NORTHVILLE BAND TO HAVE BENEFIT

FIFTY LOCAL PEOPLE IN A MUSICAL COMEDY.

TO BE GIVEN AT THE ALSEIUM THEATRE NEXT WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Northville people are to have another home talent production. Wednesday evening, November 3, this time it is a musical comedy, "A Knight for a Prince" and will be given under the auspices of the Northville city band.

About fifty people will take part in the rollicking comedy. Rehearsals are being directed by Bope Butler, a member of the Alma college glee club which has appeared twice in this city.

The band boys will furnish music between acts.

The following press notice from the Alma Record speaks well for the entertainment: "One of the most enjoyable and successful home talent productions ever seen in Alma was the musical comedy, 'A Knight for a Prince,' at the opera house last Monday night under the auspices of St. John's Episcopal church. The audience was well pleased for the frequent. The costumes were bright and varied. The music was very catchy. Mr. and Mrs. Cowan, authors of the play, certainly deserve great credit for the production."

MRS. STIMPSON DIED SUNDAY

BELOVED NORTHVILLE LADY PASSED AWAY AFTER AN OPERATION AT HARPER HOSPITAL.

Mrs. George Stimpson, who was taken to Detroit last week for surgical treatment, died Sunday morning, October 21, in Harper hospital as the result of an operation, unfortunately too late delayed. Mrs. Stimpson's body was brought to the home Sunday afternoon in the Schrader Bros. ambulance and the funeral was held there Wednesday afternoon, her pastor, Rev. J. F. Wehler, conducting the service.

During her nine years residence in Northville, Mrs. Stimpson had won many friends, through her kindly and charming manner and her ever-ready helpfulness in all neighborly offices. To her family she was companion and friend as well as wife and mother, interested and helpful in all their diversions and plans. She was a valued member of the L. O. T. M. M. and of the W. R. C. She was 46 years of age and is survived by the husband and five sons, two of whom are married.

The family have the sympathy of the entire community in the loss that has so suddenly desolated their home.

Mrs. Stimpson's body was placed in the vault in Oakwood cemetery until final arrangements are completed.

CAPTAIN WOODMAN DIED SATURDAY

WAS WELL KNOWN IN NORTHVILLE AND NOVI TOWNS, AND POSTMASTER HERE SOME YEARS.

Captain J. Hamilton Woodman, a former well known resident of Novi and Northville, died Saturday morning, October 25 at his home in Detroit after a long illness.

Mr. Woodman was a veteran of the civil war enlisting from Novi when a boy of 18, in the 22nd Michigan infantry in which he served as captain of his company, performing faithful and varied service for his country. All the early part of Mr. Woodman's life was passed in Novi township. He was an active member of the West Novi Debating club for years, and had attended several of the annual reunions of that body since their inception. During his residence in Northville many years ago he served as postmaster for four years. He was also a member and past officer of the Masonic order.

Funeral services were held Monday from the home and the interment took place at Ypsilanti. Among the pall bearers were L. L. Brooks and L. C. Mead of this place, chosen as such by Mr. Woodman during his last illness.

CHICKEN PIE SUPPER AND BAZAAR.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will hold their annual chicken pie supper and bazaar Wednesday, November 10, in the rink.

In the afternoon the bazaar will be conducted by the ladies, fancy work and other articles being arranged for sale in separate booths, appropriately decorated.

The famous M. E. chicken pie supper will be served from 5:00 o'clock on until the food supply is exhausted. The date was changed from Nov. 3 to 10, on account of the entertainment to be given by the band on the former date.

CASS BENTON DEFINES POSITION

ON GOOD ROADS QUESTION AS TO WATERFORD AND KINGSLEY ROUTES.

Northville, Oct. 27, 1915.

Editor Northville Record: Dear Sir:—In discussing the "Good Roads Question" in your last issue I am quoted as favoring from the first the Kingsley road, so-called, leading from Grand River avenue west to Northville village. I deem it a duty I owe the people of Northville, who have ignored me in so many ways, to request space enough in the Record to define my position on this matter of Good Roads, for I know that no section has been more loyal to the promotion of this cause than Northville and no section has fared worse at the hands of the Road commission.

Northville has been consistent in sending representatives to the Board of supervisors who have been earnest supporters of the Good Road proposition and untiring in their efforts to aid the County Road commission, and in neglecting this section the commission has not remembered the good services rendered by supervisors, Northville or Kingsley, of myself.

