GUESS WHAT THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT

Frank Thompson got so scared of the ball every time he saw it coming toward him that he was forced to retire from the game in the third inning, from sheer fright.

Charlie Blackburn stuck to third base like a fly to sticky paper, (tho he failed to hang onto a single throw, even after the most desperate of efforts.) Rev. J. E. Webber proved to be the best sprinter of the players, while Nelt Schrader was easily the worst kicker. Milo Johnson and Frank Neal did the umpiring and no one knows yet why they still live to tell the tale.

The largest crowd of the season, except on a holiday, was in attendance. The final score stood 22 to 18 in favor of the Northside team. Lack of space—and words—forbids further comments.

The merchant's prizes were won as follows:

Perrin—Roughneck play, Shoe shining outfit offered by W. L. Tinsam.

Schrader—2 Home runs. $3.00 Carpet sweeper, by Schrader Bros. Also worst kicker, Jack knife by J. A. Huff. Derby hat by B. Fred for Home run.

W. J. Thompson—Most stolen bases hair cut and shave by Lee Shipley. C. Dubuay—Most strike-outs, dozen Buns by K. McCully.

Hinkley—Cut glass" tumblers by Ryder for most hits. Also 1 lb candy by Murdoch Bros for first run.

Ponsford—Box Cold Cream by Stanley's drug store for first out. 2d catch G. Stanley—Cigarettes by Jas. Ford for second two bagger.

Hill—Home run, basket cabbage by S. W. Knapp.

Henry—Biggest muff, Pennant by Otto Loomis.

Fred—Cigar for longest hit by Van Allen's cigar store.

F. Thompson—Soupbone for biggest error by Hattley & Balden.

Blackburn—Haircut and shave for most stolen bases by W. W. Hills. Also shirt by Wm. Gordon for falling down first.

Shapley—1 lb candy for first broken finger or first blood, from Wheeler.

Ryder—Yankee message by E. Murdoch for least kicking.

W. L. Tinsam—12 postal photos by L. L. Ball for three bagger.

J. E. Webber—Necktie for second three bagger by Stark Bros.

Tom Murdoch—2 1/2 cigars from W. L. Ambler for best runner on ninth in.

Stanley and Shipley—Pair Knappenders for first double play from C. Ponsford.

Dub—2 1/2 cigars for 2 bagger from Mr. Packman.

Time 2 hours and seventy minutes. Attendance 41144.

WONDERS IN "THE BLUE BIRD."

Quaint Characters and Beautiful Scenes in this Production.

The Log and the Cat that talked; bread, milk, water, fire and light which took on human shape and accompanied the children Tyltyl and Mytyl in their quest of Happiness, the ugly Fairy Berylene and her lovely palace, the Churchyard, the grave of which opened and disclosed a riot of blossoming lilies, the Kingdom of the Future where the unborn children dwell, and the far-off homes of the Hours, the Happinesses, the Stars, the Mist Maidens and the Blue Children—these are just a few of the wonders that will be disclosed to the delighted kiddies of this city and their grownup escorts when Maurice Materlack's famous spectacular drama, "The Blue Bird," will be played at the Garrick Theatre, Detroit for a return date next week Sept. 16.

It will be seen here with original scenery and effects and the entire big cast of 100 metropolitan players. Prices, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00. Mail orders promptly filled.

The Desert to Rejoice and Blossom as the Rose.

Again those who attended the meeting at Cattermole hall Sunday afternoon seemed pleased, and a vote was taken and carried for another meeting next Sunday.

That there are some new and good things yet in the "Grand Old Book," was, we believe, made manifest to all present. It is these new facts or truths which, until recently, have not been revealed to the sons of men, that the "bible students" are bringing before the people at the present time.

Earnest Christian men imbued with the true spirit of Christ in nearly every hamlet and town in the world, are at present heralding forth these "glad tidings" to an anxious and burdened people, who are looking for somethings beside the glitter and veneer of outward show, to fill the aching void.

Again the public of Northville and vicinity are invited the 15th. Bring some friend with you. Cattermole Hall, Northville, Mich. Sunday Sept. 15, at 3 P.M. No collection asked or thought of.

BIZ. MEN IN A DAY OF RARE AND RANK SPORT

Big Attendance and Bushels of Funny Fun

The business men were so excited all day Tuesday that they couldn't half tend to business. Those belonging to the Northside team were just as sure that they were going to beat as the Southside men were certain of the victory. Great preparations were made during the day. Two ambulances, with as many to render first aid to the injured. Promptly at 2:30 the slaughter commenced. The Southside men marched to the plate led by Ed Hinkley in a "Bloomer girl" costume. It would be impossible to give the lineup of either side, as it changed every other inning, or at least what were called "innings." There was so much excitement that no one ever knew whether three men had struck out or had been killed.

The really funny part of the afternoon came in noticing how deadly in earnest every one was, though it was all supposed to be a joke. When the umpire ventured to give a ridiculous decision he was in great danger of being "mobbed." As it was, one of them had to wrap an American flag about him, thus calling out the U. S. troops for protection, and so saved himself a dreadful fate.

The most scientific feature of the game was pulled off by "Shorty" Thompson, by which he brought in four runs and badly rattled several

The DIAMOND CIPHER

By W. A. PHILON

A Baseball Romance

(COPYRIGHT, 1912, BY W. G. CHAPMAN. COPYRIGHT IN CANADA AND GREAT BRITAIN)

SYNOPSIS.

Secret Service Chief, Wilkins, is called over the theft of the government's cipher, calls to his aid Detective Pinkwell. They think they have discovered a new cipher. When the office boys, Brockett, tells them it's "The Diamond Cipher," and starts for the ball park, Brockett, Chum, Lou Kan, a Blamee, Ramon Solano, a Cuban, together with some twenty other youngsters, practice baseball, playing until dark. One of Wilkins' stenographers is seen to pass a paper to a mysterious stranger. As outcome of Brockett's cipher, the ball player and Solano are engaged by government for mysterious mission. Yazimoto, mysterious Jap, calls on Brockett. Brockett falls into Yazimoto's trap, a fight follows; Brockett coming out on top; Messinger McKane coming to the rescue. McKane was bearer of the mysterious cipher; is also a ball player. Yazimoto returns to headquarters and reports to Baron Zellern his failure to obtain the cipher. Miss Lawson, the stenographer, also reports to the baron. Brockett and Solano have encounter with the baron in which the latter comes out second best. Brockett and Solano arrive in Jersey City; make appointment to meet McKinnity the "Iron Man," baseball manager. Brockett and Solano arrive in New York and run into a Chinese Tong war; rescued by a white man. The place of refuge found to be a trap; Kelly themselves prisoners of the Tong. Kelly to rescue. Kelly turns $1000 Jap money over to Brockett and Solano.

"We will have to cut out a few of the turns and bends we had mapped out," said Brockett, "or the delay we have just been through may hold us back considerably. Once back on the Jersey side, we can hurry right along. We still have a fair margin of time ahead of us, but we can't waste many hours."

The escort provided by the friendly Kelly strolled along with the boys for a block or so, pointing out places of interest and showing every evidence of good humor. As the little group turned into Park Row, one of the escorting four whispered in Brockett's ear, briefly, admonishingly:

"You two fellows walk ahead—about fifty feet or so. We'll come along back of you as if we didn't know you at anybody's trying for you along here we can pretty near get 'em that way."

