NARROW ESCAPE

TWO NOVI CHILDREN

TRAMPLED UPON BY A TEAM OF HORSES

The Little Boy Was Quite Seriously Injured.

Two little Novi children aged three years, Kenneth, son of Archie Atkinson, and Dorothy, daughter of John Green, were badly injured in a runaway accident this Tuesday morning. They were playing in the road near the spot where Archie Kent was trying out his new team of horses, which were hitched to a corn cutter. One of the horses threw his head to one side to brush off the flies, and in some manner the ring of his bit caught in the same strap on the other horse. Both horses became unmanageable, turning around like a wild gallop. Just before this happened, the two children had caught on the corn cutter, unknown to Mr. Kent, who had repeatedly warned them to keep away.

They were thrown to the ground and trampled upon by the crazy-acting team and that both were killed was a seeming miracle. Little Dorothy was cut about the head and her left limb crushed so that she will be unable to walk for a little time, but is in no danger whatever. Kenneth was so severely bruised on the head that it was feared at first that brain fever would result. However he is doing nicely now and no serious result is anticipated.

Mrs. Electa Hakes Dead.

Mrs. Electa Hakes, who has been gradually failing the past year or more passed away Friday afternoon at the age of 84 years. She was always kind and loving in her home and never failed to extend a helping hand to a neighbor. She been a resident of this place more than forty years and was universally loved.

She is survived by four children, the husband having passed away seven years ago.

The funeral was held from the house Sunday afternoon, Rev. R. M. Pierce officiating. The burial was in Oakwood Cemetery.

THE MAKING OF AN AMERICAN.

Probably one of the greatest rights bestowed upon the American citizen is the right to vote, a qualification that every one should be proud of. It is because he represents one of the greatest nations on earth, and second because no male over twenty-one is looked upon as being qualified who does not vote. I deem it a duty that every man owes to his country, to be at the polls on election day, and thereby represent the manhood of the nation no matter what his politics.

I am not going to tell a man how he should vote. He will have plenty of chance to exercise his own judgment, in his own way at the next election, which will most likely be a warm one. I wish however to write concerning a certain class of foreign born people that come here and after becoming prosperous and thoroughly established in this country, find on election day, that through some flaw in the law, they have failed to get out papers. Such people are not American citizens and are not even qualified. They should not be admitted but should be placed as undesirable.

I am proud to say that I was born in the United States and have a right to vote under God's own banner, a picture of the canopy of heaven.

MORTON E. MORSE.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank the neighbors, friends and societies who so kindly assisted us and sent flowers during the illness and death of our dear mother, Mrs. Electa Hakes.

W. R. C. Notes.

(By Press Correspondent.)

The W. R. C. is doing some these days. New members are coming in at such a rapid rate that special meetings have to be resorted to for purposes of initiation. The unusually hot weather and over work have reduced the Gont to such a state that it has been deemed best to turn him out to pasture until August 23th by which time we hope his falling strength will be somewhat and he be enabled to perform the heavy duties before him. To be explicit, the Relief Corps is going to take a vacation until that date.

They also plan to have a picnic which will be celebrated July 20th. The wise ones who hustled into the ranks at the special meeting, will of course, enjoy all the joys pertaining to membership in the order. In the line of picnic and other doings. The faithful ones who procrastinated can only watch our dust through a key-hole in the fence.

Moral:—Never delay your initiation after having been accepted to become a member of the W. R. C. you'll be sorry if you do.

All members of the Executive Committee will please "sit up and take notice" your new chairman Mrs. Smitherman, requests your presence at her home on North Center St. Saturday July 20, at 3:30 p. m. to prepare program for the picnic.

ASSERTS FISH HAS MEMORY

Novel Exhibition With Trout Is Given by an Expert to Uphold This Theory.

An expert in fish culture, who believes that fish have memories, gave a novel exhibition to support his theory.

In one of the enclosed pools at the hatchery under his charge there was a very large trout which always came forward to see and be seen when visitors appeared. It was the expert's custom, after calling particular attention to that trout, to raise his cane quickly and hold it over the water. The performance would have no effect upon the trout.

Then the expert would produce a light trout rod and appear with it at the side of the pool. Instantly that trout would turn and flee, hide itself at the far end of the enclosure and remain there so long as the rod was in sight.

This is the explanation of the sudden change in the trout's demeanor: One day, early in the career of the fish, the expert, to try a barbless hook he had devised, cast with one in that pool, and this trout seized it. The hook penetrated and passed through its upper jaw, and by the time it was released from the hook it had undergone an experience that made a lasting impression upon it.

The expert discovered soon after the hooking of the trout that whenever he approached the pool with his rod the trout would instantly dash to a place of hiding, although it paid no attention to a cane or other stick held over the water. The trout lived for years in that pool and never failed to show its fear of a trout rod as long as it lived.

MOTH MILLER IS VERY HARDY

Man Finds One in Library Book That Apparently Had Been Closed Many Years.

"How long can a moth miller live without air and light?" is a question puzzling the bookworm. "I opened an old library book the other day," he said, "that had the appearance of having been closed for a century, and on the very first page I found a moth miller. He lay lifeless for a few minutes, but pretty soon he began to wriggle. Now, ordinarily, moth millers are my chief aversion. I take a cruel delight in killing them; but I could not kill that moth miller. I played the role of liberator instead. His helplessness touched me, and I blew on him, flicked him with my finger, and after awhile he was able to fly away."

"Now, what I would like to know is, how long had that insect been entombed?" My curiosity carried me to the length of inquiring when the book had been called for last, but the attendant informed me that the book was in the reference department, and it would be a prodigious labor to trace the latest reader; so how long the moth miller had suffered captivity is still a mystery."

Cleaning Glass Bottles.

A glass water bottle, when constantly used, soon becomes discolored. This may easily be cleaned by pouring a little vinegar into the bottle and adding a pinch of salt. Allow this to stand for several hours; then rinse with clear water. The bottle will be perfectly clear and bright.

A DIPLOMAT.

"And what is your opinion of America?" they asked the distinguished visitor.

"It is undoubtedly the leader of civilization," he earnestly replied. "Your teeming cities, the great sweep of the western prairies, the grandeur of her mountains, and the prosperity of her citizens, immeasurably astonish me. We should be envious of her advancement did we not know her as our friend."

"And the women of America?"
He smiled, with half-closed eyes. "Ravishing! Such wit!" His eyes glowed. "Such good breeding! So superbly gowned! They have no equal anywhere!"

