VOL. XLV. NO. 32.

THE RECORD: NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, MARCH 12, 1915.

$1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

WORKINGMEN'S TICKET WAS THE WINNER

QUESTION OF SALOON LICENSE HOWEVER WENT "NO."

For a village election Northville was some day on Monday. The Wet and Dry issue called out 555 votes and that was the largest one that Northville ever cast by about forty-five.

The question of granting liquor licenses went Dry by 61 majority but the Workingmen's ticket was elected in its entirety over the People's (the so-called Dry ticket) by small majorities ranging from 4 to 17 on the council end of it. Dr. Henry was elected over Charles Dolph by 12 majority. C. C. Balder was high man on the council by a vote of 270, Charles VanValkenburg on the People's ticket with only 10 votes less, (259) than Balder came through with only 4 votes short of Hubert Farrell, the low man on the Workingmen's ticket.

Charles Sessions for assessor made his usual big run and led the ticket with 327 votes.

The treasurer's race also close, Capt. Noble defeating Charles Ryder by but a majority.

All in all it was a close election and there was certainly enough excitement to last Northville for some time. It is said that the new council will accept the vote of the people on the license question and will pass a Dry ordinance to take effect in May.

Following is the vote in detail:
President—
T. B. Henry, 270; A. Dolph, 258.
Trustees—
S. Lilienberger, 251; A. C. Balder, 270.
C. VanValkenburg, 269; J. Montgomery, 266.
W. A. Parmenter, 251; H. Farrell, 244.
Clerk—
I. E. Van Atta, 229; T. J. Murdock, 306.
Treasurer—
G. E. Ryder, 257; E. Noble, 265.
Assessor—
W. J. Ambler, 199; C. A. Sessions, 327.

For granting liquor license, (Yes), 234; Against granting license, (No), 295.

FLYMOOTH GOES DRY.

K. P. BARN DANCE ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

ANNUAL EVENT TO BE BIGGER THAN EVER THIS YEAR.

PRINCESS RINK WILL BE THE SCENE OF THE FESTIVITY.

Unique invitations in the shape of a little red barn have been issued by the Northville K. P. lodge for its third annual barn dance to take place in Princess rink, March 17. This one promises to eclipse all other efforts and a big crowd is expected.

Preparations are being made to care for four hundred couples and from the way people are clamoring for invitations it looks as if nearly that size a crowd would be present. Ten years ago only seven hundred were fed.

Harry Clark, and a valuable corps of assistants will have charge of the set department and L. L. Brooks is managing the decorations and something unusual may be expected.

A great time may be looked for and the arrangements committee promises that no one will be disappointed. Forty-nine cents per head is to be charged for admission which includes dancing and supper.

"BROOKDALE FARM" WAS GREAT PLAY

SENIOR CLASS OUTDID THEMSELVES WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

WILL TIRHAM WAS THE HERO AS COACH AND MAKE-UP ARTIST.

Never has a home talent play received more enthusiastic comment and words of praise than the drama "Brookdale Farm" which was given in the Alseum by the Senior class Wednesday evening.

The story of the play was a common one with a deep dried villain, an unassuming old man, and a green country boy. But the acting and make-ups of the characters were most uncommon. Stanley Keet-H was the old squire, with a hink in his back and a goatee which was most effective, especially when he lay on the floor, dead.

Donald Yerkes as the hero, a man innocent of the crime of which he was accused, wound himself around the hearts of the audience as heroes always will.

The villain was portrayed by Louis Fair and if there was anybody that didn't hate him before the evening was over, well they didn't get the spirit of the play.

Jesse Alexander as "Ephraim" a town hand, was a scream, with his stage partner, June F. King, who was about as changeable as April weather.

To May French was awarded the big dramatic moment, the finding of the hero as he stood over the dead squire, (murdered by the villain) whereupon she sent her lover from her—as she thought—forever.

The squire's old lady, whose tongue was sharpened like a razor blade, was convincingly impersonated by Marion Power. The sheriff, the hotel owner and the tramp, Elmer Hollis, Lawrence VanValkenburg and Thomas Thompson ranked with the stars in their stage business.