And, like a quartet of well-trained soldiers, the gangsters dropped back, till perhaps twenty paces separated them from their charges. Brockett and Solano, willing to accept the judgment of the "L" road. One of them, a stocky fellow with a gray cap pulled well down upon his forehead, stumbled against Solano, and, regulating his balance with a quick spring of his nimble legs, caught the Cuban by the arm.

"Say, young feller, whatchu mean by shovin' people around, anyhow? Can't you see where you're goin'?" Solano shook off the detaining hand, and Brockett closed up beside him. The pack of rat-faced young men seemed to spring up around them like ambushed Indians, and the trap was as neatly sprung as ever a savage planned an ambush. The next second there came the quick patter of feet from the rear; four more rat-faced, furtive-eyed young men had mingled with the attacking half-dozen, and the wholo-ten were exchanging amicable greetings.

"Just keep off these two guys, just let 'em be," explained one of the escorting four.

"Friends of yours, Casey?" queried the apparent leader of the newcomers. "Friends of Kelly's, like. He told us to see that they got to any place they might choose to go."

"The deuce you say? All right, if youse ducks says so. Tell Kelly you seen us, and we sent him our best regards."

"Sure thing, like so long. See you later, maybe."

The recent assassins faded into the darkness of the "L" shadow, as strangely as they came, and the quartet of protecting gangsters resumed the journey.

"Good thing we went with you fellows," exulted the chief of the protective squad. "Those gorillas would have fixed you sure."

"So I should judge," admitted Solano. "We would have given them some fight, at that, but six against two would have been a little too strong. Are they part of your own crowd?"

"No, not in a hundred. They're Five Points, do you see? And we're Eastmans. Right now, we're all good friends—best on earth. Kelly's an don passed the bridge entrance and then began a new tack that would lead them to the ferry.

The gangsters were uncertain. "Not much show for anything with any gangs," explained their leader, "but if the Japs ticks are as wild as they seem to get you, there may be something doing. Pretty mean people, those Japs. They'll hang on forever in hopes of getting an even break with anyone they're after. Tell you what, Kelly didn't tell us to go any farther than the ferry, but we'll see you key safe to Jersey, anyhow. Might be some doings on the ferry, you know."

The little squad went through various devious wanderings and doublings during the rest of the route, to the Christopher street ferry, pursuing a tortuous course that evoked expressions of admiration from the disciples of Monk Eastman. "You fellows are pretty wise, all right," commented the chief of the escort. "It would take a good fly-mug to trail you, and, if the Japs can keep track of your smoke they'll have to go some. Honest, we'd like to go the route with you two, but the best we can do is to back-track and beat it across again on the ferry just as quick as we see you landed. Some of us is entirely too popular in Jersey. They'd like to keep us there for a long time, they like us so much over there."

As the lights of the ferry came in sight the gang chief called a sudden halt. "Seems to me," was his sage observation—the remark of an able general—"that if those Japs have anything coming at all it'll be pulled on the boat, and the same plan as we worked in Park Row ought to be a winner. You two go on ahead and board the boat just a bit in front of us. We'll all be right on the job, and if anything happens some of those fellow boys will have a smoke go-out. That all right? Sure it is. Now beat it along and leave the rest to us."

Brockett and Solano had by this time learned to trust implicitly in the far faced and slinking members of the Eastman gang. They were upon the big ferryboat scarcely two seconds when the lights of the departing signals, and, as they caught the low of the clumsy old vessel, they could see no sign of their faithful escort in the midnight crowd of home-looking Jerseyans. Nevertheless, there was the pleasant feeling that the gangsters were still with them—somewhere within hearing and striking distance—and it was a cheering thought to realize that the subtlest enemy, against such rough fighters of the dark, could inflict but little injury.

The lights of the city were dancing on the black waters of the North river when from the forepart of the cabin rose a shrill cry of surprise and horror. Then another cry, this time of pain and despair. There was a rush of feet, a tussling amid a knot of men, and the next moment two little fellows, finely dressed, and, as the cabin lights fell upon their faces, showing the unmistakable features of the Oriental, were jammed up against the side-rails of the boat. For one instant the light shone upon the frenzied brown visages, and the boys caught one recognizing glimpse of Mr. Yazimoto. Then the lights of the boat went out; utter blackness shrouded the huge floating structure, and there was a splash, a gurgling yell, and another splash beside the boat. The lights flared up again, and the gang leader stood beside Brockett, cool, unruffled, smiling affably.

"Good thing Hogan knew where to find the electric switch," he said, pleasantly. "He worked on one of these boats last summer, and he knows where they keep everything. Your Jap friend is pretty wet by now, I'm thinking. We made 'em just in time. They had you spotted and was just slipping up to hand you something."

On the big boat men were running and bellowing hoarsely. Brockett and Solano heard the uproar, and gazed out across the silent waters of the North river, while the members of the Eastman gang, as unshaken and disinterested as the most innocent member of the throng, were idly standing near them. Somewhere out among the wash of the tide two men were fighting for their lives, or, perchance, had already sought the bottom—but there was nothing to be seen from the rail of the ferry-boat, and the North river was keeping its newest secret well.

CHAPTER XIII.

Manhattan, the Hudson, and the exciting scenes of the previous day were far behind. The adventures were rolling west upon a rapid train, planning details they went and revised, their recent adventures with much complexity.

stance of all was the way in which Mr. Yazimoto seemed to have kept track of their movements, and the persistency with which he had turned up at every inconvenient hour.

"You have to give credit to the Jap," remarked Solano. "He, was game, he took long chances, and Sherlock Holmes never had anything on him when it came to following a clue. I'm almost sorry that he's in the river."

"Always provided that he is," murmured Brockett, doubtfully. "Somehow or other I can't believe that we've seen the last of him. I'd wager something—if I ever gambled—that he came safe ashore, and is after us again."

"I hardly think so," said the Cuban. "Our friends of the Eastman gang settled him for keeps, and his partner with him. What I can't understand is the way they attended to him without interference or trouble. They put him overboard without any of the other passengers cutting in to stop them, and they all got away without being bothered by the police. I can't admire their lives or their principles, but we owe a great deal to them."

"We may have a chance to pay them back some time—at least, I hope so," Brockett commented.

"If not one way, we will another," said Solano. "After this trip is over—if we get back with our heads and skins—I'm going to visit New York, call on Mr. Kelly and invite the whole Eastman gang to a banquet at my expense. What they have done for us was well worth it, wasn't it?"

The train pulled into Pittsburgh, towards noon, and the youngsters departed. They had decided to turn their route to Cleveland, then to Detroit, and thence across Michigan to Chicago, changing railroads at each city.

