Highway Commissioner—Grant Putnam

Overseer of Highways—

Constables—Lee Hammond, Eugene Verduyn, Eugene Hicks, Gilbert Madison

WAS WELL ATTENDED.

The picture "Little Women," given as a benefit for the Northville Ladies' Library association drew a good-sized crowd Friday night and the association realized a goodly sum from the entertainment. The enjoyment of the pictures was greatly enhanced by the music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tatham and the committee having the affair in charge is very grateful to them for their services. The ladies also desire to thank Mr. Thompson of the Alceum theatre and all others who contributed in any way in making the benefit a success.

MOTORS AND LINE SHAFTS INSTALLED.

The motors which will supply power for the new Ford plant were placed in position this week and the line shafts were also installed. The next move will, doubtless, be to install the machines.

The interior of the building has been painted white and tractor grey and is very attractive. The heating system is operated by means of motors and both heating and ventilation will be ideal.

MASONS ATTEND M. E. CHURCH IN A BODY

Responding to the invitation of Brother H. J. B. Marsh, pastor of the M. E. church about forty members of the Masonic fraternity attended the services Sunday evening. A choir of seven voices, with Mrs. Tatham at the organ, led the congregational singing, and rendered a pleasing anthem. As the familiar hymns were sung the men's voices served as an inspiration and all entered heartily into that part of the service. Rev. Marsh selected as the scripture lesson portions of I Kings and Revelations, and took the words of his text from I Kings 7:22. "And upon the pillars was his work, so was the work of the pillars finished." In his opening remarks the pastor extended a cordial welcome to the visiting brethren and stated he did not, invite them there for the purpose of advertising Masonry, because he regarded that ancient and honorable institution best advertised by its accomplishments. He was pleased to have them present and he hoped he might say something that would serve as an inspiration to the extent that the teachings of the order might be applied to the common every day affairs of life.

The text of course, referred to the ornaments upon the top of the two principal pillars of Solomon's temple. Ever young about that building had a great significance. The significance of the pillars was easily seen, but that of the holy work? What is the use of ornamentation? There were people that believed that all our adornment was sinful or at best useless. Why do we wear ornaments? Why decorate our houses, why build beautiful churches? Solomon's temple built by divine inspiration was the most costly and beautiful building ever erected by man for the worship of God.

"Only good things are designedly ornamented." The holy work was God's plan of relief from the monotony of plainness and they suggested, the highest and purer things of life. Holy work is like the crown of blessing upon the brow of labor. Toil has a larger place in life than any other. Masonry originated among the toilers of the world and still retains its democratic ideal. A President or a King has no precedence in the lodge room over the humblest member. "We meet upon the level." "If the principles of Masonry," declared the speaker, "were universally practiced, there would be no strife between capital and labor." The speaker referred to the lost of pay upon the face of a mother as her babe smiles up at her, the gladness upon the face of the father as he hears his home at the end of a long day, when his child smiles down the street toward him, his dark toll crowned with the blessing of love and care.

"The crown of glory upon the brow of sacrifice." We must give, to live. "It was better for a young man or woman to work their way through college as it gives them a share in the sacrifice, and thus built up the best elements of their character. We ought not to complain for the sacrifice we make for others, as some one has had to do as much for us. The greatest honor the world can bestow, has been given to those who gave their lives sacrificially for a cause or a principle, one instance being Abraham Lincoln whose memory is revered among all English speaking peoples, as one of the greatest leaders of the race. The sweetest pleasures and greatest satisfactions of life come to us through what we have given of ourselves. The Crown of Life upon the brow of Death. We naturally dread death, we defer it as long as we can. Every city has its city of the dead nearby, every country community as "God's Acre." We are not born to die, we are born to live."

"Christ came with a message of life and upon the brow of death he has placed the crown of life. 'I am the resurrection and the life.' Christ is the one, who with the strong grip of the lion of the tribe of Judah, raises men from death to life, and brings light and immortality to light, through his gospel." The speaker concluded by alluding to the unusual fact that the ministers had been requested to observe March 14, as Masonic Sunday, and expressed the belief that it had a deep significance; that Masons ought to give themselves heart and soul to work.

WOMEN SHOULD REGISTER.

All women who desire to vote at the approaching spring election and who are not registered ought to attend to the matter this week Saturday—tomorrow. They can register any time next week by applying in person to Township Clerk Ernest Miller, but they will do well to remember that Saturday, March 27th, is the last day any one can register for the spring election.

The spring election this year is one of more than ordinary importance and interest, because upon that occasion the voters of Michigan will be given an opportunity to express their preference for their candidate for president of the United States to be voted for in November. The women of Michigan are vitally interested in this matter—just as much so as the men—and now that they have the privilege of exercising their right of suffrage they ought not to neglect the duty this privilege places upon them.

Register with your township clerk on Saturday if you can, and if you cannot do so at that time attend to the matter next week without fail.

CLUB WORK WILL HELP.

