MENACE TO HEALTH PHYSICIANS SAY

DUST NUISANCE IS BREEDER OF DISEASES.

Car of Oil Has Been Ordered and Relief in Sight.

The village of Holly, after investigating the Solvay product as a dust killer, has decided to continue the use of oil, and has ordered 10,000 gallons for the purpose, at a cost of 3 3-4 cents a gallon, a reduction of one cent per, from last year's price. The investigation of the results of the use of the Solvay substance in various towns brought the information that it had not proved lasting like oil, but had seemed to lose its efficiency after a few rains, requiring a new application by that time.

The method followed in Holly is to collect in advance from the business men and residence property occupants the required sum to purchase the oil, to be applied at the expense of the village, which is practically the same as has been done here previously. The money was not paid in advance here, but the cost however, was all covered by the collections, with the exception of about $40, which was paid from the general expense fund.

Milford, also, is another town which has decided that the oil is best, and has just completed the spreading around of 6,000 gallons.

Northville has certainly been "eating dirt." Business men and other residents have been complaining of dirt, damage and danger. "No use to clean house" say the housewives. "Goods being injured" say the merchants. "Public health is endangered," say the physicians.

However relief seems near now. A car of oil has been ordered by the council, as a result of a special meeting Wednesday night, and it is expected it will arrive early next week. The business men are urged to clean up in front of their places so as to be ready for the oil when it arrives. The water regulations do not permit the use of enough water by the hose method to keep the dust under control especially in the business section, and of course these regulations are wise, as enough water must be conserved to insure adequate fire protection for the village.

PROGRAM FOR DECORATION DAY

EXERCISES AT PRINCESS RINK
UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE
G. A. R. POST.

The Decoration day program tomorrow, under the auspices of Allen M. Harmon Post, G. A. R., will open at 1:30 o'clock standard time, in the Princess rink.

The principal speaker is to be Hon. Samuel W. Smith, of Pontiac. The order of exercises is as follows: Music, Star Spangled Banner, Band Ritualistic Service, G. A. R. Song, America, Congregation Proclamation, Rev. Mr. Slough Music, Prayers, Rev. R. M. Pierce Solo, Ray Van Valkenburg Gettysburg Speech, Rev. J. E. Webber Music, Orator, Hon. S. W. Smith Music, Teating on the Old Camp Ground.

Following the exercises in the rink, the usual march to Oakwood cemetery will be made, where the ceremonies of decoration will be performed, in accordance with the rules of the order. The W. R. C. will serve supper in Cattermole's hall for the veterans and for their own order, after the conclusion of the exercises at the cemetery.

This, Friday, afternoon, details from the local Post will decorate the graves in the outlying cemeteries under their jurisdiction, as is done each year.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS AND BOY SCOUTS

NORTHVILLE HAS TWO NEW,
HEALTHY ORGANIZATIONS.

An explanation of the Boy Scout and Camp Fire organizations, now widespread over our country, seems to be timely with Monday night's entertainment and the interest shown by the children in our schools. Perhaps not all parents or other interested persons understand exactly the tests required of members and purposes of the movement.

Campfire Girls' honors are based mainly on achievements in everyday life, awards being given for making two kinds of bread and cake, cooking three common vegetables each in three different ways, caring for one room for one month, doing all of the work, caring for children, sleeping with open windows for two months, marketing, earning money, making their own robes, etc. The 300 honors are grouped under Health Craft, Camp Craft, Nature Lore, Home Craft, Business and Patriotism. All strive to keep the law of the Campfire, "to seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge, be trustworthily, hold onto health, glorify work, and be nappy." Any girl over twelve years of age may join, each Campfire to not exceed twenty members. Under twelve years, girls may be Bluebirds.

The organization is primarily related to home and social life, teaching girls to perform household tasks, to conserve health, to earn money, to sew and other things which go to make an efficient homemaker.

As for the brother organization, the Boy Scouts of America, they must be at least twelve years old and must take the scout oath, "To do his duty to God, his country and obey the scout law; help other people at all times and keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight." The law requires that a scout be trustworthy, he must not lie or cheat but keep every trust; be loyal to all whom it is due, including leader, home, parents and country; be helpful, prepared to save life, help the injured and do at least one good turn daily; be friendly and courteous to all without pay; be kind, obedient, cheerful, brave, clean in body and thought and travel with a clean crowd. Finally, a scout is reverent toward God.

A scout must first pass a test of knowing the scout law, signs, salute and significance of the badge; composition and history of the national flag and forms of respect due it;

tying four knots as square or reef, halter, clove hitch, etc. Upon reaching these attainments he takes the scout oath, is enrolled as a tenderfoot and may wear the tenderfoot badge.

Requirements of a second class scout include one month's service as a tenderfoot; first aid and bandaging injuries and caring for same; signaling in one of three alphabets; teaching and describing objects passed in certain time; going a mile in twelve minutes at scout's pace, fifty steps running and fifty steps walking, alternately; proper use of knife or hatchet; building of a fire in open, using not more than two matches; cooking meat and potatoes in open without ordinary utensils; earning and depositing at least $1.00 in a public bank; knowing sixteen principle points of the compass.

A first class scout must swim fifty yards, earn and deposit at least $2 in a public bank, send and receive messages in one of the three alphabets at the rate of sixteen letters per minute, make a round trip alone or with another boy scout to a point at least seven miles away, going on foot or rowing a boat and writing satisfactory account of trip and things observed, give advanced first aid as panic prevention, what to do in case of fire, to stop a runaway horse, treat dog or snake bite, poisoning, cramps and demonstrate artificial respiration, prepare and cook in open eggs, bacon, fish, game, pancakes, biscuits, etc., read a map correctly and draw from field notes a rough sketch map, indicating important buildings, roads, trolley lines, etc.

TWO FINE ENTERTAINMENTS

The May Carnival held in the rink on Monday evening brought out a big crowd and a most appreciative one, too. The first part of the program was given by the children of the Presbyterian church, in songs, recitations, a May pole dance and a short playlet.

The Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls called forth a goodly amount of applause and praise for their drills and ceremonies in the next act. Both are new organizations in our public school but have progressed rapidly in the efficiency of their orders. Local Scoutmaster, H. K. Ellis, gave the patrol commands and Miss Isabel Gorton, Sixth grade teacher, and Guardian of the Fire, awarded various honors to the girls.

Emily Murray Clements a talented reader from Detroit, closed the program with a number of selections, including an extract from "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," and several humorous recitations of Negro, Irish and Italian dialect.

A goodly sum was realized for the May division of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society, under whose auspices the entertainment was given, with Mrs. Ira Holt, as leader.

Equally good was the Ladies' Library benefit given in the library rooms on Thursday evening. The musical numbers were solos by Ray Van Valkenburg and a piano duet by Mesdames Lapham and Tinham. Mrs. Tinham also played Schumann's Slumber song as an accompaniment to the reading of "The Lotus Eaters" by Miss Helen Bullis. Pantomime pictures were presented within a frame with colored lights, illustrating the poem by the Misses Myrtle Gorton, Mae French and Hazel Perkins.

Mrs. Georgia Tinham contributed a comic monologue to a most enjoyable program.

BALL GAMES HERE.

