MUST CONSERVE FUEL COAL VERY SCARCE

In order to meet the present critical conditions in the matter of coal, patrons of the Detroit Edison company are requested to conserve electric current, both for power and lighting service. Users of electric power are requested to curtail their uses of service to the amount of one-fifth of their normal demands and users of electricity for lighting purposes are urged to turn off all needless lights.

That current may be conserved in Northville it has been decided to request all merchants to close their stores at six o'clock and not to open in the morning until it is light enough to get along without turning on the electricity.

The fuel situation in Northville has been critical for some time and local dealers have been unable to secure enough coal thus far to meet the demands of the public or to fill orders already booked. Two car loads of coal consigned to one of the local dealers has been on the siding here for three weeks and more waiting for the fuel administration to "cut the red tape" so the cars might be unloaded, and their contents distributed to those who are in need of fuel. All over the country there are countless cars of coal waiting in a similar manner, and thus cars are held up and the people are deprived of needed fuel.

LAPHAM-NICHOLS.

The marriage of Miss Dora L. Nichols, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nichols of Novi and Luther B. Lapham of Northville took place at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday evening December 10, at 7:30. The ceremony which was performed by Rev. F. A. Brass of Wixom was witnessed only by the immediate family, after which a wedding supper was served. The young couple will live in this village, Mr. Lapham being in the employ of F. W. Lyke. The bride is a very charming girl and held in high esteem by all who know her, and their many friends extend congratulations and best wishes for a happy wedded life. They will be at home to their many friends after January 1st, at 126 North Center street, where the young people have purchased a residence.

This happy event occurred on the fifth anniversary of the marriage of the bride's brother, and the same minister performed the ceremony.

TRAIN SERVICE CURTAILED.

Because of the scarcity of fuel train service on many of the railways of the country has been greatly curtailed, and the number will necessarily be increased if present conditions continue. There has been no change on the local branch of the Pere Marquette though it may be necessary to make some change in the schedule.

Express for Flint, Saginaw and Bay City and points beyond is now being handled in special express trains while present local trains are serving local points. The addition of the special trains was made necessary because of the delays that were caused by loading and unloading express at the cities along the line.

COMMITTEE TO FIX PRICES.

A meeting of the sugar beet growers of the state was held at Saginaw Monday for the purpose of considering prices for the 1920 crop. As a result of the conference a committee was appointed to draft a contract with the manufacturers for the 1920 crop, and urged all farmers to sign only such contracts as this committee approves. They set no definite price for 1920 beets. This committee was also authorized to form a permanent state organization.

GRISWOLD-CUNNINGHAM.

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Jennie White, on Saturday evening, December 6th at six o'clock, when her daughter, Mrs. Mattie Cunningham was united in marriage to Dean F. Griswold of this place, Rev. E. V. Belles of the Presbyterian church performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Griswold will reside in this village in their home on Dunlap street. Both bride and groom are well known in Northville and have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Prof. R. A. Babcock, superintendent of the Farmington schools was married to Miss Elizabeth Milne of Standish, Nov. 27. They will reside in Farmington.

South Lyon—A pretty home wedding took place Saturday afternoon when Helen Joy Griswold became the bride of Bert Cook of Howell. The young couple will reside at Howell.

CONTRACTS SOON TO BE AWARDED

Plans and specifications for the new building to be erected for the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanitarium west of this village have been completed and accepted by the board of health of the city of Detroit. It is expected, says the Free Press, that bids will be asked for in January so that construction may be started as early in the spring as possible.

Appropriation for the hospital was granted two years ago by the common council, but issuance of bonds was held back by the war.

As planned, the hospital will have accommodations for 300 beds, 100 in the infirmary building, with a separate room for each patient, and 200 in the building for "ambulatory" patients or those whose cases are not sufficiently advanced to confine them to a bed. Other buildings provided for are a nurses' home, with accommodations for 35, a building for administrative purposes, another to house the hospital employees, and one for a power house.

"With such a hospital in actual operation, Detroit will rank as one of the foremost cities in the country in hospital accommodations," said Dr. Henry F. Vaughan, health commissioner, Friday. "The benefit to the city itself will be incalculable, for with a tuberculosis hospital here, Detroit residents will be saved thousands of dollars which would have been spent in traveling to Denver, or other parts of the country, in an effort to effect a cure."