A big problem facing the community today is the labor situation. The dread of unemployment has become a reality for the laborer. The fact is, the laborer is going to the limit. More than 100,000 have been held the past fall and winter. The fact is, the laborer is going to the limit.

Some possible help in the situation may be the following: the use of machinery and the use of machinery. The fact is, the laborer is going to the limit. More than 100,000 have been held the past fall and winter. The fact is, the laborer is going to the limit.

HAD PLENTY OF PIE.

The session of the Presbyterian church held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Knapp Monday evening and the members and their wives enjoyed a pot-luck dinner. At a former meeting some of the gentlemen were heard to remark they wished the ladies would furnish more pie, because they never had enough. Remembering the remark, made in jest, of course, the ladies prepared for the event and decided to serve the gentlemen all the pie they desired. Each gentleman was served a whole, big round pie, and from last accounts it seems all were satisfied.

BOARD OF COMMERCE

WILL CONTINUE

The Northville Chamber of Commerce is to continue its existence, if the wishes expressed by nearly fifty representative men of the community are realized. These gentlemen attended the annual meeting of the organization which was held at the High school gym on Tuesday evening and thoroughly enjoyed the gathering. Soon after eight o'clock the assemblage was called to order by Vice-President S. A. Lovewell, who briefly stated the object of the meeting. He asked for an expression from those present whether it was desired to continue the organization and when the matter was put to a vote all were in favor of continuing and pledged their support to the enterprise.

Tom L. Munger and F. H. Evans, representatives of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, were present at the meeting and gave practical and helpful talks upon the value of co-operation. When the time came for the election of a new board of directors, the chairman was entrusted with the duty of appointing a committee of three on nominations and he named E. L. Smith, J. M. Eaton and E. E. Brown, who retired after a short conference submitted the following names: E. H. Lapham, Chas. H. Young, R. B. Brown, L. A. Brown, W. N. Johnson, C. B. Lister, S. A. Lovewell, C. C. Yerkes, J. M. Eaton, W. J. Lanning, A. E. Stanley, W. E. Ross, D. C. Bowen and J. J. B. Miller. The recommendation of the committee was unanimously adopted.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

It was encouraging to see the increase in the congregation last Sunday. The future of this church looks brighter than for some time. The new pastor is receiving hearty cooperation. Arrangements have been made with Mrs. Osborne to serve as pianist at the church services every Sunday. All friends and members are asked to rally as the spring approaches and carry on for God.

Next Sunday morning pastor Grimwood will preach on "Three Very Essential Things in Christian Work," as we find them illustrated in the baptism of Jesus. A sermon for all who wish to make their Christian life more effective.

In the evening his theme will be "The Love of the Father in the story of the Prodigal Son." Whether we are guilty of the sins of the flesh like the younger son or of the disposition like the elder, this sermon has a message for us all alike.

Come one—come all! Let us not forget God. The most valuable thing in any community is the church that gives you God's word and seeks to serve your spiritual needs. Stand by it. Rally! Rally! You need us, we need you. All need God.

Morning service at 10:30. Bible school at 1:45. Evening service at 7:30. Prayer and conference meeting every Thursday at 7:20.

Quebracho Bark Valuable.

Quebracho bark, one of the chief exports of the Argentine, will fetch leather at least three times as fast as the bark of the oak or the hemlock and in less than ten years fortune have been made by investing in quebracho lands. Nearly 1,000,000 tons of the wood or the dry extract are sent to the United States and Europe annually. The growth of the tree is the slowest, and it is estimated that 1,000 years is required for it to reach maturity.

Don't Mistake The Cause

Many Northville People Have Kidney Trouble and Do Not Know It. Do you have backache? Are you tired and worn out? Feel dizzy, nervous and depressed? Are the kidney secretions irregular? Highly colored, contain sediment? Likely your kidneys are at fault. Weak kidneys give warning of distress. Heed the warning, don't delay—Use a tested kidney remedy. Read this Ann Arbor testimony. P. J. Desmond, 301 W. Summit St., Ann Arbor, Mich., says: "Whenever my kidneys get weak, causing my back to ache or be sore or the kidney secretions pass too freely, or when I am tired or languid, I use a box or so of Doan's Kidney Pills. I am soon all right again. Doan's have never failed to help me and I keep them in the house all the time and wouldn't be without them. I advise anyone to use Doan's Kidney Pills if troubled with their kidneys. Price 50¢ at all dealers. Don't simply take for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Desmond had. FOR BODY BUILDING CONTEST.

With the approach of April 1, the closing date for entries in the annual Body Building contest of the Michigan State Fair, G. W. Dickinson, secretary-manager of the fair, announces the 1920 contest will be the largest ever staged.

Interest in athletics stimulated by the physical training the boys received in the concentration camps, enthusiasm aroused through the interest in the 1920 Olympic games and the general tendency of the public to give more attention to the welfare of the body, is responsible for the extraordinary number of entries of both men and women being received, according to the fair executive.

