

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

VOL. L. NO. 25.

THE RECORD: NORTHVILLE, MICH., FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1920.

$1.50 PER YEAR, IN ADVANCE.

CANDY SPECIAL

Saturday, January 10

ORANGE CANDIES
LEMON ICES
FUDGES
PEANUT BARS

GUM DROPS
CHOCOLATE DROPS
ANISE DROPS
BURNED PEANUTS

37c POUND

Try San Tox, Garden Court and Nyal's Cold Creams for these Cold Winter winds.

Northville Drug Company

T. E. MURDOCK, Pharmacist.

JUST ARRIVED!

New Voiles, Lorraine Ginghams, Plisses, Lorraine Tissues. Those fabrics are much in demand for light weight dresses, and is our first showing of 1920 dress goods.

In a few days we will have in our new Percales; and until they arrive we will sell our present stock at 40c per yard.

When the price of Thread advanced we were prepared for it and until we buy again our price on Coats' Best Thread is 6c per spool. Our customers are stocking up. You are one of our customers.

Ladies' Jersey Gloves—White or Cream, trimmed in black. A few days' special at 50c pair.

Infants' half-wool Hose, 25c pair.

Don't overlook this—For a few days only, we are going to sell our Georgette and Crepe de Chine Waists

At One-Fourth Off
Regular Price

Lace Insertions 5c, 8c, 10c and 12½c per yard, are all on a special table

At 1c Per Yard

PONSFORD'S

Northville,

Michigan.

ATTENTION

FARMERS AND STOCK OWNERS!

For 25 years the Dr. Hess & Clark line of Stock remedies have been standard remedies all over the United States and Canada. We believe they give more value for your money than any other line today. Hess Stock Tonic, Poultry Panacea, Instant Louse Killer, Heave Remedy, Worm Remedy, and Dr. Hess' Dip are all sold by us and guaranteed to give satisfaction. We ask you to please call on us when in need of anything in this line.

A. E. STANLEY

The "REXALL" Store

NORTHVILLE,

MICHIGAN.

MISSING AMERICAN DEAD BEING FOUND.

A Grand Rapids dispatch to the Detroit Free Press contained the following which will be read by many Michigan people:

Mrs. Clay Hollister, who returned in November from France where she had spent nine months, probably will be called before the congressional committee investigating the care of American cemeteries in France.

Upon her return to the United States, Mrs. Hollister submitted a detailed report on this subject in which she said: "In general, I should report without hesitation that the care of the Americans who died overseas during the great war is being administered with conscientious faithfulness, ability and respect."

France has not yet begun to gather up her scattered graves among the million and a half who died in battle. England is slowly going over the shell-swept fields where her millions fell. Italy is but just now making her great cemetery on the road from Chateau Thierry to Reims.

The United States has found and gathered into more than 200 cemeteries over 95 per cent of those who died in France.

GLEAMERS ACQUIRE ARMOUR ELEVATORS.

Farmers in the Gleamer Organization in Michigan and neighboring states have completed the purchase of the Armour & Co. interests in Michigan, according to an announcement by Grant Sleeth, founder and head of the Gleamers, of which there are more than 70,000 in Michigan alone. The deal hands over to the farmers not only the biggest and best elevators in the United States, but an emphatic business organization, the headquarters being at Grand Rapids, formerly under the name of the Lewellyn Bean Co.

The Gleamer corporation with a capital stock of half a million will take over the buying and selling ends of the business at once, and Fred Lewellyn, President of the Lewellyn Bean Co., with his entire staff, in their present capacities, will join forces with the Gleamers. The Gleamer Cleaning House Association, with headquarters on Russell Street, Detroit, now owns and operates 14 buying stations and elevators, with an establishment in New York City, and numerous others contemplated.

The great Gleamer chain is entirely co-operative, and many thousands of Gleamer farmers are the stockholders sharing the work and the profit. By acquisition of the Argungo & Co. terminals, the farmers control not only the production of the food products but also to a large extent, the marketing to the consumers.

JUST SECURE LICENSES.

Beginning with the new year all real estate dealers or brokers doing business in Michigan must have a license. Licenses can be obtained from the Michigan Securities Commission at Lansing and the initial fee for a broker's license is $10.00, for a salesman's license $2.00, renewal fees will be $5.00 and $1.00 and new license must be secured at the beginning of each year.

Each broker and salesman licensed by the Commission will be given a certificate or license, and in the case of a salesman a pocket card will be issued setting forth the fact that he is a licensed salesman and the name of the broker for whom he is entitled to operate.

The broker's licensees must be displayed in his place of business and in case the broker has more than one office in the State, the Commission will issue duplicate licenses, one for each such branch office, for which there will be no charge.

Each broker must have at least one office or place of business in the State and each salesman must be registered with some one broker. He cannot register with more than one.

TRAINS STALLED AT HOLLY.

Our neighboring village of Holly had a large increase in population Sunday night and Monday, cause by the stalling of five passenger trains at the village Sunday night. The P. M. passenger going north and arriving at Holly at 6:47 was derailed causing a general tie up of the P. M. and Grand Trunk lines. There were three P. M. trains and two G. T. trains held there from Sunday night until well into Monday before the track could be cleared. Monday the 300 or more passengers were compelled to seek food and warmth from the good people of Holly.

MEN ENJOY SUPPER.

A splendid company of men enjoyed the supper prepared by the men of the Methodist church and served in the church parlor on Friday evening last. Delicious oyster soup with oodles of oysters, buns, pickles and refreshing coffee were generously served by the committee having the feed in charge and those who remained at home on account of the intense cold missed a good time. The cold outside had no effect upon the warmth of the hospitality extended to those who attended the gathering.

After the appetizing supper Rev. H. J. B. Marsh introduced Rev. Field, pastor of the Methodist church of Plymouth, who is chairman of the ministerial group composed of the pastors of Bedford, Farmington, Plymouth and Northville who gave an interesting and inspiring address in which he pointed out the part the laymen of the church must play in the great work now undertaken by the Methodist churches of America. He emphasized the fact that during all the history of the church laymen had had a large part in shaping the doctrines and policies of the church and in spreading the gospel. He urged personal work as the one best and most practical plan of working, and told in a most entertaining way of results obtained in communities where the men entered into the work of the church in the true spirit of Christian fellowship.

At the conclusion of Mr. Field's address, Charles A. Dolph, who is group chairman of the laymen of this district, gave an interesting and practical talk relative to the manner in which the men of the church can render service in this great movement. He also urged personal work as a strong factor in interesting men in the affairs of the church and in inducing them to enter upon the Christian life.

It is planned to hold a number of these gatherings during the winter and it is hoped that the attendance will be larger every time. Similar gatherings are having a wonderful influence in other communities and it is not too much to expect that the men of the Northville church will catch the spirit of the times.

HELPERS BURN THE MORTGAGE.

Rev. H. J. B. Marsh, pastor of the Methodist church, spent last week Tuesday night at Cheshoygan, where he acted as toastmaster at a banquet given in honor of the burning of the mortgage on the Methodist church property at that place. Some years ago, Mr. Marsh was sent to Cheshoygan to take up his work as pastor at that place. He found the church staggering under its weight of indebtedness and the members discouraged and disheartened. Fortunately for the cause he represented Mr. Marsh was able to look beyond the discouragements to inspire the members to make another effort to maintain the church. He spent five years there and at the end of his pastorate left the church and flock to another shepherd, who continued the good work he had started and with the passing of the years the church has prospered and now the society is free from debt.

MUST BE A STRONG CASE.

The Detroit Journal of last Wednesday stated that Sam and Ben Feldman were arraigned on Tuesday before U. S. Commissioner Hurd for alleged violation of the interstate commerce laws by stealing 100 bricks of cheese from a box car at Northville, Mich.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Joseph Guyette took a large, "fragrant" cheese into the courtroom as evidence. It was placed upon a table close to Commissioner Hurd.

"Look at the cheese, your honor," said one of the Feldman attorneys. "How could two small men like the respondents possibly steal?"

But his appeal was cut short by the commissioner, who ordered Marshall Guyette to remove the "fragrant" evidence from the court room to the incinerator.

O. E. S. MEETS TODAY.

Orient Chapter, O. E. S., will hold what gives every promise of being one of the most enjoyable meetings of the year this afternoon and to-night. The Chapter will convene at four o'clock when the initiatory work will be taken up. At 6:30 the brothers of the order will serve a banquet and at 7:30 the past worthy matrons of the Chapter will confer the degree upon a number of candidates.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cole were callers at Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weidman's of West Plymouth recently.

Just Received

(See front Show Window)

Delayed shipment of genuine "WELLER" Pottery Earthenware
Custard Cups 10c each
Mixing Bowls, 5-in. size, 15c; 6-in. size, 20c;
7-in., 30c; 8-in., 35c; 9-in., 45c; 10-in., 55c; 12-in., 75c.

Pitchers 1/2 pint, 35c; 2 pint, 40c; 3 pint, 50c;
4 pint, 65c.

Jet Tea Pots, 50c, 75c $1.00.

Pottery Handled Casseroles, $1.00 and 1.25.

Casserole Fillers, 1.00 and $1.25.

See front show window.

Make your selections now while these bargain prices are on.

ANYTHING IN THE HARDWARE LINE.

Open Monday and Wednesday Evenings until 8:00 o'clock.

JAMES A. HUFF, Hardware.

DO YOU WANT

An A-No. 1 Dairy Farm, consisting of 10 acres of fertile soil and 25 acres of good timber? I have one and it is priced to sell quickly. Can also show you a fine 92 acre or 80 acre farm on Grand River, beautifully located and rightly priced. Good specimen house in Northville.

MILO N. JOHNSON

NORTHVILLE

Do Not Be Alarmed About
the Unrest Prevailing
Throughout the Nation.

Let us all sit steady in the boat and right and justice will prevail. Maintain your citizenship and cultivate thrift. We will help and encourage you to succeed.

Bring us your Savings Account and get the habit of accumulating a little at a time;

4 Per Cent
Per Annum

Paid on Savings. Interest paid semi-annually.
$1.00 WILL OPEN YOUR ACCOUNT.

Northville
State Savings Bank

OFFICERS AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

L. A. Babbitt, President. Chas. H. Colburn.
R. C. Yorke, Vice-President. Don P. Yorke.
T. G. Richardson. C. W. Fisher, Cashier.

