CHARLES YERKES

DIED SUNDAY

WE HAD BEEN SERIOUSLY ILLING FOR SEVERAL WEEKS PAST.

Was a Northville Pioneer and One of the Most Popular Residents

After a nephews illness of several weeks Charles Yerkes passed away Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock, surrounded by his family and loved ones death came to him as he would have chosen it himself like a gentle sleep in the quiet of his home.

Mr. Yerkes early life was passed in this vicinity. He was born on the old Yerkes homestead east of town where Mrs. E. V. Yerkes Holcomb now

A REAL LIVELY VILLAGE ELECTION

ENTIRE WORKMEN'S TICKET WAS ELECTED TOP TO BOTTOM

Nelson Schrader is the New Mayor and Judd Lanning Treasurer.

Monday was a real exciting village election day. Every candidate was on the street all day long and each voter was willed by some one in the interest of one or more of the nominees.

The following Workingmen's ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 24 to 165.

President—Nelson G. Schrader.

Clerk—Lester D. Stager, Stewart

Montgomery, Dean F. Griswold,

Clerk—Philip E. Mischek,

Treasurer—William J. Lanning Sr.

Assessor—Charles A. Sessions.

Some of the voters didn't like the idea of a good clean cut young man like Lester Stager running for councilman and they passed out the word to knife him. They didn't cause his defeat however for there were too many voters in town who knew of Stager's splendid qualifications for the place and he pulled it by 24 majority.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. Lottie Willis and Ernestine Miller, who departed this life one year ago.

God call them home, it was his will.

Fare in our hearts they linger still. Their memory is as dear to today as in the hour they passed away.

WHY CHICAGO GIRLS GO WRONG

If those Chicago girls who go wrong because they are paid but $5 to $8 a week as clerks in department stores would get a little more common sense in their heads and less lace clothes on their backs they would be satisfied with the same wages in some good home, which would also include board and room. The trouble is many cases is that parents bring their children up to the notion that house work is not grand enough for their daughters even though the young lady's mother did fairly well at it herself in her earlier life.

THE OLD FASHIONED FIREPLACE

We had the pleasure of visiting at a home recently where there was an old fashioned fireplace. We enjoyed it. There is something about an old fashioned fireplace that takes a hold by the hand without waiting for an introduction. It doesn't keep a man standing out in the hall till his hands turn blue, and he runs a regret that he didn't bring his car muff along but before he can tell how it is done it has made him feel right at home and is commanding with idea like the old fireplace when he goes back to it again. It may be in the living room, on the way to the rear, or other, before he can get his hat off and as he sits there holding his hand upon it feels the heat of the fire and no word in the language can give full expression, it feels like giving the bulk of his property to the poor before he has it in the two minutes. It comes flat up with a glow that makes him feel benevolent from ear to teeth to his toenails, quiets up his bad self till he almost forgets his age, and takes away the fear of death, it gives a fascination to fire, which amounts to the same thing.

CIVIC WELFARE

This year every citizen should take a deep interest in the welfare of the city. If you sincerely believe that conditions are prevalent that need changing, don't be afraid to start something. This year the very best effort that is in every citizen should assert itself to the end that is sure and safe. The fellow who kicks is often the man who does his community the real service. There is a difference between a grouch and a good healthy kicker.

A man who keeps constantly on the fence waiting to see which way to drop, makes even the fence weary.

SOTHERN AND MARLOWE AT DETROIT.

During the engagement of E. H. Sothern and Julia Marlowe at the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, week of March 1st, they will present seven plays of their Shakespearean repertoire: two tragedies and five comedies. This year there will be six evening performances and but one matinee, Saturday. The midweek matinee has been eliminated on account of the arduous labor of presenting these Shakespearean plays. No single play will be repeated during the week as will be seen in the following arrangement of the repertory:

Monday night—Taming of the Shrew; Tuesday night—Romeo and Juliet; Wednesday night—Much Ado About Nothing.

Thursday night—Twelfth Night; Friday night—The Merchant of Venice.

Saturday matinee—As You Like It; Saturday night—Hamlet.

