FIRE DESTROYED INTERIOR OF OLD SCHOOL BUILDING

EARLY SUNDAY MORNING CONFLAGRATION WITNESSED BY THROGS OF PEOPLE.

HIGH-SCHOOL BUILDING NOT DAMAGED; SOLID WALLS OF GRADE BUILDING STAND UNHARMED.

Fire originating from a defective chimney set fire to the roof of the Northville grade school Sunday morning and in a comparatively short time the whole interior including the desks and equipment was in complete ruins. The fire caught between the first and second floors and was first discovered by C. L. Dubuare and Jesse Clark. Had they been in possession of a chemical extinguisher or a garden hose attached to the drinking faucets in the building they could easily have put out the blaze, so small was its extent at that time.

The smoldering blaze crept upwards along the partitions until it burst out at the belfry. The roof soon went and then the blaze crept slowly downward until the basement was reached.

When the fire department arrived they were handicapped at the start by a frozen hydrant which took a valuable amount of time to thaw out.

The department however was able to confine the fire to the central and north portion of the building and with the fact that there was little or no wind, were great aids in their work.

The flames were practically conquered when the Plymouth firemen reached here via motor truck, and completely extinguished by 10:30 o'clock. All of the teachers' desks and many of the pupils' books which were saved had then to be cleared from the surrounding yards and stored in the High school building. The latter had been stripped of its contents at a time when it seemed certain that the flames would reach it so that these furnishings had also to be replaced, including the piano, bookcases, laboratory equipment and books.

The school house was literally a landmark being built in 1864-65, and practically every native of Northville received their education, either in part or in whole, in that building. Many were so deeply affected by the associations it held for them that they went to witness its destruction and stayed at home instead. There were plenty of sightseers there, however. A motley crowd, it was too, what with boudoir caps, fur-trimmed velvet coats, jersey sweaters, derby hats, etc., hastily thrown on at the ringing of the bell at the unearthly hour of 10:30 o'clock (Sunday morning).

As soon as plans and specifications were put in shape the school board will submit to the voters a bond for the new building.

LADIES' LIBRARY STAGES A BENEFIT

LOCAL 'TALENT IN COMEDY, 'GYPSY ROVER' HERE FEBRUARY 28, MARCH 1.

To all who saw and remember the "Miss Cherry Blossom" show in Northville a year ago, the coming of "The Gypsy Rover" promises to be great and glad tidings. On Monday and Wednesday evenings, February 28 and March 1, in the Alceum theatre, "The Gypsy Rover" will be presented under the auspices of the Ladies' Library association. Forty of Northville's best local talent are rehearsing under the direction of Miss Johnson who was here last winter, and this production promises to excel all former efforts in every way.

The story of "The Gypsy Rover" is centered around the life of Sir Gilbert Howe, a scion of English nobility, who is kidnapped when a child and reared among the gypsies. He grows to manhood under the name of Rob, and is a leader of the band of gypsies.

One day he encounters Lady Constance, daughter of an English nobleman, who has become lost in the woods, and pilots her to safety. The couple fall in love at sight; later Rob visits her home secretly, and an elopement is planned whereby Lady Constance will escape a distracted marriage with Lord Craven, her father's choice.

The plans, however, are discovered and broken up by Sir George, Constance's father, and Rob is cast into prison from which he escapes. After twenty years, Rob has learned his true identity and assumed his lawful title, Sir Gilbert Howe. He returns to Lady Constance and wins her love, and the play ends with the couple's marriage.

LIVELY ELECTION IS NOW PROMISED

ANNUAL VILLAGE WET OR DRY CONTROVERSY IS UP ONCE MORE.

DR. TOM HENRY AND CHARLES FIKKINS HEAD THE TWO OPPOSING TICKETS.

WORKINGMEN'S TICKET

The "Workingmen's" caucus last Friday night nominated the following ticket:

President—Dr. T. B. Henry
Treasurer—Morris Stanley Dr. E. B. Cavell, *S. W. McLean
Clerk—T. E. Murdoch
Treasurer—E. A. Noble
Assessor—C. A. Sessions

*Mr. McLean has withdrawn his name and that of M. B. Burrows has been substituted.

Committee—N. C. Schrader, Will Lansing, D. F. Griswold.

PEOPLE'S TICKET

The "People's" caucus nominated the following ticket:

President—Charles Fikkins
Treasurer—Charles VanValkenburg, George Hotelling, *S. W. McLean
Clerk—Edward Bogart
Treasurer—Chas. Blackburn
Assessor—W. E. Ambler.

*Mr. McLean has withdrawn his name from the ticket and Otto Townsbury has been substituted.

*Mr. Ambler has withdrawn from the ticket and Wallace Ross has been substituted.