SPECIAL JANUARY SALES IN DETROIT

The Following Reliable Firms Solicit the Patronage of Shoppers. Courteous Attention, Prompt Service and a Welcome to Everybody.

THE JANUARY WHITE SALE

Offers an excellent opportunity to women who wish to buy dainty Lingerie at very inexpensive prices

Mail Orders Quickly Filled

Petticoats, . . .	$1.29 to $4.89	Corset Covers, . . .	99c to $1.49
Straight Chemise, . . .	$1.89	Night Gowns . . .	$1.49 to $2.89
Bloomers, . . .	99c and $1.49	Voile Dresses, . . .	$7.49
Dotted Silk Mull Gowns, $3.89		White Bungalow Aprons, $2.49

THE NORBRO SHOP

17 EAST GRAND RIVER AVENUE

Our 33rd Annual Sale

Closes the Greatest
Year in the History of

Annis Furs

MANY a woman has waited expectantly for this event, and will be glad to know that she can purchase Annis Furs at very substantial savings.

THERE are the same quality and styles as hitherto, and a selection that varies from the less expensive Muffs and Scarfs to the most luxurious Coats and Wraps.

WE invite you to see for yourself what is being shown in our Display Rooms.

Estab. 1887

Newton Annis

MANUFACTURER

239 Woodward, at Clifford

BUY WITH CONFIDENCE

Gentlemen—

We have started our sale of Men's Fine

Suits and Overcoats

Garments of quality for which the Baumgartner Shops are known among Detroiters of discriminating taste.

Any	$40 Overcoat or Suit, now	$32
Any	$50 Overcoat or Suit, now	$40
Any	$60 Overcoat or Suit, now	$48
Any	$70 Overcoat or Suit, now	$56
Any	$80 Overcoat or Suit, now	$64
Any	$90 Overcoat or Suit, now	$72
Any	$100 Overcoat or Suit, now	$80
Any	$125 Overcoat or Suit, now	$100

There is no "sale clothing" included in our offering, but the same grade of clothing we have built the Baumgartner reputation on, garments cut and tailored to our order by Kirschbaum Co., of Philadelphia and Hirsh-Wickwire Co., of Chicago.

BAUMGARTNER'S

Car. State and Griswold
Chamber of Commerce Bldg.

TWO STORES

Cor. Gd. River and Washington
Stevens Building

An Advance Statement

AS TO THE CELEBRATED

20% Off Sale at Brushaber's

We are nearly ready now for the start of the big annual 20% Off sale that has been the event of events each year to all who seek a real sale.

This annual sale at Brushabers has become a famous occasion not only to people in Detroit, but to all people throughout the entire state of Michigan.

Its customers come from all points throughout the state because no such sale exists anywhere, and the people know it.

We believe that the 1920 sale is going to be the most helpful and publicly used furniture sale that was ever held.

With plenty of goods of the right kind, and with plenty of sales and delivery people to take care of the tremendous crowds that will flock in we are going to be fully prepared to make the sale a tremendous success from start to finish.

Watch the Detroit Papers for the Announcement of the Opening Date

As nearly as we can figure now the sale will start on the morning of January 19th, but this is not definite. However, it will be very near this date if not on it, so do not fail to watch the Detroit papers in order not to miss it.

Several days before the sale starts we will allow the public to examine our stocks and see the merchandise marked at the regular price. Then—starting on the morning of the sale every piece of furniture in our two big stores will be reduced 20 per cent. This will give everyone an opportunity to see with their own eyes, without our telling them, the savings on our entire stocks.

BRUSHABER

The Saw Test Stores

159-163 Gratiot Avenue.

147-155 Michigan Avenue

The Devil's Own

A Romance of the Black Hawk War

By Randall
Paxton

Author of Confidante, Sons of the Iron Brigade,
When Wilderness Was King, etc.
Illustrated by Irvin Meier

CHAPTER XV—Continued.

—16—

"Indians, you say! Here?" her eyes widening in horror. "When do you suppose this happened? how long ago?"

"Within twelve hours certainly, probably soon after dawn."

I caught the rein of her horse, and Elsie, who was now wide awake, and trembling with fear, pressed forward close to my side, moaning and casting her frightened glances backward. Kennedy was already started in advance of us on foot, leading his animal, and seeking to discover the quickest passage to shelter. On a narrow terrace the deputy halted us.

"I reckon maybe this here is as good as any place fer ter stop," he said rather doubtfully. "It'll be mighty dark in an hour, an' then we go on; only my horse is about did up. What say, Cap?"

"We are probably as safe here as anywhere in the neighborhood. Is that all you have to report, Tim?"

He lifted his hat, and scratched gently his thin hair.

"Only that them Indians went south. I done run onto their trail after yer left—it was plain as the nose on yer face. Their minst bin a slew o' em, an' sum a' bossback; they wus a strakin' straight across yonder, an' I reckon they fetched a prisoner long somebody wearin' boots anyhow, fer L saw the tracks in the mud." He hesitated, as though something was on his mind, glancing toward the girls, and lowering his voice. "I ain't so very dern tired, an' reckon I'll scot round a bit. Them red devils might overlooked a little or two back thar in the timber, an' I'd sure like ter git ray fingers on one."

I nodded indifferently, too completely exhausted myself to care what he did, and then drill-eyed watched him disappear through the trees. No one spoke, even Eloise failing to question me, as I approached where she and Elsie had flung themselves on the short grass, although her heavy eyes followed my movement, and she made no effort to smile.

"One can easily see by your face how tried you are," I said, compassionately, looking down at her. "I am going to sleep for an hour or two, and you had best do the same. Tim is going to keep guard."

She nestled warmly to me, her head sinking back. I did not move or speak again; instead I had lost consciousness almost before I touched the ground.

I could not have slept long, for there was a glow of light still visible in the western sky, when a strong grip on my arm aroused me, causing me instantaneously to sit up. Tim stood there, a battle-ready, old, long rifle in his hand, and beside him a boy of eighteen, without a hat, crouched headed, with an ugly red wound showing on one cheek.

"Mighty sorry fer ter wake ye, Cap," the deputy grinned. "This here young chap is one o' them sojers; an' if strikes me, he's got a d— queer tale ter tell."

I glanced backward across my shoulder toward the others. Both girls were sleeping soundly, while beyond them, infect he had ever possessed, now refused to respond. Kennedy broke impatiently.

"It takes that boy bout an hour fer ter tell anything, Cap," he explained gruffly. "I reckon he's skeered half ter death in the first place, an' then that's somthin' wrong with him en'y way. Howsumever, it's what he been sayin'. Cap, that sounds mighty queerter me. He sez that wus more'n fifty bucks in that party, an' that of Black Hawk wus that himself, a leadin' 'em! he done saw him."

I turned surprised at this statement to stare into the boy's face. He half grinned back at me, vacantly.

"Black Hawk. He could scarcely be down here; what did he look like?"

"Bout six feet high, I reckon, with a big hooked nose ab' the blackest pair o' mean eyes ever I saw. I reckon he didn't hav' no eyebrows, an' he wore a bunch o' eagle feathers in a red blanket. Gosh, mister, but the devil couldn't look no worse, he did."

"Was that him, Cap?" burst in Tim anxiously.

"It's not a bad description," I admitted, yet not convinced. "I can't beheve he would be here with a raiding party. If he was, there must be some important object in view. Is that all?"

"No, ain't the boy swear that wus a white man, long with 'em a feller with a short mustache, an' dressed in store clothes. He wan't no prisoner neither, but had a gun, an' talked fer Black Hawk, myself, he was a chief disself. After the killin' wus all over, he wus the one what got 'em ter go off thar to the south, the whole kit an' kaboodle."

"I don't doubt that. There have always been white renegades among the Sioux and plenty of half-breeds. If Black Hawk, and this other fellow are leading this band, they are after big game somewhere, and we had better keep out of their way. I favor sending up immediately, and traveling all night."

"So do I," and Tim flung a half-filled bag from his shoulder to the ground. "But I vota we eat first. Tain't much only a few jerups I found out thar, but it's a way bettes than nothing. Here you, Hall, give me hand, an' then we'll go out, an' round up them horses."

If the party of raiding Indians whom foul deed we had discovered had departed in a southerly direction, as their trail would plainly seem to indicate, then our safest course would seemingly be directed eastward up the valley. This would give us the protection of the bluffs, and take us more and more out of the territory they would be likely to cover. Within twenty minutes we were in saddle, descending the steep hillside through the darkness. The walking ahead with the lead, his horse trailing behind, and the long rifle across his shoulder.

I do not recall feeling any special fear. In the first place I was convinced that we must already be at the extreme limit of Black Hawk's radius, and that, travelling as we were eastward, must before morning be well beyond any possible danger of falling into the hands of his warriors. The other pursuers I had practically dismissed from thought. Shortly after midnight my horse strained a tendon, and could no longer uphold my weight. On foot, with the poor beast limping painfully behind me, I pressed on beside Eloise, both of us silent, too utterly wearied with the strain for any attempt at speech.

The rising sun topped the summit of the bluf, its red rays seeming to bridge with spans of gossamer the little valley up which we toiled. I had lost my interest, and was walking doggedly on, with eyes beat upon the ground, when the girl beside me cried out suddenly, a new excitement in her voice.

"Oh, there is a cabin! See! Over yonder; just beyond that big oak, where the bluff turns."

Her eager face was aglow, her outstretched hand pointing eagerly.

The logs of which the little building had been constructed, still in their native bark-blended so perfectly with the drab hillside beyond, that for the moment none of us caught the distant outlines. Tim possessed the keenest sight, and his voice was first to speak.

"Sure, miss, that's a cabin, all right," he said grimly. "One room, an' new built; likely enough sum settler just com in yere. I don't see no movement, ner smoke."

"Fled to the nearest fort, probably," I replied, able myself by this time to decipher the spot. "Be too risky to stay out here alone. We'll look it over; there might be food left behind, even if the people have gone."

We must have been half an hour in covering the distance. The cabin stood well up above the stream, within the shade of the great oak, and we were confirmed, long before we reached it, in our former judgment that it was uninhabited. No sign of life was visible about the place; it had the appearance of desertion, no smoke even curling from out the chimney. A faint trail, evidently little used, led down toward the creek, and we followed this as it wound around the base of the big tree. Then it was that the truth dawned suddenly upon us—there to our right lay a dead mule, harnessed for work, but with throat cut, while directly in front of the cabin door was a dog, an ugly, massive brute, his mouth open, prone on his back, with stiffened legs pointing to the sky. I dropped my rein, and strode forward.