The Southern and Marlowe will present "Much Ado About Nothing" will be presented on the third night of their engagement in Detroit, that is, on Wednesday evening.

This is the second festival of the comedy that Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe have made. An entirely new production in both scenery and costume has been provided for this revival.

Many spectators in this place will undoubtedly wish to take advantage of this opportunity of seeing the two most important stars of the English speaking stage. The prices for this engagement will be from 50c to $2.00. The management has arranged to fill all initial orders accompanied by check or money order in the sequence of their receipt. These orders will be filled before the regular box office sale.

How About It?

After living in a rented house with leaky roof and broken windows paneled cracks in doors through which the cat crawls in and out.

Perhaps you would like a home of your own with these features removed.

It is our business to help people procure homes for themselves and which you can fix up to suit yourself.

If there is a place in town you would like to own and have about one-third of the purchase price, very likely we can loan you the balance.

The weekly payments would be small; about the same as rent, and before you realize it, the proper, free and clear, would be yours.

Remember that an Equity, however small, in a place is worth more than a bucket of rent receipts.

But John disappointed the Electric by strolling into the office last week as lively and chipper as ever. Mean trick on John's to hang around like that.

A traveling man got into a controversy with one of the phone girls in Milford, and while somewhat excited told the young lady to "Just keep her slurs on." The manager of the exchange went to the gentleman and told him he had better

A TALK WITH A

Northville Man

Mr. Kator of Main Street Tells of an Interesting Experience.

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens, for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with a Northville man—Mr. J. W. Kator says: "For years I suffered from kidney trouble. The kidney secretions contained sediment and the kidney action was irregular. There were severe pains in my back. At night I was restless and mornings felt tired out. I was feeling miserable when I began using Dean's Kidney Pills. They quickly helped me and as I continued taking them I was given complete relief. I don't have the pains any more."

Mr. Kator is only one of many Northville people who have gratefully endorsed Dean's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Dean's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Kator had—the remedy backed by home testimony 50 cents all stores. RECALLS LITERARY MYSTERY

Rev. Mr. Wolfe, Author of "Burial of Sir John Moore," Buried at Queenstown.

A literary mystery of a hundred years ago is recalled by the special number, recently issued, of Newry Telegraph, an Ulster weekly. In its pages April 19, 1813, under the simple head of "Poetry," appeared what Byron called, "The most perfect ode of the language."

"The Burial of Sir John Moore." By Rev. Dr. Campbell or any of the others whom this poem was variously ascribed would doubtless have been proud to claim it. But the author was the obscure curate of Ballinclog, in Newry, Rev. Charles Wolfe, and the fame of the piece was but a posthumous fame for him. Not until his death of consumption, in 1822, at the early age of thirty-two, did the authorship become known to the world. And Wolfe, who wrote much other verse of merit, is remembered only by that one poem, which sprang from the columns of a provincial newspaper to universal recognition in the big world of letters.—London Chronicle.

Municipal Golf Courses in England.

The park committee of the Birmingham city council is considering the establishment of a municipal golf course, the proposed site being at Castle Bromwich.

Edinburgh, with six public courses, claims to have been the pioneer of municipal golf. London has public courses; Nottingham has two courses and Manchester has had one since 1911. Sonderland and Liverpool have similar schemes under consideration. Several seaside resorts include municipal golf among their attractions. Brighton and Bournemouth are instances. Yarmouth has a scheme in hand and Southport has considered a similar proposal. London Mail

Farmer Brown—Huh tell! What in the name o' Tephrot did ye do las' night?

Farmer Jones—W'y, I read the new Farmers' almanac till near mornin'.

Point he Had Overlooked.

The story is told of a man who bought a gallon of gin to take home, and by way of a label wrote his name upon a pickup card which happened to be the seven of clubs, and tied it to the handle. His son, observing the tag, quietly remarked, "That's an awfully careless way to leave that signor." "Why?" "Because some one might come along with the eight of clubs and take it."

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work on hand.

He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meat-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy in digesting it.

A Calif. business man tried to find some food combination that would not overload the stomach in the morning, but that would produce energy.

He writes:

"For years I was unable to find a breakfast food that had nutrition enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments.

Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts.

"Since that morning I have been a man; can work without tiring, my head is clear and my nerves strong and quiet.

I had four teaspoonsfuls of Grape-Nuts with one of sugar and a small quantity of cold milk, it delicious as the cereal part of the morning meal, and invigorates me for the day's business. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book "The Road to Wellville," in pigs. There's a reason."

I've had the above letter. A few days ago I had a letter from the same person, and fell in with

SUFFRAGETTES BATTLE TROOPS

LONDON'S MILITANT WOMEN BEAR DOWN ON ROYAL COACH AS KING RETURNS FROM PARLIAMENT.

RAILROAD STATIONS DESTROYED BY FIRE IN CAMPAIGN OF VIOLENCE.

"Give Us Votes" and Sign the Warrant Giving Us Liberty Were Among the Shouts Hurled at the King.

For the first time since the militant women of England inaugurated their campaign of violence as a means of getting the ballot, suffragettes made a personal attack on King George in London. If the attempt had not been expected and police arrangements made to repel it the British monarch might have suffered personal injuries at the hands of the mob of women who bore down on the royal coach. The attack was made near Marlborough house, while King George was returning to Buckingham palace after having opened the new session of parliament.

The attack was led by two women who had been standing in the line of spectators waiting for the king to pass. They were dressed in long cloaks beneath which were hidden "Votes for Women" banners.

As the royal coach drew opposite the women dashed through the police lines waving banners when they had drawn from beneath their clothing.

Soldiers Close in on Pair.

"Gives us votes" and "Sign the warrant giving us liberty," were among the shouts hurled at the king. One of the women waived a document over her head.

The police and escort of soldiers closed in about the carriage, while many men spectators ran forward, grabbing the women. Many other suffragettes who had apparently been waiting for a signal rushed out from the front and tried to pull the soldiers from their horses.

Pandemonium reigned and someone started the rumor that the king had been assassinated.

King Directs Police.

This intensified the anger of the crowd around the women, and if it had not been for the police one of the suffragettes would have possibly been seriously injured. As it was several of them had their clothing torn from their backs.

Five of the women were arrested and taken to the police station. The king seemed calm through the exciting scene and once shouted to the police not to handle the women too roughly.

Suffragettes burned the railway station at Sanderton, Buckinghamshire. The police found wads of oil-soaked paper and oakum which proved in incendiary "Votes for women" and "Burn-to-get-the-vote" cards were also found near by. It is believed that the incendiaries went to Sanderton, 11 miles distant, from London.

President Wilson Bars All Liquors.

The Wilson administration will be "dry." President Wilson and his family are averse to the use of liquor or wine in any form. Intoxicating liquors will have no place in the White House during the next four years.

The premier in the president's cabinet, Secretary of State Bryan, has been a prohibition advocate for many years. On one occasion, Mr. Bryan would have made it a national issue, and it was due to his efforts that the prohibition legislation in Nebraska was put into effect.

Speaker Clark is a teetotaler. A large portion of the democratic majority in the senate and house is from the south, where prohibition is general, making certain the fact that there will be little wine and less whiskey than has been known in Washington for many years.

There never has been so dry a prospect in the White House since the days of President Hayes, when Mrs. Hayes excluded wines and liquors from the executive mansion immediately on becoming its mistress.

Members of the executive staff of the state organization of the Y. M. C. A. concluded their annual meeting in Saginaw and announced that the state boys' encampment will be held at Torch Lake, opening June 24 and closing Sept. 2.

The Loranger case, involving the right of the city of Flint to take water for municipal purposes from the Flint river above the Hamilton dam, which resulted adversely to the city in the circuit court, will be taken to the supreme court by the city.

At the second annual banquet of the Ionia County Horticultural society, in Ionia, John J. Gibson surprised the members by the statement that fruit could be shipped from this state to England 3 cents cheaper than shippers from the state of Washington could.

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

Serving the Public, City and Interurban

There are those who sometimes forget that the great system of electric railways—the Detroit United lines—is more than a local system for the city of Detroit alone. It has a more important function than that. It is the great railway system for many miles beyond the political corporate limits of the metropolis of the state.

