura Ointment to the part affected. It soothed it and in less than ten nights it was all healed through constant use of the Ointment. Ten days ago I had my left hand and wrist burned with boiling lard, and Cuticura Ointment has completely cured them. I have just recommended the Cuticura Remedies to another friend, and she is pleased with the results and is recovering nicely. I will gladly furnish the names of the people referred to above if anybody doubts what I say." (Signed) Mrs. Margaret Hederson, 77 Highland Ave., Malden, Mass., Oct. 1, 1910.

THE LEGISLATURE AND ITS WORK

GOVERNOR OSBORN AND SENATE ARE SEPARATED BY A VERY WIDE CHASM.

THE SENATE PUT ONE OVER ON THE HOUSE, SO THERE WILL BE NO JUNKET.

Major and Minor Things That Are Taking Place in the Legislative Houses.

(By L. C. Ward.)

The week in the legislature wound up with the breach between Gov. Osborn and the senate growing wider. The governor has shown a disposition to hold a grudge against the senators for their action in turning down his appointments and this has come to the notice of the senate. The result has been that harmony of a lasting nature is growing further away every day. On Thursday the governor sent to the senate a special message in which he called attention to the great number of employees on the senate payroll and he urged that action be taken towards a reduction in the number. Without comment the senate referred the message to the state affairs committee where, earlier in the day, had been referred three resolutions aimed at doing away with a portion of the expense of running the senate. There the whole proposition will be allowed to slumber unless there should be a change in sentiment and an effort made to take the matter from the committee.

"Senate Queered the Junket."

The upset of the junket proposition in the legislature has been that the senate fooled the house by concurring in the resolution going away with the old-time junkets, and now the house is very wroth at the fact that the members are to be cheated out of the trip to the upper peninsula. In the place of the old time junket the ways and means committee of the house and the finance committee of the senate will handle the whole proposition and such members to the various institutions as are really needed to look into the wants of the institution.

Father Ogg.

Rep. Ogg has been picked by Gov. Osborn to take a number of bills down away with what the governor considers a "father" of the legislature. Among the bills he has introduced are the bill to amend the act relating to the election of judges, and the bill to amend the act relating to the election of judges.

The Game Laws.

As usual some bills are to be introduced in the legislature this week. Among the bills introduced are the bill to amend the act relating to the election of judges, and the bill to amend the act relating to the election of judges.

Employers' Liability Bill.

Rep. Laves, who has come from the copper country, presented two bills to the house affecting the liability of employers in the case of dangerous employment. One abrogates the fellow servant doctrine so far as it applies to the operation of mines and the other is statewide in its application. A number of other bills along the same line are coming in and the promises to be one of the most important matters which the legislature will consider at its session.

Contaminating Streams.

Rep. Charles Waters of Saginaw is after the paper companies by his way again, having introduced a bill giving the state board of health greater powers in the matter of regulating the dumping of refuse in the streams of the state. This matter received considerable attention two years ago when it was shown that the dumping of the refuse from paper mills and beet sugar factories had killed off all the fish in a number of the rivers of the state.

Woman Suffrage Talk.

The woman's suffrage proposition is to have its chance on the floor of the house at least, the committee on amendments to the constitution of the house having reported favorably on the amendment to the constitution giving the women the right to vote. There is little chance of its passing, however, as the senate is pretty sure to sit on the bill even if it should pass the house.

Pensions for Teachers.

Rep. Verdier introduced a bill in the house this week which is of great interest to the teachers throughout the state. It provides for a pension for all teachers who have taught 30 years in the state, the pension to amount to one-half of the average salary of the pensioner for the last five years before becoming eligible to the pension. The fund from which this retirement money comes is to be provided by a registration fee paid each year by the teachers, the fee to be $1 on each $500 in salary received by the teacher.

Taxation of Mines.

The question of the taxation of mines will be threshed out at a public hearing to be held by the house taxation committee on February 7. Representatives of the mining companies have been invited by Chairman Lord and they promise to be present. The members of the legislature who have introduced bills relating to the taxing of mines will also have a chance to be heard. The bills, besides the tonnage tax measure, include one taxing mineral reservations and another taxing mining royalties. The last one, however, has little chance of passing as practically all the mining contracts have a provision which throws the tax burden on the operator making it impossible to reach the fee owner.

