FATAL ACCIDENT SATURDAY EVENING

M. B. BURROWS KILLED IN AUTO.
MOBILE - CRASH NEAR CLARENCEVILLE WHILE RETURNING FROM DETROIT.

The first fatal automobile accident of which a citizen of Northville was the victim, occurred early Saturday evening, November 4, when Milton B. Burrows received injuries which resulted in his death a short time later. Mr. Burrows, accompanied by his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newton and Arthur Power, was returning from Detroit when his car collided with another automobile which had stopped on account of the approach of an electric car. The violence of the impact overturned both cars, crushing Mr. Burrows between the steering gear and the dash of his machine, and throwing the entire party out. Mr. Burrows never regained consciousness. Mrs. Burrows sustained a broken arm, a dislocated shoulder and minor injuries. Mr. Power a broken rib, Mr. Newton severe cuts and bruises, while Mrs. Newton was but slightly hurt. That others of the party were not killed was remarkable, especially so in regard to Mr. Newton who occupied the front seat with Mr. Burrows. The accident happened near the county line just east of Clarenceville. Several people were in the other machine, but all are said to have escaped injury.

The deceased has been prominently known here for many years past as an expert cement worker and had employed many men in contract work in that line here and in various other places. He was of a jovial, friendly temperament which won him friends wherever he went. He is survived by his wife, his mother and a sister, Mrs. J. J. Kimmel, both of Hillman, Mich.

Funeral services were held from the home Tuesday afternoon. Rev. J. E. Webber officiating.

HUGHES AND DRYS CARRY MICHIGAN

KELLEY AND TOWNSEND ARE RETURNED TO SENATE AND CONGRESS BY GOOD MAJORITIES.

Another presidential election has come and gone—taking with it most of the excitement which has raged for weeks past.

State wide prohibition for Michigan is assured by a majority of 60,000. The vote in Northville township was Prohibition—Yes 429, Prohibition—No 147. Home Rule—Yes 140; Home rule—No 411.

The entire Republican ticket of county candidates came thru with a good margin, while Townsend and Kelley representatives from this district in the Senate and House, respectively, were returned.

Late returns indicate that Wilson has won the fight for presidency.

EDISON COMPANY MAKES PRESENT

GIVES OVER TO VILLAGE THE POWER DAM AND LAND ON MILL STREET.

POWER PUMPING OUTFIT TO BE INSTALLED AT SADDLER SPRINGS.

Through the efforts of President Filkins the Edison company has presented to the village, through the council, the power dam and land adjacent thereto. Mr. Filkins had this in mind when the vote was asked on the immediate sale of the electric lighting plant and after consulting with Vice-President Marshall this was finally agreed to.

While the property was of no particular value to the Edison people, it is of much consequence to the village and President Filkins is entitled to much credit in putting the deal through.

This will make clear sailing now for the use by the village of the Saddle springs for additional water supply for the reservoir as well as a valuable place to put in a septic tank for sewerage.

The council has also ordered the Water committee to put in a power pumping system at the springs on the U. S. fishery road to connect with the water mains and the plant and connections will be completed in ample time for next year's use.

It is figured that the sewerage septic tank for the school building can be put in below the dam or that the village can put in a big one at that point in case a sewer system is later put in all over the village.

It was very generous of the Edison company to turn over the dam property in this manner and the feeling of good spirit between the company and the village is thus further cemented. Mr. Filkins and the council are also to be congratulated for the stroke of enterprise on their part.

BAND CONCERT GREAT SUCCESS.

A capacity house greeted the Northville City Band when they gave their delightful concert in the Alseum theatre, Wednesday evening. The selections and marches played showed that under Prof. McArthur's able direction the boys are able to play anything. The movie show "Monte Carlo" in five reels completed a well chosen program. Music for the pictures was furnished by Montgomery's orchestra.

KIDNAP PRETTY GIRL FOR SHIP'S MASCOT

But It Wasn't the Maid's Own Sweet Self—Just Her Portrait—Sailors' Custom.

