Welfare—Christensen.

Miss Elizabeth Christensen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Christensen of this place, and Mr. Bert Welfare of Walled Lake were married at the home of the bride near this village Monday evening of this week.

The ceremony, which took place at eight o'clock, was performed by Rev. Brass of Walled Lake, only the nearest relatives being present. Directly after the ceremony the happy couple left for their new home near Walled Lake where they will be at home to their friends after May 15.

This bride is one of Northville's most popular young ladies, having lived near this village all her life. The groom is also well known and highly respected here. Their hosts of friends will join with the Record in wishing them many years of joy and happiness.

MISSING ATTORNEY DIED IN INDIANA

Cashier L. A. Babbitt returned Tuesday from South Bend, Ind. with the body of Attorney Rollin Morse, a former Northville resident. The dead man had been practicing neuropathy in the Indiana city under the name of "Dr. J. A. Boyd". The body was buried here Wednesday.

Morse was unmarried. His nearest relative known to be living is Mrs. Love of North Center street. "Dr. Boyd" was known in South Bend as a man of mystery. He dropped out of sight about five years ago when he abandoned his law practice in Detroit. Since that time he had not been heard from and was believed to be dead.

Mountain Stops Wireless Message. It has been observed repeatedly on board vessels stationed west of Cape Otway (at the southern tip of Australia) that it was impossible to communicate with vessels situated in the port of Melbourne. This has been attributed to the fact that the mountain which forms the cape contains large quantities of metallic minerals which absorb electric waves.

The Titanic Disaster.

The unexpected has again happened. Had the course of the big floating palace Titanic been twenty or thirty feet one way or the other, different from what it was, or had the ice berg took a course varying a few number of feet, the catastrophe would not have happened. And Captain Smith, First Officer Ismay and other officers of the big ship would have been hailed as heroes in bringing in to New York the palatial ocean liner with his rich and distinguished passengers in a luxurious and rapid transit condition which surpassed any records that the whole world had ever even dreamed of. But for the accident it would have been a great event and the newspapers of the two hemispheres would have fought for vantage places in giving to the nation pictures and stories of the great event. But the unexpected happened as the unexpected often does happen and now the press and the people are searching with a startling vigilance and a deep concern for a goat on which to rest the blame. That the Titanic did not carry sufficient life boats to take on its passenger capacity was nothing new. No boat that sails the ocean or great lakes has ever done this. This knowledge is nothing new. Everyone who has taken the pains to inquire, or who has ever made any observations knows that twenty life boats could not carry two thousand passengers. No boat in existence has ever carried to its enough to take all its passengers at one time. Who is to blame? Hardly to one. Accident will happen as long as time exists. We are living in a fast age. The traveling public demands railroad trains equipped with palace cars drawn by huge engines that will run a mile or more a minute, and steamers fitted with roof gardens, swimming pools, lawn tennis courts, and the like, and built upon plans that will allow its engine to propel it thirty miles an hour. "Comfort and speed, speed and comfort," that is the motto, and if anyone even suggests beware, for the rapids are below you! We laugh and deride thus as matters. A nation now mourns because of the awful disaster, and we are giving sympathy to the bereaved, but in a few short weeks it will all be forgotten and rush and bustle will again demand the designing of newer and still faster and more luxurious trains and steamers, and the mad scramble to get aboard will be even greater than ever.

No Use Worrying About It.

In this busy, bustling world of ours, we are all too prone to "lock the door after the horse is stolen." For instance, right here in Northville the moving picture shows are, some nights, so crowded that in case of a fire causing a panic, there would be sure to be loss of life because of insufficient exits. We all know it and we all attend these popular and low priced places of amusement and crowd in with the other "crowders." In case of an accident the authorities would be severely blamed for negligence; but as long as no accident occurs, everything is lovely and we continue in our desire to capture all the enjoyment there is in it, thinking that because nothing yet has happened, nothing ever will. The chances are that unknown "ice bergs" will wreck our serenity. Let us hope not. Anyhow there's no use worrying about it. And besides, no one may even try to steal our horse, so what's the use of locking the door?

Martindale Looks Strong.

Thus far Fred C. Martindale of Detroit seems to have the inside of the track in the list of Republican entries for governorship race. Martindale is that plain sort of business man that ought to appeal to the great mass of people that goes to make up Michigan's citizenship. As State Representative and State Senator he made a splendid record, and as Secretary of State for two terms he has made one of Michigan's most efficient officials. Besides this, it is seemingly Wayne County's turn to have this office. No better candidate than Fred Martindale can be found in the state, and he will do credit to that office.

Why He Was Late.

"What made you so late?" "I met Southon."

"Well, that's no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."

"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"

"Sure, that is what he needs." Sold by all dealers.

HASTENED TO MAKE HIS WILL

Dyspeptic Convinced That Mistake Could Mean Nothing Less Than Imminent Dissolution.