A complete system of roads has been laid out on the property belonging to the city and upon which the new institution is to be located. This work was supervised by Superintendent A. H. Garvin and William H. Newbury, and when the drives are completed the grounds will present a very attractive appearance.

PLANS BETTER SCHOOL FOR RURAL DISTRICTS.

A metropolitan school system for county is planned by W. B. Arbaugh, former superintendent of the Ypsilanti schools, who took office Monday as county educational director. Prof. Arbaugh will work for uniformity in the grading and transfer systems of Wayne county and Detroit schools. Because of errors in the present transfers of students through the dependent system of recording the county, it is believed that Wayne county has lost several thousand dollars of the primary school interest fund given by the state for the conduct of county schools.

A uniform course of study in all of the village schools will be one of the changes brought about in Wayne county that will be of universal benefit.

NORTHVILLE TEAM WINS.

The Packard Bowling team of Detroit, of which Charley Johnstone is a member, was defeated last Thursday night at the Hinkley ally by the Northville Bowlers. As the visiting team were on their way home after the game, the back wheels of the automobile in which they were riding, became caught in the car tracks at the foot of Main street and at the sharp turn one of the wheels was torn from the car. However no one was injured.

A FORMER FARMINGTON MAN KILLED.

Milton Drumheller, Earl Christy and A. S. Williamson were killed Tuesday afternoon about 2 o'clock at Romeo. All three were employed by the Detroit Edison company and were at work two miles south of the village, when a north-bound D. U. R. car struck their automobile. Mr. Drumheller was a former resident of Farmington.

DIED AT NOVI.

Mrs. Johanna Moeren died at the home of her son, M. L. Moeren, at Novi, last Friday, aged 74 years and ten months. She is survived by her son and two daughters, Mrs. Anna M. Richenback of Detroit and Mrs. Susan G. Ford of Los Angeles. Funeral service were held at her late home on Monday afternoon at three o'clock and burial took place at Grand Lawn cemetery at Redford.

DOUBLE BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR

"Danderine" creates mass
of thick, gleamy waves

In a few moments you can transform your plain, dull, flat hair. You can have it abundant, soft, glossy and full of life. Just get at any drug or toilet counter a small bottle of "Danderine" for a few cents. Then moisten a soft cloth with the "Danderine" and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Instantly, yes, immediately, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will be a mass, so soft, lustrous and so easy to do up. All dust, dirt and excessive oil is removed.

Let Danderine put more life, color, vigor, and brightness in your hair. This stimulating tonic will freshen your scalp, check dandruff and falling hair and help your hair to grow long, thick, strong and beautiful.—Adv.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

We mount to heaven mostly on the ruins of our cherished schemes, finding our failures were success.

DISHES FOR OCCASIONS.

Some of these dishes may be a little too expensive for every day, but will be enjoyed as a company dish.

Roast Goose.—Single the goose and wash in hot soda water, scrubbing gently with a small brush. Rinse and dry well before drawing. Stuff with any desired stuffing such as sage and onion, apple and prunes, potato or chestnut filling. Lay thin slices of pork over the breast and bake in a hot oven for an hour. Then pour off all the fat, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and bake until tender, basting frequently and dredging with flour each time. A small goose should bake two hours, if basted often. Remove the goose from the pan, add browned flour and water to make the gravy. Season to taste. Garnish with apple cups or baskets filled with apple sauce.

Celery Stack.—Take "fine," deep-greened celery without removing the leaves. Fill the stalks with mayonnaise mixed with cream and paprika. Arrange in the form of a stack on a handsome plate.

Scalloped Oysters.—Take one quart of oysters, one-half cupful of melted butter, two cupfuls of crumbs, half a cupful of cream, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, salt and pepper to taste. Butter as shallow baking dish and sprinkle it a half-inch deep with crumbs. Put in half of the oysters and pour over them half of the butter and half of the lemon juice mixture. Then add another layer of oysters, the remaining oysters and butter with lemon juice. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Strain half a cupful of the oyster liquor. Add to it the cream and pour slowly over the oysters. Bake in a brisk oven for twenty minutes.

