Determined Plaintiff Wins Breach of Promise Suit and Collects Damages -Evicts Kin from S.te of the Unlucky Love Match.

Hereford, Pa.—The final chapter of a romance was written in a form of score that has no type in fiction when Helen Jones bought the 11-acre farm tract or Engene F Baner at bankrugt saie here. Her object was to force the payment of $51, 52, a verdiet won egainst Bauer in a breach or promise su t

Miss Jones b.c. in the tract for $1,750, subject to a mortgage of $1,200 held by the foung man's, tetner, John S. Bauer, the town blacksmith, and to the $300 exemption allowed by law to the former owner, and subject to a dower of $827.50 in tayor of Carolina S. Kehs, widow of the" former owner, Daniel S Kehs.
Though the tract is located in the centre of the town, opposite the quaint old Hereford Hotel and almost adjoining the post office Cupid will have 'cause to doubt whether there was any compensation for him in the transaction. The soothing phase of the affair will be found in the fact that Bauer's bro her, Fernard, lives on the little farm and Miss Jones can force him to move

DEAR FRIENDS:-

- We want to just say a few words about Christmas Presents and we wants to say those few words before you get so busy with planning things, and making things, incidental to that occasion that you haven't time to listen to what anyone has to say.

Now honestly, can you right off hand think of more than two or three presents you ever received, excepting a piece of Furniture, that you now remember at all? That's generally the case. But if you ever received a piece of Furniture, no matter whether it was a Rocker, Dining Table, Bedstead, a Mirror, Kitchen Cabinet or a Dresser, it is still somewhere in the house and many times each year it brings to you pleasant thoughts of the giver.

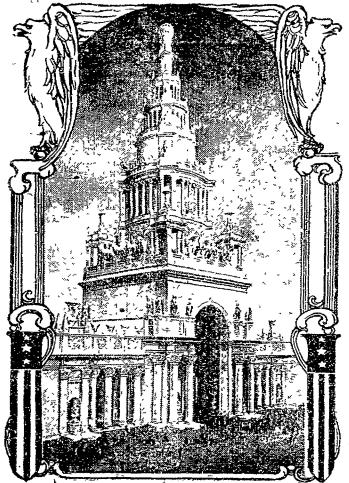

The Furniture business of course is our hobby. We know we have a Big Line—No one has a better one—and for Reliable Goods Our Prices ARE LOWER than that of any city dealer, and when it comes to selections for Christmas Gifts we have just about everything you can think of-that will delight everyone in the family--whether it is Baby, Sister, Brother, Wife, Husband, Father, Mother, or Sweetheart We want you to know it.

A MARVELOUS SETTING FOR SCULPTURE AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, SAN FRANCISCO, 1915.

The dominating architectural feature of the Exposition is the superb Tower of Jewels which will command the south entrance of the Court of the Sun and Stars. This tower, 430 feet in height will have a base one acre in extent. The tower will rise upward in terraces, giving way at last to 1 group of figures supporting a globe typifying the world. The repeated figures of armored horsemen and of explorers of the oceans will be used in the tower, which, with its statuary, murol paintings and mosaics, will be indescribably heautiful Messis. Carrere and Hastings, suchitects in chief of the Pan-American Exposition at Bussio in 1901, are the architects.

Fate of Elfrida

Elfrida Mooner had been well brought up., Her mother had seen to that with the painstaking care of one who herself has learned through experience.

Elirida knew at once when confronted by a bouillon spoon that it was not a cream accor and she had a great scorn for a young man who walked on the wrong side of one upon the street. She always signed her formal letters "Most cordially yours," and spoke of her mother as "m'-mah," and with the accent carefully placed on the last syllable.

So it is easily realized that tremendous self-control was required on Elfrida's part to endure the young man who sat' next to her at the dance given by the Royal Order of Brothers of Something-or-Other in Elton Corners, where she was visiting some hitherto unknown cousins.

When the young man at the dance had broken the ice by saying that it was a pretty party Elfrida had recoiled. He had not been incroduced? Everybody seemed to know everybody else fo this town and she could not get used to such a situation.

There was something familiar about the young man's face as Elfrida stared at him, but when the full sweep of recollection rolled across her and she recalled vividly that she had seen him in Reston's butcher shop Elfrida almost choked. He was a nice looking young man Dimly she recalled that his father was Res ton, who owned the shop. Pernans this young man cut off steaks and silced bacon!

"I think not," Elfrida said faintly when young Reston asked if she would dance that walts.

festivities to which every one went in crowds Ned Reston singled out Elfrida as a matter of course and no body noted as though it was in the least extraordinary. Nobody tried to help her evade him. It was impos sule to make ner consins realize the fine line of distinction which made it right for her to evade him.

Elfrida felt her brain fottering, Espe cially as it grew harder and harder for her to realize in Ned Reston's company that the situation was impossible for a well brought up young girl. Finally the young part vanquished the well brought up section of Elfrida's nature and with a little thrill of evquisite horror she realized that Ned Reston was making love to ber and that she liked it.

