FORESTERS PROVED ROYAL ENTERTAINERS

NORTHLVILLE BOY KILLED BY TRUCK

About the happiest, jolliest crowd ever gathered together in Northville was present at the Foresters' ball on Friday evening to assist the members of Court Northville in celebrating the eighteenth anniversary of the organization. It was more like a family gathering than an anniversary celebration and while the older members of the large company visited and danced the children—and there were scores of happy youngsters there—romped and played about the hall. Everybody present felt that this was the social function of the year when formalities might be put aside and all could enter into the spirit of the occasion with enthusiasm. It did not require any welcome signs or formal words of welcome to make all feel "at home," so genuine and cordial was their greeting extended each guest by members of the committees having the gathering in charge. The hall was tastily decorated with festoons of red, white and blue paper and long tables bearing their burdens of good things to eat presented a most inviting appearance. About seven o'clock supper was announced and guests to the number of about 200 were seated and served an appetizing meal. The supper was excellently prepared and was served by a number of ladies in a manner that reflected credit upon the committee having charge of this feature of the evening's entertainment. The tables were re-set twice to accommodate all who came and when the supper was over there had been nearly six hundred hungry appetites appeased.

Following the supper a social hour was enjoyed and old and young made merry. About eight o'clock the large company was called to order by Lester D. Stage who very aptly stated that it was not necessary to extend any word of welcome because all had been made to realize their presence was desired. After expressing his appreciation for the interest that had been manifested in the Foresters as an organization by the people of Northville he asked for a continuance of their good favor and operation. Grand Secretary Brown of Pontiac was then introduced and made a few brief remarks in which he complimented Court Northville for the splendid record it had made during the eighteen years of its existence. He said he was glad to come to Northville and to partake of the generous hospitality extended here. He proposed to do all he could at any time to further the interest and success of the Foresters in this section of Michigan.

Montgomery's orchestra was present at a regular dance program that captivated all. The first number was "Fox-Trot" and the floor was filled quickly with many dances and the entertainment continued until after one o'clock. Old and young alike abhorred the bail to the inspiring music rendered by Northville's own orchestra and those who did not dance left their toes "twingle" as the spirited music was rendered for waltz, fox-trot two-step and the old-fashioned quadrilles.

ELECTED NEW OFFICERS.
Court Northville now has a membership of nearly three hundred and its future looks most promising. The held Thursday night the following officers are alive and aggressive, officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, C. C. Yerkes; vice-president, W. J. Lansing; secretary, E. E. Brown; treasurer, Wallace Ross.

The matter of trying to solve the housing conditions in Northville, to some extent at least, was discussed, and a committee was appointed to present some sort of a proposition to the people of this community. M. N. Johnson is chairman and he will select his associates.

It was decided to establish suitable rooms for the meetings of the organization and for holding informal affairs in the village.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES.

She was 64 years of age, and leaves besides her husband, one son, Edward, three daughters, Mrs. Wm. Kipp, Mrs. Bert Snyder and Mrs. Louis Vanderhoot; also two sisters and one brother. The funeral was held from Schrader Bros' chapel Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Grimwood of the Baptist church, and the remains were placed in the Oakwood cemetery vault.

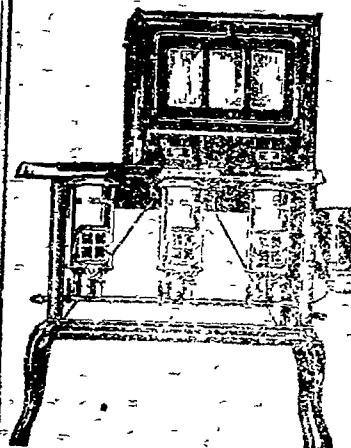

Mrs. Ma Clark gave a dinner at her home last Thursday evening, in honor of the first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wm T Jones. Covers were laid for eight.

Miss Elizabeth Ostrander was confined to her bed by a severe cold and Mr. and Mrs. Wm T Jones covered the part of the week.

The Bonniest Bonnet by Dixie Welcott

There's the bonny Scotsman's bonnet
That he wears with greatest pride,
With a jaunty silver thistle
Fastened gaily at the side.
There's the little pink sunbonnet
When the country lassie wears
And the boudoir's frilled creation—
That "My Lady" dons upstairs
And stored within our attic
Is a rosewood chest of ore,
Is the fetching wedding bonnet
That my great-grandmother wore.
There's a wreath of posies on it,
And a tiny spray within—
And some cherry-colored ribbons
That were tied beneath her chin
But the hat most chic and charming
That has ever come my way,
Is that one that Dorothy
Wore to church on Easter day.
I can't tell the shape or color,
I could never guess its wear,
But beneath it showed its beauty
Of the sweetest rose on earth!