The Detroit United lines embraces practically EIGHT HUNDRED MILES OF TRACK, GIVING A CITY SERVICE IN PORT HURON, IN MT. CLEMENS, IN ANN ARBOR, IN PONTIAC AS WELL AS IN DETROIT, TOGETHER WITH CITY SERVICE IN WINDSOR, WALKER, LULLE AND SANDWICH ON THE CANADIAN SIDE OF THE DETROIT RIVER. THERE IS ALSO THE INTERVENING TERRITORY COVERED BY THE INTERURBAN SERVICE.

In maintenance, in operation, in planning for the future the property involved is treated as one great whole, having in mind the growth of all sections affected. It is a railway operated for the common good of all the community served by it.

The railway commissions of Michigan and Ohio, as well as the Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States, have certain fixed forms for making reports of electric railways. One of these forms is for the classification—that is, the division under certain prescribed headings—of expenditures for road and equipment. Leaving out of consideration the expenditures in the province of Ontario, the reports to these several commissions show that DURING THE YEAR 1912 there was spent under such classifications for additions and betterments the sum of $1,712,312.11—all for the improvement of the railway and its service. To this is to be added the sum of $39,708.13 expended for similar purposes on the properties across the Detroit river, making a total of OVER ONE AND THREE-QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS SPENT FOR ADDITIONS TO AND IMPROVEMENT OF THE PROPERTY SO WELL SERVING THE PEOPLE OF DETROIT AND ELSEWHERE.

AS A MATTER OF FACT, THE COMPANY SPENT FOR ADDITIONS AND BETTERMENTS NEARLY A MILLION DOLLARS MORE THAN ITS NET INCOME AFTER ALL THE NECESSARY CHARGES WERE PAID OUT OF THE RECEIPTS.

An analysis of the expenditures shows that for ballast there were laid $42,600.50; for grading, $52,412.12; for rails, rail fastenings and joints, $87,317.71. The operating expenses of all lines, city and interurban, amounted to nearly SEVEN AND THREE-QUARTER MILLIONS OF DOLLARS—to be exact, $7,730,400.90.

The task of keeping up this great electric highway, between town and country, means the constant expenditure of large sums of money for building bridge trestles and culverts, for crossing fences, cattle guards and signs, for telephone lines, for poles and wires, as well as additions to rolling stock and equipment, and additions to car shops and car houses.

Progress and improvements go hand in hand. In line with the policy of the company for the betterment of service and equipment, curves are rapidly being straightened out, and grades are being brought to high speed levels through the tillage in the valleys and cutting down in hills. This policy of the company calls, too, for the gradual taking of this track off the country high roads to private right of ways, leaving the roads to the ordinary vehicular traffic. These private right of ways are being secured through agreement of purchase or through other means established by the laws of the state.

Indicative of the great importance of these interurban lines to the social and business welfare of the people affected is the number of interurban passengers carried in 1912 on this side of the border, a total of 36,963,790 passengers.

SA-L-VET

The Great Worm Destroyer and Conditioner

The results Michigan farmers are getting from "Sal-Vet" and the way they endorse it is conclusive that this great worm destroyer and conditioner is the greatest money saver ever discovered. Here are a few of the hundreds of letters written to me by grateful farmers relating their experiences and results from "Sal-Vet". You may possibly know some of them personally. Read what they say.

"I use SAL-VET all the time and am positive and do not hesitate to advise it to anyone. I am using it on all my animals. I have 100 head of cattle, 500 hogs, 1000 sheep and 1000 chickens. I feed all my animals corn and horses are doing remarkably well. My experience has been that SAL-VET and corn cause a great deal together." —E. A. BONTHORN, Elkhorn, Wis.

"After having had a 15 pound hog of year SAL-VET among our other salts and she is with excellent results. I can not recommend it enough. I have given it to all my animals and horses are doing remarkably well. My experience has been that SAL-VET and corn cause a great deal together." —HARRY TOTTER, Marion, Mich.

I fed SAL-VET to 1000 hogs returned to me." —JAMES MULL, Sandusky, Mich.