With hasty thanks, the reporters clambered down to their tug and raced off to catch the extra editions, leaving the famous guest to prepare for his first glimpse of our glorious country—Lippincott's.

DENVER IS HIT BY CLOUDBURST

THIRTY-FOOT WALL OF WATER SWEEPS DOWN CREEK INTO CITY. LOSS, $1,500,000.

MANY DIE AND HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS.

Several hundred men, women and children of Denver, Col., are homeless, a number of deaths are rumored and a million and a half dollars' worth of property is in ruins as the result of a cloudburst which resulted in the overflow of the shallow-bed of Cherry creek, through the city.

The big city auditorium is a refugee camp. At dawn five hundred of the homeless were gathered there and are being fed by the city. Twenty-five children from six months to six years old, whose parents may have been lost, are in the care of a police matron.

After directing relief and rescue work all night, Mayor Arnold organized relief parties at dawn to begin the search of the course of the flood, which is a trail of wrecked dwellings, and other debris heaped in the current of the South Platte river.

The chamber of commerce opened a relief subscription this morning. The flood is without parallel in the history of the city. Reports along the course of Cherry creek indicate an augmentation of the loss of property in the outlying districts.

Warning Saves Many.

Had it not been for a note of warning sounded over the telephone from an unknown source to the city hall just before the crest of the flood reached the city, many could not have escaped death. Many fled in their night clothes, and that many more were caught in the flood while sleeping as the general belief.

Gen. H. M. Duffield Is Dead.

Gen. Henry M. Duffield, veteran of two wars, and one of the most widely known citizens of Michigan, passed away at his home in Detroit. Death followed a general breakdown. He had been ill for two years and had been confined to his room since last Christmas. The general was 70 years of age. Gen. Duffield passed away on the fortieth anniversary of his first battle of the civil war at Murfreesboro, Tenn., where he was taken prisoner. When the end came, four of his sons, who are residents of Detroit, Harris, Davis B., Dr. Francis and Graham Duffield were at his bedside.

Would Have All in Cash Value

Gov. Osborn in removing Robert H. Stetson from the office of tax commissioner, professed his verdict with an outline of the tax law and what he considers the duty of the commission in this preamble he declares for a cash value assessment of all property in the state just as Rep. Lord of Detroit has argued for years. The governor blames Mr. Stetson and the commission for not having arrived at a general cash valuation already, and indicates his purpose to reorganize the board to this end.

State Board After Traverse City.

The state board of health has ordered a sanitary survey of Traverse City, at the suggestion of prominent citizens, who have been trying to get rid of unsanitary conditions. Appeals have been made to the local health authorities, but they failed to act because of business and political reasons. The issue will now be pushed until all objectionable places have been cleaned up and necessary sewer connections made.

State Will Offer Maps for School Use.

At nearly every meeting or convention of public school teachers between now and the opening of the school term in September the United States government will be represented by a topographer, whose errand is to induce the schools to abandon the use of the old geographies, which have been considered standard for more than a generation and adopt the vastly superior unit system of Geography of the United States.

An electrical storm which passed over Allegan Sunday caused heavy damage, lightning striking several buildings.

President H. B. Hutchins, of the U. of M., has received notice that Dr. Albert Hale, a graduate from the literary department in 1882, has been appointed to represent the Pan-American union at the opening, early in September, of the Madeira-Mamore railway of Brazil.

The Board of Commerce of Detroit has appointed a special committee consisting of W. H. Orr, James Couzens and William B. Campbell, to work with the business committee of the State Fair to provide a number of innovations for the coming event which opens Sept. 16 and closes Sept. 21. The progress building in which every exhibit will show the actual process of manufacture, nearly every Michigan industry is represented.

Rev. Dr. George Armistead Leakin, the oldest alumnus of Princeton university, is dead at his home near Baltimore, Md. He was 93 years old. He founded and was the rector for 45 years of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church in Baltimore.

Mrs. Hogan, the wife of Rev. Robert Hogan, pastor of the Bellvue Reformed church of Schenectady, N. Y., killed herself by taking poison at their summer home at Caroga Lake. She is supposed to have been temporarily insane through worry over the condition of her husband, who was operated on for appendicitis at a local hospital.

WHITE REPLACES SHIELDS

Thomas B. White, of Plainwell, former probate judge of Delta county, was appointed by Gov. Osborn as member of the state tax commission, to succeed Robert H. Shields, removed from office by the governor.

As Mr. White is a recess appointee to fill a vacancy, his term will expire in January, and he will be subject to reappointment by the next governor. If he is named and the legislature approves he will hold office until 1915.

Mr. White has been one of the state inheritance tax examiners under Auditor-General Fuller since Feb. 1, 1909, and as such has made an extensive study of the tax laws and conditions of the state. He was born in Oneida county, N. Y., in 1859, and graduated from the law department of the University of Michigan in 1888, having removed to Michigan some time before.

Soldiers to March 251 Miles.

The first and third battalions of the Twenty-seventh infantry, stationed at Fort Wayne, will march the entire distance of 251 miles to attend the state encampment of the Michigan National Guard, which meets near Ludington, July 22. This will be the longest hike that federal troops have ever been asked to take in the state. The return trip will be made by rail.

WINSTON CHURCHILL

TELEGRAPH NOTES.

George Watson of Pickford, Chippewa county, has been appointed as a member of the state live stock sanitary commission to succeed T. F. Marston resigned.

The county supervisors will be petitioned by the Anti-Saloon league to submit the local option question to the voters of Washtenaw county a second time, next spring.

Albert Steinley, employed by the Michigan Central railroad, was crushed to death between two freight cars at Niles. This is the fourth accidental death in Niles in one week.

Burton Lewis, an official of the Oswego, N. Y., water department, was instantly killed when he picked up a telephone receiver during an electrical storm. Two others were struck by lightning in the storm, but only slightly hurt.

A remarkable increase in property value in Grand Rapids was shown when James Munton sold his farm to Joseph Prever for $25,000. Munton bought the farm, which is of 195 acres and lies along the banks of Grand river, for $12,000 five years ago.

Arthur Warren, a young milkman, shot himself just below the heart in Battle Creek and is now at Nichols hospital at the point of death. Young Warren was alone at the time and no one knows why he committed the deed. He is about 21 years old and unmarried.