The period of training will extend over five months this year, the contest opening April 1 and closing September 1. Rules of the contest provide that each entrant shall file an entry blank not later than April 1st showing their physical condition at that time. During the following five months each contestant follows a scientific course of physical training and endeavors to make as much headway in physical development as possible.

On September 1st all entrants appear at the State Fair before an examining board, of three of the greatest physical culture experts in America headed by Bernat McFadden of New York. Each contestant is given a thorough physical examination and prize is awarded to the one who made the most thorough development.

One who is expected to be the physical star of the contest is Mr. D. C. Johnson points out. The prizes to go to the contestant in the best physical condition, but to the one who made the greatest improvement in the five months.

SWAN LONG A SACRED BIRD

Ancient Belief That the Valkyrs Had Power to Change Themselves into Its Shape

The swans that adorn our Easter pulch are sacred birds in olden days and the Valkyrs, the beautiful virgins who conducted the fallen heroes to Walhalla, Wotan's paradise, possessed the power to change themselves into those white and graceful birds. The orange was an apple originally, consecrated to Freya, the highest of the goddesses. The custom of giving Easter eggs as a symbol of new awakening life is so ancient that we find it back as far as there is written evidence and the Easter meadow reminds us of the Easter plays that were held to celebrate the arrival of spring and the new life.

EGG ALWAYS EASTER FEATURE

Highly Decorated or Simply Colored, It Has Figured in All Celebrations of History.

In the early English days Easter eggs were highly colored and decorated with landscapes and elaborate inscriptions. While most of the old elaborate designs have fallen into disuse, the egg in some form yet remains a feature of Easter in modern times.

The Tyrolese peasants retain a very pretty custom of celebrating Easter, in which the egg figures prominently. On Easter eve bands of masquerade traverse every valley, singing holiday hymns. Their grotesque heads are adorned with flowers. Crowds of children accompany them and at night carry torches of lighted pine wood as they pass before each house. The people come to the doors and put eggs into the baskets of the singers. When they have gone to the doors.

The painted Easter eggs are much used in the Chinese and are as such a symbol of the new life of the East.

In April, 1919, the Chinese and Japanese had a contest with regard to the most beautiful Easter egg. The Chinese won with a egg which was a perfect copy of the Easter egg.

HER ESCAPE

By MILDRED WHITE

(Copyright 1919, Western News, Inc., Chicago)

"I have an errand down the street," she told the group around the fire place. "I won't be gone more than ten minutes." But the clock on the mantel chimed seven, and still dinner waited.

At 7:30 Aunt Millicent called her guests for the evening meal.

"I don't see what has become of Mollie," she said, "she is always as good as her word."

"Perhaps," suggested Mollie's brother, Reverend James, "her errand may have been to see a sick person who needs help."

"You don't think an accident—" began Aunt Marie from the city.

"If anything had happened, I should have heard by this time," Aunt Millicent decided comfortably. "Let's enjoy our dinner and be ready to receive the later guests when they come."

Mollie at that minute was jolting along a moonlit road in a soft-rolling car, driven by a strange man whom Mollie had never seen. She was enjoying herself immensely; the crisp breeze of autumn fanned her rosy cheeks and the pace she and her unknown companion were traveling was exhilarating. It was all part of the witchery of the night, she told herself, excusing the borne of crackling leaves in the roadway and shadows tall and beckoning from the moonlit hills.

Mollie had been, during the course of her useful life, a well-disciplined young woman. Tonight the errand which urged her forth was to carry a glass of jelly to a protégée of hers in the old folks' home.

The old folks' home was set back from the road, and Mollie expected to leave the car and walk to the door.

Aunt Millicent's party, she and Aunt Marie, were anxious to make a success of the little party, that Mollie's brother, Reverend James, might feel proud of this engaging girl.

As the car rolled on, Mollie stepped out from the car and walked to the door of the old folks' home, and stood waiting in the hallway of the old folks' home, a restless automobile rolled toward her like an apparition.

"The night and moonlight received her into its embrace."

A man's voice, a pleasing though commanding voice, had just interrupted her.

"Step in, please," and Mollie had stepped in.

As the car went flying up the hill, Mollie was not dismayed at her own unquestioning obedience; instead, a sense of phantasmic adventure possessed her.

"Who sent you for me," she asked her silent companion, "and who are you?"

The man, busy with the intricacies of the motor, did not stop to answer her, but did not reply until he had brought the machine to a stop in a dark, deserted corner.

"I was asked to pick up Miss Hill at the old folks' home," he said. "It seems she is visiting there, and a friend expected her at 7:30."

"I am not Miss Hill," Mollie said. "I am Mollie."

"Her long dark hair is very pretty," he said. "I am sure you are a very nice girl."

"We have both been mistaken," she explained. "I thought when you called that my brother had sent one of his friends to hurry me home. You can drop me on your way back to the old folks' home. By this time Miss Hill is probably waiting."