"Wait where you are," I called back.

"They have been savages here; let me see first what has happened inside."

The dog had been shot, stricken by two bullets, and I was obliged to drag his huge body to one side before I could press my way in through the doorway. The open doorway and window afforded ample light, and a single glance was sufficient to reveal most of the story. The table had been smashed as by the blow of an ax, and pewter dishes were everywhere. The bed in one corner had been stripped of its coverlets, many of them slashed by a knife, and the straw tick had been ripped open in a dozen places. Coals from the fireplace lay widely spread, some of them having eaten deeply into the hard wood before they ceased smoldering.

I saw all this, yet my eyes rested upon something else. A man lay, bent double across an overturned bench, in a posture which hid his face from view. His body was there alone, although a child's shoe lay on the floor, and a woman's lacey dress dangled from a hook against the wall.

I crept forward, my heart pounding madly, until I could gain sight of his face. He was a big fellow, not more than thirty, with sandy hair and beard, and a pugnacious jaw, his coarse hickory shirt slashed into ribbons, a bullet wound in the center of his forehead, and one arm broken by a vicious blow. His calloused hands yet gripped the hilt of an ax, just as he had died.

Tim's voice spoke from the doorway.

"Injuns, I reckon!"

"Yes, they have been here—the man is dead. But there must have been others, a woman and child also—see that shoe on the floor, and the dress hanging over there. The poor devil fought hard."

Tim stepped inside, staring about him.

"Do you think it best to stop here?"

"Why not? Tain't likely them devils will be back agin. That sure must be somethin' fer us ter eat in the place, an' the Lord kno's we can't go on as we are. Them gurls be mighty nigh ready ter drop, un' two o' the horses has plum giv' out. I'm fer settin' down fer a few hours anyhow—say till it gets giddling dark."

"I doubt that. There have always been white renegades among the Sioux and plenty of half-breeds. If Black Hawk, and this other fellow are leading this band, they are after big game somewhere, and we had better keep out of their way. I favor sending up immediately, and traveling all night."

"So do I," and Tim flung a half-filled bag from his shoulder to the ground. "But I vota we eat first. Tain't much only a few jerups I found out thar, but it's a way bettes than nothing. Here you, Hall, give me hand, an' then we'll go out, an' round up them horses."

"I do not recall feeling any special fear. In the first place I was convinced that we must already be at the extreme limit of Black Hawk's radius, and that, travelling as we were eastward, must before morning be well beyond any possible danger of falling into the hands of his warriors. The other pursuers I had practically dismissed from thought. Shortly after midnight my horse strained a tendon, and could no longer uphold my weight. On foot, with the poor beast limping painfully behind me, I pressed on beside Eloise, both of us silent, too utterly wearied with the strain for any attempt at speech.

The rising sun topped the summit of the bluf, its red rays seeming to bridge with spans of gossamer the little valley up which we toiled. I had lost my interest, and was walking doggedly on, with eyes beat upon the ground, when the girl beside me cried out suddenly, a new excitement in her voice.

"Oh, there is a cabin! See! Over yonder; just beyond that big oak, where the bluff turns."

Her eager face was aglow, her outstretched hand pointing eagerly.

The logs of which the little building had been constructed, still in their native bark-blended so perfectly with the drab hillside beyond, that for the moment none of us caught the distant outlines. Tim possessed the keenest sight, and his voice was first to speak.

"Sure, miss, that's a cabin, all right," he said grimly. "One room, an' new built; likely enough sum settler just com in yere. I don't see no movement, ner smoke."

"Fled to the nearest fort, probably," I replied, able myself by this time to decipher the spot. "Be too risky to stay out here alone. We'll look it over; there might be food left behind, even if the people have gone."

We must have been half an hour in covering the distance. The cabin stood well up above the stream, within the shade of the great oak, and we were confirmed, long before we reached it, in our former judgment that it was uninhabited. No sign of life was visible about the place; it had the appearance of desertion, no smoke even curling from out the chimney. A faint trail, evidently little used, led down toward the creek, and we followed this as it wound around the base of the big tree. Then it was that the truth open'd up, eating as though he had not tasted food for a week. From the time of sitting down he had scarcely raised his eyes from off the pewter plate before him; but at last this was emptied, and he lifted his head, to stare out through the open door. Into his face came a look of dumb,articulate fright, as his lips gave utterance to one cry of warning.

"Look! Look!"

With swift turn of the head I saw what he meant—a man on horseback riding at a savage gait up the trail directly for the cabin, bent so low in the saddle his features could not be discerned, but, from his clothing, unquestionably white. I was without the door, Tim beside me ride in hand, when the fellow swept around the base of the oak, still staring behind him, as though in flight of pursuers, and flinging his straining horse with the end of a rein. He appeared fairly crazed with fear, unaware in his blind terror of the close proximity of the cabin.

"Hold on!" I yelled, springing forward, my arms thrown up, directly in the animal's course. "Stop, you fool!"

I know not whether the frantic horse checked itself, or if the rider drew rein, but the beast stopped, half rearing, and I gazed with amazement into the raveled face of the man—he was Joe Kirby. Before I could speak, Tim had seized him by the shoulders.

"You! Knows my God, man, who ever you are, don't refuse me shelter!"

"Shelter? From what?" my hand closing on a pistol butt.

"Indians! Be merciful, for God's sake. They are there in the valley.

"I stood at a loophole watching the approaching savages. They had halted just below the big tree, and four or five half-hidden by the huge trunk, were in consultation well beyond rifle shot. Assured by their attitude that the attack would not be made immediately, I ventured to turn my face slightly, and take final survey of the room behind. Tim had situated himself at the other side of the door, his eyes glued to a narrow opening both hands gripped on his gun. Eloise and the colored girl, the cae dry-eyed and alert, the other prone on the floor crying, were where I had told them to go, into the darkest corner. The boy I did not see, nor even remember, but Kirby stood on the bench, which enabled him to peer out through the hole-in-the-wall shutter. What I noticed, however, was that instead of keeping watch without, his eyes were furtively wandering about the room, and when they suddenly encountered mine, were as instantly averted.

"Where was it you met those Indians, Kirby?" I questioned sternly.

"Down the valley."

"Last night?"

"This morning; they surprised us in camp."

In camp there were others with you, then? Who were they? the party you had followed us?"

"Yes," a decidedly sullen tone creeping into his voice. "Five of them; one was a Whitehaggo."

"And Ruth was along, I presume. What became of the others?"

"He shot his head, but with no show of feeling."

"That's more than I know. Thing won't fit enough for me without both edges of the head; stop nose running; between the earholes, dulness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness, and stiffness."

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quicked strongest of known and costless nostrums, only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—instead of Pape's—Adv.

Generally speaking, the shortest day in the day before pay day.

SQUEEZED TO DEATH

When the body begins to stiffen and movement becomes painful it is usually an indication that the kidneys are out of order. Keep these organs healthy by taking

GOLD MEDAL EARLIER ON CAPSULES

The world's standard remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and urethral trouble. Famous since 1898. Take regular and keep in good health. In three sizes. All druggists. Guaranteed as represented. Look for the name Gold Medal on every box and accept no imitation.

Chlorine may cover a multitude of sins, but greed isn't one of them.

ARMISTICE!

Constipation, Headache, Colds, Biliousness, Sore Throat, Fever, &c., due to "Gascarts".

Bring back peace! Enjoy life! Your system is filled with liver and bowel poison which keeps your skin sallow, your stomach upset, your head dull and aching. Your meals are turning into poison gases and acids. You can not feel right. Don't stay illious, or constipated. Feel splendid always, by taking Cascarts occasionally. They act without gripping or inconvenience. They never sicken you like Calomel. Salts, Oil of nasty, harsh Pills. They cost so little, too—Cascarts work while you sleep—Adv.

Generally speaking, the shortest day in the day before pay day.

BREAKS YOUR COLD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

Pape's Cold Compound instantly relieves stiffness and distress.

Don't stay stiffed-up! Quit flowing and sniffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken. Relieves up a severe cold and ends all grippe of feeling.

The very first dose opens your clogged up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness, and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quicked strongest of known and costless nostrums, only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—instead of Pape's—Adv.

When whatever aches, whatever ills, aches away.

GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER

Constipation invades other troubles which come speedily unless quickly checked and overcome by Green's August Flower which is a gentle laxative, regulates digestion both in stomach and intestines, cleans and strengthens the stomach and alimentary canal, stimulates the liver to secrete the bile and impurities from the blood. It is a sovereign remedy used in many thousands of households all over the civilized world for more than half a century by those who have suffered with indigestion, nervous dyspepsia, sluggish liver, coming up of food, palpitation, constipation and other intestinal troubles. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Try a bottle, take no substitute—Adv.

A wise man is one who studies hard and learns what not to say.

Thousands

W. H. COWLES, Opt. D.
THE DETROIT

P. M. MAKES A FINE SHOWING

If the Pere Marquette railroad had been operating of its own instead of federal account during the 10 months ended with October 31, it would have earned during that period at the rate of $9.66 a share on the $15,045,000 common stock outstanding.

A company statement shows that out of gross operating revenue of $28,968,321 for the 10 months, the road saved for net railway income $11,171,321.

Accepting the railroad administration's ratio of $2.721 per cent as approximately representing the first 10 months' true proportion of the traffic year, net to October 31, was at the annual rate of $7,339,000. On the assumption that the road was operated for its own instead of federal account, it would have earned on this operating basis and with other income and charges as reported for 1918 at the rate of $9.66 a share on the $15,045,000 common stock, or about 40% on the present market price.

For a general increase in freight rates, such as is pretty generally conceded, must be made when the railroads are again operating for their own account, Pere Marquette may be expected to realize further benefit.

The reason for its large earnings upon the stock is found in the reorganization of 1916, which was one of the most drastic that any railroad ever passed through. Not only was the total capitalization reduced from upwards of $113,000,000 to $105,000,000, but the reorganization provided $6,000,000 of new money. Fixed charges were reduced from $1,127,40 to $1,687,500, or 59%.

