

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD.

VOL. XLII. NO. 37.

THE RECORD: NORTHVILLE. WED., FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1915.

$1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

A SPRING MALADY

A BIG VOTE

CAST MONDAY

DEMOCRATS ELECTED THREE MEN IN NORTHVILLE.

FRANK PERRIN RE-ELECTED CONSTABLE FOR THE FORTIETH TIME.

Monday's township election was some election. The largest vote ever cast in the balliwick was the result. The total vote was 551 and the odd one was thrown out because of damages to the ballot. It was also a very mixed up affair, only 91 Republicans and 64 Democrats voting it straight. The real strength of the two parties appears in the township to have been 321 G. O. P's and 131 Dems. The counters were kept busy until 1:00 a. m. in consequence of the "splits." The entire Republican ticket was elected with the exception of Highway Commissioner (Stewart Montgomery) Member of Board of Review (F. A. Habbitt), one Constable (John Lockwood).

Following is the complete vote:
Supervisor—Lanning, 426; Kator, 168.
Township Clerk—Miller, 401; Heeney, 125.
Township Treasurer—Huff, 405; Van Valkenburg, 129.
Highway Commissioner—Franklin, 220; Montgomery, 311.
Overseer of Highways—Johnson, 399; Schoof, 125.
Justice of the Peace—Griswold, 379; Newton, 143.
Member of Board of Review—Porter, 205; Babbitt, 324.
Constables—Perrin, 324, Knight, 131; Bogart, 243; Lockwood, 245; Hills, 321; Taylor, 132; Brown, 309; McGee, 148.

On the state ticket the Bull Moose vote was 37, Socialist 5, Prohibition 14, but there was no indication of any party spirit.

For the fortieth time Frank N. Perrin is re-elected constable. Mr. Perrin is also deputy sheriff and will probably be Northville's new marshal.

CARSON-DENIO.

George Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carson of this place, was united in marriage with Miss Lottie Denio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denio of Redford Wednesday, March 24. Mr. and Mrs. Carson have moved into the Bloom tenant house on West Main street.

SOME GOOD WRESTLING.

The wrestling matches pulled off at the rink Monday were good ones. The preliminary bout between Earl Montgomery and Charley Johnston was a live affair and finally resulted in a draw. The big event between Sprank of this place and Christy of Pontiac, three bouts, was a corker. It was a good wrestling match and resulted in a victory for Northville man by two bouts to one.

ORPHEUM THEATER, DETROIT.

Jesse L. Lasky, producer of many excellent one-act musical comedies in vaudeville, will present "California," described as a miniature operetta in the Orpheum Theater next week. The book is by Cecil de Mille, author of "Strongheart" and the music is by Robert Hood Bowers, composer of "The Vanderbilt Cup." Leslie Leigh heads a cast of six singers in the title role and the musical numbers will include "California," "Save the Mission" and "I Love You, My Own." A splendid scenic display and effective costuming is promised. The Orpheograph will show new motion pictures before and after the matinee and there will be dancing contest for local amateurs on Friday night.

COUNCIL PASSED DRY ORDINANCE

The regular council meeting Monday night held in Cattermole's hall was attended by upwards of 200 citizens to listen to the arguments on the saloon ordinances but there weren't any arguments forthcoming. The Dry ordinance was read by the clerk and it was passed unanimously without discussion. It appears elsewhere in this paper.

President Henry called attention to the recent raise in rates by the Bell Telephone company and suggested that in all probability the existing franchise between the village and the phone company might compel the company to maintain the free service to Plymouth, Farmington and Redford if the council saw fit to take action.

The council after passing on some bills adjourned to Wednesday night.

WRESTLING MATCH.

A wrestling match will take place in the Alseum theater, Northville, on Wednesday evening, April 14, at 7:30 standard time, between Joe Miller, Middleweight (165 lbs) champion of Milwaukee and John Hackenschmidt, (167 lbs) champion wrestler of Pontiac. Also boxing match between Frank Knepp and John Ryan. Admission for ladies, Gents and children, 15c and 25c.

NOTICE TO WATER USERS.

Water rates due Saturday, April 10, Tuesday, April 20. Office hours as usual in the McKahan-Noble office on Center Street. E. A. NOBLE, Village Treasurer.

