FRATERNAL INSURANCE AMENDMENT BAD

PROPOSED CHANGE IN STATE LAW WOULD WORK INJURY IT IS SAID.

GOOD PLACE TO VOTE NO ON AT THE NOVEMBER ELECTION.

At the request of the state insurance department, Atty-Gen. Fellows has given an opinion relative to the effects which the amendment to the constitution initiated by the New Era association would have on fraternal insurance organizations in Michigan. His opinion is rather unfavorable to the amendment, which would effect 367,514 policy holders in such organizations in the state.

He holds that if it is adopted, the state would be unable to compel fraternal organizations to keep their assessments high enough to furnish adequate protection to their policy holders, and that no provision is made for the incorporation of new organizations.

He holds that the amendment would prevent the legislature from compelling a society to have a ritual and lodge system, but not prohibit a society from having the same should it so desire.

He is of the opinion that societies domiciled in other states particularly those to which the mobile or New York conference bill is in effect (and such is the case in a majority of the states), could not continue to operate in Michigan, and conversely Michigan societies would either have to withdraw from those states or re-incorporate in some other state and withdraw from Michigan.

It looks like a good amendment on which to vote NO.

JOHN E. MORSE GETS DECISION

SUPREME COURT SAYS HE IS HEIR TO ROLLIN MORSE ESTATE.

POINT AS TO NEXT OF KIN BY BLOOD RELATIONSHIP EX-PLAINED BY COURT.

In the case of J. E. Morse et al vs Deborah Lowe (estate of) the supreme court has rendered a decision for the plaintiff (Morse).

John W. Morse left a will, some years ago, giving his property for a life term to his son Rollin with a proviso that if Rollin died without children (which was the case) then the property should go to "his next of kin by blood relationship." Deborah Lowe was Rollin's aunt, Susan Jones was an aunt, Mary Ackley was a half-sister of Rollin's mother and John Morse was a half brother of his mother. The point was as to what was meant "by next of kin by blood relationship." The contention was made that as John E. Morse and Mary Ackley were only half-sister and half-brother of Rollin Morse's mother that they were not heirs by the "blood" relationship" clause. The supreme court's decision however says: "The next of kin, unless otherwise stated, include half-blood as well as whole blood."

This confirms the decision made by Judge Smith of Pontiac in the circuit court in chancery, and the estate valued at $10,000 will go to the four heirs (or estates) share alike. John E. Morse is a resident of near this village where he is well known.

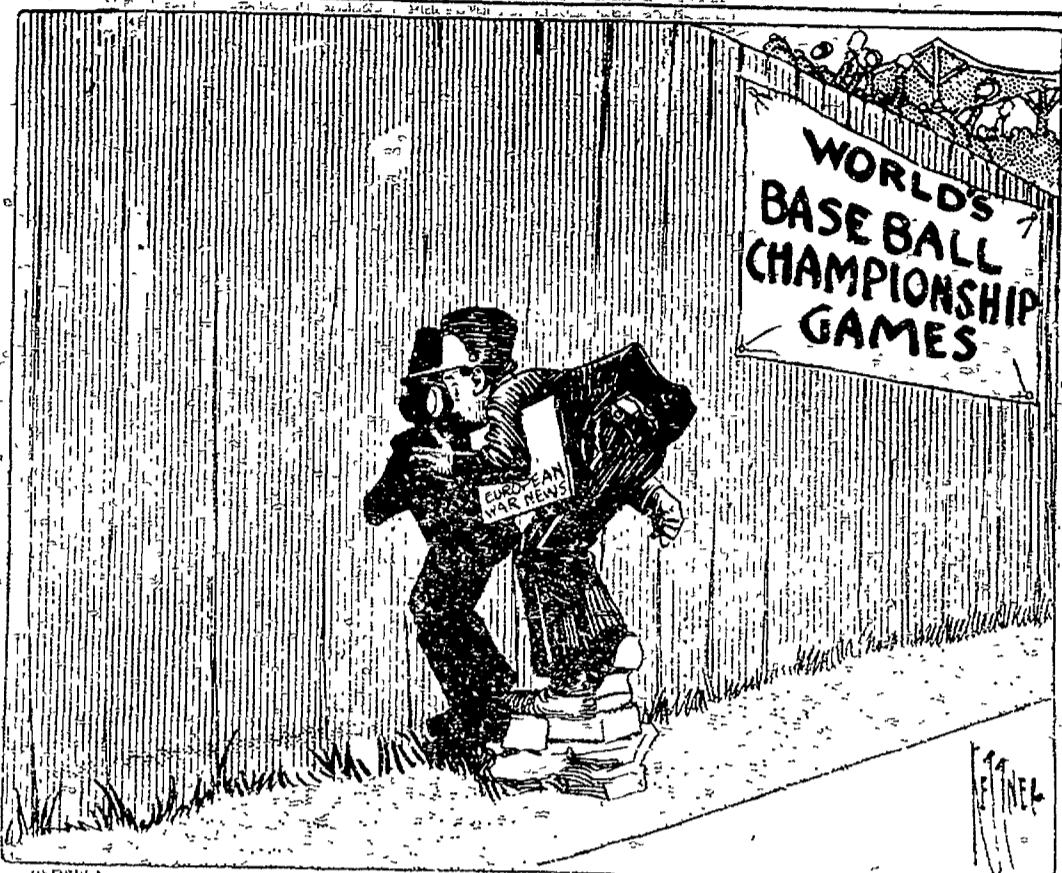

EDWARD GAYDE FOR REPRESENTATIVE.