A night train to Cleveland was selected for the next trip, and the boys put in the afternoon in the justly celebrated city of steel, shipping and eccentric millionaires. A glance at a baseball schedule showed them that Pittsburgh was playing at home during the afternoon—a circumstance which settled their whereabouts for the greater portion of the day. It had never been the fortune of either boy to see Hans Wagner, and the chance was one that was not to be resisted. Even with the anticipation of a glimpse at Wagner to lull them on, Brockett and Solano did not lose their caution. Instead of going straight to Forbes field, home of the Pittsburgh team, they started in the opposite direction, circled here and there among the busy streets for an hour, lunched in a restaurant with entrances on two different streets, and departed by the door through which they didn't come when they first went in. Then they separated, went to opposite sides of a block and rejoined each other on a side street, so clear of traffic that they could easily have spotted anyone following or shadowing the movements of either one. The trip to Forbes field was then in order, and reach of a possible plunger. The good-natured negro in charge of the car made up their couches without delay, and then went to the platform to receive belated travelers, arriving barely in time to swing aboard the train.

As Solano was tossing off his shoes, and Brockett loosening his tie, the train cleared the Pittsburgh station, gathering speed and whizzing along on its northwestern way. The porter came grinning up to the berth where the boys were preparing for much-needed sleep, and handed a small, square envelope to Brockett.

"Gentleman in the crowd done gib me dis," he explained. "Said to hand it to de young men in upper and lower seabed as soon as de train was under way, so heah it am."

"Gentleman in the crowd?" echoed

"SAY, YOUNG FELLER, WHATCHU MEAN BY SHOVIN' PEOPLE AROUND, ANYHOW?"

Brockett: "Why—what—what sort of looking man was he?"

The negro grinned and shook his head.

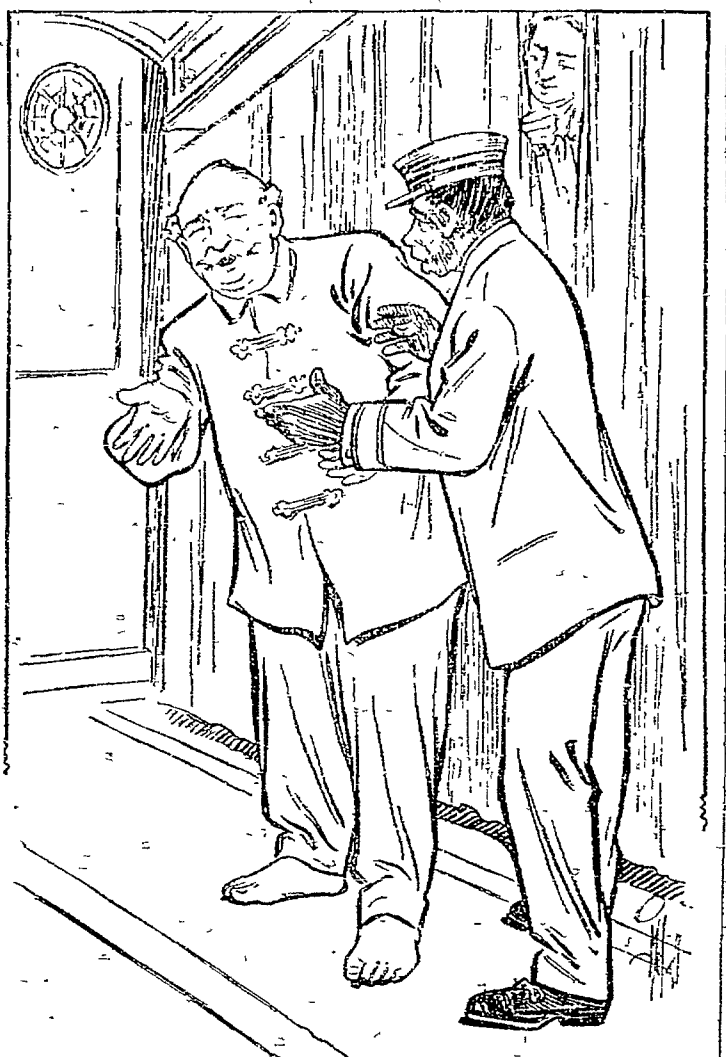

"Couln't exactly tell you, suh. Dere was three or four people cumbin' aboard de cab, an' Ah was so busy Ah habdly noticed anyone in particular. Jest took it soht ob mechanical, suh, soht ob mechanical, an' Ah neveh did see de passeng."

Solano turned on the electric bulb in the lower berth. They drew the green curtains tight, and Brockett opened the envelope. It contained only a square white card, and across the card was written, in the diamond cipher, these letterings:

"R 3RH pos E 2BU SH W TO IN TO SH Pos TO C O B B AP SH BB Pos TO R 3RH SH Pin PO"

"Meaning," Brockett translated, "change route at Detroit. No watch ful."

"Meaning also," said Solano, "that even if we have excited our past enemies we have not passed from the sight of the secret service chief."

"WHARFO' YO' COME FUSSIN' ROUND DIS GEMMEN'S BERTH, ANYHOW?"

the youngsters worshipped at the shrine of the great German shortstop for two delirious hours. When the mighty Honus, in the tenth inning, put his weight against a fast ball and drove it over the middle wall for the home run that won the game, no native Pittsburger could have created more noise or come nearer an actual delirium than Brockett and Solano.

The early evening hours were spent in pretty continual motion, and the boys were well fagged out when they betook themselves to a Pullman car, Cleveland-bound. They had decided to take two berths, upper and lower, with Solano sleeping in the lower berth, while Brockett, with the least of the youngsters' and chaperons' would mount on high, beyond the take off my bonnet to him and to his people."

The humming motion of the wheels had soothed both boys to sleep, and Brockett was dreaming of a baseball partnership with Hans Wagner, and Christy Mathewson, when the sound of an angry altercation woke him with a start. Peering down from his elevated perch, he made out the stocky form of the porter, and beside him the figure of a man in pajamas, who was expostulating earnestly.

"Ah'm sorry, suh," cried the negro, "but Ah distinctly saw yo' reach into dis berth and pay all around. Yo' berth is way up de cab, and on de other side. Wharfo' yo' come fussin' round dis gemmen's berth, anyhow?"

West No Place for Consumption.

Physicians in all of the eastern states will be asked by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis to stop sending consumptives in the last stages of tuberculosis and without sufficient funds to the northwestern part of the United States in search of health. While it is impossible to tell accurately how many consumptives there are at present living in the states of Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, southern California, and Western Texas it is probable that no less than ten per cent of the 6,000,000 people in this territory have tuberculosis themselves, or have come to the west because some member of their family have had it. Every year the health authorities estimate not less than 10,000 consumptives, hopelessly diseased, come west to die. For these cases, the climate of this section of the country can do nothing and they are compelled to die in strange surroundings and thousands of miles from home and friends. The National Association points out further that from 50 to 60 per cent of these advanced cases are too poor to provide the proper necessities of life, and they are either starved to death or compelled to accept the meager charity which this part of the country affords.

A FOOD CONVERT

Good Food the True Road to Health.

The pernicious habit some persons still have of relying on nauseous drugs to relieve stomach trouble keeps up the patent medicine business and helps keep up the army of dyspeptics.

Indigestion—dyspepsia—is caused by what is put into the stomach in the way of improper food, the kind that so taxes the strength of the digestive organs they are actually crippled.

When this state is reached, to resort to tonics is like whipping a tired horse with a big load. Every additional effort he makes under the lash diminishes his power to move the load.