DAVID BARBER DEAD.

David Barber, one of the long-time residents of this vicinity, died Wednesday at his home near Mead's Mills, after a long illness. He was 75 years old, and was a veteran of the civil war and a member of the local Post.

The funeral was held from the home Thursday afternoon, a number of the members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. attending. Mr. Barber is survived by three sons.

MRS. KATE YERKES

DIED SATURDAY

Mrs. Katherine Yerkes died at her home on High street last Saturday morning after an illness of several weeks.

Katherine Palmer was born Sept. 12, 1841 in Novi township. In 1865 she was united in marriage with Harrison Yerkes and lived on the Yerkes farm north of this village for some years, moving from there to Northville 27 years ago. Mr. Yerkes died July 12, 1899.

The only near relatives who survive are two nieces, Mrs. W. I. Tingham and Mrs. Frank Perrin and a nephew, James Palmer, all of this place.

The funeral services were held from the late home Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. E. Webber and Rev. W. S. Jerome of Ann Arbor, a former pastor of the Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Yerkes was a member, officiating.

QUEEN ESTHER PLAY.

A large audience enjoyed the presentation of "Mrs. Jenkins' Boarding House" by the Queen Esther circle of the M. E. church Wednesday evening. The cast was made up of 13 members of the circle, assisted by six young men. The stage work reflected much credit on Mrs. R. M. Pierce who coached the company.

The 3 acts of the play were divided by several musical selections, the circle singing their rally song while Miss June Pylkins and Mrs. Arthur Griffin rendered solos in a pleasing manner. Another number was a reading cleverly given by little Miss Gertrude Kenyon. Stark's orchestra furnished a number of selections.

Gilt Edge Gatherings.

Miss Helen Tuck spent Monday evening with Miss Helen Millard.

Frank Bryan and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fuller, Sunday.

Helen Millard is a new violin pupil of Miss Tessa Pierson of Farmington.

Miss Ruth Harger of Farmington was the guest of Helen Bradley, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradler and son, Mahlon, were guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Fred Lapham, of Royal Oak Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Detrich entertained Mr. and Mrs. H. Moss and baby of Farmington and Mr. and Mrs. Colling and daughter of Detroit, Easter Sunday.

NOTICE.

On account of not being able to secure competent help to run a general shop, I have leased the Cattermole block, on North Center street, where I will make a specialty of horse shoeing.

Thanking the public for past patronage, and trusting that I may merit a continuance of the same in my new location, I remain, very truly yours, J. LITSEBERGER.

FEATURE AT THE NEW ALSEIUM THEATER.

Saturday evening's special feature will be "Lillian's Dilemma" in two reels.

"Million Dollar Mystery" continued Tuesday evening.

Thursday evening's program promises to be unusually good.

Coming: "The Third Degree," also European war pictures, the only original war pictures taken, to be shown Monday evening, April 12. Admission 15c and 25c. Reserver seats on sale at Mardock's.

WM. SMITH DEAD.

Wm. Smith died at the home of his son, one mile north of the Base line, last week Wednesday.

THIS SORT OF BANK PAYS NO INTEREST!

SOME folks are still so out of date—or, to put it more frankly, so FOOLISH—as to hide their savings in an old reposit, or an old stocking, or under the carpet, or in some other secret place. They seem to think a bank is MYSTERIOUS or COMPLEX or UNSAFE. This sort of notion is, of course, way BEHIND THE TIMES. Deposits in this bank are SAFE, and they GROW. This bank is under GOVERNMENTAL supervision.

AMERICAN MISSIONARIES AT URUMIAH IN GRAVE DANGER

American missionaries and native pupils in front of mission house at Urumiah, Persia.

Turkish troops are reported to have committed further acts of violence at the American mission at Urumiah, Persia, according to a message received from the American consul at Tabriz. The Turkish consul at Urumiah forced his way into the mission compound with a number of Turkish regular troops and removed some Syrian Christian refugees, who were then massacred. The Turks also beat and insulted the American missionaries for their resistance.