Edward Gayde of Plymouth, who is the Republican nominee for representative from this district should receive the unqualified support of his party. He is a prominent and successful business man in his own town, and the equipment necessary to attain to the position he occupies in the business world and to win the esteem of his fellow townsmen, indicates beyond doubt his ability to fill the office he seeks. The voters of his district cannot do better than to put their interests at the state capital in Mr. Gayde's hands.

THE TABERNACLE MEETINGS.

The Tabernacle meetings continue to draw large crowds. Last Sunday night was a record breaker for attendance, there being more than 1,500 present, many being unable to find seats. Evangelist Hicks is certainly a great talker and uses a lot of the Billy Sunday tactics to a good advantage. The singing was also especially good.

Ladies' meeting Saturday afternoon. Subject: "The Crown Jewel."

The special topic for men next Sunday afternoon is "Broke in a Big City."

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Vaudeville of the usual high order is scheduled on next week's program at the new Orpheum theater, Detroit. Nine Stage Struck Kids in a musical comedy skit, "Fun in a Booking Agency" will furnish much of the fun with singing and dancing numbers interpolated in a plot that is described as a "scream." Other comedy acts sure to provoke laughs are Quinn Brothers and Drake in a burlesque drama, "A Fight for Fame," Dunlap and Vardin, who bill their offering as "Bits of Wit" and Mulumby and Musett, entertainers of a high order. Other acts scheduled include the Five O'Connor Sisters, Irish girls who sing splendidly, Zampa and Zampa, in a musical novelty and the Alpha Troupe, hoop rollers and jugglers. New Hearst-Selig motion pictures of war scenes will be shown on the Orpheum graph screen and half-hour concerts by Hyman Granover and his orchestra of 10 musicians complete the entertainment.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Charles LaFever sincerely thanks the L. O. T. M. M., the Forsters, The King's Daughters, and all other friends for flowers sent and other kindness shown during her recent illness.

L. O. T. M. M. INSTALLATION.

The newly elected officers of the Northville L. O. T. M. M. were installed Tuesday evening in the presence of 32 of the Plymouth live and members of the local society, to the total of 100. A delicious dinner was served in the dining room of Catermole's hall at 6:00 o'clock, the table being beautifully decorated with autumn foliage. After a social hour Deputy Carrie Gilbert of Detroit acted as installing officer with her customary grace. The officers are:

Commander - Adella Braden
Past Com. - Ella Taft
Lieut. Com. - Pauline Cole
Record Keeper - Clara Masters
Finance Keeper - Myrtle Brown
Baptism - Jennie McCullough
Sergeant - Lena Kimmel
Mistress at Arms - Ida Stage
Pickett - Minnie Staley

Following this came an elaborate program of recitations, dialogues, music and songs with a tableau as a grand finale. A new guard drill was also executed in a praiseworthy manner. Informal dancing closed a pleasant evening's entertainment.

PRESBYTERIANS HAVE NEW PIPE ORGAN

PURCHASED AND INSTALLED AFTER MUCH WORK BY SOCIETIES IN RAISING FUNDS.

ANDREW CARNEGIE RESPONDED TO APPEAL WITH $750 FOR SAME.

The new pipe organ for which the Presbyterians have put forth all their energy the past year, has been installed and is now ready for use. On account of the tabernacle meetings which are now in progress, the organ will not be used until the first of November, when an organ recital will be given. Dedication services will be held the Sunday following.

The pipe organ fund has a varied history. Some ten years ago a number of Presbyterian ladies placed a small sum in the bank which was to be the nucleus of a fund for the purchasing of a new organ. Last year the amount and interest totaled $97 and with this offhand the Ladies' Aid society set out to earn a sufficient sum. Andrew Carnegie was appealed to and he responded with an offer of $750 if the remainder could be raised in one year. The Choral Union donated about $100, receipts from carntans. The other $1,111 was produced by the members of the Aid by various enterprises.

Owing to the peculiar style of architecture in the church it was necessary to buy a divided organ. The console, or box-like arrangement containing key board, etc., has been placed in the center of the rostrum and a set of pipes in each corner, with wire connections running along under the floor. The choir loft remains in its old position while the platform has been enlarged so as to accommodate both pulpit and console. The arrangement adds greatly to the attractiveness of the church interior, while as to tone the instrument is unusually sweet and mellow. The church people are to be congratulated. The organ was made by the Moller Co., of Hagerstown, Maryland, the largest pipe organ factory in the world, and the casing is a product of the Globe Furniture Co. of this place.

THE PERPLEXITIES OF DRESS.

Perhaps there is no one thing in a woman's life that is so constant and perplexing in its demands as the question of what to wear and how to make it. There was a time when all dresses had a certain uniformity of style, of material and of trimming, but in the passing years individual tastes and ideas have been given a fuller and in the choice of fabric, the cut of the garment, the blending of colors and the location of the trimming.

It has become impossible for the average department in a store to give large enough space and to make sufficient outlay to gather together all the encompassing woman demands, and so out of this change in merchandising has come the Women's Specialty Shop. Here it is possible for her to find in one department practically everything that she requires for the making or trimming of a dress or suit.

She now secures the services of a competent and suggestive saleswoman who plans with her, matches up the various fabrics, shows how appropriate colors may be combined, suggests the use of a particular kind of lace, or trimming and in every way endeavors to simplify and smooth over the perplexities every woman has in the making of her next season's dresses and wraps.

