VOL. XLV. NO. 7.

THE RECORD: NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1914.

$1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

ELECTRIC LIGHT QUESTION MONDAY

GO AND VOTE AS TO WHETHER YOU WANT TO SELL ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT OR OPPOSE IT.

The question of selling the Northville electric light plant to the Edison company comes up for the people's vote next Monday, September 14. It's a question that every person should study carefully for himself and go to the polls and mark in his little yes or no.

The question is whether Northville people will be the gainer or loser by the sale.

The fairness and reliability of the Edison people is unquestioned. The value put on the Northville plant appears fair. The rate offered seems to be as good as Northville is getting at the present time.

The only question then to consider is whether the Northville plant can be run at a profit, whether it will be more profitable to continue the plant under municipal government.

Every voter should show his interest in the matter by going to the polls on Monday and casting a vote one way or the other.

LAWRENCE-NIVER.

Samuel J. Lawrence, one of Northville's best known residents for a number of years past, was united in marriage at Marshall, Michigan, on Saturday, August 29, to Mrs. Emma A. Niver of Albion. The bride is prominent in W. R. C. circles having held the important office of Department secretary two years ago, and that of delegate from Michigan to the National convention last year. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence will reside in Detroit. They are now boarding at 483 Sheridan avenue.

Boys State Fair Will Educate This Fall

THE influence of the Boys State Fair school, a novel educational feature of the Michigan State Fair during the past few years, is being felt throughout the state. More boys wrote for the examinations the past spring than ever before, and practically every county in Michigan will be represented this year. The qualifications are that the boy must be between the ages of twelve and eighteen and that he must pass a better examination than any other boy in his county, 50 per cent being counted on the regular eighth grade school test, and 50 per cent on his answers to a series of questions most of which involve practical agriculture and which are submitted by a board comprising the county commissioners, the schools, the master of Pomona grange of the county and the president of the Farmers' Institute society. Each boy represents his county and is the guest of the fair management throughout the exhibition.

The broadening influence gained by the boys during the novel school is invaluable. They are shown all the latest machinery, hear lectures upon crops and the care of stock, witness soil demonstrations, learn how milk is tested and kept pure and see how good roads are made.

"The boys' school this year will be better than ever," says Thomas M. Sattler of Jackson, member in charge. "Many of the commissioners have given additional prizes, such as a five dollar gold piece or a large United States flag. The names of the boys who will represent the various counties are being compiled and will be made known in the near future."

WEEK'S CALENDAR

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)

With the return of teachers and pupils the Sunday school will resume its usual work. Teachers and officers are especially urged to be present next Sunday when arrangements will be made for the coming rally.

The Protestant churches of the community have set aside one week from Sunday for the "Second Annual Community Church Day." It is expected that this year the attendance will go far beyond that of last year. The morning services, the Sunday school and Young Peoples' societies will hold their meetings as usual. Each organization will conduct fully services as they see fit, but the services of the day will close with a mass meeting in the Methodist church at which time an outside speaker will deliver the address. Presbyterians and friends are requested to strive in every way possible to make this day a success.

On Monday night the Queen Esther Circle will hold its September meeting in the parsonage at 7:00 o'clock.

NORTHVILLE WILL HAVE TABERNACLE

IN BUILDING ON CENTER ST. TO BEGIN OCT. 4 AND END NOV. 1.

A big tabernacle with a seating capacity of 1200 is to be built on Will Lanning's lot on Center street for a campaign to be conducted by Ira Elans Hicks of Chicago and his co-laborers.

This novel and attractive building will be erected by the men of the village under direction of an expert laborer. Material will arrive soon for this big building.

The meetings will start October 4 and end November 1. Committees are actively at work preparing the details of the campaign.

Among the features of these four weeks' meetings will be a chorus of 150 voices, in charge of O. A. Check of Columbus, Ohio.

The merchants will be asked to begin their early closing so that all can have a chance to attend. Customers will add greatly by shopping early so that stores need not keep open for anyone.

NOTICE.