The dyspeptic who gives prayerful thought to every bite he eats glanced dubiously over the French dinner card on which a dozen items were marked with a cross in red ink. "To my untutored mind," said he, "those things look all right. Some other fellow with a stomach has been here ahead of me and has marked off a few things that a Christian can eat without incurring sudden death."

In his delight at finding the dinner problem solved the dyspeptic ordered six of the red cross dishes. They were unpronounceable and unrecognizable, but they tasted good and he liked them. When the crumb of the last course had disappeared the dyspeptic said genially to the waiter: "Run old chap that must have been who ate at this table ahead of me."

"Yes, sir," assented the waiter. "He was one of them dier cranks that drive restaurant people crazy by marking up the bill of fare with red danger signals before the dishes that nobody that ain't got a sound digestion can afford to trifle with."

"Good Lord!" muttered the dyspeptic.

Stomach Rebelled Against Tacks.

"I remember swallowing a few brads," casually admitted a Philadelphia shoemaker the other day, whose internal pains had puzzled the doctors for a year. The "few brads" turned out to be about a hundred brass tacks, which the X-rays showed to be sticking in the walls of the man's stomach. For the last ten years he had been using his mouth as a temporary tack-box while at work at his bench, and he was quite philosophical when occasionally one or two glued his palate and slipped down his throat. The surgeons who examined him say that one section of the man's stomach has more tacks in it than the sole of a boot, and an operation is to be performed in the Philadelphia hospital, in which he lies, with the hope of saving his life.

A Thorough Test

One to Convince the Most Skeptical Northville Reader.

The test of time is the test that counts. Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical.

Northville residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete. Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

Mrs. Henry Garfield, Northville, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly an excellent remedy and I do not hesitate to recommend them to anyone afflicted with backache and kidney complaint. For a long time I suffered from pains in the small of my back and I had no energy or ambition. I tried various remedies but received no permanent benefit from them. Finally I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and deciding to give them a trial, I procured a supply at Murdock Bros' Drug Store. In a short time after I commenced using them, I was entirely relieved."

The above statement was given on November 28, 1906, and was confirmed by Mrs. Garfield on March 6, 1909. She also said that her cure had been permanent.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The City in Brief.

Bert Clark is ill with the measles in Ann Arbor.

The school children are enjoying their postponed Easter vacation.

Mrs. L. W. Simmons entertained the 400 club at her home Tuesday evening.

Judd Lanning has sold his farm to Paul Chargo. Charlee Decker negotiated the sale.

Mrs. James Clark and daughter, Lydia, were victims of the measles the latter part of last week.

Carl and Earl Stimpson left Tuesday for Adrian where they will try out in the Southern Michigan League.

Leo Lawrence of Detroit has moved on his father's farm on the Fishery Road where he expects to make his home.

Special Convention of Myrtle lodge No. 100, Tuesday evening, April 30. Work Third Rank. A full attendance is requested.

W. D. Pettibone recently installed in his garage an electric motor for putting up air pressure for automobile tires. It's certainly very handy.

Street Commissioner Green has been doing a good job in the clearing up of Main street and says the business portion of Center street will soon be similarly treated.

Charles A. Sessons has just disposed of $1,200 worth of glaucous to New York parties. He will harvest a $2,500 crop in all from his small acreage this season. Not so bad?

Bear in mind The King's Daughters supper in the Presbyterian church this (Friday) evening. The society's cause is a worthy one and their entertainments are deserving of a liberal patronage.

While running a successful moving picture concern and superintending the Opera House, W. J. Thompson still manages to find time to put up several up-to-date and very attractively painted signs about town every week. No cobwebs on him.

There are a lot of Republicans in this town—some Democrats, too—who will not be able to vote for the nomination of county and state officers at the August primaries because they are not enrolled. It is not too late yet, but they will have to hustle.

L. L. McRobert is making extensive repairs and changes on the interior of his house on Dunlap street and will have a fine home when completed. He and Mrs. McRobert have taken up their abode in the upstairs rooms of P. Banks' house until the work is finished.

James Taylor, who has been ill most of the winter, was taken to Grace Hospital in Detroit Monday of this week for treatment. He stood the journey very nicely and expects to undergo an operation in a week or ten days. He feels very grateful to his many friends for their good wishes and beautiful flowers.

Being alone Tuesday evening, Dr. T. S. Murdock thought he needed company so he invited in about fourteen of his "old" friends for a stag party. After cards and refreshments, "Doc" accidentally stumbled upon the fact that it was his seventy-third birthday, which, although overlooked, has been properly celebrated.