"The man uttered a low exclamation. 'And I've brought you on here, out of your way,' he said. 'You must let me take you safely home, before I call for Miss Hill.' But Mollie objected."

"I couldn't think of troubling you so far," she replied. "You may let me out just where you found me."

Regretfully, the man turned the machine about.

"These hills are wonderful in the moonlight," he murmured. "Would you mind," he added impulsively, "if I rode on a bit farther to get a better view before taking you down?"

It was then that Mollie blamed the witchery of the night for the promptness of her eager consent.

When the car halted at last before the old folks' home the man turned to her.

"Let me drive you home," he begged, "after I have found my charge."

The arrival at Aunt Millicent's was strangely confusing. Reverend James rushed out to meet the car before it had barely stopped.

"So they found you, Miss Hill," he greeted. "And you, John Burrows, late, as usual. But wherever did you find my little sister?"

"John Burrows?" How often she had heard James refer to his friend in the city.

"I knew you at once from your pictures," John Burrows was whispering shamelessly in her ear.

Then, happily, they followed the others into the fire-lighted room.

WAYNE COUNTY SCHOOL OFFICERS HELD MEETING.

Pursuant to a notice sent out at the direction of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, a meeting of the Wayne County School Officers was held in the auditorium of the Board of Commerce Building, on Wednesday, March 10. The meeting was called to order, with about 150 present, at 10 a. m. by Commissioner E. W. Yost.

Mr. Yost explained the purpose of the meeting and introduced Assistant State Superintendent G. N. Otwell.

Mr. Otwell took up the explanation of recent school laws and the changes that had been made in old laws.

He called attention especially to the change in the bonding limit for cities of over 15,000 and under 100,000, the change in the compulsory attendance law, and the new James Law providing for vocational and general education, of employed minors under 18 years of age, in cities of 5,000 and over.

Mr. Otwell explained that legislation had been in the direction of: first, Americanization; second, industrial efficiency; and third, health. In the matter of the last named he explained the new law providing for compulsory physical education in towns and cities of 3,000 and more inhabitants.

Mr. Otwell took up, on inquiry questions of changes in boundaries of districts, the conduct of district meetings, qualifications of voters, etc. Before the adjournment of the morning session Mr. Arbaugh spoke of the recently established Division of the Commissioner's office, of which he is the Secretary. He explained the purpose of the uniform system of transfers and census, and referred to the project of a course of study for the county, that would prevent loss of credit when pupils move from one part of the county to another.

The afternoon session was called to order at 1:30 p. m. by Assistant Commissioner Fisher, who spoke of the importance of teachers and the necessity of their salaries in view of the high cost of living that had been set by the cost of Detroit, and the demand that a salary be paid by other occupations.

Mr. Otwell gave an address in which he emphasized the present need of education, and the individual and the school districts to provide educational opportunities for boys and girls in the rural schools. He suggested consolidation of rural schools as a means of improvement.

At the close of his address, there was a general discussion and a motion was offered by Mr. Raymond Gardner, District No. 2, Greenfield, to the effect that those present favored the adoption of a county school unit for administrative and taxing purposes. Because those present understood so little as to just what this might involve, Mr. Gardner offered as a substitute the motion that a committee of five be appointed to investigate this matter and report at a meeting to be called later. This motion was carried. Commissioner E. W. Yost appointed the following members of this committee:

Mr. Raymond Gardner, Greenfield, Chairman.

Mr. E. R. Bryan, Dearborn.

Mr. George M. Bentley, Plymouth.

Mr. B. G. A. Laitner, Nankin.

Benjamin S. Warren, Gross Pointe Shores.

The following motions were then introduced: first Resolved, That we express our appreciation to Mr. George N. Otwell for his services at this meeting, which has been enjoyed with such profit, second, Resolved, That we extend our hearty thanks to the Board of Commerce for their courtesy extended in allowing us the use of this auditorium. Both motions were unanimously carried. The meeting then adjourned.

FALLING PRICES HIT MICHIGAN DAIRYMEN.

The dairy industry of Michigan faces a serious crisis as a result of great price cuts put into effect by condenseries during the last two months. An average of $3.65 a hundred paid by the condenseries in January dropped to $3.35 in February, and as low as $2.60 in some instances for March, with prospects of a still further drop in April.

The failure of export demand for condensed milk and allied products, which followed the falling of foreign exchange, is held responsible for the price cuts to the producer.

"Probably a million more dairy cows are being milked in the United States now than in 1914," says J. A. Waldron, Dairy Specialist at the Michigan Agricultural college. "Production has been pushed up to meet the war demand, and now with the foreign market cut off we find ourselves with an over-production on our hands, and face to face with the law of supply and demand."

As an immediate solution of the problem, much of the milk must be skimmed and the butterfat sold. This will, in turn, undoubtedly mean a drop in butter prices.

