WAR SIDELIGHTS

PRESIDENT HENRY MAKES APPOINTMENTS

FRANK N. PERRIN BECOMES THE NEW CHIEF OF POLICE.

THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS IS MAT GREEN.

At the council meeting Monday night Mayor Henry announced his annual appointments.

Frank N. Perrin becomes Chief of Police and with this new office he can wear as many badges as a German general, as he is also deputy sheriff and constable. In other words Mr. Perrin can arrest a man three times in three minutes.

Dr. Turner will again look after the health of the villagers and also promulgate proclamations pertaining to the periodical and persistent swatting of the fly.

J. Mat Green is the B. P. W. commissioner whose experience in making nice streets, cleaning and leveling cross walks, and keeping sewers and gutters from clogging has been previously well demonstrated.

C. C. Yerkes is a repeater, as city attorney. He has held that office to these many years and steers the ship of state in lawful channels with both tact and ability.

John Lockwood returns again as night chief of police and as John has done his work well in the past there is no doubt of the future.

Sam McLean, the old fire chief, is re-appointed. Sam has made a most excellent official in the past and seldom allows over one fire a year and only lets that one just get started enough to let his laddies have a few moments practice climbing ladders and shooting on the water.

F. Pinckney again becomes cemetery superintendent. He made Oakwood look the best last year that it ever looked and that makes it safe to say he will even do better this year.

The general public, without doubt, is well satisfied with the Mayor's new appointments. They could hardly be improved upon.

WILL APPEAL TO R. R. COM'N

FARMINGTON AND REDFORD PEOPLE ON RAISE OF TELEPHONE RATES.

CLAIM BELL COMPANY NEVER HAD PERMISSION TO RAISE THEIR RATES.

The people of Redford and Farmington are up in arms against the recent raise in phone rates by the Michigan Bell Telephone company. Northville and Plymouth people are also protesting but it remained for the two former towns to find out a point in the law which they believe will put a crimp in the Bell company's new grab-bag policy. The kink is that all raises and charges in existing rates must first be approved by the State Railroad commission at Lansing and it seems the Bell monopoly just put in a 5 and 10 cent rate to all the four towns mentioned without consulting any one.

By offering this free service, it is claimed, the Bell company got hundreds of new subscribers and now after they have them and have removed all opposition, the company asks the public to fork over a nickel if you call for a number at any of these four places and 10 cents if you ask for an individual.

DEATH OF MRS. JAMES SHAW.

The news of Mrs. James Shaw's death Monday afternoon, from heart failure, at her home in this village, came as a great shock to her neighbors and friends. Although Mrs. Shaw had been in poor health for some years, the end came after an illness of but a few hours' duration.

Mrs. Shaw, whose name before her marriage to James Shaw about forty years ago, was Alvina Clark, was born in Novi township, where her entire life was passed until they became residents of Northville about sixteen years ago.

Of a quiet, home loving nature, Mrs. Shaw was one of those who yet win and keep the friendship of all with whom they come in contact. She was one of a large family, of whom three brothers, Philo, Stephen and Silas Clark of Novi township, and two sisters, Mrs. Mort Phelps and Mrs. Theodore Moore of Walled Lake are left, to share, with the bereaved husband, the sympathy of many friends in the bereavement that has come to them. The funeral was held from the home Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. R. M. Pierce, and the interment took place at the Novi cemetery.

MRS. HOLCOMB DEAD.

As we go to press we learn of the death of Mrs. Ellen Holcomb which occurred at her home east of town, late Thursday afternoon. Though she had been in ill health for years her death came as a great shock to her children and friends.

WHITE-HUDSON.

Milo White of Flint was united in marriage with Miss Osoline Hudson of the same city, Thursday, April 8. The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White of this place and has been employed at Flint for some time, where the young couple will make their home.

NOTICE.

On account of not being able to secure competent help to run a general shop, I have leased the Catermole block, on North Center street, where I will make a specialty of horse-shoeing.

Thanking the public for past patronage and trusting that I may merit a continuance of the same, in my new location, I remain, very truly yours, S. LITZBERGER.

MEAD'S MILLS TO HAVE HOTEL

NORTHVILLE MAN GIVES NOTICE TO TOWN BOARD OF ESTABLISHING ONE THERE.

LIQUOR BONDS WILL PROBABLY BE TENDERED AT BOARD MEETING SATURDAY NIGHT.

Even with Northville and Plymouth villages, and Oakland county dry the vicinity people may not suffer as a result of the drought after all. Henry Thomas of the Exchange hotel here has given the usual official notice to the Northville township board that he intends starting a hotel with a bar in connection at Mead's Mills, (or Waterford), along the D. U. R. electric line about one mile south of the village limits.

The town board meets Saturday night at which time it is expected that bonds will be presented for approval.

Mr. Thomas is an experienced hotel man and for some years was the proprietor of the Hodges House at Pontiac. He is a very popular sort of a chap to meet and is well known in hotel and horse circles. For some years he was a driver of fast stagers and was seen in nearly all the fast meets in the United States.