During the campaign to promote the $2,000,000 Good Road bond issue, the Road commission published and circulated a map showing what roads would be built if the proposition was endorsed by the people and if you will refer to that map it will show that the Commission at that time favored what is known as the Waterford road, and virtually pledged itself to improve it. Mr. Northrop was then on the Board of supervisors and gave his loyal support to the commission. He excited no guarantee for any particular road, except that Northville should have a road built leading from Plymouth road east to Grand River avenue out of the proceeds of this bond issue of $2,000,000 and with this assurance no section gave stronger support than the people living along Waterford road. I do not wonder then that they are bitterly disappointed to learn that after the $2,000,000 is all expended they are not to have this road improved as was promised.

When, at this session of the Board of supervisors the Board commission, for reasons best known to itself, (Continued on page 8)

WITH THE AMBULANCE CORPS IN FRANCE.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Ashley of New York are over in the French war zone. Mrs. Ashley was Juliet Booth, daughter of Charles Booth, well known in Northville. Ashley is a manufacturer of steel garages and small houses and went over to France a month or so ago to sell some of these buildings. He liked the country and the excitement so well that he enlisted in the American Red Cross society and is now driving one of the ambulance wagons.

A card received from Jim this week by the Record shows one of the bombarded stone houses and it looks like a big sieve. Jim says he is driving within 1,400 yards of the German trenches and that the shells and bombing goes on regularly over his head and headquarters. After the hostilities cease Ashley expects to sell a few boat loads of his factory output.

Mrs. Ashley is stopping at a Paris hotel with a lot of other American ladies and writes she is having the time of her life.

GOOD ROADS FOR DETROIT-LANSING ROUTE

PAVED WAY ASSURED INSIDE OF FOUR YEARS, SO SAY THE BOOSTERS.

Several thousands of boosters for the Wolverine Pavedway, the new trans-state road, returned to Lansing last week convinced that Detroit is awake to the possibilities of the proposed highway, and that if any support is needed from the metropolis of the state and Wayne county it will be forthcoming when called for.

"The boosters and boomers," who left Lansing for Detroit, were convinced long before the mass meeting was concluded at the Board of Commerce, that Detroit was going to be one of the leaders in the promotion of the road.

W. K. Prudden, president of the Pavedway association, expressed the sentiment of every tourist when he said: "When this road was first discussed I believed the work might be completed, after we organized I was convinced that it would be, and now I do not hesitate to say that Michigan is going to have a paved road from Detroit to Lansing, Grand Rapids and Grand Haven in two years."

The Detroit run overshadowed that to Grand Rapids in magnitude, many more cars making the trip here, according to those who participated. There were over 500 machines in line, when the tourists departed from Lansing and at every town en route more cars were added, where at least 250 Detroit machines dropped into line behind the visitors. In all more than 1,000 motor cars were in the parade.

The mass meeting in the Board of Commerce during the evening was a fitting climax to the day's celebration. Most of the tourists and several hundred Detroiters crowded the auditorium to hear the addresses made in behalf of the Wolverine Pavedway.

George T. Moody, of Detroit, welcomed the visitors. H. C. Shields, chairman of the democratic state central committee, of Lansing, presided and introduced the speakers.

President Prudden was one of the principal orators, both at the Detroit meeting and those en route. Others at the Board of Commerce gathering were Phil T. Cuyler, of Hastings, president of the Michigan Good Roads association; Congressman P. H. Kelley of the sixth district, former Congressman G. J. McLean, of Holland, Charles P. Downey, of Lansing, Fred Smith, Lansing, and Robert Dean, of Chicago, Council for the Cook County Good Roads association.

In addition to the celebrations in the towns, farmers along the route turned out and displayed welcome banners and flags to show they were with the boosters. In many of the school houses in the rural districts the children ceased their studies long enough to come out and watch the parade, and to sing for the tourists.

All the way from Lansing to Detroit there were signs indicating the route and also welcoming the boosters. The Board of Commerce and affiliated organizations in the reception placarded every pole between Redford and the city with welcome signs. Other towns did the same.

Howell and Farmington were the two towns to offer the tourists refreshments, which they gladly accepted. At Farmington, former Gov. Fred M. Warner was host—Detroit News.