Seattle, Wash.—Kidnaped in spirit and present only in the form of a newspaper print of her photograph, Miss Frances Mae Braid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Braid of Seattle, braved the dangers of the northern seas last summer, comforted fishermen in their dreary daily drudge and like the good fair, drew hundreds of foundering lug salmons into the nets of the waiting boatmen.

So was the startled miss informed this week in a letter from Tvee, Alaska. Written in a neat, legible hand in poor English and signed "Big Swede" the epistle unfolded to the Seattle girl her wonderful feats of the summer.

Each year, the unmounted acquaintance told Miss Braid's husband of Alaska cut the picture of some pretty girl from the latest edition of the Seattle paper, before sailing and Tvee post it in a conspicuous place in the cabin. This year it became the mascot, the guardian angel as it were, of the vessel. When a big catch is landed the pretty mascot is fairly worshiped by the gruff, hardened mariners of the "big North." When the catch is small they know they have displeased her and take many steps to make amends. But night and day during the trip she is the inspiration, the spiritual guide of their actions.

This year the honor fell to Miss Braid. A picture of this pretty Seattle girl was inserted in the paper in honor of her 16th birthday. A copy of the paper reached the hands of the Alaska fishermen and immediately Miss Braid was "kidnaped"—by printed proxy—and ceremoniously installed as queen of the catch.

With the young woman's permission the letter from "Big Swede" is published.

"I am very sorry today because you have left my boat and me. The weather here is getting too cold for you here and you are better off in Seattle. We Alaska boys every summer get a picture of some pretty Seattle girl from a paper and take it along with us. And this year you were the girl. And good luck to you. The best catch I got was a cod, three salmon and a spoon hook. I got some of them fish from five to ten pounds and you can see me real big fish. You were a little sick at the time, and so you were not able to help me pull the fish aboard. But now you were all right again and I guess you would be a good sailor after a while.

"This is a little joke of course, and you will please take it as such. If you would like to have some nice big seabird eggs I found this summer I will send them to you. Best regards from Alaska and me."

LAME BOY WILL HAVE HIS OWN ELEVATOR IN SCHOOL

Father Installs Lift So That Child Can Enter Grade on the Second Floor.

Spokane, Wash.—Donald Buchanan whose legs practically are paralyzed as the result of infantile paralysis five years ago, is about to re-enter school.

He has been a pupil at the Bancroft School four years and members of his family have wheeled him to school and home again. Recently, with the aid of crutches and braces, he has been able to walk home, slowly and laboriously each afternoon. Despite his handicap, the little chap has been able to make his grades and has been promoted to the fifth grade.

Through his trouble began. All grades above the fourth are on the second floor at the Bancroft School and Donald is unable to climb stairs and is too feeble to be carried conveniently. His father, James T. Buchanan, offered to install a small elevator in the building at his own expense, and the School Board consented.

The elevator will not be public. It will be 30x36 inches, with a carrying power of 50 pounds. Mrs. Buchanan and E. Clyde Miller, principal of the school, will have the only keys.

Because wife used the stove for making strange brews to keep off witches, instead of preparing the dinner Reading, Pa., man got a divorce.

SCIENCE AIDS COUNTERFEITER

HAND ENGRAVER SUPPLANTED BY PHOTOGRAPHY

Modern Process, Quicker and More Deceptive Than Old Way of Making Plates.

Counterfeiting has undergone a revolution in the last few years, says the veteran detective.

"In the old days all fine counterfeiters had to be engravers by hand," he explains. "If a man was found willing to undertake such a job he had to be an artist of the highest order. To finish properly any plate of value for counterfeiting required from ten to fifteen months. Modern methods of photomechanical printing from photographically prepared plates has made the work of the secret service harder than ever before. Where before it required months to complete a set of perfect plates now a creditable set can be turned out within a few hours. The notes, too, are better and more dangerous than the finest hand engraved note possibly could be, it matters not how skillful the workman may have been."

