

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD.

Vol. XLVI, No. 40.

THE RECORD, NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, APRIL 29, 1916.

$1.00 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

EASTER CANTATA PLEASING EVENT

METHODIST CHURCH FILLED UP, STAIRS AND DOWN.

WILL BE REPEATED IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING.

The Easter Cantata given by the United choirs of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches in the latter church Sunday evening was a splendid result of united efforts.

The choir of Easter was told an song numbers consisting of solo, quartet and chorus selections, with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Madeline Hobie.

The audience showed their appreciation of the cantata by unbroken attention and the church was taxed for seating capacity upstairs and down.

The cantata will be repeated Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church.

BAND CONCERT GREAT SUCCESS

AMUSEUM THEATRE CROWDED TO ITS UTTERMOST CAPACITY.

BAND BOYS REALIZE NEAT SUM FOR THEIR EFFORTS.

The receipts were $85 at the band benefit in the Alpine theatre Wednesday evening. After expenses have been paid the remainder will be used in paying for further instructions in music.

Prof. McArthur, leader of the Highland Park Band of Detroit, has been directing and training the boys this winter, and the resulting concert Wednesday eve was a pleasant surprise to the people of Northville. Never has the city band playing so finished a concert this summer will be well worth hearing.

The seven reel photo play, "The Mayor," completed an entertainment up to the usual band standard.

This is the second time that a band benefit has taxed the seating capacity of the theatre so that even with extra chairs provided many were compelled to stand throughout the evening.

KILLED IN RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Mrs. Frank Macomber received a telegram from Petosky Tuesday containing news to the effect that her cousin, Frank Beard, engineer on the G. R. & I. passenger train had been killed in an accident that day. The rails spread apart, causing the locomotive and baggage cars to leave the track. Mr. Beard was the only one seriously injured, being so badly scalded that his death was almost instantaneous. He had been connected with the railroad for thirty years and this was his first accident.

Mr. Beard spent his boyhood days on a farm west of Plymouth.

Mrs. Macomber attended the funeral services which were held at the home in Grand Rapids, Thursday.

W. R. C. NOTES.

(By the Press Correspondent.)

The Easter tea given by the executive committee of the W. R. C. was a success both socially and financially. The attendance was much better than expected, considering the inclemency of the weather.

It has been decided that the Corps will furnish flags for the school rooms (to replace those destroyed by fire) as soon as the new building is erected and a very successful bale sale has been held to raise funds for the same.

GARRICK THEATRE, DETROIT.

A real musical comedy with the original New York cast will be seen in Detroit, when Elizabeth Marbury and F. Ray Comstock present "Nobody Home," the zippy, foxtrotty musical comedy, for an engagement of one week at the Garrick theatre, Detroit, beginning next Monday evening.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

(By Press Correspondent.)

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet next Monday afternoon, May 1, with Mrs. F. W. Wheaton, Subject, "Temperance Problems with which we are Concerned at the Present Time." Leader, Mrs. Clapp. Visitors invited.

FRANK B. LELAND

WAYNE COUNTY'S REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

Frank B. Leland's candidacy for governor on the Republican ticket brings into the state campaign a man of a type highly desirable in politics. Experienced and signally successful in business, possessing the culture that is represented by two degrees from the University of Michigan of which institution he is a regent, conspicuously identified with the anti-tuberculosis campaign, one of the most prominent endeavors of our time toward humanity's betterment, he combines in a rare degree the qualifications that should best equip an American for responsible public office.

Michigan right deem itself fortunate if its officials were all of the Leland type, and the candidacy of any such men is very welcome. If it should do more than to furnish indication that what has been loosely called the "better class" of our citizenship can overcome the reluctance to enter politics that has often been charged, it would be beneficial, for the progressive tendency of politics to pass into control of small caliber men is one of the ominous signs of our recent history. Both as a candidate and as an official, Mr. Leland looks like a strong personality and his entry into the campaign is one of the most interesting incidents that have yet occurred.

DETROIT FREE PRESS

At the recent Republican County convention held in Detroit, Mr. Leland's candidacy was given a very hearty endorsement.

GREEN IS OUT

FOR CO. TREASURER

POPULAR AUDITOR'S CLERK IN THE FIELD FOR REPUBLICAN PREFERENCE.

William H. Green, Jr., of Detroit for the last 10 years chief clerk in the office of the county auditor, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination as county treasurer.

Mr. Green has an enviable record in Wayne County Republican politics, having been for 16 years secretary of the Wayne County Republican committee.

His experience in the auditor's office, really an adjutant of the county treasurer's department, has fitted him to fulfil the duties incident to the position.

INTERESTING TO NOVI PEOPLE.

Following is part of a clipping from a former Novi resident, Mrs. W. E. Flint of Chico, Calif. The little Miss Culver is a granddaughter of Mrs. Flint. Mr. Allen has visited in Novi. "Miss Bernice Culver, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Culver, has received a letter from her uncle, W. W. Allen, of Richmond, Va., who had been greatly surprised to recognize his little niece on the screen in a picture show at Richmond. The letter says, in part: "Among the pictures was one of Chino, entitled 'Pig Culture in the grammar school.' I was sure I could see you but Mirrie doubted it until you were shown again holding the larger pig, when we could both see how much you looked like your mother. We also saw your dad handing out the pigs to the boys and girls. It was a great surprise to see even the picture of Chino, and quite wonderful to recognize you as the star."

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

O. L. Brown.

Mrs. S. S. David.

Alten Thompson.

Have you found something? The Record-Times column will find an outlet for you without cost.

MADE MORE THAN A CENTURY AGO

PUBLISHED IN BUFFALO, NEW YORK IN 1812.

A copy of the Buffalo Gazette, bearing the date August 25, 1812, the property of the descendants of the late John Emery, has been brought to the notice of this paper. The specimen of ancient journalism is a curiosity indeed, with its long lists, so-called, which are really titles. A peculiarity in this connection is the fact that these are not used exclusively, suggesting that the days of the regular "list" had passed but that the supply was only sufficient for a part of the work. The paper has four pages, one and a half of which are devoted to advertisements. One man announces that he has for sale 600 lbs. Monongahela Whiskey, 5 do. Gun's 5 do. Hams, 21 Kegs Butter and 8 do. James River Tobacco," while another has flour, whiskey, meats, shingles, drugs and medicines. "Patent Singing Books" excite ones curiosity in one place, and "Stationery" is announced in such big assertive letters as to lead to the conclusion that it was probably spelled that way in 1812. Legal notices, with the profuse verbiage that a hundred years have failed to simplify for us of the present, occupy much space.

More than a column is devoted to "General Brock's Proclamation" which states that "The unprovoked declaration of War, by the United States of America against the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and its dependencies, has been followed by the actual invasion of this Province in a remote frontier" and that "the officer commanding ought bring to insult His Majesty's subjects with a call to seek voluntary the protection of his government."

As the proclamation is a matter of history it is unnecessary to reproduce it or the queer part being its publication in an American paper, at a critical time, with no explanation of whence whatever another interesting department is devoted to "Late from Detroit" detailing the many difficulties and dangers encountered by a Mr. Keene of this village, who was sent as an express from Gen. Hull to Gen. Hull at Sandwick." Mr. Keene arrived at River Rezn in having travelled 350 miles in 4 days, the last day through a swamp, which greatly impeded his progress." He was told that he would find it impossible to reach Detroit as the way was so infested by the murderous Indians, so he employed a Capt. J. Jobeau, a Frenchman who was well acquainted with the Indians and the country, to take his dispatches by an extensive and circuitous route through the wilderness to Gen. Hull." The distance from River Rezn to Detroit was but 36 miles, but the messenger was gone four days, traveling night and day, a great circuit to avoid the dangerous passes."