MICHIGAN NEWS

BUDGET SYSTEM IS ASKED FOR STATE

Lansing, Mich.—Representative Frank H. Hinkley introduced a bill to create an investigation commission for the establishment of the budget system in Michigan.

The commission would be known as the Michigan investigation commission. It would consist of three members appointed by the governor. The commission would have access to all state documents and to the records of all city institutions. Further, it must study the financial systems of the other states and recommend to the legislature an appropriate and comprehensive budget system for Michigan.

The commission, which represents the Hinkley bill, must approve each year the expenditure of approximately $15,000,000. The chairman is thoroughly conversant with the methods by which an appropriation is arrived at and says the adoption of the budget system would save this sum in an appreciable sum.

Father Gored by Bull; Son Dies from Shock

Port Huron, Mich.—George Pilky, a well known farmer residing on the Pink road seven miles from Sarnia, was terribly gored by an angry bull recently and his 17-year old son, William, who was ill, died shortly afterward from shock caused by his father's injuries.

When the elder Pilky went into the barn to lead the bull to a watering trough, the animal broke loose, turned upon Pilky and ripped the farmer's side. When the news of the accident was told Pilky's son, the latter could not withstand the shock and died soon after. Unless complications set in the elder Pilky will probably recover.

Would Drill Panama Natives as Reserve for Canal Defenses

Brigadier Edwards Is Seriously Considering Carrying Out Plan.

Believe 20,000 to 30,000 Men Could Be Drilled at Small Expense to the U. S. Government.

Panama, via N. Y.—Plans for the organization of a large and well trained reserve force from among the natives of the Republic of Panama are being considered by Brigadier General Clarence B. Edwards, commander of the Panama Canal troops. It is proposed that these reserves should form a part of the Panama Canal defense forces and should be trained by American officers for use in case the canal or the republic were attacked.

Pet Dogs of Ancient Egypt

There is nothing new under the sun, and the graves of old Egypt make this fact very clear to us.

Subscribers to the Egypt Exploration Fund have just been told that the ancient Egyptians kept their pet dogs, whose bodies have been found with the leather dog lead still attached to the collar. And these dogs were pampered animals, dogs whose decayed teeth mark the drawing room pet, fed on all sorts of unwholesome dainties.

NO TEMPTING OF FATE.

Church Members Get Ready to Dodge Lightning.

That the members of the Bridgeville Methodist Church do not believe in the old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place was demonstrated last night when they departed the church at the approach of an electric storm. The church steeple had been struck by lightning three times this summer and it was only on Saturday that a woman finished repairing damage done to the first bolt.

A song meeting was in progress when the storm broke last night and by two and three the people in the church began to make their way to the door. Finally the pastor found he was almost alone and stopping the singing he said: "In view of the fact that the congregation has left the church and that a storm is impending we will close the service without further delay. That ended the exercise and within minutes the church had been completely deserted—Bridgeville (Del.) Correspondence Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Diamond Remains a Mystery.

As a substance the diamond is one of the mysteries of nature one of the despairs of science. Nobody knows whence it came, nor how, whether it is a spark from a comet's tail, or a crystallized drop squeezed in some horrible intensity of fiery convulsion from the white-hot insupportable heart of the earth. Nobody knows much about it at all, except that it doesn't belong to this world.

Some known black diamonds literally were from the skies. They came imbedded in meteorites cast upon Arizona and Ohio by an unidentified star. One does not prospect for chips of stars. As well search for the end of the rainbow. Neither is it practical to hammer all sorts of eruptive rock and conglomerate wherever come upon. Earthquake or volcanic upheaval districts are not necessary, the most promising, for often diamonds that seem to have had volcanic origin occur thousands of miles from the probable place of extrusion—carried thence, it is assumed, by glacial drift in some far back geological time. TURPINITE EFFECTS TOLD BY SURGEON

Air Pressure, After Explosion of Shell, Produces Sort of Paralysis Among Soldiers.

Danish surgeons have been studying the effect caused by turpentine in Belgium and France. This new destructive shell was invented by Mr. Turpin, and during the early part of the war was used with deadly effects by the armies of France.

In a letter from a Danish surgeon signing himself "Dr. I," which appears in the Copenhagen Dagens Nyheds (The Daily News), mention is made of several cases observed by him, of which the following are most interesting.