ORPHEUM THEATRE, DETROIT.

Ed Gallagher and Bob Carlin in a nautical travesty, "Before the Mast" and the celebrated comedian, Andy Lewis with other players in an original farce, "The Duke," in which Lewis is a Jewish peddler who inherits a fortune, are the two features on the Orpheum program next week. A stage full of scenery is required for "Before the Mast" and both sketches are of the laugh making sort. Matinee continues from 12:30 to 5 p. m.

Essence of Will. You cannot admire will in general, because the essence of will is that it is particular.—G. K. Chesterton.

"PEG O'MY HEART" AT THE GARRICK THEATRE, DETROIT.

Lovers of good, clean comedy will be delighted to welcome the popular and fascinating "Peg O'My Heart" when it returns to the Garrick theatre, Detroit, Monday evening for a week's engagement. Dainty and demure Florence Martin, who headed the company that played Boston for ten months and Philadelphia five months, will interpret the roguish heroine, as she is a comedienne of distinctly individual methods and with an abundance of good looks, it naturally follows that the consensus of critical opinion is that her impersonation of the title role is a masterpiece of characterization. Mr. Herbert Ransom, the distinguished leading man, is the manly Jerry, to whom little Peg finally capitulates, with the quotation, "Oh, there's nothing half so sweet in life, as Love's young dream." The Ethel, a role calling for a capable young actress, is finely played by a young English beauty, Lillian Kemble Cooper, and the public will find in Mr. Frank Burbeck a clever actor of the old school, an ideal Hawk. Joseph Alletton will play the son, Alaric, and Vera Shore the maid. Charles Hampden will be the Brant, and Gordon Burby is Jarvis.

HONOR FOR NORTHVILLE VETERANS.

Starkweather of this place was, honored by election to the presidency of the Fifth Michigan cavalry, at the recent annual reunion of the Cavalry Michigan Cavalry Brigade association at Battle Creek last week. Com. expires March 11, 1916.LANSING'S INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

With all due credit to Gov. Ferris, an undoubted executive ability and the general success of his administration, he certainly made a serious mistake in his investigation of the State Industrial school at Lansing, or at any event in his conclusion therefrom, which led to such an unwarranted attack on the methods employed in the school. The institution has been, for many years past, unquestionably one of the best of its kind in the United States, and under a system carefully evolved by years of experience, has been doing a great work for the future citizenship of the country. Mr. Ferris has thoroughly demonstrated his own capabilities as a teacher and trainer of boys, but he has never tried out his methods on 750 youngsters of the "wild Indian" variety. It stands to reason that such an assemblage of youths, practically all incorrigible, cannot be effectually governed in the same manner as a like number of normally obedient ones. An institution existing for the purposes of reforming unruly boys can't be run by Sunday school methods exclusively.

Boys whose parents have given them over to the state is a bad job, but some sterner controlling rules than those laid down in a Corps, however, are needed. The worst feature of the life of a boy in the institution is the fact that he is confined to the almost complete isolation of the institution. It will require months of effort and a much more vigorous enforcement of discipline than ever before to bring the school back to anything like its former state of efficiency and order. Investigation of public institutions are all right in their way if the way is right.

THE KINGSLEY-FIVE POINT ROAD

In the good roads controversy the Record tries to see how everyone can consistently represent the village and the most city part of the township and favor any other road east, for cement, except the Kingsley-Five Point road. No other route would give the village a cement road up through its Main street and the village of Northville is entitled to some consideration. Besides all this the Kingsley road is 2 miles shorter and if cement roads cost $20,000 per mile, there is a saving of $40,000.

Grand Rapids offers a prize for a civic song. In our attempt to comply we have only got so far: "Grand Rapids fair, we sing for sure, Boozie, boozie, fruit and furniture." Now we will continue just as soon as we find something to rhyme with Grand Rapids—Oxford Leader.

The nearest we can come to it—in the effort to help the O. L. out—is "Sapheads." We refrain from offering it, however, for fear it might offend the Grand Rapids folks—or else react on one or 'tother of us.

Speaking of this odd name business we hear so much about from the paragrappers nowadays, a man out near Flint who makes a business of sheep raising, bears the appropriate name of Mr. Blatt. (It might possibly be necessary to explain for the benefit of urban readers that that is the way country people always pronounce the sound that represents a sheep's vocabulary.)

