

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD.

Vol. XLIII. No. 12.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1912.

$1.00 Per Year in advance

POLITICS! POLITICS!

G. O. P. RALLIED

TUESDAY NIGHT

Congressman Smith Of Pontiac And Newkirk Of Detroit, Speakers.

The Republicans held a rally in the Opera house Tuesday evening, which brought out 125 people. The meeting, while not very enthusiastic, contained attentive listeners. Dr. T. B. Henry, county committeeman, presided and Judge Newkirk of Detroit, and Congressman S. W. Smith of Pontiac made the addresses. The latter especially, made a splendid talk and paid glowing tributes to the worth of President Taft, backing up his assertions by quotations from Ex-President Roosevelt's speeches and letters of as late as a date of 1910 and 1911.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Newkirk both called the voters' attention to the conditions of the United States during the administration of the Democratic party from '92 to '96, and asked them to consider well before leaving the Republican party this year.

Mr. Smith also paid a splendid tribute to all the Republican county candidates, making special mention of Oakman, Stoll, Gatman and Farrell, as well as Wedemeyer for congress.

Perfection Oil Heaters

Just the thing for this time of the year.

Heat WHERE YOU WANT IT WHEN YOU WANT IT. No smoke, no smell, no trouble.

For the Bath Room, Sewing Room, or Sick Room, the Perfection Oil Heater is the ideal rapid heater.

| | |
|--|--------|
| Perfection Oil Heater, Tin Oil Tank | $3.50 |
| Perfection Oil Heaters, Brass Oil Tank | $4.50 |
| Perfection Oil Heater, (Blue Enameled), Tin Tank | $5.00 |

Have a Nice Line of 2nd Hand Coal Base Burner Stoves

Come select your stove while the assortment is unbroken.

Garland, Peninsular, Round Oak, Base Burners Heaters and Ranges

ANYTHING IN THE HARDWARE LINE.

PLUMBING HEATING-TINNING.

Commencing Monday, October 7 this Store will Close at 7 O'clock.

JAMES A. HUFF

NORTHVILLE, (Both Phones.) MICHIGAN.

GOODLY ATTENDANCE AT MOOSE MEETING

Judge Gordon And Judge Hislop Principal Speakers.

The Progressive rally in the Hotel on Thursday night of last week brought out 125 people. The rainy weather no doubt kept others away. The meeting was enthusiastic in some respects and tiresome in others. Like the Republican meetings, a lot of candidates for minor offices were allowed to take up the best part of the evening, so that when the big speakers were ready the audience had grown tired of enthusiasm and was ready to quit.

Thos. Hislop, candidate for Probate Judge and Judge W. D. Gordon, candidate for Lieutenant governor gave splendid talks and had the latter speaker being given an early place on the program, he would have made a still bigger hit.

The other speakers were H. F. Probert of Jackson and Dr. H. Baker of Detroit.

N. A. Clapp, the local progressive chairman presided and the violin club furnished some very nice music previous to the opening. The speakers all had much more to say about a man named Roosevelt than any one else, laboring no doubt, under the impression that Northville people had never heard of the lad from Oyster Bay. The county candidates who are really unknown to the voters of this land town were not mentioned except possibly the candidate for coroner.

It is understood that at least two more meetings will be held before election.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to assure the W. T. C. U. ladies and the King's daughters that I highly appreciate the flowers which they so kindly sent me.

I. N. STARKWATER.

CLERK FARRELL GETS PRAISE FOR EFFICIENCY

County Clerk Farrell, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket, is much pleased over a letter from Thomas Leete, Jr., of the law firm of Corlies, Leete & Joselyn, containing words of praise for Mr. Farrell's administration.

The letter is only one of many the county clerk has received of the same nature, and is as follows:

Oct. 9, 1912
Thos. F. Farrell, Esq., County Clerk, City:

Dear Sir—I had occasion a few days ago to examine the records and files in the county clerk's office in a large number of recent cases, probably upwards of 30, and in every instance I found the records in a perfect condition and completely written up to date.

This is only another instance of the splendid shape of the office which has been very noticeable since you have been county clerk and it is but simple justice to you that I mention it, and acknowledge also the uniformly courteous treatment received from your office for.

Yours,

THOS. T. LEETE, JR.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD MASS MEETING

The Democrats will hold a mass meeting in the rink tomorrow, Saturday, evening October 19, beginning at eight o'clock. All of the county candidates will take part in the program and many other speakers will be present. The meeting promises to be big and interesting.

Many times a few cents spent for a Record Want Ad will bring as many dollars in return.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL CATHOLIC BANQUET

TO BE HELD IN PRINCESS RINK NEXT THURSDAY EVENING

Big Feast of Food and Fine List of Speakers

The St. Mary's Catholic society of this place will hold their eleventh annual banquet in the Princess rink on Thursday evening, October 24.

The program will be in charge of Thomas May of Detroit, who is famous the world over for his cartoons which have appeared daily in the Detroit Journal for the past twenty years.

Readers of the Detroit Free Press will be glad of the opportunity to hear Edgar Guest, the well known humorist.

Rev. D. G. Needham will tell what he knows of Michigan in the toast "Our state."

Everyone has read of the recent exposures of graft in the city of Detroit. W. J. Burns, or Walter J. Brennan, as he is better known, will tell some of his experience in the work of detecting crookedness in city officials.

The following menu will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 standard time:

| | |
|------------------|----------------|
| Fried Chicken | Boiled Ham |
| Creamed Potatoes | |
| Fruit Salad | Cabbage Salad |
| Pickles | Celery |
| Dried Apple Cake | Nut Cake |
| Fig Cake | Orange Cake |
| Hot Rolls | Cocoanut Cake |
| | Chocolate Cake |

The musical numbers will include some of the best talent in Detroit, including Fred Hollister, baritone, George F. Abbott, tenor, W. G. Fitzgibbons, basso and Prof. A. J. Reppin, pianist.

During the supper music will be furnished by the Misses Grace Knoepfer and Permelia Konler.

Admission, 50 cents.

Registration Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Registration for the township of Northville, County of Wayne, State of Michigan, will meet in Murdoch Bros' Drug Store in the village of Northville, on Saturday, Oct. 26, 1912, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., for the purpose of re-registering all the Electors of said township. This is your last chance and all must register in order to vote at the November election.

FRED H. TOWSEY,

Dated, Northville, Mich., Oct. 14, 1912—Advertisement.

Sale Of Household Goods.

W. B. Penfield will offer for sale his household goods all day Saturday, at his home on Main street. See hand bills for list. Everybody welcome.—Advertisement.

To the Voters of Northville and Vicinity.

I have known Mr. J. H. Robson, Democratic nominee for State Treasurer, for the past seven years and know him to be a good, honest business man. He is at present cashier of the Old State Savings Bank, and is held in high esteem by every person in this locality.

If he is elected State Treasurer he will give the people an honest administration.

(Signed) D. A. WILKINSON,
Supt. Elec. L. & W. Works,
Ovid, Mich.

12w3—Advertisement

Notice to Taxpayers.

All taxes remaining unpaid after October 31, 1912 will be returned to the County Treasurer.

E. H. LATHROP,
Village Treasurer.

11w2

Tacks Collector.

The story is told of a Pennsylvania man who woke up with a thirt that other night and drank a pint of carpet tacks. To make the tale complete he should have swallowed a hammer as a chaser.—Toledo Blade.

A Record Want Ad will help you exchange something you have and don't want for something you haven't and do want.

Wanted, to Rent, For Sale, Etc.

For Rent, For Sale, Lost, Found Wanted notices, inserted under this head for 1 cent per word

All kinds of Typewriting and copying neatly done. Reasonable terms. 48 S. Center St. Home phone 2231.

LOST—Hand bag containing check and $5 in money, between the Milford Baker farm and Northville. Finder please return to Mrs. Elizabeth Crosby, Baker farm.

12w1p

FOR SALE—Mrs. Price's camping compound. Fine for camping pumpkin. Apply by independent phone 308 GR.