Cutting down production so as to do away with our present over-supply seems to be the only way out of the problem. Dairymen, in self-defense, must immediately call out their poorer producers (their 'marginal cows') for with lower prices these animals would be carried at a positive loss. Production records will enable producers to select these unprofitable cows with ease."

Work on a state-wide soil survey will be carried on in Michigan on a large scale during the coming summer, according to announcement made recently by Dr. M. M. McCool, of the Soils department at the Michigan Agricultural college. The survey will be of great value to the agricultural interests of the state, cataloging the soils and giving a definite check upon the farming possibilities of every section of Michigan.

Cooperation between the Soils section of the Experimental station at the Agricultural college and the Bureau of Soils at Washington has made possible the work this summer. R. S. Shaw, director of the Experiment station, is now on a tour of inspection of the survey, while C. F. Marbut, chief of Soils survey, Bureau of soils, will send one or more men to Michigan to work with the college specialists.

URGENT CENTRALISM OF SCHOOLS. A county school system with control vested in one central school board and a county superintendent, was advocated Wednesday at a meeting of Wayne county school officials in the Detroit Board of Commerce.

Pending a full report at a subsequent meeting by a committee to be appointed by County Commissioner, E. W. Yost, action will be deferred. Detroit, as well as other cities and larger towns in the county would be included in the centralized system, according to the proposed plan. Yost, however, stated that the superintendent of Detroit schools would probably be made county superintendent and that the Detroit board of education would be included in the county board, which would be composed of members from different communities according to population.

Fixing salaries of teachers according to living costs in their communities was urged at a meeting by Fred C. Fisher, assistant school commissioner. He predicted that owing to the great increase of living costs during the past six months, teachers' salaries would have to be greatly increased next year.—Detroit Journal.

MAY YET DECIDE TO EQUALIZE TAX

Whether Wayne county's 1919 equalization will stand in 1920 as contained in a ruling by Attorney General Groesbeck, will be decided during the week of March 22 by the state board of equalization. The board, in session at Lansing Wednesday, decided there are so many issues involved that further consideration of the opinion will be necessary.

At the last session of the legislature provision was made for an annual meeting of the state board, but the matter of annual meetings of county boards of equalization was overlooked. In his opinion Attorney General Groesbeck points out that the proper machinery for the annual meeting was not provided, holding that in order for the state board to meet certain reports on equalization from the county boards are necessary.

In the last week session has been made that a special session of the legislature be called to provide for annual meetings of the county boards. The controversy over equalization is the result of complaints to the board from various parts of the state, notably Grand Rapids, that Wayne county is not paying its just apportionment of the state tax.

TO FEDERATE ELEVATORS.

To federate the 75 odd cooperative farmers' elevator associations in the state, the Michigan State Farm Bureau has called a meeting of representatives of them in Saginaw March 30 when ways and means of coordinating their general activities and avoiding disastrous competition may be discussed.

The farm bureau also has urged the sugar beet refiners to meet with the growers in the next week. The growers have issued an ultimatum to the effect that they will plant some crop other than sugar beets this spring unless the refiners consent to a conference on new prices for beets prior to March 20. Eight thousand of the 12,000 acres in the state are pledged to stand by the ultimatum. The sugar beet industry in Michigan is valued at $2,000,000.

The membership of the State Farm Bureau passed 30,000 in the last week, when all were completed in Wayne and Livingston counties and half completed in Lenawee, Monroe, completed the year before, has announced more than 5,000 members, the record for the state set at St. Clair with 2,150 members. Led in the record count by Berrien and Clinton counties are next on the campaign schedule.

LET THE BOYS AND GIRLS HELP PLAN FARM WORK.

Not long ago an Iowa farmer was heard to say "In planning my work for the summer, I am going to consult my wife and children." The utterance proved to be the greatest a farmer ever had.

A farmer will take the trouble to consult his family in planning his work for the summer. The boys and girls will be the great help in planning the farm work.

The farmer will take the trouble to consult his family in planning his work for the summer. The boys and girls will be the great help in planning the farm work.

Co-partnership in the management and operation of the farm will instill within them the pride of ownership and will teach them to think in terms of action and results, in terms of accomplishments.

E. M. TO PURCHASE NEW EQUIPMENT.

When the railroads were returned to the private owners on March 1, the government found itself in possession of a vast amount of equipment, bought during the regime of the railroad administration.

May Exceed $10,000,000.

The Pere Marquette road wanted 2,000 forty-ton box cars; 1,000 55-ton hopper cars, 20 light locomotives and 10 six-wheel switch engines. The purchase price which is now pending an agreement between the road and the government, varies from a minimum of $3,814,500 to the maximum of $10,739,920.

Being in the position of most roads, the Pere Marquette was without funds and applied to the utilities commission for the right to issue trust equipment notes, to be turned over and held by the government as a lien on the equipment until paid. The notes provide a semi-annual interest of 6% and are issued in 15 series one falling due each year. The commission favorably considered the petition.