$10,000 Reward! For the grammarian who can analyze and parse the following from the Detroit News-Liner department: "Parties who stole a bicycle from No. 10 Blank street is known and was followed. If not returned will prosecute."

As to the ultimate results of the D. U. R. purchase controversy, only one thing is absolutely sure at this time, and that is that the country patrons of the Detroit daily papers will be mighty glad when it is all over with. The subject is not, naturally, nearly so interesting to the hundreds of outside readers as to the city folks.

One of our exchanges says: "Attempting to block the wheels of a load of stone when the horse suddenly started, Charles Sherwood, of Romeo, had a wagon load of stone pass over his feet badly crushing same." Why Charles should have gone and had such a thing done is a mystery, but if he had to, why not have taken the usual method of inserting his pedal extremities in a railroad track frog?

A Persian peace advocate has come to this country to try to establish a "school of prophets." Heavens! haven't we already enough "prophets"—such as they are? Any old time you can't find a prophet to prognosticate in regard to any subject on earth, it's something remarkable. And they're no particular profit at that.

"Many Drunk Arrests" says a Pontiac Press-Gazette headline. What's a "drunk arrest," anyway? Might mean either the arrester or arrestee, or both. And Oakland a dry county, too!

Judging by the Detroit daily papers the people of that city will have a job on their hands to vote on the municipal ownership of street cars, on November 2. One paper says "it's a gold mine" and the others "it's a gold brick."

Judging from the ever-increasing list of casualties in this country it isn't at all necessary for us to be involved in the war to get our "surplus population" killed off.

After witnessing the U of M foot ball contest at Ann Arbor Saturday, we conclude that the pupils are giving too much attention to their studies.

The U of M foot ball team looked much like the Philadelphia base ball club in the world series.

Once every year Monroe people go to church. This year's event is billed thus: "The U of M foot ball team looks much like the Philadelphia base ball club in the world series."

Moral: send your children to M. A. C.

RECORD LINERS PAY—TRY ONE.*WEEK'S CALENDAR*BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)

The morning topic will be, "Winning God's Praise."

This Sunday closes the pastor's first year's work in Northville. In many respects, the year has been a very pleasant one. While some problems have been solved, there are others yet unsolved. Yet we find this to be true in business and in the social world as well as in church life. One especially pleasant feature has been the manifest good will and fraternal spirit of the pastors of the village and their people. In fact, we have a very warm place in our hearts for the entire citizenship of Northville and hope nothing will interrupt it during the year before us.

We are thankful for the good congregations of last Sunday and hope for a continuance of the same.

Look out for the every member canvassers and be ready for a prompt response. We must know where we are at and this canvass is our means of knowing.

The subject for the evening will be "Gifts and Requirements."

The Mission circle will meet with Mrs. Wm. White Wednesday, Nov. 3.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH NOTICE.

(By a Member)

The Rt. Rev. Chas. D. Williams, Bishop of Michigan will visit St. John's Episcopal church, Plymouth, on Wednesday evening next, November 3, at 7:00 o'clock, standard.

The occasion will be a Confirmation Service and the Bishop will also preach. The service of course is public and we hope that a good number of Northville residents will be able to go over to Plymouth on that evening as a hearty invitation has been extended to Northville by the Warden Vestry of St. John's, Plymouth.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)

Morning topic: "Life's Great Question and the Unavoidable Answer."

Members of the congregation and those who do not attend elsewhere are urged to attend our morning service. Every effort is made that this service may be of real value to all. Will you come and test it out?

The Sunday school and Christian Endeavor at their usual hours. The slight falling off in attendance of these two meetings last Sunday makes very imperative the necessity of our loyal and constant support. A steady as well as a large attendance is our ideal. Will you help?

Evening service at 7 o'clock. Subject: "The Highway of Life." We believe this offering worth while even if at the expense of an hour's visit with your friends or family. Bring them with you.

One week from Sunday morning the Communion service will be observed. An opportunity will then be given for parents who wish to have their children baptized. If there are any such, let them make notice the pastor.

The Missionary supper and pageant were the successes as prophesied. A word of thanks is due all who in any way had a part.

TREES ON THE SAND HILLS

Region That Was Useless May Be Made Productive by Common Sense Methods.