After giving many details as to the condition and activities of the militia learned by Mr. Keene the editor says: "We have several other reports from Detroit respecting the situation of Gen. Hull and the skirmishing at Brownstown, but they are of so contradictory a character that we decline publishing them." Upon the whole it is plainly to be seen that Gen. Hull was at least accounts in a dangerous and critical situation."

The price per year of the Gazette is stated to be "Two Dollars and fifty cents a year, payable quarterly" or $2 if received at the office, singly or in packets. No papers or advertisements discontinued until all arrearages are settled up."

When the Tigers Play in Detroit.

Following are the dates for the Tiger ball games in Detroit:

May 1, 2, with Cleveland.

May 4, 5, 6, 7, with St. Louis.

May 27, 28, 29, with St. Louis.

May 30, 31, games, 31, with Chicago.

June 1, with Chicago.

June 3, 4, 5, with Washington.

June 6, 7, 8, 9, with Boston.

June 10, 11, 12, 13, with New York.

June 15, 16, 17, 18, with Philadelphia.

June 20, 21, 22, 24, with Cleveland.

July 23, 24, with Chicago.

July 25, 26, 27, 28, with Washington.

July 29, 30, 31, with Boston.

August 1, with Boston.

August 3, 4, 5, with New York.

August 7, 8, 9, 10, with Philadelphia.

Sept. 2, with Chicago.

Sept. 3, 4, 5, 6, Cleveland.

Sept. 6, 7, 8, 9, with St. Louis.

Sept. 13, 14, 15, with New York.

Sept. 16, 17, 18, with Philadelphia.

Sept. 19, 20, 21, with Boston.

Sept. 26, 27, 28, with New York.

Sept. 29, 30, 31, with Boston.

Oct. 3, 4, 5, with New York.

Oct. 6, 7, 8, 9, with Boston.

Oct. 13, 14, 15, with New York.

Oct. 16, 17, 18, with Philadelphia.

Oct. 23, 24, 25, with Boston.

Oct. 30, 31, with New York.

Nov. 6, 7, 8, 9, with Boston.

Nov. 13, 14, 15, with New York.

Nov. 20, 21, with Boston.

Nov. 27, 28, with New York.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

The Board of Review for the village of Northville will meet in the village hall, Northville, on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 9 and 10, 1916 at 10:00 o'clock a.m. of each of said days for the purpose of reviewing the assessment roll of said village. Taxpayers deeming themselves aggrieved may be heard at that time.

Dated, Northville, Mich., April 27, 1916.

CHARLES A. SESSIONS,

WM. H. AMBLER,

S. W. KNAPP,

Board of Review

AUCTION SALE.

M. A. Brown will sell at auction at his residence, one door east of Steam laundry, Main street, Northville Saturday, April 29, a lot of household goods.

CUZAR'S VALUABLE CHINA.

The Czar of Russia morally owns a greater quantity of chinaware than any other person in the world. He has the china belonging to all the Russian rulers as far back as Catherine the Great. It is stored in the Winter Palace at St. Petersburg.

WANTED TO RENT, FOR SALE, ETC.

For Rent, For Sale, Lost, Found Wanted notices inserted under this head for 5 cent per word.

WANTED To board 2 men or man and wife. Ella Loester, Center St., Northville. 37-49c.

WANTED To Rent House or for 5 rooms in Northville, for within a mile or two of the village. H. B. Wilbur, 45 Parsons St., Detroit. 401c.

FOR SALE OR RENT Farm, Geo. Gibson, Northville. Price 139.13. 401f.

FOR SALE Surrey, also driving horse and three dogs and a few bushels of small seed potatoes. J. V. Cole. 30w2p.

FOR SALE I have about 500 or 600 rods of wire fencing bought before the train in spring which I can sell accordingly. Come or phone. J. V. Cole. 10w2p.

FOR SALE Garfield Bluff, Coal or Wood. Good as new. J. S. Clark. 40w2c.

FOR SALE CHEAP Good 4 burner cabinet. Quick Meal gasoline above. Also washing machine. Mrs. J. N. VanDyke. 10w1p.

FOR SALE 5 passenger Maxwell. Splendid condition. Four doors newly painted. Bargain. $35 taken it.

HARRY Wall demonstrate Apply to F. S. Neal, Record Office, Northville. 10w1p.

FOR SALE—1916 Olds. Only run 3,000 miles. Bargain if you want it before May 1. Fully equipped. Guaranteed in every way and good as new. F. S. Neal, Northville. 401.

FOR SALE Second hand Ford runabout and touring car. F. N. Perrin and son. 10w1p.

HAN For Sale—C. C. Morgan, Northville. 401c.

NOTICE TO THE FARMERS OF NORTHVILLE AND VICINITY. I have a carload of Bradley Fertilizers on hand.

The old reliable brand is "Best by every test." Phone 251 J. 4. 39w2p.

ANY ONE wishing painting or paper hanging done enquire of E. C. Murdock. 39w2p.

FOR SALE Single bed, iron, brass trimmed, mattress and springs.

First-class condition. Little used. $7.00 buys it. Cost $12.50. F. S. Neal, Northville. 226.

FOR SALE Early seed potatoes. T. J. Thompson, Phone 172 R-1, Northville, Mich. 39w2p.

The Northville Record.

Published by

NEAL PRINTING CO.

An independent newspaper published every day during the year by the Neal Printing Co. at Northville, Michigan, and entered at the Northville Post Office as Second-Class matter.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., APR. 28, 1916.

In a recent "Mutt and Jeff" exhibit, Bud Fisher made a joke which required "Villa" to be pronounced like a residence of that ilk. This is merely mentioned to show that it isn't necessary to be a linguist in order to get disgustingly rich (sour grapes) drawing fool pictures.

A headline in a Detroit paper states that Wayne county's birth rate exceeds that of all other sections of the state, which is remarkable indeed. "Seen as now," Detroit, with her half-million or more inhabitants is tucked away in one corner of the country.

The Detroit Courier recently referred to the "Divine Sarah" as "Sarah Bernard." Fortunately, Sarah probably doesn't read any of our Wayne county papers. If she did, she would feel that her long artistic career had been in vain.

An epidemic of small-pox is prevailing in one of the departments of law and order in Detroit. It is to be earnestly hoped that all the law offenders will not break out also.

Walled Lake Warbles.

The Embroidery girls realized $10.50 from their play Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Coe of Salem called on friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Stanbro of Plymouth spent Sunday here.

R. H. McKnight killed a rattle snake with eight rattles a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheyvor' Day of Detroit spent the spring vacation here.

Tom Clutz, Robert Clutes and Jim Carper were Pontiac visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Cronk of Milford spent Sunday at the Earl Welch home.

Mrs. Alex Keith, Mrs. Eva Lue Mrs. Lula Hoyt and Mrs. Frank Rock were Pontiac callers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McKnight attended the funeral of the former's nephew in Detroit, recently.

Mrs. M. Calhoun and Mrs. Mary Day have returned to their homes here after an extended visit in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Craft, Miss Marie Hosner, Miss Bess Craft and friend of Detroit spent Easter at their various homes here.

The Easter exercises at the M. E. church were enjoyed by a good congregation, each one taking their part well. The choir of fifteen young people did splendid work.

