

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD.

VOL. XLVI. NO. 6

THE RECORD: NORTHVILLE, MICH, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1915.

$1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

DR. T. H. TURNER'S NARROW ESCAPE

AUTO. TURNED OVER EMBANKMENT ON PLYMOUTH ROAD FRIDAY NIGHT.

FRANK BALDEN WITH HIM AND NEITHER SERIOUSLY INJURED, STRANGE TO SAY.

While returning from Wayne Friday evening Dr. T. H. Turner and Frank Balden escaped death by inches. While passing a rig just at the north side of bridge No. 2 one mile south of the village on Plymouth avenue, their auto skidded over the high embankment through the fence and after turning over a few times, finally landing wrong side up on the flats below.

The occupants were pinned beneath the car and were only released by the timely arrival of Dr. D. B. Henry and some friends who were in another auto just ahead of Dr. Turner, and who heard the crash and yells below.

Both Dr. Turner and Mr. Balden were badly shaken up and Dr. Turner was quite a bit bruised. It was very remarkable that either escaped alive.

In passing the vehicle mentioned, Dr. Turner was confused by the glaring head lights of an approaching auto and was over the embankment before he regained sight of the road.

The auto and the fence looked like a real wreck in a movie picture show after the accident but an inventory showed the damage far less than could possibly have been imagined.

UNUSUAL BRILLIANT NORTHERN LIGHTS

The unusual brilliancy and beauty of the "northern lights" lately has attracted many Northville people to the surrounding hills on the few occasions when the skies have been unclouded enough to allow the aurora to be visible. It is, of course, necessary to get outside the glare of the electric lights to get a good view of the wonderful, ever shifting rays that spread in varied forms across the northern horizon. One particularly beautiful formation the aurora has frequently assumed is that of a colossal fan, the ends of the rays reaching almost to the zenith. There is a fascination about the auroral display that never fails to draw an audience, and each cloudless evening has seen groups of interested spectators viewing this unexplained phenomenon of the northern heavens.

FAMOUS WOMAN AUTO RACER TO APPEAR AT MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

MRS. JOAN GUNDO of Rutland, Vt., recently divorced from her husband, is going to return to the dirt track racing game and will drive at the Michigan State Fair on her second appearance. Mrs. Gundoe was hailed as the foremost woman dirt track driver of America in the early days and drove in the sanctioned meets of the American Automobile association. In 1906 the A. A. A. passed a rule which barred all women drivers from contests or exhibitions and Mrs. Gundoe retired. Her last speed trial was April 17, 1911, when she drove a car over the Long Island motor parkway, where the Vanderbilt races were held, at an average speed of 100 miles an hour for a half mile straightaway with a flying start. This did not count as a record as the A. A. A. at that time the only racing contest governing body, had barred women five years previous.

FRED WARNER ON PAVED WAY

HENRY FORD IS ALSO MEMBER OF BOARD.

OUT GRAND RIVER ACROSS THE STATE.

Former Governor Fred M. Warner of Farmington is to be one of the 46 directors of the Wolverine Highway association, having been selected Saturday at an election held in Lansing, when Henry Ford was made one of the 48 men chosen for the places.

The "Wolverine Paved Way" which is to be 154 miles in length and will connect Detroit with Grand Haven, is to pass through this section of the country, coming out Grand River avenue from Detroit and passing Farmington. Interest in the proposition has been created by the formation of local committees.

The "Wolverine Paved Way" is the name the highway will be known by if the mass meeting Sept. 4 adopts the recommendations made at Saturday's meeting. The word "paved" was used to distinguish it from ordinary highways. This road, reaching from Detroit to Grand Haven, connecting Lake Michigan and Lake Erie, connecting the two largest cities in the state Detroit and Grand Rapids with Lansing, the state capital, half way between, is to be one of the best highways in the state of Michigan if public subscriptions, assisted by state aid, will make it a reality, which seems certain.

Inasmuch as the state will donate $2,400 a mile as state reward and the price to be figured at less than $3,400 a mile as state reward and enough subscriptions can be obtained to make the venture an assured one.

ISAMINGER-FELT.

Carl Isaminger of this place and Miss Gladys Felt of Farmington were united in marriage in Detroit Friday, August 20. They will make their home here.

The groom has been in the employ of the Michigan State Telephone Co. the past two years, having charge of repair work in and about Farmington.

NOTICE TO ALUMNI.

All graduates of the Northville High school, also all those who left school after finishing the Eleventh grade may become members of the Northville alumni association by paying the dues assessed, viz. 25 cents, which are payable at once.

STATE FAIR DAYS.

Special Trolley Service Will be Given on All Lines.

The program for the Michigan State Fair has been announced and, as is the custom, every day has been given a distinctive name, as follows:

Sept. 6—Labor Day
Sept. 7—Patriotic and Old Soldiers' Day
Sept. 8—State Grange Day
Sept. 9—Gleaners' Day
Sept. 10—Michigan Day
Sept. 11—Children's and Boy Scouts' Day

Sept. 12—Aviation Day
Sept. 13—W. C. T. U. Day
Sept. 14—Detroit and Board of Commerce Day

Sept. 15—Canadian Day.
There will be horse racing for the first five days, with horse shows and fireworks in the evening. There will also be fireworks Sept. 11 and 12. With decent weather (and there ought to be some by then) the management expects to break all records for crowds.

The Detroit Laid Lines will put on special interurban cars, and in addition, Flint, Pontiac and Inland City cars will stop opposite the Fair grounds to let off and take on passengers.

From Detroit the street car fare will be five cents or a 7-fer to Log Cabin and then five cents, on which, on request, a return transfer good to Log Cabin will be issued.

MRS. JOE MONTGOMERY DEAD.

Mrs. Joe Montgomery died at her home on Rogers street, Thursday noon. She had been in poor health for some time and it was decided that an operation was necessary. This was performed Sunday at her home by the Dr. Henry. Her condition had been unfavorable so that her death was not unexpected.

Mrs. Montgomery was a comparatively young woman and had many warm friends in this village. She was a sister of Joe Weston of this village.

Beside the husband she leaves a twelve-year-old daughter, Marion, and one son, Earl.

No funeral arrangements had been made at this writing.

Her Apprenticeship.

SCHOOL BEGINS MONDAY, SEPT. 6.

EFFICIENT CORPS OF TEACHERS READY TO TAKE CHARGE.

BOTH SCHOOL BUILDINGS HAVE BEEN PUT IN TIP-TOP SHAPE.

The 1915-16 school year will begin next week Monday, Sept. 6. There will be no regular sessions. The lists of books required will be given out so that each scholar may be ready for business Tuesday and the grades and classes dismissed for the day.