Try helping the stomach by leaving off heavy, greasy, indigestible food and take on Grape-Nuts—light, easily digested, full of strength for nerves and brain, in every gram of it. There's no waste of time or energy when Grape-Nuts is the food.

"I am an enthusiastic user of Grape-Nuts and consider it an ideal food," writes a Maine man:

"I had nervous dyspepsia and was all run down and my food seemed to do me but little good. From reading an advertisement I tried Grape-Nuts food, and, after a few weeks' steady use of it felt greatly improved."

"Am much stronger, not nervous now, and can do more work without feeling so tired, and am better every way."

"I relish Grape-Nuts best with cream and use four heaping teaspoonsful as the cereal part of a meal. I am sure there are thousands of persons with stomach trouble who would be benefited by using Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Every reader of the above letter, a new one appears, sometimes in time, they are genuine, true, and full of meaning.

City in Brief.

Newspaper men all over the state will regret to learn of the sudden death of W. H. Marvin, publisher of the Utica Sentinel, which occurred on Tuesday. No man in Michigan was more widely acquainted or more favorably known than he.

Northville people will learn with regret that Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Robertson are soon to leave Northville and take up their residence in the far west, where they have positions with the U. S. government in the fish culture department.

The Record was mistaken in last week's issue in reference to the humpy-bump road built on the Base line. This road was built by Commissioner Clark instead of Matt Green. Mr. Clark attributes the condition to the poor gravel mixed with the good, and says, this fall he will cut those bumps all off. Commissioner Green thinks he will get rid of this feature of the road east of the Green houses on the Yerkes street later on with a scraper.

Mr. Green has also completed a very nice stretch of road on Gady and Rogers streets.

LaVon J. Fattal

OPTOMETRIST

On Thursday and Friday of every week I will be in Northville (Swift Bldg.) to correct defective vision. I will do perfect and careful examination of the eye and fit glasses properly.

I use no drug and special attention will be given to children in general. Now is the time to have their eyes examined before their school work I will advise them whether they need glasses.

Remember the days. Prices for glasses reasonable. Do not neglect your eyes. Come to me, I will do the rest.

LA VON J. FATTAL, Eye Sight Specialist.

Office hours: 9:30 to 11:30 and 12:30 to 5:30—For appointments, see or phone Capt. D. A. Noble, Swift Bldg. Northville. wip

CARD OF THANKS.

Through the Record we wish to thank the many friends who have helped to brighten the sick room of our wife and mother, with flowers or dainties of any kind. Also the Masses; M. W. A.; The King's Daughters; the Seventh and Eighth grades at school; the Clover Whist Club, and the "West End" 500 club.

There has hardly been a day during her eighteen months of suffering she has not been remembered by some one, for which we thank you all.

HARLEY D. JOHNSON, EDWARD AND CHARLES.

Happy Women

Plenty of them in Northville, and Good Reason for it.

Wouldn't any woman be happy. After years of backache suffering. Days of misery, nights of unrest. The distress of urinary troubles. When she finds freedom. Many readers will profit by the following.

Mrs. W. M. Fredricks, Wing St., Northville, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of such great benefit to me that I feel justified in giving them my endorsement. I had considerable trouble from my kidneys for several years and I suffered constantly from dull, nagging backaches, coupled with pains through my kidneys. I doctored and tried many remedies, but found no relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Murdock Bros. Drug Store. Since taking this remedy, my condition has improved in every way and backache has not bothered me.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

NORTHVILLE.

The City in Brief.

WIN Lanning has been on the sick list this week.

Roy Gray delivered for J. S. Haddock Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shipley have moved to Plymouth.

A tent show went through Northville Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lucy Cook is very ill, threatened with typhoid fever.

The High School enrollment Friday night was an even one hundred.

The Globe company is working on a church job for Hay's Corners, N. Y.

Little Muriel Pierce who was very ill the first of the week is better now.

The annual Milford fair will be held from September 24 to 27 this year.

Electric light bills are payable on or before the twentieth of this month.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cardona, Monday, September 9, a daughter.

B. J. Thompson has been putting up some fine stacks on the Base line road, lately.

The Globe Company will ship a carload of church seating to California next week.

Carl Schultze suffered a slight sunstroke Monday afternoon, while threshing. Dr. Henry was called.

The body of William Knapp who died at his home in Detroit, was brought here in the funeral car Monday for burial.

The three upper classes of the High School are planning to give a series of dances this winter to obtain funds for a new piano.

The business houses were closed Tuesday afternoon from two-thirty to four-thirty so that every one could attend the ball game.

S. W. Knapp contributed a pleasant feature to the ball game Tuesday by making up a ten gallon crockful of delicious lemonade.

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Schrader and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark enjoyed an auto trip to Pontiac, Detroit and other cities, Sunday.

William Scott and Russell Hibbs of Washington, D. C. who have been employed at the Northville Fish Station during the summer months, returned home Monday.

About twenty five friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Carpenter participated in a party on them Monday evening to help them celebrate the twenty-first anniversary of their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Franklin moved their household goods to Redford last week, where they will make their home. Mrs. Franklin is teaching in the public school there.

The big event of the season will be pulled off tomorrow afternoon, when Neil Schrader and Milt Brown battle for championship of this city a large amount of money has been put up on the results and the excitement promises to be intense. It will be a foot race.

The Northville F. & A. M. Lodge entertained the Milford lodge Thursday evening. About fifty visitors were present. The chief item of interest in the evening's program was a lecture by Past Grand Master, Frank T. Lodge of Detroit, explaining the three degrees of Masonry. The local lodge with W. M. Sherman D. Meseraull as leader, gave its guests a fine banquet and a very enjoyable evening.

Myron White had a streak of bad and half good luck, one day last week, all inside an hour. He had just got his pension cashed and lost four ten dollar bills out of his pocket while going home. Just as he missed the money along came Eugene Clarkson who had picked up the bills, and returned them to Mr. White. Needless to say Mr. Clarkson's honesty was greatly appreciated.

In building the mile of good roads on the base line Highway Commissioner Jesse Clark made a good find of gravel on the Thompson hill. All he had to do was to cut down the grade and a beautiful gravel road was right there. The valley just at the top of the big hill is being filled and when all is completed it will be one of the nicest miles of good roads in this section. After the roads are built Mr. Clark advocates their being oiled to make the work permanent and the expenditure economical.

"Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is the best remedy for that often fatal disease—croup. Has been used with success in our family for eight years."—Mrs. U. Whitesacre, Buffalo, N. Y.

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

The Maude Stevens Concert Company, the first number of the lecture course, comes October 2.

Little Vivian Taylor, who met with quite a serious accident last Thursday by falling down stairs, is doing nicely.

The next regular meeting of the King's Daughters will be held at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Harger Tuesday evening, September 17.

The Band has recently received some of money from Dr. T. S. Ball, Mrs. W. G. Lapham and Dr. D. E. Henry, for which they are very grateful. The boys report a royal entertainment at both the Redford and Sylvan Lake Gala days, for which they furnished music.

Notice is given by the United States government that an examination will be held at the federal building in Pontiac on Saturday, September 28, for the position of postmaster at Walled Lake, which is a fourth class office. The successful applicant will succeed S. M. Gage resigned, who has acted as postmaster there for some years. Compensation for the past year was $358.