Invitations have been issued for a miscellaneous shower, in honor of Mrs. Clyde Hazen, formerly Myrtle Coe, Saturday afternoon by the Misses Hazel Bentley and Mildred Richardson.

Wixom Whispers.

Ellen Stevens was in Miltord Tuesday evening.

Mrs. George Hennessy and baby were Toledo visitors last week.

R. Abrams, who has been working in Flint, is now at home.

Orville Grant of Corunna was a Wixom visitor over Sunday.

Mrs. Marian Hodges is very ill with no hopes of her recovery.

F. McDonald has moved into the rooms recently vacated by F. A. Taylor and family.

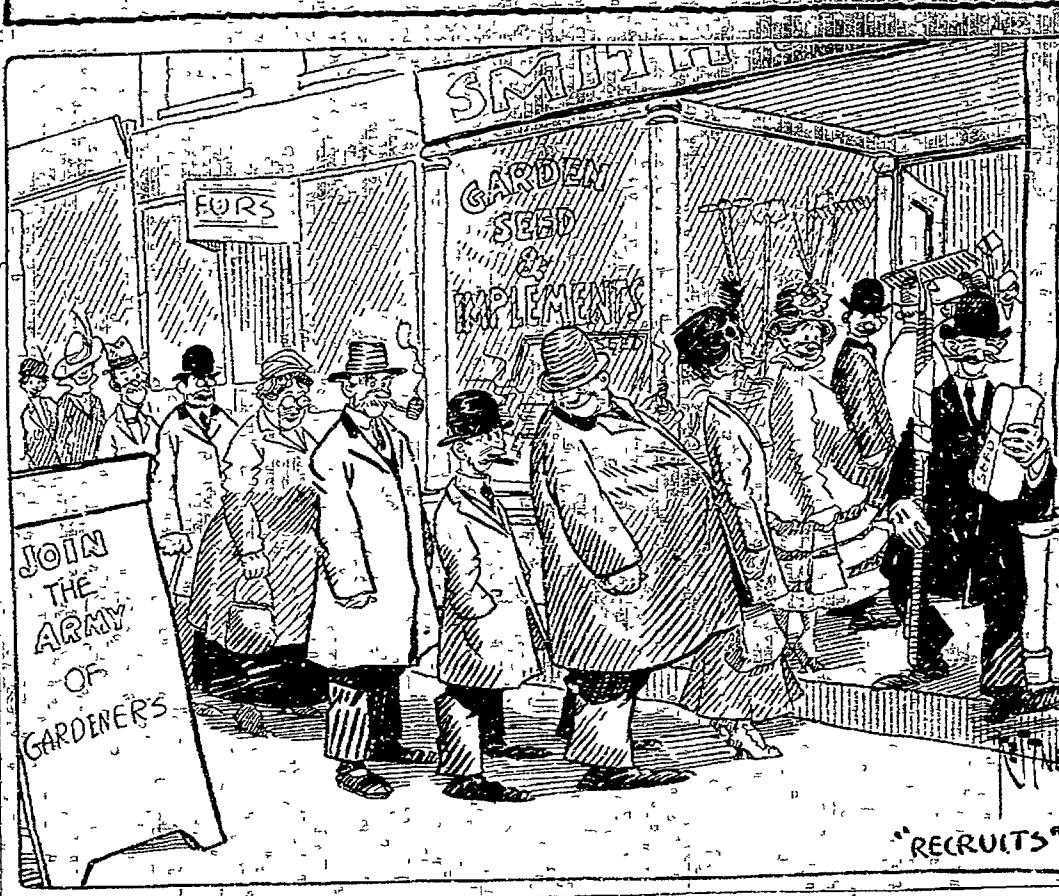

Mrs. Jennie Burch Young of Birmingham spent a part of last week with Wixom friends and relatives.

The fifth and last number of the Lecture course given in the Maccabees Hall last Thursday night, was a temperance drama, entitled, "A Ruined Life," and a farce, "My Turn Next." A large crowd was present.

Novi News.

The roads, out of Novi, in every direction are almost impossible. A few loads of gravel in numerous places would help every one. The only people now that are gaining are those that are paid for pulling out loads of different kinds, and auto frames. The people that are compelled to travel less, are those that have the attention given them.

GARDEN PREPAREDNESS

WEEK'S CALENDAR.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)

The Message of Love will be the sermon-topic at the Methodist church next Sunday morning. The church has a message for the people in the ministry of songs as well as in the preaching of the word and all parts of the service are designed to be an inspiration and help to all who may come.

Good work is being done in the Sunday school. Are you doing your part? The school meets at 10 o'clock.

There was a splendid attendance at the joint meeting of the Epworth League and the Christian Endeavor in the League room last Sunday evening. Let it be repeated that the Christian Endeavor meets every Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. Mr. Roy Clark will be the leader.

The Epworth League will meet Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Confirmation service is one-half hour earlier. The subject of the sermon will be, "Christ Descended into Hell."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY.

Christian Science service in the Ladies' Library Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock.

Salem Sayings.

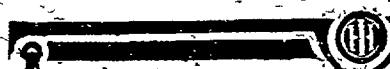

Mrs. Heary Madger of this place was seriously injured in an accident at Ann Arbor Monday afternoon. She was riding in a horse and buggy down the hill near the Michigan Central depot, when a runaway team dashed across the road and crashed into the rig, throwing her to the street. The wagon and one horse passed over her body inflicting grave injuries. She is now in University hospital in Ann Arbor.

What is Happiness?

The aim of human life, no doubt, is happiness. But after all, what is happiness? Efficiency, wealth, material comfort? Many of their lives do so affirm; few are cynical enough to say so; and, on their deathbeds none will feel so. Not even freedom in itself brings happiness. Happiness lies in breadth of heart. And breadth of heart is that inward freedom which has the power to understand, feel with, and, if need be, help others. In breadth of heart are founded justice, love, sacrifice; without it there could be no special meaning to any of our efforts, and the tale of all human life would be still no more than that of supremely gifted animals, many of whose communities are highly efficient, and have instinctive unity founded on experience of its utility, but none of that conscious altruism which is without perception of future benefit to self and works from sheer recognition of its own beauty.—Atlantic Monthly.

Going Home to Mother.

Just what I mean by going home to one's mother in its larger sense is perhaps a little difficult to define. Yet surely, it must be a very universal experience. Have we not all at some time—often following a period of confusion and stress of circumstances—suddenly experienced that deep sense of finding ourselves where we belong? A sense of restfulness, of homecoming, of general rightness and well-being? It is a sloughing off of the nonessential and the trivial and a shifting of the spirit into deeper and simpler channels; a pause, when in the midst of all this mad dance of time and circumstance, one gets a sudden, inspiring glimpse of truth and of eternity.—Atlantic Monthly.

Low Price Loses out Against Low Cost.

PRICE may sell some things to farmers, but price alone is a poor argument compared with the records for low cost of operation made by Mogul kerosene engines.

Because they run on kerosene, Mogul engines produce farm power at the lowest possible cost.

You know what gasoline costs. You know, too, what kerosene costs. Take the difference—multiply it by the number of gallons of fuel an engine will consume in five years, figuring one pint of fuel per horse power per hour.

At what price must you buy a gasoline engine to make it cost as little as a Mogul does? Could you afford to accept a gasoline engine as a gift? See the dealer about this. He has the figures all worked out for you on all sizes of Mogul engines from 1 to 50 H. P.