"Sometimes it requires the picking out of the silk threads from a bill and their comparison, both as to length and thickness, with threads from a genuine bill to establish the fact that a note is really a counterfeit," he continued. "If experts are compelled to go to this trouble to detect a spurious note it stands to reason that it is usually impossible for the general public to do so."

"Counterfeit bills as a rule are never seen and almost invariably they have been passed or aged on a plank especially prepared for that purpose. That, of course, makes them all the harder to detect. Counterfeiters also figure on the fact that people rarely are not familiar with the characteristics of genuine money and therefore endeavor to make an intelligent comparison between the two."

Under all circumstances, but the counterfeit bill is perfect and shows no trace of being a counterfeit. It is perfect and shows no trace of being a counterfeit. It is perfect and shows no trace of being a counterfeit.

Let a really dangerous bill appear and no means are spared to run it down to the source. Once the maker is found it seldom is a difficult task to find the reserve stock awaiting a favorable time to pass it. That is why it is exceptional for a really good counterfeit to be passed in considerable quantities.

Secret service detectives generally succeed in tracing up a photo-mechanical plate with a graver. As a matter of self protection every body should acquaint himself with the features of genuine money by leisurely examination of bank notes and thus make himself competent to pass upon the average bill with reasonable accuracy.

are not much afraid of counterfeiters, the veterans say. Usually they are not of high mental caliber, do not resist strongly when placed under arrest and if caught working together generally are eager to turn against one another. Makers of spurious coins, who seldom are to be found nowadays, are held in genuine contempt by the men who are ferreting them out. Usually they are of a low stratum of cunningness than the makers of bank notes, are unreasoning and harder to subdue, but easy to run down.

BIRD'S PROFANITY SHOCKS

Parrot Must Stop Swearing, Police Tells Owner.

Reading, Pa.—Police officials have served notice on Mrs. Harry Jefferies, owner of a Mexican parrot, that the bird must stop swearing at passers-by. The owner of the parrot denies it uses swear words and a controversy has resulted.

The woman hangs the parrot in the front yard of her home next to the Young Women's Christian Association, and, according to complainants, its conversation knows no limits.

"How the hell are you?" the bird is alleged to ask folks passing. "Hot as hell, ain't it?" is another query credited to it.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 5, 1916.

Lesson Title: "Shipwrecked on Melita."

Lesson Text: Acts 27:38-28:10
Memorize vs. 42-44.

Golden Text: "Jehovah redeemeth the soul of his servants and none of them that take refuge in him shall be condemned." Ps. 124:22

I. Historical Accuracy.

Palestine has been called the "Fifth Gospel," because it fits so perfectly all the allusions in the Bible. The reader of the Bible is impressed with its full and frequent geographical references. The traveler in the Holy Land is impressed by the way the land and the Book fit into and explain one another. It is so with all the Bible countries. The book of Acts is full of historical and geographical allusions which could easily be disproved if they were untrue. The description of the shipwreck in Acts 27 is an instance of the accuracy of the Record. When at Malta some years ago I was impressed with the probabilities of locating exactly the place "where two seas met," v. 41. Ramsey, the historian, says: "One of the competent services that has ever been rendered to the New Testament scholarship is James Smith's proof that all these circumstances," (as recorded in Acts), "are united in St. Paul's Bay." Having been at St. Paul's Bay, having read the account in Acts, and having studied the proofs I am prepared to say that an unbiased opinion seems to me to favor the Record. This fact carries with it another, viz., the probability of the accuracy of the whole record. Only the ignorant man, or the man unfriendly to the Bible, makes slighting remarks about its accuracy.

II. Emergencies.

Emergencies reveal the stuff that is in a man or woman. They also help to temper and discipline that stuff. Danger may reveal both physical and moral deficiencies. The latter of course, being by far the most serious. It is a man's duty to be prepared for moral emergencies. If he fails at this point, he fails everywhere. In time of danger all men are on an equality. False distinctions of rank or wealth can never stand in the presence of a great disaster. When the Lusitania went down, it made little difference to the crowd on her decks whether one was a millionaire or a deckhand. Each faced death, death coming swiftly and unexpectedly. The soul of each man and woman was thrown back upon that soul's deepest and most fundamental philosophy of life and hope for the future. Death is no respecter of persons. The shipwreck revealed the fineness in barbaric hearts. Their hospitality was crude but genuine. "One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." Hospitality to those who suffer is the world's need today. Shipwrecked mariners are not the only ones in need of hospitality today. What hospitality are you showing in your home and in your church to the homeless, the heartless, the helpless?