One of the big hits was the hoe-down attended by all the villagers in true country rigs (clothes, not vehicles) with the town fiddler as time keeper.

The Seniors taking part, together with W. L. Tinham, coach and make-up man, are to be congratulated on the success of the 1915 class play.

The receipts were $82, about $50 being cleared after all expenses had been paid.

CONSTANTINOPLE IS ALLIES' GOAL; MAY BECOME RUSSIAN TOWN

View of Constantinople. Galata bridge, over the Bosphorus, in foreground.

The French and English fleets which have been seeking to force a passage through the Dardanelles have Constantinople as their goal. The city has hitherto been regarded as almost impregnable. Its capture probably would end Turkey's effective participation in the war. If the allies are successful in the present war it is agreed that the city will become a part of Russia.

TRACES MIGHTY NATION FOUND

SCIENTISTS DISCUSS DISCOVERIES ON MISSOURI RIVER

Outlines of Villages and Towns Found—Older Than the Mound Builders.

Discoveries made by scientists have led to the belief that the early states, as we know them, built upon the remains of another and more progressive than that of the mound builders.

Discussion of the evidences of an early civilization occupied members of the American Historical Association at their convention in Chicago. U. S. Fane of the University of Nebraska, pointed to the discoveries of the west bank of the Missouri River as much older than the mound builders.

"At a depth of twelve feet, along the river some miles south of Omaha," said Prof. Fane, "excavations have found the outlines of villages and farmsteads. Square dwellings have been unearthed, and it is well known that the American Indian did not build that kind of house."

"The cooking utensils so far brought to light are all of pottery but of a type distinct from that of the Aztecs. A few copper arrow heads and ornaments have appeared from time to time which may indicate either of two things. Either the builders of the square houses had commercial dealings with Lake Superior tribes to whom the metal was common, or they were metal workers themselves."

"As to the date of this people lived, I can not say. I did not make the excavations, and although I am interested in the work I could not hazard a guess. It is evident, however, that they are very ancient."

"Great bowls of melon, or pumpkin seeds were found in several of the houses. This would signify that the tribe was agricultural. We expect deeper excavations will throw more light on their mode of life."

The theory that the builders of the square houses may have had connections in Illinois, perhaps with another Chicago was given support by an official of the Chicago Historical Society.

"I am not an archaeologist," he explained, "and I could not wish to intrude upon some other person's preserve. However, I can say this: the great mound at Cahokia, Ill., differs from other mounds of importance in that it is square in form."

"The mound builders of other localities seem to have adhered to the spherical lines of architecture. It is quite probable that it was constructed by the same tribes which built square houses in Nebraska."

But why should any fool man want to stand prospering? It's up to the prosperous chap to sit down and take it easy.

HOME MADE FURNACE COST $2.50

Keeps House Warm and Also Bakes Family Bread.

Frank Probert, who lives in Canton, Ill., in thirty and ingenious. He has been in America several years and some time ago bought a four room house. It has no basement and he proposed to dig one and cement the floor and wall dividing the room into two parts. Then he decided there should be a furnace. Having $2.50 worth of material he decided to build his own heating system and succeeded. The furnace is constructed with the bricks below and a hot air chamber above. From the latter two pipes, one leads to the boiler and the other to the heat in the upper room, and it is well and cozy as a parlor in a fire.

But Probert did not stop there. He had all chambers in row, could be put to good use as a stove, and the family bread baked therein. Of course the odor of the taking penetrates through the pipes to the living room, but at that it is a real, wholesome fragrance, and Emilio and his good wife should worry.

A small boy is always very industrious when it is time for him to go to bed.

TELLS HOW IT FEELS TO BE DEAD

WOMAN LIFELESS TEN MINUTES ON OPERATING TABLE

Firmly Believes Soul Left Her Body and Was Sent Back by Great Unearthly Power.