Two spicy ball games are promised Northville lovers of that sport on Saturday, May 20, morning and afternoon. The town team will be made up of Pratt, C., Johnson, P., Carpenter, Jb., Moffat, Eb., Boyden, Jb., R. Stumpsca, ss., Ball, Conblin Smith and J. Stimpson, field.

Opposing this strong bunch will be the old enemy, Redford, a team of many victories. The R. pitcher, Hutchins, who played here last season, has been with Syracuse University for some time this year, so he hasn't lost in form.

Taking it all-in-all, it sounds like a couple of games of "heaped up" interest.

WHO ARE THE HAPPIEST IN WORLD OF WOMEN?

Which class of women is the happiest? The idle rich, with their social gayeties; the gentle home woman, spending her life in making husband and children comfortable; the professional woman, with a wide career, or the business girl, working in an office or a factory?

Miss Mary E. Halley, the Massachusetts factory inspector, declares that the latter class is by far the happiest, and says that much false sympathy is poured out for conditions which do not exist, and says, too, that the factory girl is generally believed by the public to be as unwell as the "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," or the "Beautiful Belindas" of mawkish fiction and melodrama.

"Of course," says Miss Halley, "I don't want to go to foolish extremes and say that the girls are happy just because they are factory girls, but they lead very contented lives; they dress fairly well as a general thing and get more pleasure and joy out of their daily life than any other class of girls I have come in contact with."

"Of course, they have to work. But what of that? Every one they know works. There is a spirited rivalry as to the best workmanship, a happy sense of companionship between the girls and the men as well, and I think you will find that the factory girl is above the average, if one rates by happiness."

On the other hand a noted artist of New York has just declared that it is the woman, artist who is the happiest in the world, that she not only has big dreams, but is able to carry them out, that the artistic atmosphere allows her soul to expand, and so she wins happiness with her work.

There are too many who declare that the home woman are the happiest, and that motherhood and wifehood bring the greatest joys of life, but on one point all are agreed, and that is that the woman who works at home or in the hurly-burly of the world of art and commerce is the one who finds the greatest happiness in life.

The woman who has a definite goal either to own her own home or to own a business or to win some coveted position, or who is bent upon winning that elusive something which men call fame, in the one who appreciates all the joys that come to her, and who in consequence raises the average of the happiness not only of herself but of those around her.

For hope is the real rainbow that brightens even the most monotonous of daily tasks, and looking forward to something bigger and better, to which one's present labors are only stepping stones, is to blame every day with that glow of hope and make the hands full of real accomplishment and the heart full of content with each each day.

The girl in the factory is just as apt to possess this gleam of hope as the society debutante whose dream centers perhaps in wedding a man with a title and taking part in the coronation; and so it goes, ambition and work and hope spurting them forward and make them akin in their happiness.

The girl who works gets a great deal of unasked sympathy at all times, just as Miss Halley says, for we have formed a habit of saying "She has to work, poor thing," and we shake our heads and sigh to think that from 8:30 till perhaps 5 or 5:30 each day she has no time to sleep and loaf or drop in to drink tea, but, on the other hand, the girl who does not work doesn't know the joy of feeling a task well done, doesn't know the healthy sense of tired delight in being able to "go home" in the evening, and she hasn't the ambition stirring in her heart that makes happiness, so it would seem that after all there is only one class in the happy women, and that is the class of the workers, no matter what the task to which they set their hands.

Shaded Coin Dots On the New Materials

Many of the new fabrics not striped are decorated with dots of various sizes, one of the newest of these being the shaded coin dot. This may be seen on a white ground or any of the pale tints, and is usually as large as a quarter of a dollar.

A smart piece of ribbon in a pale biscuit shade was decorated at regular intervals with dots of this character, about an inch and a half in diameter.

To Clean Plated Silver

Whiting, dampened with liquid ammonia, is commonly used for cleaning silver plate, but as the whiting is apt to remove a minute portion of the metal along with the dirt or tarnish, its use is not recommended.

The best method to clean silver plate is to wash well in strong, warm soap suds, rinse and wipe dry again with soft cloth; then mix as much ammonia powder as will be required into a thick paste, with cold water; spread this over the silver with a soft cloth, and leave it for a short time to dry.

When perfectly dry, brush off with clean soft cloth, and polish with a piece of chamolite skin.

HOUSE IS FOR LARGER NAVY.

Two new battleships, instead of one, were voted by the House of Representatives, 201 to 106. The bill, which calls for $140,000,000 for next year's naval expenses, also provides for six torpedo boat destroyers, one seagoing torpedo boat, three coast defense submarines torpedo boats to be built on the Pacific coast, and four submarines. The "small navy" men were defeated at all points by a vote of nearly two to one.

LARGER REGULAR ARMY.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, moved to increase the regular Army to 110,000 men. The limit now is 90,000.

THE MARINE.

Chicago Post:—The marine is a man of all seasons and all services, a fighter, a soldier and a sailor in line, and all for the colors. When the warning came of trouble with Mexico the marine corps was the first branch of the fighting service to get into print. First in print and first at the front. And so it has been with the marine in every foreign row in which the United States has been engaged.

CAN ELIMINATE MOSQUITOES.

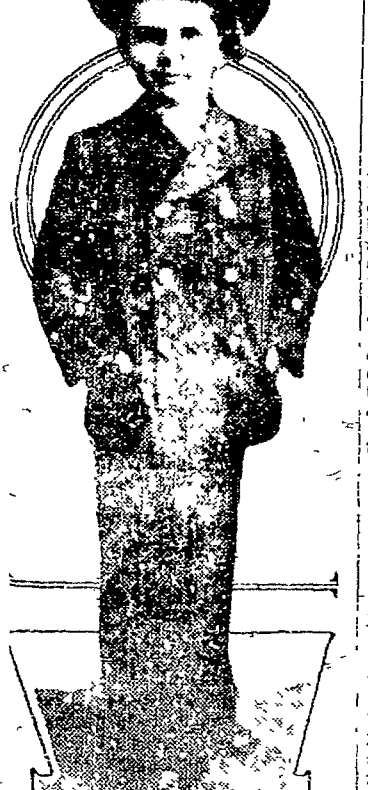

Sir William Willocks, who appeared before the house committee on rivers and harbors, declared there was no excuse for the existence of mosquitoes. He built the Assuan dam, and he told the committee how the Africans rid themselves of mosquitoes. At Khartoum, where the Nile meets the drainage is so perfect a man is fined two shillings for every mosquito seen on his premises. He urged the building of water dams. The American dams are eight feet wide. No dike, he said, should be less than twenty-two feet wide. The Babylonians never built them less than 100 feet wide.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST FLIES.

Boards of health everywhere are urging the destruction of the common house fly, which is now known to be a great danger to health. Flies are especially dangerous when they alight on food. Typhoid fever is often conveyed in that way.

ITALY'S NEXT KING TO BE "HARDENED"

Italy's next king is to be "hardenened" by a course of military training.

Crown Prince Huert.

Nine-year-old Crown Prince Huert of Italy has just passed another landmark in his career. He has been handed over to the sole guardianship of a rough and ready seaman, Frigate Captain Donald to be "hardenened."

STRIKEBREAKERS MUST GO.