THEIR VISIT TO U-53 STIRS SOCIETY

The social neutrality of which the national capital has boasted is tottering because of these two charming girls who are prominent in the social circles of Washington and Newport. The offense committed by the two young women was nothing more nor less than their visit to the U-53, when the German submarine docked at Newport for a breathing spell.

III. God's Care.

In accordance with the message which came to Paul the entire ship's company was saved. God's care was over the life of the great Apostle and included many others as well. When do men and women deserve God's care? What evidences of God's care have come to you? What increase in gratitude in service have followed? We go back with satisfaction to the statement of the Psalmist (134:22): "Jehovah redeemeth the soul of his servants and none of them that take refuge in him shall be condemned." Our lives take on new meaning, larger value in the light of God's care. We cannot spend foolishly, surely, what God cares for so tenderly. Our love is stirred to ward the One who gives us such wonderful protection and help! We sing:

"I know not where his islands lift
Their fringed palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care."

Snake Travels 5000 Miles.
Tacoma, Wash.—A well-behaved, beautifully colored, five-foot-Porto Rican snake, species unknown, who had smuggled his way some 5000 miles in a bunch of bananas from his tropic home, arrived in Tacoma.

PRINCESS OF BELGIUM EXILED BY WAR

PRINCESS MARIE JOSE OF BELGIUM

Princess Marie Jose of Belgium is the daughter of King Albert, who has been in the field with his troops since the beginning of the war. She has been separated from her father and mother and exiled in England since the occupation of Brussels by the Germans, while her father, at the head of his army, has been holding the little strip of Belgium near the sea coast, which is all that remains to him of his kingdom.

Winter Fashions for Women

STYLES IN SUITS

Straight line effects are good in both skirts and coats. Skirts are of moderate width, something like three to three and a half yards, with the less expensive merchandise a trifle narrower. Many are gathered on at the waistline, others show the introduction of plaits. Some of the more elaborate styles have the long tunic or the skirt is considerably plumed. The tendency, however, is towards the more simple effects.

SEPARATE SKIRTS

Separate skirts are shown in plaid and gathered and full effects. The plaid and gathered ones. Many of the skirts have embroidery on the belt and pockets and some have it on the hem. This is sometimes in several colors though generally it is in purple, tan gray, white or a blue. Some of the velvet skirts show beading on the belt and pockets. Fur-trimmed skirts are also seen. Also silk skirts with velvet bands.

WAISTS

White, flesh and pink waists are still very popular. Also there is a fair demand for yellow waists. But colors to match the suits are those which are generally accepted. These are mostly made with some bright trimming touch in the way of silk embroidery or colored bead ornamentation. Blue, brown, burgundy, taupe and green are the colors favored in suit waists.

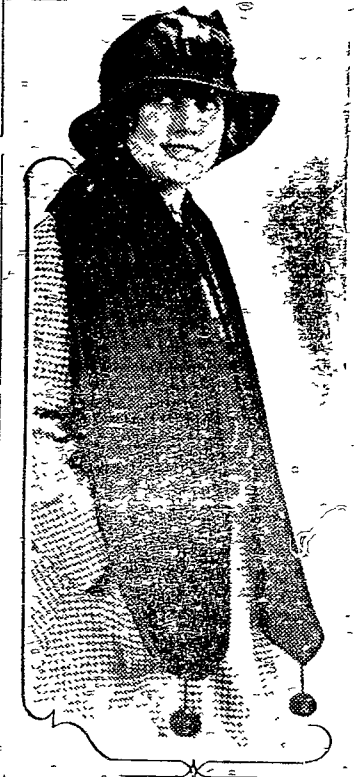

THE USE OF SASHES

Sashes make one appear so young that it is a positive pleasure to wear them. They should, however, be worn only by women with slender, girlish figures and a reasonable amount of youth. For women to whom they are suited there is nothing more charming and graceful than a long soft hanging ribbon of dainty colors.