The teaching staff will consist of O. M. Misener, superintendent; B. A. McClary, principal; Eunice Wartman, drawing and music; Anna Johnson, science, and Ellen Fry, English and history. High school: Beatrice Whitehead, kindergarten; Mary Munro, first grade; Ruth Martin, second; Carrie Fuzzell, third; Edna Nevison, fourth; Mrs. Susie Woolley, fifth; Jennie Withee, sixth; Margarette Weller, eighth grade.

Miss Isabel Gorton, who has taught here for two years had been engaged for the seventh grade, but has since resigned that position. Miss Beulah Phillips will be in charge of that room.

Janitor VanValkenburg has both school houses in a first-class condition having gleamed each room thoroughly, oiled all floors and put up freshly laundered curtains at the windows. Both sets of steps on the front of the old building, and the entrance to the laboratory, have been repainted. Mr. Van has also trimmed the trees along the front and two sides so that the grounds are well lighted.

Old Wine in New Bottles.

Did you know the light is in here? Freddy (the father, not a college graduate in fact)—"Yes, sir, Professor Mustenberg has a theory that brilliant light beams the intellect. We are experimenting to find the degree of luminosity by which the attention is kept vivid and the mental functions active."—Judge.

GERMAN BATTLE CRUISER MOLTKE LATEST BIG VESSEL TO JOIN "SUBMARINE" FLEET

The Moltke.

In the naval battle at Riga the Russians proved they are not quite helpless by driving off the Germans and sinking several enemy ships, including the battle cruiser Moltke. The Moltke was of 23,000 tons and carried in ordinary times a complement of 1,107 men. She was 590 feet long and was armed with ten 11-inch and twelve 6-inch guns and twelve 24-pounders. In addition, her armament included four 20-inch torpedo tubes. She was built in 1911 and had a speed of about 28 knots. Her cost was about $12,000,000.

SKIM MILK AS A FOOD

Its Nutritive Elements Underestimated.—Many Ways in Which it May be Used in the Diet.

Prepared by U. S. Government Experts for this Paper

Skim milk is a very economical food material, in the opinion of experts in the department, and might well be more largely used as human food—this in spite of the fact that it is nine-tenths water. The argument for economy is based on the price at which it is usually sold and upon the composition of the remaining tenth or the nutritive portion.

Whole milk, as everyone knows, is an indispensable food for the young and even in the diet of the adult it is completely indispensable. The only method of taking it in skimming is to remove the cream. There is left the skim milk. This is left after the cream has been removed. The nutritive substance is important to the body, besides serving as fuel for the body, in fats, sugars, and starches. It also supplies nitrogenous tissue-building material. The proportion of protein in skim milk, as well as of the mineral constituents, which are of a valuable for body building, is even greater than in whole milk.

Since the nutritive part of skim milk consists very largely of protein, it is to be classed, as whole milk is, with such food materials as eggs, meat, fish, poultry, and cheese (though it is much more delicate than these foods), rather than with such substances as sugar which serve only as fuel. Two and a half quarts of skim milk contain almost as much protein as a pound of round of beef. When skim milk sells for 4 cents a quart, or about 2 cents a pound, and round of beef for 20 cents a pound, a dime, or any other sum of money spent for skim milk will provide nearly twice as much nourishment as it will if spent for round steak. Round of beef, of course, is one of the lower-priced meats, and when compared with the more expensive cuts skim milk makes a still better showing from the standpoint of economy. The comparison with eggs is very significant; a quart of oysters contains less than twice as much nourishment as a quart of skim milk, and yet it often costs several times as much. Both of these foods are expensive, and in the case of oysters, it is an economical way of using the oysters, since a quart of oysters is given quality "as further."

Whole milk and milk has, of course, a more pleasing taste to most people, and those who do not need to consider the economical aspect will no doubt, therefore, prefer it. When used for cooking, however, the difference in taste between skimming and creaming milk is not perceptible, and there are a great many uses to which skim milk can be put in the preparation of foods. In the making of cereal mushes, for instance, the use of skim milk in place of water adds greatly to the nutritive value, particularly by adding the amount of tissue-building materials. In cooking milk soups, soups, custards, and cakes, it can be profitably used. In soups the lack of fat is made up by the use of oil or pork.

Corn Chowder.

1 can of corn or 1 pint of fresh corn, grated.
4 cups of potatoes, cut into small pieces.
2 ounces salt pork.
1 small onion, chopped.
1 cup of skim milk.
1 teaspoonful salt.
4 ounces crackers.

Cut the pork into small pieces and fry it with the onion until both are a delicate brown. Add the potatoes and corn, cover with water, and cook until the vegetables are soft. Add the milk and salt, and reheat. It is well to allow the crackers to soak in the milk while the potatoes and corn are being cooked. Some people cook the corns from which the corn has been removed, in water, and later use this water for cooking the potatoes and corn.

Cakes Without Flour.

When cottage cheese is made from skim milk, cream or butter is very commonly added, to make it more palatable. For some purposes the cottage cheese curd from skim milk is better than that from the whole milk, as for example in cakes made from the following recipe, which is unusual, since it contains no flour:

Curd Cup Cakes.

1 cup dry curd.
4 eggs.
3 cup sugar.
1/2 teaspoonful salt.

Beat the yolk of the eggs thoroughly, add the sugar and the curd (which must be very dry) and beat until the mixture is smooth. Combine this mixture by adding and folding with the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Bake for 20 minutes in a moderate oven, in which the heat is greatest at the bottom. The number of cakes thus made should be about 10.

In order to prepare the curd, take 1/2 cup of 1 quart of sour skim milk; heat to the boiling point and strain; when no more liquid runs off, press the curd between cloths or spread it out in a thin layer on a cloth and dry in a warm oven. If the curd from the quantity of milk gives remnants to more than a cupful, it is too wet.

If a very sweet curd is liked, as is the case in parts of South America, where these cheese cakes are well known, two cups of the cottage cheese and 4 eggs.

In recommending skim milk as food, the fact should always be kept in mind that it has gone through one more process in the course of preparation for family use than whole milk has—that of separation or skimming. This in the case of food materials is liable to become contaminated and the carrier of disease is a very important matter and the consumer should take even more pains in buying whole milk to know.

has been carefully handled, particularly if it is to be used raw.

The provisions of the Food and Drugs Act and common honesty require that skim milk should be sold for what it is and never as a whole milk. It should be plainly labeled as skim milk. To sell it as a whole milk would not only be a violation of the Federal Food and Drugs Act in cases where that law applies, but also a violation of the state law in any state where it might be sold.