It is understood that he intends to conduct a first-class road house at the point named and cater largely to the automobile trade. The site of the new hotel is on the Northville-Plymouth good road known as the warehouse building, which years and years ago was built by the Ramsdells for an agricultural implement store house.

Just what action the town board will take is not yet decided, but if the authorities accept the bonds they may exact a license fee, if the law will so permit, in addition to the regular tax of $500 charged by the county.

LEAVES A GOOD RECORD.

In retiring from the office of village marshal, which he has so successfully filled for a number of years past, Nelson Bogart leaves a record of efficiency and faithful service which is generally appreciated by the citizens of Northville. That Mr. Bogart may have made some enemies, is to be expected, as no officer can even try to do his duty in any public service which has to do with the maintenance of law and order without offending somebody, but that Mr. Bogart has made a good officer, and has done his duty faithfully as he saw it, very few will attempt to dispute. Doubtless, there may have been some errors of judgment on his part, but the man who never makes a mistake has yet to be discovered—and we aren't any of us expecting to be "it" when he is found.

CITIZENS OF NORTHVILLE.

It has come to my knowledge that a number of young men old enough to be gentlemen, have been in the habit of standing on the streets here and making suggestive and insulting remarks to passing ladies.

I shall be pleased if anyone who should happen to witness any such acts or hear any indecent comments would furnish me with such information.

It is my intention to make the village of Northville a safe place for ladies to walk its streets without molestation or insult, and I shall make complaints on any reliable information.

DR. TOM HENRY.

HARRY GERMAN BUYS A BABY-CAR.

Harry German, president of the Carleton State bank and mayor of that village has just purchased a Baby Car 1915 automobile and made a tour through to Northville in it last week. Harry has owned a number of cars but thinks this the best of them all.

Glimpses of Married Life

BY MISS EVA LEONARD

The lovely spring days changed to the heat of summer. There had been little rain and clouds of dust were blowing down the streets.

Nell was not well. She dropped with the heat as did the tender plants. Night after night Dick came home and found her prostrate on the bed. At first he was a little impatient, but life was not easy for him at the office in the morning. Dick made her comfortable in the evening and went to make the lemonade. When he returned Mrs. Brown was coming through the gate with a bowl in her hand. "I brought over some ice cream, and I know Mrs. Morton was not feeling well and thought this might be a little refreshing," she said. "Thank you so much," Nell tried to sit up. "Don't move. I can't stay but a minute," said the friendly soul. "I have all the supper dishes to do."

Dick threw up the window and sank into a chair, leaning his head on his arm. "Do you think I am lying or this hood to escape the heat? I suppose you think I imagine all my sick feelings," Nell said. "If you are sick, call in Dr. Ellison and let him do something for you. I'll tell him to come and see you tomorrow." Nell tried feebly to rise from the bed. "I'll get a little something to eat. That may make me feel better." "Don't bother! It's too hot to eat now. I'll make a pitcher of lemonade and we'll have something before you go to bed. Come out on the porch and lie down. It's so comfortable in the evening and went to make the lemonade. When he returned Mrs. Brown was coming through the gate with a bowl in her hand. "I brought over some ice cream, and I know Mrs. Morton was not feeling well and thought this might be a little refreshing," she said. "Thank you so much," Nell tried to sit up. "Don't move. I can't stay but a minute," said the friendly soul. "I have all the supper dishes to do."

What Three Insects Cost. What do the insect which disseminate malaria, yellow fever and typhoid cost us? What is the liability side, from our standpoint of the tropics and semitropical regions and the common household? Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology, essays to answer the question in a Government bulletin. Malaria has rendered Western Africa, part of India and many other tropical regions uninhabitable by civilized man. It has hindered to an incalculable degree the development of Italy. It is believed to have caused the degeneration, in classical Greece, of one of the strongest races of the earth. It retarded our own expansion through the middle West and in the Gulf States. It keeps the Yazoo delta, the best farming land in the world, save the Nile valley, sparsely settled, and land there down to $20 an acre or less. Our country has an annual malaria death rate of 12,000 and there are about 1,500,000 Americans suffering from the disease. Italy has at least 2,000,000 persons afflicted by it. The annual loss, through death, doctors' bills and decreased earning power in this country, is perhaps $100,000,000. About $10,000,000 is spent each year in screening houses from the froads of the malaria mosquito. It is declared that directly or indirectly this disease produces "one-half of the entire mortality of the human race." Yellow fever registers its economic waste not so much in its death list, which, compared to other diseases, is small, as through the error it inspires, says Dr. Howard. The disease once discovered in epidemic form the whole country has become alarmed commerce in the affected region has come virtually to a standstill; cities have been practically deserted, people have died from exposure in camping out in the highlands, rigid quarantines have been established, innocent persons have been shot while trying to pass these quarantine lines, and industry for the South during the epidemic of 1878, for example, fell off 50 per cent, and the hardships of the population cannot be estimated in monetary terms. The house fly—the typhoid fly—Dr. Howard rechristens it—has to its credit 80 per cent of the total deaths in the Spanish-American war, and it infected about one-fifth of the soldiers in the National encampments in this country. The number of bacteria on a single fly may vary from 550 to 6,000,000. This insect may also spread tuberculosis and cholera, as well as typhoid germs. It is the little things that count, and when these little things are disease-breeding insects of a preventable sort, they count just as big as we will let them.—New York Evening Mail.