The story was told recently of how a surgeon had restored a woman to life after she had been dead ten minutes. The woman was Mrs. Walter W. Akers, of Los Angeles, Cal. While an operation was being performed on her, her heart stopped beating; there was no pulse, there was no response to the usual tests. The patient was dead. Then the surgeon who was in charge, Dr. Hutchinson, thrust his hand into an incision which had been made in her body and gently massaged her heart back into action. As his hand contracted and dilated the heart, she began breathing again, and soon rallied.

From a medical point of view the case was a wonder, and is still more so, now that Mrs. Akers has completely recovered. She now described her experiences during the brief period when she was lifeless.

"I have no recollection of where my soul went," she said, "but I have a firm, unexplainable conviction that I actually died and that during those minutes of death my soul left this body and began, at least, its journey to the great mysterious beyond. I can recall nothing of what my soul experienced, but yet there is another unexplainable conviction that a great unearthly power sent it back into my body."

"When I regained consciousness there was a strange peace within me. It was as though I were waiting for something wonderful to happen to me."

"During all the ages no one has caught a glimpse of the life hereafter and returned to tell of it," she continued. "Then, why should I? When the Creator sent my soul back into the body He erased the memory from my mind."

Mrs. Akers firmly believes that God sent her soul back into her body because its work upon this earth was not accomplished.

GETS NEW ROAD DRAG IDEA

County Official's Invention Expected to Save Much Money

An invention that is expected to save the highway department of Macon County, Illinois, thousands of dollars, is announced by W. D. Houdon, of Edwaukville, county's superintendent of highways. Houdon's machine may be made by any country blacksmith for not to exceed $10.

It consists of two steel beams of 1,000 pounds each, hinged to the ends of a five foot beam. The laterals are eleven feet long and have a swing of thirty feet at the front. The draft is by means of the rear beam. A chain connection from the forward ends adjusts the angle of the machine to any width of road. A ridge is avoided and a smooth surface assured by attaching behind a small beam weighing 100 pounds. Houdon will not patent his device which is an adaptation of the split log drag.

SPOTS MAN IN HUSBY'S SUIT

Eagle Eyed Chicago Woman Lands the Wearer in Prison

After they had led the culprit away an aged Englishman among the spectators in the police court remarked: "They ought to put Mrs. Hawkins on the force; she'd make a ripping good 'Awkshaw."

Mrs. Caroline Hawkins, the woman referred to, while walking, noticed a man ahead of her wore a striped suit closely resembling one belonging to her husband which was stolen from their apartment on Monroe street some time ago. As a consequence she had the wearer, William Neuman, locked up at the Desplaines street station. Neuman pleaded guilty before Judge Caverly in the Desplaines street station.

"Make him take the suit off, judge," demanded Mrs. Hawkins, after Neuman had been sentenced to eight months in the house of correction. "He can't wear my husband's suit eight months at the Bridewell."

An old suit was substituted and the change was made in a cell.

H. F. Marsh, Ellen St., Easton, Mich., says: "I can still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. I have found them to be the best kidney and backache remedy that I have ever tried. My first experience with the medicine was several years ago. I have used them on several occasions during the past few years when my kidneys haven't been acting just right or my back has ached and troubled me and they have never failed to give relief. ## MICHIGAN NEWS

APPROVE AUTO ROAD—LANING TO DETROIT

Three Counties Accept the Plans of R. E. Olds.

Lansing, Mich.—Three counties, Ingham, Okemos and Livingston, have accepted an offer made by R. E. Olds of Lansing, of $300 a mile in addition to the state road money, and the chances are that before next summer, even there will be an excellent road from Lansing to Detroit.

It is the plan to build the road in three sections. The first section, from Lansing to Okemos, is to be built first. The second section, from Okemos to Livingston, is to be built next. The third section, from Livingston to Detroit, is to be built last.

With the 40 miles accepted the road is assured as complete and adequate as far as Lansing, which means all the way to Detroit as far as Lansing is concerned.

BETTER HOME LIFE ON FARM IS ADVOCATED

East Lansing, Mich.—Better mental and moral life on the farm is the aim of the "county school" methods on farm homes, as the reforms suggested by speakers at the third annual county fair conference at the Michigan Agricultural College.