Four thousand dollars' worth of goldfish are to be planted in swamps, pools and canal basins in Newark, N. J., in an effort to kill off the mosquito. Goldfish can live in stagnant water, and feed eagerly on mosquito larvae. In muddy water goldfish are dark in color, turning to gold in clean water.

A large number of dockers in Liverpool and at Birkenhead, England, have struck work, refusing to re-enter under the new clearing house scheme in connection with the national insurance act. The employers threaten a general lockout unless the men comply with the scheme.

Charges that the annual dance festival of the Flathead Indians, including the famous sun dance, now in progress in Arlee, Mont., is a round of drunkenness, gambling and fighting were made to the county after noon, and that officer ordered the festival closed last night.

Work upon the new dairy building at the Michigan State Fair grounds progresses most favorably, and the handsome structure will be ready within the coming month. This will be one of the handsomest and most complete dairy buildings in the country, and promises to attract visitors from many states.

The Michigan Equal Suffrage association decided at a meeting in Kalamazoo, to organize every county in the state and to bring speakers of national prominence to Michigan to aid in the campaign.

De-licious! Nero Coffee

There are smiles and miles of smiles among the users of Nero Coffee. It appeals to the taste of the coffee connoisseur who knows that careful selection—scientific blending—and perfect roasting of coffee—produce a delightfully smooth and rich, invigorating flavor.

Last year over 350,000 pounds of this Nero Coffee were sold at P. W. Smith & Sons' store to the people of Detroit. Think of this and you will realize that Nero Brand is richer in flavor and better value for 25c per pound than the average coffee sold for 35c. Other Royal Valley blends:

Royal Valley 40c per lb.
Tzar 55c per lb.
Marigold 30c per lb.

ROYAL VALLEY JAPAN TEAS are the best by all who use them 30c, 45c, 50c per lb.

Looks Like a Strong Ticket.

Inspired by the enthusiasm for Woodrow Wilson for president, it now looks as if the Democrats would put up a "strong ticket" both for state and county officers. E. O. Wood is first mentioned for governor on the democratic side and he is one of the cleanest and most popular democrats in the state of Michigan. In a race that is any where near even, Ed. Wood will give any Republican a job of busie in the election that will prove not only interesting but really exciting. In reality the Dems see, in the squeal in the Republican party a chance that looks today like easy money and they are going to grab it and grab it good and plenty too. The Republican party is out of joint with itself. About fifty per cent of the politicians thought it would be a smart thing a while ago to hold up their own cause by knocking on President Taft. The president was nominated and the Democrats took advantage of the quarrel among the Republican office holders and office seekers and while they were enough to knock each other down and calling each other names, brigades, robbers and "chick", the Democrats nominated Woodrow Wilson, the real strong man of the United States for that party to kick. To add to the Republican party's troubles, it now appears that Roosevelt will run on a third ticket and on that ticket there may also be a candidate for every state and county office. If that plan is carried out the Democratic party will carry off about every state, congressional and county office in Michigan. What ever is wrong with President Taft is also wrong with every other Republican office holder in Michigan and it is just as sensible to bet the whole Democratic ticket as it is to defeat President Taft.

For the decorations for the Third Party meeting at Jackson tomorrow, we suggest that the "Under the Oaks" trees, each be festooned with 63 hammers and 65 big clubs.

Charming View.
Oldman (to house agent)—"I thought you said there was a charming view from the front windows? Why, there are only houses to be seen." House Agent—"So there is a charming view, sir. In the house opposite lives the most beautiful widow you ever clapped eyes on, and she's always at the window."

Swiss to Use Their Water Power.
No country is better off than Switzerland in the matter of water power, and vast resources of force are still untapped. It is now proposed to electrify all the state railways and to supply the energy needed from the numerous water powers not yet developed. Already most of the funicular railways employ electricity.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

WHO WOULDN'T BE TEACHER?

Here is a Schedule of Her Daily Tasks, With an Estimate of Her Pay.

A school teacher is a person who teaches things to people when they are young.

The teacher comes to school at 8:30 o'clock, and when she has gotten enough children for a mess in her room, she teaches them reading, writing, geography, grammar, arithmetic, music, drawing, cooking, board-sawing, crocheting, deep breathing, bird calls, scientific eating, patriotism, plain and fancy bathing, forestry, civics and other sciences too numerous to mention. When school is out she stays behind with five or six of her worst scholars and tries to save the state a job of reforming them later on. After that she hurries home to make herself a new dress and snatch a hasty supper before going back to attend a lecture by an imported specialist on the history of tribal law in Patagonia, which the superintendent thinks may give her some information, which may be useful in her school work some day. A great many teachers roam the country preying on school teachers and some of them are very cruel, talking to them so long that the poor things have to sit up till morning when they get home, to get their daily test papers corrected.

School teachers' salaries range from $30 a month up—but not far enough up to make them dirty. On her salary the teacher must dress nicely, buy herself things for her work which the city is too poor to get, go to twenty-five lectures and concerts a year, buy helpful books on pedagogy, pay her way to district, county and state institutes, and enjoy herself during a three months' vacation which her salary takes every year. In addition the teacher is supposed to hoard away vast sums of money, so that when she becomes too nervous and cross to teach, at the age of fifty or thereabouts, she can retire and live happily ever after on her income.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

IS MOST POPULAR OF BOOKS

Bible Holds This Proud Position Partly on Account of Its Pure Literature.

The Bible is the most popular book in the world on account of its pure literature. Say what we will concerning the advancement of modern methods of style and beauties of expression, I doubt if anyone will approach some of the passages which can be found in the Psalms, in the Prophets, or in the Book of Revelation.

Considering the fact that these writings have come to us through translations, it is astonishing what beauties and power have been preserved. There is no book quoted oftener than the Bible. Passages have been woven into our own literature. No writer of any prominence has ever been able to escape borrowing from the Bible. The reading of it has affected the style of writers like Ruskin and Browning and Milton. Gladstone repeatedly acknowledged his indebtedness to the Bible for his phraseology. Charles Fox said more than once that he owed to the perusal of the Bible his vocabulary. The variety of expression to be found on the part of the different writers is strangely commingled with unity of expression due in large part to the fact that all of these men are writing with at least one great purpose in view. For we have in the Bible a style which is more or less uniform from beginning to end—even the style of expression.—The Christian Herald.

"Memento Garden."