HYGIENIC ASPECTS OF THE GREAT WAR

It Has Been Demonstrated That Alcohol and Fighting are Incompatible.

BIG BOOM FOR "SAFETY FIRST"

The Same Spirit of Reform Crops Out in the Welfare Movements Among Industrial Workers.

New York—The war in Europe has awakened in the medical profession an interest in military surgery and hygiene which nothing short of a gigantic armed struggle could stimulate. Accordingly, the various professional publications are devoting a good deal of space to the consideration of every phase of the medical side of the conflict. The Journal of the American Medical Association comments on "The Value of Hygiene in Industry and War." The editor declares that it has already been demonstrated that alcohol and fighting are incompatible.

There is food for reflection in the fact that even the preparation for real or anticipated war may bring about hygienic reforms which widespread preaching had earnest exhortation at best slow in promoting. The "safety-first" slogan, the editor states, is one aspect of a movement to increase the personal welfare of the individual by decreasing the liability to injury through the carelessness of a fellow-man.

The same spirit crops out in the "ten trade commands" of the worker which are posted conspicuously here and there in factories where personal injuries and loss of life furnish unfortunate and—let it be frankly added—unprofitable incidents in the conduct of manufacturing operations, the writer states.

The reminder "thou shalt not" gains added force, he adds, when its value is expressed in terms of precision and daily experience rather than in the more vague language of ethical considerations. And, accordingly, there is a telling force in such direct admonitions as the following quoted from a recent compilation for use in a factory.

"Thou shalt take no unnecessary risks, nor play possum that joker, for by this card means thou must do injury which will have effect unto the third and fourth generations to follow."

"Remember thou art not the only one on the job, and that is sure to attract notice. Cannot fail to promote the mutual and reciprocal interest of the employer and employee. Modern hygiene and preventive medicine have recognized long ago that the individual can no longer claim a liberty in his actions independent of his neighbor."

"Our provisions for quarantine, such as isolation against smallpox, and other regulations in the interest of the public health have, in the past, been enforced only with the annoyance that comes from lack of cooperation and from personal resentments, together with the indifference for restrictive rules that is bred in a community of 'free' people. Yet now we see, in the combined enterprise and altruism of modern employers, protective devices put in operation to secure, without friction or resentment the same sort of welfare results that the Federal Government or State or municipality would find difficult in getting under way."

"That the unexpected situation created by war have in the past furnished the stimulus for new inventions and useful processes is too well known to require detailed comment. It would appear in the present situation that the war against universal peace may actually be a war against intemperance. The armies and navies today represent the most efficient fighting forces that the nations can command. No device, no agency that will contribute to their power and preparedness is willingly neglected. Health is a prime consideration in this respect."

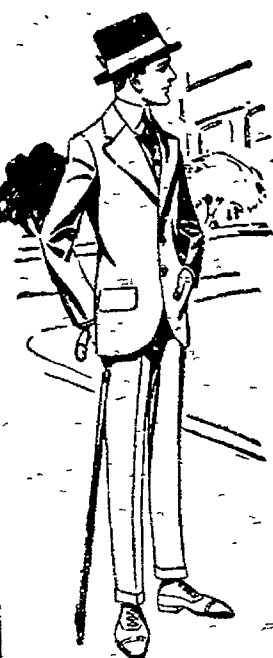

"Field Marshall Earl Kitchener is reported to have counseled the English soldiers to abstain from drinking while abroad, reminding them that their duty cannot be done unless health is preserved. It is of slight consequence whether or not these rumors are entirely correct. They represent the current tendencies, which are undeniable by any one who has watched the recent decision of American naval authorities in the face of not a little apparently adverse criticism couched in the usual phrases concerning personal liberty. The truth is that the relation of alcohol and fighting has been squarely met, and the fact admitted that they are not compatible."

"A recent editorial writer has expressed this by saying that a temperate army was something not conceived of in the old theories of war, but a drunkard is today as much out of place in an army as he would be on a battle ship."

SOME IMPORTANT DATES

They Mark the Early Steps in American Industrial Progress.

In 1820, steel squares were first made in this country at North Bennington, Vt., and in 1822 the production of patent leather was started in Newark, N. J.

The wine industry was founded in 1824, and at Amesbury, Mass., the manufacture of flannel by machinery was first seen in the same year.

About about the same time at Philadelphia began the making of the common yellow and white dishes so familiar to our forefathers, of earthenware, sewer pipes, roof and drainage tiles at Baltimore, axes and edged tools at Hartford; of gas from coal in New York, and the introduction of varnish, straw paper figured muslin, catron piglets, cutlery, sewing silk, linens, etc., all told of the gradual development of manufacturing in America in the United States.

In 1824 as in 1908 the tariff question was agitating the American people and an increase to 37 per cent in the tariff was made a law by Congress in 1824. Many opposed the tariff of 1824, among them Webster, who bitterly fought the measure, denouncing the existence of hard times, though it could be said of Webster that most of his times were hard, so in his ability or inclination to pay debts was concerned.

