SATURDAY NIGHT IN NORTHVILLE

Good weather, a fine band concert and amusing street sports account for the large crowd of people that was in town last Saturday evening. They were a joyful lot, and seemed to appreciate the efforts being made for their entertainment and pleasure.

Stanley's oratorical contest produced some real talent in youngsters under 18 years of age. Wendell Miller won first prize, a Browne camera No. 2, and Miss Mary Bowles won the fountain pen of second prize.

In McCully's fried cake eating race Ralph Foreman made the circle for first prize, a large chocolate cake, with Henry Will a close second, the latter receiving a raisin pie for second prize. Albert Konyon was awarded the third prize, a box of candy.

Wholesale knot untangling contest created quite a little amusement for the spectators. Ralph Foreman again proved a winner for first prize, while little Francis Sutton was second.

Cattermole's sale of a high-grade buggy via the auction route, to the highest bidder was another novel feature of the evening. The buggy was captured by Geo. Newbound of Walled Lake for $47, he being the highest bidder. The price was cheaper than that for a carload, but Mr. Cattermole thinks it a novel and entertaining method of advertising and contemplates setting up a set of harness or some other article, in the same manner, in the near future.

This Saturday evening's entertainment and band concert will have several more fun making stunts. Also; it is on this date that the Superior Churn Co. will present a $9 porcelain churn to the person bringing in the largest load of people from outside the village corporation. Each load or string of loads must be piloted by a single driver. The following contest will be staged: Oldenburg's men's relay race, limited to men between 20 and 35 years of age, will be pulled off, in the streets can be cleaned off to make room for the marathons. Mr. Oldenburg expects to have five picked men to go up against anything in the field. The first prize will be a box of good smokes, second each an ice cream soda to cool off on.

Haddock's ladies' and girls' orange peeling race. To the one who can peel three oranges using the fingers only in the shortest time will be given a dozen Mason fruit cans, to the next fastest person, 6 bars of Queen Anne soap, while the third prize will be a dozen jelly tumblers. Number of contestants to be limited to six. F. Coscarelli, the fruit merchant, will supply the coveted oranges for this contest, each contestant being supplied with the remaining spoils.

Mrs. Belle McCully's juvenile exhibition for the best natured child under 18 months of age, exhibited from the band stand, offers as a prize a handsome baby bonnet or one silver dollar.

Next on the program comes a boy's whistling contest, open to any pair of boys who can give the best exhibition of mouth or finger whistling. The first two boys judged as best may go to one of our local cream omnibuses and eat all the ice cream they can stand and Dr. Paul Alexander will foot the bill.

He on hand this Saturday evening and bring a friend. They may enjoy the fun more than you think.

LIGHTNING CAUSES FIRE AT NOVI

BAPTIST CHURCH AND TOWN HALL COMPLETELY DESTROYED.

Loss Is Partly Covered by Insurance; Will Rebuild

Monday night's electrical storm was quick and startling at Novi about 10 o'clock. The Baptist church steeple was struck by lightning and the fire which followed completely destroyed the edifice. The town hall which stood just north of the church was also wiped out. The large gang of Italians, employed on the P. M., who were camping in the village, formed themselves into a first-aid-to-the-injured brigade and while the roof of the church was burning they carried out the entire interior of the edifice, including even the windows, to a place of safety. The chairs and desks in the town hall were also saved.

The insurance on the church was $2,000 and $700 on the hall and both will be rebuilt.

At one time it looked as if the West residence would also be destroyed but a fortunate change in the wind saved it.

GREAT TIME AT S. S. PICNIC

BIGGEST CROWD AND MOST ENJOYABLE EVENT EVER

Over 500 Enjoyed The Outing At Orchard Lake, Wednesday.

The most enjoyable picnic in the history of the Northville churches was held at Orchard Lake Wednesday. Four special cars conveyed most of the crowd, those going by auto bringing the number in attendance up to 500.

Immediately after reaching the grounds, races were indulged in. Francis Wilkinson was first in the 100 yard dash and Charley Johnston second in the potato race. Carl Sillow and Charley Freydl were winners. The peanut scramble called out all of the youngsters and such a time as they had. Harvey White picked up the most, with Josephine King a close second. Helen Miller proved the fleetest in a 50 yard dash for girls, while Frank Freydl won the honors in the shoe race. The Methodists proved champions in a tug-of-war with the Presbyterians.