A very popular woman has what she calls a "memento garden." All the flowers therein come from bulbs saved from plants sent her during her frequent illnesses. At first she used to give these pots of tulips, or hyacinths away before the bloom was over either to the furnace man, or to some other employe coming in daily, but one day a friend who had a country place asked for the bulbs of a particularly beautiful box of coral pink tulips, the flowers having a spicy and unusual degree of perfume. This made her consider her own flower beds, and thereafter the various lots of bulbs were dried and "bagged." Each bag was labeled and the place where the contents were eventually planted was marked to correspond. Thus each spring brings a reminder of kind friends, and the air is fragrant with their gifts. With proper care and favorable weather conditions the bulbs will bloom for a lifetime, and thus they constitute a lasting memorial of their donors.

Known by Their Actions.

Some people are like a fly on the body of an ox, in that they pass over all the sound, healthy parts, looking for a sore spot at which to stop and feed. Or like a hornet that rejects all the sound fruit and seizes upon the one rotting specimen. As the hornet reveals his nature by getting poison out of the same flower where the bee gets honey, so do these constitutional growlers prove themselves bad reporters by their bad report.

Out of the Mouths of Babies.

Western Child (returning from Europe, surfeited with monuments and many tombs)—Mamma, what's that? Mother—The statue of Liberty, dear.

ALDRICH IN THE OLD DAYS

I can see him now, sitting at the round table at Oscar's, holding a briar pipe that was often between his fingers than in his mouth, and swinging it in graphic curves as he talked to us. He used it like a painter's brush or pencil.

He was dressed in a quiet suit of tweeds, the sobriety of which was relieved by a flowing crimson scarf gathered at the neck by an antique ring. He was partial to crimson in those days, and it became his complexion and the light curls, apostrophized by Bayard Taylor. We parted late and in a merry mood, the young fellows among us glorying in the new friend who was so witty, so suave, and so attentive to our ambitions and aspirations. Moreover, Aldrich had just succeeded to the editorship of the Atlantic Monthly, and hopes arose of possible advantages lying for young authors in that direction.

"I'll have an elegy ready for him before breakfast, and try to get ahead of Edgar," said Frank Saltus, referring to Edgar Poe, as the lights went out in Oscar's and we dispersed, and on the following morning he came to me, dissembling an air of despondency.

"It's no use. Edgar's beaten us all. He shipped a car load to the Atlantic by the fast freight before daylight—his per invoice, sonnets, ten tales; triolets, ballads and rondeaux, three tales; novels and short stories, twenty toms in fifteen crates."—Bookman.

MAPS OF THEIR HOME STATES

Exiles Keep Them Hanging in Their Offices Because They Get Very Homesick.

To that general information bureau, the elevator starter, went the man who wished to see a large map of Wisconsin.

"Where can I find one?" he said.

"There is a Wisconsin man in business on the eleventh floor," said the starter. "He'll be likely to have one."

Up to the eleventh floor went the seeker for a map. He found one there.

"How does it happen," he said to the Wisconsin exile, "that all you men from other states keep a life-size map of your native state hanging up in your offices for a year or two after migrating to New York? Is it because you are homesick?"

"Partly," said the Wisconsin man, "and partly for the accommodation of visitors from back home. I guess you are right about every last one of us exiles clinging to a home map for a while. I have been into the offices of recent arrivals from half the states in the Union, and every place I saw a state map. I suppose those people got them for the same reason I did. Back in Milwaukee I never thought of owning a map of Wisconsin, but now that I am a thousand miles away it does me good to trace familiar railroad routes and locate well known towns. Then, a lot of Wisconsin people here on a visit drop in, and as they expect to go back soon it is a material as well as a sentimental advantage to them to find a Wisconsin map handy."

Financiering.

A small boy was given a penny to spend. Now, although his stomach craved a lollypop, he also wished a banana he had seen on a fruit stand at the corner. He preferred, of the two, the fruit.

"How much is them bananas?" he asked.

"Six for five cents, or a penny apiece."

"Six for five? Well," the youngster said wistfully, "gimme six."

"The fruiterer counted out half a dozen and handed them over.

The man nodded. So the boy counted out five bananas and gave them back. "There's your five cents' worth," he said. "I don't want 'em."

Before the merchant quite saw the value of the lad's act, the boy was on his way to the candy store, a banana in one hand and his cent in the other.—Judge.

Her Idea of Art.

An old gentleman who owned a fine estate not far from the country seat of the duke of Devonshire (which is open to the public when the duke is there) one day drove with a party of friends to this famous residence, taking with him his housekeeper, Martha, a good old soul, who had been with him a great many years.

Arriving at Chatsworth they passed slowly through room after room of almost priceless pictures. But Martha spoke never a word, although it was evident that she was not missing anything. Each and every picture that her eye lit on underwent a most rigid scrutiny, much to the amusement of the rest of the party.

At last her master turned to her and said: "Well, Martha, what do you think of it all?"

"Why," exploded Martha, rapturously, "I cannot see a speck o' dust anywhere."

A Possible Derivation.

"Words are terribly funny things, aren't they?" said Mrs. Jones. "Take the word gargoyle—how on earth do you suppose they ever got that?"

"Very simple, my dear," said Mr. Jones. "Just look at yourself in the glass some time when you gargle and then look at a gargoyle, and you'll see."—Harper's Weekly.

Save Your Money

You may need it to buy coal with. If you should borrow $400 at 6 per cent interest, and pay the interest and $100 on the principal each year, the total cost of the loan would be $460, or an average weekly cost of $2.21.

Naturally this would be considered a very cheap, easy way to borrow, but perhaps you do not know that if this money was borrowed from the Association, and the $2.21 paid each week, at the end of Four Years the loan would be paid and enough left to go quite a long way towards paying for a load of coal.

If Women Only Knew

Hard to do housework with an aching back. Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work. If women only knew the cause that...

Backache pains often come from weak kidneys. 'Would save much needless worry. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Read what a Northville citizen says: Mrs. William Cole, Horton Ave., Northville, Mich., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and found them a splendid remedy for kidney trouble."

About a year ago, I suffered from backache and pains in my kidneys and I was greatly annoyed by difficulty with the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally procured from Murdock Bros. drug store and after I had used two boxes, the backache ceased and my kidneys gave me no further trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills have also been very beneficial to another member of the family.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The City in Brief.

Fred Oldenburg is palating his grocery store.

F. S. Harmon was ill with the grippe the first of the week.

Mrs. Cassie Johnson of Commerce as a new operator in the Bell phone office.