FOR SALE—Black mare 1,400 lbs., 1 buggy, 1 spring wagon. Wm. Wesley, Greenhouse, Northville

FOR SALE—At Bargain—Full set Britannica Encyclopedia, 30 volumes. Apply at Record office.

FOR SALE—Franco-American Hygienic toilet articles, perfumes, extracts and baking powders. Ind. phone, 105 L. G. E. Tremper.

FOR SALE—House and lot of Dunlap street. Inquire of Charles Blackburn.

35H

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. P. R. ALEXANDER, DENTIST—Office over Stark Brothers Store. Hours 8 to 12 and 1 to 5. Home phone 29. 913

DR. T. B. HENRY, PHYSICIAN AND Surgeon. Office and residence 31 Main street. Office hours 8:00 to 9:00 a. m. and 12:00 to 2:30 and 5:00 to 7:30 p. m. Both Phones.

DR. T. A. TURNER, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon. Office next door west of Park House on Main street. Office hours 1:00 to 3:00 and 8:00 to 9:00 p. m. Both Telephones.

*We shall gladly accommodate you—
Deposit your money and write
a check*

Pay wages, store bills, or any kind of bills with checks. This is SAFER than paying with money. You can also keep your accounts straight and have a LEGAL RECEIPT for every dollar you pay out. A checking account is also a great convenience. We want your "commercial" account. Come in, let's talk it over.

Let OUR Bank be YOUR Bank. We pay 3 per cent interest.

Northville State Savings Bank.

DETROIT NEWS ADS.

Detroit News Liner Ads received at the Northville Record Office.

DO IT NOW

Subscribe for THIS PAPER

Cranberries

Fancy Cape Cod Cranberries in One pound cartons at 12c package. This is a very neat, sanitary way of handling Cranberries.

KIPPERED HERRING

The price of this delicious fish has been too high for common use, but we are offering it at a price within reach of all, pr can 12c; 4 cans 42c.

SWEET POTATOES are a little higher, but we hope to be able to offer 9 lbs for 25c Saturday.

At B. A. WHEELER'S
Both Phones. NORTHVILLE, MICH.

THE HOME Of Quality Groceries

A SURE THING While Perhaps None Of Us JUST LIVE TO EAT

IT'S A SURE THING WE ALL MUST EAT TO LIVE!

Eat Our Quality Groceries and Live Longer

TRADE AT RYDER'S

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER XXII

A black and white illustration showing a man in a suit and hat being carried by a crowd of people. The man is lying back, and the crowd is pushing forward, suggesting a chaotic or celebratory scene. The style is reminiscent of a political cartoon or a satirical illustration.

A pleasant-faced old lady answered Solano's knock, and the Cuban, with the utmost politeness, apologized for the intrusion. "We would not have disturbed you," he continued, "but for the fact that we are quite a ways from a store, and we really must have some pepper. Could you favor us with a little pepper—red, if possible? We are camping out on the river-bank, and pepper is one of the things you simply can't do without when you are cooking in the woods."

The old lady, beaming upon him, was looking, gentlemanly youngsters

CHAPTER XXIII.

The Northville Record

Published by
NEAL PRINTING CO.
Established..... 1869

Notices for religious and benevolent societies, of reasonable length, one insertion free.

Subscription—One year, $1.00; six months, 50c; three months, 25c. (to new subscribers, 25c in advance). Single copies 5c.

Advertising Rates made known on application. All advertising bills must be settled monthly; transient advertising in advance.

Practical, progressive, clean, fresh, vigorous and reliable. Nothing sensational, published that cannot be personally endorsed. An Independent Newspaper Published every Friday morning by The Record Printing Co., Northville, Michigan, and entered at the Northville Post-office as Second-Class matter.

No "take advertising" nor unreliable patent medicine advertising or anything bordering on the "objectionable" accepted at any price.

Obituary notices will not be inserted unless paid for. Card of thanks 1 cent per word, invariably in advance. Reading notices and resolutions 1 cent per word.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., OCT. 18, '12

Publisher's Affidavit

In compliance with the U. S. postal laws, I hereby assert that I am the managing editor, business manager, publisher and owner of the Northville Record, published at Northville, Michigan.

FRANKS NEAL

Subscribed and sworn to before me, a notary public in and for Wayne County, Michigan, this first day of October in the year 1912.

ERNEST MILLER,
Notary Public.

Funny Contrast

There's a funny contrast between the Republican meetings just now and the Bull Moose meetings. About all the candidate the Bull Moose speakers mention is Roosevelt while the Republican speakers mention only the candidates for county offices. The G. O. P. men probably figure that while there is only one president to be elected there are twenty county officers. The Democrat and Progressive candidates seem to be proud of their candidate for president but the Republican candidates for fear of losing a Progressive or a Democrat vote, mention President Taft's name only down in the cellar when shaking the furnace. The Bull Moose men are waiting up to this point and they are not on election day the Bull Moose men may see a lot of Bull Moose names on the county and state ticket, unless a general "get-together" spirit soon prevails.

Too Much Free Speech

Too much free speech breeds anarchy. Campaigners are going about the country appealing for votes by calling on half the people thieves, crooks and liars in just what words the murderer's pistol and the bullet finally finds a lodging place in the heart of some great man. Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley have already fallen and now Roosevelt has just missed a similar death by a hair's breadth.

Gave Life to Save Dog

A few months ago a woman who had been given charge of a level crossing at Mehu, in the Ober department, near Paris, France, on her husband's death, and who lived alone in a little house beside the line—was rescued by a stray dog from a tramp who tried to murder her. She took the dog to live with her. One recent evening the woman saw that her dog, which was quite used to trains, was sleeping on the line. She noticed him just as an express train came thundering along, ran to the line, and rescued him, but was herself knocked down by the train and killed.

Children Suffocated in Safe

Two Swiss schoolboys, aged respectively 10 and 12, met with a horrible death at Colne, the capital of the Canton of Grisons, by suffocation in a steel safe, the other day, while they were playing hide and seek with their comrades. Finding the safe open the little fellows entered it and closed the door, which they could not re-open, and their companions gave up the game after a long search. The parents of the boys were informed of what had occurred, and later discovered the dead bodies of their children.

A Matched Pair

"You see that young electrician over there, ogling the girls? Well, he's an electric spark." "And you see the policeman coming up behind him? He's a spark arrester."

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Beware the Signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

NORTHVILLE.

Purely Personal.

(Contributions to this column are earnestly solicited. If you have visitors, or are visiting elsewhere, drop a line to that effect in the Record Item Box in the postoffice.)

John McKla is home from Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Frank Lyons visited in town Monday.

B. A. Northrop of Lansing was in town this week.

Fred Sutton of Detroit spent Sunday with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Tinham were Wayne visitors over Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Dunn of Plymouth was a Northville caller Tuesday.

Miss Emaline Lapham has been spending a few days in Farmington.

Mrs. Lucy Audler visited her daughter, in Detroit a few days last week.

Mrs. Jackson of Pontiac and little girls were callers on friends here Monday.

Mrs. William Janner of Wayne spent Tuesday with Northville relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lumbright were over Sunday guests of relatives at Flat Rock.

Miss Arbutus Wolf was the guest of her mother in Detroit Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scott, of Detroit spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Otis Tewksbury.

Claude McFarland was home from Saginaw Sunday to spend the day with his parents.

Miss Fern Eck, of Farmington, was the guest of Miss Dorothy Lumbright last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Ward of Detroit, former Northville people, visited here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Robinson of Detroit were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Noble.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Matteson of Saginaw are visiting Wm. Phillips and family for a few days.

George Williams and wife, have been spending a week or ten days with their daughter, in Ovid.

Miss Margaret Lumbright and Jack Tyre, of Detroit, visited at the home of A. F. Lumbright Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Howard of Flint is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Rose Little, Mr. Howard spent Wednesday here.

Mrs. Katharine Strong attended the annual meeting of the State Federation of Women's clubs at Saginaw.

Mrs. Sidney Liddell and little daughter, of Milford were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Simmons.

I. W. Barnhart of Detroit was in town a few days this week looking after his property, known as the "Barnhart farm."

Mrs. Bert Jenney and three children of Dowagiac, were guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Coldren have returned from an extended visit with their daughter, Mrs. H. B. Noble at Crookston, Minn.

