FORD INTERESTS ARE COMING HERE

Have Acquired Valuable Water Rights and Land For Flowage.

OTHER PIECES ARE NEEDED

Before Active Operations Can Start—No Hold Up By Land Grabbers Will Be Tolerated, Though Just Prices Will Be Paid—Will Mean Much For Northville

The prospects for the Ford interests getting hold of the power dam sites and water flow rights in Northville seem excellent just now, though there are a few obstacles still to be surmounted. The property of the Northville Milling Company, the Union Manufacturing Company, the C. L. Dubois Lumber Company, as well as the American Bell & Foundry Company's water power rights east of Plymouth Avenue have all been secured. Besides this the necessary residence property on Griswold Street seems assured of being secured for. There are a couple of stumbling blocks at the present time west of the dam property where the water might back up on land around Hutton Avenue. The prices held by the owners on this Mr. Ford deems excessive and until such a time as they can be secured at a fair value, nothing further will be done unless another plan is adopted that is now being considered, when this back property will not be required.

Mr. Ford is coming into Northville principally as a matter of sentiment and to aid the town, and not primarily as a business investment. Mr. Ford has in mind the building up of hundreds of towns all over the state and over the United States and thus benefit many communities instead of building all of his vast enterprises in one place. Northville happens to be one of the fortunate spots selected to be thus benefited.

However, the Ford people say they will not tolerate anything that looks like a hold-up proposition. Northville has been nearly free from ideas in this respect. It is said a man from out of town bought a piece of property over in the creek district between Center Street and Hutton Avenue a short time ago for $600 and now asks the Ford people $6,000 for it. The attention of the tax commissioners may be called to the big raise in this valuation.

If the Ford people come it will mean much to the community in the way of beautifying the town, and the factory that is to be established will probably employ fifty people.

In addition to the sites above mentioned, a portion of the Joslin farm on the outskirts of town has been acquired by the Ford people in conjunction with the power rights at Mead's Mills.

HOLLY CLUB CHALLENGED FOR TWO BALL GAMES

The Northville Independents, through Manager Harry S. German, has issued a challenge for three games of ball with the Holly Tigers, under like conditions as were the Howell games played. Should a team win two games in succession that would end the contest, but each having a game, the third is to be played on neutral grounds, as Milford or elsewhere.

Holly has had the best of Northville in base ball, having defeated the Independents twice last year and once this season. Northville, however, took them into camp last Fall at the Milford fair by a score of 3 to 2.

Our manager claims that his team was never in fit condition to meet a team like Holly early in the season, but did beat them in the Fall and thinks it can be done again right now.

The difference of opinion is what makes speculation and ball contests. Holly recently did beat Howell but so did we. Holly has won ninety per cent of her games on her home grounds but what will she do when away? We do admit that Holly has a great throng of "rooters" but our boys are past that age where anything much excites them, and they have played practically errorless ball the last two games in action right when they needed to. The local manager says, "we are not getting our heads swelled just because we were successful against Howell, but while we are playing real good ball we wish to try and take Holly into camp, as they really are a team that have rather rubbed it into our boys when they caught us weak. We would welcome victory, but would not scorn defeat."

Attorney Phener, who is manager of the Holly Tigers, by this time, has the challenge for his consideration and on his answer will depend whether or not we have another real warm contest before the fair, when three games will be played, Farmington, Wayne, Plymouth and Northville to be the contestants for prizes. Let us hear from Holly.

If the challenge is accepted, the game will be played here on Friday, Sept. 5.

Sergeant L. D. Stage, Jr., accompanied by his wife and little son, arrived in town Sunday from Virginia, with his honorable discharge from the U. S. army, after two years of service.

A VERY PLEASANT AFFAIR.

The annual picnic of the Northville Woman's Club, held last Friday afternoon on the spacious lawn at the D. P. Yerkes home, proved to be one of the most delightful of the many pleasant annual affairs of its kind which have been enjoyed by the club. The weather was perfect, the supper delicious and its service arrangements the "best ever." The members and their guests made up a most congenial company, and the pleasant social visiting was varied by "bean bag" croquet games, with some athletic feats by the masculine guests.

The members of the family, always noted for hospitality, were fully up to their long established reputation in that respect, and everything possible was done for the pleasure and comfort of the guests. The big family car with Donald Jr. as its obliging chauffeur, made several trips up town and back to bring visitors, and to take them home at the close of the afternoon.

BALL GAMES EXPENSIVE.

The following figures relative to last Saturday's ball game, played on the Northville grounds between the local team and Howell, were furnished the Record by Manager German, and will be quite enlightening to those who think ball games consist chiefly of fun and gate receipts.

Expenditures—Howell team, $20.00; umpires, $10.00; advertising, $12.00; tickets, $1.50; balls, $4.00; grounds, total, $65.10. Total receipts, $66.00; $5.00, players; $6.00, war tax; $6.60, balance 30 cents. Which goes to show that costs something besides executive ability and enthusiasm to stage a good ball game.

NEW ROAD COMPLETED.

The last yard of concrete on the paved road connecting Pontiac with Sylvan, Cass, Pine and Orchard Lakes was poured Wednesday and soon the pavement will be thrown open to the public, the entire distance from Pontiac city limits to a point south of the old Orchard Lake toll gate, four miles. This road connects the celebrated lake district of Orchard county and Detroit with improved roads—Record.

DEATH OF CHARLES KAHL.

TIGERS GAMES IN DETROIT.

Games to be played by the Detroit Tigers on their own home grounds are: two with Chicago on September 1, and with St. Louis on Sept. 5, 6 and 7.

Miss Viola Miller and Miss Lillian Chatfield of Birmingham returned last Friday from a four days' trip to Niagara Falls.