Interest charges and dividends on prior preferred stock, which have been paid since reorganization amounted to only $2,551,570 in 1918, or $1,875,000 less than the old company fixed charge.

Optical Specialist

Mr. Wm. H. Cowles, Optician, 100 North Main Street, announces the making examinations of the eye for glasses, announces the opening of his new office at 209 Woodward Ave., corner Congress St., ground floor entrance. Phone 752, regrets that owing to increasing Detroit practice he will not be able to come to Northville here after, except in emergency cases, where patrons will not be able to come to Detroit; notice of such visits will appear in this paper.

DETROIT
UNITED LINES

NORTHVILLE TIME TABLE
Eastern Standard Time

Northville to Farmington and Detroit
—Also to Orchard Lake and Pontiac

Cars leave Northville for Farmington and Detroit at 7:30 a. m. and every hour thereafter until 8:20 p. m. 2:45 p. m., 10:35 p. m. and for Farmington Junction only at 12:35 a. m.

Arrived in Detroit at 6:23 a. m. daily except Sunday.

Cars leave Detroit for Northville at 6:45 a. m. and hourly to 3:45 p. m. 5:45 p. m., 6:45 p. m., 7:45 p. m., 9:05 p. m. and 11:45 p. m. Limited at 5:00 p. m. daily, except Sunday.

Northville to Plymouth, Wayne and Detroit

Through cars leave Northville for Detroit at 5:10 a. m., 6:20 a. m., 7:30 a. m. and hourly to 7:30 p. m., 9:30 p. m. Also 11:15 p. m.

Leave Wayne for Northville at 5:30 a. m., 6:42 a. m. and hourly to 6:42 p. m.; also 8:42 p. m., 10:17 p. m., 12:15 a. m.

How Competition Helps You

The competition that exists among the hundreds of meat distributors, large and small means

Rivalry in Prices
Rivalry in Service
Rivalry in Economy
Rivalry in Quality

Swift & Company sells meat at the lowest possible price, consistent with quality and service. Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products is evidence of keen competition.

Swift & Company must provide the best service to your dealer or he will buy from our competitors. This means a supply of fine fresh meat always on hand for you at your dealer's.

Swift & Company must keep down manufacturing and selling costs, and use all by-products to avoid waste, or else lose money meeting the prices of competitors who do.

Swift & Company must make its products of the highest quality, or see you turn to others. This means better meat for you and a greater variety of appetizing, wholesome food.

We are as glad for this competition as you should be. It helps to keep us on our mettle.

Swift & Company, U.S.A.

ABOUT OUR NEIGHBORS

Interesting items from our exchanges gathered with pencil, paste pot and scissors.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Birch of Milford are spending the winter in Texas.

Rochester citizens have approved a $70,000 bond issue for extension of water and sewer mains.

Birmingham voters have approved a bond issue of $15,000 for the purchase of a school site east of Woodward Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Lockwood of Milford celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary on December 23rd.

A new auto fire truck for Plymouth arrived in that village last Monday. The truck is fully equipped with fire fighting apparatus.

Jonas Wheeler, an old resident of Milford, died in Chicago December 13. He had gone to the city to spend the winter with relatives.

Alvin D. Hubbard, for many years a resident of Holly and a Civil War veteran, died at his home in that village Sunday morning.

Mary E. Grindall, who spent nearly her whole life at the farm home on the base line near South Lyon, died in Detroit December 19th. She was born February 14th, 1847.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harmon of Canton township, near Plymouth, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Christmas day with about seventy guests present. They received many handsome presents also fifty dollars in gold and currency.

A community lecture course consisting of five good numbers has been arranged for residents of Farmington village. The first will be Wednesday, January 7, which will be given by "The Tennessee Two," talented young women entertainers.

Edolet Callins, who died in Detroit last week at the age of 82, was one of the original charter members of South Lyon Lodge, F. & A. M., which was instituted in 1875. His remains were taken to his old home town for burial and the impressive Masonic burial service was rendered at the grave.

In the circuit court at South Lyon, Mayor Steven Clegg and John Everitt were arrested in Commerce township on November 29, charged with operating a still for manufacture of rye rum, pleaded not guilty and demanded separate trials. Their cases are to be taken up as soon as they can be reached.

LIVE STOCK MEET TO HOLD GREAT MEETING

The Michigan Improved Livestock Breeders' and Feeders' Association, with its 14,000 members, will hold its twenty-ninth annual meeting at the Michigan Agricultural College on Jan. 14 and 15. Practically all of Thursday, Jan. 15, will be given over to a general meeting of all the associations, while Wednesday will see the different bodies meeting individually to take up their special problems.

Speakers of national reputation will address the Thursday meeting. O. E. Bradbury, a director of the American Farm Bureau Federation, is to discuss "The Organized Farmer," while E. C. Brown, of Chicago, President of the National Live Stock Exchange, will take up the operation of the packing industry and stockyards under government control.

J. Whitney Watkins, of Manchester, H. H. Halladay, of Clinton, President of the State Live Stock Sanitary Commission; Dean R. S. Shaw, of M. A. C. and Colon C. Lillie, President of the Michigan Live Stock Association, are among the prominent local men who are scheduled for talks at the meeting.

Officers of the allied associations are preparing interesting programs for their special meetings. The following will be convened on the 14th and 15th: Michigan Sheep Breeders' Association, Michigan Swine Breeders' Association, Michigan Horse Breeders' Association, Michigan Guernsey Cattle Club, Michigan Hereford Breeders' Association, Michigan Red Polled Breeders' Association, Michigan Aberdeen Angus Breeders' Association, Michigan Short-horn Breeders' Association, Michigan Jersey Cattle Club, Michigan Poland China Swine Breeders' Association, Michigan Duron-Jersey Breeders' Association and Michigan Chester White Breeders' Association and Michigan Oxford Sheep Breeders' Association.

PLANNING FOR 1920

From a recent copy of Electric Railway Service, the little paper issued weekly by the D. U. R. we learn that for the new year just begun the company is making preparations and has placed orders for 40,000 tons of rail for its replacement and extension plans. At the earliest moment it is planned to complete the work already started.

During 1919 the company will continue car building operations in the Highland Park shops and confidently expect to add many new modern cars, both motor and trailers, to the city equipment.

For the interurban lines orders have been placed for a million dollars of equipment and which the builders have promised to rush with all possible speed.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Osborne entertained Hallie Peebles and wife of Worden last Thursday.

Editor Wilbert Foster of the Redford Record and C. S. Hathaway of Redford were Northville visitors Tuesday and made The Record a pleasant call while here.

REGISTRATION NOTICE FOR SPECIAL ELECTION

Important Change in Registration Laws

To the Qualified Electors of the Village of Northville, Wayne County,

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with Act 126, A. P. L. Acts of 1917, I, the undersigned village clerk, will allow any day except Saturday and legal holiday, or the day of any regular or special election, for registration, the name of any legal voter in said village not already registered, who may apply to me personally, for such registration, except that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the second Saturday before any general or special election and the day of such election.

JANUARY 31st, 1920

Last Day for General Registration for Special Election February 19th.

All electors not already registered and intending to vote at said special election should make personal application to me on or before the 31st day of January, A. D. 1920.

Notice is further hereby given that

I will be at the store of the Northville Drug Company, in said village, on

JANUARY 17, and JANUARY 24, '20

from 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m. on each of said days for the purpose of reviving the Registration and Registering such of the qualified electors in said village as shall appear and apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the special election shall be entered in the registration book.

Registration of Absentee by Oath

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election, and shall, under oath, state that he is a resident of such precinct and has resided in said village Twenty Days next preceding such election, designating particularly the place of his residence, and that he possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution, and that owing to the sickness or infirmity of himself, or of some member of his family, or owing to his absence from the village, or public business, or his own business, etc., without intent to avoid or defer his registration, he was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election, then the name of such person shall be registered, and he shall then be permitted to vote at such election. If such applicant shall do so in said manner, it will be held guilty of perjury, and upon conviction be subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

WOMEN ELECTORS

The names of all qualified Women Electors will be registered, provided

Personal Application is made in conformity with the foregoing provisions.

United, Northville, Mich., Jan. 6th, 1920.

THOMAS E. MURKIN,
Village Clerk

vs.
Willard Eldred, or his na-

mer, alias, "Devise," devisor,

legatee and assignee and

son of Eldred, or her son,

alias, "Devise," devisee,

legatee and assignee, defendant.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for

the County of Wayne, in Chancery,

166 E. Parrott, Plaintiff

vs.
Willard Eldred, or his na-

mer, alias, "Devise," devisor,

legatee and assignee and

son of Eldred, or her son,

alias, "Devise," devisee,

legatee and assignee, defendant.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the City of Detroit, on the 31st day

December, 1919.

It appearing from the bill of complaint filed herein that Willard Eldred, or his unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assignees, and Susan Eldred, or her unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, devisees and assignees, defendants,

suit pending in the Circuit Court for

the County of Wayne, in Chancery,

166 E. Parrott, Plaintiff

vs.
Willard Eldred, or his na-

mer, alias, "Devise," devisor,

legatee and assignee and

son of Eldred, or her son,

alias, "Devise," devisee,

legatee and assignee, defendant.

And it is further ordered that within twenty days from this date the plaintiff cause a notice of this order to be published in the Northville Record, newspaper printed, published and circulating in said county, and that the said publication be continued therein once each week for six weeks in succession.

JOHN H. GOFF,
Circuit Judge.

C. C. YERKES,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

The above suit is brought to quiet

the title to land situated in the village of Plymouth, Wayne County, Michigan, described as:

Being on Section 26 and commencing at the northeast corner of a piece of land heretofore deeded by George A. Starkweather and John J. Starkweather to William B. Ledyard by deed dated October 25, 1855 and recorded in

Liber 67, page 285, Wayne County

Records; thence southerly along the center of the said Bennett street;

thence southerly along the east side of said Bennett street, 2 chains and 56 links to the south line of the east half of the northwest quarter of Section 26;

thence easterly along the said line, 1 chain and 51 links; thence the north 16

degrees west and along the said east

line to the center of the said Flank

Road; thence easterly along the said road described as:

Commencing in the center of Bennett street at the northwest corner of said

deeded by Susan Eldred to Myron Smith, by deed dated September

<p

The High Cost of Living

The problems of peace, as did the problems of war, involve heavy expenditures by the Telephone Company.