WE NEED COMMUNITY HOUSE.
The very successful anniversary celebration given under the auspices of Court Northville last Friday night emphasized very forcibly the need of a community house in Northville—a building of sufficient size to accommodate similar gatherings such as fathoms, etc., in addition to the community. They help to cement the ties of community and neighborhood and draw the people of the community closer together. Although the community could not have less than twenty thousand dollars collected, apart from their own contributions which could be used for other purposes, the amount collected was far above the amount expected. Greatly pleased, the people who could be present expressed their admiration and bound themselves to do their best to make the new community house a success.

The first anniversary of Northville held its annual meeting last evening at the First Presbyterian Church. That Presbyterians in Northville are the best people in the world there is no question, and their services are to be commended. The Lord has us in his hands, business corporations, etc., are to be commended for the excellent work they do. It is a pleasure to see where the efforts of the people of Northville are going, and we trust that the future will be even better.

In the evening at 7:30 will be a union service at which time the combined choirs will render the cantata "The Resurrection and the Life."

The annual congregational meeting will be held on Tuesday evening next at six o'clock. A dinner will be served in the parlors after which the reports of the year's work will be presented, trustees elected and other business transacted.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

PARENTS TEACHERS' MEETING.

The Parents-Teachers' association will meet at the High school gym on Tuesday evening next the 6th at eight o'clock sharp. All parents are urged to be present as a good social time is planned. There are several things to discuss at this meeting and we need your help.

There will be a pot-luck lunch and all are urged to bring plate, cup, knife, fork and spoon and one thing to eat—anything you desire. Coffee will be served by the committee.

Please remember the date—Tuesday evening, April 6th.

when his friends throughout the state circulated petitions placing his name on the official ballot, and naturally he would be pleased to receive a large vote among his neighbors and friends.

His wide acquaintance and his intimate knowledge of party conditions about the state will make Mr. Warner a valuable member of the committee and the republicans of Michigan will be assured of a strong representative in the national councils of their organization.

THE NOVI ELEVATOR*LETTER FROM FLORIDA.

Wauchula, Fla.

March 16-1920.

Editor Record:—We want to thank you for the record coming to us every week, and the kindness shown us. To say we look forward to its coming is but a mild way to express it as it seems like a long letter from home but we miss the Novi news. That is conspicuous for its absence.

We left Novi Dec. 18th at 9:45 a jolly crowd of fourteen people enroute for the Southland. Found when we were nearing Delray that we must change there for Toledo instead of Detroit as we expected. Reaching Cincinnati around 8 A. M. the following morning and after a prolonged wait owing to our train being late which we were to take for the sunny Southland, we at last boarded the train and were soon gliding along over the Queen and Crescent R. R. a different route from which we were "ticketed" owing to a large bridge being burned out near Chattanooga, Tenn.

Did not lose sight of snow entirely until we were in Kentucky, and for the greater part of the trip of three nights and two and one half days the weather was dull and cloudy, with a heavy air, but we enjoyed every mile of the trip. We made few stops but whenever an opportunity presented itself we took advantage of it and stopped from train if but for a moment. Among the places where we stopped other than Michigan soil was Louisville, Ohio Cincinnati Junction, Lexington, Sam-Cincinnati Junction, Lexington, Sam-at the latter place making a stop of several minutes having time to walk around for awhile and though too far away from where some of "our boys" were in training. It was pointed out to us about where the Training camp was located. We also made stops at Lumberton City where a number of the tourists took "French leave" and left train long enough to gather some bunches of cotton where were huge bales already for shipment. At Jessop, Ga., we stepped out and took some pictures, old Sol having shown his face for a short time previous to that for the first time during the day Saturday. Our train of 14 or 15 coaches was filled with tourists bound for a warm climate and we found some very pleasant acquaintances and all seemed to be in a very agreeable and amiable state of mind—a very jolly crowd indeed. One disappointment to all, or nearly all, was the fact that we passed through Tennessee during the night so we were deprived of many pleasant hours of sightseeing to which we had looked forward to.

