NORTHVILLE TO HAVE ANOTHER BIG FAIR

NEW BOARD DIRECTORS ELECTED AND OFFICERS SELECTED FOR 1919.

DATES FIXED FOR SEPTEMBER 24, 25, 26, 27; JAMES HUFF TO BE NEW MANAGER.

At the stockholders' meeting of the Northville Driving club held Friday night, June 20, the following directors were chosen for the ensuing year and for the purpose of managing the Northville Wayne County Fair: Jas. A. Huff, C. H. Young, S. Montgomery, E. M. Starkweather, M. R. Seeley, A. C. Belden, N. C. Schrader, F. S. Neal, M. H. Sloan, W. J. Lanning, G. E. Richardson, T. E. Murdoch, F. J. Cochran, H. B. Clark, M. N. Johnson. Mr. Cochran resigned and Frank Hills was elected in his place.

Last Tuesday night Mr. Huff gave a very delightful 6 o'clock dinner at the Amber hotel for the new board of directors and old officers at which time the following officers were elected: Jas. Huff, president and manager; T. E. Murdoch, vice-president; F. S. Neal, secretary; A. C. Belden, treasurer. A vote of appreciation was tendered to Mr. Ponsford, Mr. Richardson and others for the especially valuable work they did last year and to Mr. Huff for his hospitality on the occasion.

The names of all the superintendents and committees will be announced next week and in the meantime manager Huff says that everyone will have something to do.

It was voted to hold the fair four days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 24-27. The last date will be made a special one for Detroit and other people, who will be able to attend on that day and who because of work or business cannot get away at the other times.

GOLDEN WEDDING SUNDAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Barley celebrated the completion of a half-century of wedded life Sunday at their home on North Center street, assisted by their children, grandchildren, and other friends. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Barley and their son and daughter, Howard and Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lawson and little son, Robert, Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Murdoch and daughter, Dorothy, William Blashill and Thos. Harker, Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barley and son, Arthur, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank U. Fry of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. Frank Fry, Joseph Hetley and Rev. W. C. Francis and Mrs. Francis of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Barley are numbered among Northville's most highly esteemed people and the best of good wishes are extended them for many future years of comfort and happiness.

The only break in the family circle during the entire fifty years of the wedded life of Mr. and Mrs. Barley was the death of their young grandson last year, while in the U. S. army service.

MRS. JOSEPH MILLER.

After an illness of several months, Mrs. Minnie Minchert Miller, wife of Joseph Miller, passed away Monday at the farm-home northwest of this village. Mrs. Miller had lived in this vicinity since infancy and held the respect and friendship of all who knew her. She became the wife of Joseph Miller of this place 30 years ago. They were the parents of six children, Charles, now of Redford, Edith, Donald, Viola, Flora and Helen, all of whom are left to mourn, with their father, the loss of a faithful and devoted wife and mother. Mrs. Miller also leaves two brothers and two sisters, all residents of this section of country.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. W. C. Francis, were held from the home Thursday afternoon, with interment in Rural Hill.

Mrs. Miller was a valued member of the local Lady Macabees and of the Woman's Relief Corps.

GERMAN'S BALL TEAM EXHIBITED SATURDAY

The Northville Independent base ball team guided by Harry German in its opening game here last Saturday, was a very interesting affair altho the score 6 to 1 does not indicate as much. Northville with German and Van-

Buren for the battery kept the visitors guessing at all times and with Burgess, Hantz, Moffat, Mulreed and the three Stimpson boys the home team looked like a real one.

The visitors have been playing ball all the season and the Oakland Motor Co. of Pontiac have a right to be proud of their team, which is considered one of the strongest in the state. Campbell and Burgess were the battery for Pontiac and the catcher, Rogers, was with the St. Louis club of the American league a few years ago.

In the first inning and also the seventh Northville had three men on bases and a little hit would have added more runs and might have been a turning point in the game. It did not happen, however, and the visitors were on the defensive all the way through.

The attendance was fair but not what it should have been for such quality of base ball, and if Northville and vicinity want high-class games the fans would better begin to attend before manager Harry German gets discouraged and Northville be without a representing team.

Today, Friday, the Holly club will be down in full force and the Northville Independents will take them on at the ball park at 3:30. This will give the business men an opportunity to witness a game as Saturday is a bad day for business men or clerks to get away.

The home club plays at Plymouth on July 4th, then Northville will have a game generally each week at home, provided the attendance will warrant the expense of the visiting team. Results of last Saturday's game:

DETROIT NORMAL SCHOOL.

