SATURDAY NIGHT IN NORTHVILLE

LAST SATURDAY NIGHT.

For the first time this season the usual Saturday night amusements were not carried out owing to the stormy condition of the weather. The local band boys were on hand with a fine selected program, but after a couple of well played pieces, they were driven to shelter by nature's rain drops.

The postponed sports scheduled will be carried out Saturday evening, August 30th, as other arrangements had already been made for this Saturday evening's entertainment. Also on the evening of August 30th a few of our business men have arranged to give cash prizes for the best picturesque automobile driven into town by owners living outside the village corporation, the automobiles to be decorated only with produce and flowers of the farms with a possible sprinkling of small U. S. flags. First prize, $3.00 cash; 2nd prize, $2.00; 3rd, prize, $1.00. All others honorable mention, with the town's hearty welcome. Come on friends, here is a chance with little effort to advertise your farm business and a possibility of getting some extra gasoline and repair money for your trouble.

THIS SATURDAY NIGHT.

For this Saturday evening's amusement, manager M. A. Porter, of our local band, has arranged for some real Southern "entertainment" with a traveling name of "Lewis, Adams and Scott, Cotton Shouters." Obas, Lewis, Violinist, and Mocking Bird performer; J. W. Scott, Buck and Wagon Dancer and Tambourine Specialist; D. B. Adams, Old Time Cotton Songs. The trio come highly recommended and ought to make a hit out of the ordinary. This Saturday evening will also be "Tag Night" with and for the benefit of the band boys, the proceeds to be used for the purchase of more band music and other supplies, which are necessary. Contributions will be voluntary, but it is hoped the public in general will have a liberal and lowering feeling when the band concert and entertainment get under way.

Dancing in the rink in the evening under the management of Mr. Floyd Shuster. Come on to town, get in with the gangsters, enjoy and partake of the fun and concerts.

In addition to the above program, a photographer will be on hand to take a flash light picture of the Saturday night crowds.

FREIGHT CARS CRASH.

Fifteen cars and a locomotive were derailed and demolished when an east bound P. M. freight crashed into the rear end of another freight which stood on the main track between this place and Plymouth early Sunday morning. The cars were strewn across the track extending down over the high embankment. Ice, tobacco and buggies covered the ground for some distance. The crew jumped, saving their lives.

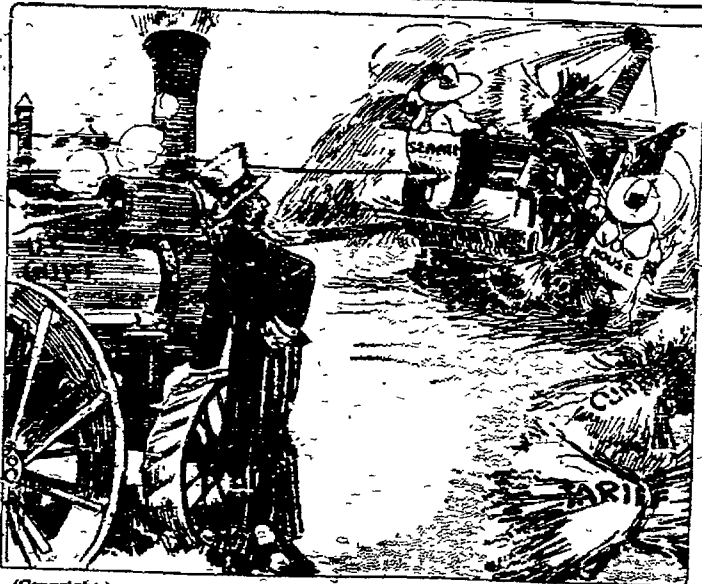

Two wrecking trains were necessary to remove the debris, one coming from Saginaw and the other from Detroit. Traffic on the railroad was delayed for some time, the cranes of one of the wreckers breaking while pulling up the cars. The heavy, new rails, which had only recently been laid, were twisted and broken beyond all hopes of repair.

Large crowds of people were at the scene of the wreck all day Sunday and Monday.