There is much reconstruction and even more advance construction work to do before the former position of Readiness to Serve is regained.

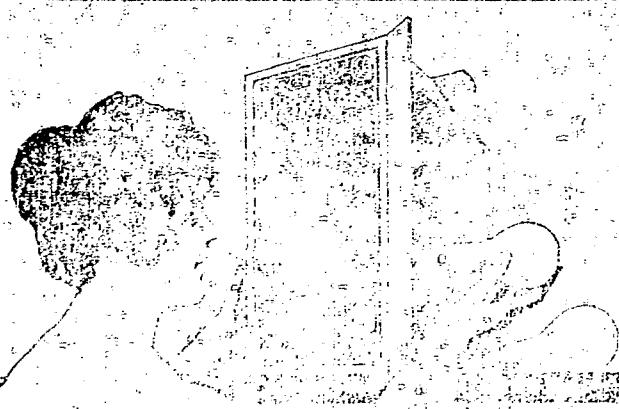

Little or no construction work for two years, a vast increase in demand for service and a vast increase in the population to be served, presents a stunning problem to the telephone management.

A dollar will not buy as much service or as much material as heretofore, which further complicates the problem.

In the circumstances the Telephone Company must adopt the policy so uniform among merchants in every line of business and sell its service at higher prices.

The higher rates are a protection to a service that is in the interest and for the convenience of every subscriber.

MICHIGAN STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY

Let us make an estimate of the cost of equipping your home with Electricity. We shall be glad to look over your house and to assist you in plumping your lighting so you can get the best results for the least expense.

We have on hand a very complete assortment of Fixtures and we satisfy you with anything you may desire.

We thank you for the liberal patronage we have received during the past year, and solicit a continuance of your favors during 1920.

Northville Electric Shop

C. B. TURNBULL Proprietor

A Car Load of Cotton Meal Now In--Call For Prices

Plenty of Unicorn, Larro
Bran, Fine Midds,
Lumber, Wire Fencing,
Posts, Tile, etc., etc.

IN COAL

Chestnut, Pea (Hard); Pocahontas and Common Soft Coal.

FEED GRINDING

EVERY DAY
AT THE ELEVATOR. and BLACKSMITHING.

NOVI ELEVATOR

Call 309 J-2.

A. L. HILL, Propr.

TRY A LINER IN THE RECORD

FRANK J. BOYLE

AUCTIONEER

STOCK SALES A SPECIALTY

Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Phone, Plymouth Exchange, 306 F-2.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
The Diamond Brand
Chichesters Diamond Brand
Pills are made from the finest herbs and roots. They are taken in small doses and are good for all kinds of ailments. They are known as the best, safest, and most reliable medicine.

SALEM

MICHIGAN

DETROIT THEATERS

Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian, full of pep and bubbling over with the infinite something that makes imitations of his work so futile, has returned from a memorable tour of Australia and will appear in Detroit at the Shubert-Detroit for a week beginning next Monday night, Jan. 12. There will be a matinee daily except Sunday.

Harry Lauder is no stranger in this section of the United States. He has been here in other years, and each succeeding visit has served to enhance his popularity. His return this season has an additional sentimental interest owing to the fact that, since his last tour of the United States, his great services in bringing cheer and comfort to the soldier boys in the trenches of France and Flanders have been fittingly recognized by King George of England, and he is now entitled to the distinction of placing the "Sir" of knighthood before his name. This honor, however, has not changed him, and he is still "Arry of the Ais," the most unique and original entertainer that Scotland, and perhaps, another country, has ever produced. Lauder began life as a miner, and has risen strictly upon merit; he has from the pit to the peerage."

Apparently F. Ray Comstock and William Elliott, producers of the famous New York Princess Theatre musical comedy successes, believe that not only is the best none too good for their audiences, but also that satisfied patrons are the best advertisements for them. They never spare either time, money or talent in their productions, as their sixth New York Princess Theatre production, "On My Dear," which begins a week's engagement at the Garrick Theatre on Sunday night, January, shows. This charming intimate musical comedy, which proved the big hit of the season on Broadway with its graceful swinging melodies and exquisite humor, has really taken more than its share of the time, money and talent of the producers, for the finished picture represents over a year of labor, thousands of dollars, and the best musical company stars of the stage.

WILLIAM NEVISON.

About month ago William Nevison, who was then with his daughter, Mrs. Leo Marks, near Maseniss, went to the Boulevard Sanitarium in Detroit for treatment. On Christmas Day Mrs. Marks was notified by telegram that her father had passed away at 9:30 that morning. She and Mr. Marks with their daughter, went to Detroit at once.

Short funeral services were held in Detroit Saturday morning, where the pallbearers were his three brothers, Charles, Alfred and Nicholas, with his son, Henry, his wife, Herman, Rhein, and son-in-law Leo Marks. The body was taken to Northville. Mr. Nevison's former home, far back in the family lot there, and the pallbearers' barge were his old neighbors and associates in the business line of Northville.

Mr. Nevison left six brothers, three deceased above, and thirty others living in Michigan and in distant states and two sons—Mrs. W. J. Lawrence of Detroit, and Mrs. J. C. Lindsey of Monroe. The sons and daughters are: Beverly, living in Oakdale, Cal.; Harry, in Detroit; Mrs. Eva Jaynes, Paris Island, South Carolina, and Mrs. Leo Marks, Detroit.

Mr. Nevison was sixty-one years old at the time of his death. Michael Olsner.

HARRY D. NICHOLS DIES.

The news of the death of attorney D. Nichols, which occurred at his home in Novi Sunday morning, caused deep sorrow among his many friends and acquaintances in this section. He had not been in good health for some time, but his friends were not aware his condition was considered serious. He was a kind and obliging neighbor and a devoted husband and father and his tried-striken family has the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

Besides his wife, he is survived by one son, Guy Nichols, and a daughter, Mrs. Luther Lapham, of this village. Mr. Nichols was a member of the Oddfellows and there was a large delegation of brothers present at the funeral which was held Tuesday afternoon at the family home. Rev. F. A. Brass of Wisdom conducted the funeral service and the Oddfellows rendered the impressive burial service at the grave. Interment took place in the Novi cemetery.

WOODSMEN ARE RESTY.

More than a hundred camps, some situated in the most inaccessible portions of the state, strung along the south shore of Lake Superior and scattered through the country that makes up the "tip" of the Michigan mitten, are this winter felling the straight, towering trees that later in the year will carry hundreds of miles more of the singing telephone wires over which will be handled the business of a community.

It has been announced that the state's telephone companies, particularly the Michigan State Telephone Co., will this year spend millions of dollars in extending and improving their service, and that 37,000 Michigan cedar poles will be required by this company alone.

Thousands of woodcutters are wielding ax and saw, hundreds of teamsters, cooks and cookees are singing at their work in moving this forest to river and railroad, and in the spring a hundred streams and a score of rail lines will hurry the poles to points from which they can be drawn by telephone construction crews.

It might here be said that this is Michigan's biggest year in the woods in many Hand-Painted Gloves.

Hand gloves with hand-painted backs were once a great craze in some of the European countries.

WHERE FOSSIL BONES ABOUND

Corner of Nebraska Long Famous for its Skeletons of queer Prehistoric Animals.

Where do the museums of the country get their strange and curious skeletons of prehistoric animals? If a skeleton is a "dinohyus" or a "moropus" one may be quite sure that it came from the farm of James Henry Cook in the northwest corner of Nebraska; and the chances are almost equally good if the specimen happens to be a saber-toothed cat or a many-toed horse, or almost any of those queer animals that belong to the early Miocene period, says R. P. Crawford, in an article in Popular Science Magazine. Most ranchmen and farmers are quite content to raise the ordinary sort of stock, but here is a ranch that is most widely known because of its output of fossiliferous animals. For more than a decade paleontologists from the great universities and museums of this country have made regular trips to these fossil quarries.

The Cook farm and ranch, located close to the Wyoming line, comprise some 15,000 acres. On the eastern edge of the ranch the Niobrara river has laid bare two hills, from both of which scores and scores of fossil skeletons have been quarried. In the summer it is an uncommon occurrence for representatives of half a dozen eastern institutions to pitch camp near these hills and spend several months digging out the fossil bones which, when worked over in the museum, form the queer-looking skeletons.

WHERE THE ROMANS BUILT

Site of Old City of Circe, Italy, Described as Place of Mournful Grandeur.

The site on which the city of Circe stands rises sharply from the south to the north. It is terrible height. Looking up from the hilltop, running round the gorge, at a distance of a few hundred yards from the bottom, the great rock domes up like a most terrific wall. The mournful grandeur of the place is in keeping with the character of Minerva and other stern and savage deities and the unconquerable times in which they lived.

The gorge of the Roman is narrow, rarely more than some hundred yards across, and straight. Fragments of rough rocks still cling to its precipitous sides wherever "magnificent can be found." Along the north side the water has narrowed down through a series of cataracts and by-passes the Kasius. The Romans took advantage of the natural arch, formed at the angle of the two sides of the rock in its tributary to erect a single-arch bridge, known later as "the bridge at Fallo," the Caelius Hermit near Ustica and elsewhere, as "the Fallo," the bridge. Its pillars still remain. Even Fletcher Green in "Twix Land and Sea" so.

Draconic Cries Among Animals.

If a complete list could be made of the distinctive noises by which the noises produced by birds and beasts are called, it would be found that there are few duplicates. This may be judged even by the most common. The horse neighs, the sheep bleats, the cow lows, the pig grunts and squeals, the turkey gobbles, the hen cackles, the cock crows, the goose hisses, the duck quacks, the cat mews, the dog barks, the wolf howls, the sparrow chirps, the pigeon coos, the crow creaks, the raven caws, the monkey chatter, the elephant trumpets, the camel grunts, the stag snorts, the boar brays, the donkey brays, the bee hums, the fly buzzes, the grasshopper chirps, the swallow chirps, the liquid bay and the owl hoots.

Be Master of Yourself.

