THE RECORD: NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1916.

$1.00 PER YEAR, IN ADVANCE.

—AND THEN THE WIND BLEW—

VOTED TO SELL ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT

SPECIAL ELECTION MONDAY CAR-RIED TO DISPOSE TO EDISON CO. AT ONCE.

COMPANY WILL NOW BUILD OF-FICE BUILDING AND ESTABLISH PERMANENT HEADQUARTERS
HERE.

By a vote of 22 Yes to 29 No at a special village election held Monday it was decided to at once dispose of the Northville Electric Light plant for $26,000 to the Edison company. The money when paid over will be placed in the sinking fund to retire other village bonds when due or probably retire some before the due time if possible.

The Edison company will very soon buy a lot here and erect a suitable office building and maintain this as their permanent division headquarters for this division. The company has several suitable pieces of property in view and will probably close up some deal within a week or two.

PEOPLE NOT SO EASILY FOOLED.

People finally are coming to realize the menace of the brewers' so-called home rule bill, according to Walter J. Hoshal, Wayne County dry campaign manager. Mr. Hoshal admits that when the bill first was introduced, it looked as if even the dryest dry were going to be fooled into voting for it, but now says that thanks to the campaign being staged by its proponents, the public has come to distrust it.

The most flagrant offense of the wets was a poster, two by three feet, headed in letters 8 inches high "The President Says." This line is followed by smaller type declaring against prohibition and for home rule.

The inference is that it is president Wilson who says this, but in fine print at the bottom of the poster it explains that it was the president of Michigan Home Rule League, the Brewers' organization who said it.

This kind of advertising antagonized many admirers of President Wilson and started the people to wondering what "Home Rule" really was. Recently they have begun to ask why the people are not told by the wets themselves just what the bill is. All the public knows is that the bill provides for a unit smaller than the county for the local option elections, altho the brewers have repeatedly stated that the county was too small a unit because it was too hard to enforce prohibition.

The amendment is so worded that in case it should carry at the polls the Supreme Court would have to decide what it means and might mean the abolition of all the dry territory, 45 counties in the state. It has been tried in Ohio and put saloons into 29 counties where the people of the counties specifically said they did not want saloons.

Efforts of the wets to deny that the Home Rule League was a liquor men's organization have also met with failure, according to Mr. Hoshal. The league has repeatedly advertised in the same circular to "defeat prohibition and adopt home rule" showing that the Home Rule League is really organized booze.

NEW DETROIT UNITED FREIGHT DEPOT.

An investment of a million dollars is involved in the plans of the Detroit United railway for the construction of its freight terminal in Detroit to take the place of the terminal it has long occupied at Congress and Fifth streets and which it has greatly outgrown.

The new terminal will occupy nearly three city blocks between Dequindre and Chene streets and Monroe avenue and Macomb street. This property includes the old Pullman car shops purchased by the company several years ago and used as the general shops of the company. Outgrowing the accommodations as general shops, the company has been gradually constructing handsome new shop units on its Highland properties.
These units now all nearly completed and occupied form the most perfect car shops in the country. East of the old car shops at Dequindre and Macomb streets the company has purchased the additional territory required and is preparing to either remove or raze the buildings now on it.
The plans for the new freight terminal are practically ready and when the work is done Detroit will have the finest accommodations possible with a lay-out of tracks designed for exceptionally rapid handling of freight.—Electric Railway News.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION HELD AT NORTHVILLE.

Northville's W. C. T. U. was host to the members of that order from the first district of the state at the thirty-ninth annual convention Wednesday and Thursday. The Presbyterian church wherein all sessions were held was prettily decorated for the occasion. The out-of-town people were served dinner on both days by the ladies of the Baptist Aid society.
About sixty were present on Wednesday and an even greater number on Thursday.

Local people assisted in the program both days.

Just before the Wednesday evening service, the convention voted to send a night letter to Billy Sunday, requesting him to emphasize, at his Thursday meeting for men the necessity for voting "no" on the Home Rule proposition.

POLITICS JUST WARMING UP

REPUBLICANS RECOGNIZE THEY HAVE A JOB ON THEIR HANDS.

PRESIDENT, GOVERNORSHIP AND STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION LEADS IN THE INTEREST.