Aaron Taft visited his sister Mrs. Starr Root, in Detroit from Thursday until Sunday. Mrs. Taft spent Saturday and Sunday there.

Mrs. Rhue Force of Detroit and Mrs. Leah Wadham of New York, who recently returned from Italy, visited Mrs. Maude Bennett last Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Roe and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Abbott of London, Ont. were Saturday to Monday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Noble at The Grove.

C. E. Burgess, of Jackson spent the week end in town. His wife, who has been caring for her sister, Mrs. Lucy Cook for the past six weeks returned home with him.

George Dufrane of Birmingham spent Tuesday in this village. Mr. Dufrane, who was a former Northville resident, has just purchased a beautiful new bungalow, containing all modern improvements.

Mrs. Ward Cook who has been spending the last three weeks in Alpena with her husband returned home Tuesday morning. Mr. Cook has gone to Detroit, Mich., in interests of U. S. Bureau of Fisheries.

Polish Woman Barrister.

Miss. Miropolsky is the best known of the women barristers of France. She is of Polish origin, but was born in Paris. She took her degree in philosophy at the age of 16, was admitted to the bar five years ago, and won her first case before she was twenty-one. Children's courts and the divorce court she considers as suitable fields for the woman advocate, and she has specialized in cases affecting women.

Children Cry

FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Children Cry

FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS For Backache Kidneys and Bladder

Contain no Habit Forming Drugs

For Sale by Murdock Bros.

Methodist Church Notes.

(By the Pastor.)
Morning subject "God's Validation of Life;" evening, subject "Be Prepared." The chorus will assist the choir at night.

Our Rally Day brought us an enrollment of 231 in the Sabbath school. Of this number 175 were present. Our high water mark in attendance for last year was 185. Let us rally together for a splendid year.

The Kings Own Bible Class will hold its first autumn meeting at the home of Mr. Samuel McLean next Wednesday October 23.

The missionary committee will meet to pass the barrel at the parsonage next Wednesday.

The Women's Home Missionary Society is packing a box of supplies for a minister's family at Harberville, Mich. The family consists of the minister and his wife, and three girls, aged fifteen months, three, and one half and seven years. Sweaters, blankets, towels, outing flannel and linen are especially needed. Any one wishing to help out with money or donations will please leave same with any member of the society or at the parsonage. Please do this on or before, but not later than Wednesday noon, October 23.

Baptist Church Notes.

(By the Pastor.)
The pastor will preach on Sunday as usual. The Sunday school meets at 11:30. Junior society at 3 p. m. B. Y. P. U. Devotional meeting at 8, and evening service at 7 o'clock. You will be made welcome at these services.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

Morning services at ten thirty, subject "Lessons from the Fading Leaf." Sunday school at eleven forty-five, classes for all ages. Evening services at seven, subject, "Some Religious Fallacies," or "Spiritual Aberration."

The brick for the addition to the church has finally arrived and the work of remodeling the church will be pushed to completion.

The Missionary society is now engaged in preparing a missionary barrel to be sent to our missionary fields of the South. Ladies of the church and congregation are urged to contribute to this work.

The boys of this church and Sunday school between the ages of twelve and sixteen will meet in the church parlors Monday evening to discuss the formation of a Boys' Club, a good time is anticipated.

W. R. C. Notes.

(By Press Correspondent.)
The annual inspection of Allen M. Harmon W. R. C. will take place in Ambler's hall October 23, at seven o'clock sharp, standard time. All officers and floor members should be in attendance.

To give our ladies an opportunity to meet Mrs. Moody, Inspecting Officer of the Department, and other visitors, a five o'clock luncheon will be served in the hall. Ladies who are to furnish the supplies will please bring them to the hall not later than 3:30. Members of the Executive committee should be at the hall at three o'clock sharp.

Cosmopolitan Taxicab Drivers.

A Chinaman and a Japanese are now driving taxicabs in Paris, while the ranks of the drivers also include German speaking Alsations, Italian speaking southerners, Spanish speaking Basques, and a number of chauffeurs with a good knowledge of English who are either sons of English people settled in France or have visited England or America. It is not unusual to see on the box of the Paris taxicab the typical Algerian or Tunisian with coffee-colored flint and slender hands, and there are several coal-black negroes from Africa and almond-eyed Orientals from Indo-China. The Chinese cabman has been driving his taxicab there for two years. He was born in Peking, and is looking forward to the day when under the enlightened rule of the young Chinese Republic he may start a motor garage in his native city.

Breaking Even.

Pat (to doctor)—"If Ol live, doctor, sure Ol'll have you to thank for it." Pat's Wife (somewhat prejudiced against the doctor)—"And if you die, Pat, you can thank him, too."—Judge.

Children Cry

FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

School Notes.

(By a Pupil)

Howard Hunt is absent from school.

Evelyn Wellington entered grade 7 Tuesday.

Walter Ryder is absent because of sickness.

Mrs. Weldon visited grade Five on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. Kenyon visited the Third grade Monday afternoon.

Albert Bowman's ear was badly hurt by being hit with an apple.

Eather Smith and Catharine Curtiss are out of school on account of illness.

All but eight were excused early in grade Eight for perfect spelling Friday.

The Eighth grade has chosen officers, motto, flower and color for the year.

Miss Rachel MacLeod is teaching the Eighth grade during Miss Wiler's sickness.

Olive Desautels has entered the Sixth grade, having recovered from her illness.

Nearly thirty six dollars was received last Friday for the week's bank deposit.

The A class of the Sixth grade has just finished learning the "Chambered Nautilus."

Mrs. Schrader visited the Kindergarten Monday where her daughter Reva is a new pupil.

Some very good maps of Asia were handed in by the B. class in grade 8 last Thursday.

The Eighth grade enjoyed the music period with the High school people Thursday morning.

The Basket Ball girls have organized and are planning on some very good practice games in the near future.

Some nice specimens of original scenes adorn the walls of the Fifth grade room. The work of the pupils of course.

F. W. Wheaton attended the Southeastern Michigan Ass'n of school superintendents at Detroit last Saturday.

A beautiful aquarium and six gold fish, as well as many pretty flowers have been added to the equipment of the science room in the High school.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Ordeal for Brides.

A peculiar and barbaric marriage custom of the Kabyle women of Africa consists in the martyrdom of the bride, who, clad in her wedding finery, stands through an entire morning against a pillar in the village square. Her eyes are closed, her arms pressed to her sides and she has only the narrow base of the column for a "foothold." Meanwhile a ring of villagers criticise and commend on her appearance.

Value of Choice Ideas.

Few things matter more to us than the entry of choice ideas into our outlook. Let the "practical" man condemn them if he will, those minute and delicate powers give the tinge to our thoughts, the bias to our theories, that determine our whole attitude towards life and shape the destiny of nations.—George Bourne.

OSCAR S. HARGER

REAL ESTATE BOUGHT, SOLD and EXCHANGED
Estates Settled and Managed
Insurance and Loans. Notary Public
Bell Phone, 60, 124 N. Center St.
NORTHVILLE. MICHIGAN.

LOOK OVER OUR LINE OF COATS

Before the assortment is broken. Nobby Styles; Latest Effects at

The White House

Needing

- Blankets
- Comforters
- Outing Flannels
- Underwear
- Sheeting
- Tubing
- Table Linen
- Bed Spreads
- Floss Pillows
- Feather Pillows

It will pay you to look over our line.

EDWIN WHITE.
NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

Books

For—

25c

you can buy one of

Mary J. Holmes

Mrs. South-

worth, Otis

Series or Trowbridge Gift

Books of all kinds.

Books

Books

50c

OTTO LOOMIS

Northville. (Both Phones.) The Jeweler.

FOUR PER CENT

on Your Money

WHEN LEFT IN THE FORM OF

Certificates of Deposit

OF

UNION TRUST COMPANY, Detroit, Mich.

Interest Remitted Semi-Annually

We Hope that this Coming Winter will not be as cold as the last one; however if it is, we can prepare you for it.

FERRIS WAIST.
Style 227. 75cts.