"A young soldier was lying in the German trenches in Belgium on August 23, when a turpentine shell struck at a distance of three or four meters from him. He was thrown several feet by the shock and when found was unconscious, but no wounds were visible. His knapsack was torn to shreds and his field bottle was broken. He regained consciousness after being taken to the field hospital, but he was unable to move his right arm or leg. There were no external or internal injuries but he presented the appearance of a man who had suffered an apoplectic stroke. In a few weeks he was perfectly well again. A German Lieutenant, at that time in the north of France, had the same experience and symptoms.

"Another case, under my observation was that of a noncommissioned officer who suffered from severe hemorrhages from the nose and mouth following the explosion of a turpentine shell near him. He also had severe pains in the left side of his chest. He was carried unconscious to the field hospital, where it was found that he had a hemorrhage near the pulmonary cavity. In six weeks he was ready for service again.

"It was characteristic also in this case that there were no external or internal wounds caused by the projectile, nor have any wounds been found in any of the persons that have come under my notice. In all the cases the men were found lying upon the ground unconscious with the exception of one, who was found standing up and who became unconscious before he fell.

In these cases paralysis must be ascribed to the air pressure which is caused by the explosion of the shell. This air pressure will cause one or more small or large blood vessels to burst in the body. The air pressure is positive when the projectile strikes in front of a soldier and the bursting of the blood vessel in that case is occasioned by the compressed air, but the air pressure can also be negative when the shell hits by a person, and in this instance the bursting of blood vessels is not caused by the pressure, but by suction produced by the vacuum left behind the shell in its swift course through the air. Should a blood vessel burst in the brain a typical case of apoplexy will follow, and the bursting of a blood vessel in the lung will cause a pulmonary hemorrhage.

In cases where death occurs after the explosion of a shell and no wounds of any kind are found on the body, it can be determined with certainty that the shell was composed of the new explosive turpentine, and no doubt caused a serious bleeding from the bursting of a blood vessel in the chest or abdomen ending fatally.

SOLDIER GETS KISS WITH HERO MEDAL

Got Better All the Time.

A party of tourists were doing Boston and Cambridge. Said one, "So this is the cemetery where they say James Russell Lowell, as a small boy, went out one Halloween night to look for ghosts. I wonder which stone he was hiding behind, and if he really did see a ghost?" "I can't tell you, Ma'am," answered the guide, "but over here lies a man who had three wives. On the stone of the first one he had inscribed, 'My Wife,' on the stone of the second, 'My Dear Wife,' and on that of the third, 'My Dearest Wife.' If any ghost tries walking around here it ought to be that first wife."

THE HOME MERCHANT.

The home merchant—Who is he? He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who stands behind his guaranty, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy.

He is the chap who meets you at the door with a handshake, and lets you out with a message to the "kids," and a real come-again goodbye.

He is the chap who meets and greets you on the street every day in the year, and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs.

He is the chap whose clerks and bookkeepers and other employees live in Northville and spend their money with you and with other Northville people.

He is the chap who pays heavy taxes to help support Northville schools, and build Northville streets and maintain Northville fire departments and police departments, and parks and water works.

He is the chap who helps support Northville churches and charity organizations, and lodges and talks for and boosts for Northville every way in the year.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, and sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tombstones, as far as his feet may travel with the dead.

He is the home merchant your neighbor your friend your helper in times of need.

Don't you think that you ought to trade with him, and be his friend and his helper, in the time of his need?

Don't you see that every dollar that you send out of Northville for merchandise, is an extra dollar that men who never heard of Northville are spending on goods that not trust you for a box or matches to men who could turn you over to the police if you should enter their office?

You don't save much, not long when you send your money out of town and you take all the risk yourself of short weight or measure and of getting damaged goods and don't you know that the growth and prosperity of your town depends very largely upon the success and prosperity of the home merchants? Out-of-town people judge our city by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants can not succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.

WAR ALTERS MANY OPINIONS.

Secretary William Jennings Bryan's famous little private prohibition act, with its grape juice amendment has been the inspiration of innumerable jokes, and over in Europe it was regarded with even greater levity and hearty than in this country, and especially in government circles.