Through the war department, President Wilson has instructed Col. James Lockett, commanding the federal troops in southern Colorado, to permit no importation of strikebreakers. The men are to be given further time to turn in their arms. So far but few arms have been given over to the military. Union officials have notified the men they must turn over their weapons or be ordered from the field and deprived of relief benefit. Permission is given for the re-establishment of the tent colony under charge of some responsible union official and the men are to be permitted to return to work in mines which are open. No person not in the mine fields before April 22 is to be allowed to remain in the disturbed district. The mine owners must give up their machine guns and the arms of their imported strikebreakers.

MRS. O'LEARY'S COW ACQUITTED.

Mrs. Bridget O'Leary's cow did not cause the big Chicago fire of 1871 by kicking over a lamp, according to a deathbed confession made by Mrs. Rebecca Thrift, 70 years old, who died in the County Infirmary in Lima, Ohio, recently. Mrs. Thrift, with her last breath, gasped out that she was responsible for the conflagration and that she fled through the flames and confusion to avoid arrest for an act which prayed upon her mind ever since. Her story is being investigated.

ZAPATA AND HIS SAVAGE BAND IN SHADOW OF MEXICAN CAPITOL

Emiliano Zapata ready for battle and section of his army.

From Tepic, which is but eighteen miles south of Mexico City, comes the report that Emiliano Zapata and his followers are ready to storm the gates of the capital in an effort to overthrow Huerta. Colonel Zapata has said that if it were necessary to do so to overthrow the usurper he would put a sword to the city. It is understood that an agreement exists between Zapata and Villa to move jointly against Mexico City.

With Emiliano Zapata and his band of bloodthirsty bandits almost within gunshot of the capitol, the people of Mexico City are panic-stricken. For Zapata has threatened to take the city by fire and sword, and his entrance into it would mean the reign for days of butchery and looting.

Zapata is called the greatest bandit who ever lived, not even barring Attila, or Genseric, or Ghengis Khan; the one New World savage more bloodthirsty than Geronimo; the one soldier whom the armies of our governments have failed to conquer, and who is now ravaging an area larger than the states of New York and Texas combined.

Zapata has seized half a hundred towns, put more than 4,000 men, women and children to the sword, taken or destroyed more than $100,000,000 worth of property, and rides today at the head of a well-armed, finely-mounted force of 10,000 cavalry, which he feared throughout all of southern Mexico.

Will Kill Huerta.

Zapata has said that he will kill Huerta as soon as Mexico City falls. No one doubts this. When Huerta first took the reins of government he sent twenty-seven men, each ignorant of the other's presence, into Morelos and Guerrero, with the offer of a reward of $5,000 for Zapata's head, dead or alive. Some of the men—for he knew of their coming almost as soon as they left Mexico City—Zapata shot, still others he took prisoners, and who became prisoners is reported to have been burned alive, and from others he cut the ears, or one ear, and sent them back to the federal government as warning. While Huerta's effort to "get" Zapata failed, the latter has never forgotten the dictator's attempt upon his life.

Zapata is a trained soldier, forty-three years old, with sixteen years of

THE CANOE PERIL

In competent hands the canoe is a thing of beauty and delight as it glides over still water under the full moon of threads by day the course of some wooded, tortuous stream. But, naturally, in the hands of the unvary and unskilled it is a very dangerous craft.

Of the many cases of drowning which at the boating season of the year are daily occurrences, most are sheer accidental or due to foolhardy risk or an inability to swim, says the Philadelphia Press. There is one kind of casualty on the water, however, which has become of increasing frequency in recent years and against which a solemn warning should be raised—it is the familiar canoe disaster; the almost inevitable consequence of permitting inexperienced boys and girls to imperil their lives in this unstable craft without having first learned the secret of its management.

The science of canoeing should be mastered in shallow water, where an upset will do no harm. It should be supported by a knowledge of swimming, without which canoeing in deep water is always dangerous. It is a fascinating sport, but it requires care, steadiness, and sobriety, and, for its full enjoyment, experience.

AUSTRALIA'S PLANT PEST.

The history of the whitlow-pepperwort, which, accidentally introduced into England from Holland a century ago, has now spread from Dover to the Severn, is a reminder of the incredible rate at which a European plant is spreading over the Australian continent. Just 30 years ago a lady at Bright, Victoria, planted in her garden a few seeds of St. John's wort sent her from the old country. The lady's intention, says the Westminster Gazette, was to have one or two of the plants at hand for medicinal purposes. The hardy weed, however, soon spread beyond the garden, and before anyone had grasped the magnitude of the evil it had been carried by cattle along all the main stock routes and jumped the Victorian watershed into Gippsland. It has now completely taken possession of something like 20,000 acres of agricultural land, and the Agricultural Department of Victoria is spending thousands of pounds in the endeavor to eradicate it, some of the methods tried costing nearly $50 an acre.

Summer Style Suggestions for Women

Emerald green and silver make a capital color scheme.

FASHION NOTES

A white voile dress with white heavy buttons for trimming was noticed among the new spring costumes.

A tulle blue and tobacco brown are popular combinations.

Tufts of silk should be used with steel beads and use of gowns of circumference of 100 inches.

Very light wearing corduroy, which seems to be youthful and comfy.

Small square or oval buckles are used to fasten waists instead of buttons.

LONDON CAPS OF LACE.

The shams show dainty little boudoir caps made of wide lace, which can be easily complicated from this description.

Buy a yard and three-eighths of lace that is nine or ten inches wide. From one end cut three eighths of a yard and cut the rest—a yard—in two pieces. Join securely together, from the resulting square cut a circle. Turn up the edge on the right side for an eighth of an inch and stitch a piece of three-quarter-inch-wide Valenciennes insertion around it. Edge the circle with inch-wide eggings. For an elastic through the casing made with the insertion.

From the extra three-eighths of a yard cut two triangles as big as you can get them. Run a tiny hem on two sides with the edging. Gather the other sides lightly and fasten one triangle along the gathered side to each side of the cap above each ear under the edging, to make little tassels. Bend the wire to make them stand out properly. Decorate the cap with bows of ribbon.

Americans Stay at Home This Year.

European hotel keepers are reported to be dismayed by the homeward rush of American tourists before the season has fairly begun. They lay it to the "war" with Mexico. Atlantic steamers, eastward bound, are taking fewer passengers than usual, which is supposed to have the same cause. European hotel keepers depend upon American travelers for much of their profit.

OHIO FLORISTS ALARMED.

Youngstown Telegram: Florists are somewhat concerned about the new fashions because some of the new blouses do not contain enough material to pin a rose on.

WITH CORDS AND GATHERS.

The soft figured crepe, of which this dress was made, is well suited to the design and no other material appears except the chemise of lace, gathered by a bright rose-colored silk fold and tassels.

The seams are corded with the crepe and there is a knot with tassels at the back over the skirt closing.

SICILIAN EARTHQUAKE WORST SINCE THAT OF 1908

Eruption of Mt. Etna Was Accompanied by Shocks Which Wrecked Villages and Destroyed 200 Lives.

The earthquake of May 8th in Sicily, was the worst that has befallen that region since the terrible disaster of 1908, when 150,000 lives were lost.