Two base ball games were played, the first with the Baptists and Methodists lined up against each other. The former team won with a score of 21 to 18. They then attempted to hold their championship against the Presbyterians in another game but were only able to get one score, while the other team raked in 3.

Music by the city band was another big feature of the day. Several concerts were given and a very pleasing drill performed. The boys also serenaded the Father Rector at the Polish seminary. They added in a great measure to the pleasure of the crowd.

Several swings were put up and a jumping rope provided for the children's entertainment. A number of people also enjoyed a launch ride around Pine Lake.

Everything went off without a hitch or halt, and the various committees deserve a great deal of credit for the successful way in which things were handled.

As to the picnic dinner, every one ate enough goodies to kill himself (or herself) and had plenty left. The diners ate in various groups, in any spot they chose to occupy.

The return trip was somewhat marred by the storm which blew a large tree across the track, breaking down the wires near F. R. Beal's farm residence. A period of two hours was necessary in which to remove the tree and repair the wires, though a goodly share of the picnickers walked in, while others were taken home in automobiles. The remaining people arrived in town soon after nine o'clock.

As to finances, there was 40 cents left after all expenses had been paid.

GIRLS PLAYED GOOD GAME BALL

THE LOCAL TEAM WON OUT IN THE BLOOMER CONTEST.

As Large a Crowd As Was Seen Here on July 4.

The crowd which gathered at Athletic park Monday afternoon to see the Bloomer girls of Boston play ball, was nearly as large as that of the Fourth of July, and they all got their money's worth. Those girls could certainly play ball, especially the first and third base women. Any number of good, clean hits were made by the ladies while they showed equal talent in "putting the ball in the groove."

The girl on first base was some rooter too, and she had the Northville ball boys and the grandstand going all the time. Her name was 'Carrie Nation,' and she was a regular village cut up.

Our boys stood up well under the continued assault, both vocal and athletic, of the Bloomer girls and made a nice showing in deportment as well as in playing. They held the opposing team down to 6 to 10 scores.

It was really a good game of ball as well as being a novelty in the entertainment life. Dr. Turner is to be congratulated on furnishing such entertainment for Northville people and for making such a success financially.

The Way To Save Money

SAVE money by avoiding binder troubles. Cheap twine causes extra labor through marks, breaks and knots, besides delays and breakdowns that are expensive in rush season. Avoid them by using reliable twine.

PLYMOUTH Binder Twine

saves in labor, alone, the difference in price. It is famous for its smooth, even quality. Ties properly. Runs freely to the last of the ball. Prevents delays and extra re-tying work. For proof, ask the men who use it. The Standard Wheat tag on the ball guarantees the best in Binder Twine. Stop in and ask about it. We can show you how to save money on your twine.

MANY KILLED AND HURT IN WRECK

TRAINS COLLIDE AS RESULT OF BOYS' PULLING WHISTLE CORD.

OVER TWO HUNDRED PASSENGERS INJURED.

Electric Train Near Los Angeles Crashes Full Speed Into Cars Ahead Telescoping Two and Wrecking Another.

To meddling youths who played with the train whistle is attributed the loss of 12 lives and the injury of some 200 persons near Los Angeles, when two Pacific electric trains collided, telescoping two cars and wrecking another at Vineyard station near the city limits. Many of the injured will die.

Three trains loaded with excursionists to the beach at Venice, 16 miles from Los Angeles, had stopped at a curve, where a switch is turned. The last train began moving forward while the two foremost trains remained at a standstill.

Carol Bartholomew, conductor of the last car of the center train, jumped to the track with his light to flag the approaching train. Some youths, passengers say, pulled the whistle in jest. This, it was said by railroad men, was interpreted by the motorman of the oncoming train as the signal to go ahead.

With a crash of breaking glass, splintering timbers and the cries of passengers, the motor car of the last train drove into the rear of the center train. The motorman of the moving train had given full speed. A curve had prevented his seeing the standing cars.

Stores Burn at Pinconning

Fire which started in the millinery store of Mrs. Frank Johnson, in Pinconning, destroyed her combined store and dwelling and all the contents and spread to the barber shop of George Dermer and the dwelling, and every store of Mrs. Henry Stevens destroyed both places.

Mrs. Johnson's loss is estimated at $2,500, Dermer's at $1,000 and Mrs. Stevens' at $500. All the losses are covered by insurance.