A WELL-KNOWN INSTITUTION.

Probably no institution in America is more widely known than Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y. Although established many years ago it is today a modern sanitarium, having all the latest facilities for the correct diagnosis of diseases and their successful treatment through medicine or surgery.

It was Dr. Pierce, its founder, who over 30 years ago gave to the world that wonderful stomach tonic and blood purifier, "Golden Medical Discovery," and that famous non-alcoholic medicine for women, "Favorite Prescription."

In his early professional career, Dr. Pierce realized that every family, but especially those who live remote from a physician, should have at hand an instructive book that would teach them something about First Aid, Physiology, Anatomy, Hygiene; how to recognize different diseases, how to care for the sick, what to do in case of accident or sudden sickness, etc., so he published that great book, the "Medical Adviser," an up-to-date edition of which can be procured by sending 50 cents to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

Later, Dr. Pierce added another link to his chain of good works by establishing a bureau of correspondence to which any one can write for medical advice, without any expense whatever, and if necessary, medicines especially prepared in Doctor Pierce's Laboratory will be sent by parcel post or express for use at home, at a reasonable cost. Thus those who have symptoms of disease need not suffer mental agony fearing that they have some serious ailment, but can have a diagnosis made from the physician of highest professional standing. Write to Dr. Pierce relating your symptoms and you need medical advice for any chronic disease. All letters regarded as confidential.

GREAT NEED IS PRODUCTION

Men Must Be Given Inducement to Work and Guaranteed Fair Deal—ing in the Distribution of the Result.

Article VI.

By FRANK COMERFORD

The world lives by two kinds of work, the work on the soil and the labor spent in making things. In this way we get the things we eat and wear. We have eaten up our surplus. The world's reserve is gone. We are literally living from hand to mouth. To overcome the food shortage we must put every inch of available ground into production. Only by doing this can we live and gradually get back the surplus which stood as a protection against crop failures.

Production is not automatic, it is the work of men. There is not anything complex about it. You can't use magic. To grow things men must plow and gather. The will to work is our greatest need. The land is available. God furnishes the sunshine and the rain. To get the plows, tractors and farm tools we must look to the industrial arm of life. Here again is the call for men. We are short of man power. Men were killed and crippled in the war. The men who survived the war must help do the work that would have been done by those who did not come back. In their present frame of mind they do not.

The work that needs to be done under the old conditions obtaining before the war. It is necessary to furnish them with an inducement to work. There was little inducement for men to work before the war. The discontented are not kicking at work. Their objection goes to the unfairness shown in distributing the result. It isn't any secret. They are shouting it from the housetops of Europe, they demand a larger share of the things they produce, or they refuse to work. There is a good deal of human nature in it, too. It is not human nature to think of it. The only thing that counts in the workingman's mind, for reward or willingness to work, is largely based on the right of working for himself.

Five things are necessary to start and keep production going. In other words, to get the clothes, shoes, stockings and comforts of life, to give the farmer the tools he needs for agricultural production so that we may eat, to provide the transportation necessary to collection and distribution, to bring the ship to the country and the country to the market we must do five essential things.

Production's First Need

First we must have plants, and I use the word in the most general sense. These plants must be equipped with machinery and tools, they must be ready for work.

Second, a plant is useless and stands idle unless we provide raw material, the thing furnished by nature that man and machine work into the finished product.

Third, we must have coal. Coal runs the machine and keeps warm the home of the man who runs the machine. The helplessness of the world without coal is brought home to me while I am writing these articles. The miners have left the pit. The government, through the courts, has tried to force them back. The effort is a failure. The streets are dark at night. The houses are cold. Business is crying out against necessary restrictions imposed because of the coal shortage. I realize as I never have before how dependent we are on the men who pick and dig the coal. All of the intelligence and culture, the courts, the gold, are but symbols of power. When the coal miners folded their hands and set their teeth things stopped.

Fourth, transportation is necessary to the gathering, collecting and delivering of raw material and the distribution of the finished product.

Fifth, and last, but first in importance, is man power. The purpose of production is man. He is master of it at every stage, in every department. Without him production is impossible. The business men who proceed on the theory that men could not live without their business, its pay roll, forget the first and greater truth that there would be no business without the workers. Man cuts, digs, gathers and hauls the raw material. He hews the wood, builds the plant. He mines the ore, he makes the tools, the machinery. He oils it, sets it in motion. He runs it. He makes the furnace and the boiler. He digs and shovels the coal which makes the power. He defies the heat of the furnace. He builds the locomotive and pulls its throttle. He makes the freight car and stands in the sleet in the dangerous railroad yard with the signal of safety.

Railroads All Worn Out.

Transportation in Europe is patently paralyzed. During the war railroad tracks and roadbeds were allowed to deteriorate. It could not be helped, but the fact that it was unavoidable doesn't alter the situation. Roadbeds and rails have fallen to pieces. There is a terrible shortage of cars. Everywhere on the Continent this is felt.