Caramel Blanc Manger.—Mix one and one-half tablespoonfuls of gelatin with three tablespoonfuls of water. Cook half a cupful of sugar to a dark brown syrup. Add the gelatin together with three cupfuls of cream, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, a pinch of salt and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Strain into a wet mold and turn out when firm. Decorate with stars of whipped cream and preserved cherries.

Nothing great is lightly won,
Nothing won is lost,
Every good deed nobly done
Will repay the cost.

SEASONABLE DAINTIES.

Cranberries in any form add much to the menu; the following will be something a little different—
Make a stiff cranberry jelly and before molding stir in grated coconut. Serve as a dessert with whipped cream.

Salmon and Green Pea Salad.—Arrange a nest of water cress or shredded lettuce; on this heap cold, flaked salmon. Arrange the peas in small spoonfuls around the dish. Serve with mayonnaise.

Chicken Pudding En Casserole.—Stew two chickens until tender; remove from the liquor and put into a casserole, cover with the following batter: Sift two cupfuls of flour with a teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of pepper; add gradually three well beaten eggs, one cupful of milk and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Mix and beat until smooth. Cover and bake one hour. Serve garnished with parsley.

Mexican Rice.—This is nice to serve with the chicken pudding. Cook four tablespoonfuls of rice in two cupfuls of chicken liquor, with a tablespoonful of chopped green pepper, half a cupful of tomato, one shredded onion, one tablespoonful of butter, half a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of cayenne. Cook for ramekins for one hour. Cover with buttered crumbs and brown.

Celeried Oysters.—To two cupfuls of rich white sauce add one quart of drained oysters and one cupful of chopped celery. Cook until the oysters are done. Garnish the dish with a wreath of parsley and radishes.

Creamed Corn.—Take a pint of corn and beat with a pint of rich cream sauce; season to taste and turn into a deep buttered baking dish. Cover with buttered crumbs and brown. Serve garnished with a border of popped corn edged with parsley.

Baked Apples With-Sausage Filling.—Core tart apples and fill with seasoned sausage meat; bake in a moderate oven until tender. Arrange the apples on rounds of buttered toast and pour a spoonful of melted butter over each. Serve very hot with a garnish of small fried sausages and parsley.

FLU CAUSES SIX DEATHS IN CHICAGO

The weekly bulletin of the health department issued yesterday, shows that six persons died in Chicago last week as result of influenza. Dr. W. A. Evans, health authority and writer of Chicago, last week predicted that the world would again be swept by an epidemic of influenza far more severe than last year, when thousands of lives were lost. One thing is sure, that is, the warm weather this fall has kept the epidemic down, but as colder weather approaches, influenza is liable to break out any time. Dr. Brady says: "No one has as yet discovered a positive method of diagnosis, early cases of influenza from alleged 'colds.' The utmost care should be taken, therefore, not to catch cold, for colds weaken the resistance to influenza germs.

Doctors seem to agree that it is much easier to prevent influenza than to cure it. The secret of preventing influenza is to keep the germs from lodging and developing in the respiratory organs—the mouth, nose and throat. No one should be allowed to breathe in your face because the germs are often transmitted in this manner.

Influenza can be prevented; last year's results prove that. As a preventive for flu, Turpo has been a pronounced success. Turpo is an effective germicide, combining the old-fashioned remedies of turpentine (which has always been known as the best home germicide) camphor and menthol in a pure mineral base. These ingredients have long been recognized as effective germicides, as well as having really wonderful qualities in relieving colds and congestions. Snuff a little Turpo up the nostrils several times a day, and the flu germs will have little chance of getting a lodging and breeding place. Many physicians and hospitals use and recommend Turpo.

Prepare now. Buy a thirty cent jar of Turpo, while your druggist has a supply on hand, and use as directed. Last year druggists could not supply the demand. Remember that Turpo is a preventive not a cure for influenza. Take care of yourself.—Adv.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do. Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Catarhal Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. WORKING FOR BETTER BULLS

Missouri Community Disposes of Eighteen Nondescripts, Using Six Purebreds Instead.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

How a bull association transformed a community with 18 nondescript bulls into a community with one-third that number of good purebred sires from high producing ancestors is explained by an extension worker of the dairy division.