Miss Edith Miller returned the latter part of this week after a month's visit with girl friends at Sault Ste. Marie.

Government Should Handle Army Social Work Through a Single Agency

By RAYMOND B. FOSDICK, Training Camp Commission

Social work in the army in any future emergency should be handled by the government itself through a single nonsectarian agency.

It seems to me that the lesson of the war in social work involves perhaps three points: The elimination of sectarian auspices; reduction in the number of agencies employed, and the transfer to the government itself of much of the activity hitherto left to private initiative.

After eight months with the troops in France I am convinced that the average woman worker attached to a hut is worth four or five men workers. Certainly her effect on the morale and spirit of the troops is extraordinary. An "Honest to God American Girl" as the soldiers call her, can do more to keep the men cheerful and create an atmosphere of home than any other factor; and the work of our women in France—Y. M. C. A. girls, Salvation Army girls, Red Cross girls, and the representatives of other agencies—has been in no small degree responsible for the unflagging devotion and inexhaustible patience with which our troops carried forward their high enterprise.

Our men have been glad to receive what the societies had for them in the shape of service or supplies, and they have not cared two straws whether it came from Protestant, Catholic or Jewish hands. Our boys fought at Chateau Thierry and in the Argonne as Americans. They did not fight as Protestants, Catholics or Jews.

As a matter of fact there is no reason for sectarianism. The religious interests of the army are wisely confined to the chaplains.

Child Labor Laws and Decisions of the United States Supreme Court

By SENATOR W. S. KENYON, of Iowa

The Supreme court of the United States killed the law to exclude child labor products from interstate commerce. So congress passed another law to emancipate the child slaves by placing a heavy federal tax on the products of their toil. A federal court in a notorious child-labor state has declared this second law unconstitutional.

The Supreme court cannot kill the second child-labor law without reversing its several opinions that the federal government has unquestionable power to tax "without regard to motive."

If it should annul the law, however, we have still another recourse. Congress can and will enact a law to bar from the mails all matter concerning the products of children below a given age.

Child labor being deemed a menace to the national well-being, congress is clearly performing its duty when it withdraws the postal service from that sort of industry.

If the Supreme court should destroy this third hope of ending child labor then we must carry the fight to the people, and have them amend the Constitution so specifically that there will be no question about the will of the nation and the right of congress to abolish the evil.

How It Comes That Political Bosses Control Public School Systems

By JACOB M. LOEB, Chicago Board of Education

To build political systems' fortunes upon the school system is trafficking in children's souls.

During more than five years of service as school trustee one sees much of school boards, something of the public, and very little if any co-operation between the two.

To appoint as school trustees men and women unknown and untried is taking a gambler's chance. To commit the administration of a vast business enterprise to these without experience or training is poor judgment. To confer upon hucksters the responsibility of preparing budgets, of expending millions, or negotiating leases, of making real estate transfers, is signal improvidence.

The public is divided into three classes: The educated, who keep aloof from public questions; the class that can think but won't, and, thirdly, the class that cannot think for itself and accepts the ready-made judgment of others. The latter class is led by various types—the parlor propagandist, the agitator and the political type and the boss type, more dangerous and controlling than the others.

So we have a public a part of which is thoughtful but inactive, a part unthinking and directed by vicious leadership.

Constructive Salesmanship Is Largely to Determine Progress of World

By GEORGE N. PEEK, Formerly of War Industries Board

No real salesman need have any misgivings as to his status after the war. Spurious salesmanship, the black art of commercial demagoguery, which has flourished in America in times past, will be swept away, along with much other debris of an age of ruinous competition; but there will be greater opportunities than ever for the salesman who has thoroughly mastered his profession. The progress of the world for the next several years will be largely determined by the constructive salesman.

One might sell a motorcycle to a savage after a bona fide demonstration of what it can do; but if he did not educate the savage first it would be wise not to return to that territory again. It is a crime against civilization to sell anything anywhere, even though the thing be sold at cost or below, if the selling is not accompanied by actual service.

The great achievement of the war, next to destroying autocracy, was the elimination of things useless from our industrial life. But this very elimination necessitates the retention of all useful processes. Instead of finding that his job has vanished the constructive salesman should know that the things which have hindered him in the past are being swept away and that the world is inviting him to his greatest possible achievement.

CHOOSING BEST BREED OF HOGS

Whichever One the Farmer Decides Upon He Should Develop to Highest Standard.

LARD TYPE MOST POPULAR

At Present Time Animals Weighing From 175 to 250 Pounds Command Highest Prices—Bacon Hogs Is Not Raised Extensively.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There is no best breed of swine. Some breeds are superior to others in certain respects and one breed may be better adapted than another to certain local conditions. The essential point is that after the farmer has once decided upon the kind of hog to raise he should stick to this decision and develop the chosen breed to its highest possible standard. It is not feasible for one individual to raise several different breeds and bring them to perfection. In making his choice, too, the farmer should be guided by the kind of breeds already established in his locality. If he selects one of these he is not likely to make a mistake.

Two Types of Swine

There are two distinct types of swine, namely, the lard and the bacon types. Swine of the lard type far outnumber those of the bacon type in the United States. The lard type is preferred by the people of this country, consequently the majority of feeders produce a rapid-fattening, heavily-fleshed lard type. The bacon type is not raised extensively in the United States. The production of choice bacon is more general in those sections where the feed of the hog is more varied and where persons not relied upon as the principal grain for hogs.

The principal breeds of the lard type are the Poland China, Berkshire, Chester White, Duroc-Jersey and Hampshire. The lard type of hog is low set and compact, with a very wide and deep body. The shoulders should be full although not coarse, with full hind quarters and hams carried out straight to the tail and thickly fleshed down to the hock. The flesh should be thick and evenly distributed throughout the body.