During the first of our trip our train was behind time and thus we were making a fast run on a high traffic we were several hours overdue when we reached Jacksonville. One very interesting sight was the High Bridge in Kentucky, over which we passed and said to be the highest bridge spanning a navigable stream on the American continent—the most massive structure of its length and breadth known to the civilized world. Height 1123 feet. Looking down into the water of old Kentucky river brought to our minds some of the song, "The Caged Bird".

The views from this massive bridge were beautiful indeed though often lost in the clouds of summer grueling Jacksonville we had a short time to wait, however no chance to do the town. Left there at 6:15 a. Saturday over Atlantic Coast line railway for Lakeland reaching there at the train at 6 a. m. Sunday going directly to a near-by hotel where some of our party engaged rooms and proceeded to get few hours rest as our train was not due to leave till 8 a. m. The rest of our party being game and wanting to see all we could, rested for a short time in the hotel then after an early lunch (not breakfast) we proceeded to walk out in the warm morning air—the rain having ceased. The streets were beautifully lighted and we had no fears of going out and enjoying the delightful change from cold and snow.

Across from the hotel is a most beautiful park where bloomed many southern flowers among them magnolia, Poinsettias, Roses, Lillies, whose beauty cannot be appreciated unless seen.

Lakeland is a very pretty town and swarming with tourists from nearly every state in the union. Its the highest point in the state, being 306 feet above sea level. We left Lakeland about 8:15 seeing very few people about (and raining again) reaching Wauchula about 1:30 Sunday afternoon nearly 17 hours overdue—should have been here Saturday evening. Hardly bad we stepped on the platform at the depot when we were greeted by such a downpour of rain a regular Michigan thundershower is not in it. The climate here is ideal for winter and we have indeed passed a very pleasant time. We found the people around us very kind and pleasant and being here from many other states.

Have seen very few colored people and those just go to town (Wauchula) to get supplies, none living there.

Much of the time we have doo's all open, sit out on porches if we wish and feel like we do, at home in the "good old summer time" and dressed in summer apparel. A part of the past month has been quite cool, having had some frosts but even with that drawback it is much more to be desired than ice and snow. For some time we have been enjoying our new vegetables raised in our little garden and have had a generous supply of oranges, grape fruit, tangerines and lemons brought to us by the people around us. The orange and grape fruit are blooming again and are indeed a beautiful sight and so fragrant.

We attended Sunday services in a school house near us, being 3½ miles from town, though have attended Baptist church there. A beautiful edifice church membership 500. Sunday school enrollment 374. Other churches in Wauchula are Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian—have been in all but last named.

One thing of which Florida people can boast is the good roads between the different towns, and mud is a thing almost unknown—the soil being light it is soon taken in and the ground dry.

Beside the front porch where we are living grows a mammoth cactus 6½ foot high with leaves 10-inches wide, 19-inches long, and some very pretty flowers around the house. A special treat given us every day, especially in the early morning, is the "bird choir"—the "mocking birds", warble reaching far above the others. The sunsets are most beautiful—as is also the case at sunrise the cannot often speak of that beauty—because well, because our motion picture projectors prevent as a rule.

One product here which helps the people to make good is the sugar cane made up into sugar and syrup, the latter process we have watched with great interest as also the source of preparing and packing oranges at the packing house in Wauchula. So far have had no regrets in being in the land of warmth and sunshine and hope we may be permitted to return another winter. Expected to visit St. Petersburg and Tampa but as yet have not been there. Have been once to Fort Meade just on the Sulphur springs and an attempt as well as the phosphate mineral to drive, there over fine cement roads the greater part of the way, a very pleasant one, the road for instance being on either side with magnolia, palms and live oaks with their pretty green foliage, and from which hang long streamers of mosses, all in the breeze and sometimes it reaches the ground. In the evening we can see the trees for miles while the owners are clearing the way—and when a number of the larger trees are felled it resembles a village in the distance lighted by one Ed's plant" or some other.

I know that we will return to Michigan in the early part of April and much as we regret leaving the sunny climate pretty flowers in as well as our feathered friends, to go to the chilly north no more homesick will look good to us and we can feel that we have to enjoy them after having us in the severe cold winter. I intend delaying no longer in my promise to write you as soon as possible but so much to take up time shall soon be before moving to friends again it all is well. Our wishes for the success of our paper—The Record.