The Detroit Normal school is now offering unusual opportunities to present and past Wayne county high school graduates, who may wish to qualify themselves for teaching. Advantageous arrangements have been planned both for those who wish to teach in the rural schools and for those who would like to prepare for city teaching positions. Assistant County Commissioner of Schools Fred Fisher and Principal John F. Thomas of the Detroit Normal recently advised the graduating class of your high school on this matter.

A County Institute will be conducted for those who wish to meet certification requirements and for those who wish to make additional preparation for their work. Full credit will be given in all these courses. The dates are June 30 to August 3, and the hours are from 9 to 12. There are no fees to Wayne County teachers or students and no entrance requirements.

FOURTH OF JULY AT LAKE ORION.

The greatest celebration in the history of Lake Orion is promised this year, and will cover a period of four days starting Thursday, July third. Dancing with many other amusements are scheduled for this day as well as a splendid display of fireworks at night. On the Fourth Capt. Bloodell gives two exhibitions of the Tuscania disaster and the destruction of the ship Wm. P. Frye, with gorgeous fireworks displays. Many features are promised for the fifth and sixth as well.

FAIR NOTES.

To the great satisfaction of the management, Mrs. Kittie Harmon has consented to take charge again this year of the Women's department, which she has so successfully conducted at the two previous Northville fairs, with the help of the able assistants, with whom she surrounded herself. This department has compared favorably with even the state fair's similar section, and inducements will be offered to exhibitors that should bring a still better showing next fall.

Nelt Schrader is to have charge of the concessions and amusements and with his capable staff of helpers will assure something of unusual interest along that line.

James Huff has consented to accept the presidency of the Driving club and management of the Fair association. Jim is a hustler and is chock full of ideas. He will make this year's fair the banner one of its existence.

Cleaning Jewelry.

Make a paste of common soda and gasoline. Rub with a soft brush or cloth, after which rinse in warm water and polish.

NORTHVILLE'S FIRST SCHOOL BUILDING.

The Northville Woman's Club, through the efforts of the club's Historical committee, has presented to the High school and to the Ladies' Library, respectively, a handsomely framed picture of the historic old stone school house, the first school building within the village limits of Northville built in 1833, on the east side of what is now Hutton Ave. It is greatly to be regretted that the structure itself could not have been preserved by the village as a valuable relic of pioneer times, but as this was not thought of until too late, the picture will serve to show to present and future generations the contrast between the educational facilities of their own times and the early days. As the building was torn down only a few years ago its appearance is still familiar to many. The picture was photographed by L. L. Ball from a print taken from a cut used by the Record some years ago, and are surprisingly good work when the very unpromising foundation material is considered.

SPECIAL FAIR PREMIUM.

The Chasien Farm will give a register Fall Gilt, or $50 to the Boys' and Girls' Pig club for the best Duroc pig shown at the Northville Fair in 1919 exhibit to be from a registered sire. Entries must be made by July 1st and a record of feeding must be shown.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The Northville fans did not just like the way that Mr. Cravat of Pontiac umpired part of the game and Nelson Schader candidly told him what he thought. And Nels was right.

The visitors made two double plays during the game and that is the kind of ball people like to see no matter what wins.

Burgess playing first for Northville made a very fine play when he ran back and caught a foul with one hand that appeared impossible to get.

Rogers, the old leaguer of the visitors was unable to connect satisfactorily with the home pitcher's curves. Ex-President Charles Coldren, was in the game, just as enthusiastic as when he used to catch for Salein, dressed the graduating class of your high school on this matter.

Fred Hantz, played right field for Northville. He and Harry German are a battery on the same ball field at Northville some twenty odd years ago.

Remember that today, Friday, the Holly team will be here for a game.

STANBRO—BARBER.

The marriage of Miss Grace Barber Northville to Mr. Earl Stanbro of Michigan took place Saturday, June 21, at the home of Rev. F. M. Egel at 12 o'clock noon, with Rev. Deer of Royal Oak and English of Ann Arbor as attendants. After the ceremony the party returned to Northville, where the wedding dinner was served by company of relatives and friends.

The bride's gown was pink tulle over pink silk, and the bridesmaids wore in pink and white, roses as the prevailing flower. Useful gifts were received by the couple, who will live in Northville for the summer, after a few days stay at Long Lake.