In 1824 what was called the tariff of discriminations was enacted which increased the duties on iron, hemp, flax and molasses. The introduction of this act had precipitated six weeks of violent and bitter debate, dividing the South against the North and sowing seeds of sectional antagonism. Railroads were just beginning to be discussed as practical means of transportation, 181 to 1824 were coming into use and a short road of three miles constructed in 1824, extended from the granite quarries of Quincy, Mass. to the seaboard.

The first locomotive to be placed on American rails was the Stroudbridge Lion. It had been constructed in England and made its initial trip on Aug. 8, 1825, with Horatio Allen at the throttle. Allen was the engineer of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company and had supervised the construction of this engine.

The track was six miles long and was built of wooden rails covered with strap iron. When the iron straps worked loose, as they frequently did, they would fly up and punch holes in the floors of the cars and sometimes would perforate a few passengers.

The first locomotive built in this country was completed in 1830 and was used to transport passengers over the Baltimore and Ohio from Baltimore to Ellicott's Mills at a rate of speed sometimes reaching eighteen miles an hour. The name of the engine was "The Tom Thumb," and it was designed by Peter Cooper, the philanthropist.—Moody's Magazine.

Optical "Service" of the First Rank

I put the word Service in quotations because it deserves it—patrons quite frequently say "Mr. Goldsmith, the thing I like about your de-pairment most of all is the intelligent, painstaking service I get here."

That it is the word SERVICE the leading feature the predominant note in every eye glass, fitting and repairing.

The fact that for sixteen years, in this great store, I have served patrons so successfully that my business has made a wonderful growth, surely must be evidence that "Goldsmith Optical Service" means something.

And it does, as I can quickly prove to you. My moderate prices are but another feature worthy of your consideration.

MICHIGAN NEWS

D. U. R. ACCEPTS CITY'S PRICE FOR RAILWAY LINE

Proposition Will Now Go to Voters for Sanction; Amount Offered by Detroit is $24,900,000.

Detroit, Mich.—Announcement was made today that the stockholders of the Detroit United Railway have authorized the directors of the company to accept the city's offer of $24,900,000 for the purchase of the city street railway line.

According to the members of the municipal street railway commission a few minor details concerning the transaction are yet to be arranged, after which the proposition will be submitted for the approval of the voters at a special election which probably will be held in May.

The city's purchase price represents a mortgage debt on the line which the city would assume upon approval of the voters. Instead of the payment of a cash price.

MAKE ARITHMETIC MORE PRACTICAL, SAYS EXPERT

Speaker at Ann Arbor Institute Would Help Pupils Solve Problems of Daily Life.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—"Elementary arithmetic making" by Professor E. H. Cushman of the University of Illinois, and "The nature of arithmetical abilities," by Professor L. L. Thorndyke of the Teachers College, Columbia University, were the two topics discussed at the session of the teachers' short-term institute, at the University of Michigan, Professor Thorndyke paid particular attention to his talk to the need for a more practical use of the problems in school work. He said that the figures which arouse the pupils' interest by the placing of daily problems before children for solution.

Unless one aims to help the child solve the problems he will encounter in his daily life, the value of the problems in arithmetic is greatly lessened, said Professor Thorndyke.

A DETROIT MOTOR SPEEDWAY

The Auto City to Have a Marvelous Track—Stock Is Now Being Offered to Investors.

On April 7th work started on what is destined to prove the most remarkable auto speedway in the United States. Other cities over the country have had their race course for autos, but it is only logical that Detroit, the real auto center of the world to have the most modern track for speeding that has ever been devised.

The plans for this gigantic enterprise have all been carefully figured out, and on Labor Day this fall, the great sweepstakes that will rivet the attention of all race lovers will be held for a purse of $75,000.

On the reinforced track with its great banks at the turns a speed of 125 miles an hour can be attained. The races held in California, Florida and other states will all be distanced by the events staged for Detroit; leading makers will outdo themselves to place in the races cars to excel in every way those of the past. The convenient location of Detroit means that throngs will attend who cannot afford to take the long trips hitherto necessary for these most interesting events.

The mammoth grandstands will accommodate fully 110,000 people, and auto parking privileges will take care of 15,000 more, making the Detroit speedway the largest assembly in the world.

All of the spectators pay well for admission and seats, and the holders of stock in such an enterprise are assured of the largest, surest dividends possible. 50 per cent to 100 per cent has been made in other cities and Detroit should go beyond this figure, as it has a larger population surrounding it, and more automobile interests than any other city of the country.

The Detroit Motor Speedway is a Michigan Corporation of which the president is Hon. John B. Whelan, one of the best known citizens of Detroit, where he has had the honor of being the collector of customs for the past dozen years. This is the most important government position in Michigan. S. D. Maddux, of Indianapolis, is vice-president, Robt. Swart is secretary and Alfred Harkness is treasurer.

Mr. Maddux is thoroughly familiar with every phase of the speedway business, and in a recent statement says that every fault of other speedways will be overcome by this latest marvel of the auto racing world. That the investor with a desire for assured profits of a large character can find the best opportunity ever offered is self evident in the Detroit Speedway. The Detroit offices are located at 815 Majestic Building, where stock can be secured at $10 per share, with every assurance of tremendous interests in the way of dividends. Visitors are cordially welcome at the offices at all times.