THE NEW YORK TRIMMING AND LINING HOUSE was established in Detroit 15 years ago for the purpose of supplying dressmakers and ladies' tailors with all the newest and latest ideas for the carrying on of their business, but in later years the women of not only Detroit, but of the vicinity, have also availed themselves of the advantage that a store of this kind offers.

Not only the latest ideas of the world's fashion centers can be secured at this store, but such a range of styles and patterns are shown that whether the need be for a simple dress or an elaborate gown, it is a comparatively easy matter to find just what is wanted.

Situated just around the corner from Woodward avenue, the main thoroughfare, on John R. street, it is convenient to every shopper; and another most important inducement is the fact that there is an unusual saving in the values offered.

There is a complete button-making, plaiting and hem-stitching department in connection and many cut of town dressmakers and others avail themselves of this part of their business as well as the selecting of laces and trimmings.

Every item for making the dress or suit that has proved its worth can be found here. Silks for trimmings, Satins for the linings, Velvets for suits or coats, Laces, Beaded and Spangle trimmings for the party gown, furs for the trimming of tunics, collars and cuffs, Nets, Chiffons, in fact it would be impossible to enumerate all the items that are carried in this complete women's store. But it would be well worth the time spent and effort made to visit this exclusive shop upon your next trip to Detroit.

If you cannot find what you require in your own home town they will be very glad to send samples and give prompt attention to any mail orders entrusted to them.

DETROIT THEATRES

The Garrick is running high grade attractions with no let-up and packed houses. The Detroit are playing to good houses with such plays as Billie Burke, Little Corporal and Maude Adams in the near future. The Temple continues to present high grade vaudeville for those who want the very best. A crowded house is the rule here so early orders are advised. The Miles, Orpheum and Palace give popular priced vaudeville which is drawing well, with shows every afternoon and evening. Holden Players at the Broadway and Permanent Players at the Avenue give superb stock shows at little prices. The Lyceum presents such shows as Sis Hopkins and standard musical comedies at popular prices. There are a lot of "movies" worth while and especially those at the Washington, where the finest photo plays of the decade are presented in a most alluring manner at little prices.

AT THE GAYETY

The present show is the famous "The Singing Girl" show that has received so much favorable attention and local praise. "The Singing Girl" is to give a most pleasant evening indeed. AT THE FOLLY

Hugh Smith brought back his big Folly Show recently, and owing to some recent changes in policy it is hoped the Folly will continue to supply the fine stock burlesque that made this house the mecca of pleasure lovers for so long a time. Mr. Smith announces that he will exert every effort and expense to provide the "boys" a show not to be seen elsewhere and it is a sure shot that Folly patrons will receive the best sort of shows and a royal good time, afternoons and evenings, from now on. The Folly is at Shelby and Lafayette and smoking is permitted—a good "stag" center for big times.

AT THE CADILLAC

Recent changes in the circuits of the Progressive houses have made it possible for the Cadillac to show some of the biggest shows on the road at no advance in prices. Treasurer Seidenburg has been busy with Manager Levy in New York to bring to Detroit the latest burlesque sensations, and this beautiful house will prove a source of real spice and ginger to those who are looking for the things to be found only in advanced burlesque of the highest type. The next week's show will contain sensational dances, a big beauty chorus, in abbreviated costumes. Swell singing and elegant sing and more fun than is usually allowed. The Cadillac is drawing mammoth houses which speaks well of the progressive policy steadily maintained at all times just opposite the Cadillac Hotel on Michigan avenue.

WAR CHANGES U. S. STAMP DESIGN.

To celebrate the 100th anniversary of the final peace between the United States and Great Britain, the U. S. Postoffice decided some time ago to have a special series of postage stamps printed. In the accepted design the American and British flags appeared side by side. But this is a bad year for such displays of international friendship.

There are said to be nearly or quite 1,000 varieties of rice in the Philippine islands. It is probable that some of these will prove nearly duplicates, but the actual number of varieties is very great.

EYE WITNESS DESCRIBES HORRORS OF WAR ON THE EUROPEAN BATTLEFIELDS

Paris.—The almost indescribable horror of the battlefield is suggested by a correspondent who followed in the wake of the armies as they drew away from Paris. Newspaper men are rigorously excluded from the region where fighting is or has recently been going on. But this particular correspondent was invited by a Red Cross surgeon to accompany him on a visit to the theater of activities.

"The most awful carnage in the world's history has strewn the battle region east and northeast of Paris with countless thousands of rotting French, English and German corpses and disemboweled carcasses of horses," the correspondent writes. "During an automobile tour I have just made of the vast battlefield between Marne and the Aisne I have seen evidences of the pitiless character of modern warfare far more appalling than the most morbid imagination could picture.

"So unspeakably horrible is the scene that it is probably principally with the object of preventing descriptions becoming public and making the whole world shudder that the French military chiefs so rigorously exclude war correspondents from the region.

"At an amazingly short distance from Paris, six days after the fighting, bodies are piled on the roadside in heaps, at the side of which stand a soldier with bayonet fixed further out bodies lie in all conceivable positions in ditches and fields.

"The air of these fields is overpowering. The dead are being buried as hastily as possible, but the battle carnage is so terrific it is impossible to keep time with the continuous slaughter.