Early Wednesday morning another freight wreck occurred in the Plymouth P. M. yards which resulted in the killing of many hogs and sheep. However, George Kramer, miraculously escaped instant death, crawling to safety with only a few slight burns on his legs and feet.

Not Altogether a Hero.
After rescuing a boy from a pond at Zurich, Switzerland, recently, a peculiar reason for going so was given by another boy, ten years old, Hans Weber. "I should never have troubled about him, if he had not been wearing my slippers," was the laconic protest of the boy, who complimented on the rescue, at the risk of his life, of the boy, who had fallen through the ice.

THRESHING IT OUT

SOUTH LYON HOME-COMING A GREAT SUCCESS.

The home-coming celebration at South Lyon last week, it was estimated, was attended by more than 15,000 people. Thursday afternoon a ball game was played between South Lyon and Whitmore Lake, the former winning by a score of 7 to 0. The evening was given over to addresses and band concert.

The home-coming crossed bats with the South-Lyon ball team Friday morning, the latter team carrying off the honors. In the afternoon the Howell and Northville teams played as good a game as was ever played in South Lyon. The score was 5 to 4, with this city's team victorious. A balloon ascension and thrilling parachute drop was another one of the afternoon attractions. An excellent concert was given by the Brighton band on the church lawn, which was lighted up with electric lights. The festivities of the two days wound up with a good old-fashioned dance in the Macabean hall, with resident citizens and home-comingers taking part in the fun.

KATHARINE FULLER DIED TUESDAY

HAD BEEN A GREAT BUFFER MORE THAN TWO YEARS.

After many months of suffering and longing to go, Mrs. Katharine Fuller passed away early Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Harmon.

The funeral services were held from the Harmon residence, Thursday morning. Rev. R. M. Pierce offering the last words of sympathy to the sorrowing friends. Burial in Novi cemetery.

Katharine Tyler was born in North Bloomfield, Ontario, County, N. Y., in May, 1830, and was married to David Fuller in 1848. Five children, one boy, who died in infancy, and four girls were given to her.

With her family, she came to Michigan nearly fifty years ago, locating in the township of Novi, where she lived until failing health made it necessary for her to make her home elsewhere.

Two daughters, Mrs. Andrew Harmon of this place and Mrs. Gilbert Madison of Wixom, with several grandchildren, mourn her loss, the husband and two daughters, Mrs. Lyman Perrigo and Mrs. John Wait, dying several years ago. She united with the church at the age of fifteen. A quiet, unassuming woman, her influence was ever for the right; and those who knew her best, knew of her lovely character and that Christ had been with her all the way.

SENATOR TOWNSEND PROTECTS TARIFF BILL

SAYS RECIPROCITY WITH CAN- ADA MORE EXTENSIVE THAN TAFT MEASURE.

Believes It Will Be Menace to American Farmer and Manufacturer.

We give below an interesting portion of Senator Townsend's great speech delivered a week or so ago in the United States senate on the Wilson tariff bill now pending before that body.

"There is a proposition to give to Canada all and more than was of force under the reciprocity act with out asking anything in return, and the same privilege is extended to every nation on earth where cost of production and conditions of living are greatly below those maintaining in the United States."

"No tariff bill was ever presented to Congress so unfriendly destructive against the northern and western farmer. If the farmer is asked reciprocity, what will he say to this measure which sacrifices everything and obtains nothing?"