Now that the Democrats have gotten their state and national ticket under way, they propose to give the Republicans a race for their money.
President Wilson will be no easy man for the Republicans to beat. The Democrats have two important slogans to drum on. They are the claim that the president has kept this country out of war and the other is that we are enjoying the best times ever, with high wages for labor.

The Republicans claim that President Wilson's stand has all but precipitated us in war with both Germany and Mexico and that his policy has caused the death of hundreds and hundreds of American citizens.

The claim also advanced by the G.
O. P. speakers that but for the European war this country would see the hardest times in its history.

As we said at the beginning, however, the Republicans have some job on their hands right now to win out.
There can be no sleeping at the post.

On the state ticket Edwin F. Sweet is out for the Democratic honors for governor against Albert Sleeper.
Sweet has been elected to congress from the Republican Kent district and later has served in President Wilson's cabinet. He will make a strong appeal for the temperance vote on the grounds that Mr. Sleeper was backed by the wet interests. He will have no small following and backed with a machine consisting of every federal employee and every state executive employee in Michigan, the government even is none too safe just now for the Republicans.

The state-wide Prohibition movement seems practically sure of carrying and more effort is being put in at present along those lines than in any of the offices.

For congressmen Pat H. Kelley seems to have no opposition of the Republican ticket and Charles Townsend for U. S. senate has what looks like clear sailing. All efforts for both parties seem to be on the president and governorship.

PROCLAMATION.

In accordance with the proclamation of Governor Ferris, designating Monday, Nov. 9, as State Fire Prevention day, I hereby urge the people of Northville to observe this day by a general cleaning up and removal of rubbish, trash, inflammable material and waste from their premises.

An ounce of prevention is worth a ton of fire fighting apparatus.
Seventy-five per cent of the fires and accidents are due to preventable causes, and could easily be avoided by the exercise of reasonable care and precaution.

I trust that the people of Northville will see to it that Fire Prevention day means something this year.

CHAS. S. FILKINS,
Village President.

Sugar That's Not Adulterated

PERHAPS you do not realize that the trade tricksters are adepts at putting cheapening materials in sugar. Yet such is the case. Powdered starch and finely ground sand are among them. We are careful in our buying to deal with only the wholesalers of known reliability. Granulated, powdered and block white sugar, also brown sugar here. All are 100 per cent sugar.

ON THE BATTLEFIELD AT VERDUN

In the great battles that have been raging at Verdun many towns and villages have been completely destroyed. This is well depicted in the accompanying picture, which shows the main street in the village of Enes laid in ruins by the death dealing implements which are continuously playing havoc in the struggle for the fortress. In the other scene a lone trooper is seen cleaning his rifle, a duty essential to every fighting soldier.

A SOFT WOMAN

He looked at her as he said this, but she shifted the subject quickly. "I see why he thought you were Huggins. Because I was with you." This she had to explain, of course, and then the whole story had to be told, while he listened in silence. "I knew you couldn't be Huggins," he concluded, though it was a knowledge very new to him. "I knew you couldn't have been that. I never never could have done it if you had been him."

ly. "Hit me? Who?" "Dick." "Dick?" he pondered. "Who is he?" "He's the detective," she answered, her lips trembling, for she feared a storm, but the silence was more one of surprise.

"Detective," he broke out finally. "Why should a detective strike me? I haven't done anything. Why—I can't seem to get things straight." She faced him, striving to make out the dim face peering palely at her through the gloom. The conviction that had been deep down in her, the impulse that had prompted the blow, surged forward and prompted the question.

"Aren't you Huggins?" "Why, no. My name is Calloway. Did he take me for some one else?" "Come into the light," she commanded brusquely, and led the way round the corner of the station. With the light full on his face she questioned him again. "You say you are not Huggins?" "Of course not, my name—"

"But the prison pallor?" "Prison pallor?" he echoed, and then laughed harshly. "Oh, you mean my lack of color. It's prison pallor, to be true, but not derived from a crown institution. There are other prisons—banks for instance." "So that's your dragon," she gasped.

"That was it. I have blazed for it a long time, but today I had found my freedom—the offer of a place in the colonies. It's sunny there, and wide—but it's also, far and lonesome." He looked down at her as he said this, but she shifted the subject quickly. "I see why he thought you were Huggins. Because I was with you."