Neit-Schrader's house is enclosed and ready for the finishing commences.

Marvin Bovee, who suffered a stroke some time ago, remains about the same.

L. A. Babbitt and family are camping at Walled Lake. Mrs. Bertha White was their guest part of the week.

The ball game with North Farmington which was scheduled for last Saturday, was postponed on account of rain.

Boy wanted every week to get lawn. Thirty cents for the job can be done in less than one hour. Where's an energetic boy?

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McKahan and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Huff and daughter are spending the week at the former's cottage at Union Lake.

A new subscriber to the Record is Mrs. Herma Williams of Oklahoma, whose home was formerly in Novi, where a son, Fred Draper, is now residing.

The H and C (Hammer and Club) party is to be given birth under the oaks at Jackson, Saturday. All ready the trees have begun to shiver and wither.

Northville people will be very glad to learn that Mrs. Harleg Johnson is able to ride out in a wheel chair, after being confined to the house for many months.

The "Circle N." boys will play a Detroit team on the home grounds tomorrow, Saturday. Stimpson of Northville and Bell of Ypsilanti will be the home batteries. Every fan turn out.

Fred VanValkenburg, who has been ill the past three months, was taken to the University hospital at Ann Arbor last week for treatment. Mrs. VanValkenburg spent Sunday with him.

A family reunion was held at the home of A. F. Limbriought on Wednesday last. Guests were present from Flat Rock, Groesbeek, Farmington, Wash., Grand Blanc, Holly, Flint, Grosse Pointe, and Detroit.

W. J. Thompson has erected an up-to-date sign in front of his moving picture theatre, from which is suspended a large arc light. Leave it to "Shorty" to do the proper thing in the way of advertising.

Mrs. J. J. Hall entertained the two smaller classes of the Methodist Sunday school at her home Monday afternoon. The little folks were made very happy with ice cream and a long auto ride. Thanks to Mr. Schrader and his big new bus.

The fuse in the electric lights burned out at C. A. Ponderford's dry goods store Saturday evening, leaving the clerks and twenty would-be customers in the dark. After a half hour of waiting the lights came back on, much to C. A.'s delight.

If some politicians have their way, the Jackson Third-party scheme will be to just put T. R. on the ticket in order to make sure that Taft is defeated good and plenty and elect Wilson's election. Other republicans say that since this is a democratic move then a third ticket should be nominated all the way down the line, including even county officers.

Mayor Lanning says that next year the council, if it acts on his advice, will oil every street in the village at the expense of the taxpayers. The council now sees the great benefit of the oil. It not only keeps down the dust but it also preserves the streets as well. Northville business section these days is quite a contrast from previous seasons so far as dust is concerned.

Percy Shaler who has been delivering milk for Bert Clark, had a bad accident Monday. He was in McKahan's ice house getting ice for the milk wagon and in some way struck his foot with a new and very sharp ice pick. The result was a gash about two inches long on his left foot, forcing him to walk on crutches, although the wound is healing nicely.

SEA VOYAGE

DELIGHTFUL TRIP THROUGH THIRTY THOUSAND ISLANDS

A vacation trip on one of the magnificent steamers of the Northern Navigation Co., offers a combination of pleasure, rest and recuperation not exceeded by any other outing plan. The route is from Sarnia, Ontario, at the mouth of Lake Huron, through the famous Thirty Thousand Islands, or to Duluth, or to Mackinac, the Soo, in fact there is choice of a sufficient number of routes to suit the taste or purse of any pleasure seeker, and any of them offers a series of delightful surprises. It is a wonderful country to visit these boats go. The Thirty Thousand Islands have no equal in the world for novelty and beauty. The rapidly progressive upper country must be seen to be understood and appreciated. The climate is balmy, the air is pure, the passengers are made comfortable by every effort that experience can suggest. Elegance and convenience are marked features of these boats. Orchestras are carried through the tourist season. Absolute safety is secured by sufficient life boats, regular fire drills, and wireless telegraphy equipment.

For ladies and children no more delightful restful way of spending a vacation could be imagined. As a well known, the region traversed is a paradise for sportsmen. The best fishing in the north is here. Boating and bathing are enjoyed as in few places in this country. Camping is extremely popular.

As a reservoir of health this great lakes region has made a name for itself. Hay fever is impossible. Jaded appetite revives. All is so clean, so calm, so bright. "Above us the white clouds float, sailing aloft as we sail below." It is certainly a trip worth while.

These boats are readily reached at Sarnia by rail, trolley or steamer from Detroit or Toledo.

A line to E. W. Holton, Eastern Passenger Agent, Sarnia, Ontario will bring free by mail a large folder beautifully illustrated with photographs and containing details of these delightful excursions for which space will not permit with all the information necessary for those who contemplate such a trip. We advise our readers to send for a copy. It is pleasant reading—a dim reflection of the reality.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McRoberts are moving back into their house on Dunlap street which has been undergoing extensive repairs.

Frank Lewis returned Tuesday from Arizona, where he has spent the past four years. Mr. Lewis better known as "Bip" will make his home in this village.

George Brown and daughter, Mrs. James Savage went to Lansing this week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Edith Brown. Mr. Brown lived in Northville some years ago and is a son of George Brown of Northville.

The city band went to Redford Saturday night where they were highly entertained by Redford citizens. They were treated to cigars and ice cream, and on leaving for home a purse of $5 was handed the treasurer by the business men to pay their expenses. All report an enjoyable time.

Highway commissioner Jesse Clark is doing splendid work in the way of road repairing this year. This is particularly noticeable on the East line road east of C. C. Yerkes' home and on the Salem road east from Butler's corner. In another year, Mr. Clark says, the roads in our township will be second to no other in the state of Michigan. When the Salem road is finished west of the Starkweather farm, there will be but four or five miles of unimproved roads in the township of Northville.

John B. Hinman who arrived here from Montana about four weeks ago for a visit with his brother and sister, took a ten day's trip to Florida recently. While there he had quite an experience with an alligator. Several men were riding in an auto, when they saw an alligator in the road in front of them, trying its best to keep ahead of the car, but being slow of foot they soon overtook it. Fortunately there were ropes in the auto presumably to help in hauling the auto out, should it get stuck in the mud. The men made several unsuccessful attempts to lasso the reptile with the ropes. Mr. Hinman, who has had experience on the plains in lassoing, finally threw a rope and secured the alligator front and rear. They stretched it out and lashed it to the side of the auto and returned to the town. The alligator measured eight feet in length and weighed twenty pounds.