Miss Helen E. Fitzgerald, graduate of Michigan Conservatory of Music, specialized teacher of violin, also teacher of mandolin and piano accompanying, has organized a class in Northville and will teach at Mr. Myron D. Taylor's residence, Verkeas avenue, on Saturdays. Anyone wishing to study may make arrangements on that day.

CIGARS ARE BARRED.

Lighted Ones Not Permitted in Pre-payment Cars, Even if Not Puffed.

The Electric News desires to call the attention of patrons of the Detroit United Lines to two very important rules going into effect Sept. 22 with the new rule book.

Rule 247 is intended to do away with numerous complaints that conductors forget to give the full amount of change when more than the proper amount is tendered for fare. The rule will read:

"When a passenger desiring to purchase tickets tenders more than the required amount conductors must first return change and then hand tickets to passengers."

Thus you will get your change first and your tickets afterwards.

Rule 160 refers to smoking by passengers and in addition to the present prohibition against smoking, including no smoking on pre-payment cars with open back platforms, prohibits the carrying of lighted cigars or cigarettes on pre-payment cars, even if the passenger is not puffing. This part of the rule reads:

"Passengers with lighted cigars or cigarettes will not be permitted to board pre-payment cars."

The smell of a dying cigar is more offensive to most people than a full burning cigar; although its range is not so great its effect within the range of the nasal organ is decidedly vile.

Let us please the ladies by doing our smoking where it ought to be done—out of range of their nostrils.

Will you help carry out this rule with the least possible dispute or confusion.—Electric Railway Service.

NO DULL MOMENTS AT THE BIG FAIR THIS YEAR.

Circus Attractions to Present Acts in Front of Grand Stand.

If there is a dull moment at the State Fair this year it will not be the management's fault. Never before has so much attention been given to amusement features as this season and to cap the sheet a program of tree attractions will be given every afternoon and evening in front of the grand stand. These for the most part include spectacular acts which are on tour with one or another of the great circuses. Briefly, they are as follows:

The Seven Arabian Genies, whirlwind acrobats, who are making their first visit to this country, show a one ring circus a feature wherever it has been shown, the four DeLoach brothers French acrobats, now with the Hagenbeck & Wallace show; the two flying Moors, a trapeze casting act, and the Casting Devils, acrobats. Edward R. Hutchins and his team of balloonists will make ascensions with four balloons giving opportunity for four parachute leaps. The Fun Makers' Quartet will sing in the grand stand, and the Kilted Band will furnish a selected program each afternoon and evening, interspersing the band singing and dancing with the musical numbers.

A stage 30 by 40 feet will be erected directly in front of the grand stand, and upon this the acts will be presented.

The fireworks displays will be different each evening, the firing of Vera Cruz by the United States marine being one of the features.

The vanderville acts will be sandwiched between the harness races during the afternoons and the different events of the horse show at night.

Rush Work on Hospital.

The illness of Dr. E. B. Smith, brigadier general of the National First Aid association, who was to be in charge of the erection of the Clara Barton hospital at the State Fair grounds, has prevented the work from being started ere this. General Manager Dickinson has taken the matter up, with Dr. Smith's aids, however, and the construction will go forward at once. The building will be completed in time for use during the Fair, the weeks of Sept. 7-18.

First to Practice Palmistry.

Gypsies introduced the practice of palmistry into England. This appears from a statute of 1531 called an "Acte concerning Egyptians," which recites that "afore this tyme dyvers and many outlandyshe People, callinge themselves Egyptians, using no crafts nor faicte of marchandise, have comen into this Realme and gone from Shire to Shire and Place to Place, and used greute subtilty and crafty meanes to deceyve the people that they by palmestrie could tell menne and womens fortunes, and have by crafts and subtiltye deceyved the people of their money."

Decided Change.

Mrs. Brown—Do you think marriage changes a man?

Mrs. Jones—Vastly. Look at my husband. He used to offer me a penny for my thoughts; now he offers others me $50 to shut up.

SWISS IN AMERICA ASKED FOR AID

Washington.—The Swiss legation has issued an appeal to the Swiss people in the United States to raise a relief fund for their native land. The legation says:

"Through the complete cobolization of the Swiss army, with every available man between 20 and 42 years under arms, thousands of families are deprived of their supporters."