In connection with the agitation for the taxation of mining property, the coal mines of the state are also to be reached. They are practically in the same condition as the copper and iron mines, so far as avoiding taxation is concerned. All of them are operated on a royalty basis, the farmer under whose land the coal lies receiving a price per ton for allowing the mining companies to take it out. No tax is paid on the coal but a land tax the same as other farm land and the mining company only pays taxes on its surface buildings. Their case will be considered with the other mining properties.

The Liquor Committee.

Rep. Chas. H. Waters, of Saginaw, heads the house liquor committee for the third time and Phil Marsh, the lobbyist of the anti-saloon league, doesn't like the proposition very well. Waters is distinctly a wet, and doesn't care who knows it. In the house in its makeup is about evenly divided, however, and contains a number of men who have made a special study of the liquor question and who are well able to handle it. Rep. Warner, joint author with Rep. Clanton of the Warner-Crampton bill, is a member and the others are Reps. Perry, Strangut, Martz, Currie, Pearson, Lord and Raubrough, the latter the Democratic member.

Senator Frank D. Scott, of Alpena, favored a resolution in the senate this week which is of prime importance to the farmers particularly, and the state generally. He has asked for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the Michigan State Fair with a view of laying the state to acquire the property. The contention of the senator, who he does not credit with the present management of the fair, is that the educational features are entirely subordinate to the side show and race track features. It is his idea that the state should conduct the fair and that he is a philanthropist and industrial feature should be the main part of the fair. The plan is to be introduced in the senate and Gov. Osborn is in favor of the plan.

Favor Income Tax.

Rep. Laves and other copper country members have introduced a bill to amend the act relating to the election of judges, and the bill to amend the act relating to the election of judges.

Chihuahua Official is Captured.

Reports from Chihuahua, south of El Paso, where fighting has been going on for some time, are to the effect that the rebels have been completely annihilated. A large force of Mexican federal troops, commanded by Gen. Huerta, according to reports, has captured a large force of rebels and has taken them to the city of Chihuahua. The rebels were a force of 200 men and were armed with rifles and machine guns. They were captured on the night of January 20, 1911.

Mrs. Martin Gets Seven Years.

Seven years in state's prison was the sentence imposed on Mrs. Martin for the part she played in the death of O'Connell. She was found guilty of murder in the first degree and was sentenced to life imprisonment. The court, however, took pity on her and reduced her sentence to seven years.

Rep. Bricker, of Iowa, will introduce a counter bill which will stand a better chance of passage, in which he will provide for a specific tax upon the net value of the ores after they have been mined. This will be more in keeping with the recent action of the State Charge, which provided for a specific tax upon ore taking into consideration the cost of mining and the grade of the ore.

Rep. C. M. Green, of St. Clair, has introduced a bill in the house which will give to druggists the right of appeal to the courts from the decisions of the board of pharmacists. It is charged the board has heretofore taken away druggists' license without reasonable cause and without bringing charges against the druggist.

Rep. Averill, of Kent, has introduced a bill to prohibit the placing of bill boards in cities or the passing of pictures or other advertisements on houses, barns or other convenient places.

Rep. Holland, of Gogebic, will introduce a bill providing for the popular election of inspectors of iron mines. The bill of Senator James and Rep. Lucas, which is now up for its third reading in the senate, provides only for copper mines.

William Leighton, of Grand Marais, wants the legislature to appropriate all the money it can for the construction of a wagon road from Grand Marais to Seney. The Marquette road has recently stopped running trains, and pending the coming in of the Cleveland Cliffs Co.'s road the people want a good wagon road at least by which they may make connections with the trains.

Senator Rosenkrantz, of Shiawassee, has introduced a bill providing for an appropriation of $110,000 for the Michigan Industrial School for Boys.

TAFT DESIRES TO AVOID WAR

PRESIDENT DECLARES HE FAVORS FORTIFYING CANAL STRIP AGAINST HOSTILE NATIONS.

NO RESTRICTIONS IN TREATIES TO PREVENT THE PROPOSED FORTIFICATIONS.

It Must Be Fortified if U. S. Is to Be Able to Carry Out Promise to Keep Canal Neutral.

President Taft made a new speed record by running up from Washington, writing a speech on the way, attending two dinners and starting back for the capital a little after the day's end. He arrived in New York on the Pennsylvania Washington express a little after 6 o'clock, jumped into an automobile at the Pennsylvania's new station, and in a jiffy was shaking hands at the Pennsylvania Society's reception which preceded the society's dinner in the Hotel Astor. He dined with the society, gave them his views on the necessity of fortifying the Panama canal, and then made a quick trip to the Hotel Martineau, where he made a short speech to the guests and members of the Press club dinner. A little later he was back on board the private "Gea" Mayflower, which was attached to the Washington bound train that left at 12:30 a. m.