This time the loss of life is much less, partly because the shocks were felt in small villages rather than in populous cities. Another reason why this earthquake was less fatal than that of 1908 was that the people had warning. About sixty slight shocks came before the final heavy ones which threw down buildings. Knowing the danger, the people rushed into the open spaces. As usual, most of the victims of the disaster were those who remained indoors and were killed by falling buildings.

Because the fatalities were in scattered villages, and because many of the telephone wires are down, it has not been possible to make an accurate count; but the number of dead is estimated at 200. About 1,000 others were hurt, and of these some died. In some cases the earth opened and literally swallowed the poor victims.

BEAUTIFY THE NEW LINCOLN HIGHWAY

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has taken up the work of planting the Lincoln Highway from New York to San Francisco, and has called on the Chairman of Conservation in the thirteen states through which it will pass to bring the matter before the women's clubs of their respective states, claiming their support, and making them responsible for the selection of a tree indigenous to the soil of the state, to be planted on either side of the highway throughout the state. This is simply in line with the work of the Conservation department which has put a good road plank in the platform of the General Federation, and are now making the work of extended service by urging the planting of trees. The Lincoln Highway is a great trans-continental highway that will benefit thousands, and is a fitting road for the exemplification of forestry work of the women's clubs of the country.

THE THINGS TO BE FEARED.

Baltimore Sun: "The country is a big and an antagonistic small that defied to not one of the things to be feared. What we need to fear are: 1. The disintegration of our domestic affairs, and the possibility of new and unending problems brought about by a bad foreign policy, tried up by the war. 2. The impact of all of these things will be an actual loss of life. 3. The possibility of a withdrawal from Africa. All these things will be brought about."

THE BUTTERFLY DANCING GOWN.

The butterflies are made of black lace, darning with silk and trimmed with jet, and are placed at the ends of a black gauze scarf. The dress is of rainbow taffeta with a plain lamé waist having one shoulder strap of black velvet ending in a bow at the back.

The skirt consists of spiral flounces and an "apron" of the silk opening at the side over a skirt of carelessly pleated voile.

The Northville Record.

Published by NEAL PRINTING CO. Established 1888. An Independent Newspaper published every Friday morning by the Neal Printing Co., at Northville, Michigan, and entered at the Northville Post-Office as Second-Class matter.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., MAY 29, 1914.

AID. McCARTY'S STARTLING ANNOUNCEMENT.

Ald. Chas. McCarty of Detroit announces with startling head lines, and half a column of double headed brevity, that he has "jumped" the Bull Moose party and is once more in the G. O. P. band wagon. This sudden news coming as it does with the return of Theodore Roosevelt to the United States, puts the Mexican war scare out of business. When Ald. McCarty left the Republican party about a year ago everything went to the howl wows. Taft and Musselmen were defeated and so were scores of Republican congressmen and senators. In fact the Detroit Alderman must have controlled at least 200,000 votes. And now he has come back. When Teddy hears of that there will be some wailing and gnashing of teeth among the Oyster Bay Oysters. There's nothing to it now. With McCarty back the Bull Moose party is dead and buried and the G. O. P. with Mc's 200,000 votes, is occupying every foot of space outside the cemetery. God bless the Irish.

WHAT WE OBSERVE.

It is true that all men have not been given the faculty to accumulate wealth, though they economize and work ever so hard. Neither can all men be great physicians, lawyers, preachers or skilled mechanics, study, think and labor as hard as they may. But there is a measure of success, a modest home and comfort for every man blessed with health, honesty, economy and steady purpose. And, after all, happiness is by no means a matter of dollars and cents in abundance. The truly happy home may, and is more likely to be, the home where the comforts and occasional luxuries are won by honorable labor and the careful addition of income to outlay. The things we must strive for are the things valued most when attained, unless the attainment means added cares out of proportion to the benefits. The possession of great wealth entails correspondingly larger responsibilities, cares and anxieties, but love, modesty, and above all, contentment, may make the humblest cottage a home that a millionaire might envy.

THE APPEARANCE OF PROSPERITY.

One of the reasons why advertising has grown so enormously in recent years is that merchants realize that a business to succeed must carry an atmosphere of prosperity. The man who enters a business office with soiled clothes, and face unshorn, and muddy boots, is not apt to get a job. This may be due to superficial judgment, but people have to make the best use they can of exterior indications. Similarly the public judges of a merchant's success by exterior signs. A business man who does not advertise conveys an impression of passiveness and indifference, of slow-going, old fashioned methods. The public values enterprise in retail trade higher than almost any other one quality. Liberal advertising is to a merchant what good clothes and a clean cut appearance are to a salesman. It suggests that a merchant is prosperous, that he has in the past succeeded in pleasing the public, that he is alert enough to get good bargains for his customers. It shows that he has much confidence in his goods that he is willing to spend money to tell people about them.—Business World.

Ex-President Roosevelt has discovered a tribe of naked savages in South Africa according to the latest press dispatches. But even at that if the styles in dresses undergo one or two more changes, around the big cities, that country will have nothing on our own United States.

VISITORS HERE AND ELSEWHERE

Mrs. Archie Morris is visiting at her old home in St. Johns. Mrs. L. B. Charter and Mrs. Wm. Moe were Ann Arbor visitors Thursday. Mrs. Augusta Root of Detroit was a week-end guest at the home of Mrs. McKahan. Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Cavell and two children were Detroit visitors Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. John Waddell and little son of Detroit spent Wednesday with Mrs. Fred Simmons. Mrs. Grace Martin and Mrs. Callins of Plymouth were guests of Miss Lottie White last week. Mrs. C. A. Eonsford and little daughter visited friends in Flint the latter part of this week. J. O. Webster and Miss Hazel VanSickle of Detroit visited Northville friends over Sunday. Albert Flint, of Detroit, register of probate, spent Sunday with his cousin, Mrs. A. L. Vradenburg. Mr. and Mrs. John Conwell and little Marion Hess were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Shipley Tuesday. Miss Aletha Yerkes goes to Alma to spend the week-end with her sister, Miss Margaret, at Wright Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Prizbrosky of Detroit were guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. T. B. Henry, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Taft of Detroit spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Taft. Mrs. Angie Hueston-Smith of Detroit visited Northville friends a part of last week and the fore-part of this. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Lapham entertained Prof. Putnam of the Eastepu high school, Detroit, and his family Saturday. Claude McKahan came down from Milwaukee, Wis., last week to look after the McKahan coal and ice business here. Mrs. Oscar Hager and daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Hager, of Detroit were guests of old friends in Northville a part of this week. Mrs. J. A. Leverington and little daughter left Sunday for their home in Hamball, Mo., after a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Vradenburg. Mrs. N. E. Peterson arrived here Wednesday from her home on the western coast to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Johnson. John McCully was called to Elora, Canada, Saturday by the illness of his brother, who died the next day. Mr. McCully remained for the funeral services the first of the week. Mrs. Vary Koth of Union Hill, New Jersey, who was the guest of Mrs. Wm. Scott and Mrs. A. B. McCullough the first of this week, has gone to Detroit to visit friends for a few days before returning home. Mrs. Emily Clements and baby of Detroit have been spending a few days with Miss Marquise. Mrs. Clements is the reader who assisted in the entertainment at the rink Monday evening. She was connected with the Lyceum bureau for a number of years, doing elocutionary work until her marriage. Another cause for folks getting sleepy in church has been discovered by a recent researchist, who says they are mesmerized by giving too close attention to the speaker, and allows that the more interesting the sermon is to the hearer the sleeper he gets as he concentrates on it. The theory is consoling to the preacher, anyway.