They have less than a third of the rolling stock necessary to meet normal requirements. The demand for transportation facilities will necessarily increase during the period of reconstruction. I have seen locomotives freezing, conching, expiring every few miles. Old, broken-down engines, the kind one expects to find in a museum. I was on a de luxe train, a diplomatic express. I commented upon the condition of the locomotive, when, came to a full stop every once in a while. I commented upon the condition of the coaches. The chief of the train looked at me, smiled and said: "If you think this one is bad, you ought to see some of the others."

The war disarranged plants and factories. The demand was for munitions. Peace gave way to war and plant, equipment efficient for peace production gave way to plant construction necessary to manufacture the weapons of war. Plants were commandeered. Machinery was torn out, new machinery put in. A complete reconstruction and reorganization was effected. Now that the war is over and the demand for everything is great, it is necessary to change these plants back and fit them for the production needed. It is expensive, it takes time. It retards production.

It is strange that, while everyone can see and understand the difficulties and delays incident to reorganizing and rearranging machinery and plants, many people cannot see or understand the problem of rearranging men's lives, who for four years have been living abnormally. The effect of the war upon plants and equipment is conceded by the very man who refused to see any effect of the war on the men who were in it.

Women in Labor World.

During the war women answered the roll call. They left their homes and went to work. There is hardly a kind of work that I can think of that I have not seen women doing in Europe. I have seen them loading boats, shoveling coal, washing windows, driving wagons, cleaning streets, conducting cars, etc. Many of the women who went into the industrial world as young women.

Now that the war is over and the men have come back there is a demand on the part of the men that the women retire to their homes. This is impossible in many cases, for these women have grown dependent upon their jobs for their living. Then, too, there is a shortage of marriageable men. Some employers of labor have taken advantage of this situation. They pay a woman less money than they pay a man for the same work. This makes both dissatisfied. The woman has the sympathy of the working man. He doesn't want her to compete with him to the extent that his wages will be lowered, neither does he want the boss to discriminate against her.

Women have come into the world of work to stay. If there is any meaning in the phrase "class conscious," they are living examples of it. They are more outspoken about their demands than men. They sense a wrong long before a man can see it. They have brought their intuition into the labor world. They are more radical than men, and they stimulate men to action. They have brought to the labor problem a new and interesting angle.

The key to the future is in the hands of these men and women. Production is the door that must be opened. Men and women must work or winter and want will make a No Man's Land of Europe before the sun of 1920 thaws the frost from the ground.

Children crying for bread, shivering in the cold these bleak winter nights, are praying that men will work when they pray to God for good and warmth. Their help cries are answered by a great blanket—unrest. Will men hear them?

So I sought to find the causes of unrest, knowing it would bring me close to the heart of the trouble.

Dickens' Tribute to the Cow.

If civilized peoples were to lapse into the worship of animals the cow would certainly be their chosen goddess. What a fountain of blessing is the cow! She is the mother of beef, the source of butter, the original cause of cheese, to say nothing of shoeboms, hankies and upper leathers. A gentle, amiable, ever-yielding creature, who has no joy in her family affairs that she does not share with man. We rob her of her children, that we may rob her thereafter of her milk; and we only care for her when the foecery may be perpetrated.—Charles Dickens.

Approaching the End.

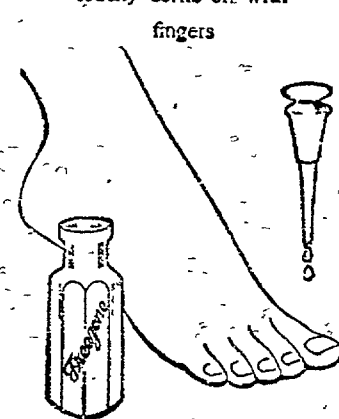

Cicero in his dialogue entitled "De Senectute" makes one of his interlocutors say that all men wish to attain old age and yet complain of the fact when they have attained it. He adds that one of the grievances of the old is that age steals over them more rapidly than they expected. It is pointed out that we cannot prevent time from passing, and that even if we lived eight hundred instead of eighty years the past time, however long, cannot when it has flown away be able to soothe with any consolation for an old-age of folly.

A Sister Wilhelm Did Not Like.

Princess Charlotte of Meiningen, sister of the ex-kaiser, who died recently, had been a sufferer for years and had undergone many operations. She passed most of her time on the Riviera. Indeed, the princess was a woman who couldn't miss. She wore bobbed hair, when no other woman had ever dreamed of such a thing, and talked democracy, and smoked all the time. The ex-kaiser was rather alarmed at her vagaries and preferred his other sister, Queen Sophie of Greece, who more his sort.—London Mail.

DOCTOR ADVISED CHANGE OF CLIMATE

Run Down and Lungs Hurt—Stayed Home—Coughed—Gained 25 Pounds.