The size and weight are largely determined by market conditions. At present pigs weighing from 175 to 250 pounds ordinarily command the highest prices.

Best Bacon Types. The principal breeds of the bacon type are the Tamworth and large Yorkshire, both of British origin. The bacon type is very different from the lard type, being longer in leg and body, with less width of back and lighter in the shoulders and neck. The first impression that this type conveys is one of leanness and lameness. Much emphasis is laid on the development of side, because it is the side of the hog that is used for the production of bacon. On the other hand, large, heavy hams are not desirable on a bacon hog.

SHIP EGGS BY PARCEL POST

Weight of Single Dozen of Eggs Will Run From 2 to 3 Pounds, Depending on Packing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Average hens' eggs will weigh about 1½ pounds to the dozen, or 2 ounces apiece. The weight of a single dozen of eggs in a carton properly packed and wrapped for mailing will run from 2 to 3 pounds, depending on the nature of the particular container, the size of the eggs, and the packing and wrapping used. If the container be a very light one and the eggs small, the parcel may fall within the 2-pound limit, and the postage, therefore, within the first and second zones, or 150-mile limit, would be 6 cents. Most parcels containing a dozen eggs will exceed 2 pounds but will not reach 3; therefore the postage on them will be 7 cents within the first and second zones. A parcel containing 2 dozen eggs will add perhaps 2 cents to the postage, though sometimes only 1 cent, depending on the nature of the container and the packing and wrapping.

PREVENT DISEASE OUTBREAKS

Use Every Preventive Measure and See That Proper Precautions Are Taken.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Sometimes we cannot prevent outbreaks of live stock diseases on our farms, but we can and should always use every preventive measure and see that proper precautions are taken when the disease first makes its appearance.

GRAIN CONSUMPTION VARIES DURING YEAR

Feeding of Oats Is More Uniform Than That of Corn.

Barley, Wheat and Rye Approach Monthly Uniformity in Degree Less Than Oats—Silage Reaches High Point in February.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Whether the supposition is that the consumption of corn by live stock on farms in the United States varies little from month to month, or that the summer consumption is relatively small, the fact, as ascertained by the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture, is that during the six months from May to October nearly three-eighths of the year's corn ration is eaten, and from November to April five-eighths. The warm-weather fraction will seem large or small according to the size of the guess. Oats, more than corn, is the feed from April to September, and the monthly consumption of oats is more uniform throughout the year than that of corn. Barley, wheat and rye approach monthly uniformity in degree less than that of oats throughout the year and a concentration of consumption in the colder months is found in hay, silage and mill feed, as in the case of corn.

Of the year's entire consumption of corn by live stock on farms the highest consumption in one month is 11.5 per cent in December, and the lowest 4.6 per cent in August. For oats the highest is 9.8 per cent in April and the lowest 3.8 per cent in December; barley, highest 10.9 per cent in November and lowest 6 per cent in June and also in July; rye, highest 10.3 per cent in October and lowest 7.1 per cent in July; wheat, highest 11.4 per cent in November and lowest 5.8 per cent in July.

Mill feed consumption rises to 4.8 per cent in July and rises to 11.5 per cent in February and again in March. More unequal yet is hay consumption, with its range from the highest, 14.2 per cent in February, and also in March to 3.2 per cent in August; and another degree is reached by silage, the consumption of which rises to 16.8 per cent of the year's total in February and falls to 1 per cent in July and again in August.

COMMUNITY LIME SPREADER

Farmers of Otsego County, N. Y., Solve Problem of Spreading Lime at Proper Time.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Members of the farm bureau in one of the communities of Otsego county, New York, have combined and purchased a lime spreader, and have thus taken a long step in solving their problem of applying lime at the proper time of the year and in sufficient quantities to get results. The spreader is to be rotated among the members. Nonmembers may also use it by paying 25 cents an acre. In the early stages of the use of lime in a community, especially in a small way, spreaders are often not available because single land owners hesitate to purchase them. Even after the use of lime is established a single machine will often meet the needs of several farmers.

HOW TO INTRODUCE QUEENS

It Is Necessary to Remove Old and Defective Ones and Replace Them With Younger Stock.

Every beekeeper who is really caring for his bees should know how to introduce queens, because it is necessary to remove old and defective queens and replace them by young vigorous ones.

Queens may be introduced in cells or after they have emerged from cells, while still unfertilized, or after they have begun to lay.

TROUBLE IN FIGHTING WEEDS

Sheep and Goats Will Be Found Efficient in Eradication of Many Noxious Plants.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Some of the trouble and expense ordinarily experienced in fighting weeds might be dispensed with by keeping sheep and goats to graze the noxious plants. At present prices for wool, mohair and mutton these animals ought to be profitable.

DAIRY THE DAIRY

FREE HERD OF TUBERCULOSIS

Estimated by Department of Agriculture That Disease Causes Annual Loss of $25,000,000.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The 165 veterinarians of the United States department of agriculture who are in the field doing tuberculosis eradication work, together with an equal number of state men, have tested approximately 500 purebred herds and found them free from the disease. The owners of these herds have been given an official certificate, stating that they have tuberculosis-free accredited herds. The veterinarians also have given one test to 2,000 herds in preparation for the accredited list. The owners of all these herds, together with the breeds and number in each herd, will be listed in a publication soon to be issued by the department. Figures show that since July 1, 1918, 300 accredited herds and 1,900 herds that have passed one test have been added to the list. The veterinarians now have under supervision 1,200 herds of purebred cattle and 600 herds of grades which have shown by previous tests that one or more animals have tuberculosis. The publication lists 1,100 owners of grade cattle which have successfully passed the requirements for tuberculosis-free accredited herds. It is estimated that this disease causes an annual loss of $25,000,000.