PLEASES DETROIT VISITORS

The sort of town visitor in Detroit always finds welcome at the Library Park Hotel. In fact the round All-Edgemoor visitor looks upon this cozy and convenient hotel as a Detroit home. One very special feature that appeals strongly to the man or woman who drops in for a day of shopping at Detroit is the fine noon day luncheon at 25. This is beyond doubt the best meal ever served in this place. The Sunday and day meal at 50c is also a big whine. With 75c rates and up, Mr. Hamilton is giving the traveling public the best service to be found in this country. The convenient location at 50 Library, opposite the Hudson store, is easy to find, and the Library Hotel will be found the ideal for those who appreciate the best in every way at moderate prices.

MILITARY ATTACHE TO BERLIN RECALLED

Major George T. Langhorne.

Mystery surrounds the recalling of Major George T. Langhorne, U. S. military attaché, from Germany. Pro-German dispatches were sent to this country bearing the major's signature. While it is not believed that Langhorne sent them, no other reason can be discovered for the action of the government in asking him to come home.

HATFIELD WORRIED AS WEST VIRGINIA GOES "DEAD BROKE"

Gov. Henry H. Hatfield

West Virginia is "dead broke" at the present time and by the end of June the state will face a deficit of $700,000, according to official estimate. The situation worries Governor Hatfield, who is held partly responsible for the situation by his political enemies, the Democrats.

ALL ABOARD FOR FRISCO

Go to the World's Fairs at Small Expense.

Keen interest is being manifested in the new trip arranged by the World's Fair Company to the big Expositions on the coast. Every one wants to go and see the most marvelous exhibitions ever attempted, but many feel the expense is too great. But here you can travel in the best of style, with every comfort and luxury, with many side trips, and delightful entertainment on the way for only $158.

Yes—just $158 for fare both ways in best of Pullmans, hotels, auto fares, side trips, admissions to the exhibitions in fact every thing your heart desires, except actual meals. The next trip from this section leaves Detroit May 3rd and it will be a trip you should not miss. Reserve your accommodations right now, for these parties are exceedingly popular. ### MEN—LISTEN TO THIS

Here's Great Spring Clothing News for You.

Owing to a change in affairs, the Fenwick & Forman Co., of Detroit, Mich., have sold their stock to Carron & Company, one of the oldest and most reliable Detroit clothing houses, at a big sacrifice. This clothing stock embraces the most advanced styles for men and young men. In fact, no store in America has ever handled finer tailoring and the opportunity for buying such clothing at half off is unheard of. No one can afford to miss coming to this sale. Think of well $20 suits in finest fabrics, perfect fitting, for only $10. $30 suits that equal any in the country, now only $15. Overcoats and balmacans for spring at just half the usual prices. $4 trousers going at $2 and $8 trousers for $4. Furnishing goods at way below usual, see the swell line of spring and summer shirts at only 39c. Neckties you would expect to pay 50c for at only 19c. Remember this is genuine QUALITY merchandise, from the best makers such as Hickey-Freeman, Stratford System and other noted tailoring houses. No matter where you live you will save more, than enough to pay your expenses into Detroit and secure the swiftest clothes you ever wore. Carron & Company are conveniently located at 96 Woodward Ave., just one block from the Interurban station, between Congress and Larned Streets, on the east side of Woodward. Come early while selections are the best.

DIPLOMATIST'S ANGORA RABBIT

London.—"What is home without an Angora rabbit?" This is the motto which will henceforth adorn the home of Mr. Franklin Mott Gunther and Mr. J. H. Stabler, of the American embassy here, as a symbol of their first experience in joint housekeeping in London.

Both Mr. Gunther and Mr. Stabler recently decided that club life could not compare with the comforts of a "happy home," so together they took a house at 51 Lower Belgrave street, in one of the exclusive residential sections. With the house went the furniture, and with the furniture went an unexpected memento, a cook and an Angora rabbit. The rabbit was a great pet, and the American diplomats agreed to show it every consideration and incidentally to turn it to the owner when the house expired.

All went well until Mr. Gunther conceived the idea of helping out the decoration of the sitting room with some authentic Japanese pigmy, which he treasured. One of the plants was of a lotus on a green background. He returned home the other evening to find the pigmy gone and the rabbit dead. The cook was heartbroken and the house owner was baffled. A cloud hung over the happy home when it seemed nothing would do it.

Matters continued this way for several days until last evening, when in the middle of a party, the subject of a loud outcry was heard from the kitchen followed by a loud crash, when the cook fell prostrate to the floor. Next by doing a funny "funny walk" was an Angora rabbit, apparently looking for more paintings on the wall. Mr. Gunther said today that the cook had recovered, but fully believes in the resurrection of the dead. Mr. Gunther and Mr. Stabler believe that Angora rabbits, like cats, have nine lives, but there is a report at the embassy that one of the attaches, after the sad tale of the first rabbit, had succeeded in getting one more like it than its original itself and that it was surreptitiously smuggled into the house last night. Anyway, the rabbit is well and happy today and Mr. Gunther has taken his Japanese prints from the dining room.