TERRIER AND THE LIONESS

Little Dog Braves Wounded Wild Beast and Saves Life of His Master.

That victory is not always a matter of size or strength was pleasingly illustrated in the case of the dog that did his duty so effectively in the incident here related.

A man named De Beer had started early one morning for a journey on foot in Matabeland, leaving his boy to pack up and follow him. He had not gone half a mile when he heard a growl and, turning, saw an immense lioness about fifty yards away and rapidly approaching. She was within twenty paces when he fired. The shot broke the beast's jaw.

The second shot broke one of her legs. The third, fired just as she sprang on De Beer, missed altogether and the man was borne down.

In a few seconds he was mauled and bitten and his left hand severely injured. There seemed little hope that he could escape alive, for his gun was out of reach and the lion, lying on him, prevented him from moving.

But with De Beer was one companion, a little terrier. The tiny animal drew bravely at the lioness' ear, got a good hold and hung grimly on. This made the brute shift a little, and De Beer was able to reach his rifle again with his right hand and, shoot the lioness through the chest. She fell dead on top of him, his left hand still in her mouth.

SULPHUR-TAKEN FROM WELLS

How It Is Forced From Great Depths in Louisiana by Means of Hot Water.

Within recent years Sicily, so long famous for its exportation of sulphur, has suffered from the competition of the United States. In Sicily sulphur is mined in the solid form. At Lake Charles, La., near the Gulf of Mexico a little over 200 miles from New Orleans, sulphur is obtained from deep deposits in the form of a liquid.

Wells driven to a depth of 800 feet in search of petroleum revealed instead a rich deposit of sulphur. To obtain the mineral hollow tubes were driven into the earth. Each sulphur well consists of three tubes, one with an outer tube, through the outer tube hot water is forced down, and it issues through perforations near the bottom. Through the central tube hot air is driven a little lower than the points where the hot water escapes. Through this third tube, enclosed between the other two, the liquid sulphur, dissolved by the water, rises to the surface under the combined influence of the pressure of the column of water and impulsion of the rising air. The liquid sulphur is led into wooden reservoirs, where it cools and hardens.

Ruthless Destruction of Books.

Napoleon was indirectly responsible for the destruction of a vast quantity of books. In 1812 he framed a law allowing goods to be imported from the United Kingdom, provided that the importer shipped an equivalent quantity of French goods to this country. French merchants generally met the requirements of this law by shipping books to the value of the wares they wished to import. Having served to gain the necessary permit, the books were thrown overboard on the way to England, as there was no demand for them here. Shippers could well afford to do this, for coffee and sugar were then about ten times dearer in France than in England. It has been estimated that books to the nominal value of four million dollars were destroyed in this way.

Simple Diet the Best.

The fewer foods we eat together at a single meal the better, from the health standpoint, of that there can be no reasonable doubt. The poor man who can afford but a few simple dishes is far better off, in reality, than the rich man with his extensive "course dinners"—as many millionaires have found out when they are reducing to living on milk for a while.

RASH ALMOST COVERED FACE

Warrenville, O.—"I have felt the effects of blood poisoning for eighteen years. I was never without some eruptions on my body. The terrible itching caused me much suffering and discomfort, while the rubbing and scratching made it worse. Last spring I had a terrible breaking out of blistering sores on my arms and limbs. My face and arms were almost covered with them. I could not sleep and lost nineteen pounds in five weeks. My face was terribly red and sore, and felt as if my skin was on fire. At last I tried a sample of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and I found them so cool, soothing and healing, that I got some Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Resolvent. I bathed with hot water and Cuticura Soap, then I applied the Cuticura Ointment every night for two months, and I am cured of all skin eruptions." (Signed) Mrs. Kathryn Kraft, Nov. 28, 1911.

The Moon's Onspring.
Looking out of the window one evening, little Marie saw the bright, full moon in the eastern sky, and, apparently, only a few inches from it, the beautiful Jupiter, shining almost as brightly as the moon itself. Marie gazed intently at the spectacle for a moment, and then turning to her mother exclaimed:

"Oh, mother, look! The moon has laid an egg!"

Making Cheese in Olden Days.
Cheese was made by the old time farmers in the summer on the co-operative plan by which four cattle owners owning say 14 milk cows, received all the milk night and morning, according to the daily yield of their little herd. Thus given two families having five cows each, one with three and one with one, supposing that the average yield per cow was the same, in two weeks, two owners would make five cheeses, each, one would press three, and one only one cheese, but this one would be as good and as large as any of the rest—"Nobility of the Trades—The Farmer," Charles Winslow Hall, in National Magazine.

She Was a Duster.
Mrs. Sutton advertised for a woman to do general housework, and in answer a colored girl called, announcing that she had come for the position.
"Are you a good cook?" asked Mrs. Sutton.
"No, indeed, I don't cook," was the reply.
"Are you a good laundress?"
"I wouldn't do washin' and ironin'; it's too hard on the hands."
"Can you sweep?" asked Mrs. Sutton.
"No," was the positive answer. "I'm not strong enough."
"Well," said the lady of the house, quite exasperated, "may I ask what you can do?"
"I dusts," came the placid reply.—Everybody's.

SALLOW FACES
Often Caused by Tea and Coffee Drinking.

How many persons realize that tea and coffee so disturb digestion that they produce a muddy, yellow complexion?

A ten days' trial of Postum has proven a means, in thousands of cases, of clearing up a bad complexion.

A Washn. young lady tells her experience:
"All of us—father, mother, sister and brother—had used tea and coffee for many years until finally we all had stomach troubles, more or less."

"We all were sallow and troubled with pimples, had breath, disagreeable taste in the mouth, and all of us simply many bundles of nerves."

"We didn't realize that tea and coffee caused the trouble until one day ran out of coffee and went to borrow some from a neighbor. She gave some Postum and told us to try it."

"Although we started to make it, we all felt sure that we would be sick. We missed our strong coffee, but we tried Postum and were surprised to find it delicious."

"We read the statements on the pkg., got more and in a month and a half you wouldn't have known us. We all were able to digest our food without any trouble, each one's skin became clear, tongues cleared off, and nerves in fine condition. We never use anything now but Postum. There is nothing like it."—Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Well-being," in pkg.

"Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest."