A new state organization of the managers of co-operative farmers' associations was formed and there was much discussion of proposed legislation which the conference will ask the legislature to pass. This referred largely to rural credit laws.

PASSENGER RATES MAY BE CAUSE OF AN EXTRA SESSION

Plan to Have Railway Commission Investigate the Case.

Lansing, Mich.—That the question of passenger rate legislation is subject for expert consideration and cannot be intelligently discussed or during the present session of the legislature is the belief of many senators and representatives. It forms a basis for a movement to make a call for a special session contingent upon the decision of the state railway commission as to the justice of the railroad's claims.

It has been suggested before that the house and senate must be guided by the railway commission, since it is one of all the state departments qualified to pass upon the merits of the claim of the railways. It develops that the commission would not be able to act even in an advisory capacity in time to help solve the problems during this session.

STATE HAS PLENTY OF MONEY

Lansing, Mich.—The monthly report of the state treasurer shows a balance in the treasury of $4,152,274.30, of which amount $2,324,025.43 is in the general fund and $1,770,056.81 in the primary school fund. Large amounts will be paid out today including $150,000 for the support of the insane of the state, which costs annually more than $1,500,000.

SOMERSET RESIDENT DIES

Burial will occur in Whetland cemetery.

LOST JOB; ENDS LIFE

Grand Rapids, Mich.—Dependent on the loss of his position as an engineer on the Pease-Matthews rail road, Thomas Mitchell died and left behind him a wife and three children. Mitchell left a note addressed to his wife, in which he stated that his health, which he secured work had driven him to his death. He was 55 years old.

SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE OVERS, PREDICTS SWEE

Assistant Secretary of Commerce Shows Prospects.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—According to the Assistant Secretary of Commerce, D. W. F. Sweet, predicted a great future for American trade in South America. "There is no room for doubt that we are going to have a great trade with South America," he said. "Europe will be unable to supply those countries with merchandise after the war."

The question is whether or not our manufacturers will see their chance. Trade follows investment, so our manufacturers must invest in South America, as England and Germany did before they became established.

Saginaw.—Saginaw lumber dealers Monday asked the circuit court to enjoin railroads from putting in effect new tariffs which it is estimated are an increase of 15 to 40 per cent over the old schedule. An appeal will be taken to the interstate commerce commission.

FEDERAL LOANS TO FARMERS ARE PROVIDED IN BILL

Senate Attaches to Agricultural Measure a Plan to Aid Owners of Farms—Free Seeds Appropriation is Retained.

Washington.—The senate has added the agricultural bill, carrying approximately $36,000,000 to the rapidly growing list of supply measures passed.

The senate declined to support the agricultural committee on striking out an appropriation of $235,000 for the free distribution of seeds.

A farm credits bill, providing for government loans to farm owners, is attached to the bill is an amendment, presented to Senator McCumber and incorporated in the bill without a record vote, when only a few senators were in the chamber.

It is proposed to create a bureau of farm credits in the treasury to make loans of government funds through national banks on farm mortgage notes, to run for 10 years at 5 per cent interest and of not less than $300 nor more than $10,000 to individuals. United States 20-year 4 1/2 per cent bonds to establish a permanent fund of $10,000,000 to cover such loans would be authorized.

WILSON ASKED TO CALL CONFERENCE OF ALL NEUTRALS

Emergency Peace Federation Adopts Resolution at Chicago Meeting.

Goes on Record Against Aimments; Jane Addams Elected President.

War Cycle Feared by President of Western Reserve University.

Chicago.—A resolution asking President Wilson to call a conference of neutral nations to attempt to end the European war was adopted by the Emergency Peace Federation last night. The plans were made by the organization of a permanent body to be known as the National Peace organization. A resolution protesting against the American armament in the United States also was adopted.

The emergency committee itself to these principles:

1. Prohibition of a contract of nations instead of alliances providing for a balance of power.
2. Abolition of armament and prohibition of the manufacture of munitions for sale.
3. Prohibition of private property in arms.
4. Self government and universal suffrage.
5. Prohibition of the transfer of provinces except by consent of the people.
6. No alliance to be entered into by nations except after approval of the people.