PAIGE

The Standard of Value and Quality

Paige Wins the Leadership of the Light Sixes

To the best of our knowledge and belief more Paige Sixes have been sold in the last six months than any other make of six-cylinder car.

This tremendous success—won in three months—only reflects the attitude of the entire country.

The record-breaking sale of this car at all automobile shows has been the distinctive feature of this motor car season.

This means vastly more than a mere success in dollars and cents.

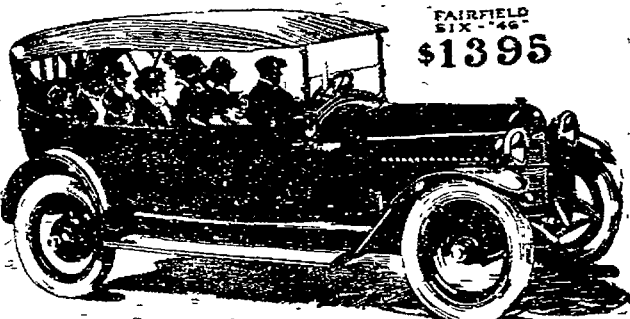

It means—beyond the slightest shadow of doubt—that in three months the Paige Six has become the acknowledged leader of the light Sixes.

It means that this wonderful car has been instantly recognized—everywhere—as the greatest 6-cylinder value in the world. No other possible construction can be placed upon such an overwhelming preference on the part of men who know motor cars.

You need only inspect the specifications of the Paige Six-46 to understand why it is that has made such an instant appeal to motor car buyers all over the country.

We have still some very desirable territory that is open.

If you are an aggressive business man—if you would take advantage of an opportunity to buy the fastest-selling six-cylinder motor car in the world—get in touch with us at once.

HOW THE TRADE-AT-HOME DOLLAR CIRCULATES.

The Times has never tired of preaching the policy of buying at home. It has set it up as a sort of proverb, teaching self-aid in the community.

A friend who is interested in the idea and endorses it, has sent us the following clipping from the Woman's National Weekly, which seems to us to be an apt illustration of the statement that a dollar spent at home is a benefit to the community and will return to the spender in some form.

The "trade-at-home" dollar, which was put in circulation in Cleveland, O., November 21, by Archie B. Sprague, president of the Retail Merchants' association, was recently returned to him. The dollar was spent, fifty-three times and Spurgin estimates that it earned more than $100 besides teaching the moral that it is best to trade at home. The dollar was placed in circulation to give people an idea of how much good a dollar will do if spent at home.

A dollar bill was pasted inside a bank book and instructions were written on the fly leaf for the possessor of the bill to make an entry each time the money was spent, telling with whom it was spent and for what. Spurgin spent it first and after that it went to fifty-two different persons. It bought all sorts of different things, was used in paying accounts, was applied on salaries, helped to make change and did every other thing a dollar has been known to do.—Tampa Times.

NEW CEMENT ROAD TO DETROIT.

A cement road is to be built from the Woodward avenue "T" road up through Redford to the "Y" point road and on through to Northville landing at the Wilby corner, the south village limits on Plymouth avenue. The Wayne county road commissioner intends now to build first the end from Woodward avenue through Greenfield, Redford and Livonia and as usual give Northville the last end of it probably in 1916 or 1917. Politically Northville seems to be way up on the front seat but when it comes to getting something done for the town, it appears that Northville was until all the other towns are supplied. Seemingly the people of Northville are up and those in representative townships ought to have enough influence to get the Northville end of a road and request built. The Woodward grand road from Woodward to Northville village limits from Redford to Woodward avenue is almost a completed road and it is to be hoped that the road is good and the road is good.

THE MAYOR'S APPOINTMENTS.

Village President Herr's appointments appear in this issue of the Record under the council proceedings. They are all commendable and that of Street Commissioner especially, so Mat Green has served in that capacity in the village upon several previous occasions and has been a little the best commissioner the village ever had. That not only knows how to build and repair streets and walks but has the happy faculty of grabbing hold of tools and teams himself when the occasion presents itself, as it often does. The president is to be congratulated. The committees also show up well. All in all the appearances are for a harmonious and progressive administration for 1915-16.

The latest thing in wars, according to the most recent estimates, has cost so far only about forty billions (in money). That isn't much—only enough to give ten hundred thousand families $4,000 per family. As to the cost in human lives, that hasn't been figured out yet. The value of men's lives varies so much, according to circumstances. Some people's fathers, husbands, sons and brothers are worth more, some less, of course.

From Our Exchanges.

Now that local option is settled again, what are we going to have for a topic of conversation?—Oxford Leader.

Wyandotte Housewives are pestered with hoboes seeking hand-outs, since the Hotel de Gink in Detroit was closed.—Wyandotte Herald.

There are three ministers in Holly and only one of them voted "dry." One is not a naturalized citizen and another registered to register.—Holly Herald.

The vote in this township makes us inclined to believe that a lot of fellows must have crawled on the wagon without letting it be known.—Farmington Bulletin.