The new sashes are anything but simple yards and yards of the handsomest ribbons are required and most of them fall from the rather high girle when is draped over a carefully fitted and boned foundation. Baby ribbons are used for making fringes and tassels. When water-repelling to be used as coats. They can be colored in any color of the rainbow and are used in making the following sashes: Pinks, violets and arisa pleurams.

NEW STOLL FOR FALL IS CLEVER

A fall stoll of black velvet. Simply is the charm of this new fall stoll. It is made of black velvet and is so warm and thick as to ensure comfort in the coldest weather. The velvet hat, trimmed with a black silk ribbon, looks well with the outfit.

ANTS WIPE OUT BEE ARMIES

Allied Honeymakers Annihilated in Own Trenches.

Oakland, Cal.—Dr. J. H. Callen, who had two hives of bees, much alive, on his Fruitvale avenue property is now occupied in cleaning out two hives of dead bees, victims of an unsuccessful Verdun defense against a horde of marauding ants.

The veteran says that the ants attacked in a second invasion, carrying the bees into second and third line of trenches and then at last the entrances to the hives.

The little Thermopiles was defended by a few valiant bees, but they never had a chance. When the trenches were choked, the ants sat down and let the rest of the garrison starve.

The object of the battle is still unknown. The victorious ants just went home after it was over.

COAT OF BROWN BROADCLOTH

Long graceful lines in coats is the vogue in the fashion world. This coat is one of the new models, emphasizing the long-line cut of the winter wraps. It is made of brown broadcloth and the collar and cuffs are of seal skin. Another feature of the new design is the buttons which are larger than have been worn lately.

RECORDS ROAD WEAR AND TEAR

Machine Transmits All Variations to Roll of Paper.

A machine has been devised in the Georgia School of Technology by means of which the wear and tear of roads may be accurately measured. A recording mechanism with a toothed wheel is held in contact with the road surface. The wheel of the machine rises and falls as it passes over irregularities in the road surface. These variations are transmitted by the finger of the machine, drawn upon a continuous roll of paper by the pencil attached to the machine. The apparatus is light enough to be drawn over the road by the man making the test. If it is used at intervals over the roads of a given area the changes due to the wear and tear of the surface can be accurately determined.

A Quick Response.

"Speaking of the helpful spirit, it is much in evidence in a dry town," remarked a traveler.

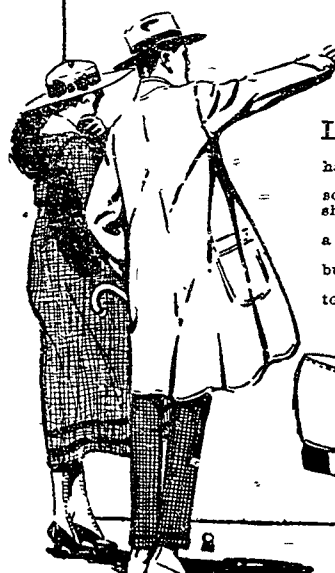

You surprise me. Yes, on one occasion while visiting a town of that sort I requested the loan of a cockle shell. Nine prominent towns who were lounging in the hotel lobby at the time hastened to oblige me, and every blessed one of them asked me as a personal favor to let him draw the cockle.

The Northville Record.

Published by
NEAL PRINTING CO.
F. S. NEAL, Owner.
J. W. PERKINS, Manager.

An Independent Newspaper published every Friday morning by the Neal Printing Co., at Northville, Michigan, and entered at the Northville Post-Office as Second-Class matter.

NORTHVILLE, MICH., NOV. 10, 1916.