And now look at 'em! The Kings and Kaisers and Czars and Sultans and such have discovered that among the deadly modern munitions of war alcohol in its various forms ranks so high in destructiveness that it seriously impairs the killing off of men by each other. So now they're all contemplating the sort of prohibition that does prohibit—when backed up by the authority of Kings.

Kaisers, et al. Even grape juice will probably be taboo, and the men will be killed by just ordinary bullets.

Verily, the possibilities of the English language under the ingenuity of our modern slang manufacturers appears to be unlimited. In a prominent daily the other day—and in a headline at that—a coffin was alluded to as a "Wooden Kimono."

War dispatches now describe battles much like football games, telling the number of yards gained.

home here on April 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lyke are soon to North Center street to the Barnhart flat on Cady street.

A mass meeting was held Wednesday at Plymouth in the interest of a Carnegie library which it is proposed to establish in that village.

Another holiday has been added to our calendar. April 6 is to be G. A.
R. day, to honor the living soldiers just as Memorial day is for those who are dead.

The King's Daughters will conduct a bake sale in Huff's hardware tomorrow, Saturday. White and brown bread, cakes and beans a specialty, also fried cakes and cookies.

The Filkins store and living rooms on Center street have been rented to Detroit parties who will run practically the same kind of a business as their predecessor E. A. Allen.

Henry Bartrum and family have moved into the rooms on Center street recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs.
Chas. Cooby, who have moved to the School farm southeast of town.

So many automobiles and other vehicles were "parked" on our streets
Saturday, and so many were moving through the street that the efforts of pedestrians to get around safely were almost as thrilling as on Woodward avenue in our big suburb to the southeast.

A taking feature of the Alseum movies here is the piano playing by Mrs. E. L. Riggs of Plymouth. Mrs.
Riggs is not only an accomplished musician but she is also very clever at quickly changing her music to conform to the pictures.

It has been reported that some small boys here have lately been seen shooting at robins with air rifles. It scarcely seems as if there could be any boys now days who do not know that they can be arrested if they kill song birds. Better ask your fathers, boys, if they are willing to pay the big fine involved.

The concert given by the Alma college Glee club in the Alseum last Friday evening under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society, was, if possible, even better than that which the club gave here last year. The numbers were varied and exceedingly well rendered, each selection receiving an encore by the large audience which afforded the club the highest courtesy, unbroken silence throughout the whole two hours' program.

From the Laingsburg news in the Michigan Christian Advocate we clip the following: "Rev. D. D. Nagle and wife are workers who need not to be ashamed. They are counting it all joy to bring rich gifts of song, eloquence and social fervor to extend the Redeemer's kingdom. Through qualities of leadership they are bringing a host of young men and women to the services. Last Sunday the pastor was ill and his wife filled the pulpit in both churches. Her words seemed like the voice of an angel speaking from Heaven. Many hearts were melted." Mrs. Nagle will be remembered as Miss Grace Pierce formerly of this place.

SENSATIONAL FRAUD CHARGE MADE IN WOMAN'S $6,000,000 GRUBSTAKE TRIAL

Mrs. Ella Heim and her daughter Marie.

Startling charges have just been made against Attorney W. T. Hume, former district attorney of Portland, Ore., and widely known along the entire Pacific coast, in an affidavit filed in a San Francisco court in the case of Mrs. Ella Heim, who is suing for a $6,000,000 grubstake share which she claims in the rich Ophir mines of Alaska. Joseph Wright, former acting postmaster at Nome, is Hume's accuser. In his sensational deposition he asserts that Hume, who is of counsel for Mrs. Heim, offered him a percentage of the final fruits of the suit if he would testify for his side.

GAMBLING IN FUNERALS

A curious point was disclosed in the House of Lords debate on the Assurance Companies bill. Lord St. Aldwyn said that under the existing law—which had never been observed—policies to meet the funeral expenses of a parent were illegal.

There had thus grown up, he said, a system under which collectors had visited houses and persuaded women to insure a sum to cover the funeral expenses of persons in whom they had no insurable interest. The whole thing was really a gamble.