"Near Compiègne I saw pickets feverishly packing their comrades' bodies beneath the ground. Packing is the only word for it. Trenches 150 yards long are dug in meadows. The bodies, each resting on its side, are then tightly packed like sardines throughout the length. Above them are placed another row of corpses laid on their backs. The trenches are then covered in. All passersby see in the fields are streaks of fresh earth, each one meaning 300 bodies more or less.

"How appalling has been the toll of guns last week is vividly shown by the immense number of these ghastly slashes in soil to be seen within two or three hours' automobile run of Paris.

"The grave diggers make a long ditch in the middle of the meadow, then collect all the dead soldiers lying within 200 or 500 yards, then move 400 or 500 yards away, making a new ditch. Each long ditch therefore contains those killed within a circle radiating from 300 to 400 yards from the common grave.

"The only preparation of the bodies for the grave was to remove the little tag containing a number worn around the neck of each soldier. These are collected together and sent to the headquarters of each brigade every day.

"The dead soldier is only a number, but his name is thus ascertained, and in the official reports of casualties the distinction made between the dead and 'missing.' Names not answering to roll call after each day's battle are accounted for as missing, unless the name and number has turned up in some of the field hospitals.

"Familiarity with these acres and acres of common graves along the beautiful valleys of the Marne, the Oise and the Aisne soon breeds indifference. After traveling for miles, along roads literally lined with bodies, many still in positions occupied at the time death overtook them—men begin to grow callous. Not only men but women, even such by women, acting as nurses, become insensible when firing ceases groups among heaps of bodies for wounded without flinching.

"While many of the wounds are too ghastly for description thousands of Germans are found lifeless, bearing no flesh wound, still kneeling in trenches with rifle at shoulder. Death in such cases is caused by the deadly gases emitted by chemical shells.

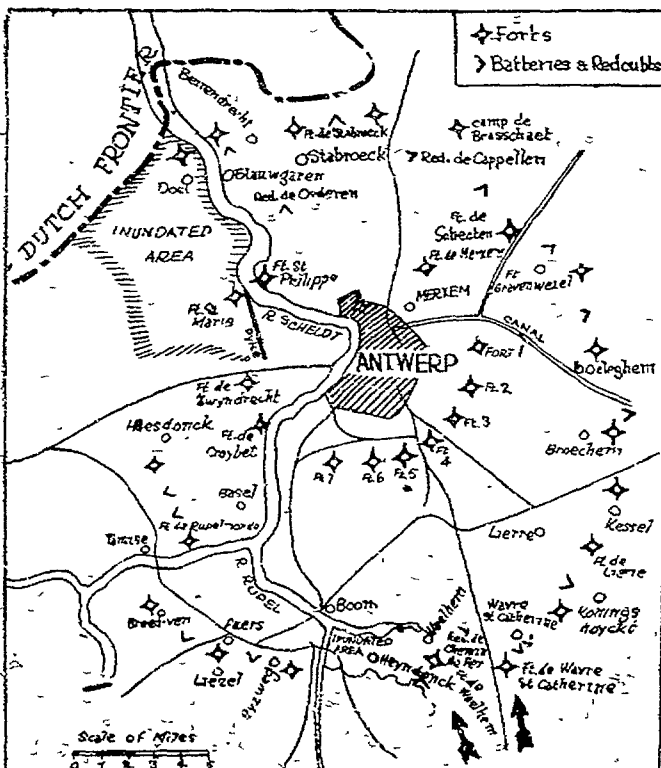

To Encourage Marriage.

Quick to realize, as did Germany, the necessity of a high birth rate to offset the deaths due to the war, a movement has been started in England to reduce the marriage tax and to encourage soldiers and sailors to take wives before leaving for the front. The archbishop of Canterbury has addressed an open letter on the subject to a London paper. In Germany a similar movement was inaugurated some time ago.

SIGHT BY WIRELESS LATEST INVENTION

You May See Your Girl Though Many Miles Away From Her

TELEPHONE FOR THE EYE

As Voice Sounds Are Transmitted So May Be Light Gradations.

London.—The annihilation of space by the wonders of modern science has been carried a step forward by the latest scientific discovery. What the telephone has done in the transmission of sound is now equalled by an invention for the transmission of light by wire.

The new invention enables the image of any object to be transmitted and reproduced before the eyes of a spectator miles away, just as the telephone transmits and reproduces the tones of the voice.

The inventor, Dr. M. A. Low, a London consulting engineer, has given a short description of the apparatus and method of the new wonder. The transmitter is a screen composed of cells of selenium, the electrical resistance of which varies according to the light that touches it. Over this screen there passes a synchronously running roller consisting of a number of pieces which are alternating conductors and insulators.

The roller is driven by a motor of 3,000 revolutions a minute, and the resulting variations of light are transmitted along an ordinarily conducting wire. The receiver is made up of a series of cells operated by the pulsations of steel and at this receiver the object which is before the transmitter is reproduced as a flickering image.

The process is described as a "kine-electrical principle." The system has been tested through a resistance equivalent to a distance of four miles, but in the opinion of Dr. Low there is no reason why it should not be equally effective over far greater distances.

"The tones of the human voice, of which there are hundreds of gradations," says Dr. Low, "can be reproduced by wireless telephony. The gradations of light are far simpler than those of sound, and it should be possible to devise a wireless means of transmission. I will commit myself to the prophecy that in fifty years people will look back with wonder at the days when it was necessary to be at a person's side in order to see him. When this day arrives consider how it will change the conditions of warfare. Imagine the altered methods of military operations when you can see what is happening miles away.