American Common Sense Will Recognize Soon the Value of Thrift Stamps
 BY THE WIFE OF THE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE

Lessons have crowded thick and fast on Americans in the last five years. We have all learned something, some a great deal, others only a little, but the lessons which touched the highest and the lowest were the increased cost of commodities and the consequently diminished purchasing power of the dollar.
 In this fortunate land of ours we have thought that food, like air, was a natural possession; we awake to find half the world starving and to realize the necessity of careful buying on our part for years to come. We have spent money more freely than any nation on earth; we find now that a dollar is made up of a hundred cents, and that only by saving them can we save the dollar.
 To meet these conditions, to inoculate the habit of thrift necessary in the changing conditions of life, and to educate its citizens, the government has inaugurated the use of Thrift and War Savings stamps. They are a new thing in American life, but with our strong native common sense we shall soon recognize their value.
 I find in my own case that the Thrift stamps are particularly useful for my children. Their pocket money is divided into three parts: one, a very small one, for immediate expenditure, one to go toward the Christmas present to their adopted French orphan sister, and one for investment in Thrift stamps. For the little children the joy of purchasing the stamp and fixing it in place on its card is sufficient inducement. The older ones must sometimes be persuaded to sacrifice an immediate pleasure for a future need, but the conversion into War Savings stamps and the promised increase finally satisfy them.
 My little girl is saving toward a bicycle—not a high patriotic motive, but very appealing at seven. Indeed, War Savings stamps make excellent presents for very small children, to whom the stamp is quite as lovely as a gold piece, and will yield excellent returns when they are old enough to spend it.
 Of course War Savings stamps are a splendid investment for all people who can put aside only small sums. Their high rate of interest and ease of conversion make them a good investment. Everyone who buys a stamp becomes a shareholder in the government and is educated and interested to that degree. We should make a personal effort to see that buying is universal, if only for the reason that bolshevism cannot thrive among those who have a stake in the government.
 Let us show our appreciation of an opportunity for safe investment bringing good returns and aiding in the support of the government and the establishment of thrift.

"One Common Slough of Despondency for the Purpose of Experiment"
 By W. G. LEE, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has no part or sympathy in any of the plans that pretend the hope of the world is only to be found in its destruction. The organization is 100 per cent American. It does not subscribe to any theory that proposes to throw everybody into one common slough of despondency for the purpose of experimenting in the hope that out of this general mental and physical misery an average may come that will bring about a general better condition of affairs for a majority of the people.
 We stand for no such doctrine of destruction and ruin; we believe in the government, and stand as 100 per cent Americans ready to defend our principles and our faith.
 As proof of the brotherhood's loyalty and Americanism 16,000 members of the organization took their places willingly in the ranks, and almost two-hundred are "sleeping in France."
 The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has neither part nor purpose in any scheme that proposes to destroy this government or take from any citizen either privilege or property that properly belongs to him; we have no sympathy with any plan that finds its basic purpose in the destruction of government or the organized forms of law and order; we do not subscribe to any propaganda that proposes a policy of destruction to find in a common basis of misery its expected hopes for reconstruction.

Make Schoolboy's Soul a Temple and No Fanatic Can Change It To a Sewer
 By WILLIAM HEYLIGER, Writer of Boys' Books

Today, for the first time in the history of the world, victorious nations seek to create a peace based on justice rather than on greed. The ideal of that peace was nourished in America. It sprang from the ideal of a nation conceived in human liberty. It seeks to banish forever the horror such as blanching the cheeks of civilization from 1914 to 1919. It may succeed, it may fail; but it marks a turning point in the life and conscience of the world.
 And yet, even as this great call from America is debated at peace conference, in the schoolhouses of America, according to the method made by prominent educators, wolves in sheep's clothing are carrying a vicious propaganda to inoculate the American boy with the virus of a diluted anarchy. What a ghastly calamity if our own boys, born heritage of American freedom, absorb the poison that whispers that American idealism is nothing but a meaningless phrase and that anarchy and murder are to be preferred to law and order.
 As against the sinister propaganda of anarchy cunningly up him by men who have won his confidence by reason of the close attention of the classroom, give the boy the book that upholds the ideal of fair play and honor. Give him the book that spells life in terms of decency and right living. Give him the book that tells the glorious truth that his land is blest above all lands of the earth. Make his soul a temple, and no crack-brained fanatic will ever stain transforming it into a sewer.