Lansing.—Officials expect 100,000 automobiles to be sold in 1915. This year from March 1, 10,000 have been taken out. Last year only 10,000 had been taken out. This time the total number issued in 1914 was 70,000.

BLAMES FARMERS FOR HIGH WHEAT

Colusa, Cal., is laying claim to having the largest California black walnut in the world, but the dimensions of the Colusa tree do not come up to those of a tree that is growing on F. W. Schultz's farm on Sycamore Slough, six miles northeast of Arbutus, also in Colusa County.

Some time ago a naccant in newspapers first brought this monster tree before the reading public, and it is receiving much attention throughout the state. The agricultural department of the State University wrote Schultz about it, stating that information sent by him would be used in a book that the department is compiling.

In answer to the request of the university authorities Mr. Schultz has taken accurate measurements of the tree, which are as follows: Circumference one foot from the ground, twenty-two feet, eight inches (below this the roots appear above the surface or the ground, making the tree about twenty-five feet); circumference nine feet from the ground, nineteen feet, nine inches; height, 102 feet, width of shadow, at noon 120 feet.

The big tree is 46 years old, having been planted in 1868 by D. Arnold, a Colusa County pioneer.

"There comes the coal," through the fireplace. "I suppose I ought to be grateful."

"Work, work, work," said the elder. "Mine is indeed a hard lot."

FOOLS CHICKENS, GETS MORE EGGS

INSTALLS ELECTRIC LIGHT IN THEIR COOPS.

Hens Tricked Into Working Overtime.—Lured from Roost at 6 A. M., Back to Their Perch at 9 P. M.

A few weeks ago it was explained in a humorous feature how a Brownville, chap had invented a hen's nest with a sliding bottom that fooled the hens into laying many eggs each day. Whether the trick proved a success or failure has not as yet been announced by the Brownville genius, but the experiments of George C. Newell, a Chicagoan, with his "150 egg machines," lead all interested in hens and their product to believe that nothing is impossible in this line of industry.

George C. Newell is an auditor. Figures and statistics and chickens are his hobbies. Efficiency is his watchword. Back of his residence in Congress Park there is an inclosure forty feet square in which he keeps what he calls his "150 egg machines." The "machines" belong to the reaper tribe known as White Leghorns. He expects and obtains eggs from these "machines" with the same regularity and accuracy as he does figures from an adding machine.

He says he has obtained 18,000 eggs from his "machines" in the last year, or an average of an egg every third day for each fowl, and expects to bring this average up to an egg every other day for each hen. All the hens are laying now and he sells the eggs for 50 cents a dozen. Newell attributes his success to the fact that his chickens live in two electric lighted coops, go to roost by electricity, and get up at the back of 190 candle power.

"I figured the whole problem out in black and white," said Newell. "I found that my chickens were not laying much in winter. They'd go to roost earlier in the winter months and get up later. I figured they didn't have sufficient daylight in which to lay the necessary amount of food and to get the required amount of exercise for good laying. I estimated they got about seven hours of daylight in midsummer and only about seven hours in midwinter. I decided to give them an average of their waking hour."

"At a cost of about $50 I had a 100 candle power incandescent lamp and a 100 candle power electric coop in my chicken house and the '150 egg machine' was in operation. I completed with a few more coops. A south aspect of the house gave me a lot of light after the sun set. I turned on the switch and the chickens got up, thinking it is daylight. Two hours later they are turned off at 8 or 9 o'clock, when it is full daylight and the chickens are just starting."

"When it begins to get dark, along about 5 o'clock, Dorothy or my wife turns on the light and they are kept going until 9 o'clock when I turn off the light. I have two candle power lamps. They give just a sufficient amount of light to give the appearance of dusk, and the chickens begin going to roost. I leave the switch on all night, so that if any of the chickens want to get up at night to eat they can do so."