Ruler of Albania is a Near-Giant.

The newly appointed king of Albania has probably taken on the toughest monarchial job in all Europe. His subjects are almost all Christians. Albanians crucified and roasted 200 of their Mussulman compatriots and everyone walks about armed to the teeth. King William, who stands 6 feet 7 inches high, is the nephew of Queen Elizabeth of Roumania, the celebrated "Carmen Sylva" of literature.

School Children Need Much Play.

Play is all important for the child. Children very early become interested in games and sports. Rarely are there essential defects in those which they enjoy. Sports may give the growing boy or girl too long or too severe exercise. They should be supervised just as closely by father and wiser heads as all other parts of the child's life. All sorts of whole some out-of-doors activities are to be encouraged, as they furnish a safe outlet for the energy of adolescent youth.

Next Year—See America First.

Bangor Daily Commercial American tourists who are abroad are now, for the most part, using every endeavor to return home. The majority will probably have no extreme difficulty in remaining outside of the sphere of action of the war, but the sightseeing trips will be greatly curtailed. However, for those who soon arrive in the home country the disappointment of having their trip broken up will be compensated by relief at arriving once more in the good old United States of America.

Apple Crop Is Large.

Estimates of the apple crop in South Missouri and Northwestern Arkansas by a "man on the ground" place the shipments at 3,333 cars, which is three-fold larger than last year.

Great Grandparents Wed.

At Mena, Ark., David G. Miller, 82 years old, and Mrs. Verhille Stawson, 78, of Egmont, Ark., were recently married by a justice of the peace. The couple have 103 children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Woman Captures Spy.

A woman caught a German spy on the train from Antwerp to Brussels in the act of releasing carrier pigeons, which he had concealed in a bag. She seized and held him until other passengers went to her assistance. The man was handed over to the military authorities. He was tried by court-martial and shot.

Carranza Now Pres.

General Venustiano Carranza, chief of the constitutionalists, is now president of Mexico, having entered the capital last week, accompanied by a large part of his army and his new cabinet. On the day previous General Obregon, at the head of 12,000 troops, triumphantly entered Mexico City and assumed control, the federal soldiers withdrawing. It is reported that 5,000 federal troops at Guadalupe have issued a manifesto refusing to abide by the peace treaty. As they are surrounded by constitutionalists they are not feared.

Too Sympathetic.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: Senators who delay and oppose the bill admitting foreign-built ships to American registry in this crisis, on the ground that the action may inflict loss upon the poor little American shipping trust, are too sympathetic by far. They should do their duty, calm their passions, and sacrifice their corporate affections upon the altar of stern public duty. Otherwise their constituents may be tempted to make the sacrifice, with the sobbing senators upon the sacrificial altar.

Cloudburst in Calhoun County

Thousands of Dollars' Damage Done by Rains. Kalamazoo, Mich.—On Sept. first Southwestern Michigan experienced the worst cloudburst it ever suffered to face what promises to be a disastrous flood. Two trains wrecked—one the Northland special on the Grand Rapids & Indiana—complete suspension of railway traffic on four lines, thousands of dollars' damage to improved roads and the destruction of dozens of bridges and culverts throughout this part of the state—this constitutes a slight portion of the havoc wrought by the storm which prevailed for about three hours. Records show that in some places the water fell was nearly 10 inches. Gulf lake in less than two hours rose 12 inches.

Electrical Storm Hits Barry County.

Hastings, Mich.—Several losses were caused by two severe electrical storms which passed over the northern part of Barry county recently. Lightning destroyed a large barn filled with hay on a farm in Carlton township owned by Clayton Hinkley, of Hastings. The loss was $1,200. A horse belonging to Fra Caswell, a farm tenant, was cremated. Other animals were rescued. Another bolt killed three horses on James Johnson's farm in Carlton.

Woman's Cry Brings Help.