MILLIONS ARE SPENT FOR CHEWING GUM

More Than for Automobiles, Wagons and Buggies. Here are some surprisingly interesting statistics published by the U. S. government as follows. There are two billion dollars spent annually in the United States for intoxicating liquors. There are $459,191,882 spent for tobacco; $268,000,000 spent for chewing gum and candy; $260,700,000 spent in moving picture shows; $134,966,000 spent in carriages and wagons, and only of which $31,254,000 is exported abroad, which leaves net in the year 1913, $217,948,006 expended for automobiles in the United States. Tobacco, liquors, chewing gum and candy and picture shows do not increase values anywhere, and most of them are injurious to the health; but let us see what good the automobile does. The automobile has increased land values in the United States a hundred fold more than all the money spent on them. The automobile has also decreased the cost of living, by giving us better roads so that products from the farms can be brought into our city at a lower cost. It has also increased the zone of economical living.

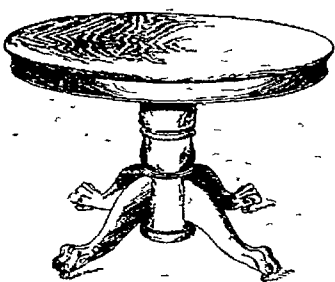

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

(By the Press Correspondent.) The W. C. T. U. meeting held with Mrs. Hatte Greene May 18, was a decided success. Good work was planned. The results of which we hope to see in the near future. The leader, Mrs. Green, presented her subject in a very able and interesting manner and several others gave papers on subjects discussed. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Helen Gray, Randolph street, June 1 Leader, Mrs. Mary Cook. Let there be a full attendance.

W. N. D. C. REUNION.

The fifth annual reunion of the West Novi Debating Club is dated for next week Saturday, June 6, at the West Novi school house, where the meetings of the club were held for upwards of thirty-five years. Various families furnished participants for two and sometimes three generations. Visitors came to the meetings from all over the surrounding country, even as far away as Pontiac on some occasions. At the time of the discontinuance of its meetings, it was by many years the oldest literary society in Oakland county. The Record is requested to say that all former members, and all who used to attend the club, are cordially requested to be present at the reunion, whether receiving announcements or not.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The Sixth grade took a field trip last Thursday afternoon. Miss Withey was one of an auto party to Detroit Friday afternoon. Alice Jones has the promise of the school in her home district for next fall. The Second graders have studied the buttercup, tulip, jack-in-the-pulpit and daisy in Nature study. Miss Johnson and Miss Weiler attended the Epworth League convention in Detroit Friday evening and Saturday. The Second grade Language classes have studied the following pictures: "Rosa Bonheur," "Shepherd of the Pyrenees," "Changing Pasture" and "Ploughing." Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Gorton of Waterloo, visited their daughter, Miss Isabella, of the Sixth grade, last Sunday. They came from their home in an auto. The pupils of the drawing department have made some good posters advertising the operetta "Pauline" which is to be given at the rink next Tuesday evening, June 2nd. Several members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. came to the school house Friday afternoon. Messrs. Johnson and Shaw gave some interesting reminiscences of the battle of Franklin and of Gettysburg. The girls who took the County examination for teachers' certificates and who received tutoring from Miss Johnson, gave her a pleasant surprise last Wednesday evening. A bountiful lunch was provided by the young ladies. As a slight token of their appreciation they presented Miss Johnson with a very beautiful engraved jelly ladle. For baby's croup, Willie's daily cuts and bruises, mamma's sore throat, Grandma's lameness—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the household remedy. 25c and 50c.—Advt.

Taxpayers deeming themselves aggrieved may be heard at that time. W. JUDD LANNING, Supervisor. Dated Northville, Mich., May 22, 1914.

The Proper Course

Information of Priceless Value to Every Northville Citizen.

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases andills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Northville citizen who used them and who publically tells of the benefit derived.

Mrs. F. S. Fry, West St., Northville, Mich., says: "My kidneys were out of order, and the kidney secretions were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me very much. My kidneys soon became normal. I strongly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills because I know that they are a safe remedy and give excellent results."

Price, 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Fry had. Foster-Milburn Co., props., Buffalo, N. Y. —Advt.2

HAPPENINGS IN LOCAL SOCIETY

Dusty dust.

Two Holidays.

Some weather.

Beautiful blossoms.

Memorial Day tomorrow.

Tigers Monday at Detroit.

"Skeeters" have arrived—Also big, humpy June bugs

If only people would talk out loud at a picture show.

L. A. Babbitt has recently purchased a new Jackson car.

Leonard Charter is quite seriously ill this week.

Special pictures for tomorrow, Saturday evening's program at the Alseium.

With the new moon on its planting time this week and next garden sassa that grows below the ground.

Pleasant rain, that of Wednesday.

The circus has come and gone—and so has our money.

Why not have a Home-Coming in connection with the Chautauqua?

The C. of S. club enjoyed a picnic supper on the river flats last Tuesday evening.

Miss Ruth Christensen and Bert Clark who have attended the U. of M. at Ann Arbor the past three years, will receive their Senior caps at the Cap Night festivities this, Friday, evening.

Some person or persons stole a valuable horse belonging to Fred Simmons from the late Simmons fruit farm north-west of town Sunday night. Fred is offering $100 for the arrest and conviction of the guilty party.

A New Hudson fisherman met with what might be called a decided reverse the other day, when a 14 1-2 pound carp pulled him into the Huron river near Millford. He, rescued himself and got the fish that so nearly got him.

Another burglary, was perpetrated in town last Friday night, the victim this time being Webster Wood, who carelessly left $5 in his trousers pocket right by his bedside when he retired. He peacefully slept while an investigation of the entire premises was made and the "v" appropriated by the investigator.

The "big road bee" of the sort suggested recently in this paper, is buzzing busily in several localities. Millford business men and the farmers of the surrounding region are to unite in a road-building stunt on June 4 and 5, with an expert recommended by the State Good Roads association as general director.

Jas Roberts, was arrested last week for non-support of his family but was released Monday on making some good promises. Later they moved to Millford. They have a family of five children the oldest about twelve and the youngest about two. Mrs Roberts has had a hard time taking care of the family but somehow she has managed what was seemingly the impossible.

Mrs. Marce Stark has been engaged to teach the first, second and third grades in the Redford schools next year. Miss Edna Newton will go to Ithaca to do grade work under Prof. J. D. LaRue. Both young ladies graduate from the Ypsilanti Normal next month as does Miss Edith Miller who will teach at Highland Park where Prof. Elwood Knapp is superintendent. Miss Rachel Chadwick, of Detroit, formerly of Northville, will also teach in the latter school.

Very fitting was the Memorial service held in the Baptist church Sunday evening. The members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. marched from their hall to the church, led by the city band, and occupied the honor seats. Rev's. Pierce, Webber and Slough took part in the service the latter delivering a fine sermon on "The Toll of War." Music by the choir and special singers, with two selections by the band added greatly to the beauty of the service. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and flags.