International Harvester Company of America
(Incorporated)

Mogul kerosene engines are sold by

J. A. PADDOCK, Northville, Mich.

TRY THE WHITE HOUSE For Wall Papers.

We carry in stock Kitchen, Bedroom, Dining Room, and Parlor Papers. Oat Meal and Varnish Tile.

If you buy now will sell you at the old price. Wall Paper has advanced several times since we bought our spring stock from 20 to 50 per cent.

Buy NOW while we have a good selection.

Matting, 15c, 20c, 25c, and 35c

Carpets, 25c, 30c, 50c, 65c, 50c

Matting Rugs, Imperial Rugs, 9x12, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50

New Styles of Ruching, Cluny Laces, from 5c, 8c, 10c, 12, 15c yd

Baby Bonnets, 10c and 25c

Auto Caps, from 50c to $1.00

Special Good Bargains in Ladies' Waists.

Room Mouldings, 2c and 2½c foot.

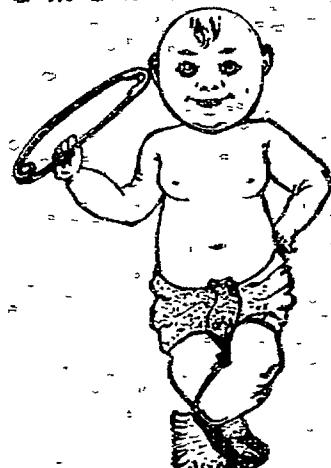

EDWIN WHITE, NORTHVILLE.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE RECORD WANT COLUMNS.

We Want

Your Business!

"SAFETY FIRST."

And if Right Prices, Courteous Treatment and an Up-to-Date Stock is an object, we are bound to get it.

We Guarantee to Give you Satisfaction.

You buy the goods, we deliver them free of charge, no matter where you live.

Schrader Bros.

THE FIRM NAME THAT STANDS FOR QUALITY AND LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES.
Furniture Dealers Funeral Directors NORTHVILLE and PLYMOUTH

Is This Your Experience?

Many Northville People Are Afflicted With Annoying Kidney Ails.

Are you bothered with too frequent action of the kidneys? Are the secretions highly colored—do they contain sediment, burn and scald in voiding? These are all signs of kidney sickness and should not be neglected. Northville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches and your kidneys are weak you will find no better recommended remedy.

Mrs. R. C. Cole, Horton Avenue, Northville, says: "Different ones of my family have used Doan's Kidney Pills with splendid results. One of us had lame back and soreness across the loins. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the trouble." Another suffered from trouble with the kidney secretions and in that case Doan's Kidney Pills also gave quick relief."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Cole recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

—Advertisement.

Northville Newslets.

Easter was late but cold.

Mary Sowles is ill with diphtheria.

Memorial day in the South this week.

Grants birthday Thursday of this week.

The sound of the lawnmower is again heard in this land.

Automobiles cannot invade Northville on account of bad roads.

Who dropped the curtain over the sun last week and part of this?

H. F. Farrell has sold his residence in Bealton to a brother of Myron Taylor.

E. J. Bradner, who recently resumed his work at the D. U. R. freight office, is ill again.

The Northville Woman's Club is to observe Arbor and Bird day, as has been customary for many years past.

Work on the addition to the Northville Sales Co.'s garage is progressing finely the east wall being nearly completed.

Highway Commissioner Montgomery has just purchased one of the slickest teams of matched blacks in this part of the country.

Milford is having a mild epidemic of measles. This has no connection with "clean-up-week" which is now being observed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddy have moved their household goods from Detroit and are now nicely settled in the Roy Number bungalow, on west Cadiz Street.

When Mrs. T. J. Middleton of Scranton, Pa., stooped to pick up her purse, her false teeth slipped out of place and lodged in her windpipe, locking the jaws in such a manner that ordinary first aid treatment was out of the question. She died before she could be taken to a hospital to have the obstruction removed.

Contractor Will Lanning will soon commence the erection of a new $3,500 bungalow for T. G. Richardson on his farm just west of the Fisher's. The old house is now being moved back to PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DR. T. H. TURNER, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon. Office near rear west of Park House on Main street. Office hours: 8:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. and 6:00 to 7:30 p. m. Telephone.

DR. T. B. HENRY, PHYSICIAN AND Surgeon. Office in Laplaine State Bank Building, corner Main and Center streets. Office hours: 8:00 to 9:00 a. m. and 1:00 to 2:30 p. m. and 6:00 to 7:30 p. m. Phone No. 1.

DR. N. J. MALLOY, PHYSICIAN AND Surgeon. Office in residence on South Center street. Office hours: 1:00 to 4:00 p. m., and 7:00 to 8:30 p. m. Phone 224. 45-6p

RECORD LINERS PAY-TBY ONE

BRACE UP

When you are out of sorts, tired out, have pains across the back, puffiness under the eyes—what do you do for relief?

This Is What You Should Do—Ask for a box of Nyal's Pills—designed for the purpose of making weak kidneys strong and they will do it quickly and easily.

Nyal's Kidney Pills

Tone up and Invigorate the Kidneys, give you Pure Blood, a Good Circulation, and pare the way to Genuine Health.

We have the utmost confidence in Nyal's Kidney Pills and know they will do as we say—that's why we endorse them so heartily. Let me tell you more about them—you will thank us later on.

T. E. Murdock
THE CORNER DRUG STORE
NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE

In the matter of the estate of HUMPHREY G. BURDICK, deceased.

We, the undersigned, having been appointed by the Probate Court for the county of Wayne, Michigan, commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet at the Northville State Savings bank, in the village of Northville, in said county, on Saturday, the 24th day of June A. D. 1918, and on Saturday, the 26th day of August A. D. 1918, at 10 o'clock a. m. of each of said days, for the purpose of examining and allowing said claims, and that four months from the 26th day of April A. D. 1918, were allowed by said court for creditors to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Governor Ferris has designated next Friday, May 5, as Arbor and Bird day, one of the paragraphs in the official proclamation reading as follows:

"Trees without birds would get lonesome. Trees and shrubs are the natural homes of many of our birds. These winged creatures are man's best friends. They not only destroy millions of destructive insects, but they appeal to man's sense of beauty, in their plumage, in their song, and in their varied movements. The trees and trees birds, especially the song birds, are the truest friends of man."

Dated: April 26th, 1918.

make room for the new and up-to-date house.

Mrs. Geo. Ford has been seriously ill this week with quinsy.

Little Miss Vivian Taylor has been on the sick list this week.

The Rochester Era has reached its 44 birthday. Here's hoping.

Mrs. Lydia White is about town again after a six weeks illness.

Donald Van Atta is drying a handsome new Dodge car these days.

Mrs. R. B. McKahan underwent an operation in Harper hospital, Detroit, yesterday.

Catholic services will be held in Cathermole hall Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Miss Margaretha Weiler was on the sick list the latter part of last week and the first of this.

The L. O. T. M. will give another hard times party in Cathermole hall Friday evening, May 5.

The King's Daughters will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Susie DeKay.

Mertson Taylor of Flint has purchased the Farrell property in Bealton town and will move his family here soon.

Robert and John McCullum were called to Paisley, Canada, last Friday by the death of their sister, Mrs. Morrison.

If you should notice the odor of gasoline on anybody's clothing these days don't imagine that product is being used as a perfume. It is too expensive for that.

The sixteen month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Glade Hale of Detroit died last week of bronchial pneumonia. The Hales have one other child, a daughter, born only a few weeks ago.