CAMPAIGN TO CONTROL SWINE'S WORST ENEMY HAS REDUCED DANGER OF CHOLERA

Through Disinfection of Houses and Feeding Lots Goes a Long Way Toward Preventing the Spread of Hog Cholera—The County Agent Is Demonstrating a Clean-Up to Farmers.
 (Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
 Never was it so important for farmers to keep their hogs safe from their worst enemy, cholera, as it is this year, say specialists of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. While the number of hogs lost through disease decreased from 4.5 per cent of the total in 1917 to 2.7 per cent in 1918, the value of the hogs actually increased. A 200-pound hog that was worth $26 in January, 1917, was worth $36 in January, 1918. Today a similar hog would sell at $42. In 1918, the year that was to control hog cholera was begun by the government, a 200-pounder was worth $16.60. So it is evident that each succeeding year makes more worth the farmer's while that every precaution to prevent loss from disease in his swine herd.
 One thing that made it possible for America to supply the allies with meat is the fact that within the last five years the state and federal authorities and those working with them have learned a good deal about hog cholera. If the old bug-bear of the swine industry had been permitted to put in such destructive blows the last three or four years as it did in 1913 and 1914 there would have been many porkless days.
 That that the war is over should lead one to think that the fight against hog cholera can be slackened in least. The ultimate object of the United States department of agriculture is absolute elimination of the disease from American farms. How every complete eradication can hardly be expected until all farmers join in the campaign.
Enormous Losses From Cholera.
 In the fiscal year ending March 31, 1914, over 6,000,000 hogs of all ages were lost through disease on American farms. These had a value of over $67,000,000. In the year ending March 31, 1913, only 2,701,825 were lost; but these were worth $52,535,315. So, though the number of hogs lost has been greatly decreased by the work of the disease-control agencies, the monetary loss is still enormous.
 This loss has a direct bearing on the cost of living and at times has threatened the safety of a great industry. There are at present over 75,000,000 hogs in this country—the largest number ever recorded. Assuming that these animals will be marketed at an average weight of 200 pounds at the average market price for the year, this crop will return to the producers about $3,000,000,000. If hog cholera should rage as it did in 1913, the loss would be near $300,000,000.
Complete Eradication Probable.
 Without the efforts of federal and state agents in the proper application of serum and improved methods of handling outbreaks of hog cholera, this loss would be entirely probable. With the support and co-operation of the local authorities, farmers and others, the complete eradication of hog cholera is within the bounds of probabilities. The saving of this enormous annual loss to the farmer would be reflected in the retail price of pork to the consumer.

COMMUNITY SHIPPING HELPS SWINE RAISERS

County Agent Helps Farmer to Get Better Prices for Hogs.
 Co-operative Shipments 2 to 5 Cents More a Pound Was Secured—Each Man Paid His Share of Marketing Expense.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
 County agents not only show farmers how to grow more live stock and big crops, but show them how to get better prices. A field agent of the states relation service of the United States department of agriculture reports that the county agent of Faulkner county, Ark., helped the farmers get from 2 to 5 cents a pound more for their hogs.
 Here, is the county agent's plan which worked, as outlined at a meeting of the farmers and bankers. It was agreed that the bankers were to finance co-operative live stock shipments to a central market. This they readily agreed to do. A day was named for a shipment of hogs. Every farmer in the country was notified by mail or telephone. On the day set the farmer, with 1 hog or 10, brought his porkers into town. Each farmer's hogs were marked so that they could be separated when they reached the market.
 A man was sent to market with the carload of hogs. He had a record of the markings and ownership of every hog aboard. Each farmer's hogs were sold, separately and records kept. On settling up accounts each farmer simply paid his share of the marketing expenses, which the bankers had advanced, according to the number of hogs he had shipped.
 Very few of the farmers ever had enough hogs ready for market at one time to make a carload; hence they had previously sold to the local buyer, who offered considerably less than the central market price. By making up co-operative shipments the farmers netted 2 to 5 cents a pound more for their hogs. Faulkner county farmers have sold six carloads of hogs by the co-operative plan recently, and now the co-operative shipping association on a regular and permanent basis is well under way.