Following a complaint from the Northville Automobile club, the railroad commission has ordered that all railroad crossings in the state be put in repair within 60 days. Automobile owners declare that in most cases the rails are above the planking, which causes the owner of machines to slow up when they attempt to cross, and for this reason many accidents have occurred. The state law says that the planking shall be above the rails.

For a mild, easy action of the bowels, a single dose of Doan's Regulents is enough. Treatment cures habitual constipation. 25 cents a box. Ask your druggist for them.

E. H. Lapham has the champion high grown corn. The stalks measure as tall as 15 feet 3 inches. It takes a tall step ladder from which to reach the ears.

Wm. Cattermole has been distributing some very neat advertising novelties, in the way of cakes of toilet soap with his picture and business printed thereon.

W. G. Lapham has purchased a new 1913 Lozier automobile, and expects to be running it in a week or so, or as soon as the factory has it ready. The Lozier is one of the highest grade cars made.

W. G. Thompson of the alctum, in his effort to give a variety in connection with his moving picture show, is completing some very pretty drop curtains and wings for a stage effect. The work is really artistic.

Geo. Hotelling is the champion potato raiser of this section, having dug 24 bushel from a 3x4 rod space of ground, at the rate of 320 bushel per acre. George says that "no one but an Irishman could do that."

About 60 members of Keystone Chapter No. 52, O. E. S. of Detroit were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Noble at "The Grove" on Thursday of last week. All brought their baskets and best smiles and upon leaving declared they had a most enjoyable day, and stated their intention of coming again with a larger crowd.

Will sell any Refrigerator I have in stock at factory cost (even out the freight). Now's your chance.

Many times a few cents spent for a cure as quick as a puff of wind, procures dollars in return.

Dysentery is always serious and often a dangerous disease, but it can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has cured it even when malignant and epidemic. For sale by all dealers.

If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing housework all day, and crawling into bed dead tired at night. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed, you should become both healthy and beautiful. For sale by all dealers.

Michigan's Great State Fair

DETROIT, MICHIGAN

SHOWING THE LATEST DEVELOPMENTS OF THE YEAR'S PROGRESS, BOTH AGRICULTURAL AND INDUSTRIAL

THE FAIR OF INNOVATIONS

IT IS THE ANNUAL STATE FAIR OF MICHIGAN TO BE HELD THIS YEAR THE WEEK OF Sept 16th, closing Sept. 21st, and comprising all of the great agricultural exhibits which have made the Michigan State Fair famous the country over. This year it will be better than ever.

THEY SPEAK OF THE STATE FAIR OF MICHIGAN THIS YEAR AS "SO DIFFERENT" AND WITH GOOD REASON, FOR THERE HAVE BEEN ADDED THIS YEAR MANY EXHIBITS NEVER BEFORE CONSIDERED FOR STATE FAIRS. THESE ADDITIONAL EXHIBITS WILL INTEREST YOU.

AND THERE IS THE NEW DAIRY BUILDING, THE HANDSOMEST STRUCTURE FOR THE PURPOSE, IN THE UNITED STATES. Here it will be possible to follow the processes of butter and cheese making and of commercializing the milk. The cows will be milked electrically, fed in the latest and most modern way with everything right up to date.

THE GREAT LAND SHOW WILL BE NEW TO THE FAIR THIS YEAR. IT WILL COMPRISE 22,000 SQUARE FEET OF EXHIBITS OFFERED TO THE FAIR BY THE GREAT RAILROADS OF THE COUNTRY, LATELY EXHIBITED AT CHICAGO. ALL THE GREAT RAILROADS WILL BE REPRESENTED AT THIS TIME.

GOOD ROADS ARE WANTED IN MICHIGAN and the successful demonstration of good roads construction work carried on at the Fair will be continued this year on a larger scale than ever. The good work accomplished for Michigan by this department has been the talk of the country, and resulted in the endorsement of President Taft last year.

THE FINEST PRODUCTS OF THE FARMS OF MICHIGAN WILL BE SEEN IN THE AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITS, THE BEST IN FARM PRODUCE AND THE BEST FROM THE BREEDING PENS OF THE STATE, ALL IN COMPETITION FOR THE $90,000 IN PREMIUMS.

THERE ARE MANY OF THESE FEATURES THAT ARE NOTEWORTHY and it will be found that the people of the State of Michigan have been given a Fair this year that is equalled by none in the country, a Fair replete with new features in the agricultural field and with industrial features added.

THE BOYS STATE FAIR SCHOOL IS BOUND TO INTEREST EVERYONE, FOR HERE WILL BE FOUND OVER ONE HUNDRED BOYS STUDYING SCIENTIFIC AGRICULTURE UNDER CAPABLE MEN. EACH COUNTY OF THE STATE CHOSE ONE BOY AND MANY WILL BE THERE AT THEIR OWN EXPENSE.

THE STATE FAIR PAYS THE EXPENSES of eighty-three of the boys from their home to the Fair and during the entire week there and then back home again. The others are sent by County Fairs which had schools patterned after the State School while popular subscriptions supply money for the others. A chance of a lifetime.

NAVAL AFFAIRS ARE ALWAYS INTERESTING AND THE NAVY DEPARTMENT HAS AGREED TO GIVE TO THE STATE FAIR A COMPREHENSIVE EXHIBIT SHOWING BATTLE SHIPS OF EVERY CHARACTER IN MINATURE, AND EQUIPMENT OF MODERN BATTLE SHIPS, TORPEDO BOATS AND TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYERS.

THE MINIATURE MODEL FARMS ON WHICH THE crops will mature for Fair time were created for the city boys and thirty of the Boy Scouts of Detroit and Wayne County have been working hard under a capable instructor to bring forth creditable crops, purses of gold being the prizes.

THE AUTOMOBILE SHOW IN ITS OWN BUILDING IS ANOTHER EXCLUSIVE FEATURE WITH MICHIGAN AND THIS YEAR THERE WILL BE MORE EXHIBITS THAN USUAL AND WITH A GREAT VARIETY OF NEW 1913 MODELS ON VIEW. THERE WILL BE THIRTY OR MORE EXHIBITORS.

ACTUAL MANUFACTURING METHODS ARE ALWAYS INTERESTING and the industrial feature enters into the Fair this year with the establishment of the Progress Building in which every exhibit will show the actual manufacturing of the object displayed. This exhibit will be truly typical of Michigan's manufacturing interests.

AND WHO DOES NOT WANT TO RAISE POULTRY? THE STATE FAIR HAS ARRANGED FOR A COMPLETE EXHIBIT OF POULTRY RAISING METHODS AND YOUNG AND OLD ALIKE WILL BE MUCH INTERESTED IN STUDYING CAREFULLY THE METHODS FOLLOWED BY CAPABLE MEN IN THIS FIELD.

ALL OF THE FINEST SHOW HORSES IN THE WORLD will be seen at the night horse show which has been a feature each year. Many of these horses were seen at the great horse shows at New York and Chicago and the rivalry of the owners promises to add interest this year, and to make this one of the noteworthy features at the Fair is our aim.