Every one knows that France has saved her southwest department from the curse of drifting sands by planting pine trees; and that Germany has tamed some of the poorest soil in Europe to human service by the same methods. But how many Americans, even of those who claim to be well informed, realize that a similar work on at least as great a scale is being performed by our own government in the sand-hill regions of Nebraska?

In this district, where the real estate moves back and forth with every change in the wind, Uncle Sam's forest rangers are planting trees. They are planting their faith to the jack pine, as being best adapted to standing the severe conditions of tree life in that country, and about a thousand acres are set to these useful trees each year. When they began this work, nine trees out of every ten trees planted died. Now, the rangers have perfected their technique to almost none out of ten trees live; and though the work is only a dozen years old, it is already transforming a considerable region.

Enthusiastic foresters figure out a fine net profit for the government at the end of 20 years. One can not help suspecting that most of this profit will evaporate, but that is, after all, the smallest part of the matter. The main thing is that a region which was useless and a menace is being put to service, and that the way is being shown for state and private enterprise of the same nature on a still larger scale.

We are Determined to Know the Efficiency of Northville Record Advertising.

Keep the Kidneys Well

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Northville People Know How to Save It.

Many Northville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Northville woman's recommendation.

Mrs. G. Bernhardt, Northville, says: "For a long time, one of my family had kidney trouble. There was lameness across the back that made work difficult and burning pains when the kidney secretions were passed. The patient was unable to straighten up and pains in the legs made walking difficult. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Murdoch's drug store, brought wonderful relief. Price 50¢ at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Bernhardt recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv't.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO

The lesson for that day was the recitation from memory of the German poem, 'Die Lorelei.' Asked some of the members of the class to translate this into English, not only preserving the thought but also the metre and rhyme-scheme. Miss Hazel Parmelee, a senior, handed in the following which all who are acquainted with the difficulty of such an undertaking, will agree is more than ordinarily well done.—O. M. M.

DIE LORELEI.

(German.)

Ich weiss nicht, was soll es bedeuten,
Dass ich so traurig bin;
Ein Märchen aus alten Zeiten,
Das kommt mir nicht aus dem Sinn.

Die Luft ist kühl, und es dunkelt,
Und ruhig fliesst der Rhein;
Der Gipfel des Berges funkelt
Im Abendsonnenschein.

Die schönste Jungfrau sitzet,
Dort oben wunderbar;
Ihr goldenes Geschmeide blitzet,
Sie kammt ihr lockiges Haar.

Sie kammt es mit goldenem Kamme
Und singt ein Lied dabei;
Das hat eine wundersame,
Gewaltige Melodei.

Den Schiffer im kleinen Schiffe
Ergreift es mit wildem Weh,
Er schaut nicht die Felsenriffe,
Er schaut nur hinauf in die Höh.

Ich glaube, die Wellen verschlingen
Am Ende Schiffer und Kahn,
Und das hat mit ihrem Singen
Die Lorelei getan.

THE LORELEI.

(English.)

I know not what it pre-ages,
That I am so sad today;
A legend of former ages,
Will not from my mind away.

The cool air now is darkening,
The Rhine flows calmly on,
The peaks of the mountains sparkle
In the glow of the evening sun.

A beautiful maiden is sitting
On the gray rocks yonder there,
Her golden jewels glistening
As she combs her golden hair.

She combs with a comb that is golden
And her song may be heard o'er the sea;
The language is that of olden,
A powerful melody.

A tiny boat with oarsmen,
A sailor with wildered soul,
He hears not the music in air,
He sees not the rocks below.

The waves are angrily rushing,
Sweep over the ship, its lost
And thus the Lorelei's singing
The boatman's life has cost.

Miss Parmelee composed the following and added it as a moral.

So we in life's great voyage,
Must steer our course aright,
And the goal for which we're striving,
Be never from our sight.

The First Red Cross.

The original Red Cross society dates back from long before the Geneva convention. Just 300 years ago an anonymous German work, which appeared at Cassel, called upon the learned to join and test the claims of the Rosicrucian order, said to have been founded two centuries before that by one Christian Rosenkreuz, who had gained his mysterious knowledge in the East. The order was Christian and Protestant, and although it professed to possess many secrets, including that of making gold, its chief object was the gratuitous healing of the sick. A tremendous controversy arose, the order being violently assailed as heretical and as violently defended by the broad-minded or more credulous. The whole story appears to have been a triumphant German university spoof.