CUCURBITS OR VINE CROPS

By GEORGE W. HOOD, Instructor in Horticulture, Michigan Agricultural College

The cucurbits, taken as a class, probably include some of our most important vegetables. They belong to the class known as annual vegetables and to the sub-class which are grown for their fruit and seed parts. This group includes the following vegetables, namely, cucumber, gherkin, muskmelon, pumpkin, squash and watermelon. The cucumber and muskmelon are the most important, although cucumbers probably stand first.

These vegetables, taken as a whole, are known as "tender plants" and require a warm climate and must be planted at the time of season when all danger of frost is past.

Cucumber.
The cucumber, which is one of our oldest vegetables, has been cultivated in India for at least three thousand years. It was first grown in England about 1578 and also by the earliest settlers in this country. The cucumber is grown commercially on a large scale and under a large range of climatic conditions. The various sections of the south and along the Atlantic coast are favorable to the production of the early crops, while the cooler summers of the north are well adapted to growing pickles. The plants are quite sensitive to frost as well as to extreme heat, but thrive under cooler conditions than melons. The light sandy soils are best for early crops, if earliness is the chief consideration, however, yields are larger and the bearing period longer in heavy soils. As earliness is such an important factor in securing remunerative prices, many growers start some of their plants under glass. Greenhouses are most valuable for this purpose although hot beds and cold frames are sometimes employed. The soil should receive early plowing and frequent harrowing before planting, and for a very early crop some growers prefer to throw up the land in small furrows thus securing better drainage and somewhat warmer soil conditions. Frequent cultivation until the vines begin to run is recommended.

The most important type that is grown in this country and which is especially desirable for slicing is the White Spine. This is quite popular both for cultivation in the open and under glass.

The cucumber, like many other of our vegetables is not without its insect enemies and diseases. Among the most important insect enemies may be mentioned the striped cucumber beetle which is yellow above, with black head and wing covers longitudinally marked with black. The beetles are particularly destructive to young plants but also feed on the old plants as well as the fruit. Various plants have been suggested for the control of this pest, but arcanal poisons are not successful and preventative measures are usually employed, such as protecting the hills with square boxes covered with cheese cloth or muslin.

The most important diseases of the cucumber are the downy mildew, leaf blight and anthracnose. Bordeaux mixture in the chief fungicide used in combating these diseases.

Muskmelon.
Muskmelon requires somewhat the same conditions recommended for the cucumber. It is a native of southern Asia and is one of the most popular vegetables in many parts of the world. The muskmelon is much more susceptible to the effects of cold than the cucumber. It will not stand frosts and demands a rather high summer temperature for most satisfactory results.

A good plan, especially for this section of the country, is to start melons under glass in order that they may have a longer growing season so as to mature their crops earlier. It is generally conceded that the sowing should not occur more than four weeks before setting in the field, because the plants may become stunted or the growing may be checked when transferred to the field. Occasionally plants are kept under glass six weeks. Proper earthen pots, berry baskets and veneer boxes are used to start the plants.

Cultivation, care and soil requirements are similar to those recommended for cucumbers.

The other members of this group require similar conditions with slight modifications for each individual crop.

Profit on One Tree.
The wonders of spraying are forcibly demonstrated in the case of a woman at Salem, W. Va., who told one of the instructors of the extension division how last year she had been induced to purchase a small spraying outfit for spraying a tree in her yard that had yielded practically no apples for several years. The neighbors thought the idea absurd and laughed at her, but she kept an accurate account of the vastly increased yield of the tree, and she found she had cleared $460 besides providing a surplus for a family of several members. When the profit accruing on a hundred or more trees from the use of these same methods is figured, it becomes interesting.

Repe for Poultry.
Have you made any provision for green feed for hens this summer? If not, get busy and plant rape, which is one of the best of green feeds, and a small patch will serve the needs of many hens. It is a hardy plant, thriving in a great variety of soils, and it renews itself after each cutting.

THE RIGHT WAY TO CULTIVATE CORN

By C. H. SPURWAY, Instructor in Soils, Michigan Agricultural College

A successful corn grower once said: "The best time to cultivate corn is before it is planted." He had in mind the proper tilth of the soil for the crop, rather than the cultivation which is usually given after the corn is in the row. Preparing a good seed bed is an important part of corn growing, but there are other things which must also be considered.

The best soil for corn is a deep, rich, sandy or silty loam. This does not mean, however, that corn cannot be grown on any other kind of soil. It means that the largest yields are obtained from this kind. Profitable yields can be had from many different kinds of soil providing proper care is taken to prepare the ground before seeding, and proper methods of cultivation are followed.

The secret of preparing a good seed bed is to plow early and work often. One can hardly plow too early in the spring, providing the soil is in the proper condition for plowing. If the corn is to follow and then the soil should not be left until it has a crop of hay on it and the hay turned under late in the season. Many fields have been ruined for the season by doing this. The growing hay takes out the water, and if the season is dry, the great bulk of material below the surface will cause trouble. This injury is greatest on the heavier soils. After plowing, work the soil down good. Harrow not once or twice, but many times, and particularly after every heavy rain. This thorough working, together with the rains, will cause a good, firm seed bed to be established. The continuous harrowing will aerate the soil and make plant food available for the young plant. Before planting the corn, dig down into the soil to the depth of the furrow slice. If the soil is loose and open near the bottom of the furrow slice the seed bed has not been prepared properly. If it is firm and moist below, and dry and loose near the surface, then there is a good seed bed for corn, which is one of the first requisites for growing a profitable crop. The producing of such a seed bed is what the successful corn grower meant by saying that the best time to cultivate corn is before it is planted.

Good seed must be planted on this good seed bed, otherwise our careful work will be somewhat wasted.

Perhaps, for the most of us, the next thing of importance will be to get after the weeds. Here the weeder may be used to advantage on the lighter soils. The field is gone over once or twice so as to kill the weeds as soon as they have germinated from the seed. The best time to kill weeds is when they are small. It is worth while to get at them as soon as possible after they have germinated, and the first two or three cultivations count the most in this respect. After the plants appear in the rows, then the corn should be well cultivated with a good cultivator. On the heavier soils the spike-toothed harrow might take the place of the weeder, or the cultivator might be used from the first. If the corn cannot be seen in the rows, or the plants are small, put on the fenders to keep the plants from being covered with soil, and do a good job. Don't be afraid of cultivating too deep the first time, and use a cultivator that is adapted to the soil. The deep cultivating will let air into the soil and hasten the decay of organic matter and the building up of plant food. As soon as the corn roots begin to spread between the rows, the cultivator should be run shallower, so as not to prune the roots too much and set the plants back in their growth. As far as the saving of moisture is concerned, two inches seem to be the most economical depth to cultivate after the first two or three times. If thistles or milkweeds bother, try the thistle sweeps. There are kinds found on the market which will do the work effectively. Keep the cultivators running in the fields until the corn is too high for the two-horse machines. After this, many still use the one-horse cultivator until the corn gets too high or the weather too hot to do effective work.