"In November 1911, I had a severe cold and a gripe, which left me with a bad cough. My lungs and shoulder blades hurt so I couldn't sleep and I finally had to give up my job and was ordered to change climate. In April, 1912, I began taking Milk Emulsion. On the second bottle I could see a change. My appetite was better and I commenced to gain strength and weight. Now (August 12, 1912) I have used 23 bottles and believe I am perfectly cured."—W. F. Bourland, Route 2, Wolf City, Texas.

Mr. Bourland was fortunate in commencing to use Milk Emulsion when he did. A run-down system invites disease. Milk Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food, and it creates an appetite. It restores healthy natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physic. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength Milk Emulsion is strongly recommended to those who are weak, run-down, and in a powerful aid in restoring and righting the effects of wasting diseases. (Croup, stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.)

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon, just like cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk Emulsion under this guarantee—Take 25 bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results your money will be promptly refunded. Price 65c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milk Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if kidneys feel like lead of Bladder bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulates them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

A CREDIT TO NORTHVILLE.

But few towns the size of Northville can boast of a more modern or more attractively appointed funeral chapel than this village possesses at the present time.

Schrader Brothers, furniture dealers and funeral directors, have completed their chapel and the new rooms are a distinct credit to Northville and to this enterprising firm.

The store has been re-decorated throughout and the rooms on the north side have been given over exclusively to the undertaking department.

The front room has been arranged into a handsomely appointed reception or assembly room and in the room adjoining they have a fine display of caskets and burial couches in the newest and latest models and patterns. Back of the display room are work rooms and toilet. The floors and walls have been refinished and redecorated in a becoming combination of colors and the rooms are lighted with handsome electric fixtures.

The rooms on the second floor have also been made attractive and converted into light and convenient show rooms in which rugs, and floor coverings, mattresses and furniture in many handsome styles and patterns are displayed.

The store throughout presents an inviting appearance and the newly decorated walls and ceilings give everything an atmosphere of freshness—so welcome and appropriate at this season of the year.

THE PHOENIX DAM WAS WASHED OUT

While the people of this section were expressing their fears that the spring thaw might cause great property loss in various sections of the state, they little dreamed that our own river Rouge could go on a rampage and bring destruction in its wake. But such was the case, and about eight o'clock last Friday morning the new dam erected at Phoenix last season by Henry Ford gave way under the tremendous weight of water and crashed into the stream below. The concrete structure, with its reinforcements of iron and wood, gave way as easily as a snow bank before the onrushing waters and as the great pieces of ice followed, the bridge used by the D. U. R. was wrecked and the new highway bridge was badly damaged. The gas mains and water mains which furnish Plymouth with its water supply were also wrecked as a result of the giving way of the dam and Northville's gas supply was immediately shut off. Of course Plymouth suffered a similar fate, and in addition the people of that village have been cut off their water supply and are without water for domestic use and for protection against fire.

It will be some weeks before the damage to the gas and water mains can be repaired, and the dam will have to be rebuilt, or great part of it at least. The property damage has been estimated at $50,000. It is reported that when Mr. Ford was informed of the destruction of the dam, he remarked "Well, I never liked it very well, anyway, and now I will rebuild the structure to suit me."

Just as soon as possible after the damage was done to the water and gas mains Mr. Ford put a crew of men at work to make the necessary repairs.

TENDERED FAREWELL SURPRISE

On Tuesday evening about forty ladies gathered at the pleasant home of Mrs. Jane Sessions to participate in a farewell surprise party given in honor of Mrs. Mary York, who will soon leave Northville for her home in Honey Lake, N. Y. During the evening punch was served in the dining room and numerous games in keeping with the St. Patrick season were enjoyed by the ladies. Mrs. Emma Richardson gave a reading and was compelled to respond to a hearty encore. Refreshments consisting of tea, cream and cake were served by Misses Laura Trufant and Ruth York.

On behalf of the guests Mrs. C. L. Dugan in a few well chosen words presented Mrs. York with a handsome electric grill. Mrs. York responded to the words of presentation briefly and with deep feeling. The company sang "Blest be the tie" and good night was said. Mrs. York will bear with her to her old home the kindly wishes of many friends among the people of this village who have learned to esteem her greatly.

MASONS ATTEND CHURCH.

The church in these days of change and unrest, not only to help the church but to save themselves. That God's voice was calling to the members of the order for the consecration of their individual lives to His service and after all, life is over and our work is done, we shall proceed from labor to refreshments in the City of our God, the heaven of His love, at the top of the pillars of this life, the holy work—the crowning glory of heaven.

Mrs. L. W. Simmons visited Detroit relatives and friends last Sunday and Monday. While there she called on Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Steers, former Northville residents, and found the latter in very poor health.

It is no great matter to associate with the good and gentle; for that is naturally pleasing to all, and every one willingly enjoyeth peace and loveliness those best that agree with him. But to be able to live peacefully with hard and perverse persons, or with the disorderly, or with such as go contrary to us, is a great grace, and a most commendable and mainly that.