SORES ON HORSES

Bursatti, or So-called Summer Sores, Are Troublesome to Horses—Methods of Treatment.

Prepared by U. S. Government Experts

Many horse owners at this season of the year find that their horses are troubled by sores which resist usual methods of treatment, and which in this respect differ from ordinary wounds. These growths or sores are supposed to be of fungous origin. Their true nature and cause, however, have not been definitely determined. They are especially prevalent in the Southern States, and are called summer sores on account of their persistency and the difficulty with which they are healed during the summer season. As cool weather approaches, healing frequently takes place, but there is always the possibility of the wound breaking out anew with the advent of warm weather. They may appear on any portion of the body, but are especially troublesome when occurring on the lower parts of the limbs or at points where the harness touches.

Frequently the first indication or appearance of the trouble is a small lump resembling a grain of shot beneath the skin. In a few days the skin sloughs off over the spot, leaving a raw surface. This increases in size until in a few weeks there is a raw surface from 1 to several inches in diameter. Commonly there is intense itching and the animal bites and rubs the parts, aggravating the condition and increasing the size of the sore. The edges of these sores are usually rough in appearance and raised above the surface of the skin. When examined closely they appear like a mass of dark bruised tissue in which is embedded more or less of a yellow, gritty growth.

Numerous methods of treatment have been resorted to in this condition with varying result, and frequently no improvement is noted until the approach of cold weather. Many cases, however, yield to the following treatment: The wound is thoroughly scraped with a surgeons' sterilized curette, or with a clean, disinfected dull knife, after which it is showered with cold water for 10 or 15 minutes. Iodoform is then dusted on and rubbed into the wound by means of a wad of absorbent cotton, and the wound is immediately covered with a layer of collodion. The iodoform and collodion applications are repeated every 24 hours for 15 days or until the sores heal. Later on chloroform may be used in place of iodoform, being poured on the cotton and applied to the sore for two minutes before painting it with collodion.

Formalin has been used by injecting it into the sores. This, however, should be used only by a qualified veterinarian, as its improper use might cause severe sloughing and disastrous results.

Not infrequently a valuable stallion becomes affected, in which case the genital organs may become involved and incapacitate the animal for breeding purposes. In such instances the injection of 75 to 100 grains of salvarsan, or neosalvarsan, into the blood circulation has proved almost a specific. This, however, should be carried out only by a competent veterinarian. It should also be remembered that a single injection of this preparation costs from $15 to $20 and its use is advisable only for the treatment of valuable animals.

SCENES IN GALVESTON AFTER FLOOD THAT TOOK HEAVY TOLL

Wreckage along sea wall boulevard in Galveston. These pictures, just received from Galveston, indicate the fury of last week's Texas storm which killed nearly 300 persons and did an estimated damage along the Gulf of about fifty million dollars. Upper photo shows destroyed Columbus Cafe and Casino on the sea wall boulevard. In center of picture are shown twenty-ton granite tombstones pushed across the street by the force of the waves. Lower picture shows destroyed amusement pavilions and booths along the sea wall boulevard and debris from destroyed bath houses.

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 5

ELIJAH AND THE PROPHETS OF BAAL

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 18:30-39.
GOLDEN TEXT—Jehovah is far from the wicked, but he heareth the prayer of the righteous. Prov. 15:29 R. V.

Following the lesson of last week

We have (ch. 18:1-16) the interesting account of Ahab's search for Elijah and of the prophets' meeting with Obadiah. Verses 5 and 6 suggest the severity of the drought in the land. Ahab's accusation, "Art thou he that troublest Israel?" is replied to by Elijah's challenge regarding a contest between himself, the representative of Jehovah, and the king's prophets representing Baal (vv. 17-25). In accordance with the stipulation, the prophets of Baal accepted the challenge and most miserably failed (vv. 26-29). The place of this dramatic contest was Mt. Carmel (see map) and the time probably B.C. 900.

I. Elijah's Preparation vv. 30-35.

RULERS OF BULGARIA TO ENTER WAR

Recent photographs of King and Queen of Bulgaria.

The eyes of the world are now turned upon Bulgaria, the Balkan kingdom whose rulers are getting ready for war. Just which side Bulgaria will join remains a question, but it is believed she will throw her weight with the allies, probably assuring the early defeat of the Turks.

On Carmel's crown now swains a countless throng
With one brave soul to stand for God
'Gainst millions in the wrong.
—George L. Taylor.

Elijah gave the 450 prophets of Baal and the 400 priests of the groves (v. 19) every advantage possible that he might the more clearly unmask their error and make manifest their defeat. Their fortified eyes and self injury continued fruitless until 1:00 p. m. Then Elijah announces the details which were to make all possible doubt as to whose champion he was or who is to answer his petition. (a) He calls the people together (v. 30) drawing them into God and challenging their undivided attention after the confusion produced by the priests and their consultation over their defeat. (b) He contrasts the altar (v. 30-31). Any true and lasting reformation must begin at the altar of God. Restoration in the heart, the home and church and there will return to all unity and strength. Note Elijah's insistence upon an undivided heart, as suggested by the "twelve stones." While any lasting reformation must begin in the individual heart, still if it is true and genuine it will work itself out in the nation. "I will build me an altar," the "prince that prevails with God," who had wrought for their fathers who answered Jacob's prayer, is now about to answer Elijah. This altar was not constructed as a monument to departed one nor for the ornamentation of the house of God. It was for God's first cathedral and for his glory alone. On this altar Elijah placed his sacrifice.

Again Israel is to prevail over its enemies; this time those within, not those from without. (c) He covered the altar (v. 33, 34) and poured water upon it to remove all possible accusation of fraud or trickery. The trench "as great as would contain two measures of seed" (v. 32) is equivalent to six gallons. Three times water was taken from the spring, still flowing at this place, and poured upon the altar, twelve jars in all again symbolizing the twelve tribes.

II. Elijah's Prayer, vv. 36, 37. The great prophet ever could only secure through prayer his desired blessing though its purpose was "that this people may know that thou, Lord art God." His prayer was: (a) Addressed to God; (b) Grounded upon experience, that of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob; (c) It was for one purpose, the honor of that name; (d) It was to sanction his act in calling forth the drought upon Israel as a punishment for the sins of princes, priests and people; (e) It was founded upon the word of Jehovah to corroborate and to affirm the words "at thy word;" (f) It was for the conversion of the people, that their hearts might be turned back to Jehovah once more.

Elijah, the man of faith, staked his all upon the Word of God, he gave himself up wholly to the plans and purposes of God, and relied explicitly upon the covenant-keeping God.