Some people tried out their nerve, and joined in the Easter parade going in their new hats and suits. They must have felt like the robin did who hopped up north about six weeks ago.

Next Friday evening May 5, Orient Chapter O. E. S. is to hold its annual installation of officers. The members of the bluebloods and their wives will be the guests of the chapter on this occasion.

Plans are afoot for the organization of a baseball team here which will join with teams from Plymouth, Dundee, Milan, Belleville, Carleton, Ronatus and New Baltimore in the formation of a "bush" league this season.

The Clover Leaf club gave Mrs. C. Cameron a farewell party at the home of Mrs. C. H. Bloom Monday afternoon. Mrs. Cameron had been a member of this club for many years and the ladies took this means to express their regret for her departure.

F. N. Perrin and son have a gang of men hard at work remodeling the interior and laying a new cement floor in the Perrin Livery on Main st. When this is completed it will be used as a service station for Ford buyers in this territory. The firm holds the agency for the above car.

At least one Northville resident is having the unpleasant experience of receiving censored mail. Mrs. C. J. Kysor's letters from her husband have to pass the official examination, as his business is in connection with lumbering interests in Nova Scotia. The lady in question does not so much object to having her family letters prid into, but they are sometimes delayed for weeks, which is the unpleasant part.

A. D. Phillips has resigned his position with the Brown City Drug Co., and leaves Saturday for Almont where he will open and manage a new drug store for R. P. Hallcock. During Mr. Phillips' stay in this city he has made many friends and Almont people will find him a courteous and accommodating gentleman who is ready to go out of his way to aid you. Almont's gain is Brown City's loss.—The Brown City Banner.

Arthur, who was one of Northville's well known hustling young men is now enjoying a short visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Phillips.

Governor Ferris has designated next Friday, May 5, as Arbor and Bird day, one of the paragraphs in the official proclamation reading as follows:

"Trees without birds would get lonesome. Trees and shrubs are the natural homes of many of our birds. These winged creatures are man's best friends. They not only destroy millions of destructive insects, but they appeal to man's sense of beauty, in their plumage, in their song, and in their varied movements. The trees and trees birds, especially the song birds, are the truest friends of man."

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

Second and Fourth Tuesdays

Meeting nights.

C. F. MURPHY, K. O. R. & S.

S. W. MCLEAN, C. C.

NORTHVILLE LODGE NO. 186, F. & A. M.

Work in F. C. degree.

Monday evening.

UNION CHAPTER NO. 35 R. A. M.

186, F. & A. M.

Work in F. C. degree.

Monday evening.

NORTHVILLE COMMANDERY NO. 39 K. T.

Reg. Conclave May 2.

ORIENT CHAPTER NO. 77 O. E. S.

Spec. meeting May 1. Installation of officers.

Hinkley's Bowling Alley

HIGH SCORE:

Nelson Shrader.

Base ball schedules free here.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO

the beneficence of the Father of us all.

Milford is to have a fine new bank building, as a home for the First State Bank of that place.

A son was born to Mrs. and Mrs. N. C. Shrader Thursday, April 27. Neil will probably spend the summer coaching the boy to run the buck.

There will be a regular conclave of Northville Commandery No. 39 K. T. Tuesday evening, May 2. Balloting on candidates.

Grand Court officers of Detroit will attend the Forest meeting this Friday evening and a general rally is to be held. Lunch will be served.

Joe Montgomery states that he is ready to move household goods to any point in Michigan with his new auto truck and less cost than shipping.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Porter S. Pennel, at the home of her son Frank, in Farake, Ind., at the age of 82 years. Mrs. Pennel will be remembered as having lived in Northville some years ago.

Wallace Ross, who has been employed in the Sup't of Transportation office of the P. M. railway in Detroit, has been recently promoted to a position at the "Joint" (the Wabash and Pere Marquette) at an increase of salary. Wallace is a genial and conscientious young man and his many friends will be glad to hear of his advancement.

WHAT THEY ARE PAYING.

The Northville Market corrected up to date.

Wheat—White, $1.10. Red, $1.13.

Eggs—48c. Butter—32c.

Oats—40c. Corn—70c.

Hogs, live—5c.

Dressed Hogs—$8.50.

Lamb, alive—$7.00.

Veal Calves—10 1-2c per lb.

Beef Hides—10c.

PREPAREDNESS.

For old age, for sickness, for pleasure.

You are ready for all three if your money is deposited with the

LAPHAM STATE SAVINGS BANK

Northville, Michigan.

Interest from date for the full time.

LEADERS

This is the time of the year when you are expected to be well shod. Never in the history of footwear has Dame Fashion been so exacting.

We have the Very Latest Styles in stock featuring

The J. & K. "Fit the Arch"

Shoe for Women.

Keith's Konqueror

The Correct Shoe for Men

CARRINGTON & SON, Northville

Hot in a Minute— And Without a Fire

With an Electric Iron all you have to do is to attach the plug to any lighting fixture and turn the switch. By the time you are ready for the iron the iron is ready for you.

Let us show you how you can do your whole week's ironing without discomfort, trouble, or loss of time, and at a total cost of a few cents.

THE DETROIT EDISON CO.

Northville, Mich.

Doc Says=

There are Four Big "Milestones" in Every Man's Life—Namely.

1. STORK DAY.

2. GRADUATION DAY.

3. WEDDING DAY.

4. "GENTLE DEPARTURE" DAY—when he slips quietly away to another planet.

No man can control the clothes he wears on the first and last of these big days. But he certainly is responsible for the clothes he wears on the other two.

The man who lets spring catch him in a weather-beaten winter's suit knows how out-of-place a last year's bird's nest must feel in a budding tree.

The Best of the Clothing world's Spring Predictions await you here.

The Royal Tail

WHERE THERE'S A WILL

A Detective Story Wherein the Mystery of the Conrad Murder is Unravelled.

SYNOPSIS

Gordon, a newspaper reporter, is awoken by a telephone summons to visit the residence of Anthony Conrad, a retired broker, who has been found dead on his couch.

Suspicion points to Gustav Conrad, his nephew, with whom he had quarreled the night before and who to all appearances tried to commit suicide after killing his uncle.

Physicians find that Gustav has a chance to recover. The will leaves $5,000 to Gustav and the balance of the estate to George Mallet, another nephew.

Not satisfied with the apparent solution of the case, Semi Dual, the old man of mystery, takes a hand in the life of human life.

Dual asks Gordon to go with Johnson of the detective force and search the Conrad premises thoroughly for other evidence.

They find a footprint beneath a window and a finger print on the sill and also secure the will itself, for inspection and comparison with the two nephews' handwritings, which Miss Burton aids in getting.

Gordon, the detectives and Mallet are summoned before Semi Dual to learn his deductions from the evidence secured.

Not he took a thin broad-bladed knife and snipped each pile in two, lifting one portion from each of the small steel plates, and repeated back again to address:

"It is a proven fact," he began, "that every powder used in one single bullet from others' other, and that the powder in it is the load used with modern and refined practice is of a high degree of compaction from that used in the ordinary shot. It is also a fact that modern chemistry is applied to gunpowder, but found with a direct though not difference. Upon these two facts I am basing the further experiments and conclusions of this case of last night."

"It is to day the time to decide precisely what bullet will be taken load with one of a variety of powder by having a chemical test of its remaining smoke constituents, or of its remains upon contact with other substances, such as skin."