HOG CHOLERA DON'TS

- (Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)
 If cholera exists in your herd or your neighborhood—
 1. Don't visit your neighbor.
 2. Don't let your dog run at large.
 3. Don't keep pigeons about.
 4. Don't let your sick hogs get off the farm.
 5. Don't let your neighbors' hogs hang around your pens.
 6. Don't let your hogs run to streams nor on highways.
 7. Don't buy straw or refuse from a neighbor whose hogs have cholera.
 8. Don't allow any carcass to remain unburied.
 9. Don't borrow or loan farm implements.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Improper care and neglect will cause even the purest bred hog to pass as a scrub, while proper care and kind treatment would cause the same hog to be profitable and also attractive.
 If clover is not available for pasture for young pigs rape provides an excellent substitute which will be suitable for pasture within 50 or 60 days after planting.
 Ordinary grass pasture, green rye, oats, sorghum, rape, clover, alfalfa, peas or beans can take the place of skim milk after the pigs get a start.
 A good brood sow is worth much these days of high prices for bacon and lard. Save enough gilts and sows to supply your farm with meat.
 Early fall is the best time to start a flock of sheep. Good grade ewes and a pure-bred ram are best for beginners.
 Sheep raising does not require expensive equipment or heavy labor, but does require study and continuous attention.
 The best sheep is the type that combines the largest amounts of both wool and mutton.

Northville boys in some sections of town seem to have forgotten or never to have learned that there is a village ordinance prohibiting the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks, with a $5.00 fine as a penalty. The law has never been very strictly enforced except on complaint of residents who considered themselves aggrieved, as proper courtesy on the part of the riders will usually prevent any trouble. It is said, however, that Dunlap street pedestrians have lately been actually forced off the walks by young bicyclist and will enter complaint if the practice is continued.

SHE PRESENTS ALL THE CHARACTERS OF "JUST PLAIN JUDY" AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

HETTIE JANE DUNAWAY

A whole drama wrapped up in a single person—and that person one of the most charming dramatic readers in America.

That, in brief, is one feature of the program of Hettie Jane Dunaway on the third day of the coming Chautauqua.

Miss Dunaway is herself all ten of the characters of her "All Star" production of "Just Plain Judy," an adaptation from "Daddy Long Legs," in which are introduced other stories, spoken songs and cartoons.

This talented actress presents in a single program ten characters with complete changes of costume, carrying along a touching little story through tempest and sunshine, laughter and tears, unassisted save by the delightful-musical accompaniments of the Misses Ringgold and Major, whose playing on piano and violin is one of the features of the number.

HE BELIEVES EVERY ONE SHOULD KNOW HIS COMMUNITY

JAS. S. KNOX

Unhappy is the community that does not know itself—that is the creed of Jas S Knox, whose lecture, "Community Efficiency," is a feature of the fourth night of the Chautauqua.

Mr. Knox is one of the best known "Community Doctors" in America. He is a keen student of civic life—has studied community problems all over America and expounds the better way of living and growing with the times in a most eloquent manner.

It has been suggested that local business men give a dinner for Mr. Knox, at which they may ask him pertinent questions about bettering our own community.

NOTED LECTURER COMES TO OUR CHAUTAUQUA

GEORGE P. BIBLE

Though George P. Bible indulges in no so-called flights of oratory, there is a "humanness" to the man that appeals. His humor is crisp, clean and cutting, and his message as big and broad as its presentation is convincing.

He lectures on the third afternoon of the Chautauqua on "New Fads and Fancies." The fact that he spent months in France as the representative of the Community Chautauquas with the Red Cross adds interest to his appearance.

The First Kipling Book

Few who are reading Mr. Kipling's new volume of poems have seen a copy of that precious item of Ellingsma, the first edition of "Departmental Ditties." It was, as its author says, "only a sort of book—a lean, oblong docket, wire stitched, bound in brown paper and secured with red tape, in imitation of an Indian government report. A hundred copies or so were put together by the poet himself and posted, in imitation of official envelopes, "up and down the empire from Aden to Singapore, from Queita to Colombo." The first issue contained only twenty-six poems but others were added to the new edition rapidly called for, until presently the book changed its format and grew into a conventional stiff-back, gilt-tipped volume. Capital of League of Nations

Geneva and the New Bridge.

ALL roads henceforth lead to Geneva.
The Rome of the Caesars and of the Popes, which held pre-eminence in this respect for many ages, now yields to Geneva, which, since John Calvin's time, has been called "the Protestant Rome," writes Irving R. Bacon in the Detroit Free Press.
Geneva is to be the capital of the league of nations, which is but another way of saying the capital of the world. Thus the peace conference at Paris has decided.

In the middle of the nineteenth century, when, under the quasi-dictatorship of James Fazy, the radicals of the Swiss canton Geneva spent money with almost reckless extravagance to develop and modernize the city de la Rive, a conservative exclaimed:
"They want to make Geneva the smallest of the great cities; oh, that they would only allow her to remain the greatest of the small cities!"