May Sell Company at Auction

A decree of foreclosure was entered in the United States court in the case of the Red Lake Land Co. of Philadelphia against the Michigan Lake Superior Power Co. of Sault Ste. Marie, which calls for payment on the part of the power company of $1,250,000 in default of payment the property will be sold at public auction.

The trust company was appointed trustee ten years ago, and since that time the power company has made no payment. The court also ordered the power company to pay interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from May 1, 1911, and costs.

Court Decides Against Road

Judges of the Erie Marquette railroad to keep from the W. R. Roach Co. of Flint a copy of an agreement which the road claims it made with the company, and which apparently renders the railroad immune from paying damages in the event that a spark from one of its locomotives sets fire to the company's warehouses, were frustrated when the supreme court affirmed Circuit Judge Sullivan's decision that the railroad must produce the agreement.

The matter came up in a suit for $10,000 damages which the Roach company brought against the railroad.

Upholds the Becker Trial

Charles Becker's application for a new trial in the case of slaying the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, was denied by Judge J. C. Coffey, U. S. District Court, New York. Coffey had sought to reopen the case on the ground of newly discovered evidence.

Justice Goff, who was the trial judge in the Becker case, and in the case of the four gamblers also convicted, told that the former police lieutenant had had a fair trial before him and denied the plea. If relief comes to Becker now it must be through the higher courts. For months he has been in the death house at Sing Sing.

Traveling men have decided to walk in Ann Arbor. The local organization which has a membership of about 50, has taken action to boycott local taxi and cab drivers. Alleged exorbitant prices is given as the reason.

Returns of a referendum among miners of Houghton county show a majority of 1,000 miners voted to strike if the companies do not grant a minimum wage of $3 a day, shorter hours and better working conditions.

The Michigan State Holiness Camp Meeting association, which will open its twenty-eighth annual 10 days meeting July 24, has obtained, in addition to its other speakers and evangelists, workers, Rev. W. H. Huff, of Sioux City, Ia., evangelist, and Rev. J. H. Hodge, the Wichita, Kas., evangelist, and temperance orator.

JOSEPHUS DANIELS

Secretary of the Navy, reports to Congress that a government armor plate factory would save fully a million dollars a year. An investigation will be made.

TO PREVENT FUTURE STRIKES

Contractors and Unions in Chicago Sign an Agreement for Arbitrating Difficulties

A permanent remedy for strikes in the building trades, which frequently have tied up important construction work in Chicago is seen by an unusual agreement being drawn up by employers and workers, and which was signed this week. It will be a violation of this agreement for the union men to call a strike or the employers to declare a lockout without first conferring with a joint arbitration committee. The unions and employers will sign large bonds which will be forfeited if they do not live up to the contract.

The lockout of 28,000 construction workers, which has been in force for a month delaying the completion of $20,000,000 improvements has been called off. The men will return to work.

Strike Plots in Kentucky

An attempt to ruin street cars in Lexington resulted in several arrests in which many strike leaders were named. Some of them probably actually started the strike from the barns in which they hid themselves, and called to the deputy sheriffs, who arrested them, and the sheriff, who burned the cars, to demand the release of the strike leaders. In the case of the Lexington street cars, which were being run by union men, the police were aiding with the strikers and made but few arrests. Governor McCreary has been asked to send the troops to Lexington.

Congregation Visits Other Church

We have been preaching Christianity upon for years. It is that we were taking some practical steps toward cultivating the spirit of union," declared Judge H. C. Barnett in the Tabernacle Christian church at Dayton, and he then proposed that the congregation go across the street to the Presbyterian church and worship, as an evidence of good will and Christian brotherhood. All the 250 members of the congregation fell in with the plan, and headed by the pastor, Rev. William I. Wright crossed to the other church. They were given a hearty welcome.

Henry Wants New Inquiry

In a resolution offered by Rep. Henry, of Paris, the house was urged to renew the investigation of the railroad trust through the appointment of a special committee of 11 members of the house banking and currency committee. Under the Henry resolution, this committee would have all the constitutional powers conferred on the old committee and, in addition, it would have the right to examine into the affairs of the national banks.

James Ricard, a farmer near Seneca, was struck by a coal train or a Wabash and fatally injured. His team was killed.