When a bull association was started in a community in Webster county, Missouri, the best bull in the community became a standard for the bulls selected by the bull association.

The Type of Animal That Is Gaining Popularity Because of the "Better Sire, Better Stock" Campaign.

All of the new bulls, then, are as good or better than the best bull that was in the community before.

Before the bull association was organized the 18 bulls in the community were valued at $1,355, an average of $75.28. One of two of these bulls were purebreds and the rest were largely grades and scrubs of mixed dairy and beef breeding. After the association was formed these nondescripts were disposed of and six purebred dairy bulls were purchased at a total cost of $1,657, an average of $276 an animal.

The more efficient utilization of the association bulls resulting from organization of the association made it possible for the six purebred bulls to take the place of the 18 bulls formerly maintained. The reduction in the number of bulls also resulted in a corresponding reduction in the cost of maintenance to be charged to each cow.

The improvement in the quality of the bulls seemed to have a marked effect on the class of cows kept in the herds, and in less than one year after the association was formed the number of purebred females in the community increased from two in July, 1918, to 42 the following June. The large amount of good which resulted from the transformation of a scrub-bull community into a community of good purebred sires is an agricultural improvement hard to parallel, especially when it is considered that this change was made with an expenditure of only $10 more per farmer, and that the use of good sires will result in a lasting improvement to dairy cattle of the community.

FAVOR RAISING FALL CALVES

Expert of South Dakota College Gives Reasons Why Farmers Will Find It Profitable.

Several reasons why farmers find it more profitable to raise fall calves are given as follows by Prof. C. Lauson of South Dakota State college:

A cow that freshens in the fall will produce about 20 per cent more milk during the year than one that calves in the spring.

Dairy products bring the farmer about a third more money than milk fed calves.

Calves dropped in the fall will do well under good winter care and when spring arrives they are ready for pasture with the other young cattle.

Avoid mating too early in the fall. Wait until December and January.

Wait until December and January.

DAIRY NOTES

Nail up that loose board on the cow stable.

Pumpkins make a good feed for dairy cows.

Before milking wash the cow's udders and flanks and wipe with a damp cloth.

Keep the milk tightly covered at all times, and protect utensils from flies and dust.

It is equally important that the cow barn be kept clean and an abundance of good bedding thrown around at all times.

In dairying labor may be utilized at a more uniform rate throughout the year than in nearly any other farm business.

For the complete development of a calf it is necessary that its mother be properly fed and cared for before the calf is born.

HER ESCAPE

By MILDRED WHITE.

(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

Mollie caught her cloak from the hall rack, and pulled a velvet turban over her wavy hair.

"I have an errand down the street," she told the group around the fireplace. "I won't be gone more than ten minutes." But the clock on the mantel chimed seven, and still dinner waited.

At 7:30 Aunt Millicent called her guests for the evening meal.

"I don't see what has become of Mollie," she said, "she is always as good as her word."

"Perhaps," suggested Mollie's brother, Reverend James, "her errand may have been to see a sick person who needs help."

"You don't think an accident—" began Aunt Marie, from the city.

"If anything had happened, I should have heard by this time," Aunt Millicent decided comfortably. "Let's enjoy our dinner and be ready to receive the later guests when they come."

Mollie at that minute was flying along a moonlit road in a soft-rolling car, driven by a strange man whom Mollie had never seen. She was enjoying herself immensely; the crisp breeze of autumn fanned her rosy cheeks, and the pace and her unknown companion were traveling was exhilarating. It was all part of the witchery of the night—she told herself excitedly, borne of crackling leaves in the roadway and shadows rill and beckoning from the moonlit hills.

Mollie had been, during the course of her useful life, a well-disciplined young woman. Tonight the errand which urged her forth was to carry a glass of jelly to a protegee of hers in the old folks' home.

The old folks' home was set back from the road, and Mollie expected to leave the jelly and return at once to Aunt Millicent's party. She and Aunt Millicent were anxious to make a success of the little party that Mollie's brother, Reverend James, might feel proud in thus entertaining his friends.