And now, seventy years after he expressed this wish it is about to be realized; for from now on it is there that the parliament of nations will hold its sessions and the roads from all ends of earth will focus there.
The census of 1911 gave Geneva in the neighborhood of 150,000 inhabitants, divided almost evenly between Protestants and Catholics. In point of languages the French preponderated nearly seven to one as compared with German.

On Beautiful Lake Lemman.
The city is the southwesternmost point of Switzerland. It is on the picturesque Lake Lemman (called also Lake Geneva), and is divided into halves, the old and the new towns, by the River Rhone. The number seven figures geographically in Geneva as it does in Rome. The latter city has seven hills; Geneva, seven bridges.

Geneva, however, is of but recent date compared with Rome. It was little more than a village of the Allobroges, a Gallic tribe, when Rome was mistress of the world. Julius Caesar took his stand there when he heard that the Helvetians (the Swiss of today) had decided to emigrate from their own country, which they had come to consider as too cramped for their national growth.

"They shall not pass," was Caesar's watchword. And two-thirds of the Helvetian people perished in a futile attempt to force their passage through the Roman provinces. It was the beginning of the Gallic war, which lasted nine years and became the fulcrum by which Caesar raised himself to the position of dictator of virtually the whole civilized world.

Birthplace of Rousseau.
Few cities have produced so many illustrious sons or been the arena for the activity of so many great men as Geneva. Jean Jacques Rousseau was born there. And it is no small coincidence that the city of his birth should have been chosen as the capital of a league of nations of a democratized world. For to no other man does democracy owe a greater debt than to Rousseau. His pen was the flail which first set thrones a-tottering. Kingcraft began to decay beneath the corroding assaults of reason which he leveled at the "divine rights" upon which royal prerogatives were based. Lord Byron's noble tribute to both Geneva and Rousseau constitutes almost the entire theme of the third canto of his magnificent "Childe Harold."

The same great poet has also celebrated the misfortunes of another Geneva in the well-known poem of "The Prisoner of Chillon."

Chillon is a castle on top of a crag which rises perpendicularly nearly 1,000 feet above Lake Lemman. Here, early in the fifteenth century, Francois de Bonnavard, prior of St. Victor, was imprisoned.

Where Calvin Ruled.
In 1532 William Farel, a Protestant preacher from Dauphine, who had just won Vaud, a Swiss canton, to Protestantism, made his appearance at Geneva. His success was so considerable that he established his home there and, in the following year, Geneva entered into closer religious relations with the Swiss city of Berne, which had embraced Protestantism. Farel, which remained loyal to its old faith, withdrew from the alliance with

THE LAND OF HONEY

Bee Keeping on the Mountains.

One of the most valuable assets in New South Wales is its Mountain country, which extends in a broad belt running North and South right through the State with an elevation varying from a few hundred feet on the foothills to several thousand feet on the higher ranges.

Included in this area is a considerable extent of tableland with an English climate, portions of which are already occupied by settlers engaged in farming and pastoral pursuits, but the immense extent of broken country embraced in the Mountain area is practically uncultivated.

The soil varies from rich volcanic, covered with dense, semi-tropical vegetation, to sandstone (overlying coal measures) that require a close industry to yield a subsistence by ordinary methods of cultivation, but even in the poorest forest tracts are innumerable sites where homes may be made within easy distance of the seaboard amidst the wholesomest, healthiest and most independent conditions to be found anywhere on earth. On such settlements honey, timber and dried fruits are the principal sources of income.

Those not familiar with this Mountain region can form no idea of the enormous quantities of honey produced by the native trees and flowering shrubs every year. Occasionally the yield takes the form of "manna" or sweet sap exuding from small punctures made in the bark of the trees by the sap-feeding cicada. This form of honey production, however, is the exception and not the rule. The usual thing is for the honey to be secreted in the form of nectar in the flowers—the members of the Eucalyptus family have a little cup in the center of the flower in which the honey is formed. When the Mountain forests are white with bloom, the English bees that have gone within the bush and are now plentiful, make their nests in the hollow trees, and the settler can obtain from them sufficient stock to start an apiary.

Among the honey-producing trees of New South Wales the Eucalyptus family easily take first place, both in respect to the number of species and to the quantity of honey produced, and it is an absolute fallacy that the flavor of the honey has a eucalyptus flavor. The flavor resides in the leaves and bark, but never in the honey secreted in the flowers, nor in the manna secretions.