HORSE RACES ARE A PART OF ALL STATE FAIRS AND THE GRAND CIRCUIT MEET THIS YEAR WILL BRING TOGETHER THE FASTEST HORSES IN THE LAND IN CLOSE AND INTERESTING CONTESTS ON A TRACK THAT IS ALWAYS A RECORD BREAKER.

IN THE AUTOMOBILE RACES THERE WILL BE KEEN COMPETITION for the entry list includes Louis Drisbrow and his two great racing cars, the Jay Eye See and the Zip, Frank Kuhelk in the little Ford in which he did the mile at last year's State Fair in 50 seconds and Farmer Bill Endicott with many others.

FIRE WORKS WILL BE REMARKABLE IN INTERESTING FEATURES, FOR THE FALL OF OLD MEXICO WILL BE SHOWN WITH THE FORT OF CHAHULTEPEC AND MOUNT POPOCATEPEL IN FIRE AND IN ADDITION TO THIS GREAT SPECTACLE THERE WILL BE THE BATTLE IN THE SKIES.

ONE GOES TO A STATE FAIR TO BE AMUSED as well as for education and the 63rd Annual State Fair will have a midway, cleansed of all objectionable features and located away from the center of the grounds, a Midway that the wife, mother and children may view without a qualm, and thoroughly enjoy themselves every moment there.

THIS IS GOING TO BE THE ONE FAIR IN ALL AMERICA TO SEE AND YOU CAN HARDLY AFFORD TO MISS IT. AFTER YOU HAVE SPENT TIME IN SEARCHING OUT ITS INNUMERABLE INTERESTING FEATURES GIVE US THE BENEFIT OF YOUR IDEAS. FOR WE WANT THEM AND WILL ADOPT THEM IF GOOD. FOR THE FAIR OF 1913.

REMEMBER THE DATES—Sept. 16 to 21 Inclusive

AND THE PRICE? 50c for adults, 25c for children, who will have one day for themselves at 10c admission.

FRANZ KUHN FOR SUPREME COURT

GOVERNOR ANNOUNCES ELEVATION OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL TO SUCCEED JUSTICE BLAIR.

ROGER I. WYKES, OF GRAND RAPIDS SUCCEEDS KUHN.

Kuhn is But 40 Years Old and is Said to Be the Youngest Man Ever Appointed to Supreme Bench.

Governor Chase S. Osborn has appointed, Attorney-General Franz C. Kuhn to the state supreme bench to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Judge Blair, of Jackson, and appointed Roger I. Wykes, of Grand Rapids, to succeed Mr. Kuhn as attorney-general.

Mr. Kuhn resides in Mt. Clemens, and is 40 years old. He is the youngest lawyer ever given a place on the Michigan supreme bench. It is a coincidence that he became attorney-general by appointment to fill a vacancy. Governor Warner appointed him attorney-general to succeed John B. Bird, who was appointed to fill a vacancy on the supreme bench. Later Mr. Kuhn was selected attorney-general.

It will be necessary for both Mr. Kuhn and Mr. Wykes to go before the Republican state convention and seek the nomination for the offices.

Mr. Kuhn was educated in the public schools of Mt. Clemens. In 1893 he graduated from the literary department of the University of Michigan, and in 1894 from the law department. He served three terms as prosecuting attorney of Macomb county, and also served as probate judge. He was appointed attorney-general June 6, 1910.

Mr. Wykes, a Grand Rapids attorney, is representing the state in several cases at the present time, and is a close personal friend of Governor Osborn.

Engine Blows Up—Fireman Killed.

A steam coil of a Michigan Central engine exploded at Niles and killed the fireman C. H. Murrell, of Jackson. The engine was running at 40 miles an hour. Engineer Carl Parr and Dennis Cahill, also of Jackson, were seriously injured. After the explosion Murrell leaped from the engine, his head striking a rail. The engineer crawled from his cab and hung from the outside of the tender until he became exhausted and fell into a ditch. One shoulder was dislocated and his face badly bruised and burned. The engine sped over the rails without a pilot until two miles east of Niles, when it went dead. His skull fractured and bleeding from his nose and mouth, Cahill succeeded in signaling a passenger train on the other track. He was unconscious when picked up. The engine was brought to Niles, where government inspectors will conduct an investigation. Murrell leaves a family.

Barbour is Now on Prison Board.

Attorney Levi Barbour of Detroit has been appointed by Gov. Osborn to the place made vacant on the Jackson prison board by the resignation of Clyde L. Webster, now district attorney at Detroit.

Mr. Barbour was formerly a member of the board of regents of the U. of M., but was defeated for re-nomination by Regent Leland. He has made many donations to the state university, the largest being Barbour gymnasium.

Mr. Barbour is said to be one of the foremost students of penology in Michigan, he having given the treatment and correction of convicts extensive investigation. He is a Democrat, as is Mr. Frensdorff, another member. The third, Mr. Wernicke, is a Republican.

W. S. Humphrey Heads Bar Association.

The closing session of the Michigan State Bar association was held in Saginaw Saturday. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Watts S. Humphrey, Saginaw; vice-president, R. H. Person, Lansing; secretary, Harry A. Silbee, Lansing; treasurer, William E. Brown, Lapeer. The selection of the next place of meeting was left with the officers, but will probably be Lansing as that place was favored by the delegates.

The American association workers for the blind closed its session in Saginaw with the election of the following officers: President, R. A. Griffith, Grand Rapids; first vice-president, Floyd A. Waite, Lansing; second vice-president, Fred Dickman, Port Huron; secretary, Clara Wilson, Clifford; treasurer, J. P. Smith, Ionia.

One bank in Shiawassee county has refused to accept any more mortgages on property if they know the money is to be used in the purchase of an automobile. The officials declare that an unusually large number of machines have been purchased in this way this year, and they believe that it will have a big tendency to hurt their business if they are forced to foreclose on property that has been mortgaged for this purpose.

The twenty-fifth annual convention of the Ottawa Sunday School association will be held in the First and Second Reformed church, in Grand Haven Sept. 20. Prominent state and county workers will participate.

A father's loyalty to his son has been exemplified in the action of John Rook, a Chumax blacksmith, who has sacrificed his shop to meet the costs of the defense of his son and a companion, arrested and convicted of burglary last spring. Rook gave a chattel mortgage on the place to local attorneys, who after waiting several months foreclosed the mortgage.

Two cows put on a diet of spines, cactus in Santa Rosa Cal a week ago, with the object of exhibiting them at the state fair are attracting the interest of dairymen. On the third day their milk output had increased five pounds, on the fourth day, seven pounds, and on the fifth day, nine pounds. Two hogs also fed solely upon the spineless cactus are said to be thriving.

Interest in the automobile races at the Michigan State Fair is being taken outside Detroit and the State of Michigan according to advices received recently from the East. Disbrow is looked upon as the speed king and his meeting with Frank Kulick at the State Fair grounds Sept. 21st on the mile track, considered the fastest mile circle in the world, is the topic of much discussion. Kulick's mile in fifty seconds last year in the Ford car took the country by surprise and the declaration of Kulick that fifty seconds will undoubtedly be beaten demonstrates the fact that Disbrow with the record-breaking Simplex Zip will have to travel his fastest to keep in sight of the Detroit boy. In preparing the track especially for this great struggle the management is taking no chances.