"I have the honor to represent in part one of the greatest states in the Union of great states. Her agriculture, manufacturing, mining and lumbering interests are of mighty importance not only to her people but to the people of the whole country. In patriotism and love of country she is unsurpassed by any other. She sent more than her full quota of her best citizens to help preserve the Union. More than were needed of her loyal sons presided themselves at McKinley's call for men to maintain the Nation's honor in the war with Spain. She is ready at all times, as she has been in the past, to do everything which becomes a liberty-loving patriotic commonwealth to contribute to the stability and greatness of the United States. She asks no favors which she is not willing to accord to every other state; but she insists that this country, with all of its resources and possibilities which have been bestowed by a bountiful Providence upon her shall be held and developed primarily by and for the American people. She believes in benefiting the world, but that such benefit shall be given not by lowering American standards to that of the lowest competitor, but through such a beneficent administration of national affairs as will attract to the eyes of all nations, who will here see and emulate the glorious possibilities of a government not only of and by, but for its own people. She would not equalize world conditions by degrading our people to a lower level, but through example would inspire others to raise themselves. As a humble representative of such a state I protest against the enactment into law of a bill framed by prejudice, framed in darkness, and with no possibilities for good to any American except the importer who sells foreign-made goods and the retired capitalist, who ought to take his own money and go to some other part of the world to spend it. This government should be stronger than any other in the world for the protection of its people."

than in the chances for simply existing.

"I can see no good that will come to the American people by the enactment of this bill into law. It contains some things which I would be willing to support if I could vote upon them divorced from their canons-forged bonds to other provisions which I regard as dangerous not only to our revenues but to our prosperity. I shall support such amendments as are offered which, in my judgment, will improve the measure. If every Senator would vote his honest convictions, we would be able to remedy some of its glaring defects; but believing as I do, that the measure as a whole is wrongly based and inimical to the progress, prosperity and happiness of my countrymen, I shall vote against it on its final passage, and I am now ready to perform that duty."

WHAT OUTSIDERS SAY.

The following conversation between two strangers was overheard Tuesday evening by the Record reporter, while a crowd of people left the Alseum theatre after the first show, making room for others lined up out front.

First stranger to second. "Good show, wasn't it?"
Second: "Pretty fair."
First: "Fair? Why that's a better show than any 10c moving picture show in Detroit. Fair? Look at that crowd of people waiting out here in front for the second show. I tell you what, this theatre is a regular money corner—and it's worth it, too."

All of which credit the Alseum management deserved—and then some.

THE EFFECT OF GOOD ROADS.

The direct effect that changing bad roads into good roads has upon land value and the general economic welfare of a community is shown in several concrete illustrations gathered by the United States department of agriculture. The department has just issued a statement on the subject, based upon a mass of information gathered by the office of public roads, which is making a special study of the economic effect of road improvement in this country. According to data gathered, where good roads replace bad ones, the values of farm lands bordering on the roads increase to such an extent that the cost of road improvement is equalized, if not exceeded. The general land values, as well as farm values, showed marked advances, following the improvement of roads. Among the illustrations cited by the department are the following:

In Lee county, Virginia, a farmer owned 100 acres between Ben Hur and Jonesville, which he offered to sell for $1,800. In 1908 this road was improved, and, although the farmer fought the improvement, he has since refused $3,000 for his farm. Along this same road a tract of 188 acres was supposed to have been sold for $6,000. The purchaser refused the contract, however, and the owner threatened to sue him. After the road improvement, and without any improvement upon the land, the same farm was sold to the original purchaser for $9,000.

In Jackson county, Alabama, the people voted a bond issue of $250,000 for road improvement and improved 24 per cent of the roads. The value of 1900 given the value of all farm land in Jackson county at $490 per acre. The selling value at that time was $6 to $10 per acre. The value of 1910 placed the value of all farm lands in Jackson county at $175 per acre, and the selling price is now $11 to $15 per acre. Actual figures of increased value following road improvement are shown.

As the roads in no way effect soil fertility or quality of the farm, the values are due, essentially to the decrease in the cost of hauling produce to market or shipping point. Farms are now regarded as plants for the business of farming, and any reduction in their profits through unnecessarily heavy costs for hauling on bad roads naturally reduces their capitalization in values. With reduced costs for hauling, profits are increased; with the result that the farm plant shows satisfactory earnings on a higher capital value.

The automobile also has begun to be an important factor in increasing rural values where good roads are introduced.

Immigration is particularly marked where road conditions are favorable; in fact, the figures of the department seem to indicate that good roads indirectly increase the demand for rural property; and the price of farm land, like that of any commodity, is ruled by the relations between demand and supply.