President Taft's speech is accepted as the opening of an earnest campaign on his part for the fortification of the Panama canal. His entire speech was devoted to this subject. He has high hopes that congress at this session will declare in his favor and appropriate $5,000,000 to begin the work.

In the senate the president has been told the sentiment in favor of fortification is almost two to one. The house seems evenly divided, but not along party lines. Most of the members appear to have an open mind, however, and are willing to be convinced by the side that makes the better presentation of its case. President Taft will bring all of his influence to bear in favor of fortification.

President Taft's speech was a complete reply to all intimations that for fortification of the canal would contravene existing treaties with England or be in the nature of an affront to any nation.

Mexican Bandits Still Fighting.

In Chihuahua, just across the line south of El Paso, there has been fighting for several days. The rebels completely annihilated a large force of Mexican federal troops, commanded by Gen. Huerta, according to reports. The rebels were a force of 200 men and were armed with rifles and machine guns. They were captured on the night of January 20, 1911.

STATE NEWS

HUDSON.—The police are at a loss to explain the mysterious actions of a stranger here. He persuaded eight-year-old Lillian Bow, the daughter of George Bow, a traveling salesman for the American Tobacco company, to accompany him about town in a rig. After a ride lasting several hours, he left the rig near the library and the horse, becoming wild, walked to its former home, a farm five miles south of here. The child was found huddled in the buggy and the farmers notified her parents. She is suffering from the exposure. The horse was sold to a dealer and its present owner is not known.

Saginaw.—Fred Zuehlke, thirty-five and married, is at the point of death in the Saginaw General hospital as the result of being caught in a rapidly revolving pulley while adjusting a belt. The man's skull is fractured, the right arm broken in two places and his face badly cut and bruised. Physicians say there is no hope for his recovery.

Saginaw.—The idea of simple graduation costumes, started several weeks ago at the Saginaw East side high school, is spreading rapidly. Many inquiries from all over the state are being received, and at a meeting of the 45 girls of the graduating class of the Arthur Hill high school decided to have dresses not costing more than $5 for their exercises. No hats, gloves or flowers will be worn and no wearables presents accepted by the girls.

Monroe.—George Hogg, sixty-seven, a pioneer resident of this city, building contractor and veteran of the Civil war, was found dead in bed. He had been in good health, and heart trouble is given as the cause of death. He leaves the widow, two sons and two daughters.

Monroe.—Edwin Lyon Chapman, fifty-two, chief of the trademark division of the United States patent office, is dead at his residence in Washington of Bright's disease. He was a brother-in-law of Judge George M. Landon of this city and the remains will be brought here for burial.

Port Huron.—The members of the Michigan Bar association, who held a meeting here will try to effect legislation that will result in better service. They will make an attempt to get a law passed to give them the power to get cars quicker from the railroad companies. A J. Heath of Richmond was made chairman of the legislative committee.

Cadillac.—Arthur Verne Nyon, a well-to-do Cherry Grove farmer, whose only son married Jacob K. HOW TO END FOOT WORRY

First Find the Cause of the Discomfort and Then Get Rid of It.

The girl who has worn jumps and tennis shoes for months will not have a happy time with her feet when she gets back into high shoes.

She should break herself in gradually, using shoes from last season for the first few days. If the ankles have swollen from being unconfined for so long, use laced shoes, so that the pressure can be regulated.

There will doubtless be a sense of burning at first. This can be eased by spraying the feet night and morning with cold water. If the sensation is excessive, rubbing with alcohol will relieve it.

Where high shoes irritate the feet from pressure, dust the feet well with lycopodium. If the sense of swelling and discomfort continues, visit a chiropodist. Much discomfort in cold weather would be avoided if the condition of the feet were watched.

If after such care the feet and legs still continue swollen, go to a physician. Often there is a tendency to kidney trouble in the fall that can be easily checked if taken in time. One of the first signs is irritation of feet and legs.

One special doctor declares that much of the foot worry of which women complain in the autumn and blame on high shoes is due to excessive use of feet during the fall.

As there is no over-cure of foot trouble, the doctor advises, do not wear the shoes, but seek the cause and get rid of it.