From the numerous members of the Eucalyptus family the flavors and types of honey are almost as numerous as the trees that produce them, and they are all palatable and good. The various trees have their set times for coming into bloom, different varieties blooming at intervals right throughout the year. The honey from those that bloom in the winter and spring is mainly consumed by the bees themselves in the rearing of the spring broods before swarming time. The great bulk of the surplus honey obtained comes from a comparatively small number of varieties.

Where the sources of honey supply are so numerous it would be difficult to describe every honey-producing tree in the Mountain area; but it may be said that the most important are the white and yellow box, the most important of the white family found chiefly on the Western slopes and plains. Of these the white and yellow box are the most important. The honey from the white box is water white in color, clear and mild, with the fine flavor characteristic of the box family in its most delicate form. The honey from this tree is always sure of a market in Australia. Unlike nearly all pure honeys it does not granulate, and this peculiarity makes it popular with the bottling firms, as it seldom requires to be melted before being bottled.

The honey from the yellow box has the characteristic flavor common to the box family, but in color it is a rich golden tint, and like the white box honey, it retains its liquid form for a considerable time.

The red bloodwood tree is one of the most widely distributed and valuable of the Mountain honey-producing trees. It blooms in Autumn, in February and in March. In a year of general bloom the trees are a beautiful sight, the mountains for miles appearing one mass of white-topped trees, while the air is laden with the rich honey perfume and full of the din of parrots and the steady roar of excited bees tumbling over each other in their eagerness to gather the rich stores. The honey from the bloodwood is of clear, rich golden color, and of excellent flavor. Unlike the "box," it granulates almost at once after extraction into a creamy white crystal, very delicious to the palate.

The wax produced by the bees from bloodwood honey is also characteristic, being bright yellow in color and unusually pliable, tough and tenacious. As a wax for the fine grades of foundation comb it is without rival and very much in demand commercially.

The gray gum is another splendid honey yielder. It blooms in January, and the golden honey it produces is about equal to the bloodwood honey. It crystallizes speedily and is considered very suitable for export, and is a favorite with the apiarist.

The Sydney peppermint, the gray ironbark, the white stringbark, the white bloodwood, the red apple, and the white apple are all good honey-producing mountain trees with different characteristics and of different commercial values, and some of the honey that is not suitable for table use owing to the coarseness of its flavor has been found invaluable in the manufacture of vinegar.

The possibilities of honey production are too great to be overlooked, for a man with a small capital will find this industry something that brings in immediate returns, and many a settler in the Mountain district has made a good living on a poor patch of land by the aid of his bees, while preparing the way for fruit growing on a large scale.—Adv.

One on the Judge.
A certain judge could not control his temper, and consequently could not control other people. One day there was unusual disorder in court, and at last the judge could endure it no longer.

"It is impossible to allow this persistent contempt of court to go on," he exclaimed, "and I shall be forced to go to the extreme length of taking the one step that will stop it."

There was a long silence, then one of the leading counsel rose, and with just a trace of a smile, inquired: "If it please your honor, from what date will your resignation take effect?"

The Usual Thing.
"There does not seem to be much fraternal spirit among your citizens," said the spectacled guest. "They appear to be almost at swords' points with each other—backbiting, gossiping, denouncing, and—"

"Yep!" returned the landlord of the tavern at Waverberghund. "But that's all on the surface. Just wait till some stranger comes to town and gets into trouble, and you'll behold a united community jump onto him with both feet and in one voice."—Kansas City Star.

Hard Task.
Tom—Halloo, Dick, old boy! Writing-home for money?
Dick—No.
Tom—What are you taking so much trouble for? You've been fussing about two blessed hours over that one letter.

Dick—Puf trying to write home without asking for money.
Explained.
"How did she raise the money to go abroad to study music?"
"The neighbors raised a subscription, I believe."

Care and Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared; could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little-ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrups was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

COOLING MILK ON THE FARM

During Hot Weather It Is Best to Arrange System So That Water Comes Direct From Well.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Milk may be cooled most efficiently on the farm by running it over a surface cooler in which the available water supply is used at its coldest temperature and the cooling completed by storing the cans of milk in a tank of ice water. It is possible in that way within a short time to lower the temperature of milk to below 50 degrees F. Frequently the water used for cooling milk is not used to the best advantage. Spring water is sometimes allowed to flow over the surface of the ground and is warmed several degrees before reaching the cooling apparatus. During the summer water from a storage tank above ground is usually much warmer than that drawn directly from the well. It is best, therefore, to arrange the cooling system so that the water which flows through the surface cooler or cooling tank comes directly from the well or, if from a spring, it is conveyed in a pipe well below the surface of the ground. If ice is used in a cooling tank the quantity of water surrounding the cans should be as small as possible to give satisfactory results. Space enough should be provided between the sides of the tank and the cans of milk to allow for a sufficient quantity of ice and water to cool the milk properly. If a large volume of water has to be cooled much more ice will be necessary. If it is desired to cool milk quickly from an initial temperature of about 85 degrees F. to one of 50 de-

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? BETTER LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1699 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale.