In his fight against corrupt politicians, Governor Sulzer of New York has the sympathy of the best citizens of this as well as his home state. Whatever may be technically wrong with his personal affairs, his public life is beyond question and his whole effort has been to give the people of his own state an honest and clean administration. Here's hoping he wins out.

President Wilson did a creditable thing in refusing to recognize the Huerta government in Mexico. A throne or a capital obtained by murder and treachery, should never be recognized by any civilized government, and in that stand the President has the commendation of every decent citizen in the United States.

And it also takes a smart man to be as crazy as "The Wolf."

LIND AND HUERTA IN CONFERENCE

NO TRUTH TO STORY THAT ULTIMATUM HAD BEEN ISSUED BY MEXICO.

PRESIDENT IS REASSURED BY TELEGRAMS.

Special Envoy Says Reception By Provisional President Was "Cordial". Officials Are Hopeful of Pacific Settlement.

Charge O'Shaughnessy cabled Secretary Bryan from Mexico City that President Huerta, through Foreign Minister Gamboa, emphatically denied there was "any foundation whatever" for the statement that Huerta has issued an ultimatum to the United States, demanding recognition, with the alternative of handing Mr. O'Shaughnessy his passports.

A dispatch from John Lind informed President Wilson and Secretary Bryan that he had been in conference with Provisional President Huerta. He characterized his reception and conference with Huerta as "cordial."

The dispatch attributing the announcement of an ultimatum by Huerta to Minister Urrutia, of the department of the interior, stirred official circles at Washington deeply.

Secretary Bryan, an early riser, read the morning newspapers and hurried down to his office where he found the reassuring cable from Charge O'Shaughnessy and then hurried over to the White House to confer with President Wilson. While there the message came from Mr. Lind telling of the conference with Huerta.

Officials in Washington believe a pacific settlement of Mexican affairs is near.

Dynamite Explosion in Mexico.

An explosion on a gondola loaded with dynamite on the tracks of a street car company in a thickly settled portion of Tacubaya, a suburb of Mexico City, killed or injured more than 100 persons, chiefly women and children.

The disaster is said to have been caused by a car loaded with iron pipe crashing into the dynamite car.

For a radius of 500 feet the scene of the explosion not a house was left intact and not a vestige of many of the buildings remained.

P. M. Dock at Boardman Burned

The large coal dock of the Pure Marquette, at Boardman, was totally destroyed by fire which started from an explosion of a gasoline engine used in operating machinery. Engineer Charles Sutton was severely burned on the legs and arms. The 74-foot tower for the dock was also destroyed. The dock considered one of the most modern in the state, was built 12 years ago at a cost of $10,000. It will be rebuilt.

Aged Man Celebrates Birthday.

John M. Mullin, of this place, celebrated his one hundred and second birthday anniversary, being the guest of honor at a picnic in the grove for some time his birthday has been the occasion for quiet celebration on the part of the townspeople.

Mr. Mullin, who lives with his sister, Mrs. Lucretia Wilson, is exceptionally healthy and is a persistent angler being called the "aged fisherman of Barry country."

Foss Back in G. O. P.

Eugene N. Foss, three times elected governor of Massachusetts, as a democrat, and a candidate for the democratic nomination for the presidency last year, declared himself again a republican, but remained indefinite regarding his reported candidacy for the republican nomination for re-election.

John Rose, of Sturgis, has appealed to the police for protection from blackhanders from whom he says he has received a number of threatening letters.

Fearing electrocution when there was a sudden flash as wires crossed, Lester Johnson, a line-man, at Saginaw jumped 35 feet to the ground, escaping burns but sustaining a broken ankle.

A broken arm carried in splints did not prevent Miss Mildred Hyatt from plunging into the Huron river and rescuing little Marjorie Stark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Stark, of Ann Arbor from drowning.

Sister Mary Hilda, of the order of the Sisters of Mercy, who has been superior of the public schools in Bay City, an institution she helped to establish, has retired from its management. She has gone to the mother house in Big Rapids and Sister Mary Baptist succeeds her here.