Sincerely,

MRS ELIZABETH POWERS

OLD FORD RICER FORM.

Ford racer "999" which in 1903 started the Ford reputation toward success by beating the Mile, a "Mile" record in the hands of Barney Oldfield and Henry Ford, himself, was recently discovered and bought by W. L. Houghton, Ford dealer in San Francisco. The car was cleaned up, sanded and insured for $25,000 and sent on an exhibition tour. It was shown at the San Francisco Automobile show and proved to be a great attraction.

The car made its debut in 1904 when Henry Ford drove it to success at a speed of one mile in 39 4-5 seconds on an ice track built on Baltimore Bay.

The "Ford Times" of July, 1903, referring to "999" says, "it won race after race in every part of the country. Its performance was a real sensation, not only here but abroad, and did as much to make known the name of Ford as any other circumstance."

ORANGES AND OIL.

The following letter from A. N. Kimmins will be of interest to our readers:

Editor Record: Most of your readers will remember Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Quigley. We spent the day with them recently in company with ex-governor and Mrs. Warner and their daughters, Miss Edessa and Miss Helen. We found there also Mr. and Mrs. Hyde Smith of Waldo Lake, recently escaped from the rigors of a Michigan winter.

Driving easterly along one of the fine roads which traverse the famous San Gabriel valley, one passes a succession of gardens and orchards and fine homes. Some eighteen miles out we turned to the right, leaving the floor of the Valley and by an easy up-grade approached the Puente hills. Just at the foot of these hills lies the Quigley ranch. It seems hardly possible that this land was barren six years ago. Now it is covered with trees bearing oranges, lemons, grapefruit, yielding the commercial crop, while there are many other kinds of fruit and berries for home use.

Purebred fowl had been decapitated in our honor, and after enjoying such a dinner as could result only from a combination of Michigan skill and California products we turned to a closer inspection of the ranch. It was a novel experience to be turned loose in an orange orchard. California laws are very severe on those who trespass. But we were not trespassing. Fred said "Pick and take some all you wish." We did.

The price per acre at which these orange orchards are changing hands is one dizzy; however the price is justified by the value of the annual product. At any rate the income from this ranch is such that the wolf will not approach the door. Who Fred says the voice of coyote is frequently heard in the hills near by.

To my mind one of the best assets of the ranch is the wonderful view to be had from the bungalow home. It would inspire the brush of the artist or the pen of the poet. As we stand facing the north back of us are the Puente hills. Away to the east, some seven or eight miles is "Old Greenback," its peak 12,000 feet high, capped with snow. Before us, extending to the floor of the valley, are the orchards. From this elevation we can see several good-sized towns. Most of these we have visited. All are prosperous, with splendid schools, banks, churches and public buildings sustained by the products of the fertile soil of the beautiful valley of San Gabriel. The trains of the great railway systems traverse the valley. These all speak of industry and the works of man, but away beyond rise the peaks of the Sierra Madre range, some of them crowned with snow, others piercing a low lying cloud, a glorious prospect, lifting our thoughts above the thicket of material existence, and we remember that on one of those peaks savants are striving by the aid of a great telescope with its lens more than eight feet in diameter to wrest from the atmosphere some secret of the mysteries of the universe.

Turning again to the Puente hills we see a great herd of black and white cows feeding on the rather steep hillside. These hills seem to be regularly rounded, but the effect is produced by the paths worn by the cattle. Not far away is the pretentious buildings of a great dairy establishment. Nearest by is the derrick of an oil well, for oil has been discovered here and is being pumped from a well almost at the boundary of the Quigley ranch. Naturally development of this oil field is in progress. Naturally Fred smiles.

In all our wanderings we have seen no spot where amid scenes so peaceful, so satisfying, so inspiring, one may labor with the assurance that his industry will be so regularly and bountifully rewarded.

"LONGLEGS."

U. S. TO EXCHANGE TEMPORARY BONDS.

The treasury has completed arrangements for the exchange of temporary liberty bonds issued during the loan campaigns for bonds of permanent form with interest coupons to maturity attached, Secretary Houston announced today.

Exchange of temporary third loan bonds began March 15, all banks being authorized to make the transfers for the treasury. Within the next month officials expect to be ready to exchange permanent bonds for the temporary bonds of other liberty loans except those which still have no interest coupon to come due. They need not be exchanged until after those coupons mature, the latest date being October 15.