Suggesting It.

A mother, expecting a noted guest who was to spend several days in the family, warned her children beforehand as to their conduct during the visit.

"Don't interrupt the bishop when he's talking," she said, "and don't ask for a second helping at table, and don't make any noise in the playroom, and don't."

The "don'ts" fairly flooded the children, until the oldest child, a boy, stemmed their tide.

"Mother," he entreated, "we'll be good if you'll only not talk so much about not being good. You don't need to worry about us."

The boy was right. Half the child's misdoing today comes from our looking for it, expecting it, and suggesting it.

Household Hints

USES FOR CRACKED EGG SHELLS AND GLASS

Take small square pieces of clean cheesecloth, the transparent of tea into each and keep in a closed jar. The strong or thread used for tying can be left long so as to be the tea ball out of the liquid when tea is steeped. A tea ball of tea can be dipped up the tea and always ready for use without having to measure it each time. It is made by keeping tea leaves from steeping in the pot and forming a ball inside.

Coffee can be made this way by using larger pieces of the cloth and one level tablespoon ground coffee to each cupful wanted.

SPANISH QUEEN AND ELDEST DAUGHTER

Married Life $80 a Month

BY NELS E. LEONARD

A few irritating words at the wrong moment may do much harm.

"Where is my fall underwear?" asked John Sutner one raw morning. "This gauge is too thin," he was pawing through the bureau drawers like a dog in a woodchuck hole. "Oh, don't mess things up so," John said. "Let me look," said Molly, coming to the rescue. She took all the garments out and piled them on the floor, but the missing underwear was not to be found. "I can't remember putting it away," Molly was sitting Turk fashion on the floor, the garments piled around her. "No such thing," I bought that underwear a year ago. It couldn't have had many holes in it. If you would attend to business and mend things when they need it, they would last longer. I suppose I must freeze in this summer stuff.

"One could never guess, to hear you talk, that the bulk of my sewing was patching and darning," said Molly petulantly. "If there was one thread to hold to another you may be sure the things are around here somewhere. I'll look everything over and see if I can find them." She rose with a sigh. Her head ached and she was utterly unstrung. "Why is it," she thought, "that John chooses the time when I can hardly keep about to jump on me for something? If there is a thing amiss, that is the time he discovers it." "And here is that button I spoke about last week. It's still hanging by a thread. I suppose if I ever have buttons sewed on when they are needed I will have to learn to do it myself," continued the irritated voice. "Well, better men than you have done it. Men who earned enough to hire a little of the heavy work done. You never think you can make any allowance for anything on account of my having all the work to do, washing and all." Molly was off guard this morning. She had been so careful to say nothing irritating, and for days things had been going very smoothly. She kept saying to herself, "Stop! You will undo all you have worked so hard to gain," but the hateful words tumbled over each other to get out and sting and rattle. "I told you I did not want you to do the washing. If you insist, I cannot stay at home and keep you from it." John's face was sullen and his brows contracted. "Do you think I do it from mere obscurity?" snapped Molly. "What would you have me do? There is no money to hire it done." "Do! Why, nag me as if I had the money up my sleeve. It is enough to give a man to breaking into a house. I'm perfectly desperate." He looked it. Molly went into the kitchen to start breakfast, but John called angrily. "You needn't get any breakfast for me. I am not hungry," and he banged out of the house. Molly went to the door and called: "John, please come back; you must not go off to work with nothing to eat; you'll be sick. Please—"

EAT WISER THAN THE HORSE.

Rated Next to Man in Intelligence and Sagacity.

Horses are generally given credit for a great deal more intelligence than they actually possess. Scientific tests show that in wisdom such as human beings display horses are hopelessly outclassed by dogs, monkeys, and even by cats.

The horse can be taught to do certain things just because he is too stupid to have any ideas of his own. Like many prize pupils, he can learn but cannot think.

So far as intelligence goes psychological experiments show that it is practically a dead heat between cats, dogs and monkeys.

The dog has human morals, therefore people are apt to assume that he has human logic. But the cat, say certain persons, in sheer brains stands next to man. He has the adaptive intelligence that makes him equally at home in a cellar or wild woods, and goes home a living anywhere. A cat, it is argued, can think faster and take care of himself under more different conditions than any other living thing except man.