ANOTHER KING TEST

DETROIT, MICH.—The eight-cylinder King adds another high gear performance to its already large number of features of this kind staged in the mountains of the west. This time the car was plotted up the steep grades of mountains in Utah out of Salt Lake City.

I. B. Meers, Coast Sales Manager for the King Motor Car Company, describes the trip in a telegram to Artemas Ward, Jr. President of the King Motor Car Company as follows: "P. A. Blackley completed yesterday the most remarkable high gear run ever made in this part of the country with strictly a King Eight stock car. Negotiated big Cotton Wood Canyon from Salt Lake to Brighton, all gears sealed in high grade is a continuous pull of eighteen miles long average grade sixteen and one-half per cent, and as high as twenty-two and two tenths per cent. The run was made from the starting point to Brighton, a distance of sixteen and eight-tenths miles in exactly fifty-three minutes without single stop for water or adjustment. You will understand how remarkable this run is when average touring conditions three hours is considered good time for same run in second and low gears. Brighton has an elevation of eight thousand nine hundred feet."

Submarine War on Merchantmen. Berlin reports by wireless that 26 merchant vessels were sunk by German submarines between September 3 and September 11. It does not appear that in any of these cases Germany broke her agreement with the United States. The merchantmen were carrying contraband and were not sunk until their passengers and crew had been allowed to escape; nor does it appear that any on board were murdered.

Army to Have Reserve Fliers. The war department has decided to train about a thousand aviators to be used in case of war. The aviators will have thorough training in military aviation and then be sent to the front. The aviators will be trained in military aviation and then be sent to the front. Golden Age for United States. Gold is coming into the U. S. treasury office so fast that they are actually logging it. Never was such a condition. At the New York assay office gold is coming in at the rate of $2,000,000 per day or about four tons. This is faster than it can be handled and tested.

Our Trade with Brazil. For the first time the United States now stands first in the foreign trade of Brazil, both in imports from that country and in exports to it. So says a government commerce report.

Wrinkles Not in Style. In a shop a certain well-known actress, who is noted for her perennial youth, was seen traveling bag of alligator skin. The shopkeeper, who had none of that particular sort, thought out instead some of smooth leather.

"And you tell me this is alligator skin?" objected the actress. "Why, where are all its wrinkles?" "Ah, madam," replied the witty dealer, who knew his customer, "wrinkles are out of fashion. The correct alligator bag is made from the skin of an alligator that has been massaged."

BARBERS NOW WANT HAIR TAX

Next They'll Want Your Watch, Boots and Cravat.

St. Louis, Mo.—Men who have more than the normal amount of hair to cause the barber trouble, and men who have less than the allotted amount, both should be subjected to a tax, in the opinion of the journeyman barbers. At a meeting of the St. Louis Journeymen Barbers' Union a charge of 5 cents was indorsed for trimming a mustache—heretofore trimmed free with a haircut or shave—and a charge of at least 15 cents was urged for hair restorer or tonic placed on the cranium of a bald-headed gentleman. The present charge is 10 cents.

HOUSEWIVES WEAR OVERALLS

Tacoma Women Consider Them Practical and Sensible.

Tacoma, Wash.—Overalls for practical purposes of housework are being worn by many Tacoma women, and Mrs. Lillian R. Thomas, who lives on an interurban line, comes forward to testify that she has worn them six years and that she wouldn't discard them for any home dress she ever saw.

"I adopted overalls for general house and yard work, because they are so much more practical and sensible than skirts ever could be," said Mrs. Thomas.

THE VILLAGE MARSHAL.

So much has been said in the way of street rumors relative to the citizenship record of Village Marshal Ernest Lyke that the Record feels that it is only justice to state the facts. Mr. Lyke did leave the service in time of peace before his time was up and came home. Hundreds do the same thing every year and it is considered no grave crime. Lyke afterwards returned to Ft. Wayne and finished out his term of enlistment, and by order of the president was restored to full citizenship.
That there may be no doubt of this the Record has seen the documents from the war department at Washington to prove all this and Mr. Lyke is just as much a citizen of the United States and Northville as any other man and besides that he has served in the U. S. army for a period of three years.