III. God's Power, vv. 38-40. We are confident Elijah had never seen fire fall and that he must have realized the awful catastrophe involved if it did not fall. Yet he fearlessly makes his plea and the fire fell. It was not an accidental stroke of lightning. God the creator, worked upon the laws of nature, his servant, and wrought confusion to his enemies. It would be a strange God and father who could not use his own laws and creation to produce a moral effect.

The abundance of proof was that not only the offering, but the water and the very stones of the altar were consumed. Risking all, all is won. What we need everywhere is men who will follow in Elijah's steps in order that the fire of God may come upon us. There remained no longer, any doubt, God is God, Baal is a sham. So they "fell on their faces," yet in spite of the victories of God men today refuse to render unto him like obedience and worship. Compare in this connection the fire of God's holy spirit which came upon the apostles and believers at Pentecost and the resultant convicting power convincing the people of Jerusalem that the crucified Christ was the son of God.

FARMER'S INSTITUTES

More Popular Than Ever—Number of Meetings and Attendance at Them Steadily Increasing Each Year.

Both the number of farmers' institutes held each year and the attendance at these meetings is steadily increasing according to a report on farmers' institute work which has just been published by the department as Bulletin No. 269. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, the report states, 25,238 of these institutes were held throughout the country, with a total attendance of 3,656,381. This is an increase in attendance of 26 percent over that of any previous year. On the other hand, the expense of conducting the work was nearly $63,000 less than last year, the total cost for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, being $447,897.51.

Farmers' institute organization conducts its work under many different forms, so that it is almost impossible to summarize its activities briefly. For example, in addition to the ordinary meetings there were movable schools in 12 states which had a registered attendance of 112,498 different people. Field demonstration meetings were also held in 15 states, although no record of the attendance was kept. Special railroad trains were organized in 17 other states to aid in giving lectures and demonstrations. A detailed analysis of this work, showing the number of different kinds of meetings in each state, the attendance, and the duration of each, is contained in the bulletin already mentioned. This bulletin also contains a number of notes on agricultural extension work of a similar nature in foreign countries.

BURIAL OF HAWAIIAN KING

Bones Were Carried By Chiefs To a Subterranean Cavern.

The discovery of rare relics of old Hawaii in a burial cave in Waialeale, Hawaii, recalls to Hawaiians advanced by years many of the traditions concerning burial in ancient times, says the Honolulu Commercial Advertiser. One story which was handed down through a family is in the effect that long before the missionaries arrived in the Hawaiian Islands, two native chiefs went near Waialeale to a cave of a cave to look after their potatoes. Darkness came on while they were still working.

Suddenly a light appeared on the summit of the hill. It was a light torch. Then another came into view until finally the summit and the slope were a burning mass of light. The natives knew that a burial was about to take place. It occurred, they according to law of the times, would be killed. They threw themselves down in the weeds and remained quiet. The procession came close to them and stopped.

In a litter carried by several men was a young girl apparently in the last throes of death. Wailing and then the chanting of meleas was heard and then the girl apparently died. Retainers left the maid body and went toward the stream, which they dammed up, thereby diverting the stream. In the old bed of the stream the retainers worked until they uncovered the mouth of a cave. The body of the girl together with many calabashes, tapas, etc., was carried in the cave was sealed up again, and the stream was once more allowed to run its usual course.

As to Kamehameha the Great, whose remains, according to rumor may have been discovered by Mr. Forbes in Waipio Gulch, his body was taken by Prince Hoapili and his half-brother, the high chief Ho'oulu, and hidden in a submarine cave, the secret of the location perishing at the death of Ho'oulu. Kamehameha's body lay in state at Kamaeha, Kailua, Kona, Hawaii. His temporary grave there was named "Ahuea" and the spot is known at the present day as Kamaeha-honu-i-Ahuea.

Hoapili and Ho'oulu watched the grave, waiting for a time when the high chiefs, who were wearing kahilis, and the groups of natives would fall asleep. When the time was opportune the two high chiefs snatched up the bones, which had been woven into a net and enveloped in an Ahuea cloak (yellow feather cloak).

Prince Hoapili had given his brother a pistol, once the property of John Young, and commanded him to shoot down any person whom they met. They ran along the sea coast with their royal burden until half way between Kaha and Waimea. There they met a youth.

When Prince Hoapili saw him he stood perfectly still so as not to attract the youth's attention. Ho'oulu came right on and met the man, but fearing the report of the pistol if discharged would alarm others he gave the man a blow with the butt end, intending to kill him. The chiefs resumed their flight until they reached a place on the shore where a canoe was drawn up. They sailed along the coast, it is said, until they came to a place which natives assert was Kamehameha's last resting place. Ho'oulu dived into the water and swam through an entrance into a large cave and there reposed the royal remains. Time must have been about May 12, 1819, for according to tradition the old-time Hawaiians removed human flesh from the bones of their dead on the third or fourth day after death.

According to the Kihamaunokua who resided at Lipo, in 1879, the two high chiefs did enter a canoe with the remains of Kamehameha, for no doubt that it was in either whom the bones had been placed on the beach. After the assault upon the beach, what was taking place he followed the chiefs until he saw them get into the canoe at Kihamaunokua.

If the submarine cave has a long tunnel as many have caves have on Hawaii the chief in Waialeale may have been the last.

Every man is above his average—according to his own belief.

The man who makes good doesn't live to prove it.

WAR AUTO EQUIPPED WITH MACHINE GUN ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S DEADLIEST WEAPONS

Machine gun on war auto at Plattsburg encampment.

In the plans now on foot to strengthen the defense of the United States, no factor plays a more important part than the auto guns of the military forces with the motor machine and machine guns. One man and one of these can do more effective work than one hundred men equipped with the regular army rifle of the present time.

TESTED AND PROVEN

There Is a Heap of Saloce in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months many readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit?

Mrs. John C. Abbey, Fifth St., Fenton, Mich., says: "A dull, nagging pain in my back annoyed me for six years. I paid little attention to it at first, but it kept getting worse until I saw that something had to be done or trouble would follow. I could see after I used the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills that the pains in my back were getting less and I got another box. By the time I had taken this, I was completely cured. I have not felt the trouble since."

NORTHVILLE, MICH., SEPT. 3, 1915.

Another Detroit church congregation—the Woodward avenue M. E.— has made its pastor a present of a handsome motor car. It is getting so that in Detroit an automobile is one of the prerogatives of a pastorate.
Well, Detroit needn't feel puffed up over it; 66 2-3 per cent. of the resident pastors of Northville have cars, and the remainder auto (When their friends invite them, we mean, of course).