Suddenly, as Mollie stepped out from the entrance of the old folks' home, and stood revealed in the brilliancy of the October moon, a long-legged automobile rolled toward her like an apparition of the night and immediately received her into its embrace.

"A man's voice, a pleasing, though commanding voice, had said peremptorily:

"Step in, please," and Mollie had "stepped in."

As the car went flying up the hill, Mollie was not dismayed at her own unquestioning obedience; instead, a sense of pleasurable adventure possessed her.

"Who sent you for me?" she asked her silent companion, "and who are you?"

The man, busy with the intricacies of the narrow road, cast a glance at her, but did not reply; he had brought the machine to a stop in a safely-sequestered corner.

"I was asked to pick up a Miss Hill at the old folks' home," he said. "It seemed she was visiting there, and a friend telephoned her that I would drive her further on to her destination."

"You are—Miss Hill?"

Mollie sat up very straight.

"I am not," she answered shortly.

The man looked suddenly into Mollie's face and she gazed back at him, wide-eyed.

Her long gaze proved strangely reassuring. It was a frank, manly face which regarded her wonderingly. Mollie smiled, and Mollie's smile was charming.

"We have both been mistaken," she explained. "I thought when you called, that my brother had sent one of his friends to hurry me home. You can drop me on your way back to the old folks' home. By this time Miss Hill is probably waiting."

The man uttered a low exclamation. "And I've brought you on here, out of your way," he said. "You must let me take you safely home before I call for Miss Hill." But Mollie objected.

"I couldn't think of troubling you so far," she replied. "You may let me out just where you found me."

Regretfully, the man turned the machine about.

"These hills are wonderful in the moonlight," he murmured. "Would you mind," he added impulsively, "if I rode on a bit farther to get a better view before taking you down?"

It was then that Mollie blamed the witchery of the night for the promptness of her eager consent.

When the car halted at last before the old folks' home the man turned to her.

"Let me drive you home," he begged, "after I have found my charge."

The arrival at Aunt Millicent's was strangely confusing. Reverend James rushed out to meet the car before it had barely stopped.

"So they found you, Miss Hill," he greeted. "And you, John Burrows; late, as usual. But wherever did you find my little sister?"

"John Burrows!" How often she had heard James refer to his friend in the city.

"I knew you at once from your pictures," John Burrows was whispering shamelessly in her ear.

Then, happily, they followed the others into the fire-lighted room.

The poet gives us the eminent experience only.—Emerson.

Sick for Five Years and Given Up

Pontiac, Mich.—A few years ago I was in a very bad state. I had been sick for about five years.

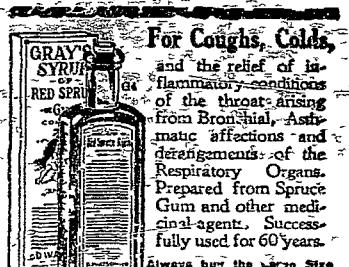

I had several different kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to give me any relief. One day I saw Dr. Pierce's medicines advertised and I got a bottle of "Golden Medical Discovery" and it began to help me. I felt that I had some other weakness so I got the "Favorite Prescription" and the "Pleasant Pellets" also, and these medicines cured me completely in just one year when I had doctored five years before. I feel very grateful to Dr. Pierce for my good health and keep his medicines in my home for immediate use. I consider they saved me lots of suffering and doctors' bills as well. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's medicines to many people and will gladly reply to anyone wanting to know about these medicines and what they did for me.—MRS. R. J. BALDWIN, 246 Norton Ave.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Can Now Eat Anything

Grand Rapids, Wis.—I have used Dr. Pierce's medicines and found them very beneficial. I had stomach trouble for about eight years. I had to be very careful what I would eat. I would be down all the time. I suffered something terrible about a year ago. I started to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two bottles put me in fine condition. I can eat anything and feel no distress. I had taken many medicines previous to this and had no effect. I am now well and happy. I feel free to give my name and what they did for me.—MRS. E. M. OESTERLE, 312 14th Ave., North.