Committee—Wallace Ross, Edward Bogart, Sam Knapp.

As a result of the two caucuses the wet and dry issue seems to be clearly drawn again.

In his speech of acceptance at the Workingmen's caucus, Dr. Henry spoke of the work done by the council during the year past, and stated when the present officers took hold there was an unpaid indebtedness of $2,500. "This has been paid during the year and there is now money on hand," he also called attention to the street work done. The doctor stated that he was in favor of one or two licensed hotels which could be properly restricted instead of blind pigs that cannot be watched. "And" he added, "if it is up to me it will be wet."

At the People's caucus a resolution was adopted pledging the nominees to leave the present ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor in the village as it now stands. Mr. Fikkins emphatically states that so far as he is able the town will be dry, unless by a vote of the people the repeal of the present ordinance is ordered.

The wets say they will at least elect two new councilmen and claim that with two votes they have from the present council they will have enough to repeal the prohibition ordinance.

On the other hand the dries claim that the wets will have but one vote among the present members of the council and they feel sure of electing two new men at the March election, and that the present ordinance will stand.

Anyhow it will be a battle royal, and if last year's vote is to be taken as a consideration, the decision will be close.

The state of the roads which the Serbian army had to traverse in its retreat to Albania rendered the abandonment of much war material inevitable. With the Austro-Germans pressing down from the north and the Bulgars hurrying along westward, it was manifestly impossible to save all the guns across the mud and morasses which pass for roads in certain parts of Serbia.

WHY IS IT THUS?

A recent court decision over a. Origin declaring a hotel keeper there not guilty of the illegal selling of intoxicants emphasizes anew the practical impossibility of enforcing the law in such cases. The defense contended, in effect, that the consumer in question brought his liquor to the hotel and kept it there so he could drink it when he wanted to. As the contrary could not be shown, the defendant was discharged. It is a very significant commentary on our present liquor laws that none but prima facie evidence of the strongest sort is admissible as proof. Human beings have repeatedly been condemned and put to death when convicted of murder on circumstantial evidence only, but when it comes to a question of illegal whisky traffic, it's different.

According to Detroit papers the county auditors are peeved because the Prosecuting Attorney says they can't spend $5,000 of taxpayers' money for tax research work. And it used to be said that County Auditor Buhner was so economical that he refused to allow the probate office to use stub pens because they consumed too much ink.

Says the Farmington Enterprise, "Miss Mildred Simmons who has been ill with nervous trouble and a felon is improved."

Most anybody would be likely to have the first mild trouble in connection with the second affliction, to judge from some of the remarks attributed to folks who have before it might even give the whole family nervous catarrhs.

When a country, regardless of the size, is unable to control its own affairs, it is a disgrace. It is a disgrace to the nation and to the people. It is a disgrace to the nation and to the people. It is a disgrace to the nation and to the people.

And now the country is telling us that the barrel will be a barrel for women first. But this is a barrel for women first. But this is a barrel for women first. But this is a barrel for women first.

The country is telling us that the barrel will be a barrel for women first. But this is a barrel for women first. But this is a barrel for women first. But this is a barrel for women first.

It has been a principle of our form of government that two or more political parties are a necessity to a republic but to a man up a tree it looks just now as if one united, patriotic American party would be a fine thing.

Our office philosopher remarks that a whole lot of the folks who holler loudest about patriotism have simply mistaken partisanship for that virtue.

EROM CANDIDATE FILKINS.

To the Voters of Northville:

I have served the village the past two years as a trustee, and I can candidly say that at all times I have acted with the best interest of the village at heart. It has been my privilege to act on the Finance Committee, in which capacity I have sought to place the village on a sound financial basis. I favor securing the paving of our business streets by a general process such as will not incur a heavy debt nor necessitate the further bonding of the village.

I recognize the importance of a good hotel in the village and am glad to announce that Thos. Couch of Farmington, Mich., has purchased the Exchange hotel property and will open a first-class temperance hotel about May 1 of this year.

I favor the present ordinance prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the village until such a time as the people express by their vote an order to repeal the same, and if elected to the office of president, will do my best to secure the strict enforcement of the law.

If elected to the office of president I shall have no special interests to serve and I shall endeavor to favor, but will not best to give a non-partisan and unprejudiced business administration of the affairs of the village for the common good of all.

tract the proposition to bond for $30,000 for the construction of a new school building of modern equipment and design. The walls of the old building, if the bonding proposition carries, will be torn down and the site used for the new structure.

It was at first deemed best by the authorities to make use of the churches and halls until the close of the year, but the plan was later changed and Wednesday morning lumber was drawn on the grounds for the erection of a temporary school building, which will hold six grades. The Kindergarten will occupy the Ladies' library and the seventh graders the science laboratory in the High school building.