President Filkins and the village council deserves high commendation for their good management and foresight in securing for the village the advantage of again owning the water power property on Mill street and the Edison company has added much to the esteem already won for it by the conduct of its representatives here. The deal reflects the greatest credit on all concerned, and the people are outspoken in their approval.

When you are inclined to be superstitious in regard to that number, 13, just remind yourself that it was a pretty lucky number when the Declaration started this country of ours on its independent career with that number of states, then cast your eyes on the flag for further reassurance. Old Glory has managed to worry along pretty creditably for a hundred and forty years under the handicap of thirteen stripes.

Now that the evangelistic meetings in Detroit are over, the pastors of the Northville churches are hoping—we assume—that the local congregations will be larger. Not however, because so many Northville people were among the converts but because so many good church members have been going to hear Sunday Sundays.

Remember when "Dean bag" was a popular game at the social gatherings of just common folks? No doubt it will now be reinstated as a pastime for those of the multi-millionaire class who are always looking for something new in the way of expensive amusement.

A Washington despatch advocates the using of more potatoes in the making of bread, presumably in the interest of economy. Must be that the potato situation down there is much different from that in Michigan.

Painless extraction of teeth performed by Earl—Carleton Times. Still another deep dark mystery of hidden identity. (Not a "painful mystery" however Earl would no doubt assert.)

An advertiser in the Holly Advertiser requests Ford owners to call at a local tailor shop for car accessories. Seems like a queer business combination but no doubt it means suiting in both lines.

C Car was arrested in Pontiac the other day for drunkenness. Probably his excuse would be that he was driven to it.

Farmington Flashes.

Bernice, the six-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Walters, escaped death by a very small margin Saturday when she was knocked down and run over by a Dr. Brown of Detroit. The little girl was playing, and frightened by the teasing of some boys, ran directly in front of the machine which she did not see approaching. The driver saw her in time to check his speed, but did not succeed in stopping until the little one was under the wheels. Although the car had to be raised to release her, no bones were broken and while badly bruised the child is on the way to a satisfactory recovery.

The Car that Stands Still Costs Everybody Money

TO SHIPPERS ON THE PERE MARQUETTE RAILROAD.

We are doing everything possible to relieve the car shortage. We need your co-operation, in fact, we must have it if we are to be successful in our efforts.

There are too many cars on Pere Marquette teamtracks. Many of these cars are now being used as warehouses. Possibly some of you are figuring that the payment of demurrage justifies this. Such, however, is not the fact. We would far rather have the car than the demurrage so that we can get cars to move your neighbor's freight and possibly your own freight when you put in your next order.

One of the principal causes of the coal shortage is the shortage of cars due to the inability of carriers to keep cars moving.

Please do not under any circumstances keep a car under load, or hold it for loading, a single day longer than is imperatively necessary.

Only prompt action on your part will enable us to supply you with cars when you want them.

For Complete Reliance.

Do you know how—
To find relief from backache;
To correct distressing urinary ills;
To assist weak kidneys?
Your neighbors know the way—
Have used Doan's Kidney Pills;
Have proved their worth in many tests.

Here's Northville testimony.
F. F. Benson, machinist, 124 Center street, Northville, says: "I can conscientiously recommend Doan's
Kidney Pills as a medicine of merit.
About twice a year, I take a few boxes of this medicine which keeps my kidneys in good shape. For rheumatic pains, I find Doan's Kidney Pills very beneficial, for they remove the uric acid from my body."

Storing Your Car in Winter

Have you thought anything about the care of your car this winter?
If you have a nicely heated garage of your own, this will not interest you. If not, consider the risk as well as the inconvenience of having your car in a place that is not provided with heat. The damage to paint and tires, the effect of extreme cold, dampness and changing temperature, the expansion and contraction of metal, the hardening of oil in the transmission and differentials, is considerable. It's a very expensive way to house a car.

We can take care of you, at much less cost, in our evily-heated, fire proof building, where your car will be always ready for you at a few minute's notice. Now is a good time to settle their question while there is still some space available. Come and see us.