Young women,
12 to 17 years.
Eton front.
Laced back.
Sizes 19 to 28 inches.
White and Drab.

Ferris Good Sense Corset Waists for Women and Children... 50c, 75c, $1

The best Outing Flannel we have ever shown, 10c at, per yd.....

Our Blankets are of excellent quality. All Prices

Forest Mills Underwear, all sizes, Union Suits or separate garments.

Cadet Hosiery satisfies; winter weights..... 25c

Duckling Fleeces for Kimonos, per yd..... 15c

Sweaters, Gloves and Mittens.

Have your fall gowns fitted over an American Lady

Corset.

Brainard & Armstrong's Embroidery Silk; always wash. We carry a complete assortment of colors.

36-inch Messalines, at, per yd $1.00

42-inch Irish Poptins, Silk and wool, per yd... $1.25

CHARLES A. PONSFORD

NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

Well Deserved

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Northville People.

One kidney remedy has known merit. Northville people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Northville testimony proves it reliable.

J. W. Kator, Northville, Mich., says: "A year ago I began to have trouble from my kidneys and I was caused much misery by pains across the small of my back. The kidney secretions were irregular and painful passages and led me to believe that my kidneys were out of order. Hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills, I began their use and in a few weeks I was completely cured. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills an effective medicine for kidney complaint and I do not hesitate to recommend them."

The above statement was given in November, 1906, and on March 31, 1909, Mr. Kator said: "I can still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and I have no objection to the continued publication of my testimonial. The cure this remedy made in my case has been permanent."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

—Advertisement.

Seasonable Drugs

We have everything in this line and this is the time of year when you should know where to get what you want quickly.

Full line Druggist Sundries, Tooth Brushes, Hair Brushes, Combs, Perfumes, Rubber Goods, etc.

Cigars, Tobacco and Pipes.

Murdock Bros.,
DRUGGISTS
NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

W. L. B. CLARK'S

MILK ROUTE

Sweet and Sour Cream
Furnished on Application.

Are You in Arrears?

on your subscription? You know
WE NEED THE MONEY

Phone 247-J

DIAMOND DAIRY

Northville's Model Dairy. Everything in a strictly sanitary condition. All milk we sell is the product of our own dairy. Our having fresh cows at all times of the year gives you a high standard of milk at all times. It is worth a few cents a week to know what you are getting.

WE ALWAYS AIM TO PLEASE.
G. C. BENTON

MILLER'S MEAT MARKET.

FRESH, SALT & SMOKED MEATS.

F. A. MILLER, Propr.

209 Main St. NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

LB-KING & CO

China, Crockery, Glassware, Lamps, Ornaments, Novelties.
Oldest China House in Detroit
Complete Stock, Up to Date.
We have what you want in our NEW STORE.
Cor. Grand River and Library Aves.

NORTHVILLE.

The City in Brief.

Mrs. Mark Seeley entertained the "Main 500" club Monday evening.

Mrs. Lucy Cork, who has been ill with typhoid fever, is able to ride out.

Mrs. George McFarland has gone to Harper Hospital to under go an operation.

It is fortunate that the weeds have grown up so high in our garden. We are thereby enabled to tell where we planted the vegetables.

W. B. Pendel will offer for sale his Household goods all day Saturday, at his home on Main street. See hand bills for list. Everybody welcome.

The Northville hunters are getting ready for their annual deer hunt and about two days before election they will hike to the North woods to shoot or get shot.

In July the politician shakes hands with you, by August he inquires for your wife, and in September he is anxiously solicitous for the welfare of your children.

Owing to the time it takes to attend the political meetings and find out how the cost of living can be reduced, it seems doubtful if this year's abundant crops can be harvested.

T. G.'s new home is well towards the finish and he hopes to be all settled therein by the first part of November. This beautiful bungalow will certainly be an ornament to Northville.

Capt. Noble is some farmer. He has garnered 226 bushels of "Jim dandy" potatoes from about one acre of ground and 169 cracker jack Hubbard squash from a little single row of vines.

A post card received Saturday from George Fair and dated at Washington, D. C., states that he and his party are having a fine trip. They visited New York City on the return trip.

Mrs. John Tinham very pleasantly entertained the King's Daughters at her home Tuesday evening. Mrs. Whitney of Detroit was expected but could not attend on account of previous engagements.

M. A. Ellsworth, of the Northville fish station, is in Pittsburg, Pa. and other cities in that state, this week, delivering fish eggs. Carl Hogle was sent to the Thousand Islands, Albany and New York City, N. Y., and S. E. Cranson to Bay City, for the same purpose.

There was considerable excitement in town Monday when the news of the attempted assassination of ex-President Roosevelt was flashed over the wire. There was a general relieved expression on the faces of the people when later wires brought the pleasing news that the wound was not dangerous.

The body of Miss Lottie Spinks of Cincinnati, O., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Spinks of this place was brought here Wednesday and taken to Windsor Ont., for burial on Friday. Miss Spinks had planned to make her parents here a surprise visit, but was taken with hemorrhage shortly before starting for Northville and died within an hour.

There is an increased sentiment all over the state that women should have the right to vote. Why not? They are certainly more intelligent than half the men who are allowed to vote. The political government of this country will be improved, and not weakened when women vote. At the November election every voter should vote yes on that question.

"Rally" day in the Methodist Sunday school was fittingly observed Sunday with a very enjoyable program. An orchestra composed of three violins, played by Howard Stewart, Francis Wilkinson and Bina Hayes, and clarinet played by Harold Wheaton, accompanied by Miss Leota Kenyon as organist, furnished splendid music. This orchestra is to be a regular feature of the Sunday school.

The City band will give a concert in the Opera House Wednesday evening October 23. Prof. Chaffers will have charge of instrumental numbers and a rare treat may be expected. Miss Kenyon and Miss Richardson will sing and Louis Fair will do a "buck and wing" stunt. Beside all the special pieces by the band, the male quartet will give several selections. Give the boys a hit if you like a band in Northville.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulants relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex. —Advertisement.

"If you have young children you have experienced that disorder of the stomach and their most common ailment. To correct this you will find Chamberlain's Tablets excellent. They are easy and pleasant to take, and mild and gentle in effect. For sale by all dealers." —Advertisement.

Give Us Men.

"God give us men! A time like this demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands."

Men whom the lust of office does not kill; Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy; Men who possess opinions and a will; Men who have honor and who will not lie; Men who can stand before a demagogue And scorn his treacherous flatteries without winking.

Tell Men, sea-crowned, who live above the fog In public duty and in private thinking. —Joshua Gilbert Holland

Mrs. James Sessions has been quite ill the past week.

I. N. Starkweather is not improving so fast as his friends wish.

A large shipment of furniture was made to Detroit parties this week by Schrader Bros.

Miss Carrie Simmons entertained the "First 500" club at her home one evening last week.

Regular Convention Mystic Lodge No. 100 K. of P. Tuesday evening Oct. 22, 1912. Work second rank.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ponsford very pleasantly entertained the "Quality" club at their home Wednesday evening.

Six automobiles filled with cheering and enthusiastic Plymouth Sunday school children, went thru town Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Margaretta Weller, who underwent an operation the first of this week at the home of Dr. D. B. Henry, is doing remarkably well.

George Pearson underwent an operation at a Detroit hospital, Tuesday. He is getting along nicely. Dr. T. B. Henry has charge of the case.

The ladies of the L. O. T. M. M. gave a very enjoyable tea party in the Catermole hall Wednesday evening. The decorations were in Halloween style.

The American Bell Laundry shipped a car load of furnaces to Detroit parties Wednesday. Mr. Harmon reports the largest sales in furnaces this year in the company's history.

The Hiole Furniture Co. shipped a job of pews to the Christian Endeavor Union church at Hart's Corners, N. Y. this week. This is the home town of the editor of this paper.

The W. C. T. U. ladies will hold their regular meeting on Monday, October 21. Every member is urged to be present, as there is business of great importance to be brought before the meeting.

Twelve ladies gave Miss Lester Cook a very pleasant surprise last Wednesday afternoon, that day being her fifty seventh birthday. The ladies took their own lunch and cards and lunch finished on a very enjoyable afternoon and evening.