According to reports filed by supervisors with the poor commissioners, there were seven townships in Kalamazoo county that did not have a poverty case to care for during the year.

Stanley, Steven Canan, 15, and her sister, Mary Canan, 60, were killed instantly when the buggy in which they were driving was hit by a D. H. R. interurban car at Romeo. The two women had been visiting during the day at the home of George Amos, north of Romeo, and were driving to their home at Washington.

The Stayer of Stanford White has again broken into the limelight by a sensational escape from the insane asylum at Matteawan.

THIRTY-TWO ARE DROWNED

Steamer Strikes Rock Off Coast of Alaska and Sinks Within Three Minutes.

Twenty-five passengers and seven seamen were lost when the steamer State of California of the Pacific Coast Co.'s fleet struck an uncharted rock and was wrecked in Gambier Bay, Alaska.

The steamer sank within three minutes after striking and many passengers were drowned before they could get out of their staterooms.

Dispatches from Juneau say that it is impossible to give the correct list of the missing, as the pursuer saved no records.

News of the wreck and the heavy loss of life did not reach Juneau until the steamship Jefferson arrived with some of the passengers and crew who had been rescued from the icy waters.

Among the dead are Mrs. Nellie B. Ward, wife of Edward C. Ward, assistant general manager of the company at Seattle, and their daughter, Miss Lillie Ward, who succumbed to exposure after her rescue.

The vessel was one of the oldest and best known on this coast and until recently plied between San Francisco and Portland. It was built in Philadelphia in 1879. About a year ago it was laid up in this port and underwent repairs costing about $100,000.

The vessel was of 1,250 net tonnage, 100 feet long, 33 feet beam, 24 feet deep.

The State of California was going at full speed when she struck the reef and a great portion of the ship's bottom was torn off, letting in a flood of water which quickly engulfed the heat.

Custer's Men at Ann Arbor

Three or four hundred survivors of Custer's brigade, comprising the First Fifth Sixth and Seventh regiments, are expected in Ann Arbor on September 3 and 4. A reunion headquarters for the veterans will be at the Alhambra hotel, and the camp fire and business sessions will be held in the basement of the Methodist church. Reunions of the various regiments will be held at 2 o'clock p. m. September 3, and the campfire of all the regiments will be held that evening. Tuesday night the veterans, with their wives and families, will be given a reception by the citizens of Ann Arbor. On Thursday morning the business meeting will be held.

May Shut Out Interurban.

The board of public works, of Saginaw, will rescind its action allowing the traction company to lay trolley tracks whereby the new Bay City interurban obtains entrance to the city, say board members. The board believed the company had a franchise when this privilege was granted, it is said. All agree the company has no right to bring the interurban line into the city without a franchise. They say they were "hoodwinked."

The building of a mile stretch of state road on the main trunk road east of Albion is to be carried out immediately, the county road commissioners promising to start their gang at work September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rufus Albion college graduates, have returned after five years in Korea as missionaries. They expect to return in a year. Mr. Rufus will study for a doctor's degree at the University of Michigan.

German will be taught in the eighth grade of the public schools in Ann Arbor, beginning in September. It is also planned to offer German in the lower grades as soon as the system can be arranged to fit the new requirements.

The state health special, which has been touring the western part of the lower peninsula, turned to the south and began the trip down to Bay City, Saginaw and Detroit. It is estimated that 20,000 people visited the train on the trip to the straits.

Melvin Powers, aged 16, was drowned while bathing at Narrow Lake, near Charlotte, with Henry Wells. Neither of the boys could swim. They were hanging to a rope fastened to the end of a rowboat, and were about to come ashore when the rope broke, letting Powers sink.

Tomorrow's Burden.

It has been well said that no man ever sank under the burden of the day. It is when tomorrow's burden is added to the burden of today that the weight is more than a man can bear. Never load yourselves so, my friends. If you find yourselves so loaded, at least remember this—it is your own doing, not God's. He begs you to leave the future to him, and mind the present.—G. Macdonald.

Little Hint.