SUITABLE SPRAY FOR FLIES

Mixture Suggested by Iowa State College Will Keep off Pestsiferous Little Insects.

The Iowa State College experiment station suggests the following mixture as being suitable for spraying dairy cows for flies:

Four and one-half quarts of coal tar dip, four and one-half quarts of fish oil, three quarts of coal oil, three quarts of whale oil, one and one-half quarts of oil of tar. Dissolve three pounds of laundry soap in water, add the ingredients of the spray, and bring the whole up to thirty gallons with lukewarm soft water.

This spray will keep off the flies and prevent the coats of the animals from becoming harsh. The cows should be sprayed twice a day—in the morning after milking and in the afternoon when in the barn for silage or green feed. With a portable cart, made from a half-barrel by attaching wheels and a spray pump and nozzle, two men can spray forty cows in five minutes.

MUST REPAY GENEROUS FEED

Cow Is Living Machine, Taking Raw Materials and Working Them—Over Into Milk.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The cow must be regarded as a sort of living machine. She takes the raw materials given her in the form of food and works them over into milk. If the supply of proper materials is small, the output will be small. The cow that will not repay generous feeding should be disposed of and one bought that will. There are, of course, certain inbred characteristics or natural qualities which even liberal feeding cannot overcome.

DAIRY NOTES

There's something to sell every day.

Good silage will cut the feed bill one-half.

The cow with a good appetite is a better producer than the finicky one.

Cows fed well before being turned on heavy green forage will not be likely to bloat.

Sometimes one can fool a slow milker into "giving down" by feeding her at milking time.

Cows will require attention in the summer when the days are warm and flies are troublesome.

Often old cows are offered for sale at low prices but they are seldom a good investment for the dairyman.

Clear Your Skin While You Sleep with Cuticura

All Written by Women.

An Indiana teachers' federation has much to some of the male members' chagrin, a woman for its president. Of course some of them try to show their superiority—particularly one who the other day was arguing that woman knew so little about parliamentary drill that they were not fitted for the positions of superior officers.

The young woman listened, smiled and then said: "Well, I'm willing to learn."

Magnanimously the man offered to buy her a book on the subject. They entered a book store, made known their request, and the clerk laid down on the counter before them four books, saying that they were the only books on the subject she had. They began to examine them and lo—all four were written by women.—Indianapolis News.

Strong Drink in Japan.

In contrast to a world going dry, Japan is extending its manufacture of hop and distilled beverages. To sake (a liquor brewed from rice and drunk piping hot) and beer is now being added the more ardent potation of rum. A $500,000 company to distill rum from the sugar cane is being formed by active spirits in the community of Nagasaki, headed by T. Nagano, president of the Nagasaki prefectural assembly.

Sizing Up Father.

Little Johnny has a sister of whom he is very proud. His mother the other day heard him talking to the infant and thus was what he said:

"It's too bad you can't go anywhere. You can't go to the movies; you can't go to see General Edwards. You haven't seen any big men at all—only uncle and father, and they ain't so very big."

How papa learned of the incident hasn't been disclosed, but it can be imagined that mother, for a while, had a large sized twinkle in her eye.

South Lyon has been enjoying a successful three-day Chautauqua this

It is said that a motion picture

Redford is planning a big "welcome home" for the returned soldiers and sailors of that vicinity for early in

The War Record Bureau of Oak-army records of all soldiers and the world war.

Overs around Romeo those muchheralded 17 year locusts did actually appear in sufficient numbers to do quite a lot of damage to vegetation.

The supervisors of the 1920 census

Washtenaw Jury Commissioners

The house of Dr. W. A. Logan of Oxford was struck by lightning last week and two members of the family were instantly killed. The victims, however, were not of the biped variety, but were two valuable bull dogs.

Midford is about to find out how it seems to "enjoy" the preliminaries of paving. Two miles of concrete road is to be immediately built, connecting the New Hudson-Milford road with the Highland gravel road at the north village limits, and including a cement paved highway entirely thru the village via Main and two other streets.

The village of Algonac has sold its electric lighting system to the Detroit Edison Co. Sensible Algonac.

An explosion which almost totally wrecked the home of Lawrence Kit-tel of Whitmore Lake, and shook houses for almost a mile around, occurred Friday evening when an acetylene lighting machine in the basements of the house blew up—

The Wayne county cement road from this place to French Landing has been completed to the village limits and all that now remains to be done is the piece from the Five Points to the Wabash railroad tracks which will be finished this week if everything is favorable. This will complete what is known as the Huron river drive and will be one of the finest in the county—Belleville Enterprise.

Two illicit stills were recently discovered near Wayne, one in a family kitchen and one in a barn. Nobody was found who owned to owning the latter, but the director of the kitchen booze outfit is in jail.

A boy less than 15 years old, arrested in the act of robbing a store in Wyandotte, admitted more than 20 previous burglaries. Almost needless to say, he had one of those nearly unpronounceable foreign names.

The county road commissioners are busy finishing the cement road at this place. They are working on the strip from the Five Points to the Wabash tracks and if they have plenty of cement will complete the job by Saturday. The tie-up on the railroads and a strike at the gravel pit has hindered considerable in finishing their work here—Belleville Enterprise.

The state tax commission recommends that Oakland's valuation be increased from $96,528,937 to $139,935-000. Similar increases were given other counties where there are automobile manufacturing plants and where there is just now great building activity. Field men for the state tax commission have been in the county during the past six months checking up valuations and obtaining first hand information on which to base their recommendations. While it was expected the county would be greatly increased county officials were unprepared for any such figure as the one just announced, says the Press.

The village council has decided to do something to improve the water situation in Holly, and will install an electric air lift system at the water works plant. It is felt that this will result in our again getting an adequate supply of good water, as when the air lift was in operation with the steam pumps we had as good water as any place in the state and plenty of it—Holly Advertiser.