He put out his hand and unfolded the gauntlet which held the remains from about Gustav Conrad's wound.

"I have here a bit of the blackened skin which Dr. Sommers saved for me when he operated upon Gustav Conrad at the hospital this afternoon. I expect to subject it to tests to show what sort of powder made the mark."

"I see," said Bryce, from his end of the desk, where he was now leaning, his eyes glued on Dual's hands. "And if the powder mark on the skin matches with the test of that empty shell you've got there, then that the ball which shot him, and if those other powders is different, that supports your other idea, eh?"

"That is the salient feature," replied Dual.

"Without more words he took up a small dropper, uncorked a vial and drew some of its contents into the glass tip. This he transferred to the empty shell from Conrad's gun, allowed it to stand for a moment and then poured its contents into a test tube.

To this he added water and shook the two together. From there on I lost track of the test."

"Dual worked rapidly, without hesitation, and with perfect assurance. Finally, while we all watched, he held the tube over the alcohol lamp and warmed it gently.

Closely on the heels of that he took the bit of powder-blackened skin and dropped it into a shallow porcelain dish, subjected it to reagents, and presently poured off the supernatant solution into another tube, which he treated as he had done the former, in the same assured way.

And while he worked we watched.

Bryce leaned forward on his end of the desk, his eyes wide with interest, pursing his heavy lips from time to time, half consciously nodding now and then over something he did not understand. Johnson, thin-lipped, lay back in his chair and smoked in silence, and watched Dual's manipulations with complete patience.

Mallet smoked, fidgeted, finally rose and walked about the room, looked out of the window, stopped and read the framed "Noli Me Tangere," started slightly and turned back to his chair, found my self grinning at his innocence, and then, with a smile, the evidence was shown to Johnson.

tion, to find the man himself." Dual resumed.

Johnson nodded. "That's the one thing lacking," said he. "There may be a hundred men in town answering to the general description; the thing to do is to fasten it upon one man."

"Before I am done with my work I expect to be able to furnish you with his name," said Semi Dual.

"Then you're not through, Dual?" Johnson smiled, as though well pleased.

"Not really. So far I have merely established my preliminary fact, which is that Gustav was shot and could not have shot himself."

Mallet cleared his throat and straightened in his chair.

"And the motive?" he remarked. "I admit that what you have done is wonderfully clever, Mr. Dual, and apparently indicates that my cousin was as you say, attacked by some unknown party, but why? There was nothing taken from the house. Even his own personal jewelry was untouched."

"So far as I know, he had no bitter enemies. If it was a burglar whom Gustav may have surprised why, after he had shot him, did he not finish his work, and why did he kill my uncle? What motive could he have had?"

"Just so," Dual allowed his eyes to sweep the man's face in a slow glance. "I am coming to the motive, Mr. Mallet."

His voice rose at the end of the sentence until it grew to a personal accusation in tones.

"But, good Lord, look what that means!" cried Bryce, astounded.

"We are dealing with facts," returned Dual calmly. "Their implication must fall where it will."

I glanced again at Mallet. He sat drawn together, his face pale, drawing on his cigar in short, spasmodic puffs, with long intervals between.

"Glace!" Dual's voice roused me. He had risen and was holding the will toward me. "Help me with this."

I took it and followed him toward the great camera near the window. There he took the holder from the table and, removing its back, fitted the paper into its frame.

Next me moved the table in front of the bull's-eye of the camera, and propped it securely.

Sem reached up and drew the heavy silk diapers before the window, shutting out the faint illumination. Lifting the black drape from the top of the camera and spread it above his head, while he focused the instrument upon the will, then stepped back and began once more to speak.

"I am about to take a photograph of the will as it now stands, for two reasons: first, in case of question, we should have a copy of the will. Secondly, and shall presently conduct certain experiments with it, it is doubtless important to have this record for comparison, in order to prove that the writing of another than that of Gustav is not the same."

He laid it upon a piece of paper, picked up a dropper and dripped one tiny drop of water upon it.

"Next he took a small dish and into it poured some quantity of a brownish fluid, "iodin," he explained.

Lifting the dish, he warmed it gently over the spirit-lamp, lifted the sheet of paper with the dampened seal upon it, and held it over the flame.

"While we sat and watched, a change came over the little, dull, white circle. It grew less white, took on a new color, turned blue.

"Starch," said Semi Dual.

The paper about the blue spot had turned brown. Dual noticed my glaze and smiled.

"The natural reaction of cellulose to iodin," he explained. "It will occur under similar conditions with any dampened wood-fiber paper."

He picked up the will.

"Now, gentlemen, we will see if this paper upon which Anthony Conrad wrote his last will and testament has been dampened recently. If it has it will turn brown; as this other sheet has done—see?"

He held the back of the will above the steaming iodin in the shallow dish. We waited in a tense anxiety of expectation what would happen.

And as we watched we saw that the same change was coming over the will which had come over the sheet of paper.

About the first name of Gustav, and the other name of George, the paper was gradually taking on a delicate tan shade which was deepening with each moment to brown.

But under the names themselves a different thing was transpiring.

Even as in the case of the dampened flake, the surface of the paper upon which those names stood forth was darkening and deepening to a violet hue.

A thin smile flicked Dual's lips.

"Iodin," he said again, "and iodin, gentlemen, means starch when the blue color follows its kiss. Our proof is positive now. We have left theory and confront fact."

"Whoever tampered with this will first erased the original names with a sharp knife or a good eraser, and later transposed the names. To gain a fresh surface upon which to write, one which would resemble that of the original finish of the paper, this individual made use of a mixture of flour and water. That accounts for the starch, and also for the telltale lampening of the cellulose fibers of the surrounding surfaces. The violet test proves this."

"And when he wrote that will?"

"Now, he stood pale and almost colapsing in the grip of the two men. Still clutching him tightly, they led him out of the room."

which it was kept unlocked."

"Gad, yes," cried Bryce.

"We started to look for a motive for the crime of last night," Dual resumed, his deductions. "If Gustav Conrad wrote this will, and if Gustav Conrad up till last night believed that he was the chief heir, and if the will, when produced this morning, showed that he was not, but that another was, in fact, what are we to believe?"

"Somebody changed the will," blurted Bryce.

Dual nodded to the detective.

"You'll find my man in the next room, back," he suggested, and Johnson left the room.

We awaited his return in silence, broken only by the labored respiration of the half-fainting man.

He came hard and irregular, rising and falling across the room in its nerve-racking sibilance, telling more truly than any words of a soul already in torment.

When Johnson returned with a glass of raw spirit Mallet seized it and drained it at a gulp and gave back the glass. "Thank you," he gasped.

Dual nodded to the detective.

"You'll find my man in the next room, back," he suggested, and Johnson left the room.

In these he explained, "I have the various reagents used in making ink tests. Diluted with water and applied to writing they will upon contact show plainly what variety of ink has been used. The base of most commercial inks is, as you perhaps know, iron, but there are other inks as well. The modern criminologist has to be familiar with all these and their identifying tests. Iron, for instance, will vanish utterly under oxalic acid. Vanadin ink would be less affected and probably merely broaden slightly in its outline. Rediline ink would turn a bright pink. Carbon or India ink would not be affected in the least either by oxalic acid or any other reagent which we have. Now, in this case I believe that an iron ink was used. I do not wish to remove it, but only to verify my own opinion; therefore, I am going to use merely an identifying rather than an obliteration test."

He picked up a vial and dropped some of its contents into a tube partially filled with water and shook the mixture.