Stuart Montgomery and Nelson Schrader had a lively time when the wagon on which they were riding Tuesday tipped over just southwest of town. The team took a lively run and in the mix-up no one could for a while tell which was Schrader, which was the wagon or which was Stuart. Fortunately they all escaped serious injury.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Meade have moved to Northville where they will reside. Mr. Meade is roadmaster for the D. C. R., his duties being from the City Limits to Pontiac and from Farmington Junction to Northville and Wayne. Mrs. Meade joined her husband at their new location yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Meade are people who leave a host of friends back here in Orion and we cordially commend them to the people of neighboring Northville where they will doubtless meet with a cordial welcome—Orion Review.

The "Circle N" club party given in Cattermole's hall Monday evening, was a very delightful affair. The hall was beautifully decorated in lanterns and Japanese lanterns, and punch was served. The seventeen couple who danced to the well known music of Gray's orchestra declared it to be one of the swiftest little parties ever given in Northville.

Friends of Prof. and Mrs. J. Henry Smith, formerly of this place, but now living in Detroit, will be interested to hear that their oldest daughter, Aline Morley Smith, who is a Junior at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., has been elected to membership in the Philosophical Society, entrance into which is considered more difficult of attainment than into any other club in the institution. Miss Smith now belongs to three department clubs, the Philosophical Society, the Mathematical club and the Physics club, being secretary and treasurer of the last named. In addition to the above she also belongs to the Mandolin club, entrance into which is received by nomination and examination.

FISCAL REFORMS PRODUCE RESULTS

Treasury Department Example of Economical Administration.

EVEN DEMOCRATS APPROVE.

Under Taft Reorganization Accomplished, Frauds Stopped and Law Violators Punished—Divorced From Wall Street.

The treasury department has recently received the commendation of the Democratic appropriation committee of the house of representatives for the results achieved in bringing about economy and efficiency in that department. The general basis of this unusual praise is the fact that it is costing $2,500,000 a year less to run this big business machine of the government than it did three years ago when President Taft began his administration and initiated his campaign for governmental economy by placing an experienced business man, Secretary MacVeagh, at the head of the treasury department.

The Economy Effectuated.
The amount now saved each year is a 10 per cent reduction in the previous cost. It tells but half the story of the actual economy effected, for there has been a 10 per cent increase in the business of the department during this time, making a total gain in the interest of the taxpayer of 20 per cent.

The eagerness that now exists to make political capital out of criticism makes the fact eminently striking that through this period of investigation and inquiry the treasury department has been found a faultless field of operation. It has not even been mentioned in connection with the alleged "money trust," for the reason that the treasury department is now for the first time wholly independent of the big bankers of the country in its operations. That the department should always be above the slightest ground for moral criticism is of course one of the fundamentals of its administration.

Frauds Are Punished.

The rigor with which the administration has gone after those who have attempted frauds on the customs revenue is illustrated by the fact that more than $7,000,000 has been collected in fines against dishonest importers and attempted smugglers. Jail sentences in numerous instances have been added to the fines. The result is not only the creation of a wholesome respect for the law on the part of importers and Americans who travel in foreign lands. The entire machinery for the collection of customs has been overhauled with the result that valuations are made more accurately and many channels for frauds have been stopped. One of the special aids in this connection has been the special agents' service, which the secretary has taken personally in hand.

The other collection agency, the internal revenue service, has been brought to a high degree of efficiency. Its collections last year were the highest in its history—$222,000,000—which was collected at the expense of 1,051,000 cents for each dollar, a substantial decrease in cost. Internal revenue collectors are now giving the major portion of their time to their official duties, an innovation brought about for the first time through the insistence of the president that efficiency of administration was more to be desired than the development of political machines.

Where Savings Resulted.

Savings in the method of printing the paper money of the country have been made to the extent of $600,000 annually. While similar work in the mints has resulted in cutting down the expenses annually to the extent of $453,000. By using the mails instead of the express a saving of $80,000 a year is effected in sending worn-out notes to the treasury for redemption. Nearly $50,000 a year is being saved through improved methods in handling the paper on which money and postage and internal revenue stamps is printed. A similar amount is being saved through closer scrutiny and economy in printing the stationery for the department. The revenue cutter service adds to the list a saving of $100,000 a year with increased activities, so also does the public health service. There are many more details of savings, all telling the same story.

Genuine Reforms Made.

And this story is the strongest kind of a denial of the charge that President Taft has used the government employee to further his own political advantage. There have been 1,801 unnecessary places abolished under the treasury department in the last three years. Five hundred and forty-two of these have been in the department service in Washington. None of those in Washington whose places were abolished have been separated from the service by that fact. Secretary MacVeagh has rigidly adhered to the policy of saving the vacancies which occurred in the department by resignation and death, and these places have been filled by those who would otherwise have been dropped.

The facts above set forth are convincing proof that under the administration of President Taft genuine reforms in administration have been accomplished in bringing the government business to the most practical and economical basis in the interest of the whole people.

"We scrap machinery that is five or ten years old," said Mr. Sinclair, "but we are content to live under laws formed three centuries ago."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. The cause of ear trouble is caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