Mrs. Harry Heldrich, who lives on long typewritten letter from her brother, Ernest Bayliss, who is totally blind from the effects of "gothe war. Mr. Bayliss is at the government school for the blind, at

A meeting bearing on the extension of electric lines from Milford into adjoining townships was held Wednesday at the office of the Milford Electric company. The township boards of Milford, Commerce, Highland, and White Lake were present and also Mr. Wintermute, representing the Michigan Public Utilities Commission. It is planned to run lines in all directions from Milford where there is business enough in sight to warrant doing so. The users of electricity are to be asked to contribute to the expense of building the lines and the work will be started as soon as enough users are signed up.

A SLENDID COURSE.

The University School of Music, Ann Arbor, has just announced the complete list of concerts to be given in Hill auditorium in this year's Pre-Festival series. Not only does the list contain the names of the greatest artists of the day but the series has been increased to include six concerts instead of five as in the past; four strictly artist concerts and two performances by the Detroit Symphony orchestra, under the baton of its distinguished conductor, Ossip Gabril-owitsch. Of special interest to many friends of the university is the fact that the opening number in October by Geraldine Farrar will take place on the evening of the day of the great football contest between the university and the Michigan Agricultural college, thus making it possible for out of town parties to attend both events. The series is as follows:

October 18—Geraldine Farrar, soprano, assisted by Arthur Hackett, tenor, and Rosita Renard, pianist.
November 17—Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Ossip Gabrilowitsch, conductor, Mrs. George B. Rhead, pianist.
December 4—Jascha Heifetz, violin-

The United States Railroad Administration has granted a round trip rate of one and one-half fares to Detroit during the ten days of the thorough investigation of the Exposition proved to them its great educational and entertainment value.

Government Trophy Exhibit

Realizing that the Michigan State Fair is a great common gathering ground for the residents of the State, the federal government has installed a gigantic industrial and war exhibit. Hundreds of trophies collected by our

NORTHVILLE, MICH., AUG. 29, 1919

AND NORTHVILLE WON.

The ball game staged here last Saturday for the $200 purse as advertised between the Northville Independents and Howell Tigers was all of fast and furious for eight innings. The loyal ball fans were not disappointed in the least and 700 spectators got away with a five dollar amusement for the small admission of thirty cents. The few skeptical ones who often imagine that the game might be a ruse and that ball games are not played on the square had all that soon taken out of them and will hereafter take a different view. In fact, both teams played like gentlemen and professional players, the umpires officiated like league material and the fans "rooted" like real fans "root".

The entire diamond was surrounded by occupants in automobiles, the side lines were covered with enthusiasts and even the grandstand across the race track was filled with onlookers. In spite of the large crowd, manager German insisted that the umpires should keep the crowd away from the diamond and give the visitors a fair opportunity to pull down the purse of $200. If their skill at ball was better than the Northville team.

It was the first time the first inning for the Howell Tigers secured three hits and as many runs and a number of the Northville spectators on the side lines figured on working overtime the next week. Men pulled hats down further over their eyes and ladies carried dreamy expressions while the small boys and girls ceased eating their popcorn and popcorn.

In the second inning however the local boys managed to drive in two runs being still one behind.

From then on until the eighth the game still stood 3 to 2 in Howell's favor, and both the opposing pitchers German and Currenden were pitching a great game for their honor and purse. German showing not a bit past second and had struck out twelve batters while Currenden had given out boys by a few surprising hits.

Then came the eighth inning for Howell and the boys from the Northville line were very anxious and maybe in a panic. The home team started to lead on the eighth inning and no score was made in the eighth. The boys from Northville were still one behind.

Pitcher Currenden on the eighth inning he had thrown the ball game and entered the game in the eighth inning. Then he got a home run and a home run and a home run.

Then he got a home run and a home run and a home run. Then he got a home run and a home run and a home run. Then he got a home run and a home run and a home run.

Schafer, who presided over the territory between second and third made a nice stop and a put-out at second just as though he was at his work in the bank at Carleton. Carl Stimpson held down third base, gathered in everything that came his way and in everying in a double play which made the spectators sit up and take notice. He was in the game every minute and it would have taken more than a telephone ring to have stopped him. Tousey in right field looked after that garden and kept the weeds and ball out of the ground. He also got a good smish at the ball as usual. Jay Simpson was on his tip-toes every time he saw the ball coming toward center field and when he gets his eye on the ball it drops in his gut like a stone in a well.

Then, there was in right field a Veteran ball player, Fred Moffatt, who could not display his skill in the field as he did not have a chance. So he took it upon himself to do his part when he came to bat. This he did as he made two hits and started the game in the eighth for Northville, when he laid down a bunt with two men on. It was in this inning that our boys went by the unfortunate visitors and it was the end of a perfect day.

Fee—Chemistry and Physics $1.50 per semester.

Fee—Athletics—Grades 7-12 50c per semester.

In order to systematize the athletics fee of 50 cents per semester will be required of all students in grades 7-12.

This fee will admit the students with out charge to all football games this fall and baseball games in the spring.

The schedule calls for five football games which make the cost at 10 cents per game. This will be a considerable saving over the old plan of charging an admission at the gate.

CHAPTER XIV—Continued.

Lying there, he made swift calculations. The quarry, no longer of use to the builder, was reasonably sure to be abandoned. In all probability some sort of a stone-cutter's shed would be found nearby. It would provide shelter from the fine rain that was falling and from the chill night air. He remembered that O'Dowd, in discussing the erection of Green Fancy the night before, had said that the stone came from a pit two miles away, where a fine quality of granite had been found. Two miles, according to Barnes' quick calculations, would bring the pit close to the northern boundary of the Curtis property and almost directly on a line with the point where he and Sprouse entered the meadow at the beginning of their advance upon Green Fancy. That, being the case, they were now quite close to the stake and rider fence separating the Curtis land from that of the farmer on the north.