To be able to keep cool when all the world goes mad shows mental grace and genuine bigness. This grows with the years. It becomes a part of the nature. Newly dished aristocracy and the victims of sudden wealth usually betray their plebian origin by their cultivated show of authority. Where the blood tells, it rises with might to occasions, but seldom allows itself to get ruffled without occasion, and what a spectacle one can make of himself by getting all stayed about nothing or losing his temper on some little thing that approximates the zero mark. The really big character is slow to anger and iritates little, due to his superior calm control. At the same time the exhibition of mastery challenges the secret admiration of all.

Mean Man.

"Why is Mrs. Gaddar going home to her mother?"

"She told Mr. Gaddar she would like to take a little trip next summer—one that wouldn't cost more than $500."

"What did Gaddar say?"

"The heartless brute replied: 'I see by the papers that the trolley car service is going to be improved.'—Birmingham Age-Herald."

All His Worldly Goods.

"Was your wife pleased with your raise in salary?" asked White.

"I haven't told her yet, but she will be when she knows it," answered Brown.

"How is it that you haven't told her?"

"Well, I thought I would enjoy it myself a little while first."

Out of accumulated capital have come all the necessities of industry and applied science, all the comforts and all the recreations of the country. Upon the success of the people depends the success of the world.

JAMES J. BILL.

The Successful Farmer Raises Bigger Crops

and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery.

Good prices for the farmers' crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity.

But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets.

The railroads—like the farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital.

With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities.

Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion, which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost.

National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow.

Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.

This advertisement is published by the Association of Railway Executives.

Those desiring information concerning the railroad situation may obtain literature by writing to The Association of Railway Executives, at Broadway, New York.

Let's Make 1920 A Hummer

A good way to begin the New Year is to give attention to your Tools and Implements—those you will need next season—and order all necessary repairs, so you will be ready to start the spring work on time.

We shall be glad to render you any service you may desire in this matter.

Corn Shellers, Food Choppers

Blankets, Tanks and Tank Heaters

Gasoline Engines

Pumps and Repairs for Pumps

Everything In Farm Tools and Implements.

H. S. DOERR

NORTHVILLE

SOME REAL FARM BARGAINS

37 Acre Farm—Near Salem: 6-room house, fine condition with basement, cistern; barn 30x50, silo, milk house, hen house, tool shed; fair fences; 8 acres of garden land, balance gravel land. $3,200—$2,500 down.

71 Acres of Black Land—Six-room house, comfortable, good cellar, cistern, well water at house, also at barn; springs in pasture. A farm that will not disappoint you as a producer, 2½ miles from Salem, near State road. Price, $9,000, which includes 3 horses, 7 cows, 2 heifers, 4 hogs, about 50 good hens, 3 tons of hay, 300 bushels of oats, corn fodder, straw, tools, etc. $2,500 payment down.

150 Acres—On nearly level black loam, near Northville, at $100 per acre. Best bargain left near Northville, has good substantial buildings.

Let me show some of these to you.

M. E. Atchison, — Northville
Res. Phone, 56-R. Office Phone, 79.

THE C. & C. GARAGE

CHEVROLET

SALES AND SERVICE.

We desire to announce to the public that we have taken the Agency for the Chevrolet Sales and Service, which includes Touring Cars and Roadsters, Coupes and Sedans and also the F. B. Baby Grand in Touring Cars, Roadsters, Coupes and one-Ton Trucks.

We are prepared to demonstrate these cars and to explain fully the many points of merit possessed by the Chevrolet line. For real service and economy in operation they have no superiors on the market today and but few equals.

Step in and look at the F. B. Baby Grand Touring now on our floors.

Repairing, Oils, Gasoline.

Alcohol, Radiator Hoods.

We aim to render prompt and satisfactory service at all times.

THE C. & C. GARAGE

(Successors to Deal's Garage).

Auction Sale!

GEO. RATTENBURY, AUCTIONEER

G. A. Sessions having sold his farm, the undersigned will sell at Public Auction, on the premises, 1½ Miles North of Northville, and 1 Mile South of Novi Corners, on

THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, '20

HORSES.

1 Bay Gelding, 5 yr old, wt., 1,250 Lbs.

1 Gray Gelding, 12 yr old, wt., 1,250 Lbs.

MILCH COWS.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 5 yr old, due Jan. 9.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 8 yr old, Calf by side.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 8 yr old, due Jan. 16.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 8 yr old, Fresh.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 5 yr old, due Jan. 4.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 8 yr old, Calf by side.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 4 yr old, due Jan. 28.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 6 yr old, due July 28.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 10 yr old, due May 15.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 5 yr old, Fresh.

1 Roan Cow, 4 yr old, due Now.

1 Grade Holstein Cow, 5 yr old, due July 1.

1 Jersey Cow, 4 yr old, Full Milch.

1 Red and White Cow, 6 yr old, Full Milch.

1 Holstein Bull, 15 Months' old.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Straw. 15 Tons Mixed Hay.

Quantity of Corn Fodder.

12 Feet of Ensilage. 250 Bushels of Oats.

Quantity of Cotton Seed.

Quantity of Timothy Seed.

CHICKENS.

65 White Wyandotte Chickens.

2 Thoroughbred Wyandotte Roosters, 1 yr old.

FARM TOOLS.

1 Empire Milking Machine, nearly new.

1 Massey-Harris Grain Binder.

1 Deering Corn Binder. 1 Land Roller.

1 Johnsen Mower. 1 Single Cultivator.

1 3-Section Spring-Tooth.

1 Holly Stiff-Legged Cultivator.

1 3-Section Drag. (72 teeth).

1 2-Horse Clover Leaf Manure Spreader.

1 Syracuse Plow. 1 Superior Grain Drill.

1 Turnbull Wagon. 1 Top Buggy.

1 Combination Hay Rack and Wagon Box.

1 Set Wagon Springs. 1 Set Gravel Boards.

1 Set 3-Horse Whiffetrees. 1 Tank Heater.

1 Buggy Pole. 1 Chicken Crate.

3 10-Gallon Milk Cans. 1 Potato Digger.

2 5-Gallon Milk Cans.

1 Set of Double Harness. 1 Third Harness.

Half Interest in 13 Acres of Rye.

Hay Forks, Pulleys, Ropes, and Other Articles.

TERMS—All sums of $10 and under, Cash; over that amount, Six Months' Time will be given on Approved Bankable Notes bearing 6 per cent interest.

SESSIONS & ENO, Proprietors

FRED P. SIMMONS, Clerk.

L. A. BABBITT, Note Clerk.

Geo. Rattenbury

AUCTIONEER.

SELLS A SPECIALTY.

Satisfaction Guaranteed and Terms Reasonable.

Phone 231 J-11. NORTHVILLE.

Causes of Memory's Stirring.

"How I love the smell of wood fire," is a common exclamation. Now, there's nothing delightful about smell of wood smoke, but, oh! the memories.

The lavender sprigs in grandmother's bureau drawer did much toward keeping her memory sweet. Returning seasons redolent with the fumes of flowers and fruit are responsible for many a homesick hour.

Farmington Flashes

Mrs. Gourley was a guest New Years day at her sisters' home in Pontiac.

Mrs. Frank Norton of Ypsilanti was a recent guest of her mother in this village.

Mrs. Drake and Mrs. Randall have been receiving a visit from their sister Catherine Ferguson of Birmingham.

Miss Helen Warner and Mrs. JoAnna Shaft were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fisher of Pontiac, Sunday who entertained at a family dinner in honor of Misses Betty and Angela Gaulker who left Tuesday for Monroe to resume their studies at St. Mary's Convent.

Walled Lake Warbles.

Charles Wedow has been on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller of Hazelett have been guests at the home of Perry Austin for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Slabro and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Haab of Salem spent Monday with friends here.

Mrs. Frank Tanner entertained W. C. T. U. ladies Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Russell and son were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Johns.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Champ and children, Mrs. Georgia Champ, and Mrs. Kate Van Gordon will leave Sunday night where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

School began Monday after the Holiday vacation.

Mrs. Tamlyn spent New Year's with her sister at Linden.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Russell and son, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beatty and family and Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Johns were New Year's guests of W. S. Parmenter and wife in their home in Pontiac.

Wixom Whispersings.

Chris Van Wagoner of Detroit visited his parents here Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. E. Nowrey was in Northville Tuesday.

Hazel Quick returned home from Eliza, Friday, and Maude Gileek from Detroit, Sunday evening.

J. W. Watkins and family were visitors to Steven's home Saturday night and a part of Sunday.

Mrs. Fred of Pontiac was a visitor and remained here New Year's day.

H. Anderson and wife of Walled Lake ate New Year's dinner with W. R. Anderson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith the former has been engaged the lumber business here, left for Traverse City Thursday to remain a few days and will then go to Florida for the rest of the winter.

Mrs. L. A. Holden, who has been visiting her parents two weeks, returned to her home in Centralia, Ill., Monday.

Geo. Oldenberg of Flint was the guest of his brother, G. J. Oldenberg and family, over Sunday.

Mrs. Green Gates and daughter returned from a ten day's visit in Detroit Saturday.

WIXOM CHURCH NOTES.

There will be the regular Morning and Evening Services next Sunday as usual with the following variations.

Rev. C. A. Slack of Novi will be in the Pulpit Sunday evening.

On Tuesday, the 15th, the annual meeting of the Church and Church Society, will be held for the election of officers. Dinner will be served at noon.

On Tuesday evening the a number of the lecture course will be given. Don't fail to hear Wilton H. Stort, the interesting thoughts provoking lecturer.

FAMOUS SPEAKERS TO TALK FOR FARMERS.

What is said to be the greatest list of speakers ever gotten together for a farmers' congress anywhere has been scheduled to address the agricultural men of the state at the N. A. C. Farmers' Week, Feb. 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6.

The dozen men who will be headliners at the different general meetings of the week include the foremost agricultural authorities of the country, practical educators, authors of note, the governor or one of the leading agricultural states, and even a famous English poet and war correspondent, who will take the assembled farmers away from "shop talk" during part of one of the meetings.

Dean Alfred Vian of Ohio State University, will furnish one of the big features of the week in his famous "Farmers' Tour Around the World." Dean Vian has studied at first hand the agricultural conditions of practically every country in the world, and his series of illustrated lectures—one each day of the week—is expected to be of great interest for Michigan farmers.

The general meetings at which the main speakers will appear will be arranged so as not to conflict with the many agricultural association meetings scheduled for the week, or with the time allotted for inspection of the various exhibits.