George Patten Savidge, 41, son of the late Hunter Savidge, wealthy pioneer lumberman, of Spring Lake, died in a Chicago sanitarium, where he had been for four years.

Two Michigan Central passenger trains crashed head on in the Orion yards causing a slight panic among the passengers of one of the trains. The other train carried no passengers and was attempting to make a switch. The engines of both trains were badly damaged.

Charles McDermott, 48, a Spanish war veteran and an inmate of the Michigan Soldiers' home, at Grand Rapids, was drowned in Grand river. A flat bottomed sailboat capsized and McDermott sank in sight of hundreds of pleasure seekers.

The business men of Olive have asked the state railroad commission to intercede for them in their trouble with the Michigan State Telephone company. They allege, the company was charging local subscribers more than those in Bellevue.

HAD PREMONITION OF DEATH

New Jersey Man's Fear of Coming Disaster Laughed at by Comrades, but It Was Verified.

John Hueselmans, superintendent of a lumber yard in Harrison, N. J., started home, after a day of intense worry through fear of impending disaster. His premonition caused several of the workmen to deride him. John Bissell of Newark led in the scoffing.

As Hueselmans was passing a 40-foot-high pile of heavy timbers Bissell, who was at work on top, uttered a warning cry and leaped to the ground. As he did so the great bulk of lumber swayed and toppled over. Hueselmans was buried beneath the mass and was instantly killed. Bissell, by his leap, avoided the crumbling pile and landed just beyond the timbers. The fall, however, resulted in his receiving numerous fractures and he was removed in a critical condition to St. Michael's hospital.

A crowded trolley car was passing the lumber yard at the time. The passengers, many of them workmen on their way home, rushed to the spot and began moving the timbers. It was half an hour before Hueselmans' mangled body was extricated.

Woman's Way.

"John," she said, "I have an awful pain in my right side. I'm afraid it's appendicitis."

"Are you?" he replied, without looking up from his paper.

"John," she waited a moment later. "It's getting worse."

"Is it?" he asked, still interested in the sporting page.

"John," she demanded, "why don't you worry?"

"I am worrying darn it! That's the way with you women! It doesn't make any difference how hard a man worries, you're never satisfied unless he makes a noise about it."

Tongue-Tied.

"Money talks," "I know, but my husband has an impediment in his income."

A man should be a credit to himself but he wants a little cash thrown in.

When Ex-President Taft Was Married.

It was formerly a pleasant custom of society reporters to indulge in predictions as to the glorious future of the happy pair. A journalistic prophet of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, in writing of the wedding of Miss Helen L. Herron, daughter of John W. Herron to William Howard Taft, which occurred twenty-seven years ago, had this to say:

"William H. Taft is one of the young men of the city who may be depended upon in public affairs. He is one of the highest standing of the graduates of Yale, and his original powers, perfect integrity and courage and correct instincts, as well as thorough information, have made him useful, won for him the friendships and esteem of most complimentary, and opened for him a career that has the highest promise of great distinction."

Her Lucky Day.

"Frances is only a little girl, but she has a quick mind and the gift of language that sometimes distinguishes children who associate much with their elders. The other day Frances came home to her mother with cheeks like roses and eyes like stars."

"Oh, mamma," she exclaimed, happily, "I've had the best luck this morning! I got downtown just at the psychological moment!"

Did you, dear?" was mother's pleased inquiry. "And what happened?"

Said Frances, solemnly: "I saw a parade."

Horrible Thought.

Senator Borah of Idaho tells this story of how a psychologist and medical professor was received in a small town in his state.

The professor was talking to a young society lad about the possibilities of the journeyings of one's soul. "Why, my dear young lady," he declared, "it is possible for you in your sleep to travel to other planets in the middle of the night."

"Oh, professor," she cried in evident alarm. "Not in my nightgown!"

Many a splinter realizes that girls are wise who marry while yet in their teens.

Introduction Needed.

"Housekeeping," said a pessimistic New York bachelor, "will soon be a lost art—in this town, at any rate."

"What makes you think that?" asked a woman friend.

"Do you know what eggplant looks like before it is cooked?" was his apparently irrelevant reply.

"No-no," the woman replied, "I don't believe I do."