Mr. Lyke has made a good marshal.
Just as good a one as Northville has ever had and the chances he has made has kept the result of his endeavor to enforce the law in Northville. In this work he could receive no commendation or encouragement of all law-abiding citizens.

The Boston paper have been wailing for the labor people in the city and have editorialized that the typom-bills offered daily at the only 60 person advertisement.

There is no question but that there is a shortage of labor throughout the country, both skilled and unskilled.
This is substantiated by the fact that wages have jumped from 5 to 15 per cent. It is found that a large number of clerks and the like are doing the work of the unskilled laborers, and there would be a greater number if they were physically able to stand the strain of doing hard manual labor.
Clerkship jobs are scarce today because clerks as a rule do not receive large wages, and for this reason they are stepping out and doing other work and receiving more pay than is the cause for the scarcity of clerks. All other lines of skilled or unskilled labor are lacking men.

A sure sign that autumn has really arrived is the fact that the corn husker has begun to hush fingers, hands and arms of the farmers and their helpers. A fortune is surely in store for the inventor who shall evolve from the recesses of his genius a corn shredder without an insatiable appetite for unwary appurtenances of the human body, one that will, for instance, refuse anything except a corn-iverous diet.

Folks who pose as vegetarians now days (if there are any such) can no longer be accused of being economists in disguise. Beans, 'taters, cabbage and tomatoes are a dietary for the rich. Even a "boiled dinner" is no longer partaken of with secrecy among the "highbrows." Instead, it hath a decided plutocratic sound, though with the same old smell attached.

It seems sort of unusual to see peaches costing only about half as much per bushel as potatoes in our local markets but we don't seem to be rejoicing over it to any extent.
The only trouble with the low price of the luscious peach is that it can't possibly take the place of the (once) plebian potatoes.

The Birmingham Eccentric, telling of a barn out that way which was struck by lightning the other day says that the building was of concrete construction and was entirely destroyed. The fire must have been as hot as the kind the Rev. Wm Sunday talks so much about.

Sometimes we do a whole lot of "kicking" about the peculiarities of our Michigan climate, but maybe we wouldn't find quite so much fault if we all knew that our state has the second lowest death rate from tuberculosis of any in the Union.

Another grade crossing horror in Detroit makes one—again—wonder how many more human lives must be sacrificed before grade separation becomes mandatory by federal or by every-state enactment.

If you want to make some easy (?) money—just wander out and gather in fered.

WEEKLY CALENDAR.*PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)
Next Sunday will be observed as Automobile Day. Every one who owns or wants to own an auto is urged to attend the morning service. It is hoped that every owner of a machine will bring his family, and as many neighbors as he can carry, to this service. The subject for discussion will be "The Automobile—A Peril or A Blessing." The automobile is having a vital influence upon our moral and religious life as well as upon our commercial life and so the subject of next Sunday morning's sermon will be interesting and practical. Every one of the seventy-five Presbyterians owning machines are expected to be present at the service of next Sunday.

Sunday school at 11:30. Everyone was gratified at the poorly attendance of last Sunday, surely all who were present then will be on hand next Sunday.

Christian Endeavor at 6 o'clock. The work of the young people's society is now well under way. The attendance is on the increase and the cooperation of every one is necessary to keep this up.

Evening service at 7 o'clock. Subject: Popularizing Religion. This will be a discussion as to the wisdom of employing impractical methods and preaching sensation in order to make religion popular.

In the present plans mature Sunday October 22 will prove to be one of the big days in the work of our churches.
Keep your eye out for a more detailed notice later.

The Woman's Home Missionary society will meet with Mrs. L. E.
McRobert next Wednesday afternoon.
All ladies of the congregation are cordially invited to be present.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

(By the Pastor.)
On Sunday, October 8th at 2 o'clock there will be German services. Congregation meeting directly after the afternoon services. All are invited to come.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.) Rev. W. T. Roberts of Lansing will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening. The pastor would like as as many as can possibly do so to be present. If you are a Baptist you ought to be sure and not miss this opportunity. If you are not a Baptist, it will pay you to hear Brother Roberts.

Well we Baptists certainly rallied last Sunday. Let's repeat it again next Sunday both in church and in Sunday school.