"Good," he said, more to himself than to her. "I begin to see light. Are you afraid to remain here while I go down there for a look around? I shan't be gone more than a couple of minutes."

"The way I feel at present," she said, jerkily, "I shall never, never from this instant till the hour in which I die let go of your coat-tails, Mr. Barnes." Snuffing the action to the world, her fingers resolutely fastened, not upon the tail of his coat but upon his sturdy arm. "I wouldn't stay here alone for anything in the world."

"Heaven bless you," he exclaimed, suddenly exalted. "And, since you put it that way, I shall always contrive to be within arm's length."

And so, together, they ventured along the edge of the pit until they reached the wagon road at the bottom. As he had expected, there was a ramshackle shed hard by. It was not much of a place, but it was deserted and a safe shelter for the moment.

A workman's bench lay on its side in the middle of the earthen floor. He righted it and drew it over to the boarding. She laid her head against his shoulder and sighed deeply. He kept his eyes glued on the door and listened for the first ominous sound outside. A long time afterward she stirred.

"Are you cold? You are wet—"

"It was the excitement, the nervousness, Mr. Barnes," she said, drawing slightly away from him. "Isn't it nearly daybreak?"

He looked at his watch. "Three o'clock," he said.

There ensued another period of silence. She remained slightly aloof. "You'd better lean against me," he said at last. "I am softer than the best boards, you know, and quite as harmless."

"Thank you," she said, and promptly settled herself against his shoulder. "It is better," she sighed.

"Would you mind telling me something about yourself, Miss Cameron? I should like to know whether I am to address you as princess, duchess, or—just plain Miss."

owners, Mr. Barnes—a loyal prince of the blood.

"But why here?" he insisted. "He was to take them into Canada, and thence, in good time, to the palace of his ancestors."

"I am to understand, then, that not only you but the committee you speak of, fell into a carefully prepared trap. The treachery, therefore, and its inception in the loyal past. You were betrayed by a friend."

"I am sure of it," she said bitterly. "If this man Sprouse does not succeed in restoring the—oh, I believe I shall kill myself, Mr. Barnes."

"The wall of anguish in her voice went straight to his heart. He has succeeded, take my word for it. They will be in your hands before many hours have passed."

"Is he to come to the Tavern with them? Or am I to meet him—"

"Good Lord!" he gulped. Here was a contingency he had not considered. Where and when would Sprouse appear with his booty? "I fancy you'll find him waiting for us at the Tavern."

"But had you go understanding?"

"—tentatively." The perspiration started on his brow. He was thinking of something else: his amazing stupidity in not foreseeing the very situation that now presented itself. Why had he neglected to settle upon a meeting place with Sprouse in the event that circumstances forced them to part company in flight? Fearing that she would pursue the subject, he made haste to branch off onto another line.

"What is the real object of the conspiracy up there, Miss Cameron?"

"You must bear with me a little longer, Mr. Barnes," she said, appealingly. "I cannot say anything now."

"You said that tomorrow night would be too late. What did you mean by that?"

She waited a few seconds and then removed her head from his shoulder. He heard the sharp intake of her breath and felt the convulsive movement of the arm that rested against his. There was no mistaking her sudden agitation.

"I will tell you," she said, and he was surprised by the harshness that came into her voice. "Tomorrow morning was the time set for my marriage to that wretch up there. I could have avoided it only by destroying myself. If you had come tomorrow night instead of tonight you would have found me dead, that is all. Now you understand."

"Good God! You—were to be forced into a marriage with—why, it is the most damnable—" "O'Dowd—God bless him!—was my only champion. He knew my father. He—"

"Listen!" he hissed, starting to his feet.

"Don't move!" came from the darkness outside. "I have my gun leveled. I heard me name taken in vain. Thanks for the blessing. I was wondering whether you would say some—"

"Mr. Barnes, I cannot answer any one of your questions without jeopardizing a cause that is dearer to me than anything else in all the world. I am sorry. I pray God a day may soon come when I can reveal everything to you—and to the world. I am of a stricken country; I am trying to serve the unhappy house that has ruled it for centuries and is now in the direst peril. The man you know as Loeb is a prince of that house. I may say this to you, and it will serve to explain my position at Green Fancy: he is not the prince I was led to believe awaited me there. He is the cousin of the man I expected to meet, and he is the enemy of the branch of the house that I would serve. Do not ask me to say more."

"Your sympathies are with the entente allies, the prince's are opposed? Is that part of Sprouse's story true?"

"Yes."

"And O'Dowd?"

"O'Dowd is anti-English, Mr. Barnes, if that conveys anything to you. He is not pro-German."

"Wasn't it pretty risky for you to carry the crown jewels around in a traveling bag, Miss Cameron?"

"I suppose so. It turned out, however, that it was the safest, surest way. I had them in my possession for three days before coming to Green Fancy. No one suspected. I was to deliver them to one of their rightful owners, Mr. Barnes—a loyal prince of the blood."

Buy Your Coal Direct From Mine—Big Saving

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past. At least, there are no complaints on this account since the removal of government restrictions among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can now buy at mine prices, whether a household buyer or one who has a large tonnage a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 935 So. Dearborn St., Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save, every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co. at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use. Not Necessarily Amused.

Australians Fond of Meat.
Australians' appetites are quite robust, judging by recent statistics, which show that the average Australian eats every year 264 pounds of meat, which works out at an average of two sheep and one-fifth of a bullock for every man, woman and baby in Australia! He eats more than twice as much as the average Englishman, three times as much as the average Frenchman, and four times as much as the average German or Swiss. In addition he consumes about three and three-quarter hundredweights of wheat, two and a half hundredweights of potatoes, and almost one hundredweight of sugar. If he is a Tasmanian he eats a quarter of a ton of potatoes in a year.