Harry Weaver left Tuesday for Traverse City to engage in the undertaking business, he having purchased the business of one of the retiring funeral directors of that flourishing city. For a number of years Harry was engaged in undertaking and furniture business at Farmington where he pleased a large clientele both at that place and in the surrounding territory. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver will prove valuable additions to the population of Traverse City, and their large number of friends in Northville, where both are so well known, will wish them every success in their new home.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

W. L. TINHAM, C. C.
C. B. Bristol, K. of R. & S.

Two games base ball Saturday.

Both hardwares will close Saturday, Decoration day.

Mrs. Ray Richardson has been quite ill the past week.

Regular meeting of Foresters this, Friday, evening. Also a dance.

Hetley & Baldwin are co-operating with the Record in "swatting the flies" by giving away a couple of thousand fly-spatters to any one calling for them (one a piece).

Oakland county has added $25 to the reward of $100 already offered by F. P. Simmons for the return of his horse which was stolen from the Simmons fruit farm in that county.

The council is to be congratulated for the action taken in regard to ordering a carload of oil for village streets. While it undoubtedly should have been ordered a month ago, still the members of that body have done the best they could under the existing circumstances.

The Northville Driving club will hold a matinee Saturday afternoon, June 6, the first of a series to be given every month during the summer. Big purses are offered in the free for all and class A pace, as in the Green trot. A Ball game and music by the city band are also scheduled.

MORE PATRIOTISM.

We are forgetting, yes we are forgetting. That many brave men gave their lives That we might be independent from England. And that many brave men gave their lives That all men in our land might be free and equal, And that our motto is: "In God is our trust." Then let us show more patriotism, By being more thankful for the freedom we enjoy. By being better men and women, trusting in God, Not forgetting many brave men gave their lives That we might be independent from England, And—"The United States" —Virginia Thompson

Holly has ordered two carloads of oil with which to oil the streets, at a cost of 3 1-2 cents per gallon. The citizens buy the oil and the village sprinkles it.

Mrs. Chas. Whipple entertained 24 school children at the Whipple home on the Base line Monday evening in honor of the twelfth birthday of her daughter, Leona. The affair was a surprise to Miss Leona and was most enjoyable to all.

The High school is preparing an elaborate entertainment for Tuesday evening, June 2. About one hundred pupils will sing "Pauline," an opera filled with laughs. Special music, costumes and a large stage are only a part of the insurance of a good time in the rink on that date.

The King's Daughters will hold Memorial services in the Presbyterian church Sunday, May 31. Special speakers are Mrs. Alexander Young of W. Leeling, West Va., and Mrs. E. N. Coleman of Iowa. The Daughters will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Harmon at 6:00 o'clock, to march in a body to the church.

The boys of the 1912 class of the N. H. S. met at the home of Harold Turner, president, Sunday afternoon to make arrangements for the annual class reunion which will be held at Walled lake June 27 of this year. Those in attendance beside the president, were, Ross Dixon of Ann Arbor, Roy Cray, Horace Boyden and August Holcomb of Detroit, and Charley Johnston and Don Ball of this place.

DON'T BOARD MOVING CARS.

Effort Will Be Made to Eliminate Dangerous Practice.

Because of the danger to intending passengers who attempt to board interurban cars before they stop at waiting-rooms an effort will be made to eliminate the practice. A considerable number of people at various points on the interurban lines are in the habit of boarding cars while they are in motion and before they reach the waiting-rooms. To prevent a continuance of this dangerous practice motormen on all lines have been instructed to close the front door of the car until the car stops; in addition, conductors will stand on the lower step to prevent passengers from boarding while the car is moving.

This is a Safety First regulation and the co-operation of the public is asked in order that it may have the desired result.

WEEK'S CALENDAR

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor)

Morning service at 10 o'clock; S. S. at 11:15; Epworth League at 6 o'clock; Evening service at 7.

Sunday morning sermon topic "Religion, Nicotola of Tonn"

The evening service will be held at the Presbyterian church. Two speakers representing the King's Daughters will be present. This is a matter of interest to all, and has been made much of by the local society. We should be particularly eager to hear of the international work of the King's Daughters because of the good work accomplished in our own village by them.

The Epworth League will hold a final social meeting at the parsonage next week Wednesday night. An unusually interesting program has been provided.

The Sunday school will hold its annual Children's Day program on Sunday, June 14th. The children are hard at work on the program and they give promise of a splendid entertainment.

GERMAN CHURCH NOTES.

Services will be held in this church Sunday, May 31, at 2:00 o'clock.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor)

Morning service at 10 o'clock; S. S. at 11:20; C. E. at 6 o'clock; Evening service at 7 o'clock.

Morning subject: "Religion and the Eternal Life." This is the last in the Go-to-Church month series on "Religion and Life." It is expected that the last meeting will reach the high water mark in attendance. Friends and members of the congregation are urged to attend this service. Let us make the last the best.

Evening subject: Addresses by representatives of the King's Daughters. The Methodist and Baptist churches will unite with us in this service. The King's Daughters will attend in a body. The ladies chorus will furnish the music. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Sunday school and Christian Endeavor at the usual hours. Christian Endeavors must not forget the

HEN PUTS '1914' ON EGG

Man Who Pets Fowls to Make Them Lay Is Rewarded With Token of New Year.

Cleveland, Ohio.—While politeness and kindness may bring their own reward, John Barza, a chicken farmer who has just gained some renown because he pets his hens to make them lay, has received a more substantial token of appreciation from one of his feathered flock.

Barza, soon after he had performed his usual morning petting stunt with the hens, heard an unusual noise in the chicken house. Thinking that perhaps a rat was bothering his pets, he investigated. He found one of his favorite Rhode Island Reds just arising from her nest, while the other hens, with the roosters well to the front, were clattering as they never had done before.

Barza looked in the nest and there was a fine, warm egg. When he examined it closely he found the figure "1914" crudely embossed on one side.

MASTODON UNEARTHED

Bones Found at Blue Ridge Springs Will Be Sent to the Smithsonian Institution.

Blue Ridge Springs, Va.—This village has been thrown into excitement as the result of the unearthing of what is said to be the skeleton of a huge mastodon. The discovery was made near here by S. D. Talliferro of Salem, Va., superintendent of a crushing plant, and the skeleton will be offered to the Smithsonian institution at Washington. The skeleton measured thirty feet in length, with paws four feet in width, ribs six inches wide, teeth five inches in width, and tusks five feet in length.

The find was twenty feet below the surface.

HUSBANDS PROPOSE TO "SWAP" WIVES

Emporia, Kan.—A bonafide proposal to trade wives has been made to C. C. Samuel, divorce proctor, by Lester Farr and Glen Barnhardt.

Both wives are willing, but the proctor will not agree.

"I loved Hazel as soon as I laid eyes on her," said Farr of Mrs. Barnhardt, while Mrs. Barnhardt retaliated with, "I never knew what love was until I saw Lester."

Farr's three children express a desire to go with their mother.

REFUSES $150 PER CHICKEN

Albion, Mich.—Seven hundred and fifty dollars is a tolerably high price for five barnyard fowls, but that is what E. C. Zoeller recently refused for a pair of five White Plymouth Rocks. His Plymouth Rocks have taken first prize at every show in which they have been shown.