"Right there," said the bachelor, "you have an answer to your own question. If you were the only woman who didn't know raw eggplant when you saw it, or if eggplant was the only raw vegetable you were not acquainted with, I would have no grounds for the assertion; but I have it on the authority of restaurant proprietors and marketmen that half the women who eat all their meals, out could not call eggplant, salsify, parsnips, kohlrabi, and most of the turnip family by name if they met them face to face. Is that true?"

"I am afraid it is," the woman acknowledged. "But most men wouldn't recognize them, either."

"Oh," said the bachelor, "that's different. We are not supposed to be up in such things."

Sensitive "Jeems."

The Nurnches were very proud of the English butler they brought back with them, and so, you may suppose, they were not a little annoyed when, at the end of a month, he gave them notice.

"What's the matter, Parker? You have been here such a short time?"

"Yessir. But you see when you engaged me, I thought you was sparrowgrass and champagne people; but when I found out that you eats cabbage, carrots and such like common vegetables, and drinks beer, I see, sirs, I this here ain't no place for a sensitive person like me. So I must leave you. I can't breathe a beer atmosphere."

We know a persistent salesman who wonders if it would be worth while to show St. Peter the latest card index system.

Some men are kept so busy maintaining their dignity that they never have time to do anything else.

Summer Hats of Shavings.

Many of the handsomest summer hats worn by women all over the country are made of shavings.

It seems that Japan is a thriving center for this shaving industry and wooden ribbon of this sort appears in various forms, some presenting a satiny finish and others resembling silk and crepes.

About twenty per cent is sent here in the shape of wooden ribbons, while the rest is worked up into the familiar "chip braid."

Some years Japan sends $1,000,000 of this material into this country. It appears that the American women like the product better than European, for the United States is her largest customer. The material is easily dyed and is so thin and flexible that exquisite effects can be produced.

Tired of Bossing.

When Mary went home to Ireland for a visit to the old farm, after a four years' course in general housework in America, she found a new baby brother. "And he was that spoiled you couldn't live in the same house with him," recounted Mary to her old mistress. "Such a raisin" as he had had! "I told me mother 'twas different altogether from the bringin' up of us older children. 'Twas do this, an' we done it—or got a whippin'. But with the little wan now—if she says to him 'do this,' he says, 'No, I don't want to, an' never a badge does he make. But my mother was not set back by my scoldin'. She just said, 'Oh, well, wait until you've lived as long and as much as I have, and you will get tired of bossin', too.'"

Richness Personified.

"Key—Fader, vo?" means a "placocrat?"

Fader—One of dem fellers dot's so rich he needn't to fust any more.—Puck.

Natural.

"As soon as I approach a backer for my enterprise he flies from me." "Well, don't you think it the natural thing for an 'angel' to fly?"

Our friends are generally willing to take our part, and theirs, too.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., JULY 18, '13

Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan says he cannot live on his paltry salary of $12,000 per year, and in consequence has gone on a lecture tour. Mr. Bryan must have acquired some rather expensive tastes since moving to Washington. Most of us could do real well on a thousand a month.

All the while the big daily newspapers have been claiming that they had been influencing all the legislation that was being passed and rejected at Washington. And now McCall says he did it.

The man who cannot keep a 2x4 lawn in decent shape is usually quite sure he could manage successfully a half-section farm.

Evidently not all Bloomer Girls wear 'em.

Fingers and the Calendar.

No doubt most people remember the number of days in any particular month by recalling the rhymes they learned at school. Another method is practiced in Iceland, and it is so simple and ingenious as to be worth knowing. Shut the fist and let the knuckle of the forefinger represent January with its thirty-one days, and the depression between that and the next knuckle will represent February with its lesser number of days. And thus every month that corresponds to a knuckle will be found to contain thirty-one days; and every month that corresponds to a depression a less number of days. The little finger will represent July, and beginning again with the forefinger knuckle it stands for August, and from this one continues to count through the months of the year.—Harper's Weekly

Directing Children Aright.

The young need to be taught that although there is sometimes a pleasure of the senses in committing sin, it is inevitably followed by remorse and punishment. Crime, remorse, punishment form an inseparable trio. On the other hand while it is often hard to do right, the sense of satisfaction, self-respect and self-control that follows right action is worth all the effort made.

So They Danced After All.

At the conference of orthodox rabbis held in London last March, a resolution was adopted discouraging dancing on the ground that "the practice of dancing—men with women—is contrary to good morals."—New York Tribune

Horses and Music.