The writer of this paragraph sat
by the fire one August evening recently and read how wonderfully comforting a certain kind of face powder is "this hot, sticky weather."
Nigot beside this glaringly inaccurate ad, in the adjoining column, was the statement that the extremely cold weather was responsible for the prevalent cattle diseases. Such is life, and such is 1915 weather.

One of the latest "crusades" is directed against the chewing-gum habit.
We are entirely in sympathy with the crusade if it only breaks 'em of chewing in public. It's bad enough on the streets and at parties and
"shows", but some of the "chewers" even do the act in church, which is certainly very hurtful to the nerves of those who don't.

Some of the signs of the times:
No Parking Here. Keep off the Grass;
Do not Pick the Flowers, Do Not Put Your Feet on the Seat; No Smoking, Passengers Not Allowed on the Platform, No Hunting on this Farm,
Do Not Spit on the Floor, Safety
First, Keep to the Right, Keep Smiling, Do It Now.

Our office grammarian glows over the fact that city papers often contain errors as well as country ones and points with pride to the discovery that a prominent Detroit periodical the other day used "strived" in a headline as the past tense of "drive," when there is not such word as "strived."

Henry Ford is reported as having recently presented a poor family—at whose home he was entertained during a motor trip—with an automobile. Henry shouldn't do such things to poor families unless he also presents 'em with a bank account.

Mr. Krystle is a resident of Waltz, according to the Carleton Times' correspondence. "We don't want to be troublesome or anything, but we really would like to know how to pronounce Mr. K's name. Might meet him some time, you know."

Ben Meyers, Henry Lee and Dick Marsh took in the double header at Navin field Detroit, Sunday—Farmington Enterprise.

We wondered where all that big crowd came from.

The woman's page of the Detroit News added insult to injury on one of our refrigerated August days this week by publishing a lot of recipes for "cold weather puddings."

Congressional Library.
The Congressional Library building was finished in 1897 at a cost of $6-$47,000, exclusive of the land the price of which was $25,000. The collection of books and pamphlets in the library is the largest in the western hemisphere and the third finest in the world, numbering in printed works, charts, manuscripts, etc., 1,900,000 volumes.

Elucidation.
"Now, Thomas," said the teacher,
"can you more fully explain the adage,
"Old men for counsel and young men for war?" "It means," replied Thomas, "that the old men do the quarreling and then let the young men do the fighting."—Fun.

NOTED DRIVERS TO COMPETE AT
THE STATE FAIR

Cash Prizes Total Several Thousand Dollars.

EXPECT TO BREAK RECORDS

"Wild Bill" Endicott Among the Speed
Demons Who Will Make Auto Races
One of Big Features of Exposition at Detroit.

Dirt track automobile racing is becoming less dangerous and more popular every year, according to G. W.
Dickinson, general manager of the Michigan State Fair, who announces that plans are being rapidly completed for the speed contests which will be held during the 1915 exposition at Detroit, Sept. 6 to 15.

Noted Drivers to Compete.
Noted drivers from all parts of the country will enter the races and the events in which attempts will be made to shatter dirt track records. The prizes will total several thousand dollars. "Wild Bill" Endicott is among the drivers of space eating vehicles who will be at Detroit this fall.

The State Fair races will be governed by the rules of the International Motor Contest association, of which Mr. Dickinson is president. State Fair races in practically all the middle western states will be held under the auspices of the I. M. C. A.

Accidents Less Frequent.
Mr. Dickinson says that automobile racing had its beginning on the dirt track, and he believes that the sport will continue to be more popular than ever now that accidents are becoming less frequent, rules having been adopted which have had the effect of making the contests much less dangerous.
An official will examine every driver to determine whether the autolists are in the best physical condition, and the cars will be examined by mechanical experts.

Great Interest in Horse Show.
The horse show, one of the society events of the State Fair, will attract the attention of thousands this fall. An exceptional interest is being taken in the show by owners of saddle and bar-ren horses from all sections of the state.

Roller Coaster a Feature.
One of the attractions at the State Fair grounds which delight the children is the giant roller coaster, which is absolutely safe. In fact, "Safety First" is the slogan at the State Fair grounds at Detroit.

AVIATOR WHO WILL GIVE FLIGHTS
DAILY AT MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

THE Patterson Aviators will not only present the battle in the clouds at the Michigan State Fair, which will be held at Detroit Sept. 6 to 15, but will give other exhibition flights and will carry passengers. A special patriotic program will be given by the aviators on Children's day as well as the day the old soldiers are guests of the Michigan State Fair management at the big exposition.

GROVE AT STATE FAIR GROUNDS
WHERE ADDRESSES ARE GIVEN

COMFORTABLE benches are placed in the grove at the State Fair grounds, where addresses are given nearly every day during the big expositions. Among the speakers at Detroit this year will be Governor W. N. Ferris, Congressman Patrick H. Kelley of Lansing and other men prominent in the state and nation.
Band concerts will be given in the grove by Smith's Scotch Highlanders.

1915 STATE FAIR FEATURES

More money is being spent by the State Fair management upon noteworthy features and attractions than ever before, and even in this year of great expositions Michigan's State Fair, which is to be held at Detroit, Sept. 6 to 15, will rank among the best.
Following are some of the attractions announced by General Manager G. W. Dickinson:

"Money" Saturday Night's Special
At the New Alseium Theatre.

"Money" will be given at the Alseium Saturday night. Not literally, but pictorially. "Money" is a new play played by new actors and the first offering of a new producing company. It tells a heart gripping story with an elaborate stage setting. In one scene a beautiful palace and its contents are entirely destroyed by fire. California furnished the scenery.
"Money" may be seen at the Alseium Saturday, Sept. 4. Usual admission.

"Daddy" Charter—as he is affectionately known to all Northville—has now entered his nineteenth year, having reached his eighty-ninth birthday last Saturday, August 28. Mr. Charter is able to be about town nearly every day.

Beginning next week the Record will issue a larger edition every alternate week with special attractive reading and advertising matter. The issue of the week referred to will reach every home in Northville and all along the rural routes.

The peach crop promises to be unusually large this year in this vicinity. Hills Bros, who have one of the large orchards believe their crop will reach 2,000 bushels of several fine varieties. Fred Simmons & Sons and Frank Hamilton also have splendid orchards and are harvesting a luxurious crop.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in the Baptist church parlors Monday, Sept. 6, at 2:30 p. m. All members and others are requested to attend as Mrs. Jones, District Superintendent of the W. C. T. U., expects to be present and will deliver a message of interest to all.