At present the image reproduced in of the size which the eye of a camera would take. It shows variations of light and shade somewhat in the degree of a half-tone block, but it does not reproduce color.

Dr. Low is well known in London as a consulting engineer and has engaged in laboratory research for the Government. A number of inventions stand to his credit including the low high pressure motor and a high-pressure petrol engine. The experiments in connection with light by wire have extended over five years.

In the transmitting screen a century may be replaced by any diamagnetic material. The cost of the apparatus is considerable, as the conductive surface of the roller are made of platinum.

HER BABY'S FIRST TEETH COST MOTHER A FINGER

Excitement Over Discovery in Child's Mouth Proves Costly to Both Parents.

Benvenue, Ark.—The excitement following the discovery of their baby's first tooth cost Martin Stuckley $50 and his wife one finger of her left hand. When Mrs. Stuckley discovered two teeth in her child's mouth, she thrust her finger on them in a hasty examination. She found that the infant knew what the teeth were for, for the little fellow sank them into his mother's finger.

The slight wound was not given any serious consideration until ten hours later when Mrs. Stuckley began to suffer great pain. A physician was summoned. He amputated the finger and left a bill of $50 for the operation and trip.

Tested and Proven

There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

"For months you have seen published the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit?" Mrs. Sarah E. Austin, Pearl St., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I suffered from distressing symptoms of kidney complaint for more than a year and when someone told me that Doan's Kidney Pills were effective in cases of this kind, I got a supply. They helped me immediately and I continued their use until I was well. I have had no need of Doan's Kidney Pills or any kidney medicine since. I can still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Austin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND THE CHURCH.

The severe arraignment by Evangelist Hicks of the pastors of churches and superintendents of Sunday schools for alleged ineffectiveness in getting children into the church from the Sunday schools and keeping them there, brings up a subject previously touched upon in these columns, that of the duty and necessity of bringing children up in the churches from their earliest years. We believe with Evangelist Hicks that if children were made members of the church even before they can understand at all the real meaning of such membership, and grew up in the belief that such membership is a matter of course for respectable people, there would be no necessity for special and prolonged efforts to awaken the public to the need of spiritual safety in later life. If christianity could be made as natural and as necessary as the air we breathe, by training and example up from the cradle, the Sunday schools would be as largely attended as the day schools and all would be church members. Among the denominations that consider their children members of their churches from the time they are baptized into the church as infants, revival meetings are unnecessary, and no special campaigning is needed to get and keep the children. Probably at least 80 or 90 per cent of children in any ordinary community are at one time or other Sunday school pupils, but a lamentably small number of the become members of the churches to which these Sunday schools belong. As they grow older they have nothing really effective to add to them as would the knowledge that they are and always have been a part of the great institution of the visible Church. Restriction regarding admission to membership that must convert the "accountable" to a more serious necessity to many persons of mature judgment and they feel that they are committing themselves to something of which they are afraid, instead of what should be a natural atmosphere.

BEAUTIFICATION OF LINCOLN HIGHWAY UNDERTAKEN BY WOMEN.

The General Federation of Women's clubs, which comprises a membership of more than a million women, has undertaken to beautify the route of the Lincoln highway from coast to coast, with trees, shrubs, flowers, memorial tablets marking historic points, etc. At the biennial held in Chicago in June, a Lincoln Highway tree planting committee was appointed under the chairmanship of Mrs E E Kendall, of Chicago. This committee which has branches in every state, has already conferred with Prof. Wilhelm Miller of the University of Illinois, as well as other well known horticultural experts, to the end that a suitable arrangement can be effected for each state, in keeping with the general idea and yet appropriate to the state. Trees and plants, indigenous to each state will be used and these will be selected with an idea of typifying the traits of Lincoln's character. The women of the nation intend to make the Lincoln Highway a route of beauty and inspiration from coast to the other.

Recent statement in the Detroit papers that ex-Governor Warner was to go out on the stump this fall for ex-Governor Osborn's candidacy is denied by the former. Governor Warner says that he will be glad to do all he can for the Republican ticket, but that he will not be interested in Governor Osborn's campaign. The Osborn unwarranted attack on Warner four years ago together with his denouncing of Patrick H. Kelley then candidate for nomination for governor, left a bad taste in the mouths of many other Republicans besides Governor Warner. Republicans may change their mind between now and the November election but a vote taken today would show Governor Ferris in the lead in Northville by a goodly sized majority.

As yet George Barr McCutchen's Graustark preserves her neutrality.

SELF-BOILING SOUP CAN.

One of the cleverest of the little labor-saving devices being constantly patented to bring housekeeping down to a mechanical basis, is a self-cooking soup-can. This is in really a double can, one fitted within the other with the intervening space filled with quick-lime. A single cover of softer tin fits over the top of both cans, the soup or whatever is to be heated being first put into the inner can. When the camper or picnicker is ready to heat the soup, the simple process of punching a hole in the outer rim of the lid allows a little water to be poured into the lime which immediately heats up and in a minute or two the soup in the inner can is thoroughly warmed by a calculation of the amount of lime needed to warm the soup to a temperature of seventy degrees.