"Uncle Sam" has the honor of being the first to arrive on the scene with an exhibit for the Michigan State Fair. The display to be made by the United States Government, exclusively in Michigan, came into Detroit Tuesday last and was at once taken to the grounds. It consisted of miniature models of great battle ships; modern and of the older types, and of a great amount of naval material. During the week of Sept. 16th to 21st inclusive the Navy Department will have capable men in charge at the fair grounds and a most interesting exhibit is promised. The attendants will on hand to explain everything with regard to the numerous models of ships and articles used in naval warfare. As this is the first exhibit of its character shown at a fair considerable interest will undoubtedly be taken in the display.

MICHIGAN'S GREAT STATE FAIR

A FAIR ENTIRELY DIFFERENT FROM ALL OTHER FAIRS AND THE ONE IN ALL AMERICA.

TO BE IN OPERATION ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 16 TO 21.

There Will Be Hundreds of New Features to Be Seen and to Be Appreciated at the Michigan State Fair of 1912.

(By J. E. Hannon, Secretary and Manager Michigan State Fair.)

It is strange that not more people are interested in the growth and production of the common necessities of life—I have reference to the vegetables, roots and grain that are grown by the farmer.

The farmer himself is fully cognizant of the requisites for producing potatoes, wheat, corn, sugar, beans, and oats. He knows that his soil must contain certain elements in order to produce good crops under favorable conditions and the basic element required is lime, because through lime we obtain humus, phosphorus and nitrogen through the action of the soil and moisture, yet the ordinary mortal in the city lives a life without knowing the first rudiments of agriculture, and what is worse—without any attempt to become acquainted with the fundamental principles of agriculture and its kindred arts.

It does not require scientists or chemists to inform us that milk is the main food of our infants and young children and it is appalling to see the ignorance of parents on this subject; yet a number of manufacturers of dairy machinery have any number of engineers and experts busy year after year in designing models of machines that will separate unseen impurities and dirt from the milk which is the very life of our babies and plays an important part in the feeding of the grown ups.

In calling attention to these facts we do not wish to assume the position that the parents of children should necessarily be experts in selecting and preparing food, yet a general knowledge of how and under what conditions the milk, cream and butter is obtained would add greatly in reducing the mortality of the present and coming generations, and we believe that if the same interest was placed in learning about these matters that is evinced when the exact spectator will surround a demonstration of some new fangled food or possibly some kind of dessert at a large department store, better conditions could prevail in the field of agriculture and in the conditions surrounding the marketing of farm products.

We have asked several simple questions in our examinations submitted to the youths between 11 and 16 years of age in every county in the state and the ignorance displayed by these youngsters who are in every epoch with the mothers is astonishing. More than 60 per cent of these youngsters farmers did not know what rotation of crops meant, several hundred were told to express even a boy of the age and purpose of the rubber tree. Many more were guilty in their knowledge of characters of dairy and beef cattle. Scarcely any of them could tell what elements in the soil were necessary to produce good corn and potatoes, and the showing among the people of any hamlet or city providing they were required to write on these questions would be ludicrous.

Now the purpose of a State Fair and an exposition such as ours, is to educate and instruct its patrons in agriculture and its kindred arts and at the 1912 Michigan State Fair we are starting at the bottom. We will try and show through demonstrations and analysis of the soil by experts the requirements and preparations necessary in getting the soil in proper condition to bring forth good crops and a short practical course of instructions will be given by these same experts on the care of the cereals and vegetables necessary to bring about the best results, and we believe that the knowledge secured by careful attention to these lectures and demonstrations would be profitable to men and women in every walk of life, because education is the foundation of civilization which we are all striving to reach. The broader the education the better fitted is man to meet and cope with the conditions and problems of life and a man or woman certainly cannot be termed educated if their education along these lines has been overlooked or neglected. We propose to make the Michigan State Fair of 1912 a practical school of education and instruction in agriculture, horticulture, dairy and domestic pursuits. On the other hand we expect to give a comprehensive idea to our patrons of the wonderful progress made in designing and manufacturing automobile machines that do many things that the human mind cannot conceive. Imagine a machine performing a thousand operations in a single minute and completing a perfect shower of finishes, screws, bolts and nuts, milled, finished, and gauged to the thousandth part of an inch. These and many other things you will have the pleasure of witnessing at Michigan's Great State Fair the week of Sept. 16, and we are only calling your attention to a few of the innovations that may be witnessed rather than exploiting in circus type through the columns of the press, and the highly colored lithographs on the billboards of amusements, pike features and other "will-o-the-wisp" which are brought to a State Fair as a diversion rather than as a permanent place to spend your time while visiting the State Fair.

The Love in Fiction and Life. A periodical devoted to the drama pleads for plays based on some emotion other than love. The difficulty in producing such plays is that every play must have a hero, and in making a hero the playwright, as well as his audience, almost inevitably adopts the view expressed 2,000 years ago by a scribbler of the dead walls of Pompeii: "He who has never loved a woman is not a gentleman."

ERUPTION LIKE PIMPLES

Wathena, Kan.—My child's scalp trouble became so bad that I was ashamed to have anyone see him. His head had a solid scab on it. He also had a terrible breaking out on his face which was gradually growing worse. The eruption was like pimples which developed into sores when he scratched, which he did almost constantly. Baby would almost scratch himself raw.

"I had used several different kinds of salve, none of them helping in the least bit, when I saw the Cuticura advertisement in the paper and it made me think of the good results my sister had when she used it for her children. I had only used Cuticura Soap and Ointment about two weeks before I noticed that the sores were almost entirely gone, and it must have been a month or six weeks he was troubled before I began the treatment. He would get easy when I would put the Cuticura Ointment on him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him and he has a clear complexion now." (Signed) Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Dec. 31, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."

His Weapon. "Did you see when an escaping maniac, somewhere struck down his pursuer with a cake of soap?" "Then I suppose he made a clean getaway?"

Instead of Liquid Antiseptics, tablets and peroxide, for toilet and medicinal uses, many people prefer Paxtine, which is cheaper and better. At druggists, 25c a box or sent postpaid on receipt of price by The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

The Likeness. "This free pulling of teeth has some features in common with big social functions." "What are they?" "Charity bawls."

A winning lottery ticket of $100,000, in connection with the Nobles Bank was recently presented for payment at the State Bank in St. Petersburg, and it now transpires that the owner is an eight-year-old orphan, an inmate of the orphanage at Pakoff. The lottery ticket was her sole possession. Her relatives have hitherto done nothing for the child, but when the news of her good fortune became known they were one and all eager to adopt her. The authorities have placed her in the charge of an arch-priest, a distant connection of her father.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. J. W. Dinsdale, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I use your Castoria and advise its use in all families where there are children."

Dr. Alexander E. Minnie, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria and have found it a reliable and pleasant remedy for children."

Dr. Agnes V. Swetland, of Omaha, Nebr., says: "Your Castoria is the best remedy in the world for children and the only one I use and recommend."

Dr. J. A. McClellan, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria for children and always got good results. In fact I use Castoria for my own children."

Dr. J. W. Allen, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I heartily endorse your Castoria. I have frequently prescribed it in my medical practice, and have always found it to do all that is claimed for it."