We learn from some of our Oakland county exchanges that Miss Ferolin Brooks of Birmingham has been in charge of the 100 boys of the Detroit Free Press' boys' camp at Sylvan lake this season, which fact speaks volumes for that young lady's executive ability. Miss Brooks is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brooks, for many years Northville residents, and it seems a very short time since Ferolin was a small girl here. She is to enter the Normal college as a student this fall.

Manager Fox of the Plymouth and Northville Gas Co, informs the Mail that the gas plant will commence operations this week and gas will be turned into the mains ready for use by those patrons who have had their houses piped by that time. Everything is in readiness at the plant to begin operations, and Supt. Rowe has two gangs of men installing the service work to houses. The company have the pipe on the ground, and will soon commence digging and laying piping from this village to Northville.—Plymouth Mail.

Owing to the immense amount of work required to get the Library in running order again, it has been found impossible to have the opening day this week Saturday as intended. It will be all the ladies can possibly do to finish the work by next week Saturday, Sept. 11. On that date the people of Northville are to be invited to a free entertainment that promises to be of more than ordinary interest, further announcement of which will be made next week in this paper. The books on the seven-day list will of course be received and given out this week as usual.

WEEK'S CALENDAR

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)
The services at the Presbyterian church will be resumed next Sunday. After the vacation it is expected that both pastor and people will be ready to take up the work with renewed energy. A crowded congregation would be the very best way to begin the fall work. It is hoped that every member of the congregation will be present. The subject of the morning service will be "The Average Christian—His Value to Society."

The subject of the evening sermon will be "The Laborer as God's Partner." Our friends of the Baptist church are to unite with us in this evening service. This Union service is to be held in a way of appreciation for the attendance of so many Presbyterians at the Baptist church during the absence of the pastor. It is hoped that many will be present, that we may prove ourselves as pleasant hosts as our friends have proven themselves to be. The subject will be in keeping with the thought of Labor Day.

The Sunday school will be held as usual. Those who have been taking a rest during August are reminded that the vacation season is over and their presence is needed at the Sunday school. Those who have been faithful during the summer are to be commended.

The first meeting of the Christian Endeavor will be held one week from Sunday. The meeting will be devoted to reports of the delegates to the World's convention, which was recently held in Chicago.

The Women's Missionary society will hold their monthly meeting next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Katharine Strong. A large attendance is desired.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)
Sunday morning sermon-topic: "A Credit to Our Profession"

Evening subject: "The Prodigality of God and the Thrift of Man." At this service the proclamation of Governor Ferris will be read. This is a Labor Day topic and will be of interest to everyone. Good music.

The pledges made toward benevolence are now due. Pay the same to Miss Rose Blundell.

The Epworth League will have its first rally on Sunday night at 6:00 o'clock. Mr. Clark, the president, will lead. Special music and program has been arranged. A good starter for the fall season is promised.

The keynote word for prayer meeting next Thursday night will be Praise. Let everyone look up this word in the bible, and have a verse ready to give.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)
The subject for Sunday will be "Faith in Adversity."

In the evening our congregation will extend its courtesies to the people of the Presbyterian church by joining in worship with them.

All Baptists are earnestly requested to rally to the services of the church. The pastor is planning for special services during the month of October and expects to be assisted by the entire ministry of the Wayne Baptist association and also desires the co-operation of the ministers of this village as well as all who are interested in the up-building of the Master's Kingdom.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

(By the Pastor.)
English services next Sunday at 2:00 p. m., standard time. The second of the series of sermons on the subject "Prepare to Meet Thy God" will be preached. The second reason why you should prepare to meet your God is "God is Your God."

A full house is expected. Come and join the crowd. It will be worth your while.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY.
Christian Science service in the Ladies' Library Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock.

A Success.
The conversation had turned to the many men who had met success. "There, for instance," said one man, pointing down the street, "goes a man who began life in poverty and now lives on the fat of the land." McFee looked at "Yes, I know him," he replied. "He's an agent for an antifraternal concern."—Judge.

Extra Special—"Peck's Bad Boy" at Alseium Theatre, September 8th.

"Peck's Bad Boy," known almost the world over, is a story of an ordinary boy and his pranks—without number. The comedy, by that name will be played at the Alseium theatre Wednesday evening, September 8. The play is so well known that there is little need of repeating its story. The principle character is a healthy, good-natured American boy who is continually working off his surplus energy by playing tricks upon those with whom he comes in contact. His father, mother, and the German grocer are most frequently the butt of his harmless jokes. Clean, wholesome, comedy-entertainment. There are also 16 song numbers and Charlie Chaplin imitations by Carl Hixon. Reserved seats on sale at Murdoch's drug store, 25c, 75c, and 50c.

MORE HIGH SCHOOLS TO TEACH AGRICULTURE

East Lansing, Mich.—Colleges in elementary agriculture will be established in seven additional Michigan high schools this coming fall. Prof. W. H. French, head of the department of agricultural education at the M. A. C., has announced. This will bring the number of schools in Michigan in which farming and gardening is taught up to 50.

The seven new schools for which agricultural courses have been outlined are those in Hillsdale, Plainfield, Allegan, Saginaw, Arcadia, Crystal Lake and Vicksburg.

M. A. C. men will serve as teachers, but four of the half hundred agricultural departments

DEATHBED STATEMENT TREES ACCUSED MEN

Port Huron, Mich.—The statement made by Arthur G. S. last before he died in a local hospital that Jacob Schumaker and Arthur Sterling were not responsible for the shooting which caused S. S. S. to die, brought about the release of these two men. Who had been held on a charge of murder—S. S. S. was very emphatic in his statement that the two men were not responsible for his death and he pleaded with the officers not to prosecute them. S. S. S. Schumaker and Sterling, became involved in a quarrel and a rifle was discharged, the bullet striking S. S. S. in the abdomen.

Household Hints

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

It takes new potatoes at least twenty-five minutes to boil soft. Just add a pinch of baking soda the size of a pea to hurry cooking.

Ice Saving.—Make a wooden pad half-inch thick (using an old blanket) to completely cover top of ice chamber. Make a case of paraffin paper, insert pad in case, pin it at open edge. Place this pad on top of the fresh cake of ice, thereby keeping away from the ice the down draft of warm air, which is the principal cause of melting. Paraffin case keeps the pad from coming in contact with the ice. Same pad can be used for a long time, with fresh paraffin covers. This cuts ice bill in two.

To Clean White Felt Hat.—Take half pint gasoline and add wheat flour until mixture appears dry. Brush hat well, rub on mixture with the hands, then shake hat well and brush thoroughly with a clean clothes brush. If not sufficiently clean and white, repeat. Hang hat in open air until smell of gasoline has evaporated. One will be pleased with the results.