The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

NOT HIS UNLUCKY NUMBER

Although Unpopular, "Thirteen" Has Been Decidedly Mixed With This Englishman's Life.

Superstitious readers will be interested in the following extraordinary story, of which the hero is Mr. F. G. Cordwell, the well-known and popular Fleet street Journalist.

Mr. Cordwell has been literally dogged by the number thirteen. It was on the 13th day of the month that he went to France, that he went into action, got his first leave and returned to take up his commission. It was in the thirteenth tent, in line 13, camp 13 that he had his first lodgment in France. The tent contained 13 men. He had 13 days in hospital. He was given No. 13 pills. And, returning to civil work on January 13, he found that his old room had been renumbered 133.

Now count up the coincidences. You will find 13 of them!—Answers, London.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large-size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Crawfish Decide to Migrate.
Passengers arriving in New Orleans on a recent Sunday evening by the Louisville & Nashville railroad said the tracks were swarming with crawfish practically the whole distance between Metchoud and Chef Menteur. Hundreds were walking along gathering the seafood. Baskets, heavy with squirming, wriggling, pinching crawfish were brought in by scores of persons. Expert fishermen said the fish were crawling back to calm waters to escape the squalls outside.

MAKE AND USE STERILIZER

Necessary for Production of Dairy Products of High Quality—Steam Is Recommended.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Sterilization of dairy utensils is necessary for the production of dairy products of high quality, particularly milk and cream, because the washing of dairy utensils, at least by the process generally used, is not sufficient to insure freedom from infection and contamination. Steam is necessary to kill the disease germs and harmful bacteria that lurk in milk cans, buckets and other such equipment used wherever milk is produced. Dairy utensils on small farms are not often sterilized efficiently because steam is not available. The United States department of agriculture has devised a simple and inexpensive, yet efficient, steam sterilizer which can be provided at such a small cost as to justify its use on any farm from which milk or cream is sold. The additional keeping quality which the sterilization of utensils will give milk and cream probably will pay for the cost of the sterilizer in one season. Full particulars on how to make and use this device are described in Farmers' Bulletin 748, a copy of which can be had, so long as the supply lasts, on application to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Of course you have heard of Datas, the human encyclopedia—the man who can memorize and reel off dates quicker than the fire of a machine gun; the man on whose head the doctors have placed a price of £2,000?

"But I am not anxious to sell it yet for dissection," Datas told a writer for London Tit-Bits the other day. "It is worth more to me than £2,000."

Datas has lately been devouring war facts and had just added a couple of thousand to two and a half hours to his repertoire when he met.

"For an outlay of twopenny," he said, "I bought a little book on a bookstall, called 'Two Thousand Facts About the War.' I bought it and read the list through in two and a half hours and then knew it by heart."

There is no doubt about it. I tested Datas with the book in my hand, and no matter what question I asked him—dates of battles, air raids, names of ships sunk, famous generals' careers—he answered them without hesitation, says the writer.

Datas has had many amusing and curious experiences, but the most extraordinary was the friendly dinner he shared with John Lee, the Babacombe murderer, and the late James Barry, the executioner who tried to hang

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people plump, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should disappear, and eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

INDIGESTION

Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 5 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. For reasons every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, flat after eating, food repelling, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are nevertheless, traceable to an acid-stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, constipation, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental ailments that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pain in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

Sealing Voyage Pays Little.

The Newfoundland sealing voyage for 1919 closed recently with the smallest catch in recent years. Only ten ships, the smallest fleet since 1870, prosecuted the industry, the crews numbering 1,685 men, and the total catch amounting to 81,298 pelts, valued at $278,145. This gives a decrease in number of 70,148 and in value of $585,407, compared with the 1918 voyage.

The poor fishing seemed to be due to adverse weather conditions, ice being too closely packed for vessels to navigate properly, and to the fact that the seal were scattered. The price of young seal pelts was placed at $8 per hundredweight, as against $12 for 1918, and $6.50 to $7 for other qualities as against $9 to $9.50.