The Swiss horse is apparently a very musical animal—or not, according to the hearer's ear. Strings of bells are hung round their necks, producing a musical jangle at every step. Some of the horses with the most bells, I noticed, were the thinnest; apparently they went without food to buy bells. A horse like that ought to be restrained.

"Improved" Bull Fight.

A bull fight in Tokio is quite as much excuse for a gala day as a full fight in Madrid. Business men leave their offices, and women and children their homes, to hurry to the arena. Stripped of all the less exciting, or less horrible, preliminaries which characterize the Spanish bull fight, the animals are brought in and sent at each other at once. So the battle is shorter, and two or three more fights will follow in quick succession during the course of an afternoon's entertainment.

Miss Laura Bristol has resigned as chief operator in the telephone office here. According to late advices, if your dentist advertises "teeth extracted without pain," he must make good and not permit the least little twinge of the nerve or you can send the sheriff after him and take him into court. After the license is revoked it is a misdemeanor if he pulls a tooth, with or without pain.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

In your edition of the 12th inst. I note an item reflecting on the business end of this year's celebration of the glorious "Fourth." I had supposed that the directors of the Northville Driving association were all "business men," interested in Northville and Northville's welfare. Now the blame of a failure must rest on someone.

The hotels come in for their share in being unable or unwilling to feed the people. "Nothing to eat nor nothing to drink," was the slogan in Northville on this day, hence the exodus to other towns, especially Wayne, which took in over $5,000 on that day and cleared nearly $1,800 above expenses.

No business man decorated; no inducements were offered up town; the race track gave the only attraction.

Now who is responsible for this? The chronic kicker. He may be a mounted man, made honestly or dishonestly; he may be a disappointed office seeker; he may be a "female suffragist" or a rabid socialist; he may be a church member or an A. P. A., but I will stand sponsor for this statement. He will find fault with the old soldier's pliance of a pension; the payment of decent salaries to our teachers; the improvement of our streets; the band; the factories that distribute nearly $100,000 monthly; the King's daughters, the fraternal associations; the driving club; all because these attractions increase his taxes above what they were in 1867. His soul is so narrowed and his mind so warped that he will be dissatisfied with the music in heaven. What's the remedy? Pull together. Weed out these eccentrics. "Advertise and stand by it. Patronize your home industries and spend your money at home thereby increasing Northville's business, and offering inducements to outsiders."

(Signed) THOMAS B. HENRY.

HOW DID IT HAPPEN?

If it had not happened that Wm. Thompson, who lives in the C. C. Yerkes tenant house, took it upon himself to deliver milk to a customer who lives just across the D. U. R. track, on Wednesday night, and had he not happened to see that the storm had blown a tree across the trolley wires in such a way that it would not be likely to be seen by a motorman, and had he not happened to think that it was just time for the regular car to come along, and started up to meet and stop it, and the five special cars of picknickers behind it; and had it not all happened, just as it did happen, what a different lot of happenings we might have had to tell about today.

Eggnog for Invalids.

Separate the yolk from the white of an egg, beat the yolk thoroughly and then beat the white to a froth, add a heaping teaspoonful of sugar, a trifle of salt. Stir these into the yolk and then add the white. Add enough milk to fill the glass and stir. Add either one or one-half spoonful of sherry. The salt offsets the flavor of the egg.

BLOW IN THE DARK

How Strange Trick of Fortune
Offered Avenue of Escape for Murderer.

By JOHN R. ADAMS.

Mrs. Edith Durham bowed slightly to the gentleman who took his seat beside her at her table aboard the transatlantic steamship. The card upon his plate read "Mr. Durham," and evidently the steward had mistaken him for her husband. She smiled a little at this, because her husband was not accompanying her to New York. They had purchased tickets, but an unforeseen accident had prevented him from accompanying her. Her interest in the stranger who so calmly usurped John Durham's seat was therefore awakened.

Their conversation was of the usual polite, fragmentary order common to ocean travelers at their first meal. The second meal, next morning, found them almost alone at the table, for a stiff gale had kept the others below. This time they discovered mutual friends and interests in London.

They paced the deck together, and it was in the late afternoon when Edith Durham turned suddenly upon her companion.

"Does it strike you as ordinary," she asked, "that you have not told me your name?"

"My name?" inquired the man, taken aback. "My name is—James Richmond."