YOUR DENTIST advises you to have your teeth looked over once or twice a year to make sure they're all right. He's right. And we advise the same thing as to your car. Now, as the end of the summer, is the best time. Bring the car in and let us look it over.

FARMER'S GIRL HAS A PERFECT FIGURE

Mrs. Samuel Taylor Dorset.

Mrs. Samuel Taylor Dorset, the daughter of a North Carolina farmer, is the perfect model for a number of Junoesque figures that have brought fame to the sculptors who created them. They are used to adorn the new house of representatives' pediment. Her figure was declared by Paul Bartlett, sculptor, to be scarcely less than perfect.

BRIDEGROOM IN WIDOW'S 'AD' VENTURE DISAPPEARS

Ohio Woman Says She Gave Colorado Man Several Hundred Dollars Before He Left

Columbus, O.—Mrs. Charles J. Richards, who before her marriage two months ago was Mrs. Charles Smith, a well-to-do widow of this city, has an idea that her husband is in New York City, but is without information as to his address there. She has not seen him since they went to the train to proceed to Chicago on their wedding trip.

It was a matrimonial adventure Richards, who lived in Colorado, advertised himself so forcefully that the widow Smith was impressed and answered. Then there was correspondence for several weeks and finally Cleveland was named as their meeting place. Each was seemingly satisfied and they came on to this city and were married.

The bride gave her husband several hundred dollars, she says, obtained through the sale of some of her property. When they had purchased tickets she stood on the observation platform where the group of friends gathered to congratulate both of them. They wanted the bridegroom to appear for his share of the good wishes and were told by the bride that he was in the car. In they crowded to pull him out to the platform. He had disappeared. The bride says that occasionally a letter comes from him, but with no more definite information as to his whereabouts than New York City.

JABS BEAST WITH PITCHFORK

Zoo Attendant Attacked by Big Bull Buffalo.

Wichita, Kans.—E. M. Svans, a Riverside Park zoo attendant, was forced to run the tines of a pitchfork into Teddy, the big bull buffalo, when it charged him. The animal threatened his life.

The pain stopped the bull, but made him so ferocious he wouldn't let any keeper get close enough to withdraw the fork. From a treetop he was lassoed and the tines taken out after an hour.

"SCARECROW" WAS DEAD MAN

"Realism" of Man Hanging From Tree Is Solved.

Fond Du Lac, Wis.—Neighbors of Albert Engel commented on the realistic scarecrow he had erected in his cornfield, but when they called to ask him about it he was not at home. His family said he had not been there for a couple of days.

Wednesday morning Peter Raul stopped to inspect the scarecrow and found it was the body of the farmer himself. He must have been hanging in the tree at least a day and a night, and a score of neighbors and auto mobile parties had passed without realizing the fact. Engel had hanged himself, without taking his hat off and the wide firm concealed his features.

LATE SUBMARINE ONE MAN CRAFT

MAY REVOLUTIONIZE UNDERSEA WARFARE

Tests of Californian's Invention Are Made in Italy and Prove Successful.

Thru the invention of a new type, one-man submarine, the first full-sized and fully-equipped craft of which was completed a few weeks ago, Milton J. Trumble, president of a refining company, of Los Angeles, who perfected an oil-refining process that brought him a fortune, expects to revolutionize warfare at sea to such an extent that the power of the present dreadnaught will be greatly minimized.

While the strictest secrecy has been maintained regarding the building of the new underwater vessel, it was learned that the craft recently was launched at Naples and that, so far as preliminary tests are concerned, it comes up to all the hopes of its builder. The principal features of the craft is that it is distinctly a one-man boat. It is so constructed that there is not an inch of unnecessary space. The operator of the craft easily may control every desired movement of the submarine.

The craft, while capable of being submerged by displacement, ordinarily is submerged by means of a three-blade propeller connected with its keel.

In the event of an accident crippling the motive power of the craft, an automatic arrangement sends the boat to the surface of the sea, thereby giving its operator a chance to escape.

Always the vessel is submerged, except for its conning tower, the upper portion of which is only twelve inches above the surface of the water.