HER FIRST GREAT EFFORT

Mr. Newlywed Did Not Complain When Cough Sirup Was Used for Pudding Sauce.

The newly-weds had just completed their bridal tour of Canada, and as the blissful honeymoon had ended without a hitch, all that remained for the happy pair was to begin life in their little suburban home.

This they did, and Edwin and Angeline were about to dine together one evening. The sweet young wife had prepared a dinner with a supreme effort to make it one to be remembered all their lives. Surely he would not forget this, mused the wife, as she timidly rearranged several knives and forks which her husband had disarranged with his sleeve.

Like a brave man and a good husband he bravely stuck to his task, declaring that he had never tasted anything like it, and he praised his wife for her expert cooking.

"Really, darling," she cooed, "on your word of honor, do you like what 'wife' provided and cooked for you?"

"Like it?" he answered. "Why, I never tasted anything like it in my life," suppressing a shudder.

"Every thing from soup to pudding?" she persisted.

"Yes, sweetest, every mouthful."

"O, darling how relieved I am," she added. "I was afraid best you would complain. You see I quite forgot to order the sirup for the pudding sauce. I had to get something so I took your cough sirup. But I was afraid you'd taste it."

LOSE LITERAL APPLICATION

Three Old Portuguese Proverbs Which Will Likely Fall Into Disrepute.

There are three very old Portuguese proverbs which will now be likely to fall into disrepute, or which will, at least have lost their literal application.

They are the following: "Queiras que vos sirva bom Rei, dame, de que vive?" (Would you have me serve you, good king, give me the means of living?). "Qual o Rei, tal a lei, qual a lei, tal a grei." ("Like king, like law; like law, like people;") and "Ao Rey pertence usar de franqueza, pois tem por certo nao caber em pobreza." ("It befits the king to be liberal, for he is sure of never falling into poverty.") There do not appear to be so large a number of proverbs in the Portuguese language, which may be differentially compared with English ones, as there are in the French, Spanish, German and some other languages.

There are many which are practically identical with the English, while there are naturally others having no equivalent in the English language.

"Ao homem ousado a fortuna lhe da a mao." ("To the bold man fortune holds out her hand.") is very similar to our "Fortune favors the brave."

Never a Pleasant Sentence.

FORMOSAN WEDDING RITES

A Reluctant Bride and a Porcine Sacrifice at London's Coney Island.

With full Formosan rites, including the public sacrifice of a pig, two inhabitants of the Formosan village at London's White City, were married recently. The bridegroom was Saron, gal husband, a young man of twenty-four, with the reputation of a mighty hunter among his fellow tribesmen, and the bride was Ruginasela, a maiden of twenty-one.

At an early hour the village was gathered with corn and leaves and the native occupants bedecked themselves with finery. In the afternoon the bride and bridegroom were temporarily separated from the other natives, who occupied the time in making a procession round the exhibition, carrying instruments of war and chanting weird songs. After this they assembled in an open but in the center of the village and two sturdy men appeared carrying the pig, which was screaming lustily. It was killed instantly with a spear thrust through the heart and the carcass was singed over a fire of rushes, skinned and cut into small pieces. The pieces were placed in pots and set to boil over charcoal fires. Before this had happened the bridegroom had to fetch the bride. She offered resistance and wept a great deal, but sitting hold of her, the lover placed her upon his back and carried her to the open hut, where all the company squatted round a table raised two or three inches from the ground. Then the food was fetched, the pieces of semi-cooked food being handed round with chopsticks. The feast was interspersed with weird chanting. The chief theme was supplied by the words:

"We are now one; we love each other."

The proceedings lasted well into the evening. The bride preserved a most stolid demeanor throughout, but the crowd of Europeans were hugely delighted and cheered and clapped enthusiastically.—London Graphic.

ANKLETS COMING IN AGAIN

Present Fashion of Short Skirts Responsible for Return to Barbaric Shackles.

Anklets are now to be purchased in the West end, but we should say the sale for the barbaric shackles will be limited. There are certain to be a few women, to whom freak fashions, specially appeal, who will adopt the new idea, though the sensible, level-headed English girl is not likely to take it up. The anklet idea is in the outcome of the present fashion of very short dresses, high-heeled patent leather shoes, and brilliantly colored stockings, which in itself is bad enough without the addition of a bangle to further attraction. The "fashion" it goes without saying, comes from Paris, where it has been taken up to an extent but only by those inclined to eccentricity in dress.