Kalamazoo, Mich.—When two highwaymen entered her store and demanded her money, Mrs. John Steele didn't faint. She grabbed one by the arm as he tried to get her pocketbook out of an apron pocket. Then she cried for help as loud as she could. John Sweeney, one of the alleged robbers, who had remained at the door to watch for possible interference, started to run down the street. A railway employee hearing the cries of the woman, grabbed him. Just then Joseph Harris, the other alleged highwayman, emerged from the store with Mrs. Steele holding his arm. Another railway employee grabbed Harris. Harris and Sweeney are in jail.

Four Die When Vandalia Train Hits Loaded Auto.

Albion, Mich.—A fast train on the Vandalia line at Collinsville, Ill., smashed into the automobile of M. H. Pahl, of Lamont, Okla., and killed Mr. Pahl, his wife and daughter, Elsie, all of Lamont, and Robert Greenman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Greenman, of Albion. Sunday, according to a wire received from the Collinsville coroner. Mr. and Mrs. Pahl were on their first journey back to Albion since their marriage here over 30 years ago, while Greenman, their nephew, had been visiting them this summer.

P. M. Fails to Pay Taxes.

Lansing, Mich.—Failure on the part of the receivers of the Pere Marquette Railroad Co. to pay their 1913 state taxes cost the company $5,000 additional in penalties. The road owes the state more than a half a million in taxes and each month that elapses without payment means an additional penalty of one per cent. The state treasurer will make his monthly report and there will be approximately $3,000,000 still in the state's strong box. Officials of the treasury say there will be a small sum on hand by the time state taxes are again collected.

BABY TURTLES ARE CAUTIOUS.

No Sooner Out of the Egg Than They Scurry Down to the Sea.

Just as soon as a baby turtle emerges from the egg off he scurries down to the sea, says the Los Angeles Times. He has no one to teach him, no one to guide him. In his curious little brain there is implanted a streak of caution period in his life his armor is soft and no defense against hungry fish, and he at once seeks shelter in the tropical profusion of the Gulf weed, which holds within its branching fronds an astonishing abundance of marine life. Here the young turtle feeds unmolested while his armor undergoes the hardening process.

Whatever the young sea turtle eats and wherever he eats it—facts not generally ascertained—one thing is certain, it agrees with him immensely. He leads a pleasant sort of life, basking in the tropical sun and cruising leisurely in the cool depths.

Once he has attained the weight of twenty-five pounds which usually occurs within the first year, the turtle is free from all danger. After that no fish or mammal, however voracious, however well armed with teeth, interferes with the turtle.

How Shakespeare Spoke.

Shakespeare would find his lines as sacred by the actors of to-day almost as intelligible, according to Daniel Jones, who gave an address before the Elizabethan Society.

To prove his contention Mr. Jones recited "The Seven Ages" as Shakespeare himself would have spoken it. The effect was a hotch-potch of a dozen dialects of to-day. The broad "a's" justified the Lancastrian "feytner" instead of father, and the Cockney nasal "t" sounds found full satisfaction in words such as maid.

Other of Mr. Jones's examples of Elizabethan pronunciation have no parallels in modern dialects. Watch was made to rhyme with catch, should with cooled, brew with new. Fifth and sixth, he said, were pronounced without the final "th" sound, and the word sea was accorded a final sound equivalent to the French "e."

An English Trait.

Mr. Runciman testifies that it used to be a saying among the Turks in Constantinople that, whenever a man was drunk, it was conclusive proof he was an Englishman. That reminds one of the story current in Oxford some years ago that in a certain eastern country the populace would cry "Ox! Ox!" after an inebriated person—the explanation being that an august native had brought the habit home with him as the most visible result of his English university training. There is a phrase of our own which is almost as bad—"as drunk as a lord." Probably that was not intended in reproach of the peerage, but simply expressed the envy of the humbler Englishmen in less sober days than those toward a class who could afford continuing to do what he would if he could.—London Chronicle.

King Victor as Numismatist.