The complete list of speakers is as follows: Governor Frank C. Lowden of Illinois; Pres. C. C. Creelman of Ontario Agricultural College; Dean Alfred Vian, of Ohio State University; Cecil Roberts, famous English poet and war correspondent; H. J. Howard, President of the National Farm Bureau; H. C. Taylor, Chief of the Farm Management Bureau, Washington, D. C.; Kenyon L. Butterfield, Pres. of Massachusetts Agricultural College; Dr. C. V. McCollum, Nutrition Expert at Johns Hopkins University; Henrietta W. Calvin, Bureau of Education, Washington; A. F. Lever, Member Federal Farm Loan Board and ex-congressman; A. J. Kiernan, Chief of Tuberculosis Eradication Bureau of Animal Industry, Washington; and Dr. G. W. Gause, Pres. of Armour Institute.

Daily Thought.—Let us consider the reason of the case; for nothing is law that is not reason.—Sir John Powell.

Useless to Try.

These were the words in a lecture which aroused untimely mirth at my expense: "The paths up this mountain are too steep for even a mule to climb; therefore I did not attempt the ascent myself."—Exchange.

State of Ohio City of Toledo.

Lucas County is Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is senior partner of the firm of Frank J. Cheney & Son, doing business in Toledo.

Toledo County is State Attorney and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Cancer that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Swear to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of January, A. D. 1888.

A. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by all druggists. Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Real Economy Begins With Quality

If It's A HARDIE It's Right

The Sprayer that is made, not just put together. There are over 10,000 of these Sprayers used in the U. S. A.

THE LIGHT THREE POWER SPRAYER

The Sprayer with Service Proved Reputation.

New type ideal engine, not a cheap farm engine, but a high duty engine of the first class—an engine that will give you steady, constant, dependable power at the lowest upkeep cost.

The Hardie Triple-Pump—the pump that has made good for 15 years in every orchard section in America—improved from time to time, but always the best.

A Pressure Regulator that holds the pressure right to the dot and takes all the load off the engine when the nozzles are not in use.

The Sprayer with the automobile truck—turns shorter than any other machine. Under-slung axle, tank hangs only 18 inches from ground. This Sprayer is preferred by thousands of orchardists who have hillside as well as level orchards, because it sets so low what it passes under the branches of the trees.

The Hardie Power-Sprayers are made in seven sizes and styles and are right all the way through from the engine to the nozzles.

We carry everything you need for your orchard and the best of everything, so you should see us before buying.

High Pressure Hose and Fittings.

For Sale by

FRED SIMMONS

NORTHVILLE.

MICHIGAN.

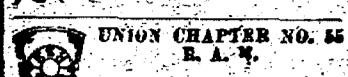

I have one of these Sprayers in display at Northville.

Your Auction Sale Will Be A Success if Advertised The Record Way.

J. H. WILKINS

Northville. Proprietor.

NORTHVILLE LODGE NO. 186 F. & A. M.

NORTHVILLE COMMANDERY NO. 79 E. T.

NOTICE TO MASTER MASON'S

Lodge opens at 7:30 o'clock

TRY A LINER IN THE RECORD.

For the Small Investor.

A Big Toe In A Little Puddle.—Or in A Peor-Man's proposition—you can have a LIFE Income with an Investment of $250—or $500. We want 10 investors at $500 or 20 with $250. Absolutely clean and indorsed by Bankers and Business men. Write for information and give references.

Address: MONTGOMERY,
96 Alfred St., DETROIT.

Central Cash Meat Market

Next Door to A. & P. Store.

Phone 180

OCEAN FISH
EVERY
THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
EVERYTHING
IN CHOICE MEATS

Sam Pickard, Prop.

Northville, Michigan.

Warm Underwear, Blankets.

You will find here a very complete assortment of Warm, Comfortable Underwear for Women and Children, and a good showing of nice Warm Bed Blankets. Keep warm to avoid colds, and thus save doctor's bills.

Handsome assortment of Glassware and Dishes.

Fresh Groceries Every Day.

Choice Candies.

M. BROCK & COMPANY

Northville, Michigan.

RUBBERS AND ARCTICS.

These are the days when you should keep your feet warm and dry. Nothing can do that better than a pair of our New Rubbers or Arctics. We have them to fit all kinds of shoes—broad, long, dress and work—and we invite your inspection.

Rubbers are cheaper than Shoes and we shall be pleased to assist you in securing a good fit.

Everything in Footwear.

McCULLY

THE SHOEMAN

Main St., Northville.

Northville Newslets.

Miss Elizabeth Ostrander has been on the sick list this week.

Hon. and Mrs. Frank B. Aldrich of Long Point, Mich., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milo N. Johnson over Sunday.

Don VanSickle and wife moved last week to the Worvie farm on the Base Line which they recently purchased—South Lyon Herald.

Many subscriptions to The Record expired with the new year. A prompt renewal of all subscriptions will be appreciated.

G. H. Baker has an announcement under the head of Record Business Pointers this week, to which the attention of our readers is directed.

Miss Ruth Clark, teacher in the Northville schools, underwent an operation for appendicitis at her home in Hadley, during the holidays, and will be unable to resume teaching before February.

Mrs. L. B. Charter and son, Glenn visited Detroit relatives Tuesday.

C. A. Ponsford and family spent New Year's day with Detroit relatives.

Mrs. Melvina Carpenter spent the holidays at her brother's home in Pontiac. Regular meeting of the Masonic Lodge, No. 186 F. & A. M. Monday evening.

Lisle Alexander is now employed in the P. M. Yards at Plymouth.

Mrs. Sarah Parsons retired Tuesday from a visit with friends at Grossé Isle.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Pickree of Plymouth were guests of Geo. Ford and wife Sunday.

Mrs. Belle Sammons of Royal Oak is the guest of her niece, Mrs. Frank Udry.

Mrs. Hugh Upton and son, Duane of Farmington were in town last week Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Murdock of Ypsilanti were recent guests of Northville relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Cudaback of Flint and Mrs. Geo. Ford were in Pontiac Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shain of Birmingham spent last Sunday with Mrs. Alice Meyers.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fly were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Murdock of Ypsilanti New Years.

Mrs. Everly Jackson, from Detroit where she spent the holidays with her daughter and other friends.

Edgar Ryder of Farmington spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanSickle.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lamont spent New Year's day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvie Putnam, far Novi.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Thompson are now well settled in their pleasant apartments in the Albian theater building.

Mrs. Jessie Duncanson of Ann Arbor, former kindergarten teacher in our schools, was a Northville visitor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth entertained their daughter, Mrs. Ford Becker and husband of West Plymouth, last Sunday.

Mrs. Nina Ryder and two children of Farmington visited at the home of her parents, Henry Garfield and wife, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Richardson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Murphy in Detroit New Year's day.

Margaret Murdock of Northville and Dorothy Murdock of Ypsilanti spent Christmas vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fay of Rochester, N. Y.

Sam Watson is the new proprietor of Westman's Cafe, Coopersburg, having recently purchased the stock from J. W. Westman of Wyandotte.

Rev. F. A. Price of Wixom and Rev. Chas. A. Stark of Napoli were Northville visitors Tuesday afternoon and both were welcome callers at The Record office.

Mr. and Mrs. Rue Terrell, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hiltz and Mrs. L. N. Hill will leave Sunday for California where they will visit old friends and friends for a few weeks.

Mrs. D. S. Rodgers, who has been visiting at the Frank Durfee farm, left Tuesday for Erie, N. Y., and after a short stay there, goes to California for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keeney entertained his mother, Mrs. James Keeney, brother, Spencer Keeney and wife, sister, Miss Gladys Hooper and Dr. Clark of Northville, last Sunday.

Mrs. F. L. Cook of Farmington entertained several guests, including Mrs. Grace Tremper of Northville, last Tuesday afternoon at her home in honor of Mrs. A. B. Moulton of Maine, a former Farmington teacher.

Mrs. Eva Clarkson has sold her residence property on Wing street south to A. G. Newman of Pontiac, a former Northville resident. There is considerable land fronting on the street and it is reported that Mr. Newman intends to build on these next spring.

Messrs. and Mrs. George S. A. Lovewell and E. L. Smith left last Friday forenoon for the Southwest, where they will spend a few weeks. The gentlemen are on a joint business and pleasure trip, intending to look at some Florida birds before returning. They visited at Washington, D. C., while enroute. They will visit at a number of places along the Florida coast.

Many Northville friends learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Florence Moody at her home in Detroit, January 2nd. Mrs. Moody had been prominent in the Woman's Relief Corps for many years, and had held both state and national offices in that order. She had conducted the annual inspection of the local Corps several times and had frequently attended the various special functions of the organization here, by whose members she was greatly beloved.

Mrs. Cavell was on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Willard Cole was in Plymouth Monday.

H. Jackson was home from the Lake Wednesday.

Willard Mosher spent some time at the lake recently.

Mrs. Lester Stage was a Plymouth visitor Monday.

Mrs. S. A. Knowles has returned to her home in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Wil Farmerer of Detroit were in town Wednesday.

Miss Dorothy Dubuar returned to Oberlin College Tuesday morning.

Mrs. E. B. Cavell and daughter visited relatives in Detroit last week.

Reva Schrader spent the weekend with Dorothy Stanley in Detroit.

C. L. Garfield of Detroit spent Sunday with his father T. A. Garfield.

Mrs. Potts and children of Royal Oak were visiting relatives in town just week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Masher of Kenosha, Wis., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Louck over New Years.

Mrs. Everly Jackson from Detroit where she spent the holidays with her daughter and other friends.

Edgar Ryder of Farmington spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry VanSickle.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lamont spent New Year's day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvie Putnam, far Novi.

The residence of L. R. Babcock on Randolph street was destroyed by fire early Monday morning and only a portion of the furniture was saved. It is believed the fire started from defective wiring.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES: This Friday evening will be the closing service of the Week of Prayer.

It will be held in the Presbyterian church with the Rev. Mr. Marsh of the Methodist church preaching. Whether you have been attending these meetings or not, make it a point to be present tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The combined service Sunday morning at 10:30. Bill is study during first hour, Lesson, Act 1, "The Lamp Man Headed," sermon following, "The Holy Cathedra Church." This is the fifth in the series on the Apostles' Creed.

At 7:30 p.m., "He Is Not Worth Asking" for Lent with Haying.