How many of the good, dear people do you suppose refused to read the account of the Willard-Johnson fight, because they are opposed to such things?—Plymouth Mail.

The Northville Record had a very pleasing little story in its last week's issue about an agent trying to sell a chautauque course in South Lyon. We don't know yet whether that citizen was so far out of the way in mixing it up with an auto. They both come high.—South Lyon Herald.

The business section of Wayne was crowded with men Monday afternoon. They were assembled for the purpose of voting at the village election and letting in the Willard-Johnson fight. Some were singles others did not want to mix up with the crowd and were seen in their selection of cigars.—Wayne News.

A Birmingham real estate agency received a note from a dissatisfied client the other day. "I want them to get out of my house," he wrote. "My wife is able to talk on ten states and break her neck. And when the men are here they offer for the bat-tub. We might want to use it again pretty soon.—Birmingham Eccentric.

Thursday afternoon a fire started in the grass by Robert McLaughlin out on the Bluffs, got beyond his control and spread to woods on the Henry Darling and David Jackson farms. The residents of the neighborhood had to get busy, and they put in three hours fighting the blaze before they had it subdued.—Milford Times.

PRICE AND QUALITY IS PRESSING PROBLEM

HOW TO SATISFY DIVERSE DEMANDS OF PUBLIC AND DEALERS PIZZLES AUTO BUILDERS.

"It may be said that all manufacturers are conscientiously striving to give the public and dealers cars which combine high quality and reasonable cost," declares an official of the Olds Company, "but it is evident," he says, "that scarcely any two manufacturers have interpreted the demands of the public the same way. In view of the fact that cars are now in the market priced 20 to 30 per cent below $750 to $1,000."

J. V. Hall, sales manager, analyzes the manufacturers' difficulties by dealing the price and quality questions as follows: "Every so often Mr. Auto dealer comes to Mr. Auto manufacturer with the question, 'Why don't you put more quality in your car, or 'Why don't you add a few refinements to give your car more class?' Meanwhile both dealer and consumer are urging low prices, light weight and economy in all directions. With the price demand and the quality demand simultaneously confronting him, what can the manufacturer do?"

Olds Does It This Way. In the model 42 the Olds company has united the price appeal with the quality appeal. Their car has all the refinements of a $1,000 big car, yet is built at a price which is satisfactory to the average man.

Mr. Hall affirms the opinion that in the last analysis the quality appeal was over the price appeal. However, he states that Model 42 presents a combination of quality and low-price—something many manufacturers have striven to attain, but never accomplished.

RAE TANZER WAS ONE OF MANY TO BE TAKEN IN BY SMOOTH OLIVER OSBORNE

Rae Tanzer sketched in court.

When Miss Rae Tanzer of New York sued James W. Osborne, prominent lawyer of the metropolis, for breach of promise, she made a dreadful mistake. Oliver Osborne and not James W. was the man who wooed her so ardently. It now develops that Oliver Osborne is a professional love maker, and at least nine women have admitted that they were fooled by him. James W. Osborne feels that he has been wronged by Miss Tanzer, and the grand jury is deciding whether to indict her for using the mails in furtherance of a scheme to defraud. She is alleged to have written several letters to James W. Osborne, demanding a money settlement before she began her breach of promise suit.

Household Hints

SOME PALATABLE PIES

The Pie of Five.—One large, juicy lemon, one cupful of sugar, one egg, one good-sized potato and one cupful of water. Grate the rind of the lemon and add the lemon juice and egg. Beat well. Grate the potato or put through food chopper. Stir well with the other ingredients and then add the water. Place in a double boiler or sauce pan and let thicken, and bake in two crusts.

Brown Sugar Pie.—Two-thirds of a cupful of brown sugar, one tablespoonful of butter and two tablespoonfuls of milk. Cook until wavy looking, then take the yolks of two eggs, one heaping tablespoonful of flour. Mix all together smooth, add to the above ingredients, cook until thick, and add vanilla. Have a baked crust, use the whites beaten stiff for the top, and return to the oven for a minute or two.

Grape Fruit Pie.—First bake a shell as for lemon pie, then make a filling as follows: Mix one tablespoonful of cornstarch in a little cold water, and over this pour one cupful of boiling water. To this add the juice of two grape fruit, the grated rind and juice of one orange, the beaten yolks of two eggs, and the white of one, and a small piece of butter. Put all in the double boiler and cook until thick, stirring all the time. When done, put in the shell. Now beat up the white of the second egg with one-half a cupful of sugar until thick, and spread with a knife over the pie. Put in the oven and let brown lightly. Serve cold. This makes a delicious pie.

Delicious Spice Pie.—The yolks of three eggs, one and one-half cups of sugar, one cup of cream, two tablespoonfuls of flour, two thirds of a cup of butter, one teaspoonful of spice, cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg. Mix the flour and sugar together, then cream with the butter. Add the yolks of the eggs, beating thoroughly. Next add cream and spices. Use the whites for the frosting.

Molasses Pie.—One cup molasses, one egg, two tablespoonfuls of flour and one tablespoonful of butter. Bake with one crust.