But after all the wearing of anklets would be merely the revival of an old fashion. Three generations ago it was not unusual to see a bangle round the ankle and a famous woman of the time was the wife of the third duke of Cleveland, the old duchess who died in 1887, at the age of ninety-one. She had very small feet and to display them, would often sit upon a table, and let her ankle fall down over her foot. One day a friend, a quality friend of her small foot, asked the duchess—or Lady Caroline Pakenham, as she was in her youngest days—if she might try and let the ankle over her foot. Lady Caroline consented, and her friend did just that, her friend was able not only to put it on, but to keep it on, so easily did her foot go through it.

Rockefeller Enjoys This One.

When he was motoring Mr. Rockefeller was a random story-teller and joker. He once told me that if he could not tell stories and could not joke he would have been dead forty years ago. To illustrate his taste in stories and fun, let me recall a few. Here is one Mr. Rockefeller credited to his New York lawyers:

A farmer was driving a team of horses with a heavy load up a steep hill. Down the hill came a man in a little, light buggy and cried out: "If you do not turn out for me I will serve you the same as I did another man I passed back yonder."

At this the farmer with the heavy load turned out. When the other man had passed the farmer stopped his horses and called after him "Hey, what did you do to the fellow back there?"

"Oh," was the answer, "I turned out for him." This story of a successful bluff seemed to tickle Mr. Rockefeller hugely.—American Magazine.

An Island for Sale

The Isle of Lewis, the principal island of the Outer Hebrides, is to be sold by order of Major Matheson. In extent about 500,000 acres, the island provides sport with deer, grouse, woodcock and snipe and it has three salmon rivers.

The principal mansion, known as Lewis Castle, standing in 600 acres of grounds, overlooks Stornoway. It was visited by King Edward and Queen Alexandra in 1902. It has also been visited by King George, and the late Duke of Edinburgh. On one occasion spent a week there. The population of the island is about 28,000, of which Stornoway has about 4,000, the majority of the remainder being crofters.—London Standard.

School Notes.

By a Pupil.

Laura White spelled down the Sixth grade last Friday.

Don Van Atta of the Sixth grade is absent this week because of sickness.

Mary Payne of the Sixth grade has been absent for four days because of illness.

The First graders have been studying about the Eskimos in Geography this week.

The Seventh grade pupils are enjoying "Glenarry School Days" for morning exercises.

The Seventh grade Manual Training class have their post card album nearly completed.

There will be a series of articles in the Record on Baiting, etc., written by Mr. Douglas of the Agriculture department.

Ruth Cattermole of the Second grade came into the Kindergarten one day this week and told a story to the children.

Reginald Hills of the Third grade is back in school after being absent a few days because of an injury received while coasting.

The recitation, entitled, "Story Book Dogs," given in the Kindergarten by Harvey Robertson was very pleasing to the children.

Mildred Ely gave a recitation in the First grade room during morning exercises Tuesday. It was a pleasant surprise from the Kindergarten.

Promotions will take place this (Friday) forenoon when the pupils will be assigned seats in their new grades and lessons will be given out for the following Monday.

The Third grade pupils were much pleased with the spelling match last Friday, in which every pupil on both sides remained standing during the spelling of all the review words.

As next Monday is the beginning of the new semester it is the proper time for your boys and girls to enter the school. If you are thinking of this let us hear from you at once.

The following pupils have not been absent or tardy for the first semester in the Sixth grade: Dorothy Du-lan, Howard Fuller, Clara Glad-ding, Archie Kidd, Donald Hyler, D. J. Stark, Margaret Stanton, Alpha Verker.

The School Savings bank deposit last week was $30.25. The deposit by grades was as follows: Kindergarten $1.15, First $7.75, Second $1.55, Third $1.51, Fourth $5.55, Fifth $1.10, Sixth $1.50, Seventh $10.95, Eighth $7.50, High School $2.95.

We again give notice of an extension course for farmers which will begin next week if possible. All interested in the "New Ideas" for farming should not let this opportunity pass by but call up the superintendent's office for further information.

New classes in Farm Mechanics and Horticulture will be formed in the Agriculture department. If anyone outside of school finds time and would care to join one or both of these classes for part of the winter work we would be glad to talk the work over with them.