Regular sessions of the seventh and eighth grades and the High school will begin Monday morning. The rest of the scholars will resume work as soon as the new building can be made ready.

Heat will be supplied in the new building by apparatus from the old one. Contractor Will Lanning has promised to have the edifice completed by this week Saturday and it will be ready for occupancy some time the following week. In his work Mr. Lanning is making use of 9 or 10 men and will use about fifteen thousand feet of lumber. It is some job but will be making quick work of it.

The fire is still the chief topic of conversation. People are still coming in town to see the 'ruins.'

O. E. S. PARTY.

As usual the annual O. E. S. Washington birthday ball, given Tuesday night was a swell affair, and over eighty couples took part.

The decorations were lavish and beautiful, with Old Glory prominent in every nook and corner. The music was disappointing and was far from what could have been expected from Stone's orchestra. The O. E. S. committee however was up to blame as they had been promised a first class orchestra in keeping with previous occasions.

A very nice buffet lunch was served and that was an enjoyable part of the occasion. The drill by the Knights Templar of the opening of the event was also a delightful feature for he it known that no other village in Michigan possesses a K. T. organization and comparatively few cities even.

GARRICK THEATRE, DETROIT.

The New York Winter Garden's production, "A World of Pleasure," described as a musical extravaganza in two acts and 12 scenes comes to the Garrick theatre Detroit, for a week's engagement commencing next Monday evening.

The Winter Garden always goes in for magnificent scenery, striking and bizarre costumes and popular music in "A World of Pleasure" there is an abundance of all these good things. There are also several ideal pictures, such as "The Melting Pot," scene in which hundreds of soldiers, dressed in continental European military costumes enter a huge pot and are soon transformed into peaceful young Americans. Another effect shows the Atlantic Fleet passing in review down the Hudson river with huge battle ships plowing ahead on towards the audience and then, suddenly wireless signals from the flagship to reverse its course, and in view of the audience the ship turns about and steams in the opposite direction.

How there came to be a Pere Marquette Railroad

"As it stands today, the Road embraces 41 lines originally entirely separate. These lines gradually grew into three small systems—the Flint & Pere Marquette in eastern Michigan; the Chicago & West Michigan in western and the Detroit, Grand Rapids & Western in the central part of the state. These three systems were consolidated in 1900 to form the Pere Marquette Railroad.

"The Pere Marquette Railroad didn't just happen. It is the result of a steady growth due to manifest need. The little lines couldn't furnish connected service—consolidation resulted.

Today we have through service to nearly all the principal cities of the state. Would we return to the old order of things? Not we! This Railroad is here today by virtue of the efforts of some of the best men Michigan ever had. We of this day cannot know of their struggles, their determined perseverance, their sacrifices, their indomitable courage, and heroism. But the bands of steel stand for all these.

"This is Michigan's Railroad. It serves us in Michigan principally, and it must be conserved in order that it may continue to serve us as it should. It needs your word of encouragement. It needs your business. It needs your help in securing adequate rates. These things will enable the Road to so maintain itself as to guarantee its future on a basis which will meet your transportation demands and promote the progress and development of the state. We are doing everything possible to bring about this result. Are you doing your part?

WEEK'S CALENDAR

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)

The topic for Sunday morning will be, "Was Christ's Prayer, as Recorded in the 17th of John, for Organic or Spiritual Unity?"

The evening subject will be, "The Foolishness of Preaching vs. the Preaching of Foolishness."

We fear that too often Paul's language in regard to preaching has been misconstrued to mean the latter. Hence the small attendance at the services.

Well, the weather begins to look as tho the winter was gone. Soon we shall hear the croaking of the frogs and the humming of the bees. Yea, the robins will soon appear and all will be ready for spring activities. Let us not allow them to out-rival us in life and energy.

The pastor has been here now a year and four months and has never heard even a croak from some who used to do so much when Elder Clark was here. Of course some are croaking in other puddles that is better than not to croak at all. If you left your puddle because the water got a little riley, you may disturb the quiet of the other waters. Well, every thing is quiet at the old mother church, the waters are settled and peace is one of the most promising features of future prosperity.

Don't be afraid to return to your old home. The latch string is out. Bring love with you and love awaits your return.

The Mission Circle of the church will meet with Miss Lucy Pratt Wednesday, March 1.

The above meetings are for the good of the people of this community. They are held for no other reason than that they may be of some help. Will you be present that you may add to their value and that they render a service to you.

The music as given at the Sunday evening service last Sabbath evening, by the Vestal Boys' choir, was greatly enjoyed. The boys sang with unusual finish. They reflect great credit to themselves and their director. It is hoped that they may be heard soon and often.