Let us just try and see if we can not do a little better during the pastor's third year. If we should even double our diligence we would not be breaking the limit. The greatest need of the church is love, love to God and love to our neighbors. Its a wearisome job to try to serve God without love. Love is the great secret of happiness in the home, of prosperity in God's church. Don't try to get along without love. Its the only thing that will survive the collapse of this old world. Faith will be lost in sight and hope in fruition, while love will continue to be the currency of Heaven.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

(By the Pastor.)
Next Sunday, at the morning services, the pastor will give as a prelude to the regular sermon, a short sermon-talk to the children. Parents are requested to take special pains to have the children ready for this service, and are cordially invited to come with them. The services of the church will be most helpful to all, young and old, rich and poor, wise and ignorant, saint and sinner.

"Come thou with us and we will do thee good, for the Lord hath spoken good concerning Israel."

Sunday school at 11:30. Let every member be present.

Epworth League service at 6 o'clock.
Topic: "Witnessing for Christ." Leader, Miss Jessie Clark.

Evening service of worship and praise at 7 o'clock.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid society at the home of Mrs. Roy Clark, Tuesday afternoon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY.

Christian Science service in the Ladies Library Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock.

GARRICK THEATRE, DETROIT.

"Alone At Last." Messrs Shubert's production of the latest musical work by Franz Lehar, composer of "The Merry Widow," with its much advertised mountain climbing scene, in which a party of tourists, starting at the foot of the Jungfrau ascend the famous peak to its summit, is the attraction at the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, all next week. Officially classified "Alone At Last" should be described as an operetta which is a somewhat dignified way of referring to musical plays with consistent plots. Much has been heard of the Jungfrau scene which is truly remarkable, both from a pictorial standpoint and the way in which the scenes seem to melt one into the other.
More of a story than usually accompanies the average musical play is found in "Alone At Last."

Walled Lake Warbles.

Rev. Cole occupied the M. E. pulpit Sunday evening.

Dr. H. F. McKnight left for Milwaukee, Wis., Monday.

New springs much longer and more flexible.

MAXWELL Motor Cars are now equipped with a new and improved windshield, still longer and more flexible springs, wider seats, deeper and softer cushions, dashlight, gasoline gauge, and other equally important refinements.

To the generous value heretofore present in the Maxwell product, these extra improvements have now been added.

This is in line with the Maxwell policy—so widely advertised—not to change the Maxwell in any essential detail, but to continue improving it so that it will always be a standard, recognized product, constantly abreast of the best practices of the industry.

Notwithstanding the superlative and sometimes confusing claims that are made in behalf of various automobiles, we restate our sincere conviction that Maxwell Motor Cars offer more real value per dollar than any other car in the world.

This too, is the belief of the thousands and thousands of Maxwell owners. And these beliefs are supported by actual and tangible facts. We actually know that within the entire history of the automobile business, no motor car—in any class or at any price—has equalled the Maxwell in honest dollar-for-dollar value.

And if you will examine a Maxwell, ride in it, compare it with other cars, consider its splendid record, reputation and past performances, you too, will know it.

tools were about $35. Things in general that you would find at a county fair were on exhibition here, such as the old-time wildman, African dodger, Charley Chaplin also had a tent. Hot-dogs and home made candies were in great demand and a show in the evening closed the affair when all enjoyed.

B. J. Roche, a former Farmington resident committed suicide Sunday, Sept. 24 at Pontiac by taking two ounces of carbolic acid. Domestic troubles are the supposed reasons for the act. The funeral was held at Pontiac Monday afternoon and the remains brought to North Farmington for burial. Mr. Roche was the son-in-law of Palmer Sherman of this place. Mrs. Roche is employed at the C. F. Smith farm. A note left by him asked her to dispose of his body.

The testimony is from this locality
The proof convincing.
Mrs. J. Glosser, 517 W. Washington back ached all the time. To stoop or lift caused sharp pains in my kidneys felt tired and run down and it was an effort for me to get around. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me wonderfully strengthening my kidneys and toning up my entire system."

Northville School Notes.

(By the Teachers)
A state law is now in force making the selling of furnishing of cigarettes to any person under twenty-one years of age, punishable by a fine of $50 or imprisonment for 30 days. Likewise, any person, under this age found smoking cigarettes is liable to arrest and a fine of 10 or imprisonment for 5 days for each offense. Also those persons, not parents or guardians, harboring a person not 21 years, in the act of smoking said cigarettes, will be similarly punished.