King Victor's interest in numismatics is well known, and his Majesty has given added proof of his enthusiasm in this direction by publishing a book dealing with all coins minted in Italy or by Italians abroad since the Middle Ages. The first volume of the work, which is entitled "Corpus Numorum Italorum," contains some remarkably interesting material relating to the coinage minted during the time of the princes of the House of Savoy, and includes a series of forty-two finely reproduced plates.—London Globe.

Wedding Ring Mourning.

"Make a note of this," said the jeweler, "Last Thursday a Russian living in a flat above this shop died. The next day his widow brought us her wedding ring and a piece of fine silky black crape to cover it with. She thought we could make a neater job of it than she could. She expects to keep the ring in mourning for six months. She says it is the custom in her home town in Russia for widows to cover their wedding rings with black. I don't believe it will ever become popular here."—New York Sun.

Typhoid Fever Prevalent.

Montreal is said to be in a bad sanitary condition. The water supply has been condemned in parliament, and the method of sewage disposal is far from satisfactory. A medical member of parliament declares that the Montreal water furnished on the cars of the Intercolonial railway, where alcoholic drinks are not allowed, is a distinctly dangerous beverage containing "disease and death." Typhoid fever is prevalent in the city.

WHAT IS ADVERTISING?

On hand, nearly everyone who has not given the subject more study than to observe the universal prevalence of advertising would say, "It's blowing your own horn." But the true business man who has the problem of making a success of his enterprise it is the greatest science of commercialism.

"Advertising is mass salesmanship. Advertising is salesmanship with a multiplication table attached," is the way A. N. Fox, advertising manager of the Benjamin Electric Manufacturing company of Chicago, put it the other day at a luncheon. Stripped of its fuss and feathers, advertising is storing the prospect's mind with good impressions of good goods. It is successful in proportion to the impression brought about. Advertising is the greatest most economical medium for the sale of goods. It is to the commercial life what electricity is to industrial life. It has grown astonishingly, but a greater growth is yet before it.

The preacher has a hard time of it. If his hair is gray he is old. If he is a young man he hasn't had experience. If he has ten children he has too many. If he has none he should have and isn't setting a good example. If his wife sings in the choir she is presumptuous. If she doesn't she isn't interested in her husband's work. If a preacher reads his notes he is a bore. If he speaks extemporaneously he is not deep enough. If he stays at home in his study he does not mix enough with the people. If he is seen around on the street he ought to be at home getting up a good sermon. If he calls on some very poor family he is playing to the gallery. If he calls at the home of the rich he is an aristocrat. Whatever he does someone could have told him better. He has a fine time living on donations which never come in, and promises that never mature. Next to being an editor the preacher has the world beat for a lot of practical slides down the toboggan of time.

The Farmington Express says that Harrison Johnson is carrying out of the mill roughs there. "Some task for Harrison," said Scott Lyon Herald. "Hill tops Johnsons are some pumpkins when it comes to carrying things. There's one 'F' Washington carrying around a whole ball team and another over the water some place hugging around a world's championship fighting belt."

Over near New Hudson on the Grand River road there's a half mile stretch of gravel evidently put down by a drunken man who was full of snakes.

INTEREST IN HORSE IS UNABATED DESPITE AUTOS

Evening Equine Show at State Fair Attracts Much Attention.

That the advent of the automobile in nowise has caused an abating of interest in the saddle and in the harness horse is evident from the attention the evening horse show at the Michigan State Fair attracts each year. A love for beautiful horses seems inherent in Americans, and no matter what new methods of locomotion are discovered or invented the horse still will have its place. An exceptional interest is being taken in the horse show at the Fair Sept. 7-18 this year, and as a further stimulation the management makes known that additional awards are offered for these classes.

"Although the automobile gets one out in the open air, it does not furnish one with the exercise needed," said George W. Dickinson, general manager of the State Fair. "The center in the park and along the boulevards which gets the blood dancing in one's veins is missed, and it is not long before the man who is cooped up with his dustiness, all day leaves his car in the garage and has his saddler brought round to him each morning. He is aware that exercise is needed to keep the human machinery working smoothly, and he knows of no more enjoyable way to get than a ride on a mettled horse. This is a sentiment that the horse has not lost sight of."