Eleven days after the lights were installed the daily average jumped from twenty six eggs to eighty-three. During the molting season under the old custom, when most of the food was going to feathers instead of eggs, I got only eleven eggs a day. Now I get fifty-two a day during the molting season. It is merely an experiment in efficiency, and I hope to improve it.

"Chickens think," said Newell. "If they know they are going to get plenty of food the next day they'll lay. By my method I keep them thinking they are getting the same amount of daylight all the year around, and I'm keeping them thinking all the time."

WALNUT TREE IS 46 YEARS OLD

Nearly 23 Feet Around and Larger Than Colusa's Giant

Colusa, Cal., is laying claim to having the largest California black walnut in the world, but the dimensions of the Colusa tree do not come up to those of a tree that is growing on F. W. Schultz's farm on Sycamore Slough, six miles northeast of Arbutus, also in Colusa County.

PUT NICKEL IN SLOT, GET PAPER RAINCOAT

No More Being Late to Supper or Tardy to Work Because of Southern Downpour from the Skies

Have you ever arrived in your old home town in a pouring rainstorm and felt up in your family he is then compelled to pass up a quarter to the hotel bus man or larger amount to the depot until some good Samaritan with an umbrella is kind enough to escort you to the abode of your family or friends?

Have you ever noticed a flock of pretty but soiling maidens in a downtown doorway or the postoffice entrance or the vestibule of a movie place waving calling for umbrellas, raincoats, newspapers, brooms or best heads with handkerchiefs, or anything to protect that lovely seven or ten dollar hat from being ruined by the sudden shower?

If you are a newspaper reader, have you ever been compelled to "cough up" from three to six dollars in order to get your car delivered home from a play or dance when it is raining raincoats and black cats and the rubber-coated man on the box has suddenly become so soft and lofty—in his price, at least—that occasionally one doubts if he can be touched even by a 10 spot bill or a 10 foot pole?

If you have ever passed through any of the above enumerated experiences—and what man or woman was not forget it, deliverance is at hand. The offer of the nastily impressed newspaper, the borrowed umbrella or the perfectly extracted cash loan from the hotel clerk or elevator boy is to be sobbed serenely no more, for the paper raincoat has taken its place alongside the egg sandwich, chewing gum and insurance policies placed before the public in vending machines.

The man or woman who drops a nickel for a package of gum to aid in the digestion of his nickel in the slot and then pays a quarter to another machine for a policy insuring him or her against the consequences may soon get a raincoat from an edacious machine as a result of the ingenuity of a woman, who has obtained a patent on a paper raincoat, said to be waterproof. She plans to manufacture the coats in large quantities and distribute them in specially devised vending devices.

It is to be presumed that the feminine raincoat will be provided with a cute little hood, or capote, as they say in French, and possibly the masculine garment will be quite esquireman and carry the wearer's two dollar derby from gaining a finch or two in circumference. All hail, jock, also hear-ear to the paper raincoat! Ead to the lever present, disappear, eye-destraying, postificious umbrella.

TSOUR STOMACH MAKES A SOOR MAN.

This is the day of the optimist.
The "don't worry" man is a genial smiling chap who looks forward to a bright future of health and happiness.
The pessimist is scorned. He is blamed for a sour and gloomy disposition and receives no sympathy for his morbid forebodings.
It isn't altogether right.

Many a man gets the reputation for having a sour disposition, when the truth of the matter is that he has a sour stomach.

WELL DONE.
Who of us? That soul with earth's ways.
Have not at times been gone aware
Of envy—that sore belov'd plagues days.
Scanned free from vexing toil and care?

Who has not felt that his own life
Would be of brighter tint and spade?
If it were not for daily strife
With toil and tasks and burdens laid.

Who has not seen the idle folk
Whose every thought was pleasure bent.
Whose every wish seemed to provoke
Some new device on mirth intent?

Who has not groped with outstretched hand
For present gain, or pompous place,
For Power, or Wealth, that could command
Some promised vantage in the race?

Who has not wished for "Midas Touch."
That would transmute our work
to gold,
And measured Life's Success by such
As could that gilded flag unfold?