The Plymouth to Detroit good roads is practically finished and auto drivers can go in that way now in as short a time as the speed law will allow. Fifty minutes from Northville to the boulevard is the quickest time thus far reported.

E. K. Starkweather, M. VanTassel, Jasper Elliot and Thos. Shaw attended the Custer brigade reunion at Detroit last week Oct. 9 and 10. There were 169 answered to roll call as against 178 last year. In 1888 there were 23 members of the "old 4th" living in Northville while to-day E. K. Starkweather is the only one, now residing here. Fourteen of the number are dead and the others have moved away.

E. H. Sadler of Detroit who recently bought the Gordon place on Roger streets is getting ready to put up a very pretty bungalow on the site of the old house. Later on Mr. Sadler with his family will take up a permanent residence here, and devote the major portion of his time to his 25 acre fruit farm which promises to be one of the finest in this part of the state.

Capt. M. Kurth has sold his house to J. R. Claspil of Detroit. The first sale, mentioned in last week's Record did not materialize. Capt. Kurth and family will continue to reside in their home until spring, when the purchaser will take possession. Mr. Claspil is a prominent member of a Methodist church in Detroit, and Northville will be pleased to welcome him, and his family as residents of this village.

N. C. Schrader and family are nicely settled in their new home, on West Main street. Schrader's new domicile is one of the nicest in the village and has all the modern improvements imaginable and then some. The interior finishings are all in quarter-sawn oak, with hardwood floors. The barn is nearly as large as the house and is all done-off on the inside with matched ceiling with a hard oil finish.

Hart Schaffer & Marx blue serge suits at Freydl's. —Advertisement.

Here is a woman who speaks from personal knowledge and long experience, viz., Mrs. P. H. Brogan, of Wilson, Pa., who says, "I know from experience that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is far superior to any other. For cough there is nothing that excels it." For sale by all dealers. —Advertisement.

John Tinham has been on the sick list this week.

Dr. T. B. Henry, W. L. Tinham and Ed. Wood went out on a little hunting expedition. Wednesday morning and brought back nice woodcocks, three partridges and a rabbit. This good catch was made in the swamp just west of town.

A circuit court jury at Pontiac awarded on Wednesday afternoon, a verdict to Harry Dingman of Milford of $200 against Gus Barnhart of this place. The suit was the outgrowth of an assault and battery case. Dingman claiming to have been badly beaten by Barnhart. A criminal suit against Barnhart is now pending in the circuit court and has been put over to the December term.

Mrs. A. Straasburg-Hyde of Detroit opened her dancing school here Wednesday night with very good success and after 9 o'clock general dancing was enjoyed by the pupils and guests. Mrs. Straasburg-Hyde shows marked ability as an instructor and there is a very good promise of a splendid class. Mrs. Edward Riggs of Plymouth is her accompanist.

The Northside ball team, in a crippled condition held the "professionals" of the Southside down to a score of 8 to 11 in Monday's game. Only for forty-seven errors made by the Northside, fellows which let in six tallies the cripples would have wiped the earth with Charlie Blackburn's aggregation of all stars. Pierce and Webber were the batting end of the South's and Paddock and Garry did like stunts for the North's. Dr. Turner and Carl Stimpson did the umpire act. Owing to the cold weather the audience was thin in numbers. A foot ball game by the same crowd is now talked of.

HADLEY IS FOR TAFT

Roosevelt's Former Manager Comes Out Squarely for the President.

Gov. Hadley, of Missouri, who was one of Roosevelt's managers at the Republican national convention, and who had charge of the contest made by Roosevelt delegates, has declined to follow the third term candidate out of the Republican party, and has declared that he will support President Taft. In a speech at Jefferson City, Mo., he said:

"I hope that these many high-minded but, I believe, mistaken men who have thought there was a greater interest to be subserved by joining in the organization of a new party and the nomination of another State ticket, will yet see that by such acts they are simply doing that which tends to insure Democratic success. And I hope that they will come back to the party which has stood for decency; that has stood for sane and effective progress in the conduct of public affairs."

After appealing to Republicans to support the Republican nominees, Gov. Hadley pointed out in his speech that the Democrats were pledged to the same kind of tariff legislation as they gave to the country after the Democratic victory of 1892. He said that no Republican could associate himself with those whose efforts tend to insure Democratic success.

FORAKER SUPPORTS TAFT

Says All Other Candidates Seek to Destroy Republican Party.

By his physician's orders, former Senator Foraker has been compelled to decline the invitation to make speeches this campaign. Of course, as a loyal Republican, he is supporting Taft. For quite a while the former senator was in Maine for his health, and while there he was a keen observer of the political situation. He declares that the result in Maine was emphatically a victory for the policy of protection. Upon his return home he gave a highly interesting statement to the Cincinnati "Commercial Tribune," from which the following is excerpted:

"It is the duty of every Republican who wants to support the Republican party and Republican principles to remember that there is no way to support the party and its principles except by supporting President Taft. 'Nobody else pretends to represent the Republican party. Every other candidate for the presidency is the open and avowed enemy of the Republican party. All alike are seeking its defeat and destruction.'"

"Bird's Nest in Human Skull." A bird has built its nest in a human skull lying in a vault beneath a church at Rothwell, Northamptonshire, England. Apparently the bird entered the vault through the ventilator and after selecting the largest cranium among the rows of skulls on the shelves proceeded to enlarge a hole, which had probably been made originally by a battle-axe.—New York Sun.

Judgment Sometimes at Fault. Believe me, every man has his sorrows which the world knows; and oftentimes we call a man cold when he is only sad.—Longfellow.

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion: "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for fifteen years," says Enoch Lollar of Sarasota, Ind., "and consider it the best on the market." For sale by all dealers. —Advertisement.

THE

Lapham State Savings Bank

Invites you to open an account and receive the benefit of interest on your Savings deposit FROM DATE, for the FULL TIME that the deposit remains.

CHECKING ACCOUNTS RECEIVED. CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT ISSUED.

OFFICERS.

F. S. HARMON, President.
ASA B. SMITH, Vice-President. EDWARD H. LAPHAM, Cashier.
ERNEST MILLER, Assistant Cashier.

DETROIT UNITED LINES

NORTHVILLE TIME TABLE

Northville to Farmington and Detroit—Also to Orchard Lake and Pontiac.

Cars leave Northville for Farmington and Detroit at 6:15 a. m. and every hour thereafter until 9:15 p. m.; 10:30 p. m. for Orchard Lake and Pontiac only 11:15 p. m.; for Farmington Junction only 12:30 a. m.

Northville, Plymouth, Wayne and Detroit.

Through cars leave Northville for Detroit at 5:30 a. m. and hourly to 7:30 p. m.; 8:30 p. m. to 10:30 p. m. Leave Wayne for Northville at 5:44 a. m., 6:44 a. m. and hourly to 8:44 p. m., also 8:44 p. m., 10:15 p. m. and 11:15 p. m. West bound cars to Jackson connect at Wayne. Cars for Seline connect at Pontiac.

NORTHVILLE GREENHOUSE

CUT FLOWERS AND PLANTS

J. M. DIXON, Propr. Both Phones

Advertisement in the Record Want Column

Highland Linen

for your correspondence. It has the approval of men and women of refinement. Let us show you our large assortment of Highland Linen and other styles.

A. E. Stanley

Drugs and Stationery
School Books, Magazines.
NORTHVILLE, MICH.

They're all right

WHENEVER you trade with us, you can do so with entire confidence.

Our aim is always to have the right goods—there's nothing for us to gain in having anything else.

Styleplus $17 Clothes

"The same price the world over"

certainly look right to us—that's why we feature them, why you should buy them.

We know you'll find them all right in every particular—style, fit, quality, tailoring, comfort, service—and every garment guaranteed by the makers.

We know you'll find them the best you ever saw at the price, the equal of any $20.00 to $25.00 suit you can buy from any other dealer in town.

Come in and see them, save from $3.00 to $8.00 and be dressed in the height of fashion.

No other store in town sells them—we're the exclusive STYLE-PLUS agents

FREYDL

NORTHVILLE.