The grade German class under the leadership of Miss Emily Snyder is progressing finely. They seem to take a great interest in their work. The grade Latin class taught by one of the Normal class, Miss Ethel Lauray, is keeping interested in the work also. The quality of work done by these classes very favorably compares to that done by High School students.

The Normal class of seven members drop some of the theoretical work they have had and begin the more practical work of applying the principles already obtained in actual practice of teaching in the grades. The last semester is divided into two Normal semesters which gives each one of the students opportunity to teach in two grades. They do the work directly under the supervision of the grade teachers for the first part of the semester and are left more to themselves as they progress in the work.

The High school teams played three games last Friday evening. The girls lost to New Baltimore at that place by a score of 20 to 14. The second team of boys were defeated by the Holly second team by 20 to 13 but the first team redeemed them-selves by defeating the fast Central High bunch of Detroit by a close score of 22 to 21. The two games played here were the fastest exhibition we have yet had. Next Saturday night both first teams go to Pontiac for games with those High school teams while a week from this Friday night the Riversides of Detroit and Farmington High both play here. We anticipate two fast games from these and all interested should plan accordingly.

After a heavy meal, take a couple of Doan's Regulets, and give your stomach, liver and bowels the help they will need. Regulets bring easy, regular passages of the bowels.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR UNCLE SAM

Three Handsome Structures Are to Be Erected in Washington for Departments.

TARIFF PLAN IS IN DANGER

Republicans of One Faction in House May Defeat Commission Bill—Arizona's Radical Constitution Imperils Territory's Admission to the Union.

By GEORGE CLINTON.

Washington.—The government board of architectural award, has passed judgment on the plans of the architects who entered into competition for selection as the designers of the three great new government buildings which soon are to be erected.

It is the government's intention to erect new buildings for the departments of commerce and labor, of justice, and of state, between Ohio avenue and The Mall, which stretches its green way from the capitol to the monument.

The money for the structures already has been appropriated. It amounts to about $5,000,000. Authority has been given for the employment of architects and for the prosecution of the building work.

At the time that the government officials considered the project of deciding upon plans for the three great new buildings it was determined that only the best talent the country produced should be brought to bear in making the selections for plans. Three committees of award, consisting of five persons for each building, were named to study the preliminary plans for which a final selection should be made. None of the men appointed as judges had been in the field of competition, and all of them were distinguished in architectural work.

Entering into the competition were 57 architects, 19 to each building. The intention was not to secure fully developed plans, but evidences of skill in directing such elements of preliminary planning as would show that the ultimate work was certain to hold both beauty and strength.

Uncle Sam's Extensive Plan.
When the jurors were ready to begin the work of passing judgment on the plans submitted Secretary of the Treasury MacV. took them into his office and told them that the present project was the beginning of the work of building over the whole south side of Pennsylvania avenue for payment purposes, and he impressed upon them the necessity of seeing to it that the plan which they approved was not only of high execution but was in artistic sympathy with the great scheme of a government park which was to be added to the grounds of the Mall and to occupy all the section south of Pennsylvania avenue now given over to business interests.

The building for the department of commerce and labor will be the largest of the three new structures. It will be five stories high while the others are to be only three. It will be set back from the street to a depth of 100 feet. The elevation shows a plain facade, the chief feature of which is a row of 25 attached columns. The building probably will be of marble.

An interior feature of the department of commerce and labor building will be a huge aquarium in the center, in which will be shown an exhibit of the bureau of fisheries. Today this is one of the most interesting sights in the city, but the aquarium of the present time is in a far off section of the town and comparatively few people know of its existence.

Beauty of the Designs.
It is virtually impossible with a layman's pen to give an adequate idea of the beauty of the designs which are now on exhibition in the treasury building. A fine detail of the facade of the structure intended to house the state department is eight Corinthian columns flanked on either side by six Doric columns. The four sides will present to the view 56 Doric columns, some attached and others standing absolutely free.

In the state department building there will be a great dining room with a reception room on one side and a smoking room on the other. The head of the state department has occasion at times to pay honor to foreign guests of distinction, and the innovation of the banquet hall with all the necessary adjuncts of kitchens and pantries will enable the department, by entertaining in its own building, to give an entirely special significance to the receptions which the necessities of diplomacy entail upon the representatives of the great government when representatives of other great governments are on visiting beat.

May Beat Commission Bill.
Tariff commission legislation is, in danger. It has been pointed out that before this some of the Republicans of one of the factions in the house were opposed to the bill in the form in which President Taft has given it endorsement. It may be now that these Republicans will succeed in making such changes in the measure that it will not receive final endorsement.