Monkeys, undoubtedly, seem more intelligent than they really are because they resemble human beings in actions, and outward appearance so much more closely than other animals.

Some scientists maintain that although the monkey may be really more intelligent than the cat or dog his intelligence is certainly much more like the human type. Although he may not think better his methods of thought are more like those of a man than are those of the other animals.

Harry E. Brock of Seattle, who was arrested recently while driving an unlicensed automobile carrying two Chinese concealed in canvas sacks, confessed that he had been engaged in a thriving Chinese smuggling business for seven months and that for each subject brought into the United States from Canada he received $200.

Brock said he picked up the Chinese seven miles north of the international boundary line, walked them ten miles and used his automobile from Blaine the remainder of the distance.

It would certainly take quite a beet to beat that beet.

NEW PROVISIONS

OF AUTO TAX

LICENSE BASED HEREAFTER ON HORSE POWER AND WEIGHT OF CAR.

SPEED LIMIT ON COUNTRY ROADS FIXED AT 25 MILES PER HOUR.

The Secretary of State has compiled in pamphlet form the new motor vehicle law which takes effect in January.

The most important change is in the method of taxation. Under the new law all cars will be taxed as follows:

Gasoline and steam cars, 25 cents a horsepower and 25c a hundred weight. Electric cars, $1.00 a horsepower and 25 cents a hundred weight.

Gasoline and steam power trucks, 15 cents a horsepower and 15 cents a hundred weight.

Electric trucks, 50 cents a horsepower and 25 cents a hundred weight. Motorcycles, 25 cents a horsepower and 25 cents a hundred weight.

The weight is to be the weight given by the manufacturers with the car fully equipped.

The cost of transfers will remain as in the old law, $1. The charge for duplicate plates remains $1.

The charge for manufacturers' and dealers' plates under the old rate is $10 for a set and $2 for duplicate sets. Under the new law it will be $50 for a set of five and $10 for duplicate sets.

The charge for motorcycle plates to manufacturers under the new law will be $20 for 10 seals and $1 for duplicate.

The provision with reference to chauffeurs remains the same. Chauffeurs must be 18 years of age and wear badges furnished by the secretary of state, conspicuously.

Under the present law rates are reduced August 1. Hereafter, they will not be reduced until September 1st.

Another important provision is the speed limit. A heavy penalty is provided for running upon any highway at a greater speed than 25 miles per hour and at a much less speed when safety or heavy traffic demands it.

In incorporated villages and cities the limit is 15 miles per hour and 10 miles in the business section.

All the license tax goes into the good roads fund and one half of it returns direct to the county in which it is received from to be used for good roads only.

CASS BENTON

DEFINES POSITION.

I recommended the Kingsley and not the Waterford road, we were given the option of accepting that recommendation or to carry the matter before the Board of supervisors, show them the injustice done, and get that Board to order a change back to the original recommendation.

I have no doubt the Board would have prevented the building of the Kingsley road but it is doubtful to my mind, that with the open opposition of the Road commission, we could have forced the building of the Waterford road, or in other words we would take a chance of getting no road at all, so I chose what I believed to have been the lesser evil—get a road for Northville and give the commission no excuse to longer neglect this section.

My regret is that the Commission has not kept faith with the people of this section, who have believed in them and lent them support in every way. I regret that both the Waterford and Kingsley roads cannot be improved at this time, as they should be.

In conclusion, I desire to say that it is the Commission builds the road now promised Northville will be satisfied in that she has not been wholly neglected. They have promised this to Supervisor Lanning who lent them his telling support, and if we do get the road built, the credit thereof is due largely to the work of Mr. Lanning.

Very respectfully,

CASS R. BENTON

England and Ireland.

Eringo-Bragh means "Ireland for ever." The Royal Standard was adopted January 1, 1801, on the union of Ireland with Great Britain. The quarters were representative of the three countries. England, three couchant lions on a red background in the first and fourth quarters, Scotland, a rampant lion in the second quarter, and Ireland, a golden harp on a green background, in the third quarter. The lion of Scotland was taken from the coat of arms of James VI.

Quiet and Safe.

"Spends Quiet Day in Jail," observes a headline. One can be quiet in jail. There are no orchestras there that insist on playing in the palm room when one is trying to eat his dinner. And you can spend a whole day there without being in danger of being run over by a motorcycle.