J. D. Terrill of Washington, D. C., and his daughter, Mrs. Guy Lynn Noble of Syracuse, N. Y., and Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Terrill of Big Rapids, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Terrill and Mr. and Mrs. R. M.

Judging Horses at the State Fair

ALTHOUGH the automobile has come to stay and is finding a place on the farm as it has in the city, horses still are indispensable. No farmer in the state of Michigan can get all his tasks done by motor; he has to have a horse, and no place on the State Fair grounds draw greater and more attentive crowds than the horse barn and the judging paddock. From early in the morning, when the first horses are led into the square, until twilight, when the judging is knocked off for the day, the paddock fence is black with spectators.

Terrill, left for their respective homes last week Thursday.

Ira C. Holt spent Sunday in London, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. VanAken of Detroit were Northville visitors part of this week.

Mrs. B. C. Stark who is in Harper hospital, Detroit, after undergoing an operation, is much better.

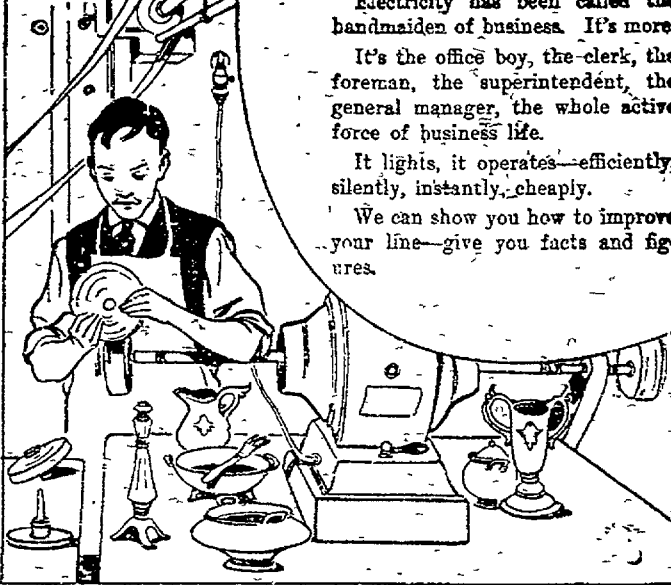

C. B. Gillis and Arthur Gillis of Great Bend, Kan., Miss Jeanie Gillis of Moravia and Mrs. G. C. Hueston of Detroit were guests at the home of Mrs. Lucy E. Gillis last Friday.

The view shows the judges passing upon the draft horse class. There never is a moment in the day when the stand which can be seen at the end of the paddock is not occupied to its capacity. It would surprise a novice to know how closely the work of the judges is watched by those people who have no particular interest in which animal is picked to wear the blue rosette and how much sense they display in their comments.

Monday was generally observed as a legal holiday, the majority of the stores being closed. No Labor day attractions were offered and our streets were so quiet that it seemed like Sunday.

Now that the lawyers, doctors,

Miss Margaretha Weiler, who was

There was almost an attempt to rob the till in the telephone office frightening the girls on duty. After some time, however, they left without

The Record is informed by several of its readers that the Pierce-Nagel wedding last week was not North-ville's first church wedding.
While it was the first, except one, in a long time, numerous similar functions took place in former years.
Among these were the marriage of Miss Eleanor Starkweather to Mr.
E. B. Thompson, Miss Mattie Yerkes to Dr. Mackenzie, Miss Sarah Scott to Dr. Jackson, Miss Kate Dubuar to Mr. Charles Williams and Miss Jane recent church wedding that we failed to remember until reminded of it, was that of Miss Mabel Oldenburg to Rev.

German church. Thus we "take it all back" and are willing to be fur-

TEN STAKE RACES
AT STATE FAIR

Purses Reach $60,000; Early Closing Events Filled.

PROGRAM TWO WEEKS LONG.

Best Stables in Country Are Being Attracted—Speeders From Over the Border Will Face Wire—Finest Racing Events in Fair's History.