The vital things in the growing of a good crop of corn are summarized as follows: A good seed bed, good seed, thorough cultivation to kill the weeds, to save water and to aerate the soil.

MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS

Lansing.—The local physicians are the latest to take a hand in the pure-milk game. Several of the profession have secured copies of the milk ordinances of other cities, and are preparing to put a similar law in effect here. Heretofore the sanitary inspector and the milk commission have not had any power to enforce their recommendations, but under the proposed ordinance it will be an offense to sell milk containing more than a certain number of bacteria. The ordinance step was taken because several of the milkmen have refused to accept the commission's ultimatum and suggestions.

Ann Arbor.—Frank Leach is in the University hospital with a scalp wound, the result of an attempt at suicide after he had tried to murder a police officer. Leach, who is a carpenter, went home and drove his wife from the house. A neighbor named Castertine tried to quiet him, and Leach threatened to shoot him. Castertine notified the police and a warrant was issued for Leach and given to Patrolmen Burnett and Meyers to seize. When they went to the house Leach shot through a screen door at Burnett, narrowly missing him. Then he turned the weapon on himself.

Grand Rapids.—Paul C. Rathman, sixty-four years old, brewer and superintendent of the Grand Rapids Brewing company, leaped from the liner Kaiser Wilhelm in mid-ocean while en route from Germany, where he had gone in quest of health. His wife witnessed his self-destruction. He was despondent because physicians had told him that he must return home to die. His death makes the fourth that has occurred among officers of the company within the last eight months.

Traverse City.—A representative of the state pure food department has made a visit to this city and local milk men are in a panic. He has condemned several dairies and has refused to let owners of cows sell milk unless they conform strictly to the state law. One firm went out of business and three others are expected to follow. Failure to keep milk at a temperature of 60 degrees when delivered to customers, and lack of bottling facilities are the causes of trouble.

West Branch.—James McKenna, a nine-year-old boy of this place, was rescued from drowning by Kenneth Ross. A number of boys were swimming and all but McKenna came out and dressed. He was learning to dive, and in one of his attempts got into deep water, and being unable to swim he sank the third time, when Young Ross swam with all his clothes on and rescued him.

Ann Arbor.—A J. Carlton, who says his home is in Hartford, Conn., was arrested after a chase down State street, on a charge of trying to pass a forged check on Wagner's men's furnishings store. He had in a check for $18.75, signed by William Herz, in payment for a bill of goods, but telephone inquiry of Mr. Herz elicited the information that he had made out no check to Carlton, and the latter is locked up.

Escanaba.—Claude Bishop, the engineer in the Morgan Lumber company sawmill at Foster City, was killed when the engine bed gave way. Bishop was holding a candle to show other men where the bed was cracked, when the bed broke and caused the engine to stop so suddenly that the fly wheel broke in several pieces. One of the side walls also fell in and crushed the engineer.

Jackson.—When Rev. Arthur M. Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, went to his church to conduct the regular prayer meeting service, he left his laundry in a suitcase on the porch after notifying the laundryman. While the service was in progress some thief stole the suitcase and clothes. The matter was reported to the police.

Holland.—While walking on the Saugatuck pier Charles Bullingham of Saugatuck discovered an old mattress floating upon the water, and, pulling it ashore, discovered the body of a two-months-old baby on the inside. The baby was well dressed, but there was nothing to identify the corpse.

Bay City.—Anthony and Frank Bobiak, father and son, were arrested together while intoxicated and together faced Police Judge Gaffney. The justice suspended sentence on the twenty-one-year-old son and fined the father $5 and gave him a good lecture, blaming him for the boy's waywardness.

Ann Arbor.—Local option forces are preparing to make another effort to put Washtenaw county in the "dry" column and have decided to circulate a petition calling upon the supervisors to submit the question of local option to the voters of the county next spring. A temporary committee, with Rev. Dr. M. H. Pettit of Ypsilanti as chairman, has been named to circulate a petition in each township. A special meeting of the local option forces will be held July 28, at which time a permanent organization will be effected.

STATES AWAKING TO DANGER

Nearly 4,000 additional hospital beds for consumptives in 29 states were provided during the year ending June 1, according to a statement issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. This makes a total of over 50,000 beds, but only about one for every ten indigent tuberculosis patients in this country. In the last five years, the hospital provision for consumptives has increased from 14,423 in 1907, to over 30,000 in 1912, or over 100 per cent. New York state leads in the number of beds, having 8,350 on June 1; Massachusetts comes next with 2,800; and Pennsylvania, a close third with 2,700. Alabama showed the greatest percentage of increase in the last year by adding 57 new beds to its 42 a year ago. Georgia comes next with 109 beds added to 240 a year ago. New York has the greatest numerical increase, having provided over 1,800 additional beds in the year.

Duel That Never Came Off.
Humphrey Howarth, a surgeon famous in the poet Rogers' day, appeared on the field arrayed only in nature's garb. "What does this mean?" asked his challenger, amazed. "I know," was Howarth's reply, "if any clothing is carried into the body by a gunshot wound, festering ensues. Therefore I have met you thus." The duel was declared off.

Tacoma Figures of Speech.
A Tacoma lawyer, arguing a divorce case recently closed his address to the jury as follows: "My client is a beautiful woman, so beautiful that the sun seems to stand still while the stars gaze at her. Truthful! Falsity flies from her even as the jack rabbit flies from the greyhound. Sweet! Gentleman, honey would freeze in her mouth. Tender and silent! My client could bathe in a fountain pen."—National Corporation Reporter.

Making Reproof Effective.
Belong to advise, or reprehend any one, consider whether it ought to be in public or in private, presently or at some other time, and in what terms to do it; and in reproving show no signs of cholera, but do it with sweetness and mildness.—George Washington.

If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing housework all day, and crawling into bed dead tired at night. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed, you should become both healthy and beautiful. For sale by all dealers.