Who have not wished with thoughts like these
For less of toil and more of ease?
Only to find it a grim tale
Of desert waste and blighted trail.

When will we learn that Heavenly needs?
Are not attached to Royal Birth
But to that soul of Royal deeds
Who strives to make a Heaven of earth?

They who no phantasies love or prize,
Who by their kindly deeds and word
Wrought in the zones of earth's dark,
Some fellow travelers heart has gloried.

In noble deeds and heaven born ways
For they, who wear the victor's crown
And hear their Legions in Judgment say
"It is enough, thou hast well done."
ROBERT.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.
The Money Spent for Teachers' Institutes Is Well Invested.

During January and February there is held in every county in Michigan a teachers' institute. A lesson program in one of other states has been brought here to speak to Michigan teachers. Besides leading educators of our own state have taken part on very program. The teachers of Michigan may be said to have a year amounting to $12.00 which is the main pay for this educational campaign. The state provides a fund of $3000 a year that may be used where necessary. The law directs that a teacher absent from work to attend at institute shall be paid as if she were teaching. This provision is of course on the presumption that her school will profit by her attendance. And it is doubtful if any other money is spent with so large results. From now until the close of the year there is one solid period of work. Even the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington are no longer legal holidays for school, but the law states they shall be observed with suitable exercises. What better way can boys and girls honor these great Americans than by attending to their duties in school? Let every teacher aim to develop in her pupils a wholesome appetite for good, hard work.
Don't let this and that side-issue interrupt the real work of the school.

Try some New York Ice-cream

AURORA MURDERER BAFPLES POLICE; THREE GIRLS SLAIN IN ILLINOIS TOWN, NO DEFINITE CLEW AS TO FIEND'S IDENTITY

Miss Emma Peterson (left), Chief of Police Michels of Aurora; Theresa Hollander, a former victim, and weapon used to murder Miss Jennie Miller, who was killed in Aurora November 19, 1914.

Laying aside all questions of robbery or revenge as possible motives, the murderer of Miss Emma Peterson at Aurora, Ill., will go down in the annals of crime as a master criminal, cold blooded, calculating, inhuman. Thus far there is no definite clew as to his identity, but it is believed Miss Peterson's murderer is the same fiend who killed Theresa Hollander in Aurora in February, 1914, and Miss Jennie Miller in the same town, November 19 last.

Glimpses of Married Life

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

Three days after Dick left to interview the manager of the Kansas firm Nell received the following letter.

"Dear little wife: I know you are anxious to know the result of my interview with Mr. Parsons and I have the position, and they can't give me a salary as I have been getting much better than I expected, and will mean a veritable increase, when living expenses are taken into account. For alas! dear, there is nothing to spend money on here. We will save all we can and keep bunched up ready to spring if any chance ever offers. The trouble is, there are few concerns doing this line of work. I am thankful, therefore, to get a position so soon."

"I wish I could tell you the town was pretty, but I cannot. The people seem pleasant and obliging, and I am sure you will like them. I feel relieved when I think of what you said when we first spoke of moving. I can do what other girls can do, and if we can succeed—the place will not matter. Thank you for that brave speech. You will need all your courage."

"Tomorrow I am going over the works from start to finish with Mr. Parsons and the next day I house-hunt."

"Goodbye, dear little wife. YOUR DICK."

Nell threw herself on the couch among the pillows and sobbed as if her heart would break. Her mother found her there and when told of the news, looked very anxious.

"Nell, you mustn't feel this way about the move. You are young and will make friends and will learn to love the place."

"No, I shall hate it, always. I can't endure a little, stuffy town, where everyone knows everyone's business," sobbed the girl.

"No one will succeed going into a place in such a spirit. Make the best of things, my child, and remember Dick's happiness is at stake, as well as yours." Mrs. Reeves sat down on the couch.

"If only I did not have to go now," sighed Nell.

"I am sorry, too, that the move could not have come in the fall. The summers are so much cooler here by the lake, but think what it would have meant if Dick had lost his position and been unable to get another. Any move is better than that."