STRANGELY FORMED CALF

Has to Throw Back Its Head to Get Water Down Its Throat.

Wells Tannery, Pa.—A strangely formed calf, born four months ago on the farm of J. W. Gibson is so healthy that it will be given a chance to live in a museum. The legs of the calf are but ten inches long and its hoofs are identical with those of a small pony, not being cloven. To add to the animal's queer appearance, one nostril is missing and its lower jaw protrude three inches beyond the upper.

Owing to this strange formation, the calf struggled when first it attempted to drink, but it finally solved the problem by scooping up the water with the lower jaw and throwing back the head, allowing the water to run down its throat. In this respect its actions greatly resemble those of a chicken.

DOG PLAYS THE DETECTIVE

Takes Pet Canine Four Years to Locate His Master.

Boston, Mass.—Teddy, a pet dog which Charles W. Godfrey left in Fallsade, N. J., when he moved from his house there, four years ago, has appeared at the Godfrey home in Allston, and Godfrey is puzzled to know how he found his way.

"A few days ago I was in Central Square, Cambridge," said Godfrey, "when a dog suddenly jumped on me and began licking my hands. I thought he looked like Teddy, but I could not figure how he could get to Cambridge, so I jumped on a car and started for home. Before I got there the dog was ahead of me and playing with my little daughter, whose pet he was before we left Fallsade. I cannot imagine how he found us, but he is here."

SEEKS CURE FOR POTATO DISEASE

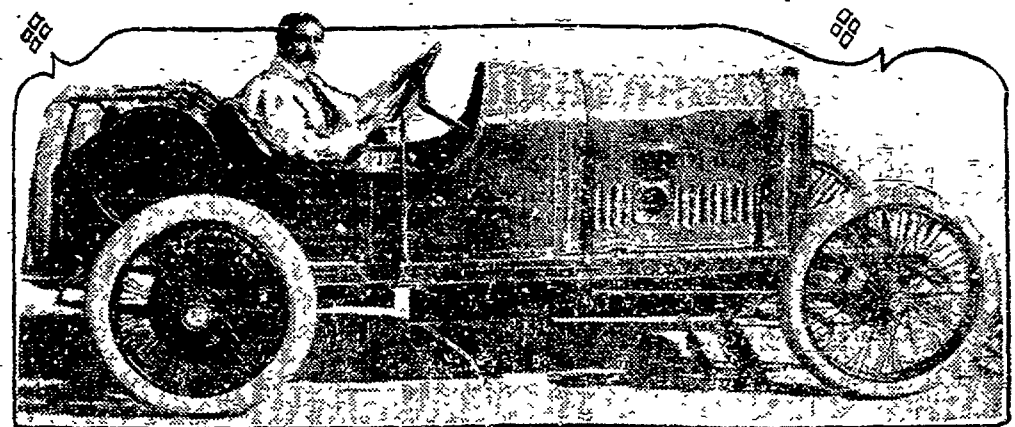

Ottawa, Ontario, Canada.—The Canadian Government has decided to take drastic measures to stamp out the potato disease in the Maritime Provinces. Prof. John Adams of the Royal College of Science, Dublin, a Cambridge graduate and a botanist of note, is to have charge of the investigation of the subject. Experimental and field laboratory work will be carried on.

PARROT IS SEVENTY YEARS OLD

Leaning, Mich.—A parrot owned by F. N. Bovee of this town is more than seventy years old, for it has been in the possession of the family for that time. The birds are noted for their longevity.

Panama sends about 5,000,000 coconuts a year to the United States.

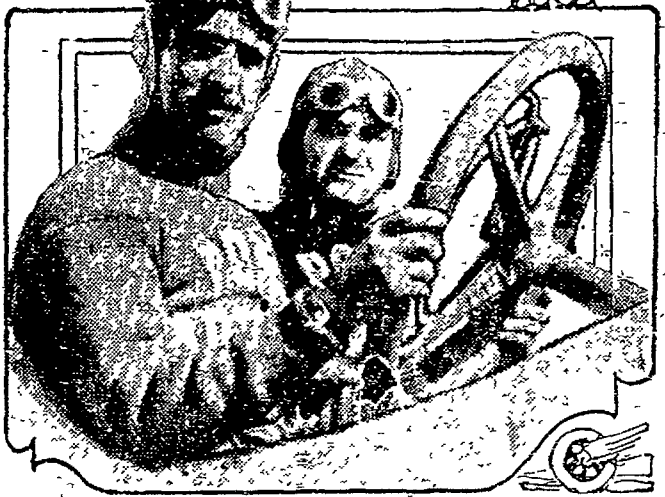

BOILLLOT, CHAMP RACE DRIVER OF EUROPE, IN SPEEDWAY RACE; EXPERTS SAY EITHER HE OR GOUX WILL CAPTURE FIRST HONORS

Georges Boillot (top) and Louis Disbrow.

According to motor racing experts, the 500-mile race on the Indianapolis motor speedway, May 30, is likely to be won either by Goux or by Georges Boillot, both French drivers. Boillot is the champion race driver of Europe. He won the Grand Prix de France twice, in 1912 and 1913. His car, a Peugeot, though one of the smallest in the race, with only 341.7 cubic inches piston displacement, is one of the speediest, being capable of 110 miles an hour.

One of the Americans counted upon to stem the foreign invasion is Louis Disbrow, the veteran pilot of Pope Hanford and Simplex cars, who has taken over the wheel of the second Burman centipede in the Indianapolis race. Disbrow holds practically all the dirt track records of the country, having barnstormed for the Case people the last two seasons.

The current opinion is that Disbrow will find it no easy task to outspeed the Frenchmen. Both Goux and Boillot are high unbeatable and are not to be surpassed in nerve and daring. Disbrow, however, is by no means timorous. His social graces are few.

His manner is gruff and laconic, with seldom a word save an occasional expletive or the voicing of some sharp phrase or curse. All who have seen him perform agree that he more than discounts his lack of pleasant manner with his wonderful work on the track.

American adherents by setting a new record on the Indianapolis track a few days ago. He circled the two-and-a-half mile track in 1 minute and 35.4 seconds. The record of 1:37 made in 1910 had been lowered to 1:36.2-5 by Joe Dawson a few days before Boillot established the new record.

BEHIND THE CURTAIN

By ELLIOT WALKER

Copyright, The Frank A. Munsey Company

Where Miss Kidder sat on the back piazza the green vines formed a curtain against intrusion. Not that the blind lady disliked society, for she loved to chat, and to hear the news; but it was a quiet spot to lounge in after an afternoon, and she was always happy and satisfied with what they thought best.

A tiny silver whistle hung by its chain from her delicate wrist. That was to call the servants if she wanted anything. Miss Kidder rarely blew it; to her sensitive hearing the noise seemed horribly shrill.

Now that the sun had passed on, leaving the air soft and warm, a gentle breeze crept from the south to whisper in the leaves. A drone of little summer murmurs rose from the grass, with now and then a wandering bird-pipe. The lady nodded, settling in her chair. She must not fall asleep. She might miss some pleasant sound—something to set her wide awake again, and thinking happily. There was so much to be thankful for.