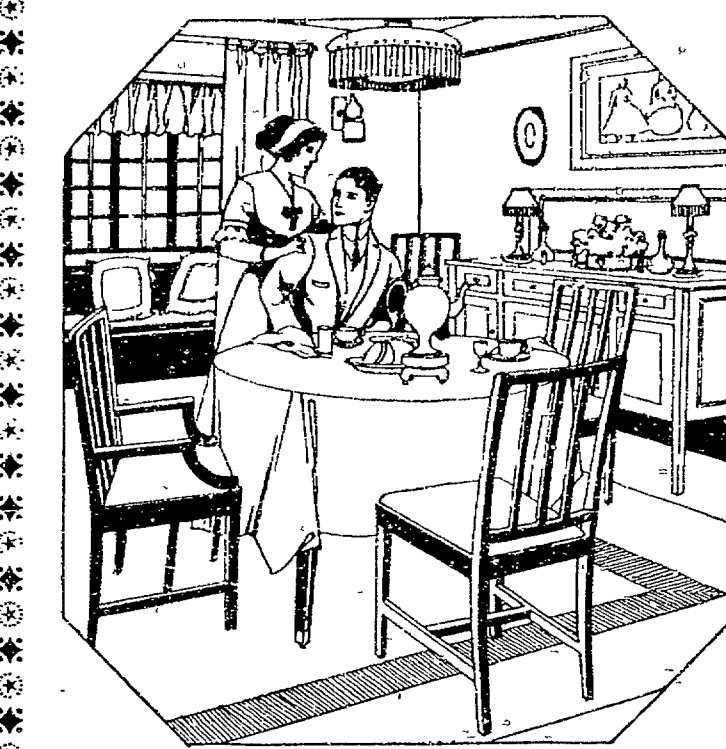

WHITE FRUIT CAKE.

To make an especially delicious cake of the lasting variety cream together one cupful of butter and two cupfuls of sugar and add one cupful of milk. Sift three cupfuls of flour, and one teaspoonful of baking powder three times and add to the mixture, and stir well. Slice very thin one pound of citron, blanch one pound of almonds and chop fine and grate one medium-sized fresh coconut and add to the mixture with one wineglassful of white wine, stirring enough to mix only. Last fold in the beaten whites of eight eggs. Bake in two loaves and cook in a moderate oven.

The Stone School house in what used to be known as the Blackwood District, a few miles northwest of this has been condemned and torn down after nearly sixty years' occupancy as a theater for the development of the "young idea".

The Northville Woman's club at last Friday's session decided by vote to change the date of meetings for the remainder of this month, on account of the afternoon evangelistic services.

The interest and attendance at the evangelistic services continue to increase. A big audience was present Sunday morning, but Sunday evening showed the banner attendance, the big tabernacle being filled to more than its 1,500 seating capacity.

VALUE ANCIENT ARCHITECTURE

Moderns Can Read Lesson of Greatness in Temples, Says Scientist.

It has been said that history was the written order of things. No doubt, what had been written was of enormous value, but it was not all, and even where we had a literature of the past it was in some cases not the greater part of what conveyed the past to us, said Prof. Flinders Petrie, in a London address. Where should we be in the understanding of the ancient Greeks if there were no statuary and no sculpture? How could we understand their magnificent sense of accuracy, precision and refinement if there were no architecture to study?

Many years ago, with regard to the great question of the restoration of the parthenon, the objection was made that no person could ever get to know precisely how the columns were put together. Prof. Petrie thought it was only a question of measurements. To his intense surprise he found he could not detect the errors. There were none.

He thought he was going to deal with tenths of an inch, but he found he had to deal with hundredths. How the Greeks did it, he did not understand. He could not comprehend the physical means of doing it on that scale. That was only an instance of how much building could teach them. Who could appreciate the accuracy, the sense of perfection, and the sense of beauty, if we had not these material remains?

Then, if they looked a little later, let them consider how miserable was the greater part of the histories of the emperors. What did they understand of Rome? They understood the Coliseum—the majesty of it and the cruelty of it—they could understand the magnificent temples, the great architecture, and they could see from that what Rome was far better than by reading all the imperial historians. And if they looked a little later, what was there in the whole writings of the thirteenth century which gave them such a perfect picture of the medieval mind as Salisbury cathedral.

He ventured to give these as illustrations of the value of the material civilization side by side with the civilization of the people, because he thought they would enable them to grasp perhaps more clearly how much they could ascertain and feel and know about the civilization of which they had material remains. They enabled them to understand the feelings, sentiments and ideals of these bygone men from their literature.

The question of material evidence might seem a dead and dull thing, but he ventured to think they were as much alive to the material design and powers as any other form of expression.

SCIENCE IN FARMING

Water Power Put to Use and Windmills Do More Work—How Science is Aiding

Much is heard nowadays of "scientific farming." Those who know little about farming may imagine that the expression refers merely to extensive agriculture, getting greater yields from the soil, etc. It has a broader meaning than that however. Modern invention is now doing a great deal for the farmer and is destined to play a much more important part in development.

Of the 30,000,000 workers in the United States, it is estimated that a third are farmers and their help. Ninety per cent. of the horses and mules are farm animals, but gasoline engines and electricity are proving superior for energy production, and science in this way is making strides that many of us do not as yet realize.

In many regions water power is being converted into electricity for working machinery on farms and supplying light. Where water power is absent windmills are being used to generate electricity. There are many farmers who have their own plants and others buy service from community plants. The present day farmer may make his own ice for refrigerating by means of electricity, and irrigation pumping, plowing, planting, reaping, etc., may all and more be done by electrical power. Cold storage plants on farms keep products in good condition. Household labor has been greatly lightened. Not only has the wonderful development of machinery bettered the finances of the farmer, but it has given him and his family advantages that are denied to many of the people of the large cities.