Secretary Houston urged again that holders of the first and second 4 per cent bonds make their exchanges early, since the conversion privilege on these bonds still is open and it is desired that the conversion be accomplished simultaneously. All registered bonds are in permanent form and Mr. Houston appealed to holders of temporary bonds wherever possible to exchange them for registered bonds, thus making a further transfer unnecessary and providing safety for the owner.

RUGS! RUGS!

FLOOR COVERINGS!

We consider we were most fortunate in being able to have our orders for Rugs filled early and as a result of that good fortune we have a very complete assortment of Room-Sized Rugs in our show rooms this spring. They are very scarce now and it is almost impossible to place orders for any more—in fact it is impossible to secure immediate shipment of rugs from any manufacturer.

While our assortment lasts you will be able to not only save money, but get what you want when you want it. After our present stock is sold we do not know where we can secure more rugs. This is the situation and we want our customers to know the facts.

You will find here Rugs in many patterns and colorings and we know you cannot duplicate them at the price we have them marked.

Congoleum Art Squares

You cannot imagine a more serviceable or sanitary floor covering than these Art Squares. They are washable, waterproof and easy to keep clean—dirt cannot get under them because they lie flat, without tacking, and the edges do not "kick up."

There is nothing you can put on your floors that will give you better service for the money expended.

INDIGESTION Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—bloating, heartburn, bloating after eating, food regurgitated, etc. These are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are nevertheless traceable to an acid stomach. Among them are nervousness, ulcers, rheumatism, gout, liver, kidney, rheumatic, unconsolidated blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental disorders that keep the victim in misery and health.

The only thing that is in reality a sure sign of this disease—acid of the acid-stomach—is a loss of the appetite.

One of the most common causes of acid-stomach is nervousness. This is often associated with intestinal ulceration for about nine years and has been quite a common malady, but without relief. After an operation for a large ulcer the symptoms persist.

We are the friends of John—friends of those who are suffering from acid-stomach. We are the friends of John—friends of those who are suffering from acid-stomach.

The doctor has FATONIC, the acid-stomach remedy. It is the best acid-stomach remedy.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Sedan, with electric starting and lighting system, and demountable rims with 3½-inch tires all around, for every day in the year has no equal as a family car. Just as popular on the farm as it is in the city. In fact, it fits the family demands in every vocation of life. Large, roomy seats, finely upholstered, plate glass windows make it an open car in pleasant weather, while in rainy and inclement weather it becomes a closed car, dust-proof and rain-proof. It is ideal for social functions, the theatre, or parties; carrying the children to school, or for touring. It is not only comfortable, but really cozy, and above all, economical in operation and maintenance, and has all the Ford merits of strength and durability. We solicit your order for one. Come in and see it.

NORTHVILLE AUTO CLUB.

Violated, every day by about every one driving a car. However in case of accident the person who does violate the law can have no excuse in court that a person injured was to blame.

The Auto club expects to put up a number of attractive road signs this summer.

Application blanks of all kinds can be had at the Club's office in the Rec'd building.

Section 21 of the Motor Vehicle law (Act 802 P. A. 1915 and Amendments thereto) reads as follows. "No person shall operate a motor vehicle on any public highway within the corporate limits of any village at a greater speed than ten miles per hour in the business section and not greater than fifteen miles per hour in all other parts thereof." Every person who drives an auto knows this law, or at least they should, and yet it is violated, every day by about every one driving a car.

However in case of accident the person who does violate the law can have no excuse in court that a person injured was to blame.

The police department of cities and villages have, as a rule, been allowing a leeway of five miles an hour of this law. However, the courts also say that in case of an accident, the fact that he was traveling at a speed of even not more than five miles per hour is no defense or excuse.

Some very narrow escapes from accidents of a serious character at the Main and Center street intersection have been noticed and unless great care is exercised eventually the result will be the snuffing out of a life or an injury of a serious nature.

Insyde Tyres Give You Service.

Insyde Tyres cost but a small fraction of the price of new tires. They often more than double the life of a tire. It is certainly economy to use them.

Insyde Tyres often deflect nails, wire or other long sharp objects which have passed through the casing and would otherwise cause a puncture in the inner tube. The reason is simple.

After the sharp object has passed through the casing it strikes the Insyde Tyre which although stuck to the casing so that it cannot slip, will tear loose rather than allow the object to pass through. Thus the point is deflected and a tube puncture prevented.