For Gapes in Chickens.—Always have a thin layer of coal oil on chickens' drinking water and see that they get no other water to drink. Red Ants.—Along the cracks and doorills where ants are thought to come in, wash with turpentine. Does not take paint off and will banish pests instantly.

CANNING AND PRESERVING

To Can Corn.—To eight pints of corn cut from cob, put one-half pint sugar, one-half pint salt, one pint water; boil fifteen minutes, then seal. Be sure to have both can and lid hot. Soak corn two hours before using.

Corn Sauce.—Twelve ears sweet corn cut from cob, two heads cabbage, chopped fine, one teaspoon each of whole black pepper, yellow mustard and celery seed, one quart vinegar, one pint sugar, salt to taste. Cook, put in cans and seal.

To Can Green Beans.—To one-half gallon green beans strung and broken, add one scant cup salt, one-fourth cup good cider vinegar; boil twenty minutes, then can. Soak over night before using.

BABY'S MILK

No bottle baby can thrive during hot weather on milk that is not kept on ice. If there is no refrigerator at hand, take two wooden boxes—one about three feet square, the other five or six inches smaller every way. Place the smaller box in the larger one and fill the space between them, bottom and sides, with sawdust.

In the center of the smaller box keep a four-quart tin or covered kettle in which two or three cents' worth of ice may be kept and placed daily. The milk bottle can be stored in this.

Painting the outer box improves the appearance. Hinge the lid to close perfectly and line it with a few layers of newspaper. The box can be used by small families as a refrigerator.

THE TABLE

Deviled Crabs.—Put crabs into boiling water containing one tablespoon salt and a little vinegar. Boil ten to fifteen minutes, or until they turn red; then cool, and remove the spongy substance and the small piece at lower part of shell. Pick from shell the meat which remains, and to each cupful of crab meat allow two tablespoons melted butter, two tablespoons bread crumbs, yolks of one or two eggs, one teaspoon minced parsley, one-half teaspoon lemon juice, salt and pepper to taste. If it seems dry, moisten with a little milk. Wash shells, trim into shape and heap with the mixture. Sprinkle with dry bread crumbs mixed with a little melted butter, brown in a moderate oven.

Topsy-Turvy Salad.—Mix cold cooked potatoes, string beans, peas, beets, lima beans, cauliflower, asparagus and shredded raw cabbage—any or all—and serve very cold on lettuce with salad dressing. Salad Dressing.—Mix three teaspoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon flour, one teaspoon mustard; add one egg and mix well, then one-half cup milk, and lastly one-half cup vinegar. When all is thoroughly mixed put over medium fire, stirring constantly to prevent lumping, or cook in a double boiler.

a million and a half dollars, according to J. Howard Muncie, specialist in bean diseases, who has just returned from an inspection trip through the principal bean growing districts of the state. The loss is expected to be somewhat in excess of that of a year ago, owing in part to the fact that the bean acreage is greater this year than it was in 1914.

It was found by the M. A. C. men that the most severe ravages of the bean diseases were wrought in those fields which were low and damp fields which were well drained were not so seriously affected.

BOHEMIAN WEDDING DAY NO TIME TO BUY FARM

Gorham, Mich.—Casper Matlock says that the day of a Bohemian wedding is too busy to purchase land, of the day following Casper has obtained a temporary injunction restraining Rudolph Teichman from selling his farm to a man in Vermont.

The complainant avers that one year ago he attended a wedding at Highland, and that Teichman brought him to his farm that night. He saw a field of beets, and he thought they were the best beets he ever saw. After he recovered from the effects of the wedding, he says he found part of the farm was swamp land, and not even good pasture. He seeks to have the court set aside the price on the farm for which he agreed to pay $3,600.

FLINT SOLDIERS MADE FINE RECORD AT CAMP

Flint, Mich.—The Flint Union Union Blues, Co. A, Thirty-third infantry, proved themselves one of the crack companies of the state at the Grayling camp by carrying off the shooting honors of three regiments, both in field firing and range problems; pulled down the cup offered by Chaplain Swain, of the Thirty-third, for the best all-around company in the regiment, and constructed the best trench in the entrenching maneuvers. Twenty men of the thirty-third shot over the regular army course. Of these only five were selected from the Flint company, but all were included in the 12 who qualified as expert riflemen, while the other seven regular army medals were scattered through the 11 companies.

Our Unseen Companions
Real men and women are not the only people. Our minds are inhabited as truly as any other country. Every child has his invisible playmate, to whom he talks more freely than to his parents, and with whom he goes upon strange adventures—a tiny Columbus with whom he embarks upon the waters of the bath tub to discover a new land, or a roving DeSoto with whom he slips through the garden gate, unattended and unafraid, always before he is three years old, bent upon an excursion into the wilderness which lies across the brook in the field or in the woods. If you are the father or mother of this child you never can understand that how the timid baby, who was never before out of your sight could have gone so far alone. Why, when you found him, stained with his travels, very tired, almost nodding, and bent upon a farther pilgrimage into the unknown. It is because he was not alone. He was accompanied by another who he knows better than he will ever know father or mother—one of those companions of his own fancy, about whom he never tells you or anyone else.

These people grow up like other people.

pie. The little child has his familiar, and the young man his "ideal," always a woman—not the one he married; not even the one he might have married, but one whom he never saw in the flesh—a valued and inscrutable presence who never forsakes him. And when he grows old, and the wife he did marry grows old, she remains young, fairer than the hills, sweeter than honey, dew upon the leaves in June—Corra Harris, in Harper's Magazine.

FUTURIST SKIRT CAUSES SENSATION

Miss Violet King in futurist skirt.

Miss Violet King, one of the most prominent members of the younger set at Newport, has originated and is wearing this multi-colored "futurist" skirt. This novel design is taking with her friends, and is expected to come into popular favor. Miss King did not volunteer to make public the theme which the design was supposed to depict, but an artist who happened to pass remarked that it was an inspiration for a cubist painting he was then planning.

Glimpses of Married Life

Dear Nell: I told you of our plan to keep people from knowing we are bride and groom and of course you are interested to know how the scheme worked out. We could not escape rice and old shoes and benighted baggage at Detroit, of course, but as we took the night boat for Cleveland we had ample time to shake the rice and chuck the ribbon before we landed, and the most rigorous inspection would have failed to detect any bridal symptoms. At Cleveland we took the train east and landed after protracted riding in this dear little Maine coast town. The hotel is small and there are no society people here, to my inexpressible delight. Pursuant to our old married people role, I began to talk of "little Hal" as if he was my own boy for whom my heart yearned. An inquisitive neighbor who was crocheting on the porch asked, "Is Hal your little boy?"