Science has also devoted its attention to the output of the farms. Products formerly wasted, often turn out to be more valuable than the original crop. Even where potatoes have been frozen, they had been distilled into high grade alcohol, where previously they had been destroyed. Potatoes are preserved by washing, drying, peeling, and cutting, and again drying, the product placed on the market as potato flakes. Starch and sugar are now extracted from plants formerly neglected, and even weeds are in some cases cultivated as useful.

GERMANS MINE BRIDGE; RED CROSS TRAIN WRECKED; MANY DIE

This is the first photo to be received in this country showing the Red Cross railroad wreck where many wounded French and British soldiers being conveyed to hospital lost their lives, when the train, crossing the Mary bridge across the Marne, went into the river, when the bridge was wrecked by the Germans. It is here that the greatest struggle of the war is at present raging.

BOYS' IDEALS SOARING SKYWARD

Twentieth Century Youngster Engaged in Lofty Pursuit That Stumps His Pa.

HE IS WIZARD OF THE AIR
Lads Now Spend Hours in Secret Learning How to Drive an Aeroplane.

London.—The Twentieth Century is a new type, or rather he is the old boy who a year or two ago, was wholly devoted to the joys of locomotion but has now found another and loftier pursuit.

The elaborate model railway system, built up with patient care, as pocket money and birthday gifts permitted, has neglected in the boy's room, for the former general interest, a mere forerunner of the more serious pursuit of aviation.

It is, too, a most interesting boy, as now accounted poor and fettered things since the model aeroplane came to some perfection. Our dream and our waking thought, concern themselves entirely with the new power. We may grow very warmed in technical detail and peering at photographs of the young man in vain.

He does his best not to be left behind even words of secret those fascinating journals of an era which now lies about the house to litter the just limbs of the Latin grammar and Toddler for Toddler's modern representative for our son knows not the old paths and "does all that stuff by graphs now", and the elder makes a shift to tell a fuselage from an elevator and to distinguish between a batboat and a seaplane.

The boy's unconscious erudition was delightful; he had no suspicion that his easy mastery of detail brought home to five-and-forty the gulf which yawns between the old century and the new. Here was evidence of a vast progress, a new science, a fresh outpour, perhaps "a good opening for a young man" with a decided turn for mechanics.

And all this wonderful development had been going on while an out-of-date parent was keeping his nose fast to dusty follies. The true inwardness of the matter was hidden from his unprogressive mind. But the younger generation had knocked at the door with a vengeance.

Here was where learn's foolishness became a practical science, a scientific art, and a new young learn's even up measure beneath paternalism's own roof, to play kingly philosopher and lord to a benighted father in this new world of aviation.

The boy's knowledge had not come in a flash; it had been a patient study, and, as he is, he could not get it out of his mind. There seemed to be nothing he did not know, every type of motor and of appliance was recognized at once.

Technical terms with some droll mispronunciation flowed from his lips as easily as honeyed speech from those of Nestor, the aged and experienced chief of Pylos, in the brave old tale of Iliad, by that story and the language in which it is written our young aviator sets small store. He turns a cold eye upon it and the other day hardly called his contempt upon his father at breakfast break, recently excited over the newly discovered odd of sap-

FOREIGN JOURNALS AND THE WAR

Milwaukee Journal: With the "biggest story" in history at their front door, newspapers in Paris and London may be forced to suspend before they can print it. The supply of paper is very limited. Paris papers now print but two pages in small sizes and have cut out the margins in order to husband their resources. In London, the great Times has cut from fourteen to six pages, and other papers have reduced accordingly. Even at this rate, it is possible that before the great battles are fought there will be no paper on which to print the news. All advertising has disappeared.

NOVELTY IN BOAT CONSTRUCTION

The U. S. Navy has lately made trial of a new kind of boat, the invention of a Nova Scotian named Buchanan. The remarkable part of it is that it can travel on land or water. It has two sets of wheels, one set for land and one for water. The wheels are arranged so that the boat can be driven on either surface.

The boat has two keels, one for land and one for water. The keels are arranged so that the boat can be driven on either surface. The wheels are arranged so that the boat can be driven on either surface.

"PUT ME OFF AT TOLEDO, I'M ON MY WAY TO THE BIG LAND SHOW!"

Farmers and City Folks From All Parts of Michigan and Ohio Will Attend the Greatest of All Land Expositions at Toledo, November 23 to December 5.

"When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fender is in the shock, and everything made snug for winter, the farmers of Ohio and Michigan and lots of city folks, too, will be found off their way to Toledo, to get a look at the biggest exhibit of modern farm products and farm methods ever gathered together.