"Here I have a solution of hydroxid of soda in water. I shall moisten one of the words which Johnson will select with the mixture, and we will see what will happen. Pick your word, detective."

Johnson put out a finger and laid it on the word "dollars."

Dual took a glass rod, dipped it into the solution in the test-tube, and touched the indicated word.

Almost instantly as it seemed its dark lines changed and glowed a deep violet red."

"The base is gallate of iron," Dual declared. "It might have been copper, but if it had it would have been as well as change color." I was right in thinking it was iron instead. Now we will see what we can learn about the names which were written in."

He moistened the black letter of the word "Gustav" with the hydroxid solution.

He laid it upon a piece of paper, picked up a dropper and dripped one tiny drop of water upon it.

"Next he took a small dish and into it poured some quantity of a brownish fluid, "iodin," he explained.

Lifting the dish, he warmed it gently over the spirit-lamp, lifted the sheet of paper with the dampened seal upon it, and held it over the flame.

"While we sat and watched, a change came over the little, dull, white circle. It grew less white, took on a new color, turned blue.

"Starch," said Semi Dual.

The paper about the blue spot had turned brown. Dual noticed my glaze and smiled.

"The natural reaction of cellulose to iodin," he explained. "It will occur under similar conditions with any dampened wood-fiber paper."

He picked up the will.

"Now, gentlemen, we will see if this paper upon which Anthony Conrad wrote his last will and testament has been dampened recently. If it has it will turn brown; as this other sheet has done—see?"

He held the back of the will above the steaming iodin in the shallow dish. We waited in a tense anxiety of expectation what would happen.

And as we watched we saw that the same change was coming over the will which had come over the sheet of paper.

About the first name of Gustav, and the other name of George, the paper was gradually taking on a delicate tan shade which was deepening with each moment to brown.

But under the names themselves a different thing was transpiring.

Even as in the case of the dampened flake, the surface of the paper upon which those names stood forth was darkening and deepening to a violet hue.

A thin smile flicked Dual's lips.

"Iodin," he said again, "and iodin, gentlemen, means starch when the blue color follows its kiss. Our proof is positive now. We have left theory and confront fact."

"Whoever tampered with this will first erased the original names with a sharp knife or a good eraser, and later transposed the names. To gain a fresh surface upon which to write, one which would resemble that of the original finish of the paper, this individual made use of a mixture of flour and water. That accounts for the starch, and also for the telltale lampening of the cellulose fibers of the surrounding surfaces. The violet test proves this."

"And when he wrote that will?"

"Now, he stood pale and almost colapsing in the grip of the two men. Still clutching him tightly, they led him out of the room."

said in quiet accents. "The time of your escape is not yet."

Johnson grinned in his prisoner's face.

"That was one bad break, George,"

he said softly. "I have been waiting to get you, and I guess I have."

Mallet opened his lips.

"Whisky, for God's sake!" he gasped.

Dual nodded to the detective.

"You'll find my man in the next room, back," he suggested, and Johnson left the room.

We awaited his return in silence, brought only by the labored respiration of the half-fainting man.

It came hard and irregular, rising and falling across the room in its nerve-racking sibilance, telling more truly than any words of a soul already in torment.

When Johnson returned with a glass of raw spirit Mallet seized it and drained it at a gulp and gave back the glass. "Thank you," he said.

Dual turned back to his desk.

"If my deductions are correct, the name of the will which was changed is Gustav and George. Now, let me

call your attention to the fact that

George Mallet, of whose writing I have here a sample, writes a similar hand to his cousin, with some exceptions.

Among them are that he makes a shorter loop to his small loop than does Gustav. Look at the word

George as written in the will.

That is an iron ink was used. I do not wish to remove it, but only to verify my own opinion; therefore, I am going</

THE WRECK OF ONE OF GERMANY'S AIR TERRORS AND THE GUN THAT BROUGHT IT TO EARTH

THE WRECK OF ZEPPELIN 677 THE FIRST TO BE BROUGHT DOWN BY FIRE

HEREWITH IS ILLUSTRATED THE WRECKAGE OF THE ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP WHICH WAS BROUGHT DOWN BY FRENCH ARTILLERY. THE AIRSHIP WAS ATTEMPTING TO CARRY OUT RECONNOISANCE WORK OVER THE FRENCH LINES OR POSSIBLY TRYING TO DROP BOMBS UPON THE IMPORTANT RAILWAY JUNCTION AT REVIGNY, SOME EIGHT MILES NORTHWEST OF BAR-LE-DUC. THE NIGHT IS DESCRIBED AS BEING A VERY DARK ONE. THE AIRSHIP WAS SET ON FIRE BY AN INCENDIARY SHELL AND FELL TO EARTH AT BRA-BAN-L-ROI, A TWELVE-MILES NORTH OF REVIGNY. A GLAZING MASS OF WRECKAGE IN DESTRUCTION WAS COMPLETED BY THE EXPLOSION OF THE BOMBS WHICH THE AIRSHIP CARRIED, AND THE WHOLE OF THE CREW PERISHED.

THE MOTOR-MOUNTED ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN WHICH BROUGHT DOWN ZEPPELIN 677 FROM FRENCH OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPH RECORD 1916

LIEUTENANT COMMANDER BREITHAUPT, OF THE ZEPPELIN WHICH WAS BROUGHT DOWN BY SHELL FIRE IN THE RAID ON THE BRITISH COAST TOWNS, DEFENDED THE GERMAN OFFICERS FROM THE CHARGE THAT THEY SEEK TO KILL NON-COMBATANTS WHEN HE SAID: "I DO NOT THINK ANYONE COULD FIND IN EITHER THE GERMAN NAVY OR ARMY AN OFFICER WHO WOULD WILLINGLY KILL WOMEN AND CHILDREN." OF THE TOTAL CREW OF EIGHTHILN OFFICERS AND MEN BROUGHT DOWN WITH THE AIRSHIP FIVE WERE INJURED; ONE MAN WAS DROWNED. SOME OF THE CREW LIVED IN AMERICA BEFORE THE WAR AND WERE ABLE TO SPEAK THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

Household Hint

Delicious White Cake—One pound of cream, one half teaspoonful of salt sifted, one pound granulated or one scant half cup of vinegar, three soft white sugar, one-quarter pound butter, one cup of sweet milk, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, whites of six eggs beaten stiff.

White Cake—One and one-half cups of sugar, (scant), one cup milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two cups of flour, two teaspoons baking powder, beaten whites of three eggs, one-half cup nuts if desired.

Yellow frosting for white cake: Two cups of pulverized sugar, one cup egg, butter to suit taste, beat until smooth.

White Hickory Nut Cake—Two cups of sugar, one-half cup of butter, one cup of milk, three cups of flour, three teaspoons of baking powder, one and one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Add one cup chopped nuts, then the beaten whites of five eggs. Bake 15 minutes in moderate oven.

Baked Beans

From Munroe Falls comes a receipt for Boston baked beans, which the writer has used very successfully for a number of years.

The best bean to use is the pea bean, which is the smallest white bean grown. A quart should be carefully picked over the night before. If they are more than a year old, soak them over night, and pour off the water in the morning. Put them over the fire in cold water, and parboil them slightly. Allow the water to come to a boil, drain and rinse with cold water. Lay a thin slice of fat salt pork on the bottom of the bean pot, and on this a small onion; pour in the beans. Have ready a piece of salt pork weighing about half a pound, the rind scored every quarter of an inch, and put it in the pot with the beans, arranging it so that the top shall be even with the top of the beans, and the rest buried in them. If the pork is very well salted and partially lean, very little salt will be required—about one-third of a teaspoonful; but if it is fat use one full teaspoonful. Add one salt-spoonful of ground mustard, one heaping tablespoonful of molasses—most people prefer this to sugar, but it is a matter of taste—cover with cold water, set in a moderate oven and bake from eight to ten hours slowly and steadily. The whole secret lies in the slow and steady baking.