"He's a very dear little boy," I parried, "and I wish I had hold of him this minute."

I heard the doctor smothering a laugh, and turning my back on him in order to be able to keep my face straight I began examining the pattern she was crocheting.

"How many children have you?" I asked, hoping by getting her started on her own carlings to keep the conversation off my own affairs, but, alas, she was an old maid. By persistent probing I dug up some nephews and nieces for her to talk about. When they showed signs of being threadbare I suggested to the doctor that we walk on the beach.

"How I love this wild, rocky coast, with the sea stretching away so blue, so green or so gray—according to the light—dotted with the white sails and rocky isles, and the shouting billows that rush and glare on the rocks. All the world is ablaze with glory and beauty. But I meander; this is not my story.

We stayed long on the moonlit shore, leaning against a friendly rock and talking raptly. There are silences more eloquent than any words. When we returned the verandah was vacant, as I hoped it would be. The doctor snatched on the wind-swept porch the next morning, and I sat at the other end by the crocheting woman. I heard him say, "Yes, Hal is one of my boys."

"How many children have you?" I inquired my neighbor.

I was panicky at once. What if the doctor had given a number and mine should not agree with his.

"I hardly know sometimes whether I have four or forty; healthy children are so noisy. Excuse me, please." I rushed over to where the doctor sat smoking. "How many children did you say you had?" I whispered.

"I think it was a hundred and fifty last time I counted." There was a merry twinkle in his eye. "I've been practicing eight years."

"No help there. So I settled on four, my sister's three and your one. They all belong to me; I love them so dearly. When I sat down again I launched into a description of my children and their diseases. I described Hal's spasm and what I did for him and told of little Marjorie's whooping cough. In a lull in the conversation, the doctor's voice floated serenely over. He was saying:

"No, my children have been remarkably healthy. I've never had to call a doctor for them."

The old maid looked suspiciously at me, and I reddened horribly. "He doesn't tell that he is a doctor himself," I said in an aside. "He wanted to forget all business on this trip." So the day was saved.

I coached him as to the number of children and the diseases that had laid them low, after we went to our room. It's very exciting to act a part all the time. I plan every day the things we will do together when we get home in Fairport. Kiss "my boy" for me and remember me to Dick. The doctor is not here to send any messages.

Lovingly, OLIVE.

"Bigger and Better Than Ever"

Better Babies' Contest

Boys and girls under three years of age from throughout the state will be entered in the better babies contest. There are classes for youngsters under one year of age, under two years and under three years. Twins and triplets also will be awarded prizes. The babies contest will be one of the big attractions of the 1915 exposition.

Boy Scouts' Congress

Troops from various cities and towns will be at the State Fair two days. Contests for the Boy Scouts will be held under the direction of leaders in Boy Scout work and prizes will be awarded the winning troops.

Children's Exercises

Children's exercises at the State Fair always are most interesting and the arrangements which are being made for the occasion this year surpass all previous efforts.

Auto and Horse Races

Noted drivers of trotters and pacers as well as automobiles will compete in speed contests at the State Fair. Night auto races will be an innovation this year.

Battle in the Clouds

An exhibition of the manner in which aviators in Europe carry on this new and terrifying warfare above the battlefields will be given by the Patterson aviators.

Night Horse Show

Jumpers, hunters, tandems, four-in-hands, roadsters and coach horses will make the horse show one of the most attractive features of the State Fair.

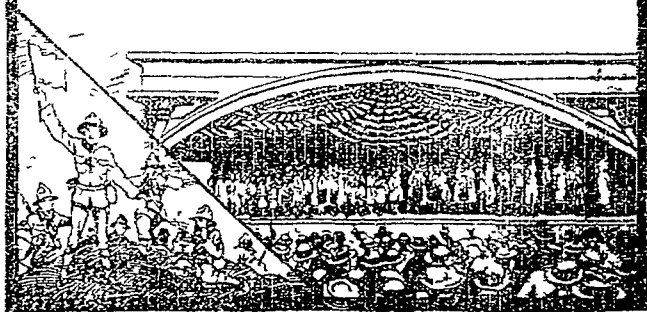

Many Other Attractions

Other noteworthy features include girls' milking contest, fireworks, the big midway, a thrilling exhibition by an aeronaut who will drop from a balloon in a bomb, which upon exploding will release the aeronaut and his parachute, four-day test for dairy cows, large tractor demonstration, fireworks, automobile show, builders' exposition, and superb displays of the products of Michigan's farms and factories.

A flock of geese were seen flying north one day this week. This indicates that winter is over and the ice will be out of the lakes soon. Oxford Leader.

Three men from Wayne and vicinity left last Thursday for Italy, where they have been called to fight under the colors of their native country in the European war. Friends of the three men accompanied them to Detroit, after giving them a rousing send-off the night previous. Wayne Weekly.

Dr. Gertrude Banks of Detroit, is the plaintiff in a suit started by summons in circuit court against Myron Severance of Wixom. Rufus Hopkins of Wixom is made a defendant. The action is brought according to the attorneys, Perry & Lynch, to collect a debt of $170. Pontiac Press-Gazette.

Albert Spence of Sumpter township is the owner of a curiosity in the shape of a four legged chicken. The little fellow is about two weeks old and is as spry as any of his companions. His extra walkers are fastened to the regular ones at the body and stand out back at nearly right angle. When the little one walks the extra pair of legs work in unison with the others but do not touch the ground—Belleville Enterprise.

For many decades Lake Orion's floating island has attracted the attention of the scientists of the country and all kinds of theories have been advanced as to its annual appearance and disappearance. Now we have a second floater—even larger than the first and located about 125 feet from the original floater—which at this writing is eight feet under the surface—having disappeared between the 13th and 16th of the present month, while the new one was 15 feet below the surface on June 15th and has been gradually coming to the surface since the measurement of that date, and it finally came into sight on August 17th and was a fully developed island a day or so later.—Orion Review.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Wayne, ss. A session of the Probate court for said county of Wayne held at the probate court room in the city of Detroit, on the twenty-eighth day of August in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

In the matter of the estate of WILLIAM G. YERKES, deceased. Georgia G. Yerkes, administratrix of said estate, having rendered to this court her final administration account and filed therewith her petition praying that the residue of said estate be assigned to the persons entitled thereto.

It is ordered, that the twenty-eighth day of September next at ten o'clock in the forenoon, Eastern standard time, at said court room, be appointed for examining and allowing said account and hearing said petition.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published three successive weeks previous to said time of hearing, in the Northville Record, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county of Wayne.