President Taft is emulating the Roosevelt strenuously in his endeavor to get the factions together on the Longworth bill, which more nearly meets his views of the form which the legislation should take. The Democrats will not feel at all bad if the Republicans continue to disagree until the end, for if tariff commission legislation is not enacted at this session the present minority party in the house believes that it will be easier for it next year to undertake downward tariff revision with a greater assurance of winning the approval of the country.

Appropriation May Be Cut.
It is even possible that the present tariff board may pass out of existence because of the refusal of congress to appropriate $50,000 for the continuance of its work. There is a disposition to cut the proposed sum in half and if this is done while the board can continue its work for some time, its funds will disappear comparatively early and it will be necessary to ask a Democratic house for a further appropriation, and it may be that the Democrats, intent on tariff revision according to their own views, will refuse to vote the money.

Of course if a tariff commission is authorized the present board will disappear, but it may be that the three members who constitute it will obtain membership in the commission. The tariff is still by far the most momentous of the most sensational matter before congress. It is sure of a life of perpetuity to the parties long after the Lorimer case has been forgotten and long after Mr. Ballinger and Mr. Pinchot have passed from public attention.

President Takes Long Walks.
President Taft ever since he has been in office has shown a fondness for automobile riding and touring. It is nothing at all unusual for him to take spins on the country roads in the late evening hours after the day's work and the early evening's social engagements have been closed. Recently, however, the president has shown a return of his early walking impulses. Possibly he feels that he needs exercise for at this season of the year the golf links are hardly "habitable." Occasionally Mr. Taft takes a walk which rivals in length some of those which were taken almost daily by his predecessor in office. Mr. Taft, unlike Mr. Roosevelt, however, does not attempt to scale cliffs or to swim streams, but contents himself with a quiet pace along the smooth highways.

Occasionally the president walks across Highway bridge over the Potomac, which is a good, long pedestrian trip in itself, and then extends his foot journey to Arlington or Fort Myer, and turns to retrace his steps to the White House. The president weighs over 160 pounds, but he is active and remarkably light on his feet. Statedhood for Arizona in Peril.

The wonder is in Washington, if, after years of striving for statehood recognition Arizona is going to be left out of the Union of the states for some time to come.

In about two weeks the people of Arizona will vote on the adoption of the constitution which was drawn up at the constitutional convention. If it is adopted in its present form it sanctioned the idea of statehood for that the president and the congress of the United States will interpret a veto and that the territory will be entitled to wait much longer before it becomes a state.

The progressive Republicans in Congress are of the opinion that the old time republic which is manifesting itself in a disposition to refuse to sanction the constitution of Arizona in its present form. The conservative Republicans and the president too, for that matter, say that they are opposed to Arizona's constitution principally because it does the recall apply to judicial offices so that if a judge renders a decision which is unpopular, even though it be founded on sound law, he can be kicked off the bench simply because he has seen fit to do his duty.

Progressives Say Stand Firm.
Many of the progressive senators have written letters to the Arizona people telling them to stand by their cause, that the constitution is simply progressive, and not radical, and that it would be better for the territory to remain out of the Union for a while, certain that it will get to eventually under the conditions that it desires, rather than to yield anything to the clamor of reaction.

Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon, whose influence it is said was largely responsible for the election of a progressive majority in the Arizona constitutional convention, has written a letter to President Hunt, who presided at the convention and in it he says this:

"The question of whether the president will or will not approve the Arizona constitution should be wholly immaterial. The people of Arizona had better lose statehood than yield the control of their own state government. Dictation from one man in Washington should be as distasteful to the people of Arizona as dictation from London was to the American colonists."

President Taft before long will appoint the members of an international joint commission provided for under a treaty between the United States and Great Britain. The members of the commission will attempt to settle boundary questions and water power rights disputes between this country and Canada.

The terms of the international treaty contain one curious feature. The commissioners are given the right to fix their own salaries. The wonder is just what the limit of modesty will be. It is understood that one or two members of congress who failed of recognition will be named for positions on the commission. Representatives and senators receive $7,500 a year as a salary.

The question which is agitating Washington in an amused way is whether or not these officials of government when they become international commissioners will be content with the pay which they drew as representatives of one nation.

TEN MILLION PEOPLE IN THE CANADIAN WEST BY 1920

"Toronto Star," Dec. 16th, 1910.