A speed program, the like of which has never been seen at a Michigan State Fair, has been arranged by the Michigan State Agricultural society for its sixty-fifth annual exhibition at Detroit, Sept. 7-18. Two solid weeks of racing have been carded, with the purses so liberal that large fields are insured for all. No less than ten stake events have been arranged with purses ranging from $5,000 to $15,000. The entries for these have all been closed, and the class of horses that will face the wire portends that turf history will be made. The stakes are scattered through the two weeks, one coming each day.

Notable among the stakes are the Michigan, for 2 12 trotters, the Althen, for 2 14 trotters, and the Postal, for 2 11 pacers, purses of $5,000 being hung up for each of these. The first named will be trotted the first week and the others the second. An other stake in the first week's list which has attracted attention is the 2 17 trot, the entries being limited to those horses owned in Michigan April 1 of the present year. The other stake events are as follows: Detroit stake, 2 05 class, trotting purse of $8,000;
Windsor stake 2 11 class, pacing, $3,
600 Wayne stake, free for all pace, $3,000, Fifehead stake 2 05 class trotting, $2,500, Newton stake, $2,500;
Dickinson stake, 2 19, trot, $1,500.

Many Class Races.
In addition to the early closing events the following class races with uniform purses of $1,000 will be run each week: 2 23 pace, 2 13 pace, 2 15 pace, 2 13 pace, 2 05 pace, 2 07 pace, 2 05 pace, 2 24 trot, 2 20 trot, 2 14 trot, 2 10 trot, free for all trot and Conner's handicap.

A race program is as indispensable to a fair as a merry-go-round, and the management aims this season to present to the lovers of this sport in Michigan the best that is obtainable.
The value of the purses is such that the best horses in the country are being attracted here, and that is a guarantee of the competition that will result.
All the stables known up and down the big line will be represented, and there will be many speeders from over the border.

Fred Postal, Eugene Fifehead and G.
W. Dickinson are the members of the State Fair's board of directors who compose the speed committee.

Break Ground For Hospital.
Ground has been broken, for the Cora B. ton hospital building, which will stand just north of the automobile building and to the west of the dairy building. The structure, two stories in height and in the comfortable colonial style, is being erected under the direction of Dr. E. B. Smith, brigadier general of the Michigan division of the National First Aid society. The building will contain fourteen beds and an operating room and will be equipped as completely as a modern hospital. A staff of physicians and nurses will be in constant attendance during the two weeks of the fair.

M. Brock & Co. wish to announce that they will show the finest line of Ladies' cloaks they have ever had in their new cloak room Saturday, September 12. You are invited.

TO SHOW PERSIAN FUR SHEEP

Only Specimens of Breed in United States Come to State Fair.

Through the efforts of George W.
Dickinson, general manager, the Michigan State Fair, which holds its sixty-fifth annual exhibition on Sept. 7-18, has secured one of the most novel and interesting features that ever have been shown in Michigan. It is a flock of Persian fur sheep, imported by F. E.
Dawley, Fayetteville, N. Y., and the only specimens of this breed in North America. The exhibit is of moment because the sheep are such a rarity and also because the United States government is contemplating the development of this breed in this country.

The Persian fur sheep are the producers of the Persian fur, for which there is such an enormous demand today. It is so great, in fact, that the value of each one of the sheep in this flock is $1,000 or more. The long, silky fleeces and peculiar texture of the wool or fur, as it is called, make the animals beautiful creatures to look upon.

Since the Persian fur came into such favor the United States department of agriculture investigated as to whether this breed of sheep can be raised in the United States. The result has been encouraging, and it is expected an official demonstration will be made by the department of agriculture. The flock that Mr. Dawley will bring to Michigan consists of burks, ewes and lambs. They will be shown at the New York State Fair at Syracuse, will come to the Michigan State Fair for two weeks and then go to the Kentucky State Fair.

Great Midway at the Fair.
The Midway that not of noise and amusement which makes a fair beloved of old and young, will be more attractive than ever at the Michigan State Fair, which will be held at Detroit, Sept. 7-18. The shows which will be presented along the sidewalk walk this year are of the highest grade obtainable, and General Manager Dickinson promises a number of rare surprises for Fair patrons.