Dr. C. H. Glidden, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "My experience as a practitioner with your Castoria has been highly satisfactory, and I consider it an excellent remedy for the young."

Dr. H. D. Benner, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria as a purgative in the cases of children for years past with the most happy effect, and fully endorse it as a safe remedy."

Dr. J. A. Boardman, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."

Dr. J. J. Mackey, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I consider your Castoria an excellent preparation for children, being composed of reliable medicines and pleasant to the taste. A good remedy for all disturbances of the digestive organs."

Many Innovations at The Michigan State Fair

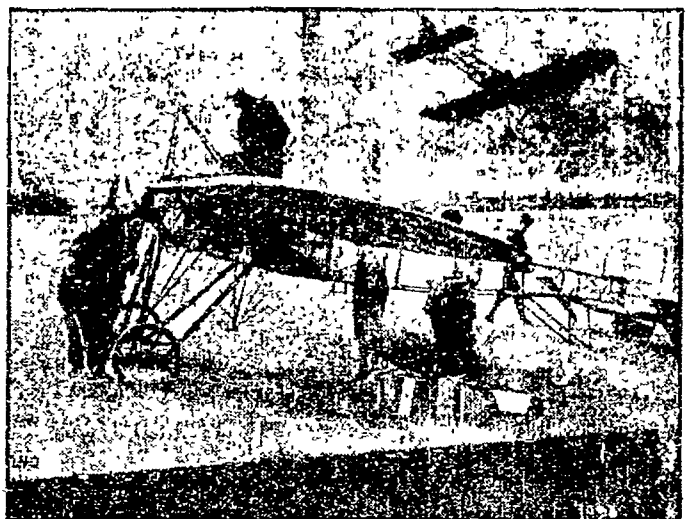

More real, dyed-in-the-wool innovations have been introduced into the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 16 to 21, next, than were ever brought forward in one year. The management long ago decided that the Michigan State Fair should be "So Different" from all other fairs, that attention would be drawn to it more than ever in previous years many new and interesting attractions such as the automobile show in its own specially constructed building, the good roads demonstration road work showing the actual construction of good roads and other features drew attention to Michigan. This year the Boys' State Fair, the Miniature Model Farm, the new and very modern dairy building in connection with the dairy barn erected last year, the removal of the midway to a corner of the grounds from the busy center of the fair grounds and the land show have drawn attention to Michigan. The land show will give the people of Michigan a glimpse of the products of every State of the Union, for every great railroad has taken space. The former location of the midway has given over to the children who will have a midway of their own with the riding ponies and with merry-go-rounds and many other attractions including a play ground. Another innovation for 1912 is the Free Soil Test in charge of the Professors from the Michigan Agricultural College, who will test from 150 to 200 samples of soil free every day. And the management has added also a real restaurant where meals equal to any to be obtained in the city will be first class. But one of the most radical of the innovations is the Progress Building in which every exhibit will be one of actual manufacturing, showing the manufacture of goods made in the State. There are many other features of interest to be seen this year and which were not seen last year and all in all the Michigan State Fair of 1912 is already attracting the attention of other Fair promoters who will watch every move and if successful, will adopt many of the innovations at this fair.

Horse Racing as Seen at the Michigan State Fair.

Michigan's Great State Fair to be held this year from Sept. 16 to 21, inclusive, has always been noted for its horse races. The Grand Circuit meeting brings together the very best in horse flesh and the contests every year surpass those of the previous year. The entry list for this year leads to the belief that the Grand Circuit meeting of 1912 will be one of the best ever given at the fair grounds track. In connection with the horse races will be the Night Horse Show which is an annual feature of merit and very important. The efforts of the officers in charge have been rewarded every year with an attendance that has been considered wonderful and the shows have steadily increased in interest. The number of stables this year again exceeds the previous year. Practically all classes for harness and saddle horses are covered. It is invariably the rule that there is a big show in every class from the brilliant four, and landers to the pony classes for the children. The money goes to the horse that wins and the rivalry is intense. The spectators have a show provided every minute until the ribbons have been placed. Every effort has been made this year to make the show better than former shows and W. C. Morgan the manager, has been successful in obtaining a splendid entry list.

This night horse show is the real genuine article at the Michigan State Fair and no so-called "sideshow" last year's competition was keen and interesting every minute and the splendid feats of horsemanship and magnificent animals shown created the utmost enthusiasm.

Aeroplanes a Big Feature at Michigan State Fair.

With one exception all of the aeroplanes drivers who performed at the Michigan State Fair last year have been killed in following their calling. The dangerous sport takes its toll regularly. The management of the Fair was this year fortunate in being able to book Lieut. Mestache, of the French army, who will bring his monoplane to the fair. The Lieut. is a man of the utmost nerve, a man admired in all countries for his daringly successful flights. His wonderful trips in Europe when he made the first flights successfully accomplished from Paris, France to Madrid, Spain, endeared him to the hero worshipping French people and to the Spaniards also. When the Lieutenant added to his great renown by flying from Paris to Rome, Italy, a feat thought impossible owing to the high mountains to be crossed, Europe went wild over his progress. Gaining a furlough from the army Lieut. Mestache decided to come to America and at New Orleans he became America's first aerial mail carrier. Transporting the mails from New Orleans to Baton Rouge gave him an even greater reputation. At the Michigan State Fair he will not only make flights at the fair grounds but leaving the grounds he will travel to Pontiac and return, will fly over Detroit and will even go to Fort Huron, Adrian and farther points, making one trip across the waters to Canada. While he has had some falls, the Lieutenant has lost no nerve and he has promised to give the "gasoline city" as he calls Detroit something to talk about.

Elaborate Fireworks at the Michigan State Fair

Enormous expense has been under taken by the Michigan State Fair management in putting on the most elaborate fireworks spectacle ever seen in Detroit or in Michigan and undoubtedly the most complete ever seen at any State Fair of the country. Newton and Duffield, who put on the fireworks for Cadillac, have agreed to outdo their efforts at that time with the spectacles entitled the "Fall of Old Mexico" and the "Battle in the Skies." The Mexican piece shows a panorama of Old Mexico with the Castle of Chahuatltec and Mount Popocatepetl. For twenty minutes the troupe of 300 people enact scenes of Old Mexico on a fete day including a Mexican bull fight, ten thousand square feet of canvas painted in oil lending to the beauty of the view. Correctness in every detail will be found. As the performance is going on the stirring sound of the drum and the sound of the battle charge stirs the blood and a battle starts with Generals Scott, Twigg and Pillow opposing General Santa Anna, of Mexico, and the Americans outnumbered five to one, but well entrenched behind the walls of the fort. Fifteen minutes of actual warfare is seen with huge mortars and guns throwing bombs into the fort. By means of scaling ladders the walls of the fort are gained and the American flag is raised over the fortress. Mount Popocatepetl, just at this time, has an eruption and 400 pounds of powder, blowing off the top of the mountain, assists the spectacle and gives realism to it. Streams of lava pour down the mountain side. At the conclusion of the eruption sixty fireworks numbers will be seen and following that the spectacle entitled the "Battle in the Skies" in which two aeroplanes are seen in actual warfare, one being put out of business by the explosion of an aerial bomb which strikes it and explodes, electrically. The program will be changed nightly, the entire performance taking over an hour.