Lord Hamilton, of Dalkeith (for the government), said that the position both for policy holders and companies might be very unfortunate unless legislation took place such as was proposed. There was danger that some thing like a panic with disastrous results might ensue. The government had been in communication with the collecting societies and industrial assurance companies, who having had a very great fright in consequence of recent legal decisions, undertook that if the government got them out of the door they would put their house in order. London Daily Mail.

Worn on the Scaffold

The corporation of Shrewsbury have just had presented to them by the Walcott family, of Bitterly Court, Shropshire, for their museum the scabbard worn by Charles I. on the scaffold erected in front of Whitehall Palace where he was beheaded in January 1649. The cloak was owned by William Walcott who was page to the king and attended Charles I. in that capacity on the scaffold. It has been in the possession of the Walcott family for 260 years.—Home Notes.

LARGE FEES TO DOCTORS

King Edward's Health Has Cost a Princely Sum.

King Edward's health has cost a huge sum. When, as Prince of Wales, he was seriously ill some years ago, Dr. William Jenner attended him for four weeks and received a fee of £10,000 ($50,000). Another £10,000 was paid to Sir Walter Gill for his attendance on the king during his serious illness from typhoid in 1871, while the physicians who attended him during his severe illness in the coronation year received fees amounting to £20,000.

The famous Prof. Zacherine, of Moscow, received from the father of the present emperor of Russia, a fee of £15,000 for two days' attendance. Sir Morell Mackenzie received £6,000 for a few weeks' attendance on the late Emperor Frederick of Germany, and Queen Victoria's doctors, in her last illness, received £2,000 each.

Some time ago W. K. Vanderbilt, the American millionaire, requested his physician to accompany him on a voyage. The doctor hesitated and remarked that his practice was worth £200 a week. The man of money finally agreed to give him £2,000 for the six weeks' trip and pay all his other expenses.

Blind Dr. Gale, of Bristol, was paid the sum of £50,000 for curing the diseased knee of a wealthy gentleman. Senator Magee paid Dr. Browning the stupendous fee of £200,000—undoubtedly the largest fee on record. The late Shah of Persia paid Dr. Gale, of Paris, £5,000 for curing him of an affection of the eye. Dr. Frank Billings claimed £5,000 for seven days' attendance on Marshal Field, the Chicago merchant prince.—London Tit-Bits.

Glimpses of Married Life

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD.

Nell had been house cleaning and rearranging the furniture in the bedroom. She surveyed her work with pardonable pride.

Every article of furniture was in a different place except Dick's desk, and that had no castors on it. Besides, it had to stay near the electric light.

The crowning triumph of arrangement in her opinion was the bed, with the head across the corner, so that the embroidered pillow cases, should to the best advantage front the door.

Late in the afternoon Nell's mother had come over to stay for dinner and she had praised the little housewife and her successful efforts. "I did it all myself. You see, I am trying to save, as times are so hard Dick will be so pleased. There he comes now," and Nell ran to meet him and followed him to the bedroom door, listening for the expected outburst of enthusiasm over the improved appearance of the room. No sound came forth and peering around the door jamb she saw Dick shoving the bed back against the wall in the corner. She was very tired from the unaccustomed work and the disappointment was too great to stand with calmness. She burst into tears, and rushed into the kitchen, where her mother was finishing the dinner preparations.

"Why, Nell," exclaimed Mrs. Reeves in dismay, "what is the matter?" But the storm of tears raged on, leaving no breath for speech.

"What has happened, Dick?" she asked, going into the living room where Dick sat moodily pretending to read.

"I'm blessed if I know. I shoved that bed around so I could get into the room and she burst out crying. I never would have touched it, of course, if I'd had the least idea that she was crazy about crawling along the wall and giving up the entire space to that."

"Well, you see she had planned this new arrangement as a pleasant surprise to you," began Mrs. Reeves.

"I think I shall soon be afraid to touch anything in the house or even to enter it for fear of precipitating a storm," said the young husband bitterly. "It's a man going to know what paralytic stroke is a matter of life and death to a woman? I give you my word, mother, I'm in despair."

"Now, Dick, don't make the same mistake of emphasizing trifles. This thing will blow over; just put her up a little because she's over-tired. One's physical condition makes all the difference in the world as to how we bear things. Here comes father," and Mrs. Reeves hurried to the kitchen.