Fingers and the Calendar. No doubt most people remember the number of days in a particular month by recalling the fingers they earned at school. This method is practiced in Iceland and it is so simple and ingenious as to be worth knowing. Shut the fist and let the knuckle of the forefinger represent January with its thirty-one days, and the depression between that and the next knuckle will represent February with its lesser number of days. And thus every month that corresponds to a knuckle will be found to contain thirty-one days; and every month that corresponds to a depression a less number of days. The little finger will represent July, and beginning again with the forefinger knuckle it stands for August, and from this one continues to count through the months of the year.—Harper's Weekly.

Discovery of Fire. When and in what manner fire was discovered is unknown. The art of producing fire appears to have been one of the very earliest achievements of man. No people have ever been found without it. Its use may have been suggested to man by the lightning or by the volcano, or by the accidental spark produced by the use of the stone weapons or utensils, but at any rate, its use was discovered so long ago that the memory of the race runneth not to the contrary. Of course, it goes without saying that the use of fire lies at the root of all human progress. The "iron age," which is pre-eminently the age of true civilization, would have been impossible without fire.

What They Are Paying. The Northville Market corrected up to date.

Wheat, white—$1.05 wheat, red—$1.06
Oats, new—30c to 36c. oats, old 30c
Shelled corn—30c
Baled hay per ton—$15.00
Horse shoe—$8.20
Dressed Hogs—$9.50
Cattle—$5.00 to $5.50
Lamb—$5.00
Beef hides—8.00 Beef foot—$6.60
Feet calve live—$7.00
Eggs—26c Butter—28c

KEZIAH COFFIN

by Joseph C. Lincoln

Author of
Cy Whittaker's Place
Cap'n Eri, Etc.Illustrations by Ellsworth Young

Copyright, 1912, by J. Appleton & Company

SYNOPSIS.

Mrs. Keziah Coffin, supposed widow, is arranging to move from Trumet to Boston, following the death of her brother, for whom she had kept house. Kyan Pepper, widower, offers marriage, and is indignantly refused.

CHAPTER I—Continued.

There was a sound of scrambling. More soot floated in the air. Then around the corner of the high-boy appeared Mr. Pepper, crawling on his hands and knees. His hair was streaked with black; his shirt front and collar and shirt sleeves were spotted and smeared with black; and from his blackened cheeks his red whiskers flamed like the last glowing embers in a fire-scattered ruin.

"I was just trying to help Keziah take down her stovepipe," he explained. "You see, she didn't have no man to—"

"Yes, I see. Well, I judge you got it down. Now you go out to the sink and wash your face. Heavens, and earth! Look at their clothes!"

"I do hope you didn't hurt yourself, Abishai," said the sympathetic Keziah. Then, as remembrance of what had led to the upset came to her, she added: "Though I will say 'twas your own fault and nobody else's."

Lavinia whined on her.

"Dear me! Ain't we innocent! We've got plenty of money, we have. Widowers with property ain't no attraction to us. Everybody knows that—oh, yes! And they never talk of such a thing—oh, no! Folks don't say that—that—'Well,' with a snarl in the direction of the kitchen, 'are you anywhere nigh clean yet? Get your coat and hat on and come home with me.'"

She jerked her brother into the blue coat, jammed the tail hat down upon his head, and, setting him by the arm, stalked to the door.

"Good day, usin'," she said. "I do hope the next widower you get to take down your stovepipe—yes, indeed! ha! ha!—I hope you'll have better luck with him. Though I don't know who 'twould be, there ain't no more idiots in town that I know of. Good day, and thank you kindly for your attentions to our family."

Keziah turned from the door she had closed behind her visitor.

"Well," she ejaculated. "Well!" Steps, measured, dignified steps, sounded on the walk. From without came a "Hum-ha-ha!" a portentous combination of cough and grunt. Grace dodged back from the window and hastily began donning her hat and jacket.

"It's Cap'n Elkanah," she whispered. "I must go. This seems to be your busy morning, Aunt Keziah!"—here she choked again—"really, I didn't know you were so popular."

Keziah opened the door. Captain Eli and his daughter, prosperous, pompous and unbending, crossed the threshold. The richest man in the village, retired shipowner, pillar of the Regular church and leading member of its parish committee, Captain Elkanah looked the part. He removed his hat, cleared his throat behind his black stock, and spoke with impressive deliberation.

"Keziah," he said, "Keziah, I came to see you on a somewhat important matter. I have a proposal I wish to make you."

He must have been surprised at the effect of his words. Keziah's face was a picture, a crimson picture of paralyzed amazement. As for Miss Van Horne, that young lady gave vent to what her friend described afterwards as a "squelch," and bolted out of the door and into the grateful seclusion of the fog.

CHAPTER II.

In Which Keziah Unearths a Prowler.

The fog was cruel to the gossips of Trumet that day. Mrs. Didama Rogers, who lived all alone, except for the society of three cats, a canary, and a white poodle named "Bunch," in the little house next to Captain Elkanah's establishment, never entirely recovered from the chagrin and disappointment caused by that provoking mist.

The fog prevented Mrs. Rogers' noting the entrance of Mr. Pepper at the Coffin front gate. Also his exit, under sisterly arrest. It shut from her view the majestic approach of Captain Elkanah Daniels and Grace's flight, her face dimpled with smiles and breaking into laughter at frequent intervals. For a young lady, supposed to be a devout Come-Outer, to hurry along the main road, a handkerchief at her mouth and her eyes sparkling with fun, was a circumstance calculated to furnish material for enjoyable scandal. And Didama missed it.

Other happenings she missed, also. Not knowing of Captain Daniels' call upon Keziah, she was deprived of the pleasure of wonder at the length of his stay. She did not see him, in company with Mrs. Coffin, go down the road in the opposite direction from that taken by Grace. Nor their return and parting at the gate, two hours later. It was three o'clock in the afternoon before a visitor came again to the Coffin front gate, entered the yard, slipped off the side door, and—

"Hello!" she exclaimed. "Back are you? I begun to think you'd been scared away for good."

Grace laughed as she entered. "Well, auntie," she said, "I don't wonder you thought I was scared. Truly, I didn't think it was proper for me to stay. First Kyan and then Cap'n Elkanah, and both of them expressing their wishes to see you alone—er—pointedly. I thought it was time for me to go. Surely, you give me credit for a little delicacy."

"Grace Van Horne! there's born fools enough in this town without your tryin' to be one. Grace, I ain't going to leave Trumet, not for the present, anyhow. I've got a way of earnin' my livin' right here. I'm goin' to keep house for the new minister."

"The girl turned her hat in her hand."

"Oh!" she cried in utter astonishment.

Keziah nodded. "Yes," she affirmed. "That was what Elkanah's proposal amounted to. Ha, ha! Dear me! When he said, 'proposal,' I own up for a minute I didn't know what was comin'."

After Kyan, I was prepared for most anything. But he told me that Luray Phelps, who the parish committee had counted on to keep house for Mr. Ellery, had sent word her sister was sick and couldn't be left, and that somebody must be hired right off 'cause the minister's expected by day after tomorrow's coach. And the cap'n was made a delegate to come and see me about it. Come he did, and we settled it. I went down to the parsonage with him before dinner and looked the place over. There's an awful lot of sweepin' and dustin' to be done afore it's fit for a body to live in."

Grace extended her hand.

"Well, Aunt Keziah," she said, "I'm ever and ever so glad for you. I know you didn't want to leave Trumet and I'm sure everyone will be delighted when they learn that you're going to stay."

"Humph! that include Lavinia Pepper, of course. I calculate Lavinia's delight won't keep her up nights. But I guess I can stand it if she can. Now, Grace, what is it? You ain't real pleased? Why not?"

The girl hesitated.

"Auntie," she said, "I'm selfish, I guess. I'm glad for your sake, you mustn't think I'm not. But I almost wish you were going to do something else. You are going to live in the Regular parsonage and keep house for all parsons, a Regular minister. Why, so far as my sewing you in concerned, you might as well be in China. You know that, don't you?"