COULD NOT SLEEP

Mr. Schleusner in Misery From Kidney Complaint. Doan's Gave Complete Relief.

"Heavy work brought on my kidney complaint," says Wm. Schleusner, 6408 Suburban Ave., Westport, Mo. "One morning when shooting a horse I was taken with a sudden pain in my back and fell flat on the floor. If I had been hit with a trip hammer, I couldn't have suffered more. I stayed in the house for five weeks and the pain was wearing the life out of me. At times, I couldn't get a wink of sleep because of the misery and I had to get up every few moments to pass the secretions that were highly colored, of foul odor, filled with sandy sediments and terribly scalding. My bladder felt as though it were aflame. The pain brought stupor and a reeling sensation in my head; the torture of it cannot be described. If I got onto my feet I couldn't walk but felt dizzy and all in a flutter and everything would turn black. My head ached so it seemed as though my eyes were being dragged out. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills and I was soon rid of all the trouble. Subscribed and sworn to before me. C. H. COGGESHALL, Notary Public.

Would Have Been Better for Jinks If His Fourth Friend Had Been First He Met.

First Friend—Hello, Jinks, that's a bad cold you have. Soak your feet in boiling water and drink a pint of hot vinegar and treacle. It's a sure cure.

Second Friend (a few moments later)—By Jove, Jinks, you ought to do something for that cold! Take a big dose of quinine—sure thing every time.

Third Friend (ten minutes later)—I say, Jinks, there's no use coughing yourself into the grave like that. Get a bottle of Curequick—stop it in ten minutes.

Fourth Friend—Got a bad cold, haven't you?
Jinks (after waiting some time)—Well, do you know a sure cure?

Fourth Friend (hoarsely)—No. There's no cure. Got a bad cold myself.—Pearson's Weekly.

Is it Possible to Legislate Life and Brains?

Swift & Company is primarily an organization of men, not a collection of brick, mortar, and machinery.

Packing Plants, their equipment and usefulness are only outward symbols of the intelligence, life-long experience, and right purpose of the men who compose the organization and of those who direct it.

Will not Government direction of the packing industry, now contemplated by Congress, take over the empty husk of physical property and equipment and sacrifice the initiative, experience and devotion of these men, which is the life itself of the industry?

What legislation, what political adroitness could replace such life and brains, once driven out?

MANY MARMALADES.

Marmalades may be prepared from various kinds of fruit. The apple is perhaps the best-known. A conserve, which is a marmalade of mixtures of fruit is always an addition to any menu. Here are a few worth keeping and handing down.

Orange Marmalade.—Take one dozen oranges, half a dozen lemons, peel very thin and remove the white inner rind. Chop the rind very fine, or put through the meat-grinder, also grind the pulp. To a pint of pulp and rind add one and one-quarter pints of water; boil twenty minutes. Remove from the heat and let stand twenty-four hours, then measure and add one and one-quarter quarts of sugar to one quart of pulp. Boil an hour and a half, or until the fruit is thick.

Amber Marmalade.—Take one each of large grapefruit, orange and lemon, wash and wipe and cut fine; shred the peeling in thin strips, discarding the seeds. Add three and a half quarts of cold water and let stand over night. The next day cook until the peel is very tender and again set aside over night. The next day add five pounds of sugar and cook until the syrup is thick. Store as jelly.

Golden Marmalade.—This is a marmalade which takes the place of the more expensive orange marmalade and is very tasty and wholesome. Scrape and put through a meat chopper one and one-half pounds of carrots, two lemons and the same measure of sugar. Cook the carrots in as little water as possible, add the lemons, also ground (removing the seeds). When well cooked, add the sugar and cook until thick, stirring carefully to keep the mixture from burning. Put in glasses as any other marmalade.

Tomato Conserve.—Take four quarts of ripe, fine tomatoes; add four pounds of sugar, six large lemons and one cupful of raisins. Prepare as usual and cook until thick. Seal in glasses.

Four seeds I drop in every hill,
One for the worm to harm,
One for the frost to kill,
And two for the barn.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

A delicious way of serving beets, the tender young ones, is to cook them until tender; then chop and pour over a well-seasoned French dressing and serve as a vegetable.

Creamed Eggs With Sardines.—Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter, add one-fourth of a cupful of bread crumbs and a cupful of tuna cream, bring to the boiling point; then add two hard-cooked eggs finely chopped, a half a box of sardines freed from the skin and bones, and salt, pepper and paprika to taste. Bring again to the boiling point and serve at once.

Drop Cookies.—Cream one-fourth of a cupful of shortening, add one-third of a cupful of ginger syrup and half a cupful of strained honey with one egg slightly beaten. Mix and sift two and three-fourths cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of cream of tartar, one teaspoonful of soda and half a teaspoonful of salt. Add to the first mixture, beat well, drop from the tip of a teaspoon onto a buttered sheet and bake in a moderate oven.

Spanish Ragout.—In a deep casserole put some fat or oil, slice a few onions and add a clove or two of garlic, a little mace, salt and pepper, brown well then lay on top of these vegetables a pig's liver with very little water, just enough to keep from burning. Cover and cook two hours. The liver will shrink and absorb most of the contents of the pan. When cold it slices nicely.

Newport Pound Cake.—Cream seven-eighths of a cupful of butter, add one and a half cupfuls of flour gradually, and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat the yolks of five eggs until thick and lemon colored and add one and a half cupfuls of powdered sugar gradually. Combine the mixtures, add the whites of the eggs beaten stiff and sift over one teaspoonful of baking powder. Beat thoroughly, turn into a deep buttered cake pan and bake one hour in a moderate oven.