There will be evening prayer meeting at 7:30 p.m.

AUCTION SALE.

On Thursday next, commencing at 12:30 p.m. there will be an auction sale of the farm of Chas. A. Sessions, one and a half miles north of this village. Mr. Sessions has sold his house and all the stock and tools will be offered for sale. Remember the date and their sale in The Record.

AUCTION SALE.

On Thursday next, commencing at 12:30 p.m. there will be an auction sale on the farm of Chas. A. Sessions, one and a half miles west of Northville on the Fishers Road, on Wednesday January 17th, commencing at 12:30 sharp. He will sell all his stock and tools. Read this ad. in today's paper.

WATER TAX NOW DUE.

Water tax bills are now due and can be paid at the Northville State Savings bank any time between the 10th and 20th. All water users are urged to pay promptly.

W. C. T. U.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the home of Mrs. Jane Sessions on Monday, at 3 p.m., Jan. 12th.

After the holiday vacation it is hoped every member will make an effort to be present at this meeting. The Wets are still busy, why should we be idle?

There is work yet to be done.

Protect Your Eyes.

I fit Glasses as you need them, no matter how complicated they may be.

We also do expert Watch Repairing.

R. R. CLINE

Jewelry and Optometrist

Northville, Mich.

FLOWERS

IF YOU ARE THINKING OF FLOWERS, PLEASE REMEMBER DIXON AND PHONE 1403, OR CALL IN PERSON.

NORTHVILLE GREENHOUSE

J. M. DIXON, Prop. Phone

OUR WISH FOR 1920

is that all residents of Northville and surrounding Country will test our banking facilities.

DURING 1919

this bank has given its depositors a four per cent rate, from August 1st, on Savings deposits. Increased its Capital Stock to $50,000.00.

Become a Member of the Federal Reserve System.

We begin the New Year confident of our ability to give our customers the

BEST IN BANKING SERVICE

And desire, at this time, to express our appreciation of the aid our depositors have given in making possible the continued growth of this bank.

LAPHAM STATE SAVINGS BANK

Capital Stock $50,000.00 Surplus $15,000.00

Additional liability of Stockholders, $50,000.00

OFFICERS.

F. S. Harmon, President
R. Christensen, Vice-Pres.
F. S. Neal, Vice-Pres.
E. B. Lapheim, Cashier
E. M. Johnson, Asst. Cashier
Ernest Miller, Asst. Cashier

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

T. S. Harmon, E. Christensen,
F. E. Bradley, Frank S. Neal,
M. N. Johnson, R. M. Terrill,
L. H. Lapheim

MILK PATRONS

We wish to announce that we are now able to supply our patrons with WHIPPED CREAM COFFEE CREAM SOUR MILK.

PROFESSIONAL CLUBS.

D. T. H. TURNER, HOMEOPATHIC Physician, and Surgeon. Office next door west of Ambler House on Main street. Office hours 1:00 to 2:00 and 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. Telephone 51. Rev. phone 52.

RECORD LINERS PAY-TRY ONE.

W. R. DICKERSON

NORTHVILLE.

PHONE 129-W.

AS Good Loyal Citizens of Northville

We believe it our duty to come out point blank with the unadulterated truth about men's and young men's clothing conditions this fall.

Talented Labor Never Received a Fatter Pay

Envelope, Linings, trimmings, hair, cloth, padding and everything else that goes into the manufacture of a man's suit or coat either commands a high price or carries a low standard of quality.

Today, the man about to buy new clothes has only two choices: Either he must pay a fair price for a good article at a reliable store or suffer the after-effects of an unsound bargain that is as unsafe an investment as dabbling in a salted gold mine.

Speaking Strictly for Ourselves and in guidance of Our Customers we want to go on record by saying that this institution will continue to be the home of QUALITY and VALUE and that now or in the future, there is or will be NO DANGER of our deserting those high standards of woolens and workmanship that the people of Northville look to us to uphold.

Michaels-Stern Value First Fall Suits. Stetson Hats, Manhattan Shirts, Interwoven Hose.

WHILE THEY LAST

Men's and Boys' Overcoats

at Greatly Reduced

ASPIRIN FOR HEADACHE

Name "Bayer" is on Genuine Aspirin—say Bayer.

Insist on "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in a "Bayer package," containing directions for Headache, Colds, Pain, Neuralgia, Lumbago, and Rheumatism. Name "Bayer" means genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for nineteen years. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost few cents. Aspirin is trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacatracidester of Salicylicacid—Adv.

No Thought for the Morrow.
Farmer—Want to hire out for a month?

Hoho—Gosh, no—I want to live today as if I expected to die tomorrow.

Don't Forget Cuticura Talcum.
When adding to your toilet requisites, add exquisitely scented face, skin, baby, and dusting powder and perfume, rendering other perfumes' superstitions. You may rely on it because one of the Cuticura Trio (Soap, Ointment and Talcum), 25¢ each everywhere. Adv.

National Preferences.
"I don't like these cold English."
"Neither do I." I prefer hot Scotch."

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Mrs. J. Christman Proved

That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a Remedy for this Trouble.

Binghamton, N. Y.—"I was in a very nervous condition for over a year, my mind was gloomy, I could see no light on anything, could not work and could not have anyone to live with. Doctor's medicine did not help me and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended. I took it and am now well. I recommend it to all afflicted with nervous prostration." —Mrs. J. CHRISTMAN, 133 Oak Street, Binghamton, New York.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from nervous prostration, disquietude, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feelings, flatulence, indigestion and dizziness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

If there are any complications about which you need advice, write in confidence to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

RHEUMATISM

Mustarine Subdues the Inflammation and Eases the Soreness

Quicker Than Anything Else on Earth.

Pay only 25 cents and get a big box of Berg's Mustarine, which is the original mustard plaster and is made of strong, real yellow mustard—no substitutes are used.

It's known as the quickest pain killer on earth, for in hundreds of instances it stops headache, neuralgia, toothache, earache and backache in a minute.

It's a bronchitis remedy, a tonic, better for rheumatism, pleurisy, lumbago, and to draw the inflammation from your sore feet; there is nothing so good.

You get real action with Mustarine—it goes to the pain and kills it right off.

It's a real tonic, but it doesn't give you a stupor, a sleep or a rest.

It does give it a good healthy punch in the jaw—it kills pain. Ask for and get Mustarine always in the yellow box.

S. C. Wells & Co., Le Roy, N. Y.

MUSTARINE

CANADIAN

Old Favorite Tonic Laxative

When constipation bothers you and you get feverish and out of sorts, remember that old reliable vegetable.

Celery King

Is sold in every drug store in the land.

We use for Indigestion too and for fevers and colds. Same old remedy that thousands swear by.

S. C. Wells & Co., Le Roy, N. Y.

FRECKLES

A Bad Cough

Often leads to serious trouble. To help relieve your distress and soothe your irritated throat by taking

PISO'S

BELGIUM SKETCHES

Your Home and Theirs

By Katharine Eggleston Ross

Copyright, 1915, Western News Publishing Co.

One cannot work so well to recover, explains a youngster who was in battle. But how can so many people live in such small houses? They can because they must. The more fortunate ones must make room for those who have not even left even the bricks of their walls.

And now we are reaching No Man's Land. Truly the name describes it. As we enter, the desolate, dead-burnt waste, shattered with splintered bones, broken guns and grinning skulls, we pass a tiny building made of odds and ends of shingles and on it the owner, who possesses a grim sense of humor, has painted "Tutu Cafe—Dear Wine and Ale Sold Here."

We make our way gingerly among the shells that lie about, for sometimes you know some of them are only crouching voice their protest in a loud explosion. The gaunt, leafless gray trees look like ghosts. Often we find nests in them a few crosses and we

This city looks pretty well, doesn't it? A building once stood in place of those signboards, but, unless you look at the plaster hinging to the adjacent houses you would never know. Things have been cleared up quite thoroughly since that happened at the beginning of the war. Except to a few people, these boards will only of the things they advertise. There's the house to which we are going—that one, where the painter is working on the door. Queer isn't it, how all of the houses look alike here? narrow, of white plaster with a sharp pointed roof.

This door is like all the other doors, too. It has the same sort of dents made by bats of German guns demanding entrance; the same kind of misfitting wooden letter slot to replace the copper one the Germans took; the same pattern of ugly iron door handles, substituting for the old one of brass. That is why the painter is hired, even if necessities must be sacrificed, to paint over that latter slot so that it won't speak so eloquently to cover those shrieking scars, to hide the infirmitas of the people behind the locked doors of their homes. So far you have seen only one side of the door—outside. But the people fire everything inside, so we go into the drawing room. You must not notice that the doors have no knobs. They were bruisers and now sojourning in Germany. Did you ever get a Turner's nightmare? I did it. As we sit our coffee there is so much laughter and joking that you scarcely notice the faded pictures on the wall where the now-depicted family portraits and other valuable pictures met a man and woman who stopped at each other. Will they find the one they are seeking? The poppies that grow in the shell-holes are crimson and the blood that ran over Flanders—dripping flowers, filled with the dreams of heroes sleeping where their graves are.

All That Was Left

But we must carry. There in the distance you can just make out houses, partly destroyed by those who returned to find their havens obliterated. But what queer things they are! Some are made of twisted wire, with broken bits.

A man comes as he sees your curiosity. "Hats of death they brought for their owners," he explains. "We should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages over all others because they last longer, are very smart and present a chance to remediate partly long coats into something that is right and new."

Some furs are difficult to make up or remediate because the skins must be matched, that is put together so that the joining is durable, perceptible on the fur side. These require a professional tailor's services when coats are to be elongated or remediated. Other furs that do not require "matching" can be handled by the average dressmaker or good needlewoman quite successfully. The tailor's tools are few and simple. They include a sharp, very sharp knife for cutting the fur on the skin side; special triangular needles for sewing, chalk for marking and strong thread. Home dressmakers use razors blades for cutting and buy needles and thread at the right size.

When the fur is to be cut, it is marked with chalk on the skin side and cut with the razor blade along this marking. Pieces are joined by holding the edges together evenly and sewing them by overcasting the thread and drawing it tight so that the edges are firmly held.

Before making a fur coat one

should cut and fit an interesting,

so that they will continue to go up,

in value," he says. "The short fur coats have advantages