"Yes," she said, "I know him. Eben Hammond, didn't that parsonage be the presence chamber of the Evil One, I presume likely. But Grace, you mustn't blame me, and if you don't call I'll know who and I shan't blame you. Well, see each other once in a while, I'll take care of that."

The packing took about an hour. When it was finished, the carpet rolled up, and the last piece of linen placed in the old trunk, Keziah turned to her guest.

"Now, Grace," she said, "I feel as though I ought to go to the parsonage. I can't do much more'n look at the cobwebs tonight, but tomorrow those spiders had better put on their ascension robes. The end of the world's comin' for them, even though it missed fire for the Millerites when they had their doin's a few years ago. You can stay here and wait, if 'twon't be too lonesome. We'll have supper when I get back."

She threw a shawl over her shoulders, draped a white knitted "cloud" over her head, and took from a nail a key, attached by a strong cord to a block of wood eight inches long.

"Elkanah left the key with me," she observed. "No danger of losin' it is there. Might as well lose a lumber yard."

They left the house and came out into the wet mist. Then, turning to the right, in the direction which Trumet, with unconscious irony, calls "down town," they climbed the long steep road, the main road to the town, and opened the door.

"Cheerful's a Tomb, Ain't It?"—Was Mrs. Coffin's Comment.

spiders had better put on their ascension robes. The end of the world's comin' for them, even though it missed fire for the Millerites when they had their doin's a few years ago. You can stay here and wait, if 'twon't be too lonesome. We'll have supper when I get back."

She threw a shawl over her shoulders, draped a white knitted "cloud" over her head, and took from a nail a key, attached by a strong cord to a block of wood eight inches long.

"Elkanah left the key with me," she observed. "No danger of losin' it is there. Might as well lose a lumber yard."

They left the house and came out into the wet mist. Then, turning to the right, in the direction which Trumet, with unconscious irony, calls "down town," they climbed the long steep road, the main road to the town, and opened the door.

"Cheerful's a Tomb, Ain't It?"—Was Mrs. Coffin's Comment.

spiders had better put on their ascension robes. The end of the world's comin' for them, even though it missed fire for the Millerites when they had their doin's a few years ago. You can stay here and wait, if 'twon't be too lonesome. We'll have supper when I get back."

She threw a shawl over her shoulders, draped a white knitted "cloud" over her head, and took from a nail a key, attached by a strong cord to a block of wood eight inches long.

"Elkanah left the key with me," she observed. "No danger of losin' it is there. Might as well lose a lumber yard."

They left the house and came out into the wet mist. Then, turning to the right, in the direction which Trumet, with unconscious irony, calls "down town," they climbed the long steep road, the main road to the town, and opened the door.

"Cheerful's a Tomb, Ain't It?"—Was Mrs. Coffin's Comment.

spiders had better put on their ascension robes. The end of the world's comin' for them, even though it missed fire for the Millerites when they had their doin's a few years ago. You can stay here and wait, if 'twon't be too lonesome. We'll have supper when I get back."

She threw a shawl over her shoulders, draped a white knitted "cloud" over her head, and took from a nail a key, attached by a strong cord to a block of wood eight inches long.

"Elkanah left the key with me," she observed. "No danger of losin' it is there. Might as well lose a lumber yard."

outlying ridge of Cannon Hill, passed Captain Mayo's big house—the finest in Trumet, with the exception of the Daniels mansion—and descended into the hollow beyond. Here, at the corner where the "Lighthouse Lane" begins its winding way over the rolling knolls and dunes to the light and the fish shanties on the "ocean side," stood the plain, straight-up-and-down meeting house of the Regular society. Directly opposite was the little parsonage, also very straight up and down. Both were painted white with green blinds. This statement is superfluous to those who remember Cape architecture at this period; practically every building from Sandwich to Provincetown was white and green.

They entered the yard, through the gap in the white fence, and went around the house, past the dripping evergreens and the bare, wet lilac bushes, to the side door, the lock of which Keziah's key fitted. There was a lock on the front door, of course; but no one thought of meddling with that. That door had been opened but once during the late pastor's thirty-year tenancy. On the occasion of his funeral the mourners came and went.

Mrs. Coffin thrust the key into the keyhole of the side door and essayed to turn it.

"Humph!" she muttered, twisting to no purpose. "I don't see why. This must be the right key, because—Well, I declare, if it ain't unlocked already! That's some of Cap'n Elkanah's doin's. For a critter as fussy and particular about some things, he's careless enough about others. Mercy we ain't had no tramps around here lately. Come in."

She led the way into the dining room of the parsonage. Two of the blinds shading the windows of that apartment had been opened when she and Captain Daniels made their visit, and the dim gray light made the room more lonesome and forlorn in appearance than a deeper gloom could possibly have done.

The black walnut chairs set back against the wall at regular intervals; the rug-carpet and braided mats—homemade donations from the ladies of the parish—on the green painted floor; the dolorous pictures on the walls; "Death of Washington," "Stoning of Stephen," and a still more deadly "fruit piece" committed in old years ago by a now deceased boat painter. The blinds and a window being opened, more light entered the room. Grace glanced about it curiously.

"So this is going to be our new home now, Aunt Keziah," she observed. "How queer that seems."

"Um—hm. Does seem queer, don't it? Must seem queer to you to be so near the headquarters of everything your uncle thinks is wicked. Small of him, don't you? What is it?" she asked with a smile.

She threw open another door. A room gloomy with black walnut and freight with a lamp of warily dimly visible light.

"Theorists a Tomb, Ain't It?" was Mrs. Coffin's comment. "Well, we'll get some light and air in here pretty soon. Here at the front hall and there's the front door. The parson's off to the left. We won't bother with that yet a while. This little place in here is what Mr. Ellery used to call his study. 'Hello!' how this door sticks!"

The door did stick, and no amount of tugger could get it open, though Grace added her efforts to those of Keziah.

"Tain't locked," commented Mrs. Coffin, "cause there ain't any lock on it. I guess it's just swelled and stuck from the damp. Though it's odd, I don't remember—Oh, well! cover mind. Let's sweeten up this settin' room a little. Open a window or two want to do anything before it gets dark. I'm goin' into the kitchen to get a broom."

She hurried out, returning in a moment or two with a broom and a most disgusted expression.

"How's a body goin' to sweep with that?" she demanded, exhibiting the frayed utensil, the business end of which was worn to a nub. "More like a shovel, enough sight. Well, there's pretty nigh dust enough for a shovel, so maybe this'll take off the top layers. S'pose I'll ever get this house fit for Mr. Ellery to live in before he comes? I wonder if he's a particular man?"

Grace, who was struggling with a refractory window, paused for breath.

"I'm sure I don't know," she replied. "I've never seen him."

"Nor I either. Sol was so bad the Sunday he preached that I couldn't go to meetin'. They say his sermon was fine; all about those who go down to the sea in ships. That's what got the parish committee, I guess; they're all old salts. I wonder if he's as fine-looking as they say?"

Miss Van Horne tossed her head. She was testing, prior to making another assault on the window.

"I don't care. I know he'll be a conceited little snippet and I shall hate the sight of him. There! there! Auntie, you mustn't mind me. I told you I was a selfish pig. But don't you ask me to like this precious minister of yours, because I shan't do it. He has no business to come and separate me from the best friend I've got. I'd tell him so if he was here—What was that?"

Both women looked at each other with startled faces. They listened intently.

"Why, wa'n't that turny!" whispered Keziah. "I thought I heard—"

"You did hear. So did I. What do you suppose—"

"S-s-s-h-h!" It sounded from the front room somewhere. And yet there can't be anybody in there, because—

"I shan't! there's again. I'm goin' to find out!"

She groped the study broom, by the handle and moved determinedly toward the front hall. Grace seized her by the arm.

"Don't you do it, auntie!" she whispered frantically. "Don't you do it! It may be a tramp."

"I don't care. Whoever or whatever it is, he has no business in this house, and I'll make that plain in a hurry. Just like as not it's a cat got in when Elkanah was here this forenoon. Don't be scared, Grace. Come right along."

The girl came along, but not with enthusiasm. They tiptoed through the dark, narrow hall and peered into the parlor. This apartment was dim and still and gloomy, as all proper parlors should be, but there was no sign of life.