Mustard Pickles.—To a gallon of vinegar add one-half cupful of mustard, one cupful of salt and two cupfuls of brown sugar. Drop in the pickles as they are gathered; cover with horseradish leaves. Be sure to put in store for winter a few quarts of cherries prepared as follows: Wash the cherries unstemmed and place in a fruit jar; half fill the jar with good vinegar and fill with cold water, add a teaspoonful of salt to a quart and seal as usual. They make a delicious pickle to serve in the place of olives.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proved to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Best Way to Sleep Well.

The ever genial "Dagoneet," who says "there is a good way to lie in bed, and a bad way," will have to be careful of the will-reawaken an old-medical controversy. "It is better," says "Dagoneet," "to lie on your right side than your left. This gives more freedom for the action of the heart."

Now, Pre. Chavese, in his famous "Advice to a Mother," has laid it down that you will improve both the health and figure of a child if you train him to "change about" on the right side one night, on the left another, and occasionally on his back.

But other doctors have held widely different views.—London Chronicle.

GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER

In the good old summer time when fruits of all kinds are getting ripe and tempting, when cucumbers, radishes and vegetables fresh from the garden are too good to resist, when the festive picnic prevails and everybody overcasts and your stomach goes back on you, then is the time for "August Flower," the sovereign remedy for tired, overworked and disordered stomachs, a panacea for indigestion, fermentation of food, sour stomach, sick headache and constipation. It gently stimulates the liver, cleanses the intestines and alimentary canal, making life worth living. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Same Toe.

This youngster is one of the type that constantly is falling over something. He has entire summers of sore toes because he "stumps" them. His mother, wearying of tving up his wounds, said to him on his most recent call for first aid:

"Son, if you stomp another toe I'm going to punish you."

An hour later she heard the familiar yelp. He had gone down in action again.

"Another toe," the mother murmured. She prepared to make her word good. "I told you I'd whip you if you stumped another toe. Come in the house."

"No, mother, you're wrong," the boy whined appealingly. "This is the same toe."

"Floral" Ruffians.

Primroses, which are now adding to the color of London streets, were taken by Ruskin for his type of "flowers of gracious breeding," and they are invariably represented by poets as floral "ruffians." This is strange, for it is all quite contrary to the facts in nature.

Primroses are really floral ruffians, to which they owe their "survival" in the fierce "struggle for existence" among wild flowers. They are hardly Alpine plants, found on mountainous heights throughout Europe and Asia even on the highest ranges of the Himalayas.

They also seem to be rather poisonous, though alleged by Lord Beaconsfield to make an admirable salad. Except pigs no animals will eat primroses. Their bloom with impunity in a rabbit warren.—London Chronicle.

Paying Institution.

A recent report to the state department on business conditions in and around the municipality of Bangor, England, stated that the cemetery was the only city institution which made money last year.

These consular reports, by the way, usually are masterpieces of anti-climax. In the most high-flown language they present the compliments of the consul to the "Honorable the Secretary of State" and then, freewheeling, beg to leave to inclose a clipping on the beanbag blight in Patagonia, or some other thing of equal import.

Climbers.

"The Notmuch family are great aspirants for social honors, are they not?"

"I should say so. Why, they're such climbers that they have even named their youngest daughter Ivy."—Boston Transcript.

The Lure of Conquest.

BELCHING Caused by Acid-Stomach

Let EATONIC, the wonderful modern stomach remedy, give you quick relief from disgusting belching, food-repeating, indigestion, bloated, gassy stomach, dyspepsia, heartburn and other stomach troubles. They are all caused by Acid-Stomach from which about nine people out of ten suffer in one way or another. One writes as follows: "Before I used EATONIC, I could not eat a bite without belching it right up, sour and bitter. I have not had a bit of trouble since the first tablet."

Millions are victims of Acid-Stomach without knowing it. They are weak and ailing, have poor digestion, bodily improperly-nourished although they may eat heartily. Cirrhosis of the liver, intestinal congestion, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach—these are only a few of the many ailments often caused by Acid-Stomach.

A sufferer from Catarrh of the Stomach of 11 years' standing writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach for 11 long years and I never found anything to do me any good—just temporary relief—until I used EATONIC. It is a wonderful remedy and I do not want to be without it."

If you are not feeling quite right—lack energy and enthusiasm and don't know just where to locate the trouble—try EATONIC and see how much better you will feel in every way.

HAD AN EYE TO THE FUTURE

Farmer May Not Have Known Much About Music, but He Was a Bear on Economy.

A hard-working farmer in Ohio had sent his son to a good school of music so that he might receive the best instruction from the beginning. It was necessary to buy a violin for him but he was such a little chap that his teacher thought that a so-called "half violin" would do. The father, whose resources had been badly taxed, was loath to part with the money for the instrument, but finally did so.

The lad made rapid progress and became so proficient that a half-violin was no longer good enough for him. Again he went to the music store with his father, to whom the salesman showed the entire stock of violins. The parent was apparently dissatisfied with all of them and his gaze wandered around the shop seeking for something better. Finally he saw a violincello.

"We'll take that big violin there," said he, as a smile of satisfaction spread over his countenance. "The boy won't outgrow that right away."

This Cat an Exception.

The wife met her husband at the door on his return from his day's labor.

"Oh, George," she said, "we just had a visit from a black cat."

"That's nice," said hubby. Black cats are lucky, you know."

"Yes; this one certainly was. He ran away with the steak I was going to cook for you!"

Object of Suspicion.

"This fellow has an easy air on the witness stand."

"It's an old story to him. He's used to being cross-examined by congressional committees."

How so?