"Come in, father," he a long time since you've been over here for dinner." Dick was helping him off with his coat.

Nell was dejectedly dishing up the dinner when her mother returned. "Don't punish father for the unpleasantness. Dick means no harm. Go wash your face and powder your nose; I'll finish here," and Mrs. Reeves took the dish.

Dick stole into the bedroom after Nell's exit, "I never meant to hurt you, dear. Don't be miserable."

"Please overlook my silliness, because I am tired," and she put her arms around his neck.

Household Hints

CANDIES

Chocolate-Caramels—Melt three ounces chocolate, two cups molasses, one cup brown sugar, two tablespoons butter, one-third cup milk. Mix thoroughly. Bring to a hard boil. Remove into buttered pans. When cool, mark off in squares.

Cream Candy—Two cups sugar, one-half cup water, three tablespoons vinegar, one teaspoon cream of tartar. Boil until it forms a hard ball. Add vanilla. Turn into buttered pans. When cool, pull until white.

Peanut Brittle—Heat two cups sugar until it boils. Stir it. Then add one cup peanut meats and turn into buttered pan. If you wish, add one-fourth teaspoon soda as soon as sugar boils.

THE TABLE

Mock Clam Chowder—Boil two chopped onions fifteen minutes. Add three medium-sized potatoes and salt and pepper to taste. When potatoes are cooked sufficiently, add half pint or more of milk. (For a family of six there should be about two quarts of milk.) Thicken with three crackers, pulverized. Fry three or four thin slices of pork, diced; turn over six or eight split crackers placed in a tureen, after which pour in contents of soup-kettle. Serve at once. This is just splendid.

Dumpling Soup—Cut one pound round steak into small cubes, turn into hot frying pan and cook quickly. In a soup kettle place two generous tablespoons butter and medium-sized onion sliced; fry until brown. To this add four quarts cold water and the steak; cook very slowly two hours. Season liberally with salt and pepper and twenty minutes before serving add the dumplings as follows: "To two well-beaten eggs add half pint milk, salt and flour enough to make a rather stiff batter. Drop by spoonful into hot soup, cover tightly and boil about twenty minutes, or until dumplings are light and thoroughly cooked. Vegetables may be added to this soup with what flavor the family likes. If, after your seasoning is added, you find it too salty, drop in several slices of raw potato, which will absorb salt, and add one teaspoon brown sugar, which restores the flavor.

Cornmeal Gems—One pint cornmeal, one pint flour, one tablespoon sugar, one teaspoon salt, three teaspoons baking powder, one tablespoon lard or butter, two eggs, one pint milk. Sift together cornmeal, flour, sugar and baking powder; rub in lard or butter cold; add eggs well beaten and mixed with milk; mix into batter of consistency of cup cake. Gem pans to be well greased and cold; fill two-thirds full. Bake in hot oven fifteen to twenty minutes.

WORTH KNOWING

Don't put away men's or boys' clothing for the winter or summer without first searching the pockets for matches. Mice will gnaw matches for the phosphorus. Bad fires are often started by them.

To Clean Windows—Wash with some good scouring soap, rinse and rub with flannel cloth wet in vinegar; dry thoroughly with an old stocking (will not leave lint). You are sure to be pleased with the effect.

WONDERFUL ROCK GARDEN

Englishman Has a Three Acre Reproduction of the Matterhorn.

The largest rock garden in England is that of Sir Frank Crisp, at Filar Park, Henley. It is a faithful reproduction of the Matterhorn on a scale of about three acres. Seven thousand tons of limestone was brought from Yorkshire to make it.

The snow-capped peak is reproduced by quartz. Below it are thousands upon thousands of alpine flowers growing in pockets between the rocks and clinging every crink in the trails that ascend the mountain. There must be two hundred different species in bloom at once.

At the base of the mountain, says Country Life in America, is a miniature Swiss chalet, where one may sit and enjoy the scene comparing all the main features with a little bronze model of the Matterhorn which Sir Frank had made for the entertainment of his guests. A brook courses down the mountain side and just before it reaches the chalet it forms a pretty cascade and then spreads out at your feet into a miniature lake decorated with prissy water lilies and richly margined with pinks, primroses, gentians and other alpine flowers.