"I am going to be brave when Dick comes, but I must get this out of my system," said Nell, smiling through her tears.

"That's a good girl." Mrs. Reeves leaned over and kissed the hot face and smoothed the tangled hair.

TRAINS WILL WASTE NO TIME

To Be Loaded While Moving if This Invention Is Adopted.

In these fast moving days, it is becoming a terrible waste of time for trains to stop to take on and let off passengers. Therefore, a man has invented a device by which they can be loaded or unloaded on the run.

The inventor, Dr. John A. Green of Des Moines, Ia., has devised a car in which a large, flat platform is used as a passenger coach. The car is in reality nothing but a huge wheel into which a smaller car fits. The smaller car is fitted with wheels which run on the rim of the larger wheel. The larger wheel is set to run on the outside of the main track, and the smaller car is set to run on the inside. This makes possible the working of a switching system that will take this smaller car out of the main track and onto the sidetrack, while the rest of the train is passing. The car is then rolled back onto the main track and the train is again on its way. The inventor claims that this system will save a great deal of time and will be a great improvement on the present method of loading and unloading trains.

While there is no prospect that the new invention will be put into immediate use, the inventor and his attorneys believe that the speed demands of future travel will make it necessary.

Enthusiasm.

Nothing is so contagious as enthusiasm. It is the real allegory of the tale of Orpheus. It moves stones, it charms brutes. Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity and truth accomplishes no victories without it. —Butler Lytton.

Household Hints

SIMPLE HOME REMEDIES

For Rheumatism.—Use equal parts grain alcohol and witch hazel. For external use.

For Colds.—The common mullein, or American velvet plant, is a valuable medicine. Gather leaves during summer and fall for winter use. Boil a handful in water, sweeten and drink freely; a mild stimulant to the kidneys and a tonic. Those with lung troubles will be benefited by its use.

For Sick Headache, no matter in what part of the head the pain is. Take a thin, old handkerchief. In the center place two tablespoons ground pepper; fold in nicely, so person won't spit out; wet thin side with any kind of spirits, witch hazel, camphor or even vinegar or water; place thin side to back of neck. If possible, lie down for half hour. This also relieves nausea. It will burn hard, but never blisters.

Splendid Hand Lotion.—Use equal parts glycerine and peroxide. You can add a little lemon juice if you like. This is fine. Keeps the hands soft and will remove stains and tan.

Rubbing the Eyes.—Rubbing the eyes tends to flatten the eyeball, making it necessary to use spectacles. Whenever you rub the eyes at all, let it be toward the nose, as it tends to round the eyeball, making the sight last longer.

UP-TO-DATE RECIPES

Lima Bean Soup.—Soak two cups dried lima beans overnight, cook in fresh water until tender, press through colander, mix with two cups bread crumbs and one cup ground peanuts. Season with salt, pepper and onion juice and shape into loaf in a well-buttered baking pan; brush with beaten egg and bake half hour.

Potato Surprise.—Take cold boiled potatoes, rub through sieve, or wash carefully, so that no lumps remain.

Explosive and Dye-stuff Materials Can Also Be Extracted Now.

Washington.—Two discoveries, both of great importance to American industries and one regarded also as a process military in its nature, are being developed by the bureau of mines. They are chemical processes, developed after years of research by Dr. Walter F. Rittman, chemical engineer of the bureau of mines. One is expected to enable oil refiners to increase their output of gasoline by 200 per cent, the other makes possible the production from crude petroleum of nitric and hydrochloric acids, and such explosives for which in the past the United States and the rest of the world have depended almost exclusively upon Germany.

LEGION TO BE FORMED FOR THE DEFENSE OF UNITED STATES

A movement has been started in New York to organize all former army and navy militiamen into an American legion of army and navy reserves, for the purpose of better insuring the nation's readiness for war.

The legion would consist of first reserves of former army and navy militiamen for instant call in case of emergency.

Captain Gordon Johnson, aide-de-camp to Maj. Gen. Wood, commanding the department of the East, said that within a short time the country will have a first reserve list of between 250,000 and 300,000 men.