Equipped with an especially designed 110-horse power motor the submarine, it is said, is capable of a speed of thirty-five knots an hour or greater. This speed applies to undersea navigation, owing to the fact no part of the vessel's hull is ever out of water.

GRASSHOPPER AS FOOD;
GOOD, SAYS EDUCATOR

Ohio Species Have Fine, Nutty Flavor If Roasted and Eaten Like Sandwich.

"Most excellent." That's what Chester Bliss, Jr. of Sandusky, Ohio, says about grasshopper sandwiches, and Bliss ought to know—because he ate one, says the Cleveland Press.

"Grasshoppers may yet help solve the high cost of living," says Bliss. Bliss, who is assistant curator of the high school museum, was on a zoological trip with Louis Pusck and Harold Stueze, high school students.

"When dinner time came we were near a field in which grasshoppers were plentiful," said Bliss.

"I suggested we make them into sandwiches. We ate them and found them fine. Each grasshopper was roasted until he turned red like a lobster. They have a fine, nutty flavor. If we could get some well-known man or woman to try grasshoppers, every one would soon be eating them. They could be caught in large numbers. The farmers would be benefited and the people would have a means to get cheap food."

"I intend to eat many another grasshopper sandwich," Bliss declared to the Sandusky correspondent.

SUES A TELEPHONE COMPANY

Alabama Says She Heard "Huby" Ask Over "Safe" Line About Divorced Wife's Health.

Birmingham, Ala.—P. W. Alston, mechanical engineer, connected with an iron-making enterprise of this district, and who is about 40 and divorced from his first wife, was talking over the telephone with their daughter, about 17 years old. He was inquiring about the health of his divorced wife, when his present wife, young and high-spirited, got in on the wire. What she heard made her angry and she left Alston. Now he has sued the telephone company for $10,000 damages for alienation of the wife's affections.

He avers that the company advertised its lines as being "perfectly safe" and charges it with negligence. He quotes from the directory advertisement:

"If the neighbors should overhear, just think what it might mean! But they can't because it's an individual line service, a line all your own; perfectly safe from other folks' curiosity. Just the kind for secrets and it costs only a few cents a week more than party line service. Isn't it worth that to be free from outsiders' ears?"

RATTLESNAKE IS SUGAR THIEF

Puts Woman to Flight, Then Devours Sweet Stuff.

Baker, Ore.—An impolite rattlesnake almost spoiled the dainty cake Mrs. W. J. Williams of Homestead, was making. The snake took some sugar out of a jar as Mrs. Williams reached for it. Mrs. Williams almost upset the cake when she saw the rattler, and then started double-quick to find some one to kill it. When she returned with aid the snake had eaten all the sugar and left.

N. C. Shrader, L. L. West, Ed Lockwood and G. W. Hills left Tuesday night in company with several Detroit men for their annual northern hunting trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smitherman who went to Gaines last week to attend the funeral of Mr. Smitherman's step-mother, will soon close their home here and go there for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Thornton left this week for Monroe, La., where they will spend a part of the winter. "Roe" delayed starting until after election so as to vote "dry" and incidentally keeping his record of never having failed to vote since he became of age.

The Kindergarten children are enjoying this beautiful weather, since it gives them the opportunity of spending much of their time out of doors. Especially Tuesday, when they all joined in the "Dry" campaign and marched through the Main streets, carrying flags, "Dry" pennants and a large banner bearing the words, "Vote-Yes" and giving the following yell, "Zippi, zippi, zippi, zippi ziss boom, bah! I can't vote, neither can 'Ma,' If Michigan goes 'Wet,' Blame it on 'Pa.'" The children were very much delighted to report Wednesday morning that Michigan was "Dry" and that "Dad" helped to make it so.

The Automatic base ball court in the old opera house building has been remodeled and opened to the public. An automatic throwing disc pitches the ball to the batter, who knocks it into a canvas field or background. It is not only great sport, but good physical exercise. Any number of players can play, or choose sides like any old ball game. Go and try your batting eye.