"I asked," said the woman coldly, "because I fancy most people in the first cabin believe that you are my husband. And," she continued, "it seems to me that you have done nothing to dispel that belief. You have not only taken Mr. Durham's seat, but you have kept at my side in an ostentatious manner."

"Mr. Durham is not aboard this ship," replied the other quietly.

"And pray how do you know that?" she demanded.

Richmond looked at her keenly. Despite the severity of her tones there language that no woman should even know. And at last he took her by the shoulder and struck her across the mouth.

"You know how one acts in such emergencies, without thinking. Something seemed to snap inside my brain. I sprang from my seat and drove my fist into his face. He fell back, striking a lamp-post with his head, quivered a moment, and lay still. When I raised him I could see at once that he was dead."

"The woman stood like a stone. She said nothing, because there was nothing to say. I knew that she was glad; the insult had merited no other penalty. And I was glad that I had set her free. But I was a murderer, and the English law knows no mercy."

"I took the first train for Southampton and bought a ticket for America. I booked as James Richmond; my real name is Carlyle. I found, by inquiry, that you were traveling alone, though your husband's name was down upon the list. That was after the steward had placed me at your side, taking me for him. I should not have tried such a trick, even to escape death, had not fortune seemed to offer this avenue of escape to me."

He looked up for the first time. "If you will let me keep your husband's name," he said, "it will not harm or compromise you in any way. And I can land; otherwise I shall be arrested in New York. As I said, life is sweet, but I have a stronger reason. I have a sister to support, and if I die or suffer life imprisonment she will starve."

Edith Durham placed her hand lightly on his.

"I will do as you ask," she said, in a voice trembling with emotion, "because of your sister's sake, and yours—and also for the sake of that unknown woman whom you so chivalrously defended, because—because I think she must be glad." She shuddered. "My own marriage has been unhappy," she said. "Do not believe that a woman loves and clings to a brutal husband."

He carried Edith Durham's suitcase down the gangway at New York unmolested. He had stood by her side in the saloon, answering the questions of the immigration officer, well aware that the quiet, shrewd-eyed man who sat beside him was a detective from the police department. He had seen the man's gaze light on him inquiringly, and had seen the detective whisper to the immigration official and he had returned the glance smilingly, because he knew that the loyalty of the woman beside him would carry him through all dangers. And now they were upon the street, with every danger past.

He helped Mrs. Durham into her taxicab and placed her suitcase at her side. He took his hat.

"I thank you for my sister's sake," he said. "We shall not meet again. I shall go west and you will return to England."

"I shall never go back to England," she said with sudden vehemence.

He felt that she had something of import to add. He waited. Suddenly she bent toward him.

"Don't you know me?" she asked, with a half sob. "That man was—my husband."

AS THE "BEST FAMILIES" DO

Father in Prison, Mother a Suffragette, Sister a Futurist and Brother Divorced.

He had just returned from a journey around the world. He knew that the beautiful girl he had left behind him a year before was waiting for him. It was, therefore, with the most ecstatic feeling of joy that upon his arrival he presented himself at her house.

After the first bewildering and glad-some greeting they sat on the sofa together. He was about to kiss her, when she said:

"One moment, darling. Since you have been away, father, who, as you know, is a banker, has been convicted by the money probers and is now in jail."

"I had heard nothing about it," "Mother has turned suffragette, and yesterday, while trying to break into congress, was locked up."

"Indeed?" "Sister has become a futurist, and is doing the decorations for the Bloomingdale insane asylum."

"How interesting, but—"

"Brother got his divorce yesterday and has gone into temporary bankruptcy in order to get out of paying his alimony. Now you may kiss me."

He folded her reproachfully in his arms. "It seems a pity, dear," he said, as he imprinted upon her ruby lips the impassioned emblem of a long deferred love, "that you should delay this joy just to tell me the ordinary things that are likely at any time to happen to any New York family in good standing."

Life.

Spiders Dam Against Flood. Scientists recently were entertained by a distinguished traveler with an account of a spider living in Australia which makes its habitation along the seashore in the crevices of the rocks, between high and low water marks.

But when the tide is in their homes are covered with water. Instead of deserting them, however, the spiders solve the difficulty by means of closely woven sheets of silk, which they stretch over the entrances, behind which they manage to retain sufficient air to keep them alive during the time they remain submerged.

Do not think it wasted time to submit yourself to any influence which may bring upon you any noble feeling.