This great undertaking has been under way for over a year, and from the many endorsements received by the federal and state authorities and agricultural bodies, and the general interest displayed, it is already an assured success.
The Land Show will be both interesting and instructive. Visitors will find on display the very finest pick of the exhibits at County Fairs this Fall, the choicest fruit, grains, vegetables and stock. The prize-winning products of the soil, orchard and garden of seven great agricultural states will be assembled here under one roof.
Useful demonstrations will be given of the productive possibilities of the rich lands of Ohio and Michigan, as well as the neighboring states and Canada.
Practical experiments to determine soil values, seed-testing and other demonstrations will be conducted by state and national experts. Exhibits will be made of the latest inventions for making farm life more comfortable, enjoyable and profitable. Daily concerts by the famous Royal Kilties Band of Canada will prove a pleasing diversion.
Toledo was selected as the place for the big Ohio and Michigan Show because it can be so easily reached from all directions, because of the splendid hotel and restaurant accommodations, and on account of the unequalled facilities provided by the great Terminal Auditorium, which is unequalled by even the famous Madison Square Garden of New York City; in the amount of ground floor space.
The Land Show has been endorsed by many prominent public bodies and individuals, including the Ohio State Agricultural Commissioner, Governor Cox of Ohio, Toledo Real Estate Board and Toledo Commerce Club. An added attraction for many farmers will be the Annual Meeting of the Ohio State Agricultural Society, which will be held in Toledo during the Land Show. The list of exhibitors who have already contracted for space shows that the leading makers of agricultural implements will be represented. This will be an up-to-the-minute, complete agricultural exposition, full of pleasure and profit for all who attend.

"It is a shame the condition of which some of Oakland county's cemeteries are left," said a member of the Dick Richardson Chapter, D. A. R., to me recently. "A number of the members of the D. A. R. went out to place a marker on the grave of a revolution-army soldier which had just been located and they had difficulty in getting through the burdock and other kinds of tall weeds which grew luxuriantly all over the resting place of the dead. There are many such cemeteries in the county which we have come across in the course of our work. Many are cemeteries long since abandoned for burials, and I suppose the friends and near relatives of those buried there have ceased to take any interest in the places. It seems too bad that the remains of such localities do not stand themselves together and have a lot at least once a year for the purpose of cleaning up these cemeteries and at least keeping the weeds cut. It wouldn't be so bad if it was just tall grass. Last Farmington has the best kept cemetery in the county. The people in that township have an auxiliary society which takes an active interest in the cemetery and tends it until it resembles a park. Even our own Park Hill cemetery in Pontiac cannot compare with that Farmington cemetery because in Oak Hill not all of the graves are endowed, and those that are not are not kept up like the others. It seems a pity that the younger generation do not take more of an interest in these burial places."—Linton Herald.

A New Oldsmobile for $1285. Come In and See This Car. This year there is a new Oldsmobile. Naturally it stands where all Oldsmobiles of past years have stood—in that small group of leaders, five or six at the most, which have constantly made surpassing quality the all-important consideration. For the past two years there has been an insistent call for a smaller, lighter Oldsmobile, with the characteristic completeness and refinement of the big Oldsmobile "Six." At last it is accomplished. The new Oldsmobile is now ready for your inspection. You are invited to call and mark the difference between this car and the host of ordinary machines that sell for almost the price of this Oldsmobile masterpiece. Priced in Your Favor. When this new "Four" was announced only a few months ago, a price of $1350 was decided upon and so advertised. But the demand was underestimated. The tremendous ovation that greeted the new car meant only one thing: Big Quantity Production. Buying in thousands where it was thought hundreds would suffice, a price of $1285 can be afforded. This saving of $65 goes to you, where it justly belongs. This is a genuine Oldsmobile—in construction, in finish, in completeness of detail and equipment. It is an aristocrat in appearance and performance. True Oldsmobile Quality. Look at "The Greatest Six-Cylinder Car in America" through a reducing glass and you see the new Oldsmobile "Four." You will find the same grace and beauty that characterizes the Oldsmobile "Six," reproduced in this new car of 119-inch wheel base. Delco-Equipped. The Delco starting and lighting system leaves nothing to be desired in electrical equipment. It has been adopted as standard equipment on cars costing twice as much as this, yet the Oldsmobile "Four" offers it at no extra cost. Circassian walnut woodwork throughout. All instruments set flush in the dash, immediately under your hand—starter, lights, speedometer, eight-day clock, etc. Every Known Refinement. Comfort for the driver: 30 1/2 inches from cushion edge to clutch pedal. Wide, 22-inch doors. Deep, luxurious upholstery and long easy springs, balanced perfectly, absorb road shocks and vibration. Cast aluminum foot and running boards; extra large gasoline tank fastened to main frame in rear. Concealed tool box, standard tool kit, tire pump and jack. Extra strong artillery wheels of solid hickory, twelve spokes front and rear, natural finish. Jiffy curtains; cape top with boot; tire iron at rear. Shipping weight only 2455 pounds. Its low center of gravity makes it seem to "hug the ground," yet it has ample road clearance. The Motor of Motors. American and European engineers agree to the unmistakably superior efficiency of the compact, small bore four-cylinder motor with overhead valves, for a car of this weight. The unit power plant of the new Oldsmobile is of this modern type—four cylinders, measuring 3 1/2 x 3, cast in bloc, three point suspension. All valves are enclosed and all working parts covered. Here—a quiet motor with specially designed Oldsmobile silencer—a motor of great flexibility, equally delightful for city or country driving. This is unmistakably the car for the man who seeks distinction without prohibitive cost—who demands in the car of his selection all that "Oldsmobile" has meant since motor cars were first built. By good luck we have persuaded the Olds Motor Works to allot a few of these new cars to this territory. No matter what price you are thinking of paying for a car, do not fail to examine the Oldsmobile, first. The most important points of its superiority can only be appreciated by a demonstration. Oldsmobile $1285. With Complete Equipment, Including Delco Starting and Lighting System. FRANK S. NEAL, Local Agent, NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.