The prediction is made that before 1920 Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia will have ten million people. It is made not by a sanguine Western journal but by that very sober business newspaper, the New York Commercial.

It is based upon actual observation, upon the wheat-growing capacity of the Canadian West, and upon the prospects of development following the building of railways. The writer shows how the position of leading wheat market of the world, passed from Milwaukee to Minneapolis and thence to Winnipeg, Canada's wheat-growing belt is four times greater than that of the United States, and only five per cent of Canada's western agricultural area is under cultivation.

There are 174,000,000 acres of wheat lands which will make these Western Provinces richer, more populous, more dependable for food supplies than the Western States can ever become. The center of food supremacy will change to Canada, and 25 years more will give this country 40,000,000 population west of Ontario.

All these estimates of population are in the nature of guesses, and must not be read too literally. But the enormous area of wheat-growing land, the rapid construction of railways, and the large volume of immigration are facts which must be recognized.

They point to the production of an ever-increasing surplus of wheat and other cereals. However rapidly the urban, the industrial and commercial population of Canada may increase, the increase of home consumption is hardly likely to keep pace with that of the production of wheat; for a single acre of wheat will provide for the average annual consumption of four people.

While production in Canada is thus running ahead of consumption at a prodigious rate, consumption in the United States is overtaking production, and the surplus for export is growing smaller year by year. It is true that the limit of actual power to produce wheat is as yet far away. By methods of intensive cultivation, such as prevail in France, the production could be greatly increased. But with the overflowing granary of Canada so close at hand, it seems likely that our neighbors will begin to import from us, turning their own energies more largely to other forms of agriculture.

It must be remembered that while the Northern States resemble Canada in climate and produce the same things, the wheat belt gives place to a corn belt, and this again to a section of the country producing cotton, tobacco, citrus fruits, oranges and other tropical fruits.

The man who secures a farm in Western Canada at the present time secures an investment better than the best of bond of any government or bank. It is no unusual thing for a farmer in Western Canada to realize a profit of from $5 to $10 per acre. There are thousands of fine home steads of 160 acres each still to be had and particulars can be obtained by writing to our nearest Canadian government agent.

Back, Then, to the Farm.

Richard Croker, during his visit to New York last month, discussed with a reporter the high cost of living.

"The farmers are all right," said Mr. Croker. "It is the people who insist on living in the towns who find everything too dear. In the towns, you see, the expenses are as bothersome as the children."

"A little boy in a tiny flat looked up from his drum one day and said: 'Mother, Adam and Eve lived in Paradise. What was it like there?'"

"Like what it is here," his mother answered, "when you eight children are all at school."

A Friendly Tip.
"Now that provisions are lower, Mrs. Hasher," said the fussy boarder, "don't you think you ought to reduce your rates?"

"No, indeed," replied the landlady. "I find it hard to pay my debts as it is."

"But," suggested the fussy boarder, "if you paid in advance as you make others do, you would have no debts."

Woman's Danger Periods Made Safe

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Here is proof:

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the Change of Life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold. I had creepy sensations and could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I had a tumor."

"I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish this letter."—Mrs. Nathan B. Grenton, 51 No. Main St., Natick, Mass.

ANOTHER SIMILAR CASE.

Cornwallville, N. Y.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time for Change of Life, nervousness, and a fibroid growth."

"Two doctors advised me to go to the hospital, but one day while I was away visiting, I met a woman who told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and I know it helped me wonderfully. I am very thankful that I was told to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Wm. Boughton, Cornwallville, N. Y., Greene Co.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Faint?

Have you weak heart, dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals? Or do you experience pain over the heart, shortness of breath on going up stairs and the many distressing symptoms which indicate poor circulation and bad blood? A heart tonic, blood and body-builder that has stood the test of over 40 years of cures is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The heart becomes regular as clock-work. The red blood corpuscles are increased in number—and the nerves in turn are well fed. The arteries are filled with good rich blood. That is why nervous debility, irritability, fainting spells, disappear and are overcome by this alternative extract of medicinal roots put up by Dr. Pierce without the use of alcohol. Ask your neighbor. Many have been cured of stomach conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc., by taking Dr. Pierce's Discovery. Just the refreshing and vitalizing tonic needed for excessive tissue waste, in convalescence from fevers or for run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people. Stick to this safe and sure remedy and refuse all "just as good" kinds offered by the dealer who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing will do you half as much good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