HOME KEEPING WOMEN NEED HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

The work of a home keeping woman makes a constant call on her strength and vitality, and sickness results from weak inactive kidneys and irregular bladder action more often than she knows. So many times it turns out that her weak ness, tired out nervousness, nead-aches, depression and weak back are caused by kidney trouble instead of female trouble, and Foley Kidney Pills hav helped many, a woman back to a state of strong buoyant healthful activity. THE SIN OF COVETOUSNESS. Joshua 7-Dec. 14. Be sure your sin will find you out."-Nun bers 22:43.

HE Israelites, fushed with victory, proceeded with the con-quest of Canaan. Spies were sent to Al. Returning, these advised that the place was small, and that two or three thousand men would be quite sumclent for its capture. They ing that they had not the Lord's favor.

fled before their enemies. Joshua and the Elders of Israel were bewildered at this defeat. They prostrated themselves before the Ark of the Covenant, bewailing the trouble, and especially fearful of the influence of the defeat-encouraging their enemies and discouraging Israel.

The Accurred or Devoted Thing. In our Common Version, accursed has been used where detoted would have been preferable. The Lord informed

Joshua that the Divine favor was not with Israel because of their unfaithfulness. When Terlich o was captured, a portion of the spoils bad been appropriated by a soldler... According to the Lord's arrangement all the spoils were Bewaiting the Trouble, devoted in advance hence this was a breach of their agreement, and Israel's aimy could have no blessing notil the matter was rectified =

That the lesson might be learned by all Israel the Lord directed that the representatives of all the tribes appear before Him, and lots be cast, that thus would be indicated the tribe to which the guilty one belonged. In like man ner the different families of that tribe were tested, and the family found Step by step the matter came down to Achin, who was judicated as guilty.

"But if those things were produced they might---

Well, might what?

"Nothing," said Broadstone; and he mixed himself a whishy and soda, and lit a cigar

The incident set him thinking It quickened his fear of his cousin, and he was willing to give a big sum of money to get rid of him. If only Gasdiner had come to him instead of Corrison, there would have been a very different interview If he could get hold of those cords would the valet and the other woman upstairs stand to that evidence?

Dorrison was the stumbling block to everything. It was only he whoknew about that first marriage, it was he who was goading him now to the thing from which his cowardice. mothis honour shrank.

Killed Man, He Says, to Save Young Girl's Honor - Considers Harry Taw Beneath Him - Released. Eaughs at Anything and Everything.

Leavenworth Kan-One at a time the 800 inmates of the Kansas Penitentiary bade a veteran comrade fare-well. It was John Rodgers, the oldest in point of service among them, who had just finished putting in twentyseven years. It was a holiday and the convicts had the freedom of the rard to talk and enjoy themselves at will, and when "Dad," as they called walked down toward the frongrated entrance, dressed in a new suit citizen's clothes under escort of Warden J. K. Codding and Mr. and Mrs. Artlip, there was a line-up and all of them save him the friendly outward hand salute in farewell Rodgers was released on a Governor's parole, not a pardon. He had not broken the prison ruiés in à quarter of a century, and all the officials from the Warden down have the same confidence that the old man will make good and never have to come back. He leaves the prison meak and submissive, for twenty-seven years under the close discipline of penitentiary guares had stamped out nearly all his individuality and spirit Rodgers was so happy to get out-side that he was nearly starting off without getting $180 17 due to him from his earning at 3 3-4 cents a day as a prisoner. After buying newspapers he had saved this much. When handed the money he was asked what he would do with it, when he replied: "I don't know," but whatever Mr. and Mrs. Artilp, m; friends say."

When asked if he had any plans, he replied. 'I can work and my friends will not regret keeping me. I know that I will not be a buiden on them.

When he left the prison and boarded an electric car for Leavenworth Rodgers's face wore a constant smile. PICKPOCKET ROBS DETECTIVE.

Was Caught Because He Could not Work as He Did Years Ago.

New York City.-Charles McKenna, a detective, fold how he had his pocket picked by one of the best known "dips" in the country.

In the line-up before the detectives at Police Headquarters the man whom McKenna claims to have caught in the act, the detectives recognized as Sam McDonald, alias Martin, and a few other aliases, but who is best known as Williams. Mc-JOY WHEN HE IS RELEASED Donald, the police claim, has his picture in practically every rogues' gallery in all the important cities of the United States, and, according to the records of the police, he has served twenty-six years in prison at different times.

McDonald is seventy-eight years old. His hair, what he has left, is gray, and his eyes are rapidly-failing He is lame, too, and stooped vet he as onite active when at work. say the detectives.

"I am too old for anything else," he told the detectives, 'and I don't know anything else that I can do."

McKenna and Frank Cassassa Headquarters detectives, 2 were at the Fourteenth street subway station during the rush hours when noted an old man circulating they smong the crowds and attempting to put his hands into the outside coat pockets of the men.

The detectives watched the old man "work" for a time, and then they decided to set a trap for him,

McKenna marked a fifty cent piece and but it in his overcoat pocket on the left side and ambled over toward the man they had their eyes

Within a few seconds McKenna says he saw the man make the motions of a pickpocket. But he could not feel the man's hand in his pocket, although he knew at was there. The detective made a quick grab. Me-Donald's hand vas caught in the