Tomatoes and Eggs

Peel and slice thickly 4 large tomatoes, dip them in egg and cracker crumbs and fry a delicate brown. Beat four eggs, add pepper, salt and half a small cup of cream and scramble them in a tablespoon of butter in a hot skillet. Heap each tomato slice with the scrambled egg and serve a garnish around a platter of boiled ham.

Fried Celery

Remove the green leaves, and cut the white stalks of celery into bits one inch long. Clean, put them into boiling water for 15 minutes, then dry in a napkin. Beat up a fresh egg with salt (or hot water) add a little salt and pepper, throw the celery in, then it is breaded and fried in butter or fine white lard. Serve hot.

Butter and Honey

Butter and honey (not so well in the house). Dot butter with honey, add a few spoonfuls of powdered sugar, and mix well.

ARBOR DAY, APRIL 29

SET OUT TREES NOW

April 29 is Arbor Day this year, in many of the Northern States. Everybody who has room is asked to plant at least one tree.

Put on the fire and cook stirring constantly until quite thick. Have a small half head of cabbage, chopped or shaved fine, sprinkle with salt. Add the dressing when cold, four tablespoonfuls of cream and pour over the cabbage. Let the salad stand for a while before serving.

White Cake— $\frac{1}{2}$ cups of granulated sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of butter, 1 cup of sweet milk, 3 cups of flour, whites of 4 eggs, beaten, to 2 teaspoons of baking powder.

This makes three layers.

White Lady Cake—1 cup of sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of butter, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of milk, whites of 2 eggs, 2 cups of flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder.

Frosting—Yolks of 2 eggs, 1 cup of powdered sugar, 2 tablespoons of cream.

Mrs. Blake's Fruit Cake—11 eggs, 11 eggs, 1 lb. butter, 1 lb. sugar, 2 lb. raisins, 2 lbs. currants, 1 lb. of English walnuts, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. citron, 1 teaspoon lemon extract, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 teaspoon cinnamon extract, 1 tablespoon cloves, 1 tablespoon spice, 1 tablespoon nutmeg, 1 tablespoon grated orange-peeling, 6 cups flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sweet milk, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup wine or brandy, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon soda.

Never set out a tree in full leaf; it will rarely live. If the roots are scanty the top should be cut away in proportion; there should not be more top than roots. Dip the roots in water just before planting, to make the soil stick to them. It is better not to fertilize much the first year.

Ancient Records Deciphered

At Lop Nor, the ancient ruined city of Asia explored by Dr. Sven Hedin, many written records were found. The data thus far deciphered point to the period between the middle of the third and the beginning of the fourth century A. D. The particular place where the discovery was made seems to have belonged to a well-to-do Chinese merchant, who carried on a sort of livery business, to be let out carriages and beasts of burden on hire and undertook to deliver letters to Sachow. One document speaks of a military expedition. The inhabitants must have carried on agriculture for the documents made frequent mention of seed corn. Very possibly at the place where these pieces of paper were excavated there formerly stood a sort of treasure house or species of seed-corn bank where seed corn was bought and stored or received as security for debt.

HORSE AUCTION

Friday, April 28, No. 7 Superior St. Fifty head of all kinds. We always carry a car load of hand for private sale daily. We also have 10 head second-hand horses that we have taken in from breweries. We carry just what you want. Every horse is guaranteed. We give you better horses at less price than you can buy elsewhere. If you have any horses for sale, consider them to this place, no charge. Come and see us.

Butter and Honey

Butter and honey (not so well in the house). Dot butter with honey, add a few spoonfuls of powdered sugar, and mix well.

EVENTS WHICH LED UP TO U. S.-BERLIN CRISIS

Events which led up to the present strained relations with Germany.

Feb. 4, 1915—Berlin decides all waters around Great Britain in a war zone and threatens all merchant vessels in the zone will be sunk by submarines.

Feb. 10—United States warns Germany will be held to "strict accountability" for any loss of American life or property.

Feb. 16—Germany declares England's food blockade necessitates continuation of U-boat warfare in retaliation.

April 30—American steamer Gulf-light sunk. Three killed.

May 7—Lusitania sunk. Twelve hundred drowned, 115 of them Americans.

May 30—Germany replies to another American note arguing Lusitania was armed and carried munitions.

June 8—Secretary Bryan refuses to sign reply and resigns.

June 10—Germany warned again.

July 21—Another American note is sent in reply to Germany's note that field presence of Americans on board

FISH

The sea does not hold all the species of fish, nor in the remainder confined to fresh waters. There are phenomenal specimens everywhere on dry land. Some of these are not dependent on a dry environment, however. They are perhaps amphibious. But they are quite enough fish, whatever.

The chief end of fish is the hook. And in order to be caught, fish must have a home to the bait on the hook. This is easily arranged. Then the fishing time! So a wonder what it should be, in the land division of the human family. Piscatorial artifice is a sport that is hardly meant ever to go out of fashion. Likewise, and no means lacking in imagination. Knowledge has not been popularized as to the brains of the celebration of the Teleostei or the Selachians, but, whatever may be said against high anatomy and function, neither of the two fish families or others can be said to be without imagination. Were such calamity possible, much human as well as piscatorial enterprise would cease. Inequality would disappear and we afflicted with the poise that the best philosophers tell us is baneful. From Judge.

of drab dullness. Conversely, shades of rose color may conceal the subtlest bait that ever was, or that ever was designed for any fish to be caught. Thus being the case, one is quite justified in calling it "sunrise," or "lucky," or "velvet," or "double pair"—in truth, anything but "bait."

And fish, as well as fishermen, are by no means lacking in imagination. Knowledge has not been popularized as to the brains of the celebration of the Teleostei or the Selachians, but, whatever may be said against high anatomy and function, neither of the two fish families or others can be said to be without imagination. Were such calamity possible, much human as well as piscatorial enterprise would cease. Inequality would disappear and we afflicted with the poise that the best philosophers tell us is baneful. From Judge.

Perishable sweets. Sugar Lumps. Sweethearts. Home moons.

The husband, who is referred to, as a good man, may be said to be a good man, inasmuch as he generally catches his wife and his children.

THE COST OF LIVING

Living! Fifteen dollars a week will support a husband, wife and three children in New York City. This is the official of the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities have found out.

The other day a New England newspaper told how a woman had supported her little family on a dollar a day and did it for years decently and reasonably.

On the same day a New York judge was asked to permit a young heiress to draw $1,000 a year on an estate which she had sole title to as this amount was necessary to meet her expenses.

All this goes to show that the cost of living is a personal lottery, it depends not on the age, sex, but on what one wants, or girls, & wants.

We hear a great deal of talk now those who are poor, and those who are rich, regarding the high cost of living. In the good old days, we did not care for our soldiers and sailors so much as we do now. We have been regarded as too expensive to discuss with a certain degree of how much it costs to live.

The necessities of life, such as shelter, clothing, food, etc., are common that are necessary to life.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had

the old days, based on what we had.

and after all, we had the old days, based on what