This law for the protection of growing boys is not being obeyed in Northville. We have examples of that in our school. This is possibly from not knowing the law.
Good citizens will obey it—others we hope are not in our town, who will not respect the laws of their state and who will assist in forming a habit, which scientific research has proved seriously interferes with health achievement, especially of undeveloped youth.

WRITINGS IN STONE DESCRIBE CAMPAIGN

Excavations at Tell-el-Amarna, Egypt, Uncover Valuable Records.

Washington—Among the popular science papers in the Smithsonian annual report is an article on the excavations at Tell-el-Amarna, Egypt, written by the famous Egyptologist, Prof. Dr. Ludwig Borchardt, director of the German Institute of Egyptian Archaeology, and illustrated with photographic reproductions of the localities excavated and some of the finds.

Tell-el-Amarna is the name given to a number of house and tomb ruins in upper Egypt on the east bank of the Nile, located about 190 miles above Cairo. It comprises the ruins of Elkhato (Akhetaton), a city built about 1550 B. C. by Akhenaten, the young Pharaoh Amenophis IV., as a new capital of his empire, in place of the Thebes, when he ceased to worship the Theban gods and turned to Aton, the sun god.

Dr. Borchardt mentions one dwelling with two gardens, one within the walls hidden from the public view, and the other in front of the high wall, surrounded only by a low fence so that the passers-by could enjoy the trees and bushes. The largest and best preserved house excavated during the year was that of Gen. Ra-hose, formerly known as Ptah-mose, before he removed to Tell-el-Amarna with his master. It seems that at this time, with the constant growth of the sun cult, names suggestive of other than solar deities became unfashionable in good society.

One of the important things noted about this house was that all the doors were framed in ashlar, or hewn stone, and inscribed with hieroglyphics. New data as regards the "quadrangular" room, hitherto supposed to have been the master's room, was also furnished by this building. Judging from the fact that the name of the mistress of the house appears on the frame of a false door to this room, and that a wardrobe or dressing room, with benches for storage of clothing adorns it, the author believes that it must have been the "room of wife."

In exploring the environs of the studio of Thutmose, an early native sculptor, a model of a baboon's head in a material resembling wax and another head carved from limestone were found, together with some beautiful ivory carvings. Other objects unearthed included a portrait in relief of Amenophis IV., some impressions from a moldboard, a relief model in stone of the young Pharaoh and his wife; a mask model in limestone, a small tablet with a portion of an Assyrian syllabary; a larger clay tablet covered with cuneiform script relating to a military campaign in Western Asia, but without signature of the author.

According to the Smithsonian report, it is not definitely known where these two tablets came from; whether from the archives of the "house of the royal letter writer," whether they became scattered or lost in ancient times, or possibly that careless peasants of El-Tell, who discovered the archives in 1877, threw some of the pieces around.

Pleading Mother.
"Will you dance this dance with me?"
"Mother has forbidden me to dance with you."
"But she is out of the room."
"You wouldn't be any fun. When she comes back I'll give you a dance!" Like attracts like: an empty purse usually goes with an empty stomach.

Never Beaten In Horse Trade

Jim Withee was Maine's David Harum

Was Famous for Funny Stories and Hearty Laughter Popular as Hotel Man.

Farmington, Me.—James Withee, who died here recently, aged 75 years, and who is survived by a widow and two children, was famous throughout New England and widely known all over the State of Maine as a hotel landlord and horseman. He was a native of the town of Winslow and had conducted hotels and stables in Waterville, Lewiston, Rumford Falls and Farmington.

Mr. Withee was almost the last of the older horsemen in Maine and was known as a character in every corner. One of the statements often made about him was that he was never beaten in a horse trade. In spite of this he had hundreds of friends, and something that cannot be said of most of the dealers, never made an enemy. If one was inclined after a trade to take exception to the dealer, Mr. Withee would force him out of any unfriendly state of mind. All of his horse trades ended in a laugh.

His judgment on horses was remarkable and more in the old days would come many riders to consult him. He was a very large man physically, and his hearty laugh was known from one end of the State to the other. For nearly half a century he was a familiar figure at all the county fairs.

He always went by the name of "Jim" and no one ever thought of calling him anything else.