Besides, she was too young for napping. Miss Kidder's feelings were very youthful. No one had told her of the gray in her brown hair, nor of the fine wrinkles and faded rosebloom.

A man slouched along on the turf, avoiding the gravelled path. Miss Kidder heard the step. She moved her chair a trifle forward. It squeaked on the boards. That shuffling tread was unfamiliar. Perhaps it was the new gardener.

The man came closer, peering sharply at the lady who sat on the back piazza. The begging whine upon his lips was never uttered. Instead, he set his jaw, stared, shrank back, and one ill-clad foot moved as if for a stealthy retreat.

"Who is it?" Miss Kidder's voice was gracious and welcoming. "I cannot see you. I am blind."

In the long moment of silence following, she raised her whistle to her lips.

"Don't blow that, Avis!" came a hoarse, hasty whisper. "It's Albert—Albert Leath! Blind—you!"

The whistle dropped and dangled as Miss Kidder's hands went out gropingly.

"Yes," she cried, without an instant's hesitation; "I have been blind for seven years, Albert. Where are your fingers? Oh, think of what an escape you have had!"

The man's dirty paw was being cleansed on his ragged coat-sleeve. A strange smile grew on his weather-beaten face. Into his sodden brain flashed an idea. Avis could not see him!

Presently, after their hands had met, his own drew away. He blessed the breeze blowing toward him, and spoke with care.

"I cannot believe it. I am terribly shocked. Avis—too shocked and grieved for words. To meet you, by mere accident—for I stepped in here to ask the time. My watch has stopped, and I'm hurrying to catch a train. Dear me!"

His voice broke in all sincerity. It was a bit tremulous, at the best.

"It has just struck four. Oh, Albert, can't you stay?" she added, as his feet scraped. "I suppose I ought not to keep you, but I'll make the most of my minute. It's so little, when I've thought of you so much! I'm not to be pitied in the least, Albert. I have everything, and am wonderfully happy and tranquil. And twelve years is so far back! We can see that my father was unconsciously a good angel when he wouldn't let us marry. Suppose you were caddled with a blind wife, dear boy? I've rejoiced for you from my heart. It has been such a comfort to feel that my affliction did not fall on you. If I could only see your face! But perhaps it is as well."

"The man was decidedly of this opinion, although he made no reply. It gave him an unwonted thrill to know that in her darkness this faithful woman viewed him as he was in the days before his fall—which had been his own reckless sinking, and no fault of hers."

"You have prospered, of course?" said the woman innocently.

"To my full deserts," returned Leath with prompt steadiness.

"I'm so glad. Are—are you married?"

"No." He was very anxious to get away. "No, somehow, I've never married, Avis."

He thought her face lighted it might have been a ray of sunshine sparkling through the lattice.

She felt her hand pressed hurriedly; a husky good-by sounded from half-way down the steps, and, before she could speak again he was gone.

Miss Kidder sank back, smiling dreamily.

"Never married!" she murmured. "And prosperous. He must be so handsome, too. Albert could not lose his good looks. He didn't say very much—no doubt because he was too much affected. Dear, dear, he must fully appreciate his escape. I'll go on being thankful for us both."

The new gardener, turning from his work, spied Mr. Leath making for the railroad tracks.

"That's a pretty ugly lookin' tramp," he grunted. "It's lucky Miss Kidder can't see anything. See nothin' fear nothin'!"

An Anglicized American.

The duchess of Roxburgh is unlike the former Miss Vanderbilt in that she manifests not the slightest desire to visit her native land. Since her marriage to the Scotch duke the heiress to the Goelet millions has been content to stop on the other side of the Atlantic. The duchess of Roxburgh, in fact, has become wholly Anglicized. She talks with an English accent, and follows with undivided interest the exclusively English news from day to day. A year ago it was said she intended returning for a short time to New York, but she disappointed her friends.

Deer Head of 50 Points.

What is said to be the largest head ever found on a red or cotton tail deer in the country has lately been received in Bangor from Hill Gould of Grand Lake Stream. The head has fifty points or prongs on the antlers. The head is very even, having twenty-six points on one side and twenty-four on the other and is a beauty in every way. It spreads 23 inches in the widest place and has broad webs on each antler, which spread 7 inches. The fifty points are all well defined prongs.—Kennebec Journal.

Developing A Character.

The late Frances E. Willard said: "There are so many kinds of beauty after which one may strive that we are bewildered by the bare attempt to remember them. There is beauty of manner, of utterance, of achievement, of reputation, of character, any one of these outweighs beauty of person, even in the scales of society, to say nothing of celestial values."

"Cultivate most of the kind that lasts the longest. The beautiful face with nothing back of it lacks the staying qualities that are necessary to those who would be winners in the race of life. It is not the first mile-post but the last that tells the story, not the outward bound street but the one in the home stretch that we hail as victor."

Enemies of Matrimony.

Wedlock seems to be in bad way in the mountains of the Dauphine. The confirmed bachelors of the country decided to meet every month and toast celibacy. Invitations are sent out with the information, "Good feeding, good drinking, much laughter, much dancing." An added insult to matrimony is that the invitations were sent to all-spinsters who have "put on St. Katherine's cap"; that is to say who are over 25 and are therefore presumed to be on the high road to old maidhood. The confirmed bachelors announced their intention of eating, drinking, laughing and dancing with the old maids every month. But their very hardness may be their undoing.—London Telegraph.

Why a Horse Rolls.

Horses are fond of rolling on the ground and no animal more thoroughly shakes itself than they do. After a roll they give themselves a shake or two to remove anything adhering to the coat. The habit is of much service to horses living in open plains. On being turned loose at the end of a journey an Arab horse rolls in the sand, which acts as blotting paper, absorbing exudations from the body. A shake removes the sand, and the coat soon dries. Cavalrymen in hot climates sometimes put sand on their horses as the simplest and quickest way to dry them.—Selborne Magazine.

Barmains in South Australia.

South Australia is suffering from a barmad famine. Two years ago barmads were abolished by that State by act of Parliament. No more could be legally engaged, but those already employed could remain on condition that they registered themselves. There are now only 400 of them left, and the competition for their services was that their wages jumped from 25 shillings to £3 a week. The bote that have had to employ barmen report a considerable change for the worse in their receipts.—London Chronicle.

Opium Smuggled in Barrel Staves.

Through some clever work on the part of the customs secret services men 199 cans of opium hidden in the staves of barrels containing lamp blacking were seized and the would-be importer and his assistants were arrested. As the staves of the barrels were rather thick just in the centre instead of being hollowed, the smugglers had carved out a small sort of pocket large enough to contain a narrow can of opium in each stave. When the staves were set together it was impossible to see these openings.—Manilla Times.

COOLO

Best Toilet Article Made Takes the Place of Cold Cream and Toilet Water

WOMEN PRAISE IT'S MERITS

Coolo is absolutely free from grease. It removes every particle of dirt from the pores and instead of enlarging the pores as most face creams do, it reduces them; thus giving the skin a smooth, velvety appearance. One of the most striking features of Coolo is that it will not encourage the growth of hair on the face.

MEN USE IT AFTER SHAVING

An application of Coolo after shaving leaves a cool, pleasant and healing sensation. Men find it indispensable.