Organized Thought

To day there is no such thing as organized thought. The thought of the world is a jumble of mass confusion, a jumble of mental effort, no meaning, no sequence, no deliberate result. It should be so.

GOOD NEWS

Many Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and bad back sufferers are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands upon thousands of people are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Miss N. Osborne, 882 Main St., S. Marietta City, Mich., says: "The first symptom of kidney trouble in my case was severe backaches. At times I was dizzy and nervous and my head ached. I believed that the trouble was caused by weak kidneys, so I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They gave me relief."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Osborne had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

True Nobleness of Life.

"At Your Service" At All Times.

Every day brings with it new evidence to convince me that it DOES pay—this "service" that we hear and speak so much about. It has been my constant aim for the past years in this, the ever-progressive House of Hudson, to leave no stone unturned to secure to my patrons the BEST in the way of "service" that it is possible for human intelligence and human power to give.

And for my efforts, I assure you, I feel richly repaid, for the results could not have been more gratifying. And now this "service," together with my new and conveniently located department in the Woodward building have combined to give me a list of satisfied patrons of which I can be justly proud. When one's eyes need attention there is nothing scarcely that requires such delicate and careful "service." No matter what your particular case may require, it will be given you with ALL that such "service" can give.

Our charges too, are always most reasonable.

Buys a "Baby" Olds

Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris of Michigan gave his order for a Model 42 Oldsmobile which was delivered April 1st. He is one of a great many men prominent in public life who recognize in this model a car of exceptional quality at a remarkably small cost. Oldsmobile prestige and reputation were crowning attributes which tempted the Governor to buy. He looked the market over most thoroughly before making his final selection.

WEEK'S CALENDAR

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor)

The sermon Sunday morning will be what you need. We hope for a good attendance at all services that day. The pastor church a fair show of all the other things in which you are interested.

In the evening the pastor will preach a revival sermon. If you have ever transgressed God's law you need to hear this sermon.

Remember the B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Our prayer meeting outclasses anything in the pastor's experience. Just one chair left for you. You don't have to be a Baptist to attend this service. Everybody welcome.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor)

During the month of April I will present the following series of evening sermons on: "Temptations and Temptations I Have Known." The special topic will be 1. Tempted People. 2. The Tempters. 3. Human and Divine Helps to Mastery.

Palm Sunday and Easter of 1915 were by far the best for us of any year of my ministry here. The spirit was excellent on both Sabbaths. Easter Sunday was fittingly closed by an evening audience that filled every seat in the auditorium. The music for both Sundays was especially good.

The Epworth League will hold its April social meeting next Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Van Dyne. A good place for young folks to be an Epworth League social meeting.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet at the home of Mrs. George Johnston next Tuesday afternoon. The meeting will be in charge of the March-April committee, which has already succeeded ably in the work as arranged by the Aid generally. Bring plate, cup, spoon and fork.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor)

Services both morning and evening as usual. It is hoped that the goodly attendance of last Sunday will be repeated next Sunday. Let us determine to make every Sunday an Easter Sunday.

Sunday school and Christian Endeavor as usual.

The Easter Service of last Sunday was of unusual merit. The Sunday school exercises were greatly enjoyed. The vested boys' choir was an innovation which created favorable comment. It is hoped that this may become a permanent feature of the church. Special appreciation is due all who had a part in making the Sunday school program a success. The Cantata by the choir in the evening possessed unusual merit. A treat was missed by those who were not present. This Cantata should be repeated.

The Westminster Guild met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Webber; the usual profitable time was had. Mrs. Webber and Mrs. T. B. Henry were the hostesses.

The Missionary society begins its study of "The Child in the Midst," Wednesday, April 14, at 2:30 p. m. sharp. Representatives from foreign countries will be present dressed in their native costumes. This "Council of Mothers" should interest every lady in the church.

The Ladies' aid will collect paper and magazines Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Those having papers to dispose of please notify Mrs. Ponsford or Mrs. Freydl.

The Easter Cantata will be repeated next Sunday evening.