One day a delegation from the Democratic town committee called on him for a contribution when he lived in Waterville and was managing a small hotel and stable there.

"Well, gentlemen," Jim remarked, "don't see how I can help ye consider I don't have a dime and I ain't a dime. I've got all the symptoms of being a Democrat, but I ain't got a Republican, you understand."

This is but one of 1,000—yes 10,000—anecdotes told of Jim Withee, the "David Harum" of Maine, the most entertaining story teller and the most hospitable innkeeper who ever dwelt within the borders of the Pine Tree State.

Time was when he sent 150 horses a year to the Boston market and as many more to New York.

In person Mr. Withee bore all the requirements of his own good storytelling. His figure was portly, his eyes twinkled with genial fun and his voice and conversation were characteristically Maine. He was a typical Yankee as he sat in the office of his hotel, a large meerschaum pipe hanging by some mysterious means to his front teeth, the bowl buried in the bosom of his immaculate linen. He will go down to fame with such innkeepers as Landlord Moses of the old Robinson House at Bucksport, the prototype of "Old Jed Prouty," and with the celebrated Barney McGould of Cherryfield.

He was driving cattle across country from Maine to the Brighton, Mass., stock yards when he was 16. Even then he could guess nearer to the weight on the hoof than any "cattle sharp" in the State. ## MOTHERLY FACE IS HER TRUMP CARD IN THEFTS Notorious Lizzie Dillon, Now 76 Years Old, Again in Police Toils.

Boston, Mass.—With her famous motherly smile unimpaired by time, Lizzie Dillon, 76 years old, known to the police of every city in the United States as one of the most skillful and successful "moll buzzers" (pocketbook thieves) and who has served fully a third of her life behind prison bars, is again in the police toils.

Since her arrival in this country from Liverpool, in 1880, Lizzie has been active. She is an undersized woman and would be the last person to be taken for the criminal which her record proves her.

The police say she formerly worked in collusion with the famous Dan Corrigan. The couple watched the death advertisements, it is said, and attended public funerals.

When the service had progressed to its most impressive point Lizzie and Dan, seated apart, would each some how "lift" a woman's pocketbook. "I either thought the circumstances warranted a sort of tears, perhaps to divert suspicion, both Lizzie and Dan would supply 'turn on the juice,' and weep as copiously as the mourning relatives.

When arrested Lizzie wore a long, dark cage and the motherly of the police honours. Its fastenings, tied in a bow knot under her chin, framed a face so benign, so free from felle and forebodings, it could well be used as an advertisement for homely domesticity.

Indian Who Discovered Klondike Explores in Poverty.

Seattle, Wash.—Skookum Jim Macdonald, an Indian, who, with George Carter, discovered the Klondike gold field twenty years ago, died in poverty recently at Carcross, Yukon Territory. At one time he had $500,000 in gold, nearly all of which he squandered. On a visit to Seattle he threw money from his hotel to sea crowds fight for it in the street.

PUTS BAN ON "SKYSCRAPERS"

New York City Takes Steps to Control Buildings

New York—New York City puts its official ban on skyscrapers when the board of estimates, by a unanimous vote adopted a plan which had for its object the prevention of indiscriminate building of structures without relation to neighborhoods, rights of property owners or existing values.

Hereafter no building can be erected above a certain comparatively low height, unless it has decidedly larger light and air courts than have been required in the past.

Owners of properties in central sections which are available for improvement with skyscrapers, fearing the effects of the new regulation, almost overwhelmed the bureau of buildings with plans for monumental structures, some of them comparable to the greatest piles of stone, steel and masonry in the city. Twenty six plans were filed calling for an expenditure of $22,675,000.

Found in Pocket.

A great deal has been written, in both poetry and prose, about the relics the boys carry in their pockets. Writes the high school reporter for the Toronto Republican, but for some reason they missed the girls. Recently our investigation committee held an inquiry into a girl's pocket and found the following: One scented pocket handkerchief, one vanity case containing powder, mirror and some small change, one rubber ring, one crochet hook, one ball of thread and work, one tanning shade, one button hook, one nail file, one wire hairpin, one coat button, one stick chewing gum, a note from her last beau, and three sen-sen, besides numerous unidentified odds and ends of a miscellaneous nature.