Mrs. Coffin was glancing back down the hall with a strange expression on her face. Her grip upon the broom handle tightened.

"What is it?" pleaded the girl in an agonized whisper.

"Grace," was the low reply, "I've just remembered something. That study door isn't stuck from the damp, because—well, because I remember now that it was open this mornin'."

Before her companion could fully grasp the import of this paralyzing fact, Keziah strode down the hall and seized the knob of the study door.

"Whoever you are in there," she commanded sternly, "open this door and come out this minute. Do you hear? I'm orderin' you to come out."

There was an instant of silence; then a voice from within made answer, a man's voice, and its tone indicated embarrassment.

"Madam," it said, "I—I am—I will be out in another minute. If you will just be patient—"

"Come out then!" snapped Keziah. "Come out! Patience! Of all the cheek!—Why don't you come out now?"

"Well, to be frank, since you insist,"

the handle and moved determinedly toward the front hall. Grace seized her by the arm.

"Don't you do it, auntie!" she whispered frantically. "Don't you do it! It may be a tramp."

"I don't care. Whoever or whatever it is, he has no business in this house, and I'll make that plain in a hurry. Just like as not it's a cat got in when Elkanah was here this forenoon. Don't be scared, Grace. Come right along."

The girl came along, but not with enthusiasm. They tiptoed through the dark, narrow hall and peered into the parlor. This apartment was dim and still and gloomy, as all proper parlors should be, but there was no sign of life.

Mrs. Coffin was glancing back down the hall with a strange expression on her face. Her grip upon the broom handle tightened.

"What is it?" pleaded the girl in an agonized whisper.

"Grace," was the low reply, "I've just remembered something. That study door isn't stuck from the damp, because—well, because I remember now that it was open this mornin'."

Before her companion could fully grasp the import of this paralyzing fact, Keziah strode down the hall and seized the knob of the study door.

"Whoever you are in there," she commanded sternly, "open this door and come out this minute. Do you hear? I'm orderin' you to come out."

There was an instant of silence; then a voice from within made answer, a man's voice, and its tone indicated embarrassment.

"Madam," it said, "I—I am—I will be out in another minute. If you will just be patient—"

"Come out then!" snapped Keziah. "Come out! Patience! Of all the cheek!—Why don't you come out now?"

"Well, to be frank, since you insist,"

the handle and moved determinedly toward the front hall. Grace seized her by the arm.

"Don't you do it, auntie!" she whispered frantically. "Don't you do it! It may be a tramp."

"I don't care. Whoever or whatever it is, he has no business in this house, and I'll make that plain in a hurry. Just like as not it's a cat got in when Elkanah was here this forenoon. Don't be scared, Grace. Come right along."

The girl came along, but not with enthusiasm. They tiptoed through the dark, narrow hall and peered into the parlor. This apartment was dim and still and gloomy, as all proper parlors should be, but there was no sign of life.

Mrs. Coffin was glancing back down the hall with a strange expression on her face. Her grip upon the broom handle tightened.

"What is it?" pleaded the girl in an agonized whisper.

"Grace," was the low reply, "I've just remembered something. That study door isn't stuck from the damp, because—well, because I remember now that it was open this mornin'."

Before her companion could fully grasp the import of this paralyzing fact, Keziah strode down the hall and seized the knob of the study door.

"Whoever you are in there," she commanded sternly, "open this door and come out this minute. Do you hear? I'm orderin' you to come out."

There was an instant of silence; then a voice from within made answer, a man's voice, and its tone indicated embarrassment.

"Madam," it said, "I—I am—I will be out in another minute. If you will just be patient—"

"Come out then!" snapped Keziah. "Come out! Patience! Of all the cheek!—Why don't you come out now?"

"Well, to be frank, since you insist,"

the handle and moved determinedly toward the front hall. Grace seized her by the arm.

"Don't you do it, auntie!" she whispered frantically. "Don't you do it! It may be a tramp."

"I don't care. Whoever or whatever it is, he has no business in this house, and I'll make that plain in a hurry. Just like as not it's a cat got in when Elkanah was here this forenoon. Don't be scared, Grace. Come right along."

The girl came along, but not with enthusiasm. They tiptoed through the dark, narrow hall and peered into the parlor. This apartment was dim and still and gloomy, as all proper parlors should be, but there was no sign of life.

Mrs. Coffin was glancing back down the hall with a strange expression on her face. Her grip upon the broom handle tightened.

"What is it?" pleaded the girl in an agonized whisper.

"Grace," was the low reply, "I've just remembered something. That study door isn't stuck from the damp, because—well, because I remember now that it was open this mornin'."

Before her companion could fully grasp the import of this paralyzing fact, Keziah strode down the hall and seized the knob of the study door.

"Whoever you are in there," she commanded sternly, "open this door and come out this minute. Do you hear? I'm orderin' you to come out."

There was an instant of silence; then a voice from within made answer, a man's voice, and its tone indicated embarrassment.

"Madam," it said, "I—I am—I will be out in another minute. If you will just be patient—"

"Come out then!" snapped Keziah. "Come out! Patience! Of all the cheek!—Why don't you come out now?"

"Well, to be frank, since you insist,"

the handle and moved determinedly toward the front hall. Grace seized her by the arm.

"Don't you do it, auntie!" she whispered frantically. "Don't you do it! It may be a tramp."

"I don't care. Whoever or whatever it is, he has no business in this house, and I'll make that plain in a hurry. Just like as not it's a cat got in when Elkanah was here this forenoon. Don't be scared, Grace. Come right along."

The girl came along, but not with enthusiasm. They tiptoed through the dark, narrow hall and peered into the parlor. This apartment was dim and still and gloomy, as all proper parlors should be, but there was no sign of life.

Pure From Start to Finish.

There is perhaps nothing in daily use in the home in which purity is so important as it is in baking powder. On its purity depends the purity of the material used in the success of the baking. And possibly the one thing that has served to make Calumet's baking powder so famous is the fact that it is critical cooks of the country, is the fact that Calumet is pure from start to finish. You can rely on Calumet's purity for the simple reason that every ounce of the material used is first tested by experienced chemists and then mixed with the utmost care to insure its uniformity. And standing in the car or changing weather, etc., cannot alter it in any respect.

But perhaps the best thing of all is the fact that Calumet never sags. Every batch in which Calumet is used, is sure to come from the oven as light and as fluffy as you can wish. This is no mere claim, but a fact. Calumet is a big economy as well. Try Calumet next bake-day—it's the best baking powder made for two or three years. Pure Food Expositions, one in Chicago, 1907, one at Paris, France, 1912—have given it the highest awards. Adv.

Wise Young Man.

That was a very wise Cambridge student of whom the London story tellers were talking some time ago. One of his college friends finding himself without funds, went to this Solomon of students to borrow. He found him in bed. Seizing him by the shoulder, he shook him.

"I say," he said, "are you asleep?"

"Why do you ask?" queried the other, sleepily.

"I want to borrow a sovereign."

"Yes," said the other, turning over and closing his eyes. "I'm asleep."

Reason Was Plain.

"My husband has deserted me and I want a warrant," announced the large lady.

"What reason did he give for deserting you?" asked the prosecutor.

"I don't want any lip from you. I want a warrant. I don't know what reason he had."

"I think I understand his reason," said the official feebly, as he proceeded to draw up a warrant.

Mooted Question.

"How's Willie getting on at that free thought Sunday-school you're sending him to?"

"First rate, from last accounts. He asked his pretty lady teacher who it was that first bit the apple in the Garden of Eden. Willie says she looked him straight in the eye and said nobody knew; that they'd been trying to figure out for the last 6,000 years."

CURES BURNS AND CUTS.

Cole Carbolic stops the pain instantly. Cures quick. No scar. Aldridge, 22 and 24, Ad.

Accounted For.

"The piece was very raw."

"Then it deserved a roasting."

The pitcher that goes to the boy too often is knocked out.

Liquid Blue is a weak solution. Avoid it. Buy the Cream Ball Blue, the blue that's all blue. Ask your grocer. Ad.