Turnip Pie.—Put two cups of mashed cooked turnips into a basin, add three-quarters of a cup of flower sugar, three well beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of molasses, one tablespoonful of melted butter, one tablespoonful of powdered ginger, one teaspoonful of powdered cinnamon, and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Mix and bake in one crust like a pumpkin pie.

Sweet Potato Pie.—Bake the sweet potatoes and cut them in half-inch slices, put them in a pie plate on the oven crust, fill the plate and sprinkle with butter and sugar and a little water. Put on the upper crust and bake.

SCRAPS OF LACE

Allover val lace makes excellent undershirts to wear with thin blouses. The edges of the undershirt are joined in a French seam overlaid with a lace tape on the right side. A sleeve of the lace reaches half way to the elbow and holds the shield. At the waist there is a lace heading wide enough to take an inch-wide ribbon.

Exquisite accessories in the line of lingerie, pillow covers, bedspreads, workbags and table covers may be made from old embroidered underclothes, blouses and dresses. First, cut a pattern of the pillow cover, bedspread or whatever is to be made. Then cut the good parts of the embroidery into pieces of whatever shapes they will allow, and tack them in some balanced and regular form on the pattern.

Join the pieces together with narrow insertion, or where a scalloped edge happens to come at the joining whip it to the next section. Use lace edging for the outside finish.

As delicate doilies are rarely washed or cleaned, this is an excellent use to which to put old embroideries that will not stand much laundering.

WEALTH AND DEATH IN CITY'S GROWTH

Aged Retired Farmer Ends His Life After Last Potato Patch Becomes Building-Lots.

New York.—Unwilling to see the city encroach on what 50 years ago had been his prosperous farm, John Faulkner killed himself by cutting his throat in his home, No. 1616 Coney Island Ave., Brooklyn.

Mr. Faulkner, 78 years old, had come from Ireland 50 years ago and started his farm down in the South Greenfield section of Brooklyn. He was one of the first farmers there, and for many years his place produced such a good revenue that he became wealthy.

The house in which he killed himself he built 50 years ago and had lived there ever since. With the increase in city taxes he had to divide his farm into city lots and he sold them from time to time until nothing was left of the farm. Residences and business structures filled what had been his prize potato field, and his acres of garden.

His profits were large, but he was not happy. He had lost his farm and this matter weighed on his mind, with advancing years, until he became melancholy. His son, Thomas Faulkner, and the latter's wife lived with him. The housekeeper, Anna Geeghan, heard means last night and found him in his room with his throat cut. He soon died.

100 FARMERS DIG SIX DAYS TO RESCUE DOG

Caught in Mountain Crevices While Chasing Rabbit—Men for Miles Around Help in Rescue.

Birmingham, Ala.—One hundred farmers, friends of H. A. Wilson, of this city, laid aside their farm duties six days recently to save the life of one of Wilson's hunting dogs which was caught in a crevasse on the mountain side near Birmingham while chasing a rabbit.

Two friends borrowed Wilson's rabbit hound for a hunt. The dog picked up the trail of a rabbit and the chase led up the mountainside and Brer Rabbit jumped into the crevasse and disappeared. The dog followed. The hole in the mountain was forty feet deep, which the hound didn't know when it went in. After it had gone two-thirds of the way it found itself wedged in. The impatient hunters waited in vain. The rabbit rested content a few feet farther on, its cut off by the dog. The hunters went back to town and told Wilson.

That night the three came back with shovels and set to work to rescue the dog. An electric flashlight was attached to a long pole and lowered into the hole and the dog's predicament was disclosed. Dynamite was resorted to.

Farmers gathered for miles around to assist in the rescue. They labored with picks and shovels and explosives. The third day had brought but little progress and the fourth and fifth days quadrupled the crowd until the scene looked like a railroad camp. Blasts of powder on the sixth day brought the workers with two feet of the imprisoned hound and it was pulled out.

The dog was still alive and feebly wagged its tail to show appreciation. The rabbit had succumbed to hunger. The workers went back to their tasks and Wilson came back to his business in Birmingham. He says he does not regret the time spent in the rescue work.

GIRL SWALLOWS WATCH, DIES

Timepiece Removed by Operation but Result Is Fatal.

St. Louis, Mo.—Corrine Shine, 9 years old, of Odell Ave., who swallowed a watch, died a few days later at the City Hospital. Death followed an operation to remove the watch.

The watch was removed, but the child failed to rally after the operation. Quite So. "He airs his views frequently." "Maybe they need it. Some views get sorter moth-eaten, you know."

MAIL FROM 1,500 SONG POETS

The Mournful Tale of Arrest of Alleged Publisher.

NEW YORK.—Charged with using the mails to defraud amateur poets in all portions of the United States, John T. Hall, president of the John T. Hall Music Publishing Company, was arrested by postoffice inspectors and held in $5,000 bail.

A price of $250, the postal authorities charge, was used by Hall to induce 6,000 budding poets all over the country to part with money. Hall, it is charged, turned the poems over to a "happily studio" concern, which charged the entrants $10 each for writing suitable melodies. About one-fourth of the entrants paid the assessment, and thus $15,000 was collected.

Municipalities are satisfied with one "tag-day" a year but the public is "it" every day with the trusts.