A little girl came down to dessert at a dinner party and sat next to her mother. This lady was occupied in talking to her neighbors and omitted to give the child anything. After some time the little girl, unable to bear it any longer, with sobs rising in her throat, held up her plate and said: "Does anybody want a clean plate?"

Careful Customer.

"I'm afraid, madam, we have shown you all our stock, but we could procure more from our factory." "Well, perhaps you'd better. You see, I want something of a neater pattern and quite small—just a little square for my bird cage."—Punch.

Our Dangerous Streets.

During the year 1911, says the Scientific American, 532 persons were killed by automobiles in the streets of Greater New York. Incomplete records of the injuries taken from daily newspapers show 13,042 persons hurt by automobiles, 104 by street cars and 317 by wagons. In London, which in 1911 had a population of over 7,000,000, 410 persons were killed by vehicles; while in Paris, with a population of over 2,500,000, there were 236 deaths and 18,178 injuries, by all classes of conveyances.

NOT HARD TO MAKE A GUESS

Asylum Superintendent Does Not Reveal Name of Last Relative to Visit Lunatic, but We Know It.

The lunatics tore up and down the white beach; they howled and leaped in the blue sea, quite like sane people.

"They enjoy the summer outing at our shore branch," the superintendent said. "It does 'em good, poor dubs! It's a funny thing about a lunatic's relatives. There are reliable statistics about the way a lunatic's relatives stand by him."

The relative who stands by a lunatic least, who stops visiting him in the asylum first of all, is a brother. The next relative to drop off is a wife. That sounds hard, but it's true. Don't count on your wife if you are going to become a lunatic. Next, husbands drop off. A little truer than wives husbands are, but only a little. Next fathers abandon the lunatic. Next sisters.

"One relative never abandons him till she dies, or he dies, she comes regularly on visiting day, bringing underwear and ties, cakes and tobacco—provided, of course, that the lunatic's a male. If it's a female, this relative is equally faithful. And even though, as sometimes happens, the poor, mad creature hates her, curses her, tries to strike her when she visits him, she still remains faithful. When her visits cease they cease for only one reason—death."

"Nor do I need to tell you which relative this one is."

NO POSSIBILITY OF DOUBT

Why Western Bishop Was Convinced of the Ancient Lineage of His Eastern Entertainers.

A western bishop once attended a general convention in the east and was entertained by a New England family of long and honorable, if not lovable, lineage. They made no secret of a time-worn superiority over any one from the new and crude west, and cited their Pilgrim ancestors constantly. The bishop was minded to bear this in Christian humility and forbearance, and did not put on his return home, he recounted his experiences to the wife, and she, good soul, spoke her mind as it is the privilege of her kind to do, even where mere man must be silent.

"I don't believe that their family is such an old one," she remarked. "Are you sure that their ancestors were Pilgrims?"

"I am certain, my dear," answered the bishop. "This may seem to be exaggeration, but at times you could positively detect the fragrance of the 'Mayflower.'" New York Evening Post.

Too Well.

"Why was that actress unsuccessful in the swooning scene?" "Because, strange to say she made quite a faint effort."

FUNDS FOR FIGHTING PLAQUE

State Legislatures in 1913 Made Generous Appropriations to Check the Spread of Tuberculosis.

Out of 41 state legislatures in session during the session of 1913, laws dealing with tuberculosis were enacted in 30 states, while in 24 states consideration was given to bills dealing with the prevention of this disease. This is a summary of the legislative campaign for 1913, issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis today.

Appropriations to the amount of over $5,000,000 have been set aside for the treatment and prevention of tuberculosis by the various state legislatures in session this year. Most of this money is for the maintenance of state sanatoria. There are at the present time 39 such institutions in 21 different states, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, each having more than one sanatorium. Delaware is the only state which has made provision for a state sanatorium for tuberculous negroes. In addition to the amounts appropriated by the various state governments, congress will be obliged to set aside nearly $1,000,000 for the maintenance of the United States public health, the army and the navy sanatoria, and the tuberculosis hospital of the District of Columbia.
